70,000 AUTO WORKERS WALK FROM PLANTS

DETROIT, @—The Chrysler
Corporation's 70,000 C.I.O. production workers went out on strike today for the third round of a battle for post-war wage increases.

Negotiations for wage demands broke down Tuesday
when the union presented its final demand for a 17-cent an hour pay boost and the company countered with six cents.

Workers in Chrysler's 16 plants
average about $1.50 an hour.
They have begun the automobile industry's first major strike
since November, 1945.

The union is raising a $1,000-000 kitty to finance the walk-out and at picket lines today the strikers said:

"It looks like a long strike."

LONDON @—The Labor party
decided today to end the "Nenni
incident" by accepting assurances given by 21 members of Parliament who sent good wishes
to the Italian Socialist leader Pietro Nenni, a pro-Communist,
on the eve of the Italian elec-

The executive will not publish its conclusions until next Mon-

BARBARA ANN TO REGAIN HER AUTOMOBILE

OTTAWA @—Barbara Ann
Scott, world champion figure skater, will accept from the city of Ottawa tomorrow the automobile she was forced to return
last year to keep her amateur standing, Mayor Stanley Lewis announced today.

The return of the famous automobile will be made in downtown Ottawa, near the point where, nearly a year ago, she tearfully handed the keys back to Mayor Lewis to satisfy the demands of Avery Brundage,
United States Olympic leader.

It was understood that the move meant that the famous skating star has decided to turn professional.

NO WORD ON BOAT TEST AT KELOWNA

REIGATE, Surrey, Eng. @—A

Campbell, famed automobile and boat racing driver, said today that there is "nothing definite"
been arranged when queried as to the possibility that Sir Malcolm would visit Kelowna, B.C.,
to attempt a speed boat record.

There is no indication as to when a decision would be reached.

Kelowna recently completed a $25,000 collection to bring Sir Malcolm to Lake Okanagan for the speed test.

NETHERLANDS WILHELMINA LEAVES THRONE

THE HAGUE, @—Queen Wilhelmina announced today that she will give up the throne of the Netherlands.

In an announcement, the Queen said that she will give up the throne at "the beginning of September" in favor of her daughter, Princess Juliana.

She made the statement herself in a broadcast to the Dutch people.

Born in 1880, Queen Wilhelmina was crowned Queen of the Netherlands at the age of 10
and was exiled at 60.

The thirty, democratic, motherly queen reigned over the richest little country in Europe until the German blitzkrieg of 1940. Five years later, she returned from exile to resume the throne.

During the war, after narrowly escaping capture, she set up her court in London to keep in touch her vast colonial empire and to stir up resistance among her former subjects in Europe.

HIGHWAY SIGNBOARDS PROHIBITED

VICTORIA @—Action to see that provincial highways do not become plastered with sign-boards was taken by the B.C.
government Tuesday.

By an order-in-council the placing of signs, signboards and notices or any other advertising device within 1,000 feet of any highway is prohibited.

Signs already in place may remain there, but they may not be renewed or replaced.

This is the first action of the government under 1947 amendments to the Highway Act.

RECOVER BONDS STOLEN MORE THAN YEAR AGO

MONTREAL, @—Recovery of more than $25,000 worth of bonds, stolen from the Bank of Nova Scotia branch at Camp-bellville, Ontario, more than a year ago was announced today
by the Canadian Pacific Railway's investigation department.

The money was found in a paper bag on a girder last Fri-

at work on the Mountain Street bridge.

Outside Workers Offered Contract

Outside workers of the Civic Employees' Union last night
were offered a wage scale equal to that recently won by Vancouver outside civic workers.

The recommendation was made by the city's wage scale committee and contain a basic 20 cent
hourly increase.

In addition, they will work a 40 hour week and receive four hours pay for statutory holidays
if it is found that Vancouver is allowing its workers similar payment.

Settlement of the wage conditions for the outside workers delayed final settlement of the 1948 budget and pending agreement by the union to the Vancouver scale, the city has allowed inclusion of that amount in current estimates.

The union is considering the offer at a meeting tonight.

M.L.A. TALKS OF RECENT LEGISLATION

Legislation passed at the 1948
session of the provincial House
was discussed by William H.
Brett, M.L.A. Monday night before an audience in the Civic Centre common lounge.

The meeting was of an informal nature, with the audience questioning the speaker.

Mr. Brett said that the meeting was in the nature of a report from the Legislature, given as soon as possible after completion of the session.

In reporting on a few of the varied bills passed, he outlined
how the Forest Conservation Act and increased royalties was working a hardship on the small operator.

The bill to insure stricter control of the moving picture industry along the lines suggested by the CCF last year which would catalogue films suitable for adults only, was a step in the right direction he declared, as was also a bill to enable assistance to be given to rehabilitate patients convalescing from mental institutes. This was legislation long sought by E. E. Winch of Burnaby.

The Election Act brought in
at the last session was amended again this session by the addition of many new sections. Mr.
Brett dealt at some length with
the Industrial Conciliation Act,
and felt that to invest full power of administration to a board was setting a dangerous precedent.

