ALASKA DEFENCES LIGHT, WASHINGTON SAYS

STEAM ENGINE SUPPLIES HEAT FOR PREMISES—The old steam engine pictured here, property of the city of Regina, Sask., and used for such lowly tasks as thawing frozen sewers, has been called upon to perform a more important duty. Since the boilers in the new Armour block blew out this engine has supplied the heat for three business premises and 36 two-room suites. It will be used until the new boilers can be supplied.

To Augment Men, Planes In Outpost

WASHINGTON, D. C. (CP)—Following reports that submarines, presumably Russian, had been seen in the Pacific, it was learned here that Alaska, guardian outpost against attack over the North Pole, was manned by only seven thousand United States soldiers and perhaps fewer than one hundred fighter planes. Defence chiefs plan to add 8,000 soldiers to the northern garrison.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS ON DECLINE

Insurance Claims Drop
From 700 to 530
Prince Rupert's unemployment situation is "much improved" in relationship to its February peak, Unemployment Insurance Officer E. V. Whiting said today, adding that the improvement is part of a general upswing throughout the province.

Active claimants for unemployment insurance benefits dropped in number from 700 at the end of February to 530 this week, he said. At the same time, new applications for benefits have practically ceased.

"The improvement is a general one in that no particular type of industry has taken any large number of men but they all are beginning to hire a few," he said.

"The situation is strictly seasonal in that we always have a tapering-off of unemployment claims after we hit the peak in mid-February."

Mr. Whiting is hopeful that, by April 1, the fishing industry will become active with result that a greater number of men and women will find employment.

Since the end of February, 170 persons have found work and normal indications are that the tempo of renewed spring business and industrial activity will increase.

Sawmills in the interior have employed a number of men in a rush to make log deliveries before the snow thaws in the woods. About 40 men have been sent to Alice Arm where North-west Construction Co. has begun work on camp and mine installations for Torbit Silver mine.

HITLER IN SPAIN?—Possible light on the mystery of Adolf Hitler is thrown by Friedrich Mackensen, former German air force captain and grandson of Field Marshal Von Mackensen. He asserts that he flew in the formation which brought Hitler from Berlin to Spain and that his own plane crashed over France in April, 1945, near Marseilles. He was taken prisoner by the French army and lived under the name of Angelotti. He is now paralyzed in both legs. The statements were made on March 6th at the military government Wolftratshausen near Munich. He stated that Hitler may be now hiding out in Spain.

SEES BRITAIN AMERICAN BASE

LONDON — In debate in Parliament Will Gallacher, fiery Communist M.P. for Glasgow charged that the government's anti-communist security order was "instigated by American multi-millionaires."

"United States wants Great Britain to be a forward base for attack by American monopoly capitalists on Europe and Russia," Gallacher said. "America wants to make war against the Soviet Union and use this country as a forward base."

THREE MONTHS ON CLOTHES THEFT

Rufus White, Massett Indian, appeared in police court Thursday morning charged with committing assault with intent to rob and was remanded without plea until March 30 to give him time to obtain counsel.

White is alleged to have assaulted Carl Hagen with intent to rob him in the downtown area Wednesday night. He told the court that he had arrived in the city three days ago after serving a two-year term in prison and was on his way home. He was sent down two years ago for breaking and entering and theft.

Joseph McKay, a 23-year-old native, was sentenced to three months in jail on each of three charges of theft after he had pleaded guilty a week ago. McKay admitted stealing articles from the clothing of basketball players in a dressing room of the Civic Centre. The sentences will run concurrently.

NO SUB REPORTS
OTTAWA — Canadian naval authorities state that they have had no information of foreign submarines being sighted off the Pacific Coast. In Washington the Secretary of the Navy said that submarines, from "not west of the iron curtain," had been seen one within 200 miles of San Francisco.

Russia Would Govern Korea

SEOUL — South Korean political leaders have been invited to help establish a Soviet-sponsored government in Korea. The invitation came from the Russian-controlled radio at Pyongyang, headquarters of the Russian occupation of North Korea.

