Use of Atom Bomb Being Considered

Decision One For Field Commander

UNITED STATES ATTITUDE WILL BE FIRM BUT PRESIDENT HOPES WAR WILL BE AVERTED

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—President Truman said today that active consideration was being given to the use of the atomic bomb against the Chinese Communists if that step is necessary.

The President told a press conference that consideration of the use of every weapon is being given constantly and decision whether to drop atomic bombs was one for the commander in the field. He also said that decision to bomb across the Manchurian border was one for the United Nations to decide.

Mr. Truman expressed continued hope that a third world war can be averted but declared the United Nations have no intention of abandoning their mission in Korea.

The President plainly laid on Russia responsibility for Chinese Communist attacks in Korea.

Mr. Truman said the United States will meet the situation in three ways:

1. The United States will continue to work in the United Nations for "concerted action to halt this aggression in Korea."
2. The United States will intensify its efforts to help other free nations strengthen their defenses "to meet the threat of aggression elsewhere."
3. It will rapidly increase its own military strength.

The President said he would send to Congress in a few days a request for more money to increase the size and effectiveness of the armed forces.

BRITISH CHIEFS IN FAR EAST MEETING

LONDON — Britain's top diplomatic and military chiefs of three services in the Far East will meet December 7 to discuss latest developments in Asia.

The meeting will be at Bukit Serene, Malaya, near Singapore. Presence of the military chiefs points to a reassessment of British military strength and resources of the region.

Acheson Sees Grave Danger

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Secretary of State Dean Acheson told the world last night that the Korean crisis has created "a situation of unparalleled danger" and no one can guarantee that war will not come.

United States history shows, Acheson said, that Americans will fight if they must to preserve freedom and justice.

He solemnly called on Chinese Communists to end their "brazen aggression in Korea, telling them that this is their hour of decision and they 'stand before the judgment bar of mankind.'"

In a country-wide broadcast speech, Mr. Acheson urged the Chinese Communists to show the United Nations that "they represent their own interests" and are not mere dupes of the Soviet.

Increase In Railway Rates Stands By Cabinet Decision

OTTAWA — The cabinet today dismissed an appeal by seven provinces against a twenty percent freight rate increase granted by the board of transport commissioners.

Text of an order-in-council rejecting the appeal against the $60,000,000 per year increase was issued by the office of the Prime Minister.

(Last night in Winnipeg Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National Railways, said the railways would have to seek another increase in view of the recent increase in railway pay and the inauguration of the 40-hour week).

Tories Retain British Seat

BELFAST, Northern Ireland — The Ulster Union Party, allied with the Conservatives, retained the Belfast West seat in the House of Commons in a by-election, the result of which was announced yesterday.

T. V. Teevan, aged 23, was elected by a margin of 913 over John Beattie, Labor candidate. The Labor party's working majority in the House of Commons is now four votes.

Mission Plans Aid Unmarried Mothers

LONDON — A five-year plan for more mother love needs £42,000.

The money would be used by a West London mission to equip 17 small apartments for working mothers. The idea is to discourage unmarried women from having their babies adopted.

During working hours, babies would be looked after by two resident housekeepers. After five years, mothers would be asked to find other lodgings. Organizers believe that if a girl can keep her baby till then, the worst is over.

Stock Market Is Still Weak

NEW YORK — The jittery stock market dropped sharply again today. Leading issues lost as much as $3 a share or so before buyers could be tempted into the market on any scale.

Kenneth G. Davies of Victoria and Mrs. R. G. Pyle of Nitro, Quebec, after spending a few days here following the death of their father, H. H. Davies, CPR general agent, sailed for the south on the Princess Louise Wednesday afternoon.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis

An active disturbance crossing the coast of Washington this morning caused rain and snow in Washington and snow throughout southern British Columbia. The south coast, however, has so far missed the precipitation and it is now expected that the storm will move inland without causing appreciable precipitation in this region. With the passage inland of this storm colder air from the continent will flood over the coast, causing a general drop in temperatures overnight. Skies should also clear over the coast as the offshore flow develops. This type of weather is already established over the Charlottes and the north coast. Snow will be quite general through all the interior today although some rain is to be expected in southern interior valleys where the air will be a little warmer. Winds have been light in most regions but strong offshore winds will develop in most coastal inlets as the storm moves toward the prairies.

Forecast

North Coast Region—Clear and very cold except for variable cloudiness and an occasional snow flurry along the east coast of Vancouver Island. Winds northerly, 20 miles per hour, but reaching 30 in mainland inlets. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—At Port Hardy, 30 and 40; Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 26 and 36.

City Council Rejects Petition Of Merchants For Later Hours

City council, by a 4-to-3 vote at a special meeting yesterday afternoon, rejected a petition, representing an estimated 90 per cent of the boot and shoe, men's clothing and leather goods merchants of the city, requesting that they be permitted to remain open until 9 p.m. Fridays for the shopping convenience of construction employees of Columbia Cellulose Co. who are now working a six-day, 48-hour week and are unable to get into the city during regular store hours.