The 28 amendments to the Act brought in by the CCF were with a few exceptions voted down, he recalled.

On the question of the sales tax Mr. Brett felt this was very unpopular with many Coalition members, but when the vote was

"ANXIOUS" FOR PEACE

LONDON @—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told Parliament today that only the Communists stand in the way of world peace.

"I am anxious for peace; anxious for settlement with Soviet Russia," he declared, adding that there could be no settlement
until "the ground has been cleared."

Bevin was replying to a ques-

Foreign Secretary. Eden had asked whether Mr. Bevin could make any statement about the American - Russian diplomatic exchange which Radio-Moscow disclosed early yesterday.

MOSCOW GREET U.S. OVERTURE FOR DISCUSSION

WASHINGTON, @—Moscow's
response to a plain-spoken bid
for "decent and reasonable" relations with Russia gave a boost Tuesday to hopes that the world's two top powers may be able to settle their quarrels.

The Soviet Union's radio Moscow said that Russia is ready to pursue a policy of peace and cooperation with United States.

Furthermore, Foreign Minister Molotov has agreed, the broadcast added, to a proposal
for "discussion and settlement"
of differences which have split
the post-war world.

From neither Moscow nor the United States State Department
however, has come any hint as to when or how the representatives of the two countries might come together.

COMMITTEE BLASTS U.S. COMMUNISTS

WASHINGTON, @—The Com-

Tuesday of advocating the
"overthrow of our government

The House of Representatives

affairs made the accusation and called on the government for "serious enforcement" of existing laws to curb Communism.

"What the Chinese or Greek Communists are doing today is what the United States Communists plan to do tomorrow,"
the committee declared in a 160-
page report.

The committee charged that the American Communist Party is, and always has been, under

B.C. Industries' Open House Week

BELEIVED TO BE the first concentrated event of its kind in North America, the B.C. Industries' Open House Week, May 16 to 22, is meeting with gratifying response throughout the province.

Industries, large or small, are economic life-blood of any community and the wages paid workers maintain a community's economic stability.

With a view to acquainting not only the workers' immediate families but the community as a whole with the importance of local industries, the Vancouver Board of Trade, with the co-operation of Boards of Trade throughout the province, has instituted B.C. Industries' Open House Week.

Some industries are seasonal and will hold Open House at the time of peak production; others are in the midst of remodelling or building new plants. Many of these latter have signified intention of following the plan when plants are ready for public inspection.

"Thousands of British Columbians, not only during Open House Week but in the months to come, will be able to see at first hand the workings of the industries which make British Columbia," stated Alex Eastwood, chairman of the Co-ordinating Committee for the event. "After it is over, British Columbians will be better informed than the people of any other province about the industries of their own province and what a remarkable range of products they turn out."

OF GREAT BENEFIT

AS TIME GOES ON, the clearer does it become how greatly the Civic Centre is benefitting the city and the people generally. Had the building been smaller, and equipped on a more modest scale, it would still have been very welcome, as well as useful. But with an establishment such as the Civic Centre actually is—sufficiently large and complete to arouse the envy of a city like Vancouver—Prince Rupert may well consider herself singularly fortunate.

It is gratifying, for example, to note how swiftly, in a cultural way, the community is growing. The Civic Centre makes this possible. Music, handicrafts, recitals, public assemblies, social gatherings, are multiplying as never before chiefly because there is some place for people to gather, with the advantage of a comfortable environment, and in keeping with the times.

69-YEAR-OLD STUDIES LAW

Former Investment Broker
Is Articled to Own Son

VANCOUVER — Sprightly George C. Crux finds that life begins at 69.

He finds it all wonderful as a junior partner in his son's law firm here.

Mr. Crux entered partnership with his 40-year-old son, A. G. Crux, nine months ago.

At 65, the elder Crux became an "articled clerk and student-at-law," one of the oldest in Canada's history. Articled to his own son, he did the usual office chores of a student lawyer.

"I'd always had a hankering for the law," he said. But after he left school in Toronto, he entered investments and real estate and the idea was sidetracked for 35 years.

He finds the junior partnership to his liking. "It was a pretty good idea for both of us," says his son.

taken only two government supporters voted against the measure along with one opposition.

The CCF fought this legislation from the start and still felt in spite of the government arguments that the bulk of the tax would come from big business, that the low income salary people would be the hardest hit. The Act as passed was only in skeleton state and how it would be operated nobody knew.

All amendments put forth to relieve the people in the low income brackets were voted down, he asserted.

The Hospitalization Act was, he felt, good legislation as far as it went but it also was in skeleton form and was long overdue. When it would go into operation no one could tell. Asked about medical coverage, the member said the government had the power to include that also, if they had the "backbone to buck the Medical profession."

Discussing the Petroleum Act and Oil regulations, he said it was amazing how soon shortages vanished after the oil companies were granted the increase and now it was felt even by the government itself that they had been bluffed into giving the increase. The opposition felt that had Premier Pattullo still been in Victoria, the bluff would not have worked.