JAN MASARYK WAS HUMORIST

LONDON — Czechoslovaks in London remembered the light touch of the late Jan Masaryk brought to every wartime situation. He believed that he and the late President F. D. Roosevelt appreciated more than any other political leaders the value of a quip dropped into solemn discussions. Irritated once by an American questionnaire which required him to specify his race, he wrote, with a bold hand—"human."

YOU CAN BUY 'DUCK' FOR $100 BUT IT'S COSTLY THING TO OPERATE

You can buy a "Duck" for about $100—but don't do it, is the advice of T/Sgt. William Liddle, veteran of Italy and public relations sergeant for the army and navy officer Cadet cruise, which had one of the amphibious monsters rolling on Prince Rupert's streets Thursday.

Cambridge Is Winner

LONDON (CP)—The milk-fed Cambridge crew defeated Oxford University today in the annual rowing classic. They rowed the 4 1/4-mile course in a record 17 minutes, 50 seconds, clipping thirteen seconds off the record set in 1934.

The winners brought their cow to enable them to have sufficient milk for their training table.

SHIPMENTS TO RUSSIA ARE CURBED

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Secretary of Commerce Averell Harriman said Friday that the United States Army and Navy held veto power since March 1 over all shipments to Russia and satellites which "might contribute" to their "war potential." This means that the Department of Commerce is not letting anything go to Russia unless the army and navy pass it.

TORNADO TAKES NINETEEN LIVES

CHICAGO — Early spring tornadoes ripped across parts of central and southern United States yesterday, killing more than twenty persons. Heaviest suffering area was west central Indiana where the known dead number nineteen. Scores were injured and many buildings were demolished.

C.N. FOREMAN PASSES AWAY

Thomas Carlyle, foreman of the Canadian National Railways bridge and building department on the Smithers division for many years and formerly a resident of this city, died in Prince Rupert General Hospital on Friday. He was 62 years old.

Born in the south of Scotland, Mr. Carlyle came to Canada 35 years ago, joining the railway company shortly afterward. During the First World War, he served overseas with the Sixth Battalion, C.E.F., settling in Prince Rupert with his family after that war. In 1934 the family moved to Edmonton where they now reside.

Mrs. Carlyle, who arrived in the city from Edmonton, left on last night's train, accompanying the body home. Funeral services will be held in the Alberta capital on Monday.

Surviving are Mrs. Carlyle and two sons, George and Clifford, all of Edmonton, two brothers, William, of Vancouver, and Walter of Sutherland, Saskatchewan, and a sister in Scotland.

A Poor Easter

IF EVER a perplexed and troublous and suffering world needed a renaissance of the spirit of Easter it is today. We consider what could and should be done economically to relieve the want and physical sufferings of nations in the world less blessed than we. We ponder the possibility and seeming inevitability of war which never yet in the world's long history settled anything permanently, even though it might on occasion have been clothed with aspects of righteousness.

But we would like this Easter to speculate upon man's true brotherhood with man and commend to serious consideration the practical application of the spirit of the Man whose death and triumph this season of observance memorializes.

Easter—the greatest religious festival of the world—should be a happy and a hopeful time when new life and spirit spring forth to revive man and the world but what is this Easter but an epoch of wars and rumors of war, of alarm and uncertainty?

And why should Easter 1948 be such? We would indeed say it is because there is such lack of that very true Easter spirit, that true spirit of man's real brotherhood with man.

If there were the true feeling of Easter among us as individuals, as communities, as nations, there should be no such unhappy Easter as we must perforce admit afflicts the world today.

So it is a question that each of us might well ponder as another Easter day impends—is the world today like it is because we have lost the old spirit such as once permeated the civilized nations of the world and their peoples? And when we ask the question we might speculate if the spirit of each and every one of us right here and now is any better or worse than the spirit which we deplore in peoples far removed and whose troublous acts we hold responsible for the grave and trying conditions as we see the world around these days.

We very much fear that Easter and all its implications are held of little consequence by us and that, bad as things are, we ourselves might assume some of the blame. If we knew and acted the true spirit of Easter there could be no strife, no conflict in a happy world well capable of supporting all its peoples with peace and harmony prevailing.

NEW LIGHTHOUSE TENDERS

IT IS SATISFACTORY to hear that the Department of Transport intends to provide a new lighthouse tender for the Prince Rupert agency which includes under its jurisdiction some of the most turbulent waters on the British Columbia coast and is responsible for the maintenance and supply of scores of isolated and difficult-of-access aids to navigation.

