Western Powers Invited To Leave Danube

Pull Out If They Like Conference

Vishinsky Does Not Like Them to Will Stand by Their Rights

OTTAWA, (CP)—Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister, told western powers' representatives at the Danube conference that, if they persisted under conditions, "the door would be closed to leave." After Adrian Thierry of France said that his country could not accept the majority vote of the conference unless it recognized existing treaties, Vishinsky said: "This is not the language of co-operation but of command."

Both French and British delegations had said they would insist that they retain their rights under the 1921 Danube convention even if the results of the conference go against them.

Vishinsky said: "This is not the language of co-operators but of masters." The conference is dominated by Soviet-controlled nations.

CANNOT TAKE EMPIRE GAMES
VANCOUVER, (CP)—Ald. Sam Cromie said yesterday that lack of facilities is a bottleneck to plans to have the British Empire Games here in 1950 and said the city council will probably "throw the idea out."

There will be another meeting before August 9 but Cromie believes nothing can be done until 1954.

Probed As Communists
Benchers' Hearing at Vancouver Attracting Much Interest
VANCOUVER, (CP)—In an all-day probe by benchers of the British Columbia Law Society on Friday, Gordon Martin, University of British Columbia law graduate, who is being investigated for alleged Communist party affiliation, and two witnesses refused to state whether they belonged to the party. They said that their political affiliations were of no concern of the benchers.

Martin, who seeks admittance to the bar, and Norman Littlewood, who is seeking acceptance as a law student, were before a hearing in camera for more than five hours. Littlewood was accepted by the benchers Martin's hearing is taking place today.

Littlewood was president of the Labor-Progressive Party Club on the campus last term.

The investigation has aroused keen interest among British Columbia lawyers who are taking sides on the question of disbarring candidates from the profession because of political opinions.

NEWFOUNDLAND TO BE TENTH PROVINCE BY JULY 1st NEXT

OTTAWA—The government will recommend to the next session of Parliament that Newfoundland be accepted into Confederation as the tenth province of the Dominion of Canada. This was officially announced last night by Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King. Representatives of Newfoundland will soon be here to negotiate terms of union by which Newfoundland will be a part of the Dominion.

The Prime Minister said it would seem that the result of the recent plebiscite in Newfoundland in favor of union with Canada had been "clear and beyond possibility of misunderstanding." It gave 77,869 votes for joining Confederation with Canada and 71,464 for responsible government by Newfoundland itself.

The government will be "glad to receive with the least possible delay authorized representatives of Newfoundland to negotiate the terms of union," Mr. King said in an 800-word statement.

It is believed these terms of union will be reached and ratified by Parliament in time for Newfoundland to join Canada by next July 1, the 82nd anniversary of Confederation.

The election of a provincial government on the island, it is believed, will not take place before next June.

Newfoundland is the tenth largest island in the world. Its acquisition will make Canada larger in territory than all Europe.

The Island's population is 335,000 which will make the total population of Canada about 13,000,000. Newfoundland will be entitled to six or seven seats in Parliament.

One of the Island's advantages is its strategic importance as a military base. During the last war United States obtained three bases, including St. John's on 99-year leases. These leases will not be interfered with by Canada.

Newfoundland has a public debt of $63,000,000. Her public revenue amounts to about $20,000,000 a year while her expenditures are $27,000,000.

Moscow Giving Allies Run-Around; May Try To Blockade Air Lift

BERLIN, (CP)—German non-communists today charged Moscow with giving the western powers the run-around in attempts to settle the Berlin crisis. The Social Democrat, official organ of the Socialist party, expressed skepticism over reports that Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov is absent from Moscow on vacation while western diplomats were attempting to approach him.

United States, meantime, made plans to step up the air lift amid rumors that Russia may try to close one or more of three lanes which western power planes are using to fly supplies to Berlin. A responsible officer said that the Americans will continue to fly supplies. "The only way they can stop us is to shoot us down," he said.

