Operations Being Made Battle With Swirling Masses Of Snow-Fed River

COUVER (CP)—Powerless dike pumps in the Fraser Valley today as farmers eyed the Fraser River and began to prepare for a major flood battle. Ice jams blocked the snow-fed waters of the Fraser and militia crews worked all last night blasting through.

A committee is being formed in Chilliwack, 65 miles from Vancouver, preparing plans for Fraser evacuation of the inundated township.

The railway traffic is still disrupted by sliding snow and by warmer weather.

Churchill Opens Election Battle

LONDON (CP)—Winston Churchill told British voters tonight that the choice before them is "whether we should take another plunge into Socialist regimentation or, by strong effort, regain freedom, initiative and opportunity of British life."

The Conservative leader said that Britain's future as a leading country in world thought and progress "depends on the general election February 23."

Opening the Conservative party's campaign to unseat the Labor government in the election, the wartime Prime Minister, now 75 years of age, made a 20-minute political speech which was broadcast throughout Britain as well as to North American listeners.

WHO'S ANNEXING?

MOSCOW—Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky of Russia said today that Dean Acheson's charge that the Soviet Union is annexing four North China provinces is a "lying slanderous declaration. Vishinsky accused Acheson of uncovering his own 'annexationist plans in relation to Japan, and also the Philippines and Ryukyu.'"

Dim-Out Is In Effect

Reminful of the war days, Prince Rupert streets were dim and dismal last night as business people, in compliance with the appeal of the mayor and the power company in the current water and power shortage, eliminated practically one hundred percent their signs and window display lighting. There was co-operation in other ways too as citizens found less apparent means of curtailing use of electric current, thereby contributing to the forty percent reduction in consumption which is held necessary to see the city through a continuation of the cold snap without drastic measures having to be taken in the way of cutting off power.

Cloudy and milder weather this morning brought hope of an amelioration in the long period of cold and rainless weather but it will need an early and abundant arrival of soft rain to bring about conditions which will relieve the continuing crisis which threatens a complete exhaustion of water and power supply.

To walk the streets of Prince Rupert last night indeed reminded one of wartime, when Japan's air power was a menace, and Tokyo realized how important this city was to the forces of the United States in the transfer of war material from trains to north bound freighters. There was many an anxious night here, and the siren gave more than one false alarm. On many an occasion, there was a complete blackout. There might be a few glimmers here and there, but that was all, and none lasted long as the men and women of A.R.P. maintained their nocturnal patrol.

So, all through the night was reminiscent of seven or eight years ago. As evening came on, the business avenues remained sombre and darker. Illuminated signs told no story. Gay store windows had no messages. As the time grew later, only an odd lamp here and there was visible, and none amounted to much. There was little illumination left anywhere except the regular street lights, the movement of cars, and—of course—the stars which had nothing to do with power and water.

A. Morrow, who has been located for the past five years at Sandspit as accountant for Northern Pulpwoods, was in the city for a brief business visit today between planes. After the end of the month Mr. Morrow will be leaving Sandspit for Santa Rosa, California, where he is being transferred in the service of the Crown-Zellerbach Co. He will be accompanied by his wife and family. Roy Gargett, who has been assistant accountant at Sandspit, will succeed Mr. Morrow there.

He stated that an expected 1000 Dutch people will settle in central British Columbia this year. At the meeting fraternal greetings were brought by the Sons of Norway and encouraging letters from Dutch Consuls in Montreal and Vancouver were read.

Anti-Union Move Is Seen

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis' top lieutenant said a reported operator plan to hold back payments to the miners welfare fund is just a move to force a coal strike. Thomas Kennedy, vice-president of the United Mine Workers, said the mine owners would like to goad U. M. W. members into a walkout. Their purpose, as he saw it, is to build up the United States government case for an injunction against the Union and to push President Truman into action under the Taft Hartley Labor Law.

