Palistine Crisis Is Before The United Nations

Gather Here For Trip To Juneau

Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, Hazelton, Smithers, Telkwa, Vanderhoof, Fort St. James and Prince Rupert are assembling in Prince Rupert this week to embark Monday aboard the steamship Juneau where the annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia will be held. It will be a memorable international event, marking an innovation, probably unprecedented in Canada, whereby an organization of this kind goes outside of the country to hold such a session. It will be a concrete and tangible demonstration of the close community of interest that is being developed between the territory of Alaska and the port of Prince Rupert and Central British Columbia. To make the party complete an international flavor from the very outset a delegation is flying in from Ketchikan this week-end to join the group. Representatives of the provincial government and Vancouver and Seattle interests are also coming. Up to this morning, the members of the Ketchikan delegation had not been ascertained here.

The bookings up to noon today were:

PARTY MAY YET SURVIVE NORTH

THE PAS, (P)—Hope has not yet been abandoned for the safety of five persons aboard a United States Navy plane who have been missing since Sunday on a 450-mile flight from Port Churchill to The Pas.

Air Force officials at the growing search operational base here said that people have been missing in the Northern Manitoba bush for more than six days and have come out little the worse for it.

A moccasin trail is being added to the aerial trail today in a widespread search in the wilds of northern Manitoba.

Aboard the craft when it left Churchill were five persons including Captain Sir Robert W. Stirling, naval attaché at the British High Commissioner's office in Ottawa.

MET WITH MOLOTOV

Another Session of Western Envoys With Soviet Foreign Commissar

MOSCOW, (P)—Three western envoys met again today with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, the United States embassy announced, in continuation of the Moscow four-power negotiations which have been going on for 51 days now.

Meantime at Frankfurt, Germany, the United States Air Force disclosed that it has surveyed possible sites for additional sites to augment, if necessary, the air lift to Soviet-blockaded Berlin. Locations of the potential new air fields were not disclosed.

RECORD SALMON SHIPMENT HERE

The largest cargo of Alaskan canned salmon ever to be unloaded in Prince Rupert arrived here this morning aboard the Northland Transportation Co. freighter Chief Washakie which began discharging 170,000 cases at the ocean dock. The cargo, worth some four million dollars, will be shipped to midwest and eastern American distributing points. The Chief Washakie, Capt. Otto H. Karbbe, will return to the Alaska ports to reload. The vessel also carried four carloads of lumber for rail shipment to the U.S.

TO HAVE HER BABY AT HOME

Elizabeth Going to Buckingham, Having No House of Own

LONDON, (P)—Princess Elizabeth's baby will be born about mid-November and the birthplace will be Buckingham Palace, a Palace official said yesterday.

Decision that the baby, the first grandchild of the monarchs, will be born at Buckingham Palace has been taken because Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, still have no home of their own.

TERMED TRAITOR—Jacques Duge, Count of Bernonville, as he appeared in uniform of Chasseurs Alpins, world-famous French fighting corps of which he was regimental commander during Second World War. Closely guarded by Canadian immigration officials at Montreal, the Count is fighting deportation to France where he has been sentenced to death in absentia on grounds he collaborated with Germans during French occupation. Yesterday he was refused bail.

IN SERIOUS SHAPE AFTER KNOCKOUT

PHILADELPHIA, (P)—Bill (Chicken) Thompson, 21-year old heavyweight boxer, is still reported in a critical condition today following a head operation for injuries sustained when he was knocked out in a bout with Johnny Haynes of New York. He was rushed to hospital immediately after suffering a severe beating by his opponent who outweighed him 210 to 180 pounds.

SURRENDER IS ACCEPTED

Government of India Preparing to Take Over From Nizam of Hyderabad

NEW DELHI, (P)—Indian troops of an armored column which advanced from Scholapur today accepted the surrender of Hyderabad state forces which capitulated yesterday under cease fire orders from the Nizam.

The government of India is understood to have set up arrangements for civil administration of the state. Whether this will be temporary or not is not known.

W. H. Tobey, formerly Canadian National Railways superintendent at Prince Rupert and for the past eight years general manager of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, has retired from the latter office. His successor is John A. Kennedy, who has had 43 years experience in the operating branch of railroading, 18 with the Esquimalt and Nanaimo and 25 on the western lines of the C.P.R. His hat is now in ring.

GEORGE DREW
Still to be heard from.