Ald. W. A. McLean, Ald. Donald Fitch and Ald. Wilfrid McLean voted in favor of amending the Early Closing Bylaw to permit the stores in the categories requested being allowed to remain open.

Ald. G. B. Casey, Ald. H. F. Glassey, Ald. G. D. Frizzell and Ald. T. B. Black voted against. Ald. J. N. Forman was not present.

Last evening's special meeting of the council was sequel to the regular meeting Monday night when the petition of the three categories of merchants had been at first presented. The council, having heard that the Retail Merchants' Association was opposed to the extension of hours, had asked for the views of the association before making a decision.

President J. D. McRae and several other members of the association were present at last night's meeting.

STONE SPOKESMAN
W. F. Stone, acting as spokesman for the three categories, told the council that there were between 800 and 1000 men now employed at Watson Island. In other store categories, the women were able to do the shopping but in boots and shoes, men's clothing and leather goods, only the men could do so. Merchants, by closing their doors to them, were losing hundreds of dollars of business.

Answering Ald. Fitch, Mr. Stone stated that the extension of hours was requested only for the period that the cellulose mill construction continued. (Later, March 31 was accepted as a date which would be acceptable for the termination of the extended hours.)

J. D. McRae, president of the Retail Merchants, made it clear that any category of merchants had the right to petition to be allowed to remain open. The Retail Merchants' Association had gone on record as being opposed to extension of hours, he admitted.

L. M. Felsenthal did not want to see any return to the old system of night hours. He felt it would be difficult to confine extension of hours to any category. There were also the stores with mixed categories. What position would they be in? In any case, whatever was done, there should be a time stipulation.

W. F. Stone said that it had not been a fair decision which the retail merchants had made. Grocers should not be able to decide what clothiers should do. It should have been a category vote for the clothiers were outnumbered.

J. D. McRae resented the suggestion of an unfair vote. Nothing had been said about categories.

FEARS CONFUSION
Mayor Rudderham feared there would be confusion if the request was granted. Next thing the dealers in ladies' wear would be wanting to open too. Any

Many to Travel South at 'Xmas

It may be necessary to bring an extra crew to Prince Rupert to man the second Canso on the Prince Rupert-Sandspit connecting run with the Vancouver section, it is learned at Canadian Pacific Air Lines offices. Already, it is apparent that accelerated holiday travel will involve several extra flights on several days immediately preceding Christmas as well as during the first week after the New Year when local seasonal holiday-makers will be returning to the city.

Steamers for Vancouver just before Christmas also report heavy bookings.

Roberts, Kelowna; Mr. and Mrs. B. H. MacDonald and son, city; D. A. Potter, Ocean Falls; H. G. T. Perry, Prince George; H. D. Larson, Seattle.

amendment of the Early Closing Bylaw should be for all or none.

Ald. Frizzell also saw difficulty in allowing certain categories to open, particularly in the cases of stores where there were mixed categories. If a change was to be made for the cellulose workers, the same might be expected for Christmas shoppers.

Ald. Casey, felt that the matter affected the retail merchants as a whole and they had voted against extension of hours. He did not feel inclined to disregard the views of the association. He was opposed to a piecemeal change and did not think such a great deal would be lost by the merchants anyway.

A. S. Nickerson thought it was a pretty poor show if the merchants failed to accommodate these men who wanted to buy goods in Prince Rupert.

W. F. Stone mentioned the peddlers who were working 24 hours a day. Business was being driven to the mail order houses.

After the division was taken and the petition rejected, the council, at the suggestion of Ald. Black, decided to invite the Retail Merchants' Association to reconsider the matter with a view to making another request which might meet the situation.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

About a month from today will see the commencement of 1951. If one can judge from the world situation as it appears at present, it can be a year that may well challenge the judgment of the most far seeing and courageous. Almost anything in the way of international developments can occur.

With waste and leakage eliminated and proper maintenance, the city water main should carry on for another few years and meet requirements of a city with a population of 17,500, says W. R. Bonnycastle, hydro engineer. There is not that number yet but, if housing plans, as now contemplated are completed, it should not take long to reach that total. There must be twelve thousand already, if not more.

Ottawa police still growl! They cannot understand why eight hours slipped past before they heard of the murder of Francis Sullivan, prominent citizen of Toronto in the Chateau Laurier. Plainly, they became peeved, and still are. They feel the circumstances were much too leisurely.

Why the country doctor lives more for others than for himself was discussed over the air the other evening. It would seem he is still suffering, even though a physician. He endures life, the hard way. Country districts want more medical men but they stay away. Why? Isolation, lack of needed and up-to-date facilities, lack of convenient professional co-operation. But longer ago, there were no telephones, cars or radios. And that was more burdensome.

We've never lived in the British West Indies, but do claim to know something about Skeena. Nevertheless, it's interesting, if somewhat annoying, to discover that in Barbadoes you can hire a native maid, a bar tender or a cook for $3 a week, and a cooling run and coke costs eleven cents. It must be confessed the BWI possess something.