WASHINGTON D. C.—Elizabeth Pearl Bentley, who acted as an agent for Russia, told a public hearing by a congressional investigation yesterday how she collected information from government officials and passed it on to the Russians. One of her principal informants she revealed, had been William Remington, chairman of an important air production committee, which was directly charged with seeing that information did not get to Russia.

Miss Bentley also received information from agents in Canada and Mexico which she passed on to an agent in New York for transmission to Russia.

Pair of Mines Sighted Off West Q. Charlottes

Seen in Kelp Bed Off Hunter Point Near Wreck of Kennecott

Two mines, supposedly of Japanese origin from the war, were reported today to the marine department here by the master of the fishing vessel Betty M. to be floating in a kelp bed close to shore on the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands. The location of the mines is near the wreck of the steamer Kennecott off Hunter Point. Latitude is 53 degrees 15 minutes north and longitude 132 degrees 43 minutes.

Naval service has been advised and disposal measures will, it is expected, be taken.

The waters in which the latest mines have been sighted are frequented by fishing vessels, particularly of the trolling fleet.

KRUPPS ARE CONVICTED
On Charges of Plunder—Slave Labor Allegations Now
NUERNBERG, (CP)—Alfred Krupp and five other executives of the former great German arms manufacturing organization were convicted today by a United States court of plundering occupied territory during the last war. They were found guilty of moving plants out of France into Germany. They are now to be tried on charges of using slave labor.

Judge Paul M. Herbert, who dissented yesterday from sentences imposed upon 13 directors of the I.G. Farben chemical trust because he believed the sentences too light, declared that he felt 20 of the 23 defendants should have been convicted of mistreating slave labor. Only five were actually convicted on that count. Eight others were convicted on lesser counts and 10 were acquitted altogether.

Three Years For Seaman
MONTREAL — A seaman, Ronald Walsh, was sentenced to three years in penitentiary here yesterday for having boarded the steamer Kinimount here last June when damage was done and members of the crew, rival unionists, were beaten up. The judge said it was "nothing short of piracy."

HOW WILL IT END?

THE SPIRAL of inflation continues to whirl upwards. All signs that there might have been, that prices are to be levelled off and wages held appear to have come to naught. The spiral is moving upward. When and where will it end? That is a question which even the most unthinking of us are becoming conscious. The fear now is that pressures of inflation may explode out of control and subside in a disastrous deflation.

Even if the boom stabilized as things are at present, there would have to be adjustments within the level, especially on behalf of the unorganized worker, the annuitant and the pensioner. The cost of living is at an almost all time high. Savings of $1000 a few years ago are hardly worth $750 now. And those who can still save feel the pressure not to save and lose but to spend and thus reinforce the upward push.

RUSSIA DIFFICULT

MR. STALIN and Mr. Molotov seem to do a lot of holidaying. Of course they might as well say they are holidaying as anything else. The fact is they do not want to talk with us about the general European peace situation. The present state of general unsettlement and uncertainty is just the way they like to have things and to say they are indefinitely holidaying when we would like to talk to them just keeps up the irritation which they like so much.

Meantime, we are getting nowhere on the diplomatic level and the "cold war" or "war of nerves," as we may like to call it, continues with no let-up. If the Soviet wants to be aloof and uncompromising, we will have to be the same, although the great game of pressure poker will still have to come to a showdown some time.

The whole thing, of course, is making it very difficult to get along with the serious business of ironing out the difficulties which continue to hold much of the world in hardship, tenseness and passive conflict.

CLEARING THE AIR

CANADA'S fiscal situation will, doubtless, come in for consideration at both Liberal and Conservative national conventions for high level economic matters may be expected to receive some attention amid the mundanity of matters strictly political and vote-catching which will, of course, be featured.

It may be good business and there is no denying the stability of Canada from the sound financing angle but, just the same, it is a little difficult for the public to see a staggering federal surplus on the one hand and continuing oppressive taxation on the other. No doubt there will be airing of views on this and other matters at the Liberal convention and there may be some sharp differences of opinion expressed in the course of democratic debate.