In speaking of the Skeena Highway the member felt that far too little effort had been made to keep it open, even though it had cost the province little or nothing to build. Mr. Brett said he was amazed that Mr. Kenney should on the floor of the house accuse him of being unfair when he suggested to the government that it could be kept open all winter.

"The least I would have expected from Mr. Kenney was that if he could not give support to an opposition member he could have at least kept silent for the sake of the north country," he declared.

In discussing forest management the Minister made the statement that if his policy failed the only other remedy was complete socialization of the industry.

Automobile insurance, as passed by the government was a $3,000,000 business handed to private insurance companies, with the general public still having to fight through the courts for their benefits if they were disputed, he said.

Many questions were asked by the small but interested audience on the various bills discussed and the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to Mr. Brett for his timely address. George Hills, president of the CCF Club, was chairman.

The "new look" in architecture provided by modern houses built without basements and hugging the ground, calls for a new look in the landscaping and planting about them.

The green line of shrubs and evergreens which looks so well on two storey houses with high basements, is obviously out of place in front of a low, modern house. Too often you see picture windows screened by a tall growth of shrubbery, and the attractive lines of a ranch house hidden behind evergreens which in a brief period have grown too tall.

Foundation planting is a method of making houses set too high, seem lower than they are by "tying the house to the ground." But modern one-storey houses hug the ground already and do not need to appear lower. If any planting is done in front of them it should be low and should make the house look wide, by emphasizing the horizontal line. Small houses especially need this effect.

Flower borders accomplish this purpose. They provide an attractive foil for the somewhat severe lines which prevail in houses primarily designed for the comfort of the occupants rather than for outside appearance.

Front yard flower gardens provide an attractive view to enjoy from picture windows. Architects often arrange for two level plantings, one on the ground and one in boxes raised to a point just below the windows. When flowers are planted in beds each of a single color, and all in harmony, the effect is in keeping with modern ideas of design and decoration. The illustrations show such a planting, in rectangular beds, as well as the use of two level flower borders. In addition to the flowers which are suggested, other flowers of different colors may be used, to harmonize with the house. Annuals of dwarf habit which produce the desired effect include ageratum, anchusa, violet and white aslysum, dwarf calliopsis, carnations, crested celosias, annual pinks, lobelia, dwarf marigolds, dwarf morning glories, forget-me-nots, nasturtiums, nierembergia, petunias, pansies and violas, annual phlox, Shirley poppies, portulaca, salvia, verbenas and small flowered zinnias.

To Return This Summer Royal Gaiety

By NORMAN CRIBBENS Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—In the green, spacious grounds of Buckingham Palace thousands of home and overseas visitors, including Canadians, will be entertained by the King and Queen at five garden parties this summer.

The two main events are July 8 and 22. Among the 7,000 guests to be invited on both occasions will be the Prime Minister and cabinet, members of the House of Lords, the Diplomatic Corps, the Lord Mayor of London, mayors of towns and boroughs, famous judges and counsel, high officers of the Church of England and the three services.

High commissioners of Commonwealth countries resident in London will also be invited, in addition to large numbers of visitors from overseas.

Applications from Canadian visitors wishing to attend either of the July parties must reach the Canadian High Commissioner in London by the end of this month.

There will also be three presentation garden parties at the Palace May 12 and 13 and June 11, replacing the evening courts at which debutantes were presented in pre-war times.

"No further applications for these three events can now be considered," a Canada House official said. "The lists are closed, but I can say that many Canadian visitors will be presented."

Applications made to the Canadian High Commissioner are forwarded to the Lord Chamberlain, the Earl of Ancaster, who, with the consent of the King and Queen, issue invitations.

Fashion experts predict that many spectacular afternoon dresses will be seen at this year's parties and that the longer "new look" skirt will prevail although it is not favored by the Queen and Princess Elizabeth.

"As there were no evening courts during the war, there is such a large accumulation of debutantes that it is not possible for the Royal Family to meet them all," a Palace official said. "The King has therefore decreed that all debutantes invited may claim to have been presented."

THRIVING FRANCE HIT BY SHORTAGE OF MILK AND OIL

Bumper Baby Crop and Industrial Recovery Ends Hunger But Brings Thirst For Two Precious Liquids

By MEL MOST

PARIS (AP)—France begins her European Recovery Program no longer hungry but thirsty. And just when she has enough wine and water at last. The thirst is for two liquids as different as night from day: petroleum and milk. Both for the same curious reason. Successes overcame her other shortages but created these two. France is expecting a bumper wheat crop to fill most of her bread needs by the time the Marshall Plan really gets under way. She is well on the road back to becoming the world's vineyard. Even the skies have produced better rainfalls after droughts that dried her power dams year after year. But France also produced more than she can cater to in two things she lacked—and hoped for—most. They are babies and oil refineries. In both she succeeded beyond her fondest hopes. For a period of years climaxed by the ruin of the war, and up to the liberation, both the population and industrial output had been falling. Today with the birth rate rising and refineries built by miracles of effort, she hopes they will result in manpower supplies and power supplies.