Diefenbaker Is Candidate

Announces Definitely That He is in Field For Conservative Leadership

OTTAWA—John Diefenbaker, colorful M.P. for Lake Centre, Saskatchewan, announced last night that he had thrown his hat into the ring as a candidate for the leadership at the forthcoming convention of the Progressive-Conservative party.

He had been asked by many persons to stand, Diefenbaker said, and he had no desire to shirk. He believed, he said, that he had something to offer.

Asked if he expected Premier George Drew of Ontario to be a candidate for the leadership, Diefenbaker said he did not know. However, he told newspapermen he was confident he would be able to beat Drew in a contest if the latter did offer himself. "And that is something I wouldn't have said two weeks ago," said Diefenbaker. Drew, although frequently mentioned as a candidate, has yet to say definitely whether he will contest the leadership at the party's national convention here from September 30 to October 2.

Already announced as leadership candidates are J. W. Hanna, an Ontario M.L.A., and Garfield Case, an Ontario M.P. Neither of these are regarded as serious contenders.

Israel Government Is Endeavoring to Round Up Bernadotte Killers

TRUCE CONTINUES SAYS NEGRO DR. RALPH BUNCHE WHO TAKES OVER FOLLOWING MEDIATOR'S ASSASSINATION

PARIS (CP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie placed the critical Palestine question before the full membership of the United Nations today. Meanwhile Israel government forces in Jerusalem have been ordered to round up all members of the Stern Gang and shoot, if necessary, in doing so. Large scale arrests have been made in Jerusalem and curfew has been imposed.

Foreign consuls in Israel report having received a note signed by the so-called "Splitter Group" of the Stern Gang saying: "We killed Bernadotte because he worked for the British and took their orders."

The Israeli government said they would uproot the criminal gang responsible for the murder. Guns were silent in Jerusalem this morning as Count Bernadotte achieved fleetingly in death the Holy Land peace he had cherished during life.

Yesterday Bernadotte was shot as he sat in his car by gunmen who snarled and said nothing. He was shot in the heart and the chest and said nothing before reaching hospital.

In America—President Truman, United Nations officials, Jewish leaders and political heads expressed shock and dismay over the assassination.

In Canada Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent added his voice to the shocked regret.

Responsibility for the Bernadotte - Serrot killings was claimed by a group signing itself "Fatherland Front" in Hebrew notes slipped under the doors of consulates and Jewish liaison offices last night.

Meanwhile Dr. Ralph Bunche, chief of the United Nations Palestine secretariat, has assumed complete charge of the United Nations Holy Land mission following the slaying of Count Folke Bernadotte. He said that the slaying did not void the United Nations truce in Palestine and added: "The truce will continue."

Bunche, 43-year old international civil servant and former employee of the United States Department of State, has been working on the Palestine problem since he came to the United Nations service early last year. Bunche, a negro, has been regarded as one of the United Nations most competent administrators.

IMMIGRANTS FROM FRANCE

OTTAWA, (P)—France, the latest nation to gain Canadian immigration concessions, may help the Dominion in a drive for an expected total of 110,000 immigrants this year. A government authority said that skeptical France still contributes more than 60c or 70c in 1948.

Red Shield Drive Is On

With business men giving their active co-operation and support by assuming responsibility for the canvassing of downtown areas and Army officers operating in the residential sections, the Salvation Army's 1948 Red Shield campaign gets under way at the first of next week.

The objective is $2500 and campaign heads express confidence that this will quickly be reached and exceeded.

Those desirous of making donations may forward them to the Prince Rupert Realty Co., the Bank of Montreal and to Salvation Army officers.

Canvassers for the business district and waterfront are P. H. Linzey is general manager, C. G. Ham, Alf Rivett, R. E. Montador and A. P. Crawley. The Chinese population will be canvassed by Earl Mah.

P. H. Linzey is general campaign chairman with E. T. Applewhite, secretary, and G. R. S. Blackaby, treasurer.

IS COMMITTED FOR MURDER

WHITEHORSE, (P)—Mrs. Annie Haydon, aged 60, was committed for trial here after she told a preliminary hearing that she had shot her 22-year old husband, John, at their cabin home on Wednesday because she feared her life was in danger.

Mrs. Haydon, Indian wife of a veteran trapper and rancher, formerly of Kalamazoo, Michigan, said her husband had beaten and kicked her when she refused to do the morning chores. He left the cabin, she grabbed a rifle and, as returned, she shot him.

