Percent On Heated Flats, Etc.

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Legion is expected next week to the federal government regarding rent control announced last night by Minister Douglas Abbott.

Abbott announced in the House of Commons that the federal government plans to allow landlords to increase domestic rent by one percent. At the same time, the government will allow an increase of its rental control commission's Supreme Court decision.

Ship Breaks Up— Freighter Abandoned Down Coast

Panamanian Vessel Strands
In Juan de Fuca After Fire

SEATTLE — An engine room fire drove the Panamanian freighter Andalusia to ground on a northwestern Washington beach 4½ miles from Neah Bay early today. The vessel was later reported breaking up with the crew of twenty-seven abandoning ship.

The grounding ended two hours of uncertainty after the first alarm had been sent out by the 7,117-ton Panamanian registered freighter.

The fire was reported to have been extinguished by the crew which rammed the vessel ashore a few miles from the northwest tip of continental United States.

The coastguard cutter Far reached the beached ship in the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

The coastguard said then that the ship was taking water in No. 1 and No. 2 holds through damage due to ramming the beach.

Addition To Nurses' Home

Three-storey Structure
Planned Alongside Present
Building

Plans call for accommodation for 28 persons with additional recreation rooms. The building will be a three-storey structure adjoining the present nurses home on the north side.

Hospital authorities hope to have construction begin as soon as possible after the awarding of the tender. Bids are receivable up to November 23. They likely will be opened November 25.

It is the hope of the Hospital Board, according to Secretary D. C. Stevenson, that improvement of the nursing staff's quarters will aid in solving the nursing shortage which has plagued hospital operation here for some time.

The present nurses' home was built twenty-five years ago to accommodate student nurses in the days when Prince Rupert General Hospital was also a training school. It has 13 rooms, designed for individual occupancy but which, in some cases, must be shared by two nurses.

She wagged her tail and was as nice as you please when India's Prime Minister Nehru patted her head and recalled the occasion in New Delhi two years ago when he named her Chota, which in English means "little one." LABOR WINS IN BRITAIN

County Council Result May Have Psychological Effect

LONDON — Labor yesterday won the by-election for a London County Council seat in North Kensington, restoring the party's majority in the council which was lost in local elections last spring.

Labor's margin of victory was 1097 votes.

Result of the by-election, first test of public feeling since the government announced new post-devaluation austerity cuts, it is thought likely to have considerable psychological effect nationally.

Other Matters Also Coming Up

Russian Relations And YugoSlavia Are Mentioned

WASHINGTON, D. C. (CP)—British fears that the western powers are beginning to pull apart on top of German policy were reported today to have touched off the sudden calling of a meeting of Big Three foreign ministers. Although the British Foreign Office announced today that the foreign ministers of Great Britain, United States and France will meet in Paris next week to discuss German problems, the State Department here said that no definite date had been set for such a conference, adding that it might be difficult for the foreign ministers to get together next week.

A British spokesman in London said the meeting would begin Wednesday or Thursday, depending upon when Secretary of State Dean Acheson of the United States could reach Paris.

Some British sources speculated that Acheson would give Foreign Secretary Bevin of Great Britain and Foreign Minister Schuman of France a fill-in on this meeting he is scheduled to have in Washington with Andrei Y. Vishinski, Russia's foreign minister.

Some spade work has already been done for the session in recent talks in Paris and London. Actually speculation among diplomats here is that, when the three foreign ministers meet, even though Germany may be their primary subject, their discussions may range widely. General conflict with Russia and particularly the YugoSlav situation are among matters mentioned.

Conservatives voted with the government against the motion. The Progressive-Conservative motion is yet to be voted on.

U.S. and Imports

IT IS SIMPLE LOGIC that the United States will have to become more "import-minded," if she is to participate effectively in international rehabilitation and preserve peace and happiness abroad in these changing times when no nation, no matter how great, can live unto itself alone.

It is becoming increasingly apparent and realistically admitted too that the nations abroad have only one means of ensuring their stability and that is by disposal of the goods they produce and building up of their credits.

Insistence upon the gold and dollar standards which, in themselves, are to considerable extent founded on artificial and arbitrary bases, may not much longer be maintained.

It is a healthy sign to see Secretary of State Dean Acheson, cold realist in regard to international affairs, making the statement yesterday that it was essential that United States become more "import-minded" in the world in which she has a corner on the standard money and the credit.

