NELSON (CP)—A public works program to reduce unemployment was urged at the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention now in session here. Delegates said this would take part of the burden of unemployment insurance. The demand for such a program was introduced by the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association. The meeting also endorsed a resolution urging that private hospitals not be extended special tax privileges. It said that private hospitals were in the same category as any private business and should be taxed accordingly. Municipalities Minister MacDonald congratulated the municipalities on their improved financial position, but B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister, warned that the municipalities were facing into a "serious situation" complicated by overspending and insufficient regard for the realities of municipal financing.

Ball Race Is Tightened Up

NEW YORK—Detroit Tigers, New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox are all but tied mathematically for the leadership in the mad late season dash for pennant honors as a result of yesterday's Big League play. Detroit won over Philadelphia 12 to 4 and New York lost to Chicago 4 to 3 while Boston was idle. In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers took a doubleheader from Pittsburgh and closed the gap on the leading Phillies by a game and a half as Chicago won over Philadelphia with one run.

Municipal Meet Is Under Way

NELSON—Hon. R. C. MacDonald, provincial minister of municipalities, speaking at the opening here yesterday of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, suggested that the municipalities should stop asking the provincial government for more help now that they were receiving their share of the three percent tax. A resolution was passed proposing a plebiscite on the matter of daylight saving. Representing Prince Rupert at the convention are Mayor G. W. Rudderham, Ald. G. D. Frizzell, Ald. G. B. Casey and City Clerk H. D. Thain.

Income and Spending Here Above Level of Most Canadian Cities

NEW YORK (Special to the News)—Prince Rupert stands out as a rich market, with income and spending at a level above that of most other cities in Canada. This is brought out in a new, copyrighted survey of buying power, prepared by Sales Management, covering all sections of Canada and the United States. The high standard of living prevailing in Prince Rupert is indicated by the volume of retail business done in the past year. The local stores registered a sales total of $9,801,000, which was well above the city's quota. On the basis of its population it should have accounted for only .0730 percent of Canada's business. Actually, however, it did .1127 percent. The ability of local families to spend more was made possible by better incomes. The 2,900 families in Prince Rupert attained a gross income of $11,020,000 in 1949. Dividing the one by the other yields a per family

KOREAN WAR—Marines Continue Drive On Seoul

Heading for Heart of Capital City

TOKYO (CP)—United States Marines poured by thousands with tanks across the Han River today under protective fire and struck to within four miles of Seoul on the heels of fleeing North Koreans. Powerful vanguards of the 40,000-strong Allied liberation corps stabbed along tidal flats and rice fields toward the heart of the Korean capital. They expected to take it during the day. Another Marine column is massing on the southwest bank of the Han only a mile from Seoul. It was out to cross the river into the suburbs of Yang-hwa and Hongdunpo.

IN THICK OF IT—H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, one of Canadian destroyers operating under United Nations command in Korean liberation campaign.

At the same time the Army announced that South Korean Marines had landed and established a beachhead at Samchok on the east coast of Korea opposite Seoul. Marines swarmed across the Han River water barrier eight miles northwest of Seoul in amphibious tractors at dawn after being repulsed once in the darkness. They quickly hacked out a beachhead under half of Red machine gun and small arms fire and bursts of light artillery. Planes plastered Red communication lines within a 150-mile radius of Seoul, seeking to isolate the city.

Pacific Has Worst Crash
U.S. Bomber Down in Marshalls With 26 Lost
TOKYO—A United States Navy transport plummeted into the Pacific Ocean off Kwajalein yesterday, killing all 26 on board. The Navy said the crash was believed to be the Pacific's worst military air accident. The four-engine plane had nineteen passengers and crew of seven. Kwajalein is in the Marshall Islands.

Europe Defence Army in Making
NEW YORK—An early start on the actual organization of a military force to defend Western Europe against Russian aggression is foreseen by American officials here. Their prediction is bolstered by the expected arrival of British and French defence ministers for a conference with United States diplomats.

Stalinism Will Fail Because Its Wrong But Struggle May Be Long

NEW YORK (CP)—Sir Gladwyn Jebb, British ambassador to the United Nations, said last night that Stalinism eventually will fail because it is "morally wrong." In a speech prepared for delivery before the United States Council of the International Chamber of Commerce he expressed doubt that the United Nations could achieve its purpose as long as Russia persisted in its present attitude and he said the free world faced "an enormous challenge."

Germans Emerge From Purgatory
FRANKFURT—Forty six million West Germans today are emerging from the dark purgatory of the conquered. Their little capital, Bonn, on the Rhine, is to be the seat of the revived world power. Next year Germans will become masters of their own land and allies in the common defence of Europe. This is the meaning attributed to decisions at the Big Three foreign ministers' conference in New York.

