

Occupying Force Role Changing To Defence

Says Water Supply In Critical Condition

Immediate improvement in Prince Rupert's water supply is essential, according to a statement yesterday afternoon by D. J. Ford, engineer for B.C. Underwriters' Association. Mr. Ford said the condition of the water works here was "appalling" and that, unless something was done about it right now, there was a good chance of the city's losing its class A rating for fire insurance.

Flat Dismissal For Red Claims

TOKYO — General McArthur yesterday rebuked as "provocative impertinence" Russian claims that maintenance of United States military bases in Japan violates Allies' occupation policies.

Highway In Good Shape

Satisfaction with the condition of the highway between Prince George and Prince Rupert, considering the time of year, is expressed by H. G. Perry and C. A. Warner who arrived in the city last night after the 500-mile drive. They made the trip in leisurely fashion in two days, stopping here and there to call on friends. Wednesday night was spent in Smithers.

During the past week the spring run-off has confounded in the central interior where the weather has been quite warm. There is water on the road at some points where culverts have not been able to take the flow but it is not serious and nowhere is there serious delay to steady driving.

Public works equipment was noted at work along the way and the condition of the road, as a result, should be getting better from now on, barring floods or some such eventuality.

At Terrace Mr. Perry and Mr. Warner visited Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Fraser at the Omnica Herald plant. Mr. Perry is much impressed with the prosperity of Terrace and the outlook for the future.

Mr. Perry will be spending the next few days in the city on business in connection with the Daily News of which he is publisher.

Mr. Warner will return to Prince George on Sunday by car. His daughter, Beverly, came to Smithers with him and is visiting there with relatives while her father is on the coast.

Farm Aid Payments Are Highest Yet

OTTAWA — A government official yesterday estimated that federal payments under the Prairie Farm Assistance program would amount to more than $21,000,000 in the 1949-50 crop year — the highest in history. The official said drought and other conditions on the prairies were so unusually harsh that the government will be shelling out $3 for every dollar the Western farm paid into the Prairie Farm Assistance Fund.

Dean Swanson of Christ Church Cathedral officiated and pallbearers included George Bryant, W. E. Drake, C. H. Orme and J. H. MacLeod. Among those attending the funeral was John Bulger who returned to the city this week. Since the funeral Max Heilbroner has left for Ottawa with his daughter Mrs. Carson.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
Cool showery weather was spreading eastward across British Columbia this morning threatening to delay the late season even more. Clearing is expected along the coast this afternoon and in many sections of the interior tonight. As a result frost may be expected again overnight in almost all interior regions. A storm which moved eastward across British Columbia four days ago has now developed into major proportions in the American Middle West and is giving everything from blizzards over the Great Plains area to tornadoes and winds of hurricane force in Oklahoma and Texas. Heavy rains were reported close to the flood stricken areas with one point in Minnesota recording more than one inch in six hours. Regional forecasts valid until midnight Saturday.

North Coast Region — Cloudy today. Sunny tomorrow. Little change in temperature. Light winds. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow — at Port Hardy and Sandspit, 37 and 47; Prince Rupert, 38 and 52.

Bait Cupboard Is Bare - Bait Break, Fish Escape From Pounds

It was reported recently that the herring pound at Hunt's Inlet was minus herring when halibut vessels attempted to take on the small fish. Anxiety and frustration of halibut skippers is blamed for the breaking away of these nets. Too many vessels tying up at the pound caused the net to rip and herring escaped. And Hunt's Inlet is not the only pound in the same condition. Reports state that all along the coast, pounds were swept away. The halibut vessels, it is said, moved in too close and for various reasons, some may be mysterious, the wire nettings broke. Late last week persons along the waterfront could not help but chuckle as they visualized captains of vessels plying leisurely to the bait grounds and, upon finding no bait ground, return to a frozen fish centre in great haste.

One man in the fishing business along the coast said they were all "going crazy."

Russ Statement Dashes Hopes

FRANKFURT, Germany — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer charged today that 1,500,000 Germans were still missing in the Soviet Union. He demanded, in the name of humanity, that the Kremlin account for their fate. Adenauer made a special appearance before the West German Parliament at Bonn after he learned of last night's Soviet announcement that repatriation of German war prisoners had been completed. The Soviet statement dashed the hopes of families of hundreds of thousands of missing soldiers.

RUSS WANTS SMALL ONLY $5,000,000,000

LONDON — Moscow radio announced yesterday that Russia had decided to float a 20,000,000,000 ruble bond issue "for the rehabilitation and development of the national economy." At the current rate of exchange this would bring in the equivalent of $5,000,000,000. Such bond issues have been issued by the Russians at various times since the end of the war.

Occupation Role Changes

The end of the occupation — but not actual withdrawal of British, French and American troops — in about 18 months is the objective.