POPPY DAY

ONCE AGAIN this year The Canadian Legion is asking the people of Prince Rupert to wear a poppy for remembrance. This is an excellent appeal, and one that should not be overlooked. During the years since Col. John McCrae wrote the challenging poem "In Flanders Fields" the poppy has taken on a peculiar significance. It has come to typify in many countries of the world the debt which we who live owe to those who died in battle.

One day in the year the people of Canada are asked to wear a poppy to show that they remember. One day in the year they are asked to pause briefly to honor the dead. That is little enough. While remembrance of the dead of the two wars is the spiritual aspect of the poppy, there is the other practical purpose of assisting the living, for the money raised through the fund is used for emergency assistance to veterans.

While it is true that veterans under certain circumstances have the advantage of specific legislation, such as war veterans' allowance, it should be remembered that when an emergency crops up speed is the essential requirement in providing assistance.

There are many cases on record with the Poppy Fund where the necessary assistance has been forthcoming in a matter of hours. It should be remembered also that there are many worthy veterans who hesitate to apply to any of the organized charities. Many of them have twice gone into uniform, and have given ten years from their productive life to the service of their country. Through the comradeship of the Canadian Legion their needs are learned, and the assistance is forthcoming. It should be remembered too, that while the Poppy Fund is a national appeal the money raised locally is used locally to assist veterans regardless of their being members of the Canadian Legion or not.

The Legion slogan "Wear a Poppy for Remembrance" is a good slogan. It is one that deserves the support of every citizen. Live up to it.—Tomorrow!

DEATH IN THE AIR

FLYING involves risk, and for that matter so does any other form of travel, if it's only walking.

Aviation disasters occur now and then, and all too frequently result in the destruction of every soul on board. We hear all about crashes and collisions but nothing whatever concerning the millions who fly safely.

Aviation, of course, has come to stay, and the world would not have it otherwise. There is no use lamenting an air calamity.

It is vain though human to deplore the fate of loved ones. Indeed, one might be warranted in concluding that, with life's end just ahead, it was best to perish with such suddenness that actual transition was perhaps not realized.

HEALTH UNIT BUSY DURING LAST MONTH

Prince Rupert Health Unit's nursing and sanitary staff experienced one of its busiest months in October due to an outbreak of measles and failure of the city water main.

Monthly report for October, issued by the senior public health nurse, Miss Freda Hilton, stated that, due to the measles outbreak, which kept the nursing staff busy, some of the routine work had to be left until later.

However, the report stated, a start has been made on school examinations and the turn-out at the well baby clinics has been good. Visits also were made to tuberculosis patients and contacts to make appointments for the chest clinic.

There were 482 cases of measles and 17 cases of mumps during the month.

The immunization program resulted in 106 persons being treated for pertussis, diphtheria and tetanus. Similar clinics, home visits and clinics are being carried out at interior points.

Pressure of water within the city, which was added to greatly by the necessity of keeping a watchful eye on the purity of the water supply during the break in the Woodworth-Shawatians main, prevented Sanitarian A. G. Boas from making his usual visit to the interior. However, word was received from the Department of Health that a permanent site for a garbage dump had been approved at Terrace.

Miss P. Yabolski, nursing supervisor for the central and northern B.C. district, visited the city and will continue to visit Prince Rupert four times annually. The coast travelling clinic was in the city during the first week in October and, during the later part of the month, a child guidance clinic was at the Health Unit for two days. The team consisted of a psychiatrist, a psychologist, a clinic supervisor and a public health nurse. It was the first time in three years that the clinic has visited Prince Rupert. Future visits are planned at six-month intervals.

Women of Moose Plan Activities

Women of the Moose, at their regular meeting in the Moose Temple, with Mrs. Harold Muncey, senior regent, in the chair, gave permission to the child care committee to hold a rummage sale in December. Plans were made to have a raffle of a turkey, ham and chicken, proceeds to be used for the Moose children's Christmas Tree.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Premier Attlee urges British employers and workers to "work longer hours, save more and spend less." It might almost be said that in Canada in recent years the general tendency has been exactly the reverse. Mr. Attlee can succeed in making himself unpopular, but, when he feels he must say something that rewards him with the Bronx cheer, he does not hesitate to go ahead and say it.