New Health Task—Prince Rupert and Smithers Included In Sickness Survey
The most ambitious task of its nature ever to be undertaken in this country starts today when the Canada sickness survey gets into swing. Representative families from all over the Dominion have been chosen for the survey. There are 38 in Prince Rupert and 51 in the Smithers area. There will be strict records kept of all illnesses in these families over the period of a year. All information will be on a confidential basis. Names of surveyed families will not be on the cards returned to Ottawa on its completion. They will be used by the public health nurses making the survey in order to keep proper tract of their work. In British Columbia there are 2,200 households to be kept under observation. The public health nurses will be used as enumerators with the health unit directors acting as regional supervisors. Object of the survey is to gather authoritative data on factors making up causes for illness. Families chosen cover all income groups, occupations, living conditions, geographical locations, ages and environments. Allments covered will range from the sniffles and cut fingers to major illnesses and accidents. All data will be correlated to show incidence of different ailments with relation to conditions of living. Those organizing the survey say there will be no attempt to show one part of the country as being a more healthful place to live than another. Object is to find what the contributing causes to ill health are so that a successful attack may be made on them. The survey is organized on a

"Mercy" Doctor's Secretary Slain

HOOKSET, New Hampshire—The body of the pretty secretary of Dr. Herman N. Sander was found today in a brook behind her farm home. The girl, Helen Macleok, disappeared Monday. She had been employed for seven years as secretary for Dr. Sander who was acquitted last March of a charge of murder in the death of a cancer patient which was called a "mercy killing." Officials said the cause of death was not known immediately.

Navy Plane Down in Puget Sound With Seven of Personnel Perished

SEATTLE—Four hours after news had been received of the crash of a United States Navy transport in the Marshall Islands with loss of 26 lives, another Navy bomber went down in Puget Sound late yesterday, bringing death to seven more Navy personnel. The plane was a Navy four-engine Privateer carrying a crew of seven on a routine training mission out of Sand Point. The crash occurred near Whidby Island, about forty miles north of here.

Nude Paraders To Be Given Their Freedom

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Stuart Garson, minister of justice, today announced that 395 men and women Doukhobors, serving sentences up to three years' imprisonment for parading in the nude, will be released from prison in British Columbia. Sentences on 278 men and 117 women of the Doukhobor radical Sons of Freedom sect were imposed as a result of group infractions by nude parading, torch-bearing groups in the Kootenays. Recommendation for their release was made by a research committee appointed by the British Columbia government and came after the offenders had indicated their "desire to co-operate." The committee found that the exhibitions of nudism by the Sons of Freedom had taken place in remote areas and had been "impelled by beliefs peculiar to Doukhobors" in their campaign against materialism.

Confidence Vote Here

LONDON—By a margin of six votes, the Labor government last night defeated a vigorous attempt by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill to force its downfall and a new general election. The Labor party routed out some of its supporters from their sick beds to defeat by a margin of 306 to 300 a motion by Churchill, the Conservative leader, to put the House of Commons on record against placing the steel industry under state control by January 1, 1951. If the government had lost it would have meant its downfall and an immediate general election. But the vote in support of the government means now that, barring accidents, Prime Minister Attlee's administration will survive with its precarious majority until some time in 1951 at least. Despite the Labor victory in the House, Conservative and Independent newspapers called for Labor's resignation and a new election to try to end the political strife during the Korean war and east-west tension. "Only those Socialists who fear defeat at the polls can make a case against an election," said Lord Beaverbrook's anti-Labor Evening Standard.

U. K. Gives Big Order

VANCOUVER—A $20,000,000 lumber order from Britain was disclosed yesterday. It is the largest order that has been received in several years. The order, Britain's third this year, totals 260,000,000 board feet and is regarded as a guarantee of continued peak production for the industry in British Columbia. However, it is understood that prices are several dollars a thousand feet below those obtained in the United States market.

DAYLIGHT SAVING OVER VICTORIA

The coming week-end will mark the end of daylight saving for another year.

Local Leagues Also to Be Active Again—Player Negotiations Going on

With arrangements already tentatively made for four great teams of international fame to come here to punctuate the season, a big winter of basketball appears in store for Prince Rupert again this year. The moguls will be getting together soon to perfect the organization of the local leagues and teams for the local schedule which gives advance interest of being quite in keeping for excitement and enthusiasm with any that have gone before and there have been some good ones. The "Big Time" basketball teams for which negotiations are under way to come to Prince Rupert are the Harlem Globe Trotters, who were here two years ago and about whom the fans are still raving, the Chicago Red Heads, girls' professional team, the California Mohawks, who were in the city last winter, and the noted Helena, Montana, team. Visits back and forth between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan are, of course, an institution and will take place as a matter of course, it is expected. Prospects are that there will be three Senior teams again this winter—Co-ops, for sure, Browns, woods, possibly, and likely a Watson Island aggregation. Talk is that there will be no High School team in the Senior loop this winter but that there will be two teams in the Intermediate League. Ladies' and Juniors' leagues will operate as usual. Player transactions are already reported to be going on.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
A flow of moist Pacific air has brought cloudy conditions to the coast and northern sections of the province. Increased cloudiness is expected over the remainder of the province tomorrow. Rain was general over the north coast during the night and is expected in that region again tomorrow. Temperatures in most sections tomorrow will be a little lower than today.

Forecast

Something Must be Done

UNLESS something is done to put a stop to inflation, which is rearing its ugly head higher and higher these days in increased prices and costs, it will cause untold hardship to all segments of society. Many are fearful of the ultimate results of the present trend and would appear to have good reason to be so fearful.