VANCOUVER ICE HOLDS UP FLIGHT

New Markets For Fisheries

OTTAWA—The creation of a vast, new market for the fishing industry of Newfoundland was predicted here by M. W. Maxwell, chief of development, Canadian National Railways, when he addressed members of the Ottawa branch, Canadian Institute of mining and metallurgy, on the economic possibilities of Canada's tenth province. Mr. Maxwell foresaw the time as not far off when the demand for protein foods in this continent will outstrip the productivity of animal husbandry resulting in an immense and permanent increase in the demand for the products of Newfoundland's fisheries.

Norman Walton, C.N.R. Chief, Formerly Here, Dies Suddenly In East

MONTREAL (CP)—Norman B. Walton C.B.E., aged 65, executive vice-president of Canadian National Railways, died suddenly here today. He had had fifty years service with the railroad and, in the course of his career, had been located for four years at Prince Rupert as assistant general superintendent.

As the Canadian National Railway's chief operating officer, Mr. Walton had charge of service in all provinces of Canada, eleven states of the United States and was known to transportation and businessmen throughout the North American continent.

Mr. Walton had been busily engaged at Railway headquarters in Montreal until Thursday evening. Feeling indisposed, he spent yesterday, Friday, at his home but, on his doctor's orders, early this morning he was admitted to the western division of the Montreal General Hospital where his death took place.

The funeral service will be held on Monday afternoon and, at the family's request, it will be of a private character. Mr. Walton was born in Palmston, Ontario. His railway experience began in 1900 at Toronto where he joined the Grand Trunk Railway as a clerk and stenographer and in the succeeding years moved through various positions which provided him with a wide knowledge of operating and traffic conditions and the additional experience gained as an operator.

During those years Mr. Walton became associated with the late F. H. McGuigan, then vice-president, and H. H. Brewer, now retired, and when these resigned to accept positions with the Great Northern Railway at St. Paul, Minn., Mr. Walton accompanied them. Mr. Walton became Inspector of Transportation for the Great Northern and when Messrs. McGuigan and Brewer resigned he returned to Canada and joined the forces of the Grand Trunk at Toronto in April, 1908, in the office of the Claims Agent.

When Mr. Brewer went west as General Superintendent at Winnipeg for the Grand Trunk Pacific Mr. Walton was invited to join him in the years that followed advanced to the positions of Trainmaster at Wainwright, assistant to the General Superintendent at Winnipeg and Superintendent at Edmonton.

With the amalgamation of these units into the National System, Mr. Walton was appointed assistant general superintendent of the Canadian National Railways at Prince Rupert in 1924 he was promoted as General Superintendent at Winnipeg.

In March, 1930, Mr. Walton became General Superintendent of Transportation for the Western Region with headquarters at Winnipeg. In November, 1936, he was appointed Chief of Transportation for the entire system and established headquarters at Montreal, remaining in that post until his present appointment in July, 1938, as executive vice-president in charge of operation, maintenance and construction.

Donald Gordon Pays Tribute

MONTREAL — The following tribute to the late N. B. Walton was paid today by Donald Gordon C.M.G., chairman and president Canadian National system: "The sudden passing of Norman Walton, the Executive Vice-President of our railways system, has deeply grieved me and every member of our board of directors. Our sorrow and shock will be shared by the tens of thousands

DIES SUDDENLY—Norman B. Walton, executive vice-president of Canadian National Railways and assistant general superintendent at Prince Rupert from 1926 to 1924. C. A. Berner, divisional superintendent here, expressed sentiments of old associates and friends here when he described him as "one of Canada's ablest railwaymen and true and loyal friend."

Walton Was "Real Friend"

Local Official Makes Feeling Comment on Death of N. B. Walton

"Norman Walton was one of the finest railwaymen in Canada," said C. A. Berner, divisional superintendent of Canadian National Railways, on hearing this morning of the sudden death of the executive vice-president in Montreal. "He was one of the most sincere friends that we in Central British Columbia ever had—a gentleman who will be remembered with the greatest of pleasure by every one who had the favor of working or associating with him."

