Korea Front Quiet Today

Heavy Bombing Attacks by American Bombers on Enemy Industries

TOKYO—The Korean war situation was quiet today as the Communists appeared to be drawing up their lines for a new drive along the southeast coast toward the port of Pusan. There have been heavy air attacks on industrial targets in North Korea by United States bombing planes. Allied forces beat back flank attacks on the Taegu front today and edged ahead into positions which had been previously given up by the sudden and unexpected shifting of North Korean troops to the east. The Communist movement away from Allied frontlines, 13 miles north of Taegu, reduces the immediate threat to the railroad head city.

WARDS CONVENTION—

Local British Columbia for Strike Ending

Turgeon Called Upon to Take Case up—Proceedings Continue Today

PRINCE GEORGE (Special to Daily News)—The strike, which has had an adverse effect on attendance, occupied the direct attention of the annual convention here of the Association of Trade of Central British Columbia. A resolution was passed for transmission to the federal authorities.

Hon. Harry Bowman, minister of agriculture, and Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, Mr. Bowman spoke on the work of his department and Mr. Carson dealt with roads, giving assurance that everything that could be done for central British Columbia would be done. Miss Elizabeth Winn of Juneau brought greetings from Alaska, stressing the importance of her territory and northern and central British Columbia people getting together not only for discussion of their mutual problems but to develop real international friendships. Other Alaska delegates including W. L. Baker and Robert Ellis of Ketchikan were due to arrive by aircraft.

George Ogston, president, read his annual report covering the past year's activities after the official opening which featured addresses of welcome by Mayor Marvin Dezell and Charles Alins, president of the Prince George Board of Trade.

Messages of regret at inability to attend were read from Hon. R. W. Mayhew, minister of fisheries, and others. Larry Ekkroyd, field service department representative from Vancouver, is in attendance on behalf of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Business sessions are continuing today and this afternoon officers are being elected and the convention venue for 1951 decided.

The convention ends tonight with cocktail party, dinner and dance at popular Meiveder Lodge.

Flash Wire Lines Now Down

STEAMSHIP STRIKE ON

VANCOUVER—The deadline passed at noon today with no settlement of the dispute between Seafarers' International Union and Union Steamships Ltd. so the strike is now on. Managing Director Gerald McBean said that no settlement had been reached at a final conference this morning. He had asked the Union to postpone the strike until the railway strike was settled but was told it had already been called. Vessels of the company's fleet will tie up as they arrive from current voyages. Company's dock is being picketed.

MINES CLOSING

TORONTO — In Northern Ontario and Quebec it is becoming necessary to further restrict the sale of supplies. While shelves a week or so ago were well filled, the goods go faster when they cannot be promptly replaced. Hundreds of men are being laid off at Flin Flon and other camps in the north.

BRIDGES FREED

SAN FRANCISCO—Harry Bridges, C.I.O. longshore leader, today won his freedom from jail on bail pending appeal of perjury conviction in a 2 to 1 ruling by the United States Court of Appeal which held that the government's effort to jail Bridges was "novel and startling." The government had earlier successfully asked that Bridges' $25,000 bail be revoked on the grounds that he was a menace to the United States during the Korean war.

NO WORLD WAR

NEW DELHI—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India said yesterday that he believes there is now only a remote possibility that the Korean conflict will lead to another world war. Nehru had previously said at the beginning of the Korean fighting that there was an even chance world war would result.

RATIONING POWER

SASKATOON—Rationing of electric power started here last night. The power plant has only enough fuel for seven days normal running.

Communications—

Wire Lines Now Down

Communications Further Tightened as Result of Railway Strike.

Two radiophone circuits constitute Prince Rupert's only commercial communication with Vancouver today. Telephone communication with Masset and the Queen Charlotte Islands are out. Telephone line to Prince George and points between was intact late this morning.

Telephone service between Prince Rupert and Vancouver was running three hours behind all day yesterday but that was reduced to about two and one-half hours this morning. Unattended land lines went out about 6 p.m. yesterday and are expected to remain out until the railway strike has been settled and linemen return to work. Long distance from here normally is over C.N. Telegraph leased line and no maintenance crews are working on them. When breakdowns occur, the line stays out.