Already the lot of the middle class, the existence of which has been said to be the main reason why North America now leads the world, is very difficult.

Nicolas Lenin, that master revolutionary, knew whereof he spoke when he declared that the liquidation of the middle class through high taxes was the surest way of ensuring the success of communism. High taxes and inflation are twins—perhaps almost Siamese twins. Encourage the growth of one and you inevitably encourage the growth of the other.

Some years ago the Oxford University Press published a pamphlet entitled Canada's Burden of Taxation. In that slim volume appeared these words:

"... As soon as an inflationary movement gets under way, there begins a silent redistribution of opportunities and of wealth, among the various classes and individuals in a society—with inevitable injustices to some, whose misfortune it is that their incomes, in terms of dollars, are relatively fixed, at a time when other individual dollars are steadily losing purchasing power.

"The pensioner and annuitant are immediate victims of an inflation. Holders of life insurance policies and of bonds and mortgages are likely to be victims also. As a whole, the so-called 'white-collared class' have little if anything to gain, and stand to lose a very great deal, in a serious inflationary move.

"Skilled workers whose rates of wages are, as a rule, adjusted to new circumstances at infrequent intervals and relatively slowly, are equally vulnerable.

"These are direct and for the most part obvious conclusions. Reference to past experience here and elsewhere, during recorded periods of inflation, supplies an abundance of evidence in support of them; and as well, evidence of the strains endangering the social fabric as a whole, of which inflation may be the direct cause."

The truth of those words has become more apparent with the passing of almost every month since the end of World War II.

ECHOES OF STRIKE

THE railway strike has been a costly affair for the Canadian people. The millions of dollars lost to the railways and to strikers themselves are only a part of what has been lost to the country generally in the suspension of trade and commerce. From the point of view of the railway employee alone, the strike was injurious to their own interests. Whatever they may have gained in increased wage rates and reduced working hours, they have suffered the total loss of take-home pay, and they have deprived the railway companies of millions of dollars in income. So that the companies are now less able to meet the increased costs involved in the union demands than they were before. Moreover, the temporary suspension of railway services may result in the permanent diversion of traffic to other means of transportation.

The lesson to be learned from this strike—and it applies to all strikes in these days of highly organized and integrated industries and services—is that employees cannot injure their employers without injuring their own vital interests. All industries, businesses and services depend for their maintenance and their very existence upon the good will and faithful co-operation between employees and management. Antagonism between the two is mutually destructive and suicidal. Extreme demands from one side or the other are bad business, and when they are carried to the extreme it is worse business for all directly and indirectly concerned.

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE FOR TODAY

"That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all caints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; and to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God." Eph. 3: 17-19.

Bible Speaker Is Coming Here

Local British and Foreign Bible Society is making preparations for the visit here this week-end of the general secretary, Rev. W. H. Hudspeth of Toronto. Mr. Hudspeth will arrive by train from the East tomorrow night and will fly to Vancouver Saturday. He will speak Friday night at a meeting in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Prior to coming to Canada, Mr. Hudspeth was general secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society in China. He went to China in 1909 and, as a pioneer missionary for 28 years, he came to know the country very well and was recognized as a man of great qualities of leadership. Colleague of the famous Samuel Pollard as a Bible translator, he translated the Old Testament into the language of one of the important tribes of Chinese. As general secretary of the Bible Society in China, he had charge of the publication of Chinese scriptures which ran over four million copies a year. On October 29, 1942, he was seized by Japanese authorities and imprisoned in a torture chamber where he was kept for three months before being changed to concentration camp.

Toronto Railway Chief is Visitor

Walford, general superintendent for the Canadian National Railway's at Toronto, arrived in the city on the Prince George this morning from Vancouver in the course of a western trip and will leave for the East on this evening's train. He is accompanied by E. E. Smith, freight traffic manager for the company at Toronto.

CALGARY—Roland Moffatt arrived back in Calgary with something in the stampede, football and hockey teams have been unable to win in the past year—a Dominion sports champion. Returning from the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, he brought with him the yo-yo championship of Canada.

As I See It

WHY WIVES WORK

MR. A. HAIGH is a bit mad at me for printing one working wife's letter. He says "I have read your column conscientiously with some admiration but the latter is all gone after reading your comment at the head of the column entitled Why Wives Work."

"Why don't the women come out honestly and say that the reason they work is to have an easier time than bringing up a family? Read your newspapers and see almost every day where a woman puts the kids to bed, goes on the prowl, something happens and it gets in the news. But in thousands of cases nothing happens except poor children cry themselves to sleep in unhappiness."

MRS. M.P. WRITES a very thoughtful letter. She says: "Women are people. You would be considered a crackpot if you suggested that all men are naturally farmers. . . . Yet that is what you have suggested in the case of women. In the beginning of civilization man was the provider, by hunting or fishing. Then as man's brain developed, the man who could build better houses than his neighbor built both his own and his neighbor's house, and his neighbor tilted both fields. Both families were better off. But the female? She went right on doing her own homemaking whether she was a cook or not. . . . Now after thousands of years of frustration, we round pegs in the square hole of homemaking are finally making progress toward female specialization, until we run up against the stone wall debate "Should Married Women be Allowed to Work?" Well, answer me this, Mr. Philpott: Should the Mayo Brothers be allowed to practice medicine, or should society force them back into their natural profession, down on the farm?"