Canadian troops, already in Pusan, Korea, agree it's an unholy place. Listen! Filth and poverty everywhere. Open sewers. Practically no drainage. Foul stench hangs over city even when hard wind is blowing. Children solicit in the streets for their sisters and mothers. And this is but a glimpse of fifty thousand.

Urges Children to Use Library

Desirability of children of all ages using the library as much as possible was stressed by the librarian, Miss May Macdonald, at a recent meeting of the Prince Rupert Library Board when special mention was made of the recent Young Canada Book Week. This week is sponsored by the Canadian Library Association and is observed in schools, libraries and other media with the idea of making both parents and children more conscious of the value of good reading habits. The librarian told how books could be taken out by children from the library. Many new books have been ordered for the library for children of all ages.

Business at the meeting included the acceptance of the resignation of Miss Olive Van Cooten as librarian. Miss Van Cooten has been on sick leave for six months and is now in Kelowna. Miss Macdonald is acting librarian.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. M. M. Roper, chairman; Mrs. Basil S. Prockter, secretary; Miss May Macdonald, librarian; Mrs. W. S. Kergin, T. B. Black and A. D. Ritchie.

Antrobus Is Cancer Head

Annual Meeting of Prince Rupert Association

Rev. F. Antrobus was elected president of the Prince Rupert division of the Canadian Cancer Society at the annual meeting held in the Civic Centre yesterday afternoon. He was secretary and campaign organizer during the past two years.

The new vice-president, Mrs. A. Holbrook, read a report compiled on the provincial convention held in September at Vancouver, at which she was a delegate.

Other members of the new executive are Mrs. G. V. Hanley, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. S. Black, Mrs. William Murdoch, Mrs. J. C. Gilker, Mrs. Frederick Antrobus, Mrs. William Rothwell, Mrs. D. R. Barclay, directors.

Other officers appointed to the board of directors are Dr. Duncan Black, honorary president; D. C. Stevenson, Mrs. Neville Gerrard, Mrs. Thelma Dawson (Vancouver). One local doctor and a social service worker are to be appointed.

the executive over the past two years.

HIGH MORTALITY

One out of every eight persons will die of cancer according to the film "Battle Against Cancer" presented by Donald Forward to the society at the close of the meeting. Although, according to the film, there were more casualties from cancer than war fatalities between Pearl Harbor and V-J Day with one person dying every three minutes, science had progressed in its treatment of the disease.

Warning and illustration of danger signals were explained in the film to facilitate recognition and immediate treatment of the disease. Protection against "quack" cures were made by showing that there are only three recognized treatments for the disease: surgery, radium and x-ray.

Music Festival Dates Are Set

Adjudicating at the Prince Rupert and District Music and Drama Festival will be the superintendent of music for Vancouver schools, Burton Kurth, it was announced at a meeting in the Civic Centre last night. Final dates set by the executive for the festival are May 2, 3 and 4, which will allow Mr. Kurth to complete an adjudication at Powell River before he comes here. These dates, decided by the members of the association last night, are a week prior to tentative dates originally set. Mr. Kurth, as well as having experience with the Department of Education, is a church organist and choir director, with good recommendation as an "ideal man for children," the executive explained. It was agreed that the adjudicator will be paid $125 plus expenses which is about the same rate as asked by the adjudicator of last year's festival. In response to the membership convener, Miss Elizabeth Holmes, requesting that fees be paid, a motion was passed that organizations and individuals be notified that the set date for payment of fees will be January 31. It was believed that this annual date would be easier for members as well as help the drive for membership subscriptions, instead of the past seasonal payment of fees. The fees will remain the same.

In order that all entries may be prepared, a motion was made that the festival syllabus be published in the newspaper December 16. On the committee to investigate advertising sponsors are R. G. Moore, Henry Plum, Rudolph Olson, Fred Conrad, Mrs. G. Cook and Mrs. C. P. Balagno. Since arrangements had already been made for an adjudicator, a letter of application from L. R. Cludery, a Victoria organist, will be answered by the secretary thanking Mr. Cludery for his offer to adjudicate the local festival. Another letter read by Miss Yvonne Larson, secretary, from W. Emerson Scott of the Scott Music Co., Ketchikan, asked an explanation of the "open" entries on the programs already sent to districts, if entries may be made for viola, cello and clarinet, and if it is permissible to enter from a private school of music, instead of from a public school. In reply, the chairman, R. G. Moore, vice-president of the association, instructed the secretary to reply that "open" referred to any age; it was permissible for private music schools to enter the festival, and that there are no entries for viola, cello and clarinet. The regular meeting of the association will be held in December was cancelled, leaving the next meeting to be held in January. Representatives at last night's meeting were: Rudolph Olson, Sons of Norway; Henry Plum, Booth Memorial School; Mrs. C. P. Balagno, Catholic Women's League; Mrs. G. Cook, Borden Street School; Mrs. Hardy, Parent-Teachers Council, and Joseph Goscoe, King Edward School.