The shooting occurred at ver City, Klusane Lake, 130 mi. north-west of here on the Al-

Highway.

Mrs. Haydon is now being held in custody of the police pending trial.

THINKS HE'LL BE NEW CHAMP

LOCH SHELDRAKE, (P)—Back in 1939 Marcel Cerdan had a contract to fight Henry Armstrong for the welterweight belt in Paris. The war intervened but Marcel has been thinking about world championships ever since. He and his entourage may be the only ones who think he will beat Tony Zale next Tuesday but they are serious about it.

Cerdan has asked for a change in contract to enable him to make his first crown defence in Paris instead of the United States.

U.S. RAILWAY STRIKE LOOMS

CHICAGO (P)—Wage talks between United States railroads and their 1,000,000 non-operating strikers collapsed yesterday and a union spokesman said: "We are taking immediate steps for a strike vote."

Under dispute-settling provisions of the National Railway Labor Act either side can ask for mediation by a board of intervention. The railwaymen are not asking for mediation but are spreading the strike vote immediately.

Death of Bernadotte

THE UNITED NATIONS organization could have no greater or more serious challenge to its authority than the deplorable murder in Jerusalem yesterday of its No. 1 official, the peace-maker, Count Folke Bernadotte, the U.N.'s own mediator for Palestine. Regrettable and dastardly as the crime may be, the killing of Bernadotte is, in fact, nothing more than a culmination of many overt and challenging events that have been going on in Palestine and which made so difficult the courageous and patient efforts of the same Bernadotte to restore order in that troubled land.

The United Nations will be expected to take forthright and prompt action once and for all to clean up the situation in Palestine. Fortunately both the Arabs and Jews themselves have officially deplored and repudiated the event. Quite possibly the assassination and martyrdom of Bernadotte may be the signal to arouse an indignation out of which will be implemented a real desire and determination to clear up the whole desultory yet tragic Palestine question.

WE'LL MISS 'ADELAIDE'

TOURIST OFFICIALS in Vancouver are "howling with rage" at the announcement of the Canadian Pacific Railway that the Princess Adelaide is to be withdrawn from service and the Vancouver-Ocean Falls-Prince Rupert service and scrapped. A prominent official of the Vancouver Board of Trade has added his voice. We had in mind to do some protesting ourselves in this matter so we can subscribe to the indignation that appears to have been so vehemently expressed in Vancouver.

Prince Rupert will miss this local service between Vancouver and Ocean Falls which has been in institution for a quarter of a century and on which we have relied and, incidentally, supported well. We will miss the Adelaide's friendly "J" blast on Monday afternoons and evenings, the courteous officers and crew members who since the early days of such old-time vessels as the Princess Beatrice, Princess Royal and Princess Mary have become such familiar and regular visitors that they seemed almost part of our community. There will be a sort of lost feeling, indeed, on our local waterfront after the Princess Adelaide has made her last sailing.

It is to be hoped that, if the old Adelaide is proving herself too costly a unit to operate on this run, a more economical vessel and possibly one of a type better adapted to the run may be obtained to continue the service. But, of course, we are not dependent upon the Canadian Pacific to provide us with service adequate to our needs. The two other coastal lines—Canadian National and Union Steamships Ltd.—are now better equipped with vessels than they were before and can and probably will step into the breach if the C.P.R. leaves us in the lurch and gives them the opportunity.

RED SHIELD APPEAL

LET US GIVE spontaneously and generously to the Red Shield appeal of the Salvation Army which is on again in Prince Rupert, a city which has long known the good works of the Army in places where other religious and welfare organizations often fail to reach. Prince Rupert receives many appeals and is known for the generosity and completeness of its response to every worthy one. Certainly our people will never let the Army down.

Well do we know that whatever the trouble, whatever the cause, no human being in need is "hopeless" to the understanding heart of the Salvation Army.

To the Army, the man or woman or child wasted by hunger, haunted by fear, afflicted by poverty, enslaved by moral weakness... the innocent child wronged by circumstances... the old person, or forgotten... each of these is a human being awaiting reclamation.

Every minute someone needs and receives the material and spiritual ministrations of the Salvation Army. In its annual appeal, the Army once again seeks the support of OUR dollars in carrying on this necessary work.