For some forty years this lighthouse area has been served by makeshift and entirely inadequate vessels, to large extent incapable of ministering fully to the requirements, particularly in case of emergency. It is fortunate, indeed, that they have got along as well as they have.

Now that the Department is planning the construction of two new tenders—one supposedly to replace the old Alberni, out of Prince Rupert, and the Estevan, out of Victoria—it is to be expected that it will provide itself with vessels suitable and adequate to the needs—ships of sufficient stoutness and speed to carry out at all times and under any conditions the requisite duties of maintaining speedy maintenance and repair service to the lights and protection and service to the faithful people who, day after day and night after night, with little diversion and lonely existence, keep the lights burning, the horns blowing and the bells ringing so that the shipping of the coast may keep going steadily and safely.

And, when new lighthouse tenders are being built, we are constrained to hope that our own local shipbuilding plant will have a chance at the work.

WOUNDING WORDS

BEFORE WE ARE VERY OLD, we learn that words can wound! Everyone has seen a "hurt" look on a child's face. Adults, too, they say, can be "cut to the quick" by sharp comments. So, since no one likes to be injured, in feelings or in person, everyone should guard against doing or saying things which make others suffer.

A pleasant word, an expression of commendation or congratulation, cordial greetings—all these things help and they create happiness for those who utter them as well as for those to whom they are directed.

POPCORN, ETC.

JUST WHY A THEATRE should give an enhanced charm to the eating of popcorn, peanuts and candy has, apparently, not yet been satisfactorily discovered. But that appears to be what many folks want so that's the way it will have to be. Seemingly the more interesting the show, the more disorderly the consumption of dry refreshments. Jaws, when not employed crunching, are also found useful in the singsong exchange of comment, that, of course, comes with wisdom and ripe judgment.

EASTER SERVICES

EASTER CANTATA IS HEARD BY 400 ON GOOD FRIDAY

Combined choirs of First Presbyterian Church and St. Andrew's Cathedral presented the Easter cantata "The Crucifixion" by Sir Joseph Stainer to an audience of 400 in First Presbyterian Church last night. The majestic story of the passion and death of Christ was unfolded musically with solo parts being sung by Dr. R. G. Large, baritone and John Davey and J. A. Teng, tenors.

The combined choirs, consisting of 11 men and 15 ladies, gave magnificent effect to the choral passages. Organist and director of the cantata was Peter Lien, organist and choirmaster of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Rev. Allan M. McColl, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, was chairman.

ALASKA LACKS ACCOMMODATION

Worried About How Tourists To Be Taken Care Of

According to a survey, recently made in the United States, the families of that country prefer holidaying in Alaska this year.

Seven-tenths of one per cent of all the families are looking northward. As the population is reckoned at a hundred and forty million, there certainly is reason to anticipate substantial business.

Alaska, however, has a grievance. All the visitors will see of this vast national vacation land will be a glimpse, while passing through by plane or boat. The reason is, accommodation is lacking. The strangers from the States want comforts while away from home and are prepared to pay. But, if unable to enjoy what they are accustomed to, their presence will be fleeting, indeed.

To a limited extent, hotels that deserve to be called modern, are seen in the north. But the shortage results in the least, instead of the most of what might be obtainable, being secured, in the way of patronage.

WHY DID CHRIST DIE?

This is a question that has been asked and discussed since the Cross of Calvary was first lifted up. To the disciples of our Lord it was a tragedy that wrecked all their plans of an earthly kingdom. But to the Christian, the death of Christ is the very gate unto life, even the cornerstone of our faith.