All telephone communication with Vancouver today is routed over radio-telephone. There are two circuits available to Prince Rupert, one of which is the canner circuit. Cannery calls have priority over that circuit.

Local telephone officials are pleased with the public's attitude in not making non-essential personal calls. This morning all long distance calls ordered to Vancouver were business. The officials are urging the public to continue to use discretion in placing of long distance calls so that they will not have to ban personal calls entirely. It was felt earlier this morning that might be necessary but later it was felt if the public continued to co-operate it would not be.

AIR PASSENGERS

Picket Line Maintained

The picket line, being carried on by the striking unions on the approaches to Canadian National Railways property here while the strike is on, is being maintained with a 100 percent attendance, it was announced by Leonard Hopkins, chairman of the joint strike committee.

At meetings yesterday, according to Mr. Hopkins' daily statement to the Daily News, "a goodly number of items of importance to both railways and employees, have been thoroughly discussed and action taken for the furtherance of same."

A MACE FOR HALIFAX — Mayor Gordon S. Kinley of Halifax, in his new fur-trimmed scarlet robes and fore-and-aft hat, receives a hand-carved, 18-pound mace from Commodore A. M. Hope, acting flag officer commanding the Atlantic coast. The presentation took place as Halifax celebrated its 201st birthday. The mace is valued at $1,000 and will be used to open and close city council meetings—in parliamentary style. (CP Photo)

As part of the plan to make the Elgar Junior Choir representative of the whole province of British Columbia rather than being limited to Vancouver city, Director C. E. ### Job's Daughters Welcome Home

Public reception to the Job's Daughters' drill team, following their triumphant trip to supreme sessions in Long Beach, California, where they won high honors, will take place at the Civic Centre auditorium tonight.

The girls returned home this afternoon on the steamer Camosun and were accorded an impromptu greeting. A big welcome sign faced them at the wharf. Proud parents and friends of the girls were also on hand as well as citizens generally including Mayor Rudderham and President L. M. Felsenthal of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce who will lead in the official welcome this evening.

The team is expected to put on a display of the winning routines on the floor of the Civic Centre auditorium.

Flower Show At Carnival

Entries for the horticultural show to be opened this afternoon were coming in thick and fast last night. The committee was well pleased with the quality of exhibits entered and with the interest being shown.

The Common Lounge of the Civic Centre has been fitted out with tables so that only small aisles are left between them. It is expected exhibits will tax the capacity of tables even at that.

Union and Railway Heads are Called in by Prime Minister

Talk of Settlement by Sunday—Moshier Expresses Optimism

OTTAWA—Reporters could get no news of possible new developments in Canada's railway strike crisis early this afternoon following a meeting of Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent with A. R. Moshier and Frank Hall, union leaders. This afternoon, the Prime Minister is meeting Donald Gordon and W. A. Mathers, the railway presidents. A cabinet meeting is to be held tonight, Canadian Press says. It is reported, would like to see the dispute settled by Sunday prior to the session of Parliament called for Tuesday.

Over In 24 Hrs?

OTTAWA — Railways and unions will resume negotiations tonight with a view to a settlement of the railway strike, it was announced today. A highly placed informant said that Prime Minister St. Laurent was seeking a settlement within twenty-four hours.

President Moshier of the Canadian Congress of Labor expresses optimism as to the outcome of the conferences.

Frank Hall said he expected to be in Ottawa for "some time." With Mr. St. Laurent at the conferences are Hon. M. F. Gregg, V.C., minister of labor, and Hon. Lionel Chevrier, minister of transport.

In announcing the calling of the conference last night, the Prime Minister said they were there with a view to getting the tie-up settled.

Mr. Moshier said before entering the conference that the unions would go back to the original demands they had made fourteen months ago, withdrawing concessions which had been granted during later negotiations—that is a 40-hour week with a 10-cent wage increase for Canadian union members and 7 cents international.

However, hopes were expressed that common ground along the lines reached before negotiations collapsed might again be obtained.

Seamen's Strike Now in Effect

Although negotiations were carried on until almost the last minute, International Seafarers' Union differences with Union Steamship Lines were not settled by the noon deadline. The strike was to go into effect at noon as scheduled, according to word from Vancouver.