Mr. Berner served as brakeman on the railway here during the years between 1920 and 1924 when Mr. Walton was here as superintendent, and a close friendship was maintained from that time on.

of men and women throughout Canada and the United States, who, having served under him, knew him well and held him in high respect and affectionate regard. Mr. Walton was a man of simple tastes and a railroader in every fibre of his being who undertook, cheerfully and quietly heavy tasks and handled them with decision and efficiency. I feel that his death is a loss not only to the Canadian National but to the transportation profession and to his country as a whole."

Shortage Of Water

SHORTAGE OF WATER in Prince Rupert at this time is due in the present instance to unusual weather conditions with the fact that the system is inadequate and breaking down also contributing to the very critical situation that has arisen. It is the second water crisis within a couple of months or so and such, if not worse, crises may be anticipated until the problem has been firmly taken hold of with a view to a speedy and thorough overhaul as well as such enlargements as may be necessary to take care of the increasing requirements.

Shortage of water and power is being experienced in other cities of the country and is not only an emergent but a continuing situation in many.

One reason for the shortages is that the demand for water by cities and industry has more than doubled in the last 15 years. Air conditioning, expanding industries, sewage disposal and a hundred new uses are draining off daily millions more gallons of water with the result that the underground level is being steadily lowered.

It is generally agreed, however, that the greater reason is the general waste of natural resources. Uplands have been stripped of trees and water allowed to run off into streams and rivers. Experts tell us that an acre of mature forest land will absorb and return to the water table 500 times as much rainfall as an acre of land put to quick-yield crops.

The importance of forest reclamation, planting of farm wood-lots and even shelter belts in both east and west is, therefore, emphasized.

This is a conservation argument that city dwellers are beginning to appreciate almost as much as those persons who have seen fertile areas converted into dust bowls and who have suffered greatly as a result.

A CHALLENGING CRIME

IT IS NOT LIKELY the authorities will fail in running down the Boston bandits, arresting or killing them, as well as recovering the cash. It must be admitted, of course, that men who could plan and carry through a crime of such magnitude will be formidable adversaries. Yet, the state cannot afford to confess to incompetence. That is how the public would regard the situation. Such a glaring example of defeat of organized society could not but gravely reflect on the general capacity and watchfulness of those who are looked to for protection. How a gang of thugs could make their way to the very heart of where big money is regularly handled, seize a million and more and get clean away with every dollar, leaving not the shadow of a clue, will take a lot of explaining.

SATURDAY SERMON

SIMPLICITY TOWARDS CHRIST
By Pastor C. FAWCETT, Full Gospel Tabernacle

There is nothing complicated about the Christian life. "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God" (Eph. 2:8). Through Satan's subtlety, lost men have become blinded in their minds and shove aside their responsibility to live it. Receiving Christ into the heart by faith is receiving life from above. The life we are born into through the flesh was begotten through corrupt seed and is subject to corruption in any phase that exists. Conviction of this truth comes, primarily, through the word of God.

We learn through that Word that the natural life, our activity in the world—in other words, the world—consists of three principal elements: the "lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life." These are all essentials in human life to produce competition and advancement. And it is said that competition is the life of business. But the Apostle John says it is of the world and passes away. Hence we must look to another source for something lasting and satisfying.

The old, original life of the flesh can produce no fruit that is pleasing to God's taste. Yet it is on this old "stock" with its propensities for action that the new life from above is inserted or grafted, using the thought of James, the servant of the Lord, and which the Apostle John calls the "new birth." In inserting new life, the original stock is condemned as far as fruitfulness is concerned. "Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted Word, which is able to save your soul."

In grafting, there is a bruising process necessary, a uniting through a wound of stock and scion. The scion must have propagating qualities for producing the desired fruit. The Cross made it possible for the new life from above to be inserted into the old stock of the human face. Jesus said: "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." Again we read: "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life" (1 John 5:11, 12).