As Liberals and Conservatives go about the business of choosing their new leaders, the rank and file may be expected to seek a new deal all around on many matters. And the upshot of the whole thing may be clearing of the air on a number of subjects from the governmental as well as other standpoints.

CHURCH

SATURDAY SERMON

WELLS OF SALVATION

By Ven. Archdeacon E. Hodson, St. Peter's Anglican Church
"Therefore with joy ye shall draw water out of the well of Salvation."—Isaiah 12:3.

The text is probably a reference to that passage in the book of Exodus where the children of Israel after crossing the Red Sea "came to Elim, where were twelve springs of water, and three score and ten palm trees."

In memory of the encampment there, there grew up the custom of keeping a feast in memory of their wilderness experiences, which was called the "Feast of Tabernacles," nacies."

The whole nation left their homes and resided for a week in tents made of green leaves and branches of the palm trees.

On the last day of the feast, "The Great Day of the Feast" as it was called in St. John's Gospel, the priests formed a procession and, with the temple band, timbrels and silver trumpets, passed through the water-gate, down a magnificent flight of steps to the pool of Silvan.

Each priest produced a golden vase, filled it with water from the pool, and falling into line behind the musicians marched back to the temple. Here they formed a circle round the altar, and to the chanting of the words of my text each priest emptied his golden vase upon the sacrifice.

It was at the close of one of these celebrations in the temple that "Jesus stood and cried, if any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink."

Think of the extraordinary claim involved in that invitation.

God, being the true fountain of Salvation, Jesus plainly put himself in the place of God. He plants Himself over against the whole of the human race and professes that He can satisfy every thirst of every soul, through all the ages. Every craving of heart and mind, all longings for love and wisdom, for purity and joy, for strength and guidance, He assumes to satisfy by the gift of Himself.

There is only one conclusion we can reach if Jesus said these words and made this claim and that is, that He who spoke them is God manifest in the flesh, the everlasting Son of the Father.

The use of water as a figure for salvation is most appropriate. For water is not merely a luxury, it is a necessity.

We notice in reading our Old Testament how strenuously the tribes fought for the possession of the wells. To hold the wells was to hold the country.

In the East water is recognized as the gift of God. Listen to the water seller passing through the streets of Cairo or Alexandria: What does he cry? Not water, water, but "the gift of God, the gift of God."

What then is this salvation of which the water is a symbol.

It is, first of all escape from something. "Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things that are written in the Book of the Law to do them."

It is escape from that curse.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickens Honored on Golden Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. DICKENS

A bride and groom of half a century ago—Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dickens—were honored by 28 family members who gathered at their home at 210 Ninth Avenue West Friday evening for a golden wedding party.

Setting the atmosphere for the occasion was a large, three-tier wedding cake with golden adornments, which centred a lace-covered table. The rooms were profusely decorated with large vases of gladioli, sweet peas and carnations. The cake was baked by Mrs. William Rothwell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dickens, and was cut by Mr. and Mrs. Dickens as they received the congratulations of the family. Pictures of the occasion were taken by Jack Wrathall.

Gift to the couple from the family was a Golden Lady mantle clock and there were many gifts and greeting cards from relatives and friends. The presentation was made by Mrs. Rothwell.

Buffet refreshments, prepared by the family, were served at midnight.

During the afternoon many callers had visited Mr. and Mrs. Dickens to extend their felicitations.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickens were married July 30, 1898, in London, England, and came to Canada a few years later with their young family. They have Reminiscences and Reflections By W.J.

Molotov is taking a vacation to last "for a period of indefinite duration". It will be a holiday with pay of course. This is exactly the kind of an outing we have always thought of with distinct approval but never managed to get around to it just yet.