RHIDORRACH, Perthshire, Scotland—Scotland's dangerous Devil's Elbow road will be kept open this winter to allow one girl to go to school. The 2201-foot road, one of the highest public highways in Scotland, will be kept clear of snow for a three-mile stretch to allow 11-year-old Margaret Nairn to go to school. It is the first time in 50 years children have lived in the isolated district not far from Royal Deeside and Balmoral Castle. A house on the road was taken over this year by George Nairn, his wife and four children.

Dr. J. F. L. Hughes, who has been practising chiropractic here for the past year or so, will sail Sunday night on the Coquitlam for Vancouver. He may spend the winter in the United States.

PRIMATE'S FUNERAL—Funeral services for Archbishop George Frederick Kingston, Church of England Primate for all Canada, were held last Thursday morning in St. James Cathedral, Toronto. The 61-year-old archbishop of Nova Scotia was named primate after the death of Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen three years ago. Here the primate's body is carried from the cathedral by the pallbearers including five members of the family—W. A. Kingston, L. R. Kingston, G. H. Kingston and R. A. Kingston—and Rev. Britons In Rush To Buy Clothes

LONDON—From Land's End to John O'Groats, Britons are buying new clothes.

Before the bells toll farewell to 1950, thousands will have added to their wardrobes. This sudden buying spree is a direct result of a sharp rise in raw wool prices.

Since June, British wool textiles have increased in price from 15 percent for lower-grade wools to 25 percent for all-wool worsteds, and further increases are expected. All that now stands between the consumer and the biggest rise in clothing prices since 1939 are the existing stocks in shop and warehouse.

Although the fact is fully realized, there is no panic-buying. Stocks are good and customers are choosing with care. Men are choosing useful dark lounge suits, women favor the all-purpose blacks.

West End tailors say they have 50 to 80 percent more orders in hand than they had at this time last year. People are ordering top-grade flannels and worsteds that will remain in the tailors' hands until late in the coming year.

This premature buying is causing much concern in the trade. Retailers predict the greatest sales resistance in trade history, when the full impact of new prices is felt around March of next year. A rise in price of nearly £1 ($5.10) is expected on every £5 of merchandise.

"Some merchants are taking unfair advantage by increasing the price of existing stocks," said Harry Ellis, a London tailor.

Savile Row, the top street for men's tailoring, says that suits will cost at least £10 more. Present prices are £40 to £50,

Hamilton Group Gathers History

HAMILTON—A scientific organization in this industrial Ontario city is celebrating its 93rd birthday this year.

A nucleus for the gathering and dissemination of knowledge in this district since 1857 has been provided by the Hamilton Association for the Advancement of Science, Art and Literature.

It started in the fall of that year when Hamilton as a city was just 11 years old. A few eager citizens met in a private home and decided to form an association to look into the finer things of life.

On Sundays, in the summer months the members of the Scientific Association, its popular name, used to gather at the shore of the bay and walk through the area to observe the large number of birds. They collected ferns and flowers and even poked into the geology of the region.

Fossils, rocks and specimens for microscopic examination were preserved by the group, and as a member became familiar with one field of study he branched into another. So their knowledge grew.

VALUABLE RECORDS—At one time the association held meetings in the Alexandra Arcade, where a large department store now stands. By 1873 it had become incorporated, and took over a section of the old library building on Main Street.

The records compiled by these citizens have become invaluable. Papers prepared and read before the association were frequently published, and in some cases remain the only accounts of conditions of the time. The geology and natural history of the district has been well charted through their efforts.

One volume published in 1886 has become a classic of its kind. This is "Birds of Ontario," written by Thomas McIlwraith, president of the association in 1880.

The story of the adventures of Dr. John Rae, a physician who was the second president, forms part of Canadian annals. Once a geographer and explorer of note, he was the first man to discover the fate of Arctic explorer Sir John Franklin. Dr. Rae, who had covered thousands of miles of northern territory by boat and on foot, found Eskimos who knew of Franklin's party and then discovered traces of its members.

First information about the Baring papers which belonged to the great British family of financiers and diplomats was delivered to the association and then to the world. Dr. Adam Shortt of the Bureau of Archives at Ottawa was the first to study the papers, and he passed on his knowledge to the Hamilton association.

Under the leadership of A. T. Wood, president, the association continues the practice begun 93 years ago of cultivating science, art and literature, keeping alive an important phase of civic life.

Both figures are slightly lower than last year's total catch was 544. Although it is seldom spotlighted, whaling is an important Newfoundland industry, an average season netting to $1,000.

Civic Interest

SEVERAL WEEKS from today Prince Rupert, like most other cities in the province, will be holding its election. A considerable number of candidates already announced their intention of seeking election to the aldermanic board and there will be no difficulty in getting that filled.

There is a dearth of candidates to date, however, and the less spectacular and less publicized board of trustees which has a big continuing job on its hands in the extensive building program now in progress. Fortunately, however, it is understood that at least the retiring incumbents, who have done a good job, are willing to carry on.

There is also the newly elective parks board in which little interest appears, so far at least, to be taken. This body has a function to perform which has been very much lacking.