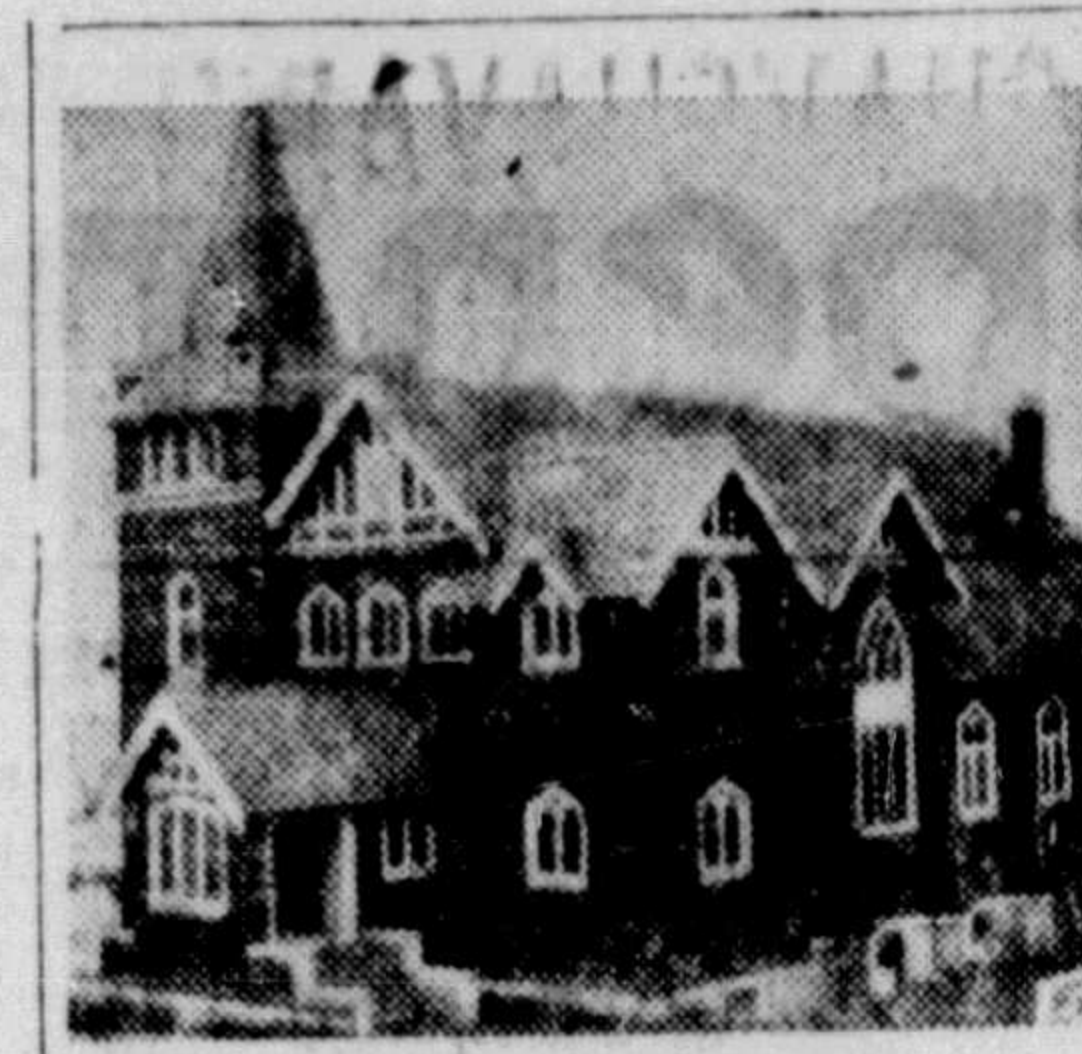

Many people today are drifting from the old fundamental view of a substitutionary atonement held by the Reformers. Instead they are classifying Christ simply as a good man, a prophet or a great teacher and his death as that of a martyr to His cause. They continue their theories of Higher Criticism and deny the Virgin Birth, the Resurrection, and the necessity of Blood Atonement. The teachings of Jesus are sufficient guide for us to follow.

In John, Chapter 20 and verse 31, we read the following: "But these are written that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God and, that believing, ye might have life through His Name." What clearer statement do we need to the Deity of our Lord Jesus Christ. It further states that faith in that Name gives eternal life to the believer. Therein lies the answer to our question, "Why did Christ die?"

The Apostle Paul says: "It is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." How much is contained in that word "sinners?" It is so broad that it includes all men of all ages irrespective of color or social standing. "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." And as such are under the universal sentence of eternal condemnation and punishment. On that we would realize that outside of Christ we face, at death, eternal separation from God.