Removal of rental control is another of those little matters one can seel in the event of ever being puzzled to know what to worry over.

If the people of Canada fail to become fully enlightened on how life goes in the Royal Canadian Navy, it will not be the fault of Parliament and press. A voluminous report has been tabled. It contains plenty of recommendations. Generally speaking, it looks like shake-ups, both ashore and afloat.

A copy of The Journal, Prince Rupert's first and only daily morning newspaper, was read yesterday. The date was in April, 1913. It printed a front page notice that Earl Grey's Rifles would proceed to the Government wharf to hold drill. The order was from Fred Stork, captain, and signed by S. P. McMorris, lieutenant. The owner and editor of The Journal was O. H. Nelson from Victoria, and the office stood on Third Avenue, just below McBride Street. Mr. Nelson and family lived up stairs on the second floor.

Veterans' Honors For Geo. Bradbury

Funeral services this morning from the chapel of B. C. Undertakers for the late George Bradbury, well known city pioneer and veteran of World War I, were marked by Canadian Legion honors for ex-service men. Rev. Fred Antrobus of First Baptist Church officiated and pallbearers were W. E. Denning, Fred Barber, N. L. Jones and William Williams. Bugler W. J. Rance sounded "The Last Post" as the remains were lowered in the veterans' plot.

... Buy a Poppy!

IDENT'S MESSAGE

"POPPY DAY"

Today the people of Prince Rupert will be asked to purchase poppies which make it possible for the Canadian Legion to carry on its welfare work.

It is important but I think one thing that perhaps has not been sufficiently stressed is the fact the poppy is the symbol of remembrance of the dead of two world wars.

Warrior's are apt to be a little short and were it not for the poppy sale, I sometimes wonder if those who did not have husbands in the two wars would be as fully conscious of the sacrifice as they are. I do want to stress the importance of this one day in the year being set aside in this way. Those who have not had experience with the Poppy Fund may be inclined to question whether the Poppy Fund is necessary. In Prince Rupert, I can assure them it is. It is true that veterans and veterans' dependents who cannot work, but we have in our Acts of Parliament considerable compensation but it is equally true that things such as the old pension and similar legislation and allowances are inadequate in the face of present living costs. However, and this is a fact, the majority of worthy veterans are people with a very independent pride. They have given Canada service during war and they are the type of people who do not like to approach organized charities. Were it not for the Poppy Fund, and the comradeship which was born in war, these deserving cases would not be known about.

The Poppy Fund enables the Canadian Legion to assist veterans' dependents in times of need. Every penny of the Poppy Fund in Prince Rupert and District is used right here in this city for the expenses of "Poppy Day" as well as the cost of operating the Poppy Fund throughout the year are borne by our Branch out of our own funds.

I ask your support and that of the people of Prince Rupert on this very worthy work.