People like dogs, but you don't want to take them to bed with you? The country, and not a growing town, is the place for "Prince". Higher license fees might help adjust a situation in Rupert rapidly becoming a doggone nuisance so to speak.

Wandering tourists ought to share in the satisfaction that comes from enjoying future concerts by the Prince Rupert Shrine Club Band. There could be no better publicity. There would be nothing the strangers within our gates would remember longer or perhaps speak of more frequently. A midsummer evening in the north - can be fair indeed. The setting of mountain and sea, with blending music and color increase it.

This sweet-scented old world is full of folks who seem to feel its' their chief mission in life to tell the other fellow how to do it. Therefore, it's refreshing to hear Henry Grady Weaver, a business man say "I'm not smart enough to run the personal affairs of great masses of people. I've got enough to do just trying to improve myself as an individual citizen." You said it, Hank!

Chlorinated drinking water has been in effect here for weeks but no one has noticed an over-worked ambulance or heard complaints of a disturbed stomach, rebellious liver, or some mysterious affliction of possibly evil origin. Nor has anyone been heard hinting of having suspicions. No—not a peep out of anyone.

If daylight saving were to continue indefinitely instead of terminating, which it will within another few weeks, how many would know the difference, anyway? Had it never been, anyway? Had it never have missed as much as alleged benefits claimed?

LIFE on the North

When Wrangell laid plans for its part in the Gold Rush Jubilee of Alaska something concrete was done at once. By that I mean that men stopped shaving and a scrub growth soap blossomed into beards on almost every male face.

These beards ran the gamut of mustaches, muttonchops, sideburns, goatees—or just a face full of whiskers. And on the opening night of the Staropets, they came to the A.N.E. Hall, they and their wives in full petticoats, wearing their whiskers and the

Seasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

JELLY MAKING IS EASY THESE DAYS;
WAS GUESSWORK FOR GRANDMOTHER

Grandmother had to have both skill and experience in order to be a successful jelly-maker and even then, after measuring 1 cup of sugar to 1 cup of juice, according to the rule she followed, then guessing at the time required to reach the jelly stage, she would never be sure that every batch of jelly she made would be successful. Today, anyone can make delicious jelly with almost any kind of fruit and with a minimum of effort. Science has simplified and controlled jelly-making methods so that even beginners can be sure of success. Guess work has been eliminated by using the pectin test or by the use of added pectin.

To make a perfect jelly, pectin, acid, sugar and water must be in proper proportions. Both pectin and acid decrease as the fruit ripens, hence for best results, it is a good idea to use a mixture of slightly under-ripe and just-ripe fruit. The under-ripe furnishes pectin and acid and the ripe, flavor and color.

An ideal jelly has the characteristic color and flavor of the fruit from which it is made. It forms a delicate, quivering mould—not too stiff and not too soft. It is tender and spreads easily on bread. Cutting easily it leaves sharp, clean-cut angles.

Over-cooking destroys some of the pectin so that a gummy mass is formed instead of a quivering jelly. Under-cooking will also result in failure to get a jelly formation because of insufficient concentration. The trust-worthy sheeting test, to determine when jelly is cooked just right, has proved very helpful. For this test, a little juice is taken on a spoon and let drip off the edge. If it falls off in drops it is not finished but when the drops run together and slide off in a "sheet" the jelly is ready to be removed from the heat.

Home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, offer instructions for making perfect jelly from the late fruits.

To Make Jelly
Wash apples, crabapples, plums and quinces, cut in pieces

but do not peel or core. Wash grapes and remove stems. Place fruit in preserving kettle, adding sufficient water so that it can be seen through the top layer of fruit. Cook fruit until soft and mushy, crushing during cooking. Pour hot cooked fruit into moistened jelly bag made of flannel or several thicknesses of cheesecloth. Hang up over a bowl and allow to drip for several hours or overnight. Squeezing the bag increases the yield of juice and gives a more pronounced flavor but a less clear jelly. Work with small quantities of extracted juice at a time, not more than 8 cups. Measure juice accurately to determine the amount of sugar to be added after boiling. Boil juice, uncovered, in a broad saucepan for 3 minutes. Remove saucepan from heat and test for pectin. If clot does not form, continue boiling, testing frequently, until pectin test is satisfactory.