And, while we are talking of candidates, we also comment on the lack of general interest in civic affairs, about the names who seem to concern themselves at all in the Ratepayers' Association and Junior Chamber.

It is apathy to civic affairs is an unfortunate condition and is not conducive to the best and most effective civic government. Even the members of civic governing boards themselves welcome and helpful interest on the part of the public, of course, does not mean that personal grind are so welcomed.

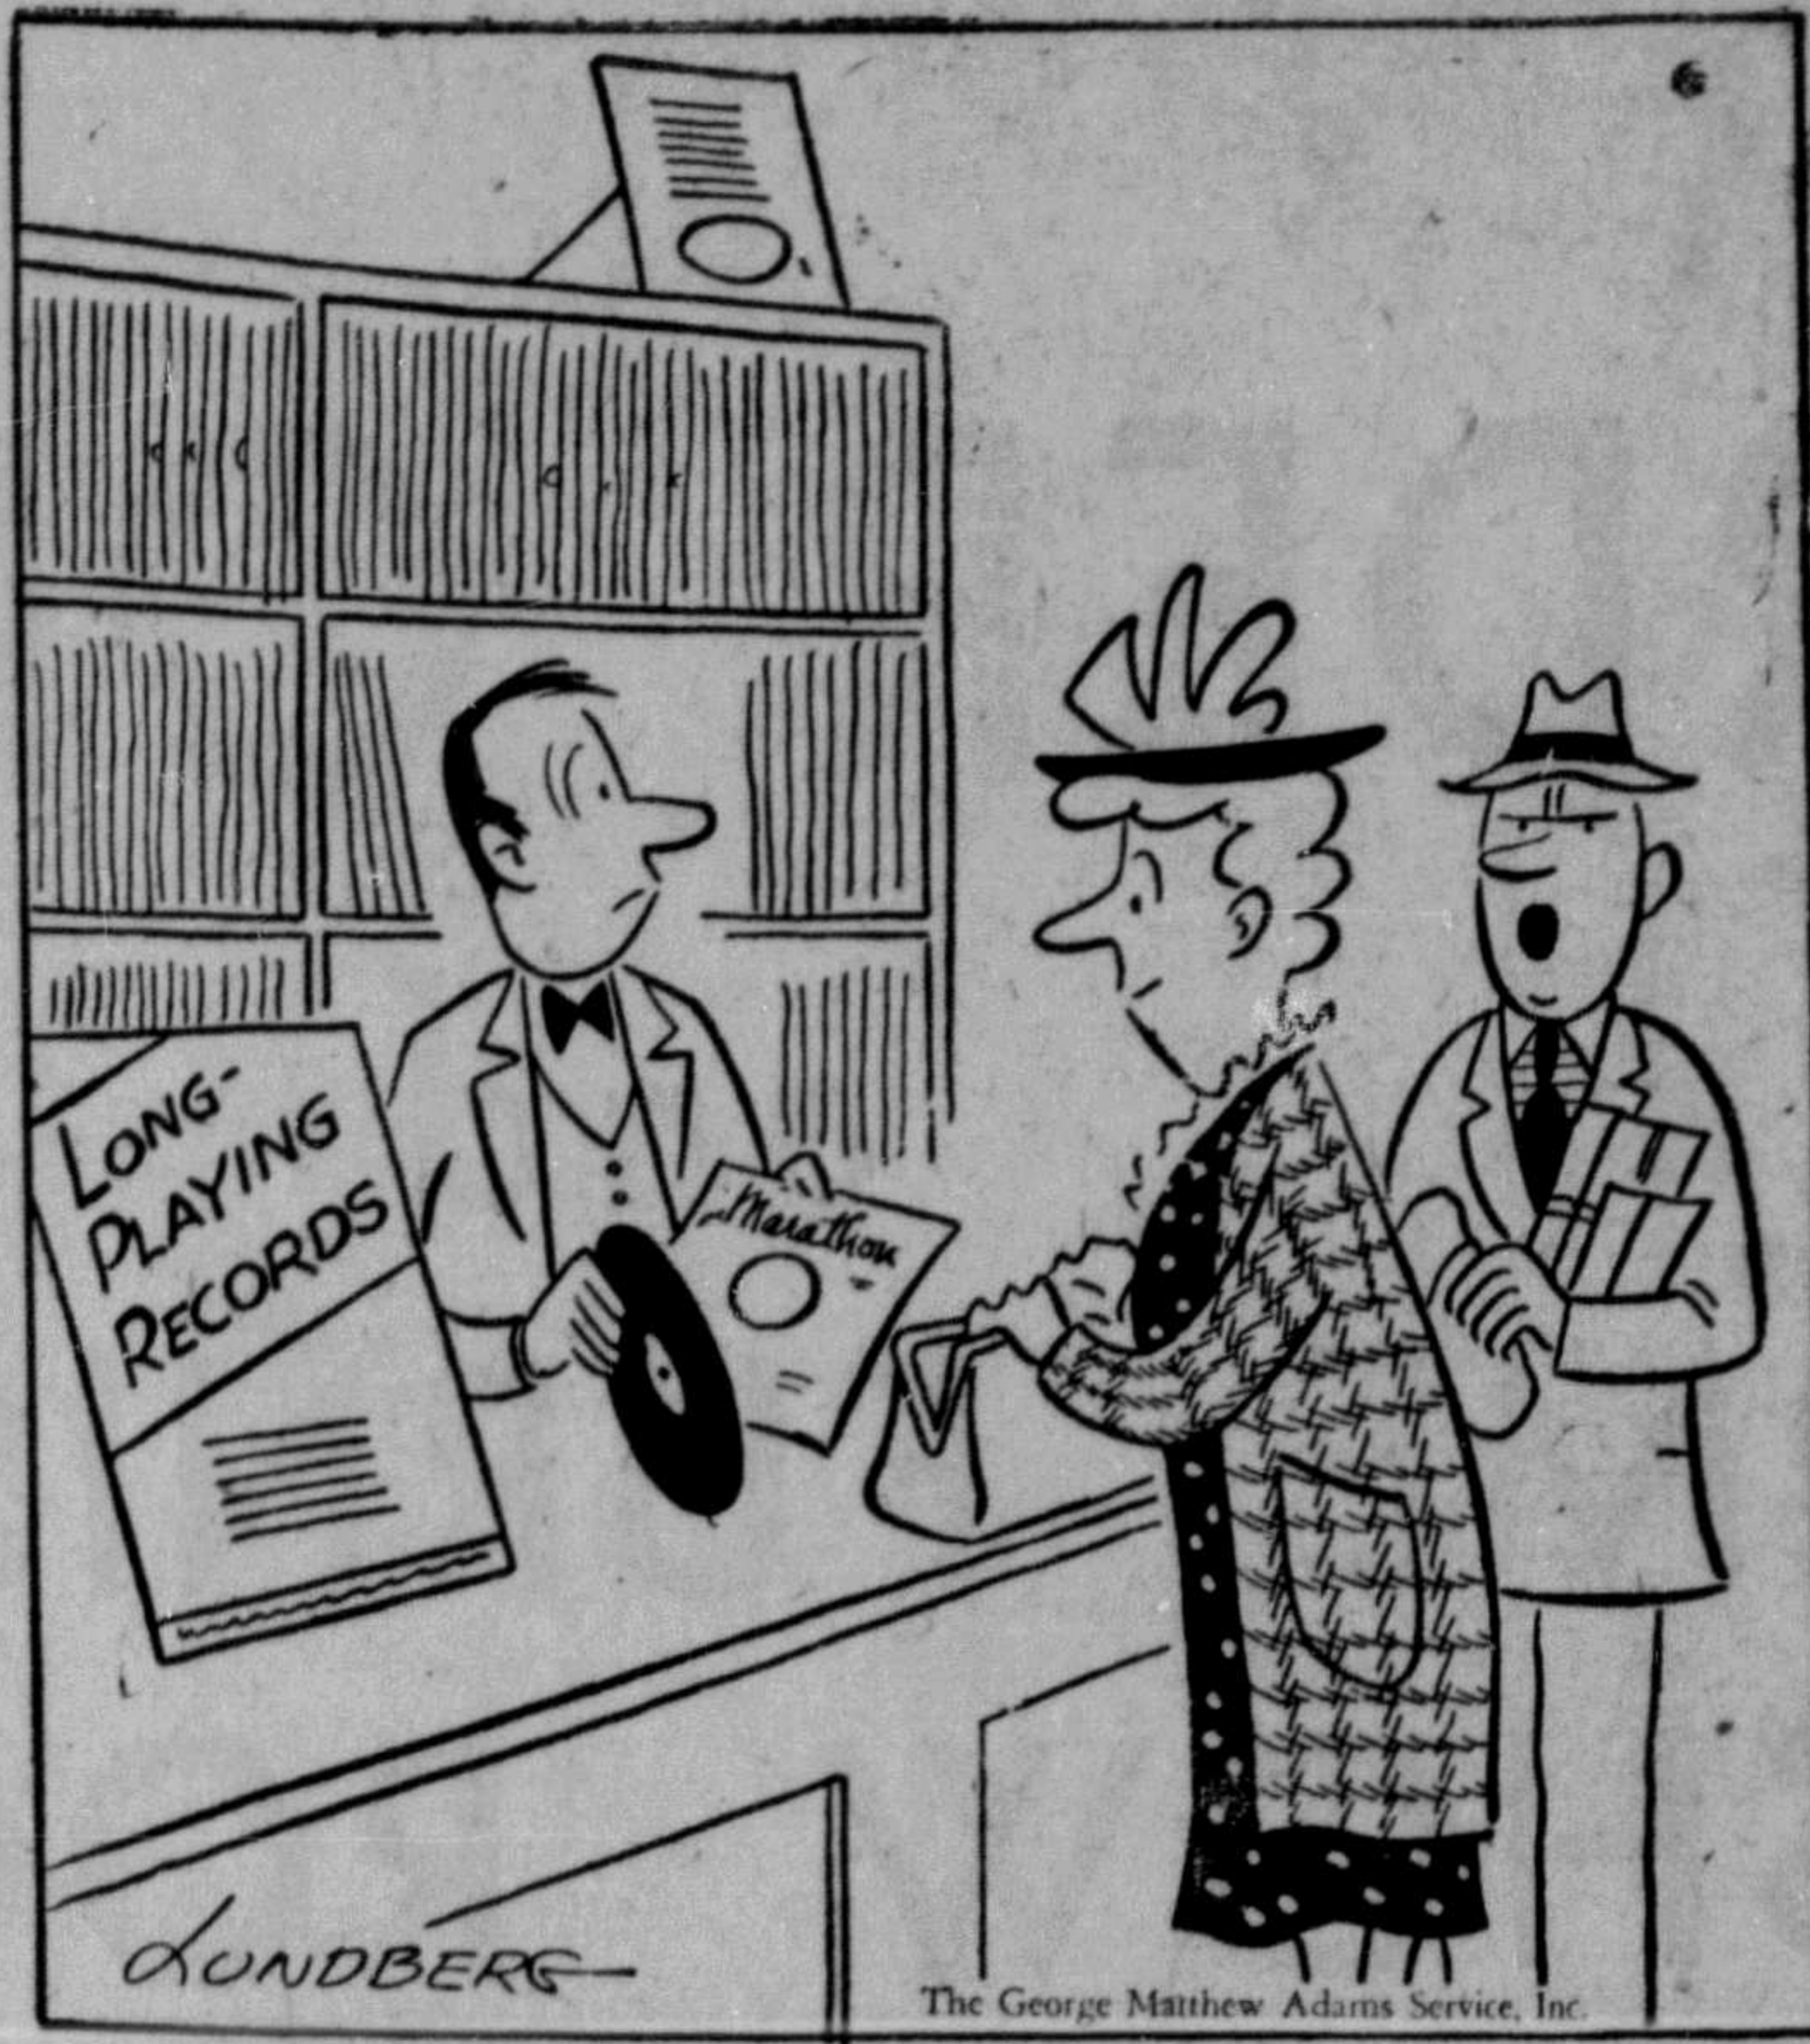

Success is never final and failure never fatal. It's courage that counts.

THE DUCK

WITH the international situation as it is today, and the negotiation of 1000 miles presenting difficulty than did that of 100, 50 years ago, it is hard and short-sighted to imagine that so vast an area of this country is adequately populated by a few millions. Canada would be like a sitting duck in an enemy country.

The solution is, to bring about a substantial increase in population. A larger population, too, would mean a better and faster development of our vast resources, something that must be done if we are to survive and flourish in this fast-moving, competitive world.