We would do well to "Give Generously" and even before we are asked.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

A Governor General in town, years ago was by no means an unusual event. For a while, such occasions even gave promise of being regarded as commonplace. First, there was Earl Grey. He was welcomed by William Manson, government agent. The viceroys called at a time—a late August day in 1909—when the city was so new one could almost hear the varnish crack. The Duke of Connaught was received with due deference and dignity before the First Great War was raging. Later, in the story of Prince Rupert, the portly Devonshire came and then the great soldier Byng. He found Prince Rupert basking in warm sunshine and his smile was something like that when he shook hands with scores of war veterans drawn up on the wharf. His presence made one think of an old soldier's reunion, instead of something official and perhaps a shade stiff. Lord Willingdon, tall, lean and amiable, lifted his high hat and bowed to the throng on the dock but nobody cheered. They hardly ever do. The morning was dull and chilly.

Well, you never can tell just what to expect! Had anyone ever told a buffalo hunter, a grain grower, the late Louis Riel, a railway builder or the author of "The Red River Valley" that some day Manitoba would boast of a fully fledged naval port, with real warships buzzing around, he'd have been stared at and pointed to. The destroyers Nootka and Haida, through snow flurries and occasional fog, sailed across Hudson Bay last week and on Monday berthed at Port Churchill, Manitoba—the first Canadian fighting ships ever seen there.

The site of the Premier Hotel, once a popular place of rest and refreshment, is near the elinder pathway that leads across the railway reserve down to the yards and the station. Once, in the early days, Lionel Crippen was breakfasting there. Heavy blasting was going on at the time and flying rocks smashed a dining room window. A few fell handy to Crippen's table. "I asked for bread and ye gave me a stone" he blandly remarked and ordered another cup of coffee.

Something got into the papers lately concerning the first passenger boat, the General Smythe to ever run on the St. John River, a century ago. Horses were used instead of steam-power. Horses used to be so handy. Back in the 'seventies, when Hugh Graham was struggling with what was to become a great newspaper, the Montreal Star, he had lean pickings. Before he could buy newsprint, he had to find the cash from the previous day's business. The cost of power was prohibitive so Hugh leased or bought an old grey mare. Every afternoon it would enter the pressroom and climb aboard the improvised "press." The next development was the appearance of the editor and financier who bringing down his hand on the flank of the press, would call out "giddap."

Perhaps nowhere in Canada, save in British Columbia is there such an enchanting holiday season as autumn. Nowhere can be felt uncomfortable warmth or enervating heat. Insect pests have vanished. The site of the Premier Hotel, once a popular place of rest and refreshment, is near the elinder pathway that leads across the railway reserve down to the yards and the station. Once, in the early days, Lionel Crippen was breakfasting there. Heavy blasting was going on at the time and flying rocks smashed a dining room window. A few fell handy to Crippen's table. "I asked for bread and ye gave me a stone" he blandly remarked and ordered another cup of coffee.

Speaking of Terrace there are many who nurse the notion that it was not until the arrival of Grand Trunk Pacific steel that anything in the shape of a white settler was seen there. They are subject to correction. First of the newcomers was Tom Thornhill and the time was in 1892. He landed at Little Canyon, a couple of miles from what is now Terrace. In a new land, a lot of alleged pioneers think they are seeing it for the first time. But if most look back far enough they may discover someone was there before them.

The Skeena Highway, remarked a returned motorist the other day, is "passable." The dictionary says passable means "navigable." Perhaps it will be just as well to advise anyone coming north to engage captain and crew as a prudent preliminary step.

STOCKHOLM @ — Hunters and fishermen roamed the forests of central Sweden 6,000 years before Christ. Sten Florin, young Swedish scientist said in a paper published here recently. The first traces of peasant culture appeared about 3,000 B.C., he said.

FROM YUKON TO OTTAWA

Mrs. George Black Will Travel Furthest to Reach Convention

George Black, M.P. for Yukon, and Mrs. Black will be passing through Prince Rupert early next week enroute to Vancouver, from which city they will leave for Ottawa to be present at the Progressive-Conservative convention September 30-October 2. Next Monday they will set forth from Whitehorse and will be here Wednesday afternoon on the Princess Louise bound for Vancouver where they will take the first train East. It will take more than a week to reach the capital. No other woman in Canada will travel as far as Mrs. Black in order to be in Ottawa in time for the opening of the convention.

ver year is a tonic. Among distant peaks, lakes, streams and woods, in countless ways and in all directions, the master artist is giving glimpses of fairyland.