Pectin Test
Measure 1 teaspoon fruit juice and 1 teaspoon alcohol (rubbing alcohol may be used) into a cup or small dish. Blend quickly together and let stand 30 seconds. Do not taste. If a jelly-like mass or clot is formed, the juice contains sufficient pectin. Sugar may then be added.

Measure sugar, allowing 1/2 cup sugar for each cup of extracted juice, except when a heavy, solid clot forms when pectin test is made at the end of the 3 minute boiling period. This heavy clot indicates that the juice is so rich in pectin that 1 cup of sugar for each cup of extracted juice should be used. Warm sugar slightly, then add juice. Boil briskly, uncovered for 3 to 10 minutes. Test boiling syrup frequently for the jelly stage. To do this, dip up the boiling hot syrup with a spoon and allow it to run off the edge. When drops form and then flow together to form a "sheet", the jelly stage has been reached. If using a jelly thermometer, the syrup should reach a temperature of 220 degrees F. Immediately remove from the heat, let hot juice stand in kettle for 30 seconds and completely remove scum. Pour into hot, sterilized jelly glasses, filling to within 1/4 inch of the top. Using a slightly moistened clean cloth, carefully remove any jelly clinging to inside of jelly glass above the jelly level. Cool until partially set, then pour a thin layer of hot, melted paraffin wax over the jelly and leave until hardened. Then add a second layer of hot, melted wax, rotating the jar so that the wax will adhere to the side of the glass to form a close seal. Cover with paper or metal lid and store in cool, dry place.

PLANS FOR CARNIVAL

Committee chairman made progress reports and general plans were discussed at a meeting of the Civic Centre Carnival Committee held in the Civic Centre last night. This year's carnival will be held completely within the Civic Centre building instead of outside as in former years.

A major feature of the carnival this year, as in other years, will be the horticultural show, which will be held on August 25 and 26. The carnival itself will be held from August 21 to 28. Coronation night will be Saturday, August 21, and the Queen will reign for the full week of the Carnival. On Port Day, August 26, she will preside at the marine activities. Results of the Queen contest, which has been held at the Capitol Theatre this week, will be known tonight.

Features of the horticultural show will be a large flower and vegetable exhibits, as well as competitions for the best cake, pies, bread and preserves put up by Prince Rupert housewives.

There also will be a garden contest in which judges will visit the different gardens in the city, awarding prizes to the best gardens with 30-foot, 50-foot and 100-foot frontages.

Results so far on the Port Day committee's proposed industrial exhibits indicate that there will be only one major display, that of the Celanese Corporation of America. Committee chairman Edward Mussalleim reported that many possible exhibitors already have committed themselves to putting displays in the auditorium during the early part of each evening and the orchestra will play for the dance which will be held later each night.

A novel guessing contest is being arranged. On display will be pictures of 20 prominent local citizens—in their infancy. Carnival patrons will be asked to identify them and a prize will be awarded to the person who makes the greatest number of correct guesses.

Present at last night's meeting were W. F. Stone, Carnival committee chairman, C.P. Balagno, J. J. Payne and Mrs. W. E. Becker, representing the Horticultural Society, T. Norton Youngs, in charge of ticket sales, Ralph Smith, personnel, R. G. Moore, Carnival Queen chairman, Edward Mussalleim, industrial exhibit, and Don Forester and Neil Ross of the Civic Centre staff.

Reid Mitchell Second High Scorer As Canadians Win

Reid Mitchell, grandson of Mrs. John K. Mitchell of Prince Rupert and son of James R. Mitchell of West Vancouver, who is spending the summer here, was second high scorer last night for Canada's basketball team in the Olympic Games at Harringay Arena, London. The Canadian team defeated Italy by a score of 55 to 37 in the preliminary round.