There must be devoted to the direction of new immigrants—both when they are here and before they get here. Today, the majority of immigrants land in the first idea of what the country is like, and with the faintest knowledge of its people and customs. (Ont.) Tribune.

"Good Heavens! You mean they're non-breakable too?"

SHIPS and WATERFRONT

Watson Island cellulose mill received 350 tons of cement, eight tons of steel plates as well as a general cargo of machinery from the Frank Waterhouse freighter Island King, Capt. Walter Holmberg, yesterday afternoon. The Island King was first in Prince Rupert at 8 a.m. Tuesday, unloading 35 tons of structural steel for the Dominion Bridge, 50 tons of oil for the Home Oil, 150 tons of coal for Philpott, Evitt & Co., and 28 tons of general cargo. Boat and common lumber as well as cannery supplies is the cargo for Nelson Bros. cannery at Port Edward. Continuing on her way north to Alice Arm Friday the freighter will unload ten tons of grinding balls, 15 tons of steel plates, 25 tons of lime barrels and 100 tons of concentrate. Kraft paper loaded at Ocean Falls will balance the ship's capacity on her southbound trip to Vancouver.

Hours of special bank opening in Prince Rupert to accommodate Columbia Cellulose mill construction workers in the cashing of their checks will be 6 to 7:30 p.m. Fridays. The special arrangement for the evening opening of the banks has been made in view of the fact that the men are now working a 48-hour week and have no opportunity to get into the city during regular banking hours.

KOREAN BOYS FREE

AT LAST the Canadian government has done the decent thing and let the two Korean youths go free.

Pong and Young are again at the Fraser Valley home where they found refuge after one of their several escapes. But this time their liberty is legalized by Canada. The B.C. friends of these two lads have posted a bond of $1,000 to assure the government that they will not again take the law into their own hands.

THEY STOWED AWAY

THEY STOWED AWAY on a Canadian ship and reached Vancouver. For months they lived here in almost complete freedom. But always was the fear that they would be deported. They always knew that war was coming in Korea. They also knew that in event of war their personal position would be desperate.

As refugees from the north they would be suspected as spies in the south. But if the north won the whole country they company. There is a long standing and deep seated distrust or dislike between North and South Koreans (just as in U.S.A.) A northerner can instantly be detected in the south by his speech.