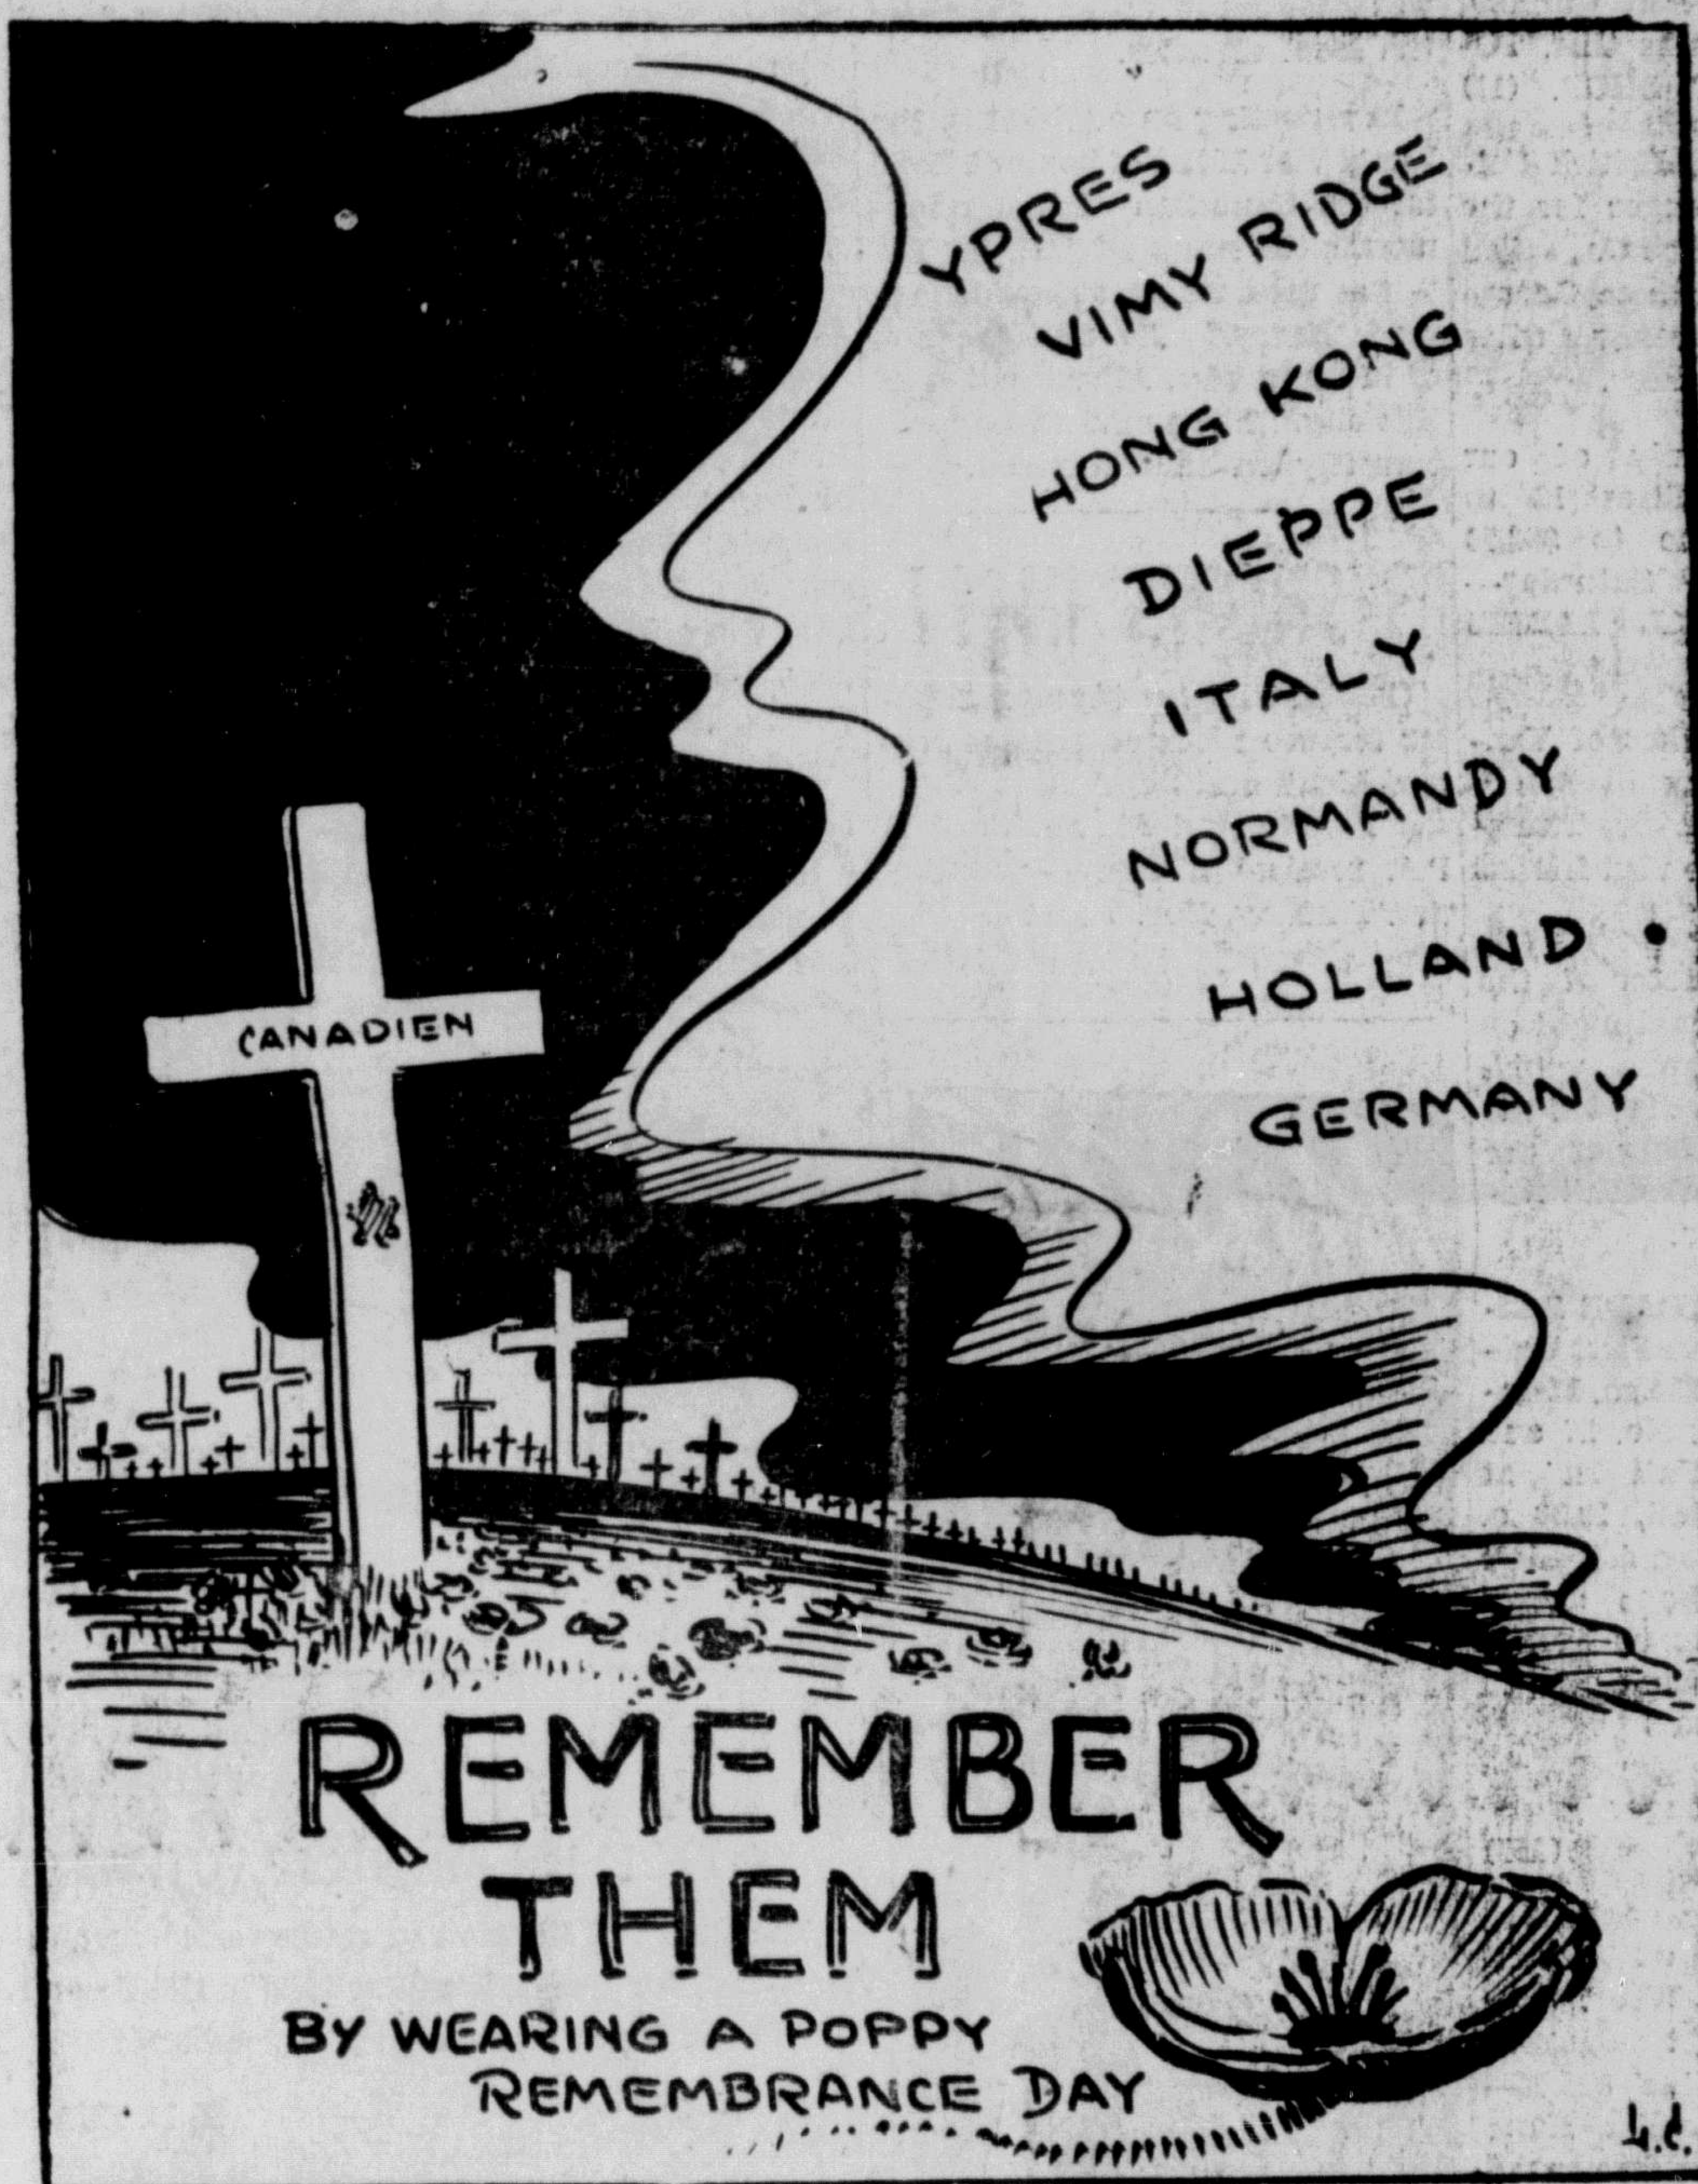

JAMES NICOLL, President
Canadian Legion, Branch 27
Prince Rupert

Lest We Forget

Poppy Day

November Fifth

In Flanders Fields

Lieut. Col. John McRae
Died in France January 28, 1918
In Flanders fields, the poppies grow
Between the crosses, row on row
That mark our places; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead: short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders Fields

Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you, from falling hands, we throw
The torch: be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies blow
In Flanders Fields

ROTARIANS DINE ON MOOSE MEAT

Prince Rupert Rotarians and their guests yesterday dined on moose meat, product of the marksmanship of their President, R. G. Van der sluis who returned this week from the Lakes Country with a fine bull moose among his hunting trophies.