Come, come, Mrs. M.P., you can't get ME into that blind alley argument, especially as I have written and spoken on YOUR side all my life.

I am not talking about the question of wives who work outside the home because they prefer that to housekeeping, and are able to arrange for a housekeeper in the home. I am talking about the thousands of wives who would much prefer NOT to have to work outside the house; and who in fact have to do TWO jobs under the present set-up—the one at business and the one when they come home.

WHAT I AM TRYING to get at is this: Is it true or false that both husband and wife have to work today to earn enough money to enable the family to live as well as families lived say in 1910?

Frank Ricketts writes: "In 1910 in Vernon, B.C., here were some prices: Sugar, 18 lbs. for 85 cents. Potatoes 100 lbs. for one dollar. Bread 5 cents a loaf. Tea 45 cents. Coffee 35 cents. Bottle of Scotch whisky $1.25. Leckie's work boots $4.00. Dress shoes $2.50 to $3. Stanfield's heavy underwear $1.50 to $1.75. Number 1 Coast fir (kilo dried) landed in Vernon $25 per thousand feet.

"Wages were: Laborers $2.75 per day. Plumbers $6 per day, carpenters $5 per day, plasterers $6. Room rent at hotel, $5 per week."

MR. T. W. EDWARDS of Stevenson, B.C., is the secretary of an organization called "The B.C.

Prices Institute" made a thorough study of cost in 1939 and compared with today's. The Institute figures that in 1939 an adult on the diet recommended as basic by our National Department of Health in 1940 only $10.55.

That seems to me that "Why Wives Work" is to work, or else the last eat.

Membership convener—Mrs. Bush.

Convener of Study Groups—Rev. L. G. Sieber.

A letter from the Ministerial Association was read asking the Association to take appropriate action in regard to the application by a group in the city for a licence to operate certain games. The Association was in agreement with the feeling of the Ministerial Association.

A letter will be sent to the Parent-Teacher Council protesting against the issuance of the licence.

The presentation of a Parent-retiring president, Mrs. H. C. Flood, in making the presentation on behalf of the association. Mr. Wilson referred to the splendid service Mrs. Flood had given in various capacities over a period of years and most recently as president. Her interest and ability had contributed largely to the success of the organization. Mrs. Flood thanked the members for the honor. She had enjoyed the work and wished the association continued success in the future.

Letters of thanks were received from the Unitarian Association acknowledging receipt of the donation of $40 towards the maintenance of an orphan in Europe. A photograph of the young Greek girl who was the one being taken care of was circulated among the members and a brief history of her case proved of much interest.

Mr. Sieber spoke on study groups. A lively interest is being shown by the members in this series and an active season is promised.

A film entitled "Safety Patrols" was much enjoyed. Community singing also was thoroughly enjoyed with Miss Yvonne Larson at the piano.

Mrs. Flood was in the chair until the installation of officers after which Mrs. Dominato presided. Mrs. P. Bond was refreshment convener. There was an attentive audience with new members showing a promising interest in the various activities of the association.

"PERLONS" TOO HOT, HAVEN'T GOT GLAMOR

NOTTINGHAM, England.—Perlon stockings made from a synthetic German yarn, were tried out by British scientists here. Guinea pigs were women members of the staff. Verdict: They look like cheap, shiny, plated rayon. They are so hot to wear they give a prickly heat in 10 minutes. Opinion of an onlooking male: "They haven't got glamor."

Mrs. Geoff Lambly, who recently returned to her home in Terrace after receiving surgical treatment in Prince Rupert, is reported to be making a satisfactory recovery.

Robert Hunter, who was identified with the local Royal Bank of Canada years ago, later became manager at Hazelton and for sometime was managing secretary of the Hazelton Hospital, is a visitor in the city. Mr. Hunter is now identified with the federal taxation department.

Peter Balanyk is being held by local police on a charge of creating a disturbance in connection with an incident at Bud's Cigar Store Monday night. Mrs. Sparky Smith received serious injuries to the eyes when struck by flying glass from a window smashed by Balanyk. Further charges may be pending.

Many Lawsuits After Noronic

CLEVELAND—Lawsuits seeking $4,909,527 from the Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd. have been filed in behalf of heirs of 85 persons killed September 17, 1949, when the ss. Noronic burned at Toronto. Other suits pending involve claims of about $6,500,000 for deaths, personal injury or property loss. The disaster claimed a total of 119 lives.

Mrs. Grant Of Wrangell Dies

Word was received in the city yesterday of the death at Wrangell of Mrs. Mary Grant, widow of the late John Grant and a resident of the southeastern Alaska town for many years. Mrs. Grant, who was well known to northern travelers, operated the Wrangell Hotel which she took charge of after her husband died many years ago. Mrs. Grant was one of the real pioneers of the Alaska coast.

Obstetrical Development

WINNIPEG.—Winnipeg General Hospital, in a brochure celebrating opening of its new maternity pavilion, recalls that its first maternity section more than 60 years ago had only 17 beds.

In 1888 custom dictated that all women who could were delivered at home," writes Dr. Ross Mitchell, head of the hospital's honorary consultant staff.