Union officials and the company were in conference right up until this morning but no agreement was reached.

Meanwhile the Camosun landed here at 2:30 this afternoon with its party of Job's Daughters drill team and other passengers and 130 tons of freight.

The vessel is on the way to the Queen Charlotte Islands. The Coquitlam is due tomorrow bound for Stewart and Alice Arm. Company announcements say passengers will be accepted for the southbound run for Vancouver but no freight.

Long Distance Hard Pressed

The two operators at the local long distance boards have been working up as best they can with the flow of traffic. The local exchange is operating normally although there are two to three hour delays.

One of the difficulties being met by long distance is the tremendous increase in traffic from the first of the year until the present. It has risen from 2,100 in January to 7,000 in June. Volume has dropped off only slightly since June.

Ship to shore telephone service is operating normally, although there again volume has nearly tripled since the first of the year.

An Editorial Experience

WE had a unique editorial experience one day this week. We wrote an editorial on a very contentious subject and were complimented on our fairness by persons on both sides of a current discussion.

We do not claim to be experts in compromise or diplomacy but it was satisfactory to hear that our presentation of a case had been considered fair.

Of course, this sort of thing could go to extremes. Any one who tries to please everybody is not going to do anything very constructive. Progress is not attained by being merely agreeable. Those who really do things cannot always have their ear to the ground.

In the editorial sphere there are two general classes of writers—those who carefully try to guard against illwill and those who are reckless of what they say and who it hits. The former may tend to lack lustre and interest. The latter provoke interest if not goodwill.

There must be constructive criticism if there is going to be progress and achievement.

There is a question of which is the more useful editor—the one who draws bouquets or the one who gets the brickbats. The latter, in the end, probably commands more attention and gets more done.

OUTLAWING LEGAL STRIKES

AFTER having been bold, or shall we say indiscreet, enough to suggest, as it impended, that a railway strike in Canada was unlikely, we might be expected to hesitate about making any further predictions on the subject.

However, it has been suggested that the government might propose to the forthcoming special session of Parliament legislation that would have the effect of outlawing strikes on the railways or in other essential services.

While we do not, of course, know what is going to be proposed, we can be very sure that any proposal of such outlawing would not be accepted by Parliament without a fight even in the face of the serious emergency that now exists.

Outlawing of the strike weapon, especially when it is legally exercised, and the Prime Minister himself emphasized the fact that this strike is a legal one, would not be such an easy matter.

In the totalitarian countries, strikes can be outlawed and the worker can be told when and how he is going to work. In a democratic country it is different.

Limiting of the workers' right of action, even if some people might not agree with its employment, would seem very much like conflicting with the principles of democracy which we have cherished so much.

In this case, it is unfortunate that a situation should have been allowed to arise where such a proposal as is now discussed could even have to be suggested, much less entertained.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT
LETTER TO LES.

(This is the second of two open letters to Hon. Lester B. Pearson from his boyhood school chum and team-mate.)

IN MY former letter, Les, I urged you fellows in the cabinet not "to send a boy to do a man's job." If you are going to send troops to help reverse the aggression in Korea, for the love of Mike, send enough.

Send a division, to match the ten which the United States will need, from the look of things.

But don't send a single Canadian, Les, unless you get this Korea-Formosa contradiction cleared up in advance.

PAPERS ALL over the world are warning against the glaring contradiction of U.S. policies in the Far East.

In Korea the U.S. is on solid moral and legal ground. The aggression against the lawful government of South Korea was a clear-cut violation of world law. For even the primitive and crude law written in the UN Charter leaves no room for doubt about rights and wrongs there.

But in proclaiming properly and promptly the intention to resist by force the aggression against South Korea, the American government simultaneously proclaimed an utterly illegal and unwise action. It said that American sea and air forces would protect the Chinese island of Formosa against attack from the Chinese mainland; in other words it announced its intention of taking direct part in a Chinese civil war which has been going on for over twenty-five years.

To give this amazing action some basis of justification the U.S. government declared that it was asking Chiang Kai-Shek's armed forces in Formosa to refrain from further attacks on the mainland.

As you know, Les, Chiang's forces have not complied with this request. His planes are again attacking Chinese mainland targets.