Some of the old timers, evidently, were prepared to debate anything. Once, a hotel man was refused a license renewal because his place of business was within 300 feet of a church. That was contrary to the by-law. The proprietor maintained there actually was no church for the upper part of the building took in lodgers. Foxy old fellows, those pioneers. However, the plea did not stick. It could not be said, though, that the argument lacked ingenuity.

Gardening at Port Churchill has penalties as well as rewards. The postmistress has managed to develop a tiny plot after the laborious gathering of scanty earth from among rock crevices and mixing this with muskeg. And now, note the law of compensation. If the providing of soil bristles with difficulties, the long hours of strong sunlight help to adjust the balance. Seedlings show through the ground five days after planting. So, horticulturists of Prince Rupert, others have little problems too!

Quizzed over the air, Thursday evening, a gentleman from New Zealand said he had come to Canada hoping to remain, for he regarded this as a land flowing with milk and honey. Thanks, Pard. You have a pretty fair domain too, having shipped to the Dominion nine million pounds of butter. Ever hear of oleomargarine?

The eighth anniversary of the Battle of Britain is to be noted by special church parades by the RCAF across Canada this coming Sunday. German bombers left their mark on British cities, as shown by the above picture of bomb ruins around St. Paul's, but Hitler's airmen met their first major defeat in September, 1940, when staggering losses inflicted by defending fighter squadrons forced them to abandon their daylight mass bombing attacks.

Fashion in Full Fling

Pleasing Display by People's Store and Brownwoods
For Job's Daughters

Favored fall and winter fashions in full variety and latest mode were paraded in beautiful setting before a large and discriminating audience at the well-filled auditorium of the Civic Centre last night. The occasion was the annual fashion show of the local Job's Daughters in co-operation with People's Store, which presented the styles in ladies' wear, and Brownwoods, footwear.

An intriguing display of the many lovely things which are available this fall for Milady's every mood and occasion was punctuated with several delightfully acceptable stage and novelty numbers.

Charming mannequins, Job's Daughters and their friends, modelled with poise and presence the lingerie, sports wear, the coats, the suits, the ensembles, and afternoon and evening dresses from an attractively arranged raised three-way platform so designed as to give the hundreds of discriminating spectators full view of their every feature. The appreciation was obvious from the measure of applause.

Mrs. Robert Strachan acted as commentator in her usual capable manner and the piano accompaniments were by Mrs. J. S. Black.

A breath-taking wedding procession was the highlight finale. Elspeth Mackenzie was the beautiful 1948 bride with Donna MacArthur and Marion Shenton as her pretty bridesmaids. Taking the part of the father was George Shenton with Mel Skalmerud, Booby Woods and Rowland Miles as the groomsmen.

The bride's costume was white satin with nylon skirt and silk net lace. She had a lovely colonial bouquet of roses and gladioli fashioned by Mrs. H. T. Lock.

One bridesmaid wore moire taffeta with bustle; the other, silk nylon jersey with yoke. Their bouquets were of dahlias.

Amusing variety was lent to the fashion parade by the female impersonators who disported themselves with courage if not with the utmost grace and met with full approval.

Bernice Eastwood, Honored Queen of the Bethel, opened the proceedings with brief remarks of welcome and appreciation.

Among outstanding numbers on the entertainment program were the graceful ballet number of Miss Margaret Brain, fresh from her triumphs in Vancouver and Hollywood as "Miss P.N.E." and Miss Shirley McCaffery, talented visiting violinist from Ottawa, whose numbers were Kreisler's "Old Refrain" and the "Meditation" from Massenet's "Thais." Meeting with acclaim also were Joseph Franky, with his piano selection, Chopin's "Valse in A Flat," Bobby Woods, piano-accompanist; Miss Joanne Langridge and Alex Mitchell with their vocal duets, and a girl's quartette comprising Margaret Murray, Diane Kennedy, Joanne Langridge and Joan Ketcheson.

As the program concluded Mrs. Alex Mitchell, mentor of Job's Daughters, spoke appreciatively of the firms which had made the show possible, also acknowledging efforts of participants and assistants. L. M. Felsenthal, general manager of the People's Store organization, receiving a bouquet for Mrs. Felsenthal, spoke appropriately in acknowledgement. A bouquet was also presented to Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Woods for Brownwoods.