"This left for a maternity hospital only four classes—unfortunate girls, the destitute, rural patients who had no friends with available homes in the city, and those whose labors were expected to be extra difficult or hazardous."

Today Winnipeg has seven maternity hospitals with 282 beds.

Cortisone Is Coming Here

Cortisone, the much discussed new remedy for arthritis and other rheumatic ailments, so far only available in the larger cities such as Vancouver and Victoria, is coming to Prince Rupert but, before it comes, there must be assurance that local medical practitioners know how to use it.

Accordingly, Dr. L. M. Greene and Dr. A. W. Large are leaving tomorrow night on the Prince George for Vancouver to take a special course therein and either Dr. L. W. Kergin or Dr. W. S. Kergin expect to go south by plane on Saturday.

Dr. Greene and Dr. Large will be accompanied by their wives. They are also to attend the annual meeting of the British Columbia Medical Association.

Mount Juneau Is Risky Climb

JUNEAU—Mount Juneau appears to be a risky region for sea faring youths. It will be remembered that a few years ago, an American sailor on shore leave at Juneau, went climbing by himself. Failing to return, a search party went out, finally locating his body. A fall had killed him.

A week or so ago, a former marine, John Crawford of Sunny-side, in Washington, now serving on a government vessel up north, undertook to take pictures of the mountain. He went alone. He fell down the face of a cliff, and suffering from shock and cut and bruised, was rescued by an emergency party.

Among passengers on the Prince George when she docked here today were Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Owens, Winnipeg, Mr. Owens is regional counsel for the C.N.R.; R. E. Taylor, engineer of buildings, Winnipeg; C. E. Smith, freight traffic manager CNR, Toronto; N. A. Walford, general superintendent CNR Toronto, and F. N. Siebert, Industrial commissioner also arrived.

Terrace Enjoys Song Cavalcade

TERRACE—A "Cavalcade of Song," a Basil Horsfall origination, with artists from Vancouver's "Theatre Under the Stars" was produced at the civic centre auditorium on Friday evening to a delighted crowd of about 150 people. For many, it was their first introduction to such music as presented personally by the artists. It was a thrill long to be remembered. The fine stage and large hall were admirable for the entertainment.

For those who saw the artists here last year, it was an anticipated treat which more than lived up to expectations. The absence of Basil Horsfall, whose wonderful hands had made the piano fairly talk as he accompanied the artists, was felt by those who had seen him before and realization has come of this man's singular endeavor to place before the Canadian public such a fine form of entertainment which will keep Canadian talent at home. Tribute was paid to Mr. Horsfall's memory by George McAdams as he introduced the artists to the audience. Easy to understand and enjoy, the words of the operas were in English and the imagination could easily supply the elaborate scenery, costumes and supporting cast of the actual opera. The artists were, Vera Bryson, soprano; Win. Hutt, mezzo-soprano; Derek McDermot, baritone and Earl Norman, tenor and pianist Reg. Hawken.

At the conclusion of the program George McAdams presented Miss Bryson and Miss Hutt with corsages donated by a "lady of Terrace who is a lover of beautiful music."

The program consisted of three parts:

Part I, Act II (in costume) of Tales of Hoffman.

Part II—"The Geisha" with the songs "Jewel of Asia," "The Interfering Parrott," "The Kissing Duet."

From "Naughty Marietta," "Southern Moon," "I'm Falling in Love," "Italian Street Song."

From "The Country Girl," "Two Little Chicks," "Rajah of Bong."

"Finale Act 1" From Lady Madcap, "I Like You in Velvet."

From Carmen "The Card Song," "Micaela's Aria," "Duet—Don Jose and Escamillo."

From "The Great Waltz," "Tales from Vienna Woods," "With All My Heart," "Love and War," "One Day When We Were Young," "The Blue Danube."

Stewart Bride, Groom Honored

STEWART—Friends in large numbers gathered at the Canadian Legion Hall here Thursday night to honor and welcome home Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McKenna following their return home to Stewart after their marriage.

Court whist was played with Mrs. J. A. Stewart, Mrs. H. Wilkinson, John Bouzek and Ernest Love winning the prizes and then delicious refreshments were served.

Highlight of the evening's proceedings came when Mrs. John McLeod, president of the Legion Women's Auxiliary, presented the guests of honor with a Mixer, the gift of the men and women of the Legion.

Mr. McKenna replied suitably. The groom is Stewart's druggist and has been here about fifteen years, being highly esteemed and popular in the community. Mrs. McKenna, who taught school here for two years, is equally esteemed.

USK BOY DIES FROM MEASLES

TERRACE—Complications from measles followed by bronchial pneumonia caused the death of two-year-old George Kennedy, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Kennedy of Usk, recently. Funeral services were held in the Knox United Church on Friday afternoon with Rev. P.M. Mallett officiating. The hymn "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" was sung by the sorrowing congregation. Interment took place at the Kalum Cemetery, pallbearers being Rufus McDames, Willard Seymour, Fred McKenzie, Tom Bevan. Many lovely flowers covered the tiny casket. Principal mourners were the child's parents and other close relatives.