Twenty-one year old Pat McGeer, also of Vancouver, was high scorer for the Canadian team. He made twelve points. Mitchell made nine.

Canada led all the way, having a margin of 26 to 18 at half time. It was the Dominion's first appearance in Olympic basketball competition. Canadian speed and long accurate passes were more in evidence than in the fast Italian team.

sluff becoming to a 14-year old boy.

Amid great derisive hooting they lined up front; among them the bank manager, a big fellow resplendent in high boots, bright plaid shirt, several guns, a ten-gallon hat—and a sparse beard the color of spun gold. (The regalia is so becoming to this gent that when I met him later in modern garb I felt he cheats himself to dress like other men).

The winner was picked and labelled "He would if he could—but he can't." He stood six feet tall—a slim fellow with red creeping up from his adam's apple, and an eyebrow on his upper lip. Even when he pocketed the prize money his wife was probably the only person who was glad he could not grow whiskers.

C.C.F. MEMBERS

burse them and the taxpayer would foot the bill.

The Prices Committee recommended the return of price control in certain cases but Mr. Archibald did not think the government would take action just yet despite the protest from a number of Liberal members. In discussing controls and subsidies the speaker quoted Mr. Hlesley as stating at one time that for every dollar the government spent on subsidies, $12 was saved by the consumer.

GOOD YEAR FOR C.C.F.

"The last year has been tough on the people of Canada but it has been wonderful for the C.C.F.," the Federal member announced. He was confident that the C.C.F. would be the official opposition after the next election. In his opinion the Progressive Conservative and Liberal policies were too far apart to permit coalition and he predicted that the Liberals as a party were likely to disappear.

In reviewing the session's work Mr. Archibald mentioned the revision of the labor code and the increase in freight rates. In the later case the C.C.F., he said, had tried to stave off the increase until the eastern and western provinces could get another hearing. In the case of increased freight rates in coast shipping Mr. Archibald said there had been no control board to set the rates, a situation he hoped would be changed in the near future.

"There is a great future for the north country and the C.C.F. wants to be in there when the development starts," stated Mr. Archibald in closing.

PROVINCIAL SITUATION

William Brett, M.L.A. addressed the meeting first and dealt briefly with the provincial situation. He mentioned the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax as a piece of bad legislation, describing it as "notorious" and something that is "not very sweet in the nostrils of the people." The C.C.F., he declared, had opposed the bill all along but they "were snowed under."

He spoke about price controls and said the C.C.F. had consistently fought to have them left on, a policy which, if adopted, would have saved a lot of grief. High wages he declared were only incidental to the increase of living costs — "the result not the cause."

"The Hospitalization scheme," Mr. Brett pointed out, "is a good piece of legislation and is long overdue. In the main, except for a few amendments, the C.C.F. gave the bill full support." His only criticism was that the scheme did not include medical care.

George Anderson, acting as chairman of the meeting, introduced the speakers.

Premier People Moving Out—Terrace Flying Boat Busy—Stewart Canal Gets Good Values

STEWART—Another batch of Silbak Premier employees left here on the Union steamer this week and thus the company town of Premier is gradually being cleared out. The deadline is August 15.

Some of the men who are unable to pay their fare out of here are being assisted by the local of the United Mine Mill and Smelters.

Some of the families are seeking homes in Terrace and intend staying for a while at least. The optimists of the district figure, and possibly not without reason, that the close-down is only of temporary nature and that, in the near future, the mine will re-open as a revitalized operation.

William Martin has been busy with his flying boat taking supplies into the Morris Summit Mine on Summit Lake. Martin has his headquarters at Terrace and has been doing a good deal of flying business here this summer. Up to within the past week flying conditions have been very good.

R. H. Dunlop, from Smithers has taken over the duties of general foreman, for the provincial department of public works for the Atlin District, replacing Hugh McDonald who has retired from active service.