Monsieur Henri Daiga, director of the National Dairy Products group, is not too optimistic about France regaining her pre-war self-sufficiency in milk by the end of E.R.P. If present birth rate curves continue nobody knows how many babies there will be by then. Also they are not drinking less milk than before the war, but more for lack of other baby foods. HERDS DEPLETED France's war-depleted herds of cows have to be reconstituted and there also has to be enough fodder for them to produce well. In other words, there are too many variables involved to be able to make any confident predictions. Milk still is in a very big sense the "batter" of the E.R.P. here. Of all the aid products, it is the only one that goes into the home and reaches the family clearly labelled as goods from America. The workers' family receiving a can of powdered or condensed milk for its young members can see by the label where it comes from and is not likely to forget it. Strangely enough, the factor of American "labels" also applies to petroleum, but for an altogether different reason. It is that virtually all refineries in France are American near-subsidiaries, within the limits allowed by legislation. They, and almost every gasoline pump in France, bear familiar American names advertising their product. In fact the names will give a much better picture of where the aid is coming from than they will as to where the petroleum really is coming from. The E.R.P. calls for replacing American oil by middle Eastern products. France herself has hardly any oil production. Nevertheless American interest in the refineries remains. And next to milk, there probably will be no E.R.P. product more directly consumed by the French public than gasoline. As a result, its lack is most obviously felt and increase gets an immediate public reaction.

Falcons Clear Air Over R.A.F. Ports
LONDON (AP)—Royal Air Force experiments with falcons to discourage birds from flocking on air fields were so satisfactory that they will be continued on a larger scale next fall when the mating season is over. In 1947 there were 17 accidents to R.A.F. aircraft in Europe caused by impact with birds. STEWART WINS C.I. BILLIARD TOURNAMENT

The final game in the third English billiards tournament to be held at the Canadian Legion Hall this year ended last night with D. C. Stewart as the winner of the tournament. Stewart, playing plus 25, conceded his opponent W. Strachan five points in the 200 point game. Play started off very even and this condition remained until the century mark was reached when Stewart forged ahead and won the match with a score of 200 to 130. No breaks of any size were made by either player. A. J. Croxford acted as marker and Alex Harvey as referee. Stewart has played a consistently steady game throughout the tournament and his win was popular. Handsome prizes of silver were awarded to Stewart, the winner, and Strachan, the runner-up, while Neil Cameron and Jack Campbell who had tied with a score of 38 each for the high break, became recipients of prizes of a less lasting nature.

Chevalier Composes Citizens' New Name

French Singer Calls Granby Residents Granbyens—
"People of Great Wealth"

GRANBY, Que. — Mayor Horace Boivin wanted a proper name to designate citizens of this Eastern Township city. French singer Maurice Chevalier did not hesitate.

"Granbyens," he said in French. And the way he pronounced it, the name sounded like "Grands Biens," people of great wealth. Mayor Boivin was pleased and those seated around Chevalier at a dinner tendered by the city applauded.

So Maurice became the first official Granbyens. He was given a symbolic key engraved with the coat-of-arms of the city and was made an honorary citizen of Granby.

Francois Lake News

FRANCOIS LAKE—The Annual Clean-up Day at the Institute Hall was on Saturday. On Friday afternoon the school children worked hard and picked up paper and other rubbish on the grounds and piled them in piles to be carted away the next morning when the older workers came.

The work that the children did was surely appreciated and showed that they appreciated having the use of the hall when needed. The remainder of the work was done by one o'clock on Saturday ready for the big day, on May 24.

There were six in attendance at the Women's Institute meeting at Mrs. Claude Lord's home at Tchesinkut Lake on Thursday afternoon. It was decided to have a raffle to help out the funds of the Farmers' Institute.

The raffle to be at the dance on May 24. Two engraved silver cups will be presented by the Women's Institute at the fair, for the boy and girl who win the most marks for their school work shown.

Members will save their coppers to bring to the meetings and Mrs. Cassidy will collect them to send at the end of the year to the Solarium. Another overseas parcel was collected by members bringing articles. Mrs. Lord offered to pack and send this month's parcel.

The Institute is getting in touch with the Women's Institute at Mordiford, Hereford, England, so that they can correspond and keep in touch with the various activities in connection with the Institute in both countries. The next meeting will be at Reg. Partington's home the first Thursday in June.

A few warm days are drying up the roads and with the worst bog holes in the road being planked it is hoped that traffic will be resumed on the road. Traffic and business have been almost at standstill for weeks.

Twenty attended the Christian Association meeting at Mrs. Charles Millar's home on Saturday afternoon, with the majority from Southbank. Getting there was rather a problem with the road boggy, so Charles Millar met two parties at the Landing and took them in his car to James Jeffrey's. They were met there by James Jeffrey with a team and dray and taken the mile and a half up to the Millar farm (it used to be the Smith farm).