ARMY WEEK — While the Canadian Army's special force is busy preparing for its overseas role with the United Nations there has been no let up in training and exercises for the other branches of the Army in cities and towns across the country wherever there are units of the Active or Reserve Force available to put on a display. With the impetus given to recruiting for the Army by world events during the past few months the general public are more than ever interested in what is happening in their Army. This happens to be Army Week in Canada. The following photos show some aspects of the training which has taken place during the past year.

1. Canadian Army snowmobiles proceed along the Alaska highway during Exercise Sweetbriar.
2. Glider-borne troops secure the approach to the River bridge after landing during Exercise Eagle.
3. COTC cadets training at the RCME School, Barrabarra are shown receiving instructions on the PIAT gun.
4. Members of the Royal Canadian Regiment are here preparing to put up a lean-to bivouac during active training in the Petawawa, Ontario, area.
5. Reserve Force men load their 5.5 field gun at the Canadian School of Artillery, Shilo.

KELLOGG'S ASTHMA RELIEF

... add a pinch of bauxite "

It is a recipe for a bigger, richer, more comfortable Canada. The "pinch" is scores of shiploads of the red earth — bauxite — from British Guiana. A three-thousand-mile ocean journey ends at Port Alfred on the Saguenay River. Then the bauxite goes by rail to the electrical "kitchen" at Arvida a few miles away. There aluminum is refined from the bauxite by using electricity provided by harnessing the same Saguenay.

You see, the Saguenay provides two essentials for making aluminum — deep water for cargo ships and catamarans for power — within a few miles of one another.

Standing on the dock at Port Alfred, you see something unique. You watch freight cars filled with bauxite disappear over a hill and return with shining aluminum. The process of turning bauxite into aluminum has added Port Alfred and the city of Arvida to Canada's living space, and opened new opportunities for thousands of Canadians.

Overwaitea Ltd., under the supervision of Manager Bernie Lane, has taken the opportunity of opening the first modern grocery store in Prince Rupert. It has all the modern conveniences for helping the housewife in her selection of her daily grocery needs.

Upon entering the store, situated to the left, is a sixteen foot vegetable stand with a fine selection of fresh fruit and vegetables. A clerk will be located at this stand to assist in weighing and wrapping items. Immediately after the fruit and vegetable section follows the display of canned vegetables, canned fruits, fruit juices, desserts and pet foods. Then there is a specially constructed display fixture containing household cleaners of all kinds. Then soaps, bleaches and paper products.

To enable Mother to select a complete assortment of baby foods, there is a fluorescent light fixture displaying all that is good for Baby.

Following up the right hand section of the store one comes to the hot and dry cereals, heat and eat lines, such as soups, canned meats and a variety of canned sea foods.

Through the centre of the store is a specially built gondola which will display bread, cakes and a large assortment of cookies and candies.

SHOPPING PROCEDURE

"Simply Superb" Says Stokowski

LONDON—Kathleen Ferrer's voice is simply superb," says Leopold Stokowski. Commenting on her performance in Mahler's "Das Lied Von Der Erde," the renowned conductor said the English girl's voice was "full and beautiful the intonation perfect, the phrasing so elastic and the interpretation so eloquent."

In this particular work, Kathleen sings the mezzo-soprano part, but she ranges through soprano and contralto with equal facility. Her singing career started as the result of a bet.

While working as a telephone operator, she entered an English music festival as a pianist. For a wager, she also competed in the singing division and won a first prize.

RAPID SUCCESS

A period of training led to her professional debut and success followed success. Her reputation spread rapidly and she found herself singing in the leading opera houses and concert halls of the world.

Among her outstanding performances was that in "Das Lied Von Der Erde" at the first Edinburgh Festival, which led to an invitation to sing the work under Bruno Walter in New York.

At this year's Edinburgh festival, she sang Brahms' alto Rhapsody for contralto and orchestra.

Born and brought up in Lancashire, Kathleen left school at the age of 14. She entered the post office as a telephone operator, studying piano with little idea of a music career until the wager won her international acclaim.

Mrs. C. V. Sutherland will leave soon for Vancouver to be away about three weeks.

Kay Reflects and Reminisces

It may be said with some degree of accuracy, that Peck McSwain who died in Northern British Columbia not so many years ago, was the last of the 'ramp printers' who flourished in this part of Western Canada. He might have been nifty with a linotype, as well but when talk turned on McSwain, it was to think of him as a printer who had seen much and managed to extract a great deal of fun out of life. Born in Ontario, he rarely remained long anywhere. If he ever lived in what might be considered headquarters, the place could have been in this province. As a craftsman, Peck had wide and picturesque experience in all kinds of places and among all sorts of people. He toiled in printshops large and small, and few excelled him anywhere in the scope of his friendships and acquaintances, and the number of his anecdotes, as well as amusing escapades.

Peck could sing, although he made no vehement professions. He could dance, as well, an accomplishment greatly enhancing one's social powers. He could, and did, play many a -practical joke, displaying in this direction an undoubted ingenuity, although perhaps the victim did not always share this view.

He was getting along in years when he drifted north to work in the office of a weekly published in Stewart. It may not be generally known that for years Stewart had its paper, and so continued until the passing of its proprietor. There was no successor. It was while he was in Stewart that McSwain experienced a stroke, but this did not overcome his breezy personality. Often, in after days, he was a familiar figure on the streets of Prince Rupert—slightly below the average size, quiet and observant, and invariably good company.