First Baptist Annual Meeting

Gratifying Reports Received—
P. H. Linzey Honored

The annual meeting of First Baptist Church was held Wednesday evening when an enthusiastic audience listened to the reports of the various departments. The treasurer, C. H. Elkins, stated that all obligations were met and $1000 raised for missions.

Other reports were submitted by H. M. Daggett, clerk; Mrs. J. Gilker, mission treasurer; Mrs. Margaret Hopkins, secretary of Mission Circle; Henry Vanderheide, president of the B.Y.P.U.; Mrs. Falls, director of Explorers; F. During the evening, in a simple and impressive ceremony, Mrs. Joseph Gay, was presented with a life membership of the Women's Auxiliary of the Baptist Union of Western Canada in recognition of many years of faithful service to Missions in the local Circle.

Another faithful record was publicly recognized when P. H. Linzey was presented with a desk set suitably inscribed, acknowledging thirty years service as superintendent of the Sunday School. Mr. Linzey replied in his characteristic way.

Appreciation of the work of the pastor, Rev. F. Antrobus was voiced by several and recorded by vote of the membership. The pastor's message to the church was based upon Psalm 37: 1-7. He said: "The Lord is the centre of all our worship and service. Let us move forward in this new year, with confidence, expecting great things from God, and attempting great things for Him."

The business session was closed with the singing of "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow." A social hour was enjoyed in an informal fashion, the tables being beautifully arranged under the direction of Mrs. W. D. Smith. Officers for the ensuing year are as follows:

I was trying to balance the family books at the time and told him that, like most home-makers, I had so many places to spend my paychecks, my account was zero at the end of each month.

Coal Short In Long Cold Snap

Abnormally heavy demand against normal supplies have exhausted reserves of coal in local fuel yards and arriving supplies are hardly keeping up with orders. Dealers are today urging their customers to conserve the stocks in their bins. Lump coal is practically out while limited supplies of egg and nut are still available as well as some Bulkley Valley coal. Stoker coal is in adequate supply.

Street conditions and the sharp weather have been making the delivery service slow and difficult.

Limited supplies of coal came in for local yards on a freight train which arrived last night after having been blocked by snow conditions on the lower Skeena line.

Oil, the other principal form of heating fuel in Prince Rupert, is in plentiful supply, local oil companies report, although they have been taxed making delivery of quickened orders.

There seagulls drift upon the sky
And ever voice their keening cry
While swells upon the pillings sigh
Down at the docks at Rupert.

Mid gardens green and trees tall
Where merrily the children call
The totems lord it over all
In the parks of Rupert.

Of winding trails cut for romance
Should you wander there by chance
You may see delis where fairies dance
On the heights of Rupert.

From waterfront to highest hill
From shifting tides to babbling rill
From noisy streets to parks as still
In all her glory stands Rupert.

Her beauty lies on every hand
A lovely jewel upon the land steadfast there on her rocky stand Pride of our coast—Prince Rupert.

Vinette E. Joseph, Prince Rupert.

ROYAL WELCOME BY EX-REBELS—During their tour of the Aegean Sea Islands aboard a Greek navy destroyer King Paul and Queen Frederica of Greece were accorded a royal welcome by the inmates of the Leros teen-age rebel reformatory school founded by the queen early this year. In the school, the boys all under 20 who were captured by Greek armed forces are re-educated, taught a trade and given opportunity to become peace loving citizens again. The teenagers had been kidnapped by guerrilla ranks. Here a group of the youthful reformed rebels carry their queen aloft.

these editions as publicity mein Canada and the United States.

Mr. Glassey stated 40 copies have been posted so far but considerably more will be sent away this year. Secretary Glassey in his report, exhibited letters from persons in all parts of Canada and the U.S. requesting information about this city.

It was suggested that Algoma
Park be used as an auto camp.
The secretary stated he would furnish the council with information regarding availability of the property. Ed Williams came up with the idea of tax-free property for the purpose of a tourist camp.
He stated his home town was granted this type of land on which a tourist trade was built.
Mr. Glassey recalled the city council's unwillingness to do this during other years but added that he would work on the idea.