After all had gathered in the pleasant sitting room a five-piece orchestra played several hymns and the others sang. James Jeffrey and Mrs. Partington played violins, J. Nash the banjo, and Robert Jeffrey and

UNLUCKY MEMBER LOSES TWO AUTOS

MONTREAL — J. H. Delisle, minister without portfolio in the Quebec government, had to do without an automobile after all.

First his car was stolen and when recovered by the police, it was damaged to such an extent that it had to be left several weeks in a garage.

The garage owner did not want the minister to go without a car, so he lent him another automobile while his own was being repaired.

Mr. Delisle drove home for lunch. When he came out, the car was gone. So he reported a second car stolen.

Charles Millar played guitars. J. Nash gave a short address, and Mrs. Earl Hanke gave a very interesting and instructive talk on David Livingstone. Mrs. Phil Kelly closed the meeting with a prayer.

Mrs. Millar served lunch which was rather hurriedly eaten so that the Southbank folk could catch the ferry.

The roads being closed to trucks has brought to the fore some ingenious modes of transportation. On Sunday afternoon a rubber-tired tractor went past the Landing drawing behind it a dray loaded with folk going to the Sunday School at the Calder home (Brownlee). All looked to be enjoying the trip immensely.

JEWS CLEAR OUT ARABS FROM VITAL HIGHWAY

JERUSALEM — The Jews claimed victory Tuesday in their battle to open their vital Jerusalem-Tel Aviv supply line.

A spokesman said that Jewish commandos had smashed Arab resistance in the Bab El Wajgeh and swarmed over the hills to wipe out Arab entrenchments.

Haganah militia engineers used bulldozers and dynamite to root out the remains of Arab forces in hillside positions, and Jewish convoys started moving yesterday, he said.

The highway is the supply lifeline to 100,000 Jews living in Jerusalem.

Meanwhile, the Red Cross awaited a written request from Arab and Jewish leaders to convert Jerusalem into a neutral zone. A temporary cease fire order was agreed to Saturday among both forces now in the Holy City.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