SO LES, what happens if and when the Chinese mainland Red armies carry out their long planned invasion of Formosa?

Suppose the U.S. fleet defeats this invasion (as I feel sure it could) would not the result be war between China and the U.S.A.?

How in the name of heaven could our men be fighting under MacArthur's command in Korea and not fight against Chinese armies if these then cross the Korean border?

HERE IS WHAT The New Statesman and Nation of London says on the front page of its August 12, 1950, issue:

"If the war begins between China and the United States on the issue of Formosa, the aggressor will not be the Communists. Such a war, which could scarcely be confined to Asia, would be the doing of General MacArthur, who is apparently making something like a private alliance with Chiang Kai-Shek and the group of racketeers who surround him."

TWICE BEFORE Canada has sent armed forces to intervene in Asia—and both times the expeditions ended in fiasco or disaster. It is our duty to send troops again.

But it would be a crime to send soldiers unless you statesmen IN ADVANCE tell Uncle Sam that he can choose between help from Canada and help from Chiang Kai-Shek.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gladding and child, who have been on a three weeks holiday visit to Vancouver, Seattle and Naramata, returned home on yesterday afternoon's plane.

LETTERBOX

WHY THE SECRET?

Editor, Daily News:

This morning's announcement over station CFR that "owing to circumstances beyond our control we are unable to bring you the news" just about "burnt me up." Why can't we be told what the nature of the circumstances is? Is it of such a secret character that the explanation would endanger our national safety? Surely we might be told if the interruption is due to a mechanical breakdown or to unfavorable atmospheric conditions; or to the lines being damaged, or the result of the railway strike. Such information could do no harm but could give the radio listeners some consideration.

Of course I have another grievance against the CBC. Why is it that those on the trans-Canada network do not get the same service as those on the Dominion network? We all pay the same licence fee. I cannot conceive of any business firm treating its customers in the way that the CBC does. Where customers pay the same amount they get the same goods, the same quality and the same amount. Why don't all radio licence holders get equal treatment?

And in an emergency such as exists at present we should get all possible news. A democratic people expect and deserve all consideration.

District Is More Active

More Going On Than For Two Years, Says Resident Engineer

There is more mining activity in the district than there has been for over two years, according to F. J. Hemsworth, Inspector of Mines, who has just returned from a trip to the interior.

At Hazelton Western Cobalt Uranium Mines Ltd. are working on the old Victoria property and tunneling to investigate underground surface indications of radioactivity. They have also taken over the old Rocher de-Boule property which has been idle since 1930. They are re-remembering portals, cleaning ice out of tunnels and fixing up the camps. The Victoria tunnel is on the 5170 foot level and is now 224 feet into the mountain. W. McGowan is in charge of the operation and Martin Jasper is engineer.

G. Cates is carrying out a geophysical survey above and below the Silver Standard Mine.

At Smithers C. A. Munro's Glacier Gulch Mining Co. is putting in an air compressor and will diamond drill the silver, lead, and zinc leads, but for the time will not follow the gold.

John NSikora and Oscar Nelson have a hydraulic operation about three miles up Lorne Creek. Near the mouth of the same creek is the dragline operation of Warren and Jones. Another hydraulic operation is that of C. W. Elder at Gold Creek.

Silver Standard has been incorporated into Sylvan Co., which has gained control of the old Duthie and Coronado on Hudson Bay Mountain.

BUD SCHUMAN (Old Post Office Bldg.)

L. E. Slacht of the Department of Transport left on today's plane for Vancouver. Mr. Slacht's headquarters are in Ottawa.

Choir Group Flying Home

Following the conclusion of their concert at the First United Church last evening the members of the Elgar Junior Choir from Vancouver were in a very jovial mood. They explained, when they had calmed down a bit, that they were on the last leg of their long trip and would be home today.

Through the co-operation of Canadian Pacific Airlines, Director C. L. Findlater said that the members left by two special flights from here starting at 7 o'clock this morning. A specially scheduled Douglas plane from Sandspit is taking them on the final lap of the flight to Vancouver.