RCAF CREW TO MAKE 23,000-MILE FLIGHT—"Join the air force and see the world" has never been a recruiting slogan of the RCAF, but it is proving true for the officers and men shown above, who flew External Affairs Minister L.B. Pearson on a 23,000-mile journey to Ceylon early this month. Mr. Pearson is representing Canada at the meeting of Commonwealth foreign ministers there. The North Star aircraft from 412 transport squadron, Rockcliffe, will touch at such far-away points as Gibraltar, Malta, Iraq, Colombo, Delhi, Rangoon, Singapore, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Wake Island and Honolulu.

Fire Blow To Lodge Finance

Moose Survey Position After
Loss of Lodge Temple
This Week

Of the $25,000 total damage to the Moose Hall Thursday morning, the lodge will receive only $6,000 from insurance and this amount, announced secretary Herb Whiffen, was nearly spent for reconditioning purposes prior to the blaze.

The executive held a special meeting at the home of Harold Money Thursday night to make plans for the future. No definite conclusions have been arrived at but negotiations are under way for the possible purchase of another building.

The lodge decided to stage a benefit dance for the five fire victims who lost all their belongings in the blaze. Entire proceeds from the dance, which is expected to be held at some time during the middle of February, will be given to the five occupants. It is reported Gillis Royer was the major victim losing personal effects which he cherished more from sentimental value. In addition to losing many fine clothes, he parted with between $200 and $300 in cash. Eddie Hildebrand, who is to be married soon, also suffered heavily. He lost all furniture which he was storing in the building.

During the last three months, rewiring, new fixtures, plumb-ing and cleaning has cost the lodge an estimated $3,000. With only $6,000 coming back from insurance, the organization will have to practically begin from scratch. Don Forward, director of the Civic Centre, has offered the use of the common lounge for future lodge meetings.

Cause of the fire has not been definitely proved. The suggestion that a blow torch sent the building up in flames is questioned. The theory is now advanced that an explosion in the furnace sent flames into the dry basement.

Corps Inspected—

Wants More Sea Cadets

"Although the Prince Rupert division of the Royal Canadian Navy Sea Cadets are a fine group, I would like to see more of the boys here joining," stated Lt. Cdr.
G.J. Manson, area officer of Sea Cadets for British Columbia from Vancouver, who inspected the division in the Naval Drill hall
Thursday night.

Complement for the Prince Rupert group is 50, the officer stated and at present only 27 are in the division. He pointed out that Sea Cadet training is invaluable as both sports and naval knowledge such as splicing, knotting bends, hitches, rigging and sailing boats and rifle firing, is instructed. During the summer, camps are held. Cadets from the B.C. and Alberta area are taken for a two week trip to Camp La-tona on Gambler Island.

The Empire Sea Cadet camp held with success at Shioeise, Quebec, last summer was hoped to be held again this year but, up to the present time, the officer said, no word has been given to that effect. The camp was the first attempt by the Navy League of Canada in conjunction with the R.C.N., and included 165 cadets from Canada, the British Isles, Sweden, New Zealand and Australia. The Sea Cadet movement in Canada is hoping one of these countries will stage a similar camp, but so far no move in that respect has been taken.
Plans are underway, Lt. Cdr.
Manson stated, for another camp,
but for Canadian cadets only.
Two will be picked from divisions across Canada on basis of merit and be given a two-week holiday at some eastern location.
Lt. Cdr. Manson arrived in Prince Rupert Wednesday, after inspection trips at Port Alberni, Victoria and Nanaimo. He left for Vancouver by plane yesterday enroute for inspections at Nelson, Trail and Penticton.

PROPAGANDA DIET—East

birthday which gave the Com-

Boat Building Slack These Days—Ice Bad On Skeena—Winter Hits Waterfront

The boat building and repairing industry in Prince Rupert is presently at an almost complete standstill as no major construction or overhauling job is being done by any of the various boat shops. Tony Crawley, owner of the Cow Bay Boat Works, blames the slump on the lack of fish in 1949 and the extreme cold weather so far this year.