Other presentations were made to Miss Shirley McCaffery, Miss Margaret Brain and to Mrs. Robert Strachan, Mrs. W. Webster, Mrs. C. McIntyre, Mrs. E. Stordahl, Mrs. Lester Franklin and Miss Polema Lineham.

The models were:
Lingerie — Mary Strachan, Mary McAfee, Mickey Murray, Mrs. S. R. Donaldson and Kathleen Smith.

Sportswear — Inger Peterson, Margaret Strachan, Carol Moorehouse, Marjorie Tattersall, Donna MacArthur, Mary Strachan, Mary McAfee, Claire Ritchie, Rena Ingram, Sheila Bennett, Heather Brewer, Ethel Moorehouse and Norman MacKay.

Coats — Alice Nickerson, Margit MacArthur, Lorna Donaldson, Mellaine Brechin, Marion Shenton and Susie Knutson.

Suits — Joanne Langridge, Kay Nickerson, Mrs. N. S. K. Brewer, Mrs. W. R. Kennedy and Joan Ketcheson.

Dresses — Mrs. G. Grosvenor, Marjorie Eby, Mrs. Alex Mitchell, Peggy Gowan, Dorothy McLeod, Kathleen Smith, Mickey Murray and Ruth Ketcheson.

Evening Dresses — Mrs. L. C. Eby, Mrs. S. R. Donaldson, Bernice Eastwood, Diane Kennedy and Gerd Lien.

The men's fashion team included George Shenton, Jarvis McLeod, Alex Mitchell, N. S. K. Brewer and J. A. Teng.

CHURCHILL IN PARIS—Former Prime Minister of Great Britain Winston Churchill is pictured as he changed trains in the railroad station in Paris. He is en route to Aix-en-Provence for a brief vacation.

Skeena River Canneries Closing Down—Tuna Boats Still Out—Coho Fishing Fair

Despite the fact that the Skeena and Naas River gillnet areas are still open, canneries on the Skeena are closing down after one of the most successful seasons on record. Two canneries already have terminated their season's operations and others are expected to close shortly.

A few gillnetters remain on the Skeena, fishing coho, but these are not in sufficient numbers to justify keeping the canneries open. Carlisle and Sunnyside were reported Friday to have shut down and the others were reported to be planning similar action, possibly next week.

Majority of the hundreds of gillnetters who made rich catches during the sockeye season earlier in the summer are now on the Fraser where the season is two months later than in the north.

Some of the boats have lingered in the Butedale and Bella Bella and Bella Coola areas where gillnetting is still permitted.

The Grenville-Prince Channel area will close to all types of net fishing Sunday night but this will affect only a few boats. Actually, only a portion of the area—the west coast of Banks Island—has been open so the conservation measure will have only slight effect on the seiners. Areas in District Two now open for seiners include portions of the Butedale, Bella Bella and Smiths and Rivers Inlet regions.

No information has been received late this week on the progress of the tuna fishing on the west coast of the Queen Charlottes but it is believed that there is still a large number of boats out. The Kitimaat, which has been on patrol duty is still in the area but has not reported for the last couple of days.

Fair coho trolling is reported off Rose Spit on the north end of Graham Island and good catches also were reported off the Dundas Islands early this week although they have dropped off in the last couple of days. A storm which struck Hecate Straits Friday has sent the boats to shelter.

A team from the State of Washington Department of Fisheries has arrived at Terrace to acquire 600,000 pink salmon eggs which they will take back for experimental purposes. At Lakeelse, with approval of the Dominion Fisheries Department, the crew will strip a number of female pink salmon of their eggs, then put them in tanks until they are partially developed. The eggs then will be loaded into a tank truck and taken back to Washington by highway.

The barge belonging to the Juneau Spruce Corporation, carrying 410,000 board feet of lumber that under other circumstance would have discharged at Prince Rupert arrived recently in Tacoma where unloading took place. The barge had been towed south by the tug Santrina. The unloading in Tacoma was performed by the A. F. of L. longshoremen. Because of a jurisdictional dispute between the American C.I.O. Warehousemen's Union and the International Woodworkers, the longshoremen at Prince Rupert did not handle the barge. Had this been done, the lumber would have gone to the United States market out of Prince Rupert over the C.N.R., according to an explanation at Juneau.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, is due in port at 7 o'clock this evening from Vancouver via Rivers Inlet, Bella Coola, Ocean Falls and many other coast points and will sail soon thereafter on her return south.