There were hundreds of thousands of northern refugees in southern Korea. The government was a cruel dictatorship, thinly disguised as a democracy. It was corrupt and terroristic. The policemen were the self same thugs who had been the Japanese puppets. Their whim was law.

Social conditions were actually worse than in the north. Thus the boy refugees found that they had jumped from the frying pan into the fire.

When the Korean boys were ordered deported they escaped in a manner more heroic than any comic strip. They separated and worked hard to earn their living.

But when the Korean war broke out the government felt that it could take no chance that they might turn out to be spies or saboteurs.

I myself gave the boys my word of honor that if they voluntarily surrendered they could be sure of a square deal from our government. Many a time in recent months I asked myself if I was justified in doing that.

But all's well that ends well. Two boys, who might have been among the thousands killed in Korea, are alive. Two Koreans now have a chance to learn what Canadian democracy really means.

As refugees from the north they would be suspected as spies in the south. But if the north won the whole country they

They were born and brought up in North Korea. When Japan was defeated in the recent war they expected the dawn of a new day. At first they were well satisfied with the rule of the Communists in North Korea. But soon it became clear that there was no real freedom.

When the government tried to substitute Russian for English as the second language in high schools and universities student riots broke out. The two boys, then unknown to each other, escaped into South Korea.

There the boys met and became friends, for misery loves

Blackwood On Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

I will agree with you that Mr. Dale, the expert on bridge Humanics, pushed his cards pretty strongly today to reach game in spades. Of course he did have a good hand, but he was romancing just a little when he kept barging ahead opposite a weak-sounding partner.

As you know, Mr. Dale considers not only the cards he holds but also the quality of the defense he is likely to get. Mr. Muzzy, the master of discovering and executing wrong plays, was on Mr. Dale's right. On his left was Mr. Abel, usually a good player, but one who is easily thrown off his game by his partner's errors.

If you don't push your cards playing against Abel and Muzzy, you should never push them. Look at the defense Mr. Dale got on this hand.

Mr. Abel opened the seven of hearts and the ten was played from dummy. "Not through the Iron Duke," said Mr. Muzzy, coining a phrase, as he roared up with the king of hearts. Mr. Dale won with his singleton ace and eyed the good queen in dummy with considerable satisfaction.

The old boy now led a small spade to the king and returned dummy's ten of spades. "Wait a minute, where is the lead?" asked Mr. Muzzy at this thought. Any thought Mr. Dale might have had about going up with the ace of spades at trick three was now dissipated. Undoubtedly the queen of spades was in Mr. Muzzy's hand. And even after Mr. Muzzy was convinced that the lead was actually in dummy, he did not cover the ten of spades, which play would have given him a sure trick in the suit.

Well, that did it. Mr. Dale took another spade finesse, extracted

Mr. Muzzy's last trump and then laid down the king of clubs. Mr. Abel won with the ace and could do no better than return a heart which dummy's queen won. Mr. Dale discarded a diamond on that trick and threw another diamond on dummy's fourth club. He had to concede two diamonds at the end, but he made his contract.

Mr. Champion, who always makes the "right" bid, probably would not have been in this game. But Mr. Dale tries to make the winning bid, not necessarily the right bid. He knows it is just as important to look at the people as it is to look at the cards.

For medical attention, Reuben Munro, a native boy from Aiyansh, was flown into Prince Rupert by Norman Jermyn, G.C.A.'s pilot, yesterday. Capt. W. C. Poulton, district commander of the Salvation Army, who has been stranded at Aiyansh for the past three weeks due to ice conditions on the Naas River, returned by the same plane.

Heavy Christmas mail—52 post office bags full—were delivered to Aiyansh in two separate mail flights by the Queen Charlotte Airlines' pilot, Norman Jermyn, yesterday.

Bill Hanson Passes Away

Son of Former Member For Skeena Dies Suddenly in Toronto

Olof Hanson jr., better known as "Bill" Hanson, died suddenly yesterday in Toronto to which city he had moved only two weeks ago from Smithers. He was the son of Olof Hanson, prominent district industrialist and former M.P. for Skeena, whose office here was advised late yesterday of his demise. The news will be received with a deep sense of shock by many local friends.

Bill Hanson had been in ill health for years and it was his condition that made it seem advisable to leave for Toronto.

Thirty-five years of age and born in Prince Rupert, deceased received his education in Prince Rupert and went to McGill University where he took his Bachelor of Commerce degree. Later he was articled for the practice of law in Toronto but gave that up for health reasons. Early in World War II he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force but was discharged on account of his health. He then joined the staff of his father's concern, Hanson Timber and Lumber Co., and had been at Smithers since then until moving East.

In addition to his mother and father, who will have the sympathy of many friends, "Bill" Hanson is survived by his widow, Jean, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. David Ritchie, Prince Rupert, and one sister, Mrs. Donald (Linnea) Sutherland of Victoria.

First advice of the death received here did not indicate the funeral arrangements.

Mrs. C. Paulson arrived in the city a few days ago from Terrace for a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Haverson.