While on the subject of printing and printers, perhaps this is the time and place to say it's a long distance between Peck in Stewart, and a little paper published in Bloemfontein, Union of South Africa, fifty years ago, and called "The Friend". That's one sheet he never did behold, or have anything to do with. It may be in circulation yet.

The Friend was colored pink, ran four pages, any old kind of makeup appeared good enough, and was printed partly in Dutch and partly in English. Frequently there would be proclamations with the signature of the British Commander in Chief, Lord Roberts. It appeared every now and then. There was never a time when the Friend was not welcome. There must have been something in the name. Troops were only too glad to get their hands on anything resembling a newspaper.

The Friend printed poems, letters, wiregrams, wisecracks, alleged news. We mailed three or four copies home to Canada, but they never arrived. Bloemfontein had plenty of newspapers—most of them black. They would come skimming out to the camps, each trying to outpace the other and be first to make sales. Bloemfontein then had, only a few months previously been the capital of the Orange Free State—little better than a far away small town. Peck would have felt quite at home—at least for a while.

Timely Topics from Terrace

Mrs. C. R. Newhouser, Terrace Reporter

Lawrence (Bud) Kirkaldy arrived on last Thursday's train from the east to spend a month's holiday with his parents here. Mr. and Mrs. S. N. G. Kirkaldy. "Bud" was fortunate as he was granted an extra week's holiday after being one of a naval escort for William Lyon Mackenzie King's funeral.

A blacksmith shop, the property of Jack Gurdie of Prince Rupert, was completely destroyed by fire at 4:45 a.m. Saturday. The fire was well advanced before the alarm was turned in and nothing much could be done to save anything. Blacksmith Ted Johnston, father of Terrace's largest family of 16 children, has lost all his blacksmith equipment, the loss being quite heavy.

David Gillanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gillanders, left on last Thursday's train to attend the University of British Columbia where he will take a medical course.

Mrs. D. Collins, wife of Mr. D. Collins, arrived from the south during the week to make her home here, where her husband is practising law.

Mrs. T. Brue, Anita and Jeanette, returned on Saturday night's train from Edmonton where they have spent the past two months holidaying with relatives.

Mrs. E. S. Laird leaves on Thursday to attend the Conference of the Canadian Cancer Society which is being held in Vancouver the next week.

Members of the Rebekah Lodge were out on Saturday selling tags for the Canadian Institute for the Blind. The weather being warm and sunny many people were out of doors and the taggers had a prosperous day, the proceeds being turned in to Ben Dodds who had charge of the canvass here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gavan and daughter Joan left by car at the week-end on a two weeks' holiday in the south. Their son Francis is a student at the Vancouver College.

Harold Baxter and Dave Bain were elected president and secretary, respectively, at Tuesday night's meeting of the Bowling League held in the Civic Centre. The leagues will be getting started soon as the teams are made up.

Norman Bryant and Phil Davies, representatives of Continental Research of Vancouver, are in town on business which includes conferring with the director of the Civic Centre and those interested in the moral welfare of the child to prevent juvenile delinquency.

Mrs. Pat McIlroy and three children left on Tuesday morning's train for their new home in Winnipeg.

Miss Irene Haugland and Miss Doreen Murie returned on Tuesday morning's train from Vancouver where they have spent the past two weeks on holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry King are leaving on Saturday morning's train for Telkwa where they will spend a week or ten day holiday with their nephew, Leslie Donaldson and his wife on their farm, about ten miles out of the town.

Mrs. F. Baker and son Clarence returned to Prince Rupert with her son, Wilfrid and his wife and family who had spent the week-end here. She returned to Terrace on Tuesday morning's train. Clarence is still under medical care for his injured hand.

Mrs. P. Murie Jr. returned to Terrace on Tuesday morning's train from Vancouver where she went recently with her husband who had surgical treatment for a head injury. Pete Murie is progressing as favorably as can be expected.

Alan Dubeau left last week for Vancouver where he will resume his studies at the University of British Columbia. Alan has spent the vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Dubeau, and has been employed as part-time druggist at the local drug store.

Mrs. Percy Kennedy of Usk has been the guest of her sister Mrs.

McDames for the past few days but will be returning home next Friday. Her daughter, Hannah, has been a patient in the local hospital following measles.

Mrs. Osborne drove to Smithers on Friday night to visit her daughter, Mrs. E. Zorn. She returned to Terrace early on Monday morning. Accompanying her were Mr. and Mrs. H. Pache and small son, Teddy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Schroeder of Winnipeg arrived in Terrace on Tuesday night's train to spend a week or two on holiday with their son, Fred Baker. They will also visit their daughter, Mrs. Atwood.

Wingless Chickens Victims Of Crows

NEWPORT, Shropshire, England — The first all-English generation of "Shmoos," or wingless chickens, has created an unexpected problem for Newport residents. Since the chicks were hatched from eggs flown from America, the place has been swarming with crows.