For this reason God, in His infinite love and mercy, sent His Son, who laid aside the glory He had with the Father before the world was, and took upon Himself human flesh, born of a virgin, and became an obedient servant even unto the death of the Cross. Why? "God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself." It was no mistake of history, no tragedy that the Roman soldiers nailed Jesus to a cross. It was rather the outpouring of God's heart of love upon the human family, fettered by the habits of sin. They did not kill Jesus. He gave His life. They could not destroy the Creator of life. He dismissed His Spirit back to the Father when His work of redemption was "Finished."

What kind of world will your children inherit?

Probably it will be a better world in every way.

Certainly it will be a healthier world. For science is working ceaselessly to devise more effective ways of treating and preventing disease.

But the task is enormous—and costly. That is why the life insurance companies in Canada have contributed large sums of money for many years toward the work of medical science—particularly in the field of preventive research.

As a result, more men and women are enabled to work in well-equipped laboratories waging war against cancer, tuberculosis and polio. More facts are being discovered in order to promote better nutrition, prenatal care and dental hygiene. And the skill and devotion which these scientists bring to their work promises new freedom from sickness in years to come.

By supporting their efforts, the life insurance companies help to raise the health standard of the nation.

By owning life insurance, you help to create a healthier world for your children.

A message from the Life Insurance Companies in Canada and their agents

It is good citizenship to own LIFE INSURANCE

CHAVCHAVADZE CHARMS AUDIENCE WITH GOOD FRIDAY RECITAL

Renowned Pianist Presents Second Recital At Civic Centre Here

In recital here for the second time this week, George Chavchavadze, international piano master, again won the hearts of his audience at a welcome Good Friday afternoon reappearance at the Civic Centre auditorium where more than 300 people responded enthusiastically to a program devoted mainly to Chopin, Greig, Beethoven and a rich composition by his own hands.

His second recital, sponsored by the Soroptimist Club and the Civic Centre, reaffirmed Prince Rupert music lovers his ability to express himself with conviction and penetrating musicianship. Certainly there are no half way measures with this artist who invests his playing with rare poise, interpretive power and unfailing regard for artistic values and tonal coloring.

Kaleidoscopic in its course, the program contained the regional atmospheres of a great section of Europe, ranging from the classical "From Holberg's Time," Opus 40 by the Norwegian composer Edward Greig, through the rich creative fields of central Europe in the works of Chopin, Beethoven, Schumann, Mendelssohn and Brahms and into Spain with a warm, brilliant compositions of de Falla.

The artist's own creative talents scintillated through portions of the program, initially in the opening work, Greig's "From Holberg's Time" to whose powerful, rolling music was added a descriptive cadenza composed by Chavchavadze himself. Later, he played his Suite on themes from Manuel de Falla's "El Amor Brujo," a series of emotional interpretations rendered with sharply contrasting effects, stirring rhythms, passionate warmth and elegance of phrasing.

His second presentation consisted of nine little-known but lovely preludes from Opus 28 by Chopin, an unbroken series of colors and moods. Then came Chopin's melodic "Ballade No. 1 in G Minor."

Beethoven's "Sonata in C Sharp Minor" Opus 27, No. 2, better known as the "Moonlight" Sonata included the second and third movements, the "Allegretto" and "Presto Agitato," portions that are less known but equally as beautiful as the popular and pensive first movement. His concluding number on the first section of the program, suite on themes from Manuel de Falla's ballet "El Amor Brujo" brought an enthusiastic response from the audience. Full of Spanish fire and in the modern musical idiom, they require the utmost in technique not to become mere piano gymnastics. Chavchavadze gave rich expression to its moods.

Following the short intermission, Chavchavadze rendered Schumann's "Papillons, Opus 2," a melodic composition, then embarked on a series of request numbers, which included "Scherzo" by Mendelssohn, the lovely "Waltz in A Flat Major" by Brahms and the tempestuous "Ritual Fire Dance" by de Falla. Both the "Ritual Fire Dance" and an addition number, Lecuona's "Malaguena" were repeated from Chavchavadze's Monday night recital.

Chavchavadze presented as encores, in response to persistent demand, Lecuona's "Malaguena," Chopin's "Berceuse" and Chabrier's "España."