LONDON — The British Labor party retained Brighouse seat in a by-election yesterday and its majority in Parliament now stands at nine. The Labor candidate, L. J. Edwards, won with a majority of 437, about one-fifth of the majority in the February election. There was a combined Conservative-Liberal candidate who was defeated.

Terrace Board of Trade Wants More Action on Road Program

TERRACE — Strong disapproval of the public works program of work was expressed at Wednesday night's meeting of the Terrace and district Board of Trade in the Credit Union Hall. C. J. Norrington presiding. There appeared, it was said, to be a slackening up of the hard surfacing project for the highway which is especially needed on Lakelse Avenue to combat the dust nuisance. The Board has been advised by Victoria that Highway 16 must first be prepared for this hard surfacing through the towns and villages.

Nothing is being done, the Board heard, on three or four important projects on Kalum Road which affect the livelihood of the district. Mr. Bottomley will be asked about this and also what work is proposed for this district.

Hon. E. T. Kenney will be acquainted with the Board's dissatisfaction with the complaint that promises have been made, appropriations have been voted and nothing been fulfilled, and a committee will interview him when he comes here very shortly.

A recommendation will be sent to Victoria that, as the local works department have all they can handle with road maintenance, they should be left to do that and all new construction projects be let on contract.

The Board decided to endorse the Burns Lake nomination of George Ogston as provincial director and will seek the support of the Prince Rupert, Burns Lake, Smithers and Vanderhoop Boards of their nomination of Frank Dockerill for provincial vice-president.

Crux Of Situation

AS wide and complex as are the international questions of the day they all centre around one big problem — relations between the "two camps." When we talk about Germany we talk about Russia. When we talk of the Japanese peace treaty we talk of Russia. It is hard to think of a theme without Russia coming into it somehow.

For, when all is said and done these days, the dominant theme is that of the cold war. Is there any chance of ending it? If not, how is it to be waged so that, without yielding to "cold aggression," we can avert the danger of a hot war?

Of cardinal importance in any assessment of the situation and its possibilities is the assessment of the real intentions of the Soviet government.

At the present moment, Soviet propaganda harps incessantly on two themes, the theme for peace and the possible co-existence of the two systems. Does this indicate genuine desire, genuine willingness on the part of the Kremlin to reach a detente with the West to call, at any rate, a truce in the cold war? Is there an opportunity which wise statemanship could and would seize? It might be so. For Russia, as well as the West, must be finding the indefinite prolongation of the cold war both a costly and anxious business.

Here is a possibility which will not be overlooked in the forthcoming London talks of the three Western foreign ministers. It is, undoubtedly, this possibility that is taking Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations, to Moscow.

Unhappily Soviet practice has been to contradict Soviet propaganda. The usual tone of Soviet diplomacy is harsh, insolent and hostile—not the least the tone of men who would really like to make friends.

All Western statesmen and all Western people would be glad to see the cold war ended. But the cold war can only end if Russia is prepared to stop waging it. So far, she gives no practical sign of such desire. Instead she is waging it as vigorously and unscrupulously as ever.

Dean Acheson hit the nail on the head the other day. "There can, he said, "be no agreement, there can be no approach to agreement unless one idea is done away with. That is the idea of aggression and that word aggression includes not only military attack but propaganda warfare and secret undermining of free countries from within."

HALIBUT REGULATIONS

LOCAL fishing circles are finding it difficult to understand the announcement of the Minister of Fisheries, Mr. Mayhew, that no recommendations have yet been made on the matter of widening the scope of the International Fisheries Commission to regulate the halibut industry of the Pacific coast, giving the Commission more power on regulation authority. Mr. Mayhew speaks of "strong differences of opinion" but those differences of opinion certainly would not appear to be very prevalent among the fishermen here at least on the crux proposal to split the season, allowing an additional quota quantity for the late season.

It would be interesting to hear a further elaboration of the opposition to the increasing of regulatory powers of the Commission which, in any changes to be made, would be actuated, it is to be supposed, upon the wishes of the industry and the fishermen, governed, of course, by biological findings and assumptions as presented to the Commission by its conference board.

THE GAS LINE

MR. Mayhew is probably right in saying in Vancouver that all the British Columbia members, although there has been some confusion of the issue over whether further permits should be granted for the gasline to the Pacific Coast, desire an all-Canadian route. As things are, it is Ottawa that grants the permit, Alberta has some power to regulate gas export while British Columbia is anxious that its supply should be protected and that the pipe line route should follow the route most advantageous to the province as a whole.