Mrs. William Martin of Terrace with her family, has been here for the past week visiting her sister, Mrs. Hector Stewart.

Reports from the Stewart Canal Gold Mine (John Haahli's property) indicate that they have run into an ore body over sixteen feet in width giving good values. They have a small crew

Tuna Running Off Queen Charlottes—Visiting Yachts—Full Noon in Vancouver

A large run of tuna off the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands has sent at least two boats heading in that direction to get in a harvest that ordinarily sent vessels much farther south.

The run was reported here Friday by Capt. Llewellyn Sheppard, of the fishery patrol boat Laurier...

The fish averaged 35 pounds. Some were caught by surface fishing with feathers and others with deep lines with 25 pounds of lead.

The crew of the Laurier caught a number of the fish and tagged them, then returned them to the water. Word of her discovery soon became known and the area became the destination of two vessels who were some fishing farther south.

The current Canadian National magazine prints a picture of George Muir of Victoria, west of the Klondike rush, talking with Capt. Caldwell, master of the SS. Prince George when the ship was given her first public inspection at Victoria.

The Laurier radioed Friday that she had reached a position 30 miles southwest of Langara Island that she had encountered no tuna since the night before.

Gilbert Sutherland on the Skeena River Friday hit the best fishing of the week when about 100 of the 240 boats on the river averaged 100 fish per boat along the upper boundary of Point Lambert Thursday.

Outside boats—those fishing off Finlayson and Tugwell Islands—averaged better than 50 fish on Thursday.

Seiners in the Naas seining area averaged 400 fish per boat on Thursday, mostly chums, while the 71 gillnetters on the Naas saw their average catches reduced from 33 on Tuesday to 15 on Thursday.

In the Substake area, 60 seiners have been averaging 700 plaice and 25 chums. About 15 gillnetters are operating there.

One of the oldest yachts to visit this port so far this summer sailed for the south at noon Friday after a brief stop here. She was the 40 foot cruiser Pixie, owned by G. H. Gordon, of Portland. Mr. Gordon was accompanied by his wife and four friends.

The Pixie, according to Mr. Gordon, is no ordinary boat, nor is there any reason why she should be, since her streamlined hull with its ultra-modern interior appointments cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.

A daring Seattle couple arrived here Thursday afternoon in an 18-foot boat, bound for Alaska, where they plan to make their home. They will sail today for Ketchikan. They were Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Spillman, whose nameless craft was powered by a 5-horsepower Onah engine, slight enough energy considering the type of water through which they have passed.

The youthful couple do not know where they will make their new home but plan to size up the territory before making any decision. They thought they might like to survey the Queen Charlotte Islands as a future home but decided that 60 miles of open water was too much for their little boat.

The well known cruiser Olympo, formerly owned by the late John McLeod, Yacht Club caretaker, and now the property of his son, John Jr., is getting a new power plant. Mr. McLeod, who expects to go to the Queen Charlotte Islands, is replacing

MYSTERY WOMAN, NEW YORK, DIES

NEW YORK—There has been an explanation of the mystery life of Mary E. Powers, who for more than fifteen years lived alone in a hotel suite here. She died recently in her late station. She had turned down a $25,000 dividend cheque just preceding it. She had no wish to be bothered with dividends. Her hotel suite cost $2 a day. She had lived in the hotel longer than anyone had worked there. No one ever saw her except the maid, a waiter with the daily report, the messenger who collected the rent, a physician who came once a year. She had no telephone, no radio and read no newspapers. She retained the style of half a century ago. She was never seen going anywhere or with anyone.

When a daughter has callers who linger on until the wee hours of the morning, aren't the parents justified in telling them it is time to leave? A No! this would prove exceedingly embarrassing to their daughter. She should be the one to do this—in a tactful way, of course. Should the invitations be formal or informal when giving a 'treacher party' for a debutante? A. Either. This depends upon