At the conclusion of the program, the artist interrupted the prolonged and thunderous ovation to express his warm thanks to the people of Prince Rupert for their hospitality and his pleasure at visiting the city. If it is possible, he said, he will visit the city at some future date.

Armand Boas presided at the door yesterday afternoon and usherettes were Mrs. P. M. Ray and the Misses Muriel Vance, Frances Thomson, Margaret McLeod and Barbara Smith.

FLOOR HOCKEY LEAGUE PLANNED

The ice hockey season may be nearing its end in the frozen parts of the continent, but in Prince Rupert, the hockey season is just about to begin—roller hockey, that is.

Plans for a roller hockey league are announced by Glen Hemons, manager of the Rupert Roller Rink, and a meeting to organize a league was held at the rink on Sunday afternoon.

There are some, but not many, people in the city who have a bit of experience with the game, but these are relatively few, Mr. Hemmons says.

The game is played with the same type of sticks as are used in ice hockey, and the same kind of puck.

Hits who still retain a mathematical chance of overhauling the B. C. Packers. In the other fixtures, Ideal Detergents and Cougars each took the measure of the Islanders and Brownwoods two games to one.

Men's high single and high three went to Ivan Dumas of C.Y.O. with 336 and 755. Ladies' high single was by Eleanor Barber of B. C. Packers with 221 and high three by Bert Vuckovich of Triple XXX with 573. Team high single was by Cougars with 1184 and team high three by Miss or Hits with 3293.

BASKETBALL CHATTER

In what might be their last appearance on a basketball court, almost certainly if they lose, Angus Macphee, Sev Dominato, Jack Lindsay and a few others will tonight face the sickle of old Father Time and a formidable gang of young bloods thrown in to an exhibition tilt to settle a very heated question in sport circles here. All during the season just closing, time and time again the respective efforts of the young and the old have been applauded then questioned, and it's been the fans that have been doing the most of the squabbling. Now they have a chance to see for themselves who is right and who is wrong.

After fifteen years of very good service to the sporting fraternity of Prince Rupert, most of the oldsters are still taking the front seats on all-star teams. This method of choosing the experienced over the youth has been looked upon as being a shortsighted aspect on the furtherance of the sport. Yet the basketball association claims the games must be won and so far they have had to depend on the experience to do the job.

Tonight should and easily could be a different story. With boys like the Holkestad brothers, Joe Davis, Jim Flaten, Reg Lavigne etc., it will take some hustling to keep up with them

LIFE in this Prince Rupert

by BIDDEE JINKS

If a few youngsters in the town keep up what they have started, Prince Rupert has a crack basketball team in the making. As it is, King Edward School team is holder of the Orme Cup, basketball trophy for Rupert's Juvenile League, won in a series of games between the young players of Borden Street, Booth and King Edward Schools.

King Edward's team made their winning play last Tuesday afternoon in the Civic Centre. The team consists of captain, Ronnie Ciccone, with players Freddie Kristmanon, Barry Helene, Dickie Cameron, Harold Webber, Jordan Smith and Ray McIntosh. Like small, spurring tornadoes which managed to be everywhere at one time, they played basketball that afternoon and finished off the series.

Looking down on them from the spectators' benches, they were like little boys dressed in short pants for their fifth birthday. A few, wearing their tops loose, whose shorts appeared only on rare occasions, seemed to be travelling furiously in pursuit of the ball in nothing more hampering than a shirt tail.

There was nothing so juvenile about the game itself. Having taken every game in the series but one, King Edward was there to win. And the opposing team was as definite about their side.

It was a good game—and I do mean good—with fewer errors and penalties, better display of dispositions and clean playing than found in the Senior League. The guarding was superb. By times, it was amazing how closely some little fellow could guard another without fouling. And funny, when four hands found the ball at the same instant, to tussle for it like two young cockerels.

Plainly, it was a serious game. A shining, new trophy was in the offing, and grouped overhead were each team's loud and loyal supporters who, may it be said to their distinguished honor, never let a single "Boo!" escape them.

Faith in their team was a coherent thing to these young kids who had come to watch their play-fellows in this match. It was in full swing at the commencement of the game when Vern Ciccone, referee and Borden's coach, made an announcement.