Of 44 "Shmoos" that were hatched, the crows have already killed and feasted on 15 of them. Up to the age of six weeks, the chicks get bowled over in the stampede when the crows swoop. They roll around helplessly on the ground easy prey to the second flight of attackers while one luckier winged variety find safe shelter.

News of Francois Lake

Bob Eaton returned this week after being away for three months on a packing trip 400 miles north of Vanderhoof for the Consolidated Smelting and Mining Company. At the week-end he and Mrs. Eaton and young John moved to their new farm near Vanderhoof.

Joe Hendricks is back again from Seattle for his annual holidays in his summer home west of here on the lakeshore. He came up by truck, bringing materials for modernizing his home, which with new fence, modern blue roofing and many other improvements, is now very attractive. It has a new name—"Summers Rest."

Nils Walle, H. Braat and Hans Hamre have returned from a trip to Vancouver in the Hamre car. Although it was quite warm they thoroughly enjoyed their trip.

Mrs. Holtz has moved to Burns Lake and is living in her home on Gerow Island.

Dutch New Guinea Is Developing

SINGAPORE. — The Netherlands is planning a new country in Dutch New Guinea, refuge of the Dutch since the transfer of sovereignty in Indonesia, even though its fate still hangs in the balance.

New Guinea's governor, S. L. J. Van Waardenburg, disclosed a vast development program to open up the country, estimated to cost 30,000,000 guilders (about $8,400,000), here on his way to The Hague to consult with the Netherlands minister for union affairs.

Indonesia has demanded the transfer of West New Guinea to the republic and President Soek-arno warned the Netherlands during the recent independence celebrations that a grave situation would arise if the territory is not turned over by the end of the year.

Soekarno said Indonesia would fight, if necessary. A top-level conference between Indonesian and Netherlands ministers to decide the future of the Dutch portion of the huge jungle-covered island at the eastern end of the Indonesian Archipelago is scheduled late this month.

Governor Van Waardenburg, in turn, made New Guinea's stand clear. He said "the armed forces of New Guinea, backed by the people, will fight any attempt at invasion." The governor said New Guinea had 1000 troops, 500 navy men, a cruiser and 10 amphibian craft.

REFUGE FOR EUROPEANS
Van Waardenburg said New Guinea's European population has increased from 1,000 to 10,000 since the Indonesians took over in Java. The newcomers are living in makeshift houses built of discarded U.S. Army scrap.

The settlers, he said, are sticking it out in primitive conditions, determined to carve out a prosperous new country. In the last six months they have imported about $700,000 worth of equipment from Singapore for initial projects.

Van Waardenburg said the development program includes building of a new, modern Hollandia as the capital, along with new harbor and roads, exploration of the country's mineral resources, and development of the fishing industry.

The governor said at present the island is producing oil and a few vegetable crops. Standard Oil and Shell are among the companies drilling for or producing oil.

About 350,000 of New Guinea's 1,500,000 native population are under regular administration, the governor said. The development program would include bringing the remainder—mostly Kapaukus, a pygmy race—under government control.

Doffs Dental Coat For Deckhand's Job

NANAIMO. — A youthful Fiji Island dentist has taken time off from his drills and pliers to see the world as a deckhand on the steamship Lakemba.

The dentist who'd rather explore the world than his patients' mouths is 29-year-old Dr. Johnnie Sogeta, who took a six-months' leave of absence last July from the Colonial War Memorial Hospital in Suva to ship aboard the Lakemba — which docked here to load cargo recently.

A chance meeting with a sailor may have prompted the barrel-chested native's decision to doff the white coat of his profession in favor of a deckhand's dungarees.

The Lakemba's quartermaster, Willie Wilder, lost his teeth on a trip and came to Sogeta's office in Suva for replacements. Shortly after Sogeta made the switch from syringes to winches.

The sea-going dentist is also an expert under-water swimmer. He took time off from lounging at the Nanaimo Yacht Club to give into deep water to recover a pair of glasses dropped overboard from one of the boats moored there.

Sogeta's ship is an 11,000 ton Carpenter line vessel, carrying lumber for Fiji and Australia.

Question Of China

Special Committee of UN Studies Representation
NEW YORK. — The United Nations General Assembly opened its fifth session yesterday and immediately rejected a Russian-supported Indian proposal to give China's seat to the Communist Peiping government. Instead it adopted a proposal to set up a country committee to question Chinese action and report back to the Assembly. The vote was 49 to 17 with six abstentions.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky termed the assembly's action "incorrect" but he did not vote out of the jammed Chamber.

Miss Jean Travis of the Extension Department of University of British Columbia, will be here again soon to give a two weeks' course on various handicrafts at Civic Centre. The dates of this course have been set for October 9-20.

The course in leather carving is for advanced students who have previously done leatherwork. This course will be held in the evenings and will include leather inlay, coloring and saddle-stitching as well as some information on design and original pattern making.

Miss Travis is one of the foremost authorities on handicrafts of every type and her visit will be of interest to many.

The afternoon classes will include the other courses offered, such as stencilling, lino block printing and design.

The usual extension Department registration fee will be in effect and registrations can be made at the Civic Centre.

This course will be co-ordinated with the regular adult leathercraft courses which commence during the first week in October. The Civic Centre courses are open to all Civic Centre adult members and are held on Monday and Tuesday evenings