Undoubtedly, there are some unclarified factors in the current disagreement owing to conflicting statements and hasty assumptions but it is natural that there should be general agreement on the idea of an "All Canadian" route and that the Yellowhead route should be supported in this part of the province—especially since the Legislature has gone on record as being unanimously in favor of it.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

It has been suggested in re-home for the past few years. The sponse quarters that, when Shrine Band seems to sound all British Columbia's new jail is built, the location will be in a part of this vast province, other than next door to Vancouver or New Westminster. Why not in Skeena, and cut out the 500-mile journey? Also, the north could use a fine, up-to-date brewery. Make the brew where you drink it. If anyone imagines we don't quaff beer in quantity, let him glance at the annual cost of refreshments.

For arguments sake, let it be assumed that, while there were whiskers, some who stampeded north neglected to develop a beard. The ladies preferred to remain smooth shaven.

Will the mounties be wearing the red coat in Rupert? It would not be the first time the scarlet tunic has been seen functioning in the north. For that matter, we have had them right here at Prince Rupert's City Hall is not so old as buildings go, but it's beginning to have that exhausted appearance, nevertheless. The city was incorporated in 1910 and, for a while the earlier municipal council sittings, took place, not in the present premises, but elsewhere. The first ever held was in a provincial government block near the museum. Later, there was a shift to the Bank of Commerce way down on Centre Street. But all this has nothing in particular to do with the place where they typewrite, ponder deeply, add up long columns, receive taxes, read reports and point fingers.

Viewed from the harbor, Dodge Cove on Dugby Island faintly re-tuned has been seen functioning in the north. For that matter, we have had them right here at the same handful of small, new buildings. The harbor, seen from Dodge Cove, is a picture of unusual beauty. Incidentally, the shores opposite Prince Rupert, some day, will be built on. There are advantages—earlier daylight, for example.

There will be just enough good humored acid to the annual dinner of the Ottawa press gallery tomorrow to make it anticipated with bit of apprehension. Top guests will be the Prime Minister and Governor General. Naturally enough, they will withdraw early. For there is to be much "off the record."

It is said of Wm. Lyon Mackenzie King that he excelled, when given the privilege of letting the weight of high office go hang. He could say lots of little things he oft yearned to, but couldn't. And he took impish pleasure in giving the press better than they sent. He revelled in the by-play and brisk exchanges. But then, he's an old newspaperman himself, isn't he?

UBC STUDENTS TO TERRACE

A group of University of British Columbia students arrived in the city by plane Wednesday enroute to Terrace. Students in forestry, they are employed by the Woodlands branch of the Columbia Cellulose Company, as cruisers and are to be based at Terrace.

PRIME MINISTER AND GIRL—Prime Minister St. Laurent in a tour of Western Ontario visited Dresden, the scene of a flurry last year when some restaurants refused to serve negroes. Mr. St. Laurent is shown holding on his knee an eight-year-old negro girl, Doris Roper. He chatted with her about school. In an address the prime minister stressed that Dresden's early settlers "recognized the freedom and liberty of the human being." The original Uncle Tom, who inspired Harriet Beecher Stowe to write her famous book, is buried near Dresden. (CP Photo)

Gyros Ready For Klondyke Night

Gyro Club members turned out at the Civic Centre last night for construction work in connection with the big Klondyke dance tonight which has been attracting so much attention and for which a bumper crowd is anticipated. Dancing will be the principal diversion of the evening but there will be plenty of carnival features and interest centres, of course, in the beard contest for which men of Prince Rupert have been for weeks nurturing their hirsute appendages.

Committee chairmen for the event are:

- Games—Robert McKay, jr.
- Food—Norman Baker
- Tickets and Door—George Dawes
- Money and office—Grant Stewart
- Costume Judging—Dr. A. W. Large
- Beard Judging—W. D. Lambie
- Coke Bar—Emil Blaine
- Checkroom—Frank Skinner

ROOKIE OF THE YEAR—Jack Gelineau, goalkeeper for Boston Bruins, is the 1949-50 winner of the Calder Trophy as outstanding N.H.L. rookie of the year. The Toronto-born youth, who jumped from inter-collegiate hockey to the Boston Bruins last season, yielded only 220 goals in 67 games and had three shutouts. Gelineau gained 39 points out of a possible 54 for the honor.

Louis' Shadow Haunting Ring

CHICAGO —The specter of Joe Louis haunted the heavy-weight scene today with National Boxing Association champion Edward Charles sidelined for at least 90 days with an ailing heart. Louis, 33, currently on an exhibition tour in Brazil, says Charles' possible retirement because of health "is going to change my plans."

Watching Baseball Perilous in Japan

TOKYO —Three gate crashers were trampled to death and 25 others injured today in a rush on the baseball park at Sendai, the Northern Japanese newspaper Asahi reported.

Danny Kaye In Riotous Comedy

Riotous display of song and dance, clowning and just plain acting are seen in Danny Kaye's big picture "Inspector General" which opened at the Capitol Theatre before large audiences last night and is being repeated tonight and Saturday. The theme of the picture, which is in technicolor, is mistaken identity which gives the entertainer a great chance of nonsense with a kick in it.