As the group had left Vancouver on July 29 one could appreciate their jubilation on having completed the long itinerary and being on the way home. As a final tribute to their conductor and to Mrs. Findlater, their chaperon, they gathered round the piano and sang, with rare gusto and verve, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" with the guests of honor in the centre. They were a happy group.

Vice-Principal Of School is Named

Gordon Freeman has been appointed vice-principal of King Edward Elementary School as from the commencement of the forthcoming fall term. Miss Dorothy Robertson is among the members of the staff of this school.

Nobby Clarke Passes Away

Another of Prince Rupert's pioneers and war veterans died recently in the person of George (Nobby) Clarke, who passed away in Shaughnessy Hospital, Vancouver.

He had gone there from Prince Rupert about two years ago and had a long illness. Mr. Clarke came from Truro, Nova Scotia, and most of his active life was spent in Western Canada and on the coast. He served through the First Great War in the 7th Bn C.E.F. He is survived by a brother in Eastern Canada. As far as known there are no relatives on the coast.

He was a tailor, and for a good many years was in business on 6th Street.

Walter Thompson Being Honored

MONTREAL—Colleagues from the fields of press, radio, magazines, and public relations will gather in Montreal Saturday, October 7, to honor Walter S. Thompson, C.B.E., retiring Director of Public Relations for the Canadian National System at a testimonial dinner sponsored by the Montreal Men's Press Club.

The dinner will be under the patronage of a national committee headed by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and will be attended by members of the crafts from Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom. The Press Club's organizing committee said that October 7 had been selected to enable friends of Mr. Thompson from distant points to be present over the long Thanksgiving weekend.

The retirement of Mr. Thompson marks the conclusion of over 35 years of service to Canada's Railways. After joining the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific in 1914 Mr. Thompson became Director of Publicity when those lines amalgamated into the Canadian National System in 1922. Subsequently he also became responsible for all C.N.R. advertising. From 1937 to 1948 he performed the same functions for Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Recognized generally as the dean of public relations profession in Canada, Mr. Thompson handled the press releases for many of Canada's most distinguished visitors, including His Royal Highness the Duke of Windsor when Prince of Wales, and the Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George. He served as Chairman of the National Publicity Committee on the occasion of the Diamond Jubilee of Canada in 1927 and organized press arrangements for the Royal visit to the Dominion. At the outbreak of World War II he organized Censorship and Public Information Services for the Dominion Government.

Plenty of Coal On Hand in City

There is not much danger of Prince Rupert running out of coal before the railway strike is over. Local coal dealers usually build up their stockpiles during the summer months and, as a result, there is now enough coal on hand in the yards to meet normal demands until September 15 or later. Inquiry elicits that there has been little, if any, tendency to panic buying of coal here.

Air Travel Is Mounting

The rail and steamship strike is creating increased demands on air transportation but Canadian Pacific Airlines has not yet increased its flight schedule. Queen Charlotte Airlines are receiving more and more calls for charter flights. With only one plane stationed at Prince Rupert, Queen Charlotte Airlines are taxed to the utmost to keep even with demands. One of their planes has been transferred to Allford Bay and another is on charter to the fisheries board.

Last Sunday the line brought out a survey party that has been working in the Meziadin Lake district. They have returned to Victoria. The helicopter used on the survey is now at the air base at Seal Cove receiving an overhaul. It will be used for more work in this district before being sent back to Vancouver. Pilot on the helicopter is Bill McLeod, while the engineer is Sig. Hubning.

Progress On Liquor Store

Work on the new liquor store on Second Avenue is coming along well. The only fly that can now turn up in the ointment is the possibility the rail and steamship strike might drag out. However, most materials for completion of the project are on hand, and there should be little delay in finishing it.

With its 100 foot frontage on Second Avenue and 60 foot depth, the building without partitions, appears tremendous. When it is completed, it will have a spacious public room, offices and wash rooms for the staff and a large storage capacity. The stock room will be around the east and north of the building.

Yesterday the cement base for the large storage tank in back was poured. The ground was excavated down to bedrock to make sure of a solid footing. The rough roof and rough floor are completed now.