"The fishermen didn't make a large amount of money last year and, therefore, the demand for overhauling is not so great," he said.

Crawley's boat shop is at present completing two 13 foot powered tenders for Department of Fisheries patrol vessels. The Kaien Industries boat house, also at Cow Bay, is repairing Clarence Campbell's hall-but boat Joan Baker.

Ice Conditions on the Skeena River are making hazardous the approaching certain locations. Still in Prince Rupert are two school teachers from Port Essington who have not been able to return due to the chunks of frozen water. The Hillside, Capt. George Currie, attempted to deliver the teachers to Essington twice during the last two weeks but was forced to return. Thin, sharp edged ice flows would cause considerable damage to the unsheathed vessel. On Thursday the Hillside made the regular weekly trip to Skeena slough canneries with supplies, and no great difficulty was encountered. Other canneries in the Skeena River slough are being endangered by floating ice piling up against the wharves. Some damage has been done and, should a sudden break-up occur the situation might become critical.

The seining for herring commenced again at 1 a.m. Friday at Surf Inlet after a week's lay-off due to the intense cold weather. Up to Friday afternoon, the catch totalled 2900 tons from 13 sets. Surf Inlet is the only seining operation at present.

Not much oam trawling is being carried on at the present time. A few of the vessels left port a short time ago and only one, "Here No. 1", Capt. Fred Vinberg has been out for more than a week and a half, from the bridge of the Cana-

A solemn ceremony took place dian National Steamship Prince George as the vessel approached Ketchikan on her weekly voyage when, in accordance with the expressed wishes of deceased before he died, the ashes of Charles Oswald, a member of the steward's department of the steamers Prince George and Prince Rupert for many years, were scattered to the waters of Tongass Narrows from the hands of Capt. Ernest Caldwell. Oswald, who was forty years of age, died in Vancouver on New Year's Eve after having been ill for some time. Well known to possible traffic flow, road improvement plans, international regulations, loading slips, hotel facilities etc. Officers of the United States defence department at Washington are reported to be studying designs for two car ferries which would operate between Prince Rupert and Haines and possibly be used in hauling fuel and supplies between Prince Rupert and Haines and possibly be used in hauling fuel and supplies for some of the bases along the Alaska Highway.

Most Knocked Down
Having been late in leaving Vancouver Wednesday night because of an accident when a derrick boom of the steamer Camosun struck her after mast and knocked it down as the Camosun was leaving the company dock, Union steamer Chilcotin, Capt. Harry McLean, did not arrive in port until 8 o'clock last evening from the south. The Chilcotin was carrying a short makeshift after mast pending replacement of the regular steel stick at the conclusion of this voyage. The Chilcotin sailed at 4 a. m. for Masset Inlet points and will be back here tomorrow to sail at 9 p. m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

The Department of Fisheries has issued a special reprint from Canadian Geographical Journal of an article on "The Skeena River Salmon Investigation" by Dr. A. L. Pritchard, who carried out the investigation for many years and during the past year was moved from this coast to Ottawa where he is now director of fish culture for the Department of Fisheries. The article, giving a statistical and historical background of the Skeena salmon fisheries, discusses various problems of the fishery and is illustrated

Although he has been without running water since Christmas in the long freeze-up which has hit the water front as well as the uptown community of Prince Rupert. Caretaker Jim Moffat reports that "All's Well" at the Prince Rowing and Yacht Club. There are some thirty boats wintering afloat at the Yacht Club and all are in good shape. Only one of the vessels is leaking and has to be pumped out twice daily. Immobility these cold days, the pleasure vessels have been drained although in most cases heaters are being kept going steadily, the owners co-operating with the caretaker by giving close personal attention with calls night and day. Lack of water in many of the normal outlets along the waterfront has been making it inconvenient for operation of some of the industries to say nothing of the people who live in boats and waterfront shacks. Water carrying is the order of the day. Some of the oil plants are ei-