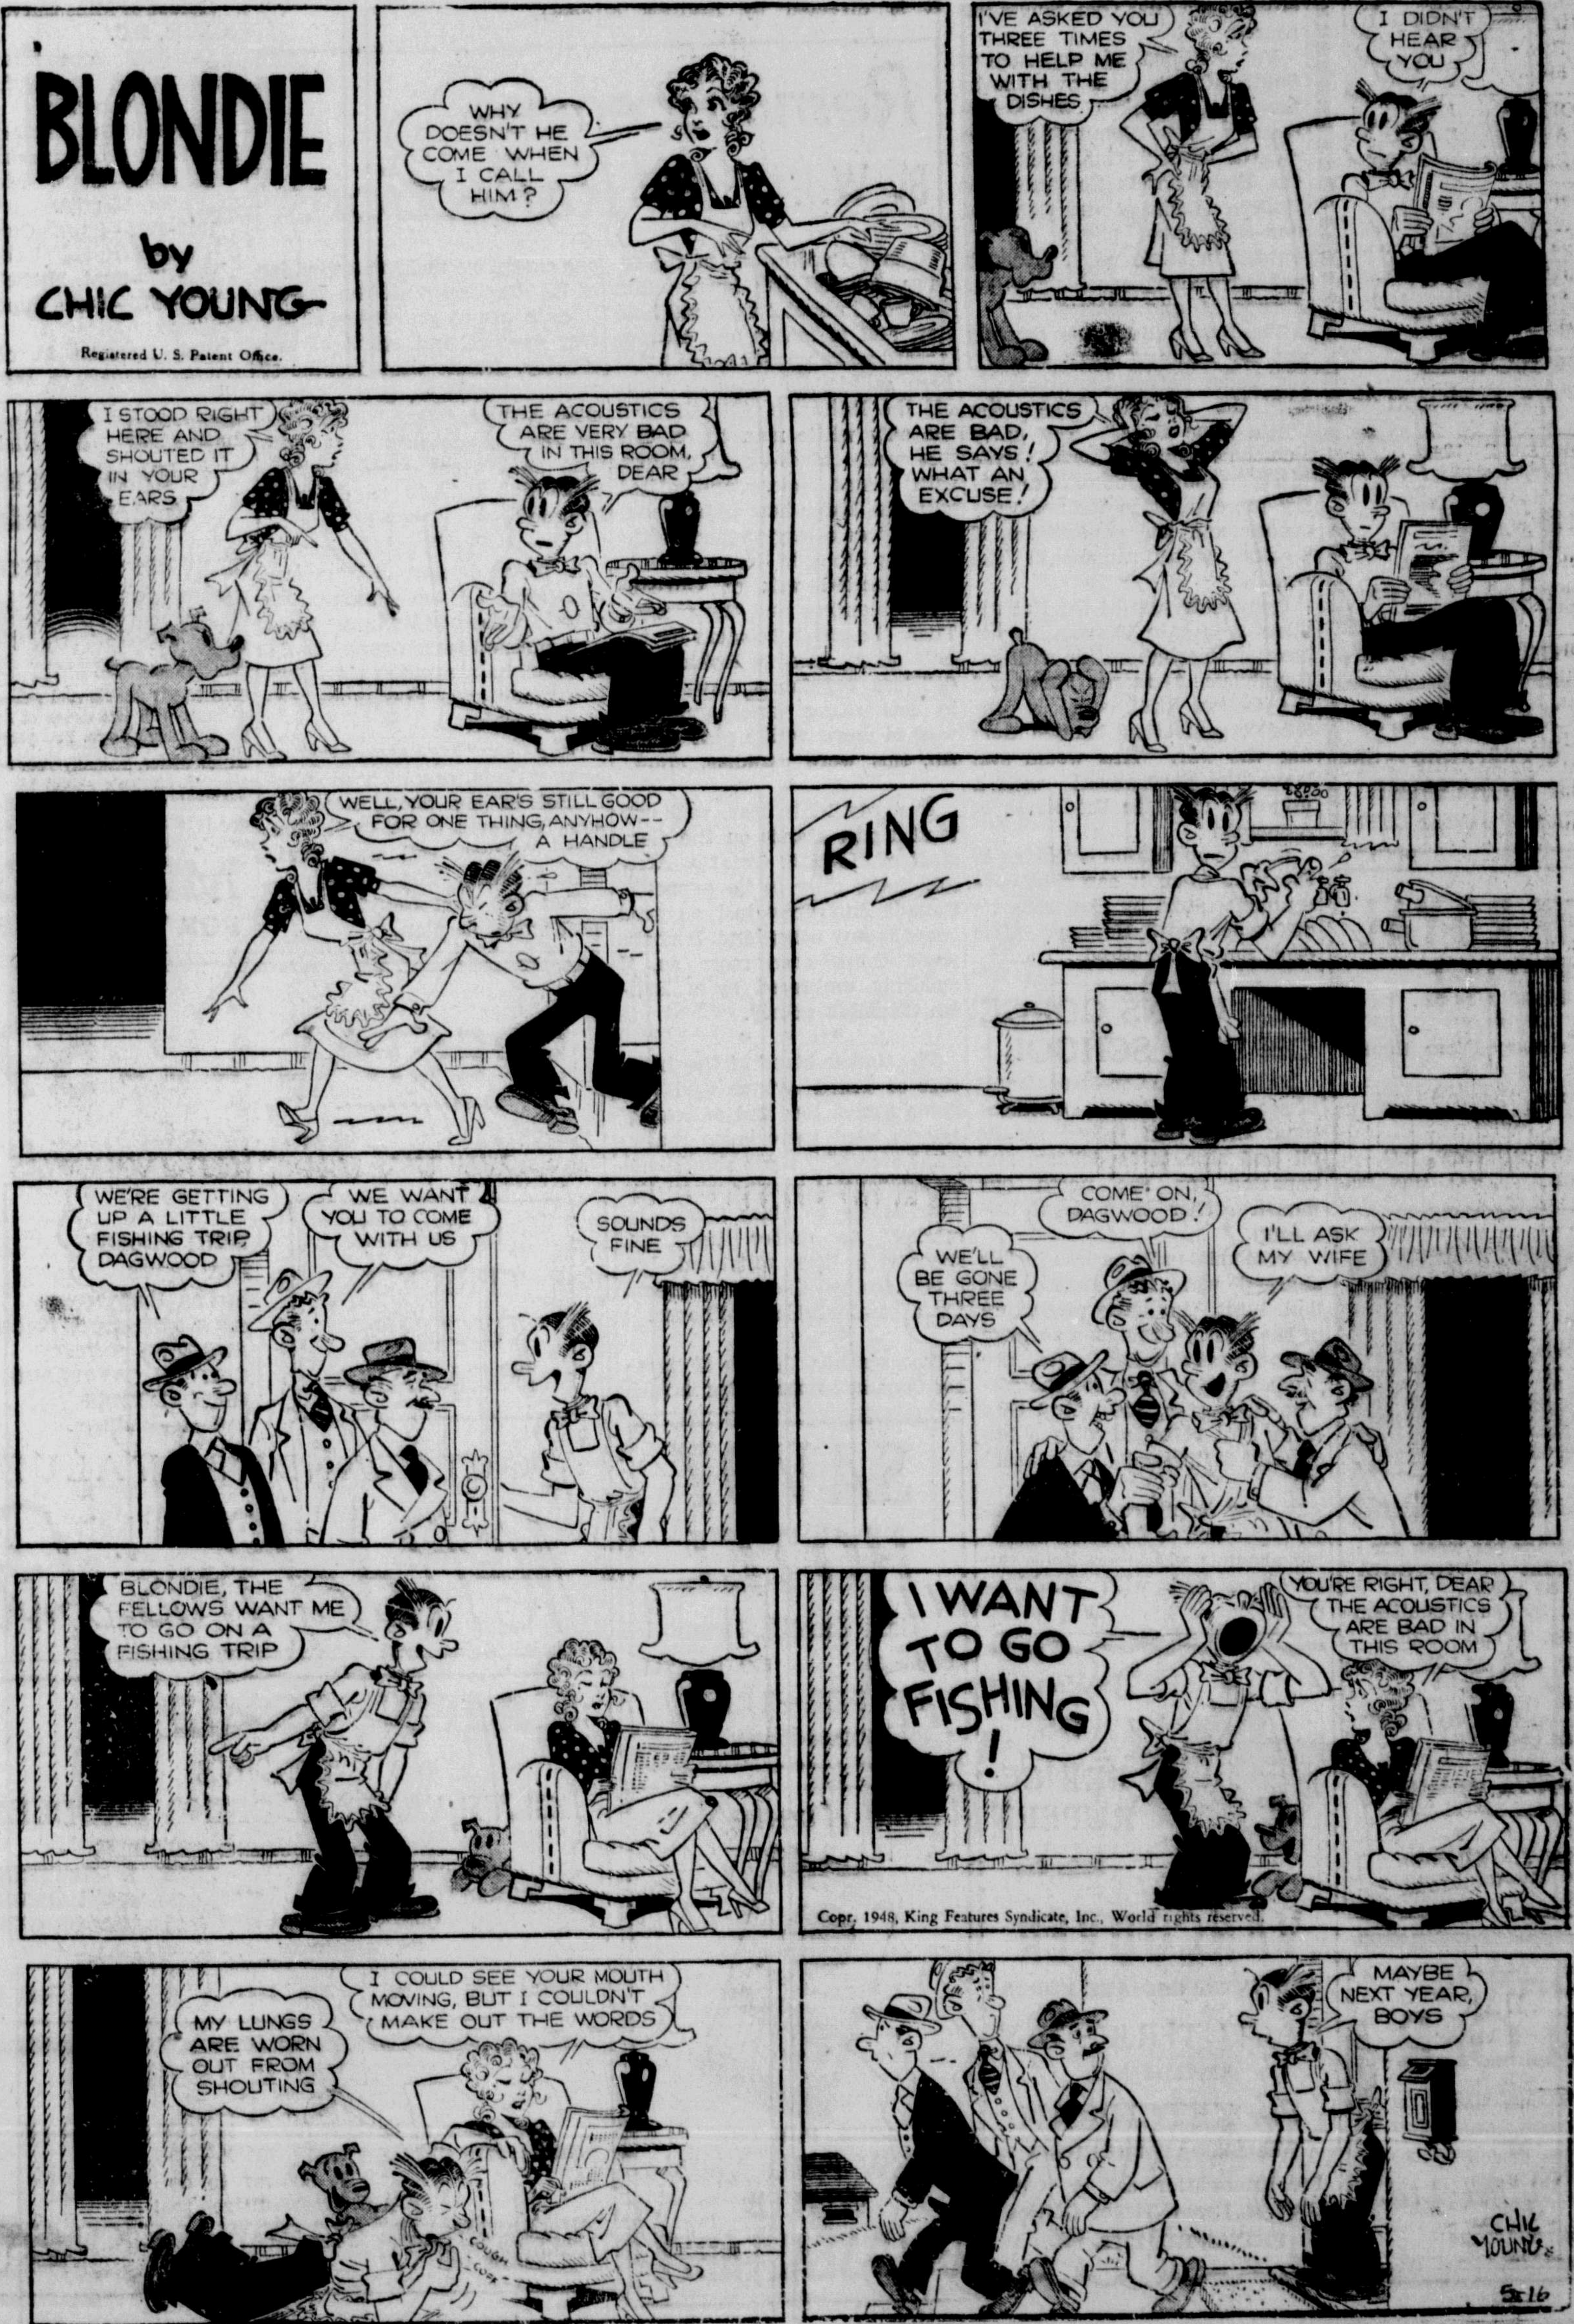

Q. How can I strengthen new glassware?

A. By placing it in a vessel of slightly salted water, letting it come to a boil slowly, then thoroughly, followed by cooling slowly. The slower this treatment, the more effective will be the result.

Q. How can I dry a sweater properly after washing?

A. Lay the sweater on a flat surface, turning from time to time. It will not stretch and will be soft and dry.

Says Miners' Wives Out-Glamor Movies

Derbyshire Councillor Would Bar Dowdy Portrayal of Miners' Wives

CHESTERFIELD, Derbyshire, Eng. (C)—Film stars and actresses should be banned from appearing as miners' wives either on the screen or in BBC broadcasts, says Councillor Samuel Sales, 68, chairman of the local council.

Reason: They're not glamorous enough.

When the council was informed that a film would be shown here about rehousing miners he declared films and broadcasts made their women "dowdy and uncouth." He thought they were an insult.

"I have met thousands. They are smart and good-looking," he said. "I would be prepared to choose a group of miners' wives from this district with good looks, manners, speech and dress that would whack any of the so-called actresses who are trying to portray miners' wives on the films."