In addition to the moose carcass, Mr. Van der sluis brought back a mountain sheep and sundry ducks, geese and grouse which he bagged in the country around Wistaria.

This year, Mr. Van der sluis reported, has been one of the best he has seen for willow grouse. So plentiful are they that the bag limit can be shot in a very short time.

"As a matter of fact, they are so plentiful that you have to be careful not to drive them down with your car," he said.

A considerable number of moose are being taken in the Babine country by B. C. hunters and also Americans who are flocking there in numbers, Mr. Van der sluis said.

Speaker at today's Rotary meeting was W. D. Vance, who reminisced on incidents and personalities in the early days of Prince Rupert.

Making his farewell voyage in the British Columbia Coast Steamship Service this week on the steamer Princess Louise is Capt. Peter L. Leslie, for many years well and favorably known on the company's various coastal runs. Capt. Leslie is now at retirement age and, on completion of the current voyage of the Louise, he will go ashore for the last time. He plans, it is understood, on making his home in retirement at Victoria. His long career on the coast has taken in practically all the company's runs with the last few years on the Alaska route. Incidentally, this is the final voyage for the season of the Princess Louise on the Alaska run. The Princess Norah will now take up the winter service. The Louise is due here next Monday afternoon southbound.

Running well on time, Union steamer Camosun, Capt. Harry McLean, arrived in port at 1:30 this afternoon from Vancouver, Westview, Bella and Butedale with passengers and freight and will sail at 10 p. m. for south Queen Charlotte Island points. The vessel will return here Sunday to sail at 9 p. m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Miss A. Halliday arrived in the city on the Camosun today from Cobble Hill Vancouver Island.