Hears "Van"

Interesting address at the luncheon yesterday. The chef passed through the kitchen. In describing it, the chef is an artist while merely uses heat to get into a more palatable cooking. He started and cook for the board of a large company. While he was taking the chefship, he attended to one of the most requirements of a cook is to purchase food. He was practical demon! He used two eggs, one fresh and one old. By touching his hands on both ends of an egg, the fresh one he found one considerably warmer than the not-so-fresh one. The other test was to show how to make coffee. He said, "A little chicory to the full flavor. However, the brand had little chicory. By placing a spoon-ful in a tumbler of coffee and the chicory was adjudged the best." The chef said, "I have heard of joint-society of French Chefs in time in great hotels of the world. He mentioned these were not up to creative cooks, that they were very imaginative. He got about as far as to get on them. He then went to hotels where they lay money in cooking. He said some of the finer chefs as moulding sugars, or d'oeuvres and sauces. He said, the chef was and commanded the waiter he went. A waiter of a dignitary about a he said, that type of gone with hash house.

SHIPS and WATERFRONT

The freighter Robert Eugene, which went aground some days ago at Addenbrook Island in Queen Charlotte Sound, had a hundred ton cargo of general merchandise for delivery in Alaska. She is owned by M. B. Dahl & Sons, Inc., of Juneau. Distress calls being promptly picked up, she was soon given aid. The batteries being almost under water, the radio could be made use of, only for a short time. The Robert Eugene has a crew of five.

Among those aboard the ss. Prince George, due in port tonight enroute to Vancouver after what may be her final season's voyage to Alaska, are several persons of prominence. These include Roy Davis, president of the Atlas Steel Co. of Welland, Ontario; F. M. Connell, a mining executive of Toronto; and Major Gregg Veagant, a Kansas City architect.

A fishing vessel, the Santra Doe of Juneau, was recently in Prince Rupert having come here for survey and repair after having experienced some damage by grounding at DeLong Island, about thirty miles from Ketchikan.

To Advertisers

Dogs, Cats—One Turtle

Harry Knutson's Great Dane, Danny, walked off with first honors in the children's pet show at the Civic Centre carnival last night. Harry feeds the 150 pound animal from a wash tub. The dog is only nine months old.

Judge for the event was Harry Todd of the Todd and Pluto show. He was well pleased with the turn-out of pets with their youthful masters and made both boys and girls and their four-legged friends feel at home as soon as they came onto the stage. With his ready wit he kept the show moving at a fast clip throughout.

In addition there were four prizes for performing dogs. They were large pictures presented by Mr. Todd. All contestants received a small prize and a small picture from Mr. Todd. There were 40 entrants.

Dogs, cats and even one turtle were among the entrants and considerable amusement developed as they were induced or cajoled to do their tricks. A lot appeared to be suffering from stage fright. It was a wide variety of animals and felines from some good looking thoroughbreds to nondescript mongrels, each one dear, however, to his or her young owner's heart.

C.C.F. Urges Quick Action

OTTAWA — M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, Wednesday urged the government to exhaust every means of ending the railway tie-up without waiting for a session of Parliament. He suggested that the minimum demands of the unions and the maximum concessions of the railways be ascertained and, if necessary, there be a government subsidy for a tentative arrangement pending final settlement.

"And how's my little darling's disposition today?"

Accident Victim In Critical Shape

In hospital in very critical condition is Angus Smith who was severely injured in an accident on the highway near Miller Bay Hospital Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Smith was hit by a backing truck and knocked to the ground. He was taken to Miller Bay Hospital for treatment while awaiting the ambulance from Prince Rupert to take him to General Hospital.

A Seattle church bulletin recently announced that, while the pastor was on vacation, the assistant pastor would be "in complete charge of church services and pastoral duties".

Job Daughters are back home secure in the happy knowledge that not only have they again distinguished themselves, but their presence in Los Angeles has given Prince Rupert a unique advertising. Publicity, equal in value and on a business basis, would have cost a handsome bank roll.

Announcement is made, formally, that transient guests at the Hotel Vancouver will have another day in which to move. After today, because of the railway strike, the staff will be restricted to one telephone girl and one elevator operator. And, possibly, one waiter.

A sizeable black bear after lunching in a Prince Rupert raspberry patch, strolled around to inspect an Ambrose Avenue home, much to the dismay of the good housewife. Incidentally, there are around twelve hundred active school children living here. Bears have been known to dine on more than raspberries.