Smuts Leading Last Contest Of His Career

JOHANNESBURG, (C)—Prime Minister Jan Smuts may be fighting his last political campaign when he leads his United Party into South Africa's May 26 general elections. Its return to power is virtually conceded.

Gen. Smuts is 78, five years older than Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada. Though he vigorously denies any intention of retiring, a number of political observers feel Smuts cannot continue leadership for the full five years of the next parliament.

Most likely successor is deputy Prime Minister Jan Hofmeyr, groomed for the position since the government took office at the outbreak of the last war.

At a Party congress at Bloemfontein Gen. Smuts denied allegations by the Nationalist Party, the government's major opposition, that he would continue as leader merely until the elections are won, then hand over the reins to Hofmeyr.

"The Nationalists wish to see me out of the political field but I shall be there as long as I have the strength of today and the mind to do so," he asserted.

The opposition has turned its big election guns on Hofmeyr. An earnest, bespectacled man, he has made spectacular achievements in his 20 years of political life but has never sparked the enthusiasm that Gen. Smuts has roused.

For this idealistic approach to South Africa's color problem, he has been attacked as everything from a Communist to a "Kaffir-Lover." Gen. Smuts told the Bloemfontein Congress that Hofmeyr believed the rights of non-Europeans might be extended in some ways, although not advocating equal rights for Europeans and natives.

The Nationalist Party recently put its militant white-supremacy policy before the electorate with the slogan: "Keep the White Race Pure." The party advocates complete racial segregation, abolition of parliamentary representation for non-Europeans and the deportation, if possible, of all Indians in the Union.

Immediate aim of the Nationalists is to gain 20 seats in the election in collaboration with the Republican Afrikaner Party and the Ossewa Brandwag, a pro-Nazi organization banned during the war. This would still leave the government with a majority of 20 in the House of Assembly.

But the opposition is looking to the time when it can split government ranks by exploiting its differences with Hofmeyr after Gen. Smuts is retired.

SEA LIONS GORGE ON FISH SCHOOL

NANAIMO, B.C. (C)—Huge herds of sea lions feasted on oolichans, little silver fish valued for its oil and as a table delicacy, and departed for the north one month earlier than usual this season.

For Dominion Fisheries officials charged with the annual sea lion hunt, the early departure of the quarry came as a surprise and disappointment. After the usual five-day hunt for the salmon-destroyers, the patrol ship Atlin Post returned with a kill of only 58 instead of the usual 300.

It may be necessary to send an expedition to northern breeding grounds where sea lions can be dispatched with machine-guns.

MARINE ENGINE SCHOOL OPENS

HALIFAX (C)—Nova Scotia has long been a home of seafaring men, but only recently was the first marine engineering school in the Maritimes opened here.

The school is sponsored and supervised by the vocational education division of the Nova Scotia department of education. It is directed by Andrew E.

Shott, former chief engineer with 20 years experience in the Merchant Navy, and a lieutenant-commander for 4½ years with the Royal Canadian Navy.

Eight students were in the first class. The length of the course depends on the individual's ability and capacity.

The courses lead to several grades of tickets including four motor and six steam (Canadian) and two steam (United Kingdom).

Reminiscences By W.J. and Reflections

George Prudhomme of the Ottawa Journal has been telling the world about his annual holiday, and it makes one envious. Aboard a sketchy little craft, he's been sailing the Spanish Main, off the Bahamas, with himself the only white man there. The rest were black—good sailors, with golden voices and gifted with the know how when cooking. It was a lazy, vagabond life, lurching along in the warm, history-haunted wak of Christopher Columbus and the pirates. Then, the eats! Lobsters by the half dozen, strange looking but delicious vegetables, new dishes in enchanting variety, and all washed down with a pint of ale. Ah, this were paradise, enow.

A sturdy little bear, with extended paw stands on the flag-staff of H.M.C.S. Ontario. After all, that's only to be expected. Canada can grow just as good bears as any other land. Perhaps you'd think even more so, if suddenly embraced by a British Columbia grizzly.

The timber stand at the junction of Third Avenue and McBride Street has had a healthy growth, and there is no reason what ever why there should not be substantial returns when the time comes to place it on the market. As timber limits go, space is a little restricted, but it is understood there will be room for a comfortable bunkhouse.

Whoever has the job of naming Canada's naval ships is with one exception, making a good job of it. Practically all the vessels, to date are so suggestive of the very essence and spirit of this country. Names that breathe of colorful traditions, great spaces, history, the redolency of the wilderness. Something has just been said about an exception. What has Canada to do with Uganda?

It is a dangerous practice, unhappily all too common, to write, when indignant what your opinion of someone else is. It could be a slander suit. Here is a much safer and more prudent process:

Dear sir: My stenographer, being a lady, cannot type what I think of you. Being a gentleman, I cannot think of it. You, being neither, will understand what I mean. Yours truly

This has been found to be a most workable plan.