"This is the second game between King Edward and Borden Street," he said. "As you know, King Edward won the last game—'And will win it again,' yelled a young lad at my right."—and if she wins this one, will have won the cup. If Borden wins today, the final playoff will be on Saturday night—"There'll be no playoff," prophesied this

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. If a girl is sitting out a dance with a man and is away from the dance floor, is it all right for another man to ask the girl to dance?

A. No, he should wait until she is dancing again.

Q. What is referred to as being "fashionably late"?

A. There is no such thing as being "fashionably late." One should arrive at the appointed time, or never more than ten minutes late.

Q. What are the principle things a very stout woman should avoid when selecting her gowns?

A. She should avoid brightly-colored materials, checked materials, short waists, and tight sleeves.

Chafing dishes—pans containing burning charcoal, used for keeping things warm—were introduced into England about the year 1200.

SWEEP FORTUNES AROUND WORLD
Decided By Running of Grand National
DUBLIN—The 62nd drawing of the Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes, based on the running of the Grand National at Aintree last Saturday scattered fortunes around the world.
Twenty-four nurses pulled the counterfoils from a huge revolving drum set high on a stage.
Sealed tenders will be received by the District Forester, Prince Rupert not later than noon on the 15th day of April, 1948, for the purchase of licence X-44318, to cut 485,000 feet of cedar, hemlock, spruce and balsam on an area situated at Security Cove, Boswell Inlet.
Two (2) years will be allowed for removal of timber.

Causes Stir — Some
'Strange' Things

The American services some times do things in strange ways, admits Lieut. James J. Jordan, dark, stocky commander of the American Army transport FS-210 which visited here Thursday with 40 army and navy officer Cadets on a training cruise. They do things in strange ways—but they get things done.
Lieut. Jordan is an officer who worked his way up from the ranks during the war and who within a month will be out of the service. He is backward about talking of his wartime service, saying only that it included "the usual $150 tour of Europe—England, France, the Netherlands and Germany."
Regarding those strange American ways—Lieut. Jordan

Only the numbers of the lucky ticket holders were announced. A holder might be anywhere. The names of many were later disclosed.
After the deduction of expenses, taxes and portions for the hospitals, the balance of the proceeds was divided into units of $400,000. The prizes on the winning horse—one for each unit—were $100,000—second prize $40,000 and third prize $20,000.
There also were hundreds of residual and consolation prizes, the size of the residuals being dependent on what is left over after the main prizes in each unit were provided.
The tickets for each horse are not pulled all at once. Each time the drum turns, only six counterfoils are pulled out by the nurses. They are then handed to the Chief Commissioner of Police who in turn passes them to accountants for checking and listing.

hadn't given the matter much thought but, when presented with it, he reckoned that maybe things were a bit inconsistent.
For instance, aboard the FS-210 were United States Army and ten Navy Cadets with an army skipper and crew. Come to think of it, it might be considered a bit quaint that the Army should be carrying the navy, even Navy cadets, around at sea.
"It is not the first time though," said Lieut. Jordan. "The Army Transportation Corps boasts, with a good deal of justification, that it can carry anything anywhere. We carried a few Navy men to various places during the war, although usually it was the Navy that took the Army, or at least escorted them."
Then there was the matter of addressing the Captain. While he was in command of the ship, a 180-foot former Army Air Force maintenance and supply vessel, he was still a lieutenant in rank. How was he addressed? "They call me Lieutenant, of course," he replied. "Actually I am the Captain but in the army, officers are addressed by their rank." In the British Navy, the commanders of sea-going vessels usually are called "Captain" regardless of their rank.
Despite the fact that he had two Army Alaska pilots aboard, Lieut. Jordan kept continuous watch during the voyage trip from Seattle to Juneau and back. He slept in cat-naps during the voyage through the inside channels and, consequently, was continuously yawning.
"I'm tired of the Army, too," he confided. "I'm getting out next month, then I'll settle down to being a civilian. What will I do? Why I plan to go to Guam in the civil service. I can save $7,500 in a year there. It's the only place where they don't collect income taxes."
During the twelve-hour stay here of the FS-210 and her party, the Americans were much in evidence about the streets and their "Duck" motor vehicle, as it went up and down the street, excited much comment. Hospitality was extended to the visitors at the Civic Centre and the Canadian Legion.