Tars on H.M.C.S. Cayuga are cultivating a somewhat bantering outlook. As the destroyer recently on escort duty off Korea glided by the Sloux, a sailor waved and called "G'bye. Will be seeing you in a Siberia salt mine".

About another month of daylight saving to be observed, meaning, of course, there will soon be one less nuisance to keep in mind. Thus, we approach the more serious task of trying to save a little more money for winter instead.

If Canadian ground troops see Korea, they may find themselves going ashore there about the beginning of winter. Many Canadians nurse the notion that China and Japan mean a tropic climate. The truth, it is said, is that Korea in December or January is sharper than a Prince Rupert blast, and more disagreeable in many other ways.

Yesterday was Thursday—No trains, no sunshine, no last call for dinner in the dining car and no liquor or other business after one o'clock.

Elgar Choir Pleases Again

Another large audience left First United Church last night thoroughly satisfied after hearing the Elgar Junior Choir in their second concert. The program was another evening of delightful singing in all phases. Choral numbers of a surprising range in variety were rendered with equal skill. Sacred numbers held the audience with their reverent renditions. Folk songs were gay or sad. Dance effect numbers went with a fine swing and rhythm. Unaccompanied numbers were true and melodious and humorous numbers brought a smile. In every type the choir excelled.

Many of the selections as presented on the first night were repeated but some new ones included the popular "Road to the Isles." A recitation, Van Dyke's "In retrospect one realizes what 'A Handful of Clay,' very pleasingly given by Gordon Gibson, a tremendous amount of work must have been done so that the choir could render such a long and varied program without having the words in printed form before them. All numbers were done from memory. The mechanics of the singing were perfect and the interpretation expressive. The tone at all times was true and pleasing. Harmonized numbers were well balanced, and diminuendo passages were breathtaking while crescendo and diminuendo passages were perfectly controlled. With it all the children gave every evidence of thoroughly enjoying each number.

* This concert will surely rank with the very best music that Prince Rupert has ever heard and will provide a lasting satisfaction as well as a stimulus for more choral work especially among the younger elements in the city.

EGGS—Luncheon dish, supper casserole, dessert—no matter what the recipe there usually is an egg yolk or egg white in it somewhere.

Home economists quote a French chef as saying "the egg is the cement that holds the castles of cookery together."

They list a few of the ways eggs can be used: thickened, as in custards and puddings; leavened, by beating to incorporate air, as in cakes; and color, richness and flavor to individual dishes; coat, as in breaded meats; garnish, as in canapes, salads and soups; bind, as in meat loaves and croquettes; emulsify, as in salad dressings and cream puffs; clarify, as in preparation of consommé; hinder crystallization, as in the making of refrigerator ice cream and in candy making.

Home economists say that the job of cooking eggs isn't quite as easy as it appears. They should always be cooked at low temperature because excessive heat makes them tough and leathery.

Boiled eggs should not be literally boiled. Rather they should be cooked gently. This keeps the egg delicately tender.

AVOID BOILING

When making a custard sauce the cook should be careful not to let the water in the bottom part of the double boiler really boil. If it does the custard will curdle. However if the latter does happen the best thing to do is to quickly place the top of the double boiler in cold water and beat the custard with a rotary beater. This will again produce a creamy sauce but it will not be as thick as it would otherwise have been.

When combining hot mixtures and eggs as in milk puddings, cream fillings and souffles, combine the beaten eggs with a little of the hot mixture and then stir them into the hot mixture.

There's a trick to beating egg whites which every good cook should learn. In order to get the greatest volume from whipped egg white it is important that no fat be present. Fat, whether it be from the yolk, from milk, or from some other source, so interferes with the whipping of the egg white that if it is present in any measurable quantity it will prevent whipping entirely. One drop of egg yolk will reduce the volume of a whipped egg white to less than one-third of what it would otherwise have been. The degree of whipping egg whites has a great deal to do with the final product. When egg whites are to be used for leavening, as in sponge cakes, angel cakes and omelets, the whites should be beaten until "stiff but not dry." When the egg whites are over beaten they lose their shiny appearance and at this point the foam has lost some of its elasticity which is so necessary for leavening.