Kaye plays the part of a none to smart barker in a gypsy medicine show who is forced out of town by victims of his boss' nefarious business methods. He finds refuge in a graft-ridden village whose mayor mistakes him for the expected inspector-general. Fireworks then begin and never let up until the smashingly funny climax. Musical highlight is the popular number "Music for Three Heads." The supporting cast includes Walter Slezak, Barbara Bates, Elsa Lanchester and Gene Lockhart.

Basketball And Boxing

TERRACE—It is all basketball and boxing at the Civic Centre for the young boys these days. On Tuesday night an Athletic Club was formed at a meeting over which Nick Schmeling presided. Pat Johnson, was appointed secretary and Charles de Kergommeaux assistant trainer for the young boxers.

Five boxing bouts are being arranged for May 24 at the Civic Centre and the boys are being well trained by Nick Schmeling. Louis Tetreault is matched with Bobby Earl, Wayne Statham with Harvey Hobenshield, Pete Magnus with David Benoit and Pat Johnson with Douglas Cushman. Nick Schmeling will give an exhibition boxing bout with Chuck de Kergommeaux.

The Athletic Club is working towards membership in the Canadian Amateur Association.

Next Thursday, May 11, Chuck de Kergommeaux and his trainer Nick Schmeling, will leave for Prince Rupert to participate in a boxing card scheduled for May 12 there. If the Northern B. C. Boxing Championship takes place at that time, Chuck will challenge for Terrace anyone in his class weight—130-135. Nick is expecting interesting results from this. There is a possibility that another young boxer will be ready for Prince Rupert, but the others, here, have not had enough training for outside matches.

Honored By Terrace W.A.

TERRACE—A life membership, the highest honor that friends can bestow on a Woman's Auxiliary member, was the reward of 38 service in St. Mathew's W.A. her for Mrs. George Dover when, on Wednesday afternoon, the members gathered at the home of Mrs. C.L.M. Giggey to bid good-bye and wish Mrs. Dover a happy holiday. In presenting the certificate of life membership and pinning on the gold badge, Mrs. West paid tribute saying that "Mrs. Dover has worked with us and the Altar Guild for many years, doing at services in our beloved little church. She has labored in every way for the Master and we know the wonderful help she and her family would gladly lend. She is taking with her the clasp of our hands the light of our eyes and the greetings of friend to friend. "She is richer far than some with their silver and gold, for she has all of the love of our hearts to hold."

The tea table, covered with a cutwork cloth, had a centre piece of daffodils in a silver basket flanked by white tapers in silver candle holders. Mrs. West and Mrs. E. S. Laird poured tea. Helping to serve refreshments were, Mrs. W. Robinson and Mrs. Hamlin. Mrs. Newhouser sang two solos with Mrs. Norrington accompanying at the piano.

Mrs. Dover left on Thursday's train to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. Griffiths, in Ocean Falls and from there to visit relatives in Vancouver, Calgary and Toronto. She expects to be away for several months.

Free Enterprise Seen in Action

How a big American manufacturing concern entered a small southern states community after its cotton crops failed and, through close co-operation of management and labor in the turning out of a superior product, brought prosperity and happiness to its people, was the burden of a picture which was shown at the luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club Wednesday to emphasize the benefits of the free enterprise system. The necessity of perpetual vigilance in the preservation of liberty and the heritage of opportunity. The picture was made available by A. S. Nickerson and was projected by Don Forward. Luncheon guests were Frank Clark of Prince George and Garnet Hull and A. B. Vance of Prince Rupert.

Fifty persons comprised the company and they were a motley lot in their variegated costumes. The soloists were Mrs. Bernice Evans with cyncopated minor piano chorcing, Len Sykes, with humor songs. A jutting number by Rusty Train and Reg Lavigne brought down the house. Piano duet by Mrs. Thompson and Will Williams was acceptable.

Two groups in close choral harmony of popular music, old and new, went over well with the company assisting in gesticulation and soft backgrounds.

NEW STETSON SERVICE FACTORY HAT RENOVATION

Here's what we in ONE WEEK

1. Your hat is stripped of all and thoroughly dry-cleaned.
2. Reblocked, refinished and to its correct shape on the block and flange.
3. Completely retanned to the style with a new leather carrying the proper Stetson marks.
4. Repacked and shipped within ONE WEEK of its receipt.

When your STETSON hat returned to us for treatment it is reprocessed and retanned by the same skilled workmen who made the hat originally. True, it will cost you a little more, but the return of your old hat looking like new will more than warrant the extra expense.

Ask your STETSON DEALER about this NEW SERVICE
