EDITH CAVELL REMEMBERED

Memorial Service Held at Jasper for twenty-fifth year. JASPER PARK — For the twenty-fifth successive year, the memory of Nurse Edith Cavell, heroic British patriot, who was executed by the Germans in 1915, yesterday was honored in a special service in the little Anglican Church of St. Mary and St. George in Jasper village. While the great mountain which bears her name and which is visible from the church reared its massive snow-capped peak into storm-tossed clouds, many guests of the Lodge joined with local parishioners to fill the quaint edifice and listen again to the lesson of the heroism of Edith Cavell. It was on August 5, 1915, that Nurse Edith Cavell was arrested by the Germans in Brussels, Belgium, for aiding the escape of Allied soldiers. She was shot to death on October 12 of the same year. "Her arrest and death marked a turning point in this world," said the rector, Rev. T. C. B. Boon. "It was the inauguration of what we were to call total war. A great nation threw overboard its conscience and the gates of hell were opened, so that things have never been the same since." Mr. Boon dwelt upon Nurse Cavell's high sense of duty and her courage, and the lesson contained in her remark, as she was being led out for execution, that patriotism is not enough. Suitable hymns and psalms were chosen for the occasion.

Johnson Tells of Housing Program

Australians Work Again

Seven Thousand Men Back to Jobs as Result of Forces Working Coal Mines. SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—More than 7,000 workers made idle for the last six weeks by the country-wide coal strike today went back to work. Their return to their jobs was the first big result of the Army's working of the open-cut coal mines in New South Wales as a counter to the strike of Australia's 24,000 miners for wage increase and reduction in the work week.

In its first five days of work last week, the Army delivered 30,500 tons of coal to the rail heads. This was barely ten percent of normal coal production here but already it has been enough to ease the drastic restrictions.

The state government, as a result, now allows building material, printing, clothing, rubber and shoe factories and laundries to use electricity.

Montana Blaze Still Rages Out of Control

HELENA, Montana (CP)—Five hundred fire fighters are being used today to battle a timber blaze which ravaged a three-mile area since Friday, killing thirteen forest service men and burning over nearly 6,000 acres. Showers slowed the advance of the flames yesterday but winds freshened with clearing weather today.

ONTARIO OFF AFTER 3-DAY VISIT HERE

With a farewell wail of her siren, H.M.C.S. Ontario lifted her anchor and slipped out of the harbor at 6:30 this morning, terminating a three-day visit which marked the third and final liberty period for her crew of 775 on their month-long training cruise. The 10,000-ton cruiser, senior ship of the navy's Pacific Command, will spend the next week at sea, continuing the training of her crew in gunnery and seamanship and will return to her base at Esquimalt on August 14. Ontario docked here at 9 o'clock Friday morning after cruising Alaskan waters. During that time she visited Kodiak and Juneau. Her call here was her last at coast ports before returning to base.

Officers and men were sincere in their praise of the hospitality of the city, particularly that of the Canadian Legion which took leadership in organizing sports events and made the facilities of their Third Avenue club available Friday and Saturday evenings. "Prince Rupert really has a good name among the navy," said one Petty Officer. "I have visited this port before on other ships and the people here always make us welcome." The vessel itself was open to public inspection Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Literally hundreds of people took advantage of the opportunity and boarded the ship's boats at the navy jetty at the foot of McBride Street. (Continued on Page 6)

Great Experiment

ONE OF THE WORLD'S great constitutional experiments began in historic Strasbourg today.

Under the watchful eyes of their foreign ministers, 87 members of Parliament and other leading men from 10 west European countries are meeting in an attempt to form a Parliament of Europe.

Britain's delegation of 18 members comprises 11 Labor members of Parliament, headed by Herbert Morrison and Hugh Dalton; six Conservative members, headed by Winston Churchill; and one Liberal member of the Upper House, Lord Layton.

France and Italy, with populations about equal to Britain's, also have 18 delegates in the consultative assembly. Belgium, The Netherlands and Sweden have six each; Denmark, Norway and Republic of Ireland, four each; and Luxembourg, three.

The ten governments which have joined this experiment have provided themselves with every guard against it running away with them—against any possibility that a supra-National parliament will move too quickly to uproot rational barriers and unite Europe.

But their pledge to co-operate in the "Council of Europe," as the new body is known, is a first step toward realization of the aim of idealists who, for centuries, have campaigned for some form of union.

Sponsors of the experiment express belief that it has far greater chances of success than the League of Nations or the United Nations, earlier attempts to knit countries together. Its advantage, they say, is that it will group nations with the same cultural background and history, and with similar political systems; and furthermore, the experiment is initiated at a time when western Europe is being subjected to greater outside pressure than ever before.

CITY MANAGERSHIP

IT HAS OFTEN BEEN suggested that the institution of the city manager system might go a long way toward improving municipal conditions in Prince Rupert and getting things done. The idea of a city manager is once again engaging the attention of the Victoria city council and the Victoria Times is all for some further investigation of the proposal at this time. In approving an expert study of the matter the Times assures its public that "we do not imply by this that a city manager should necessarily be installed. We say only that the facts should be gathered and listed for public consideration, and in this regard the engagement of a firm of business consultants would seem to be in order.

"For the past year or more, in particular, there has been some belief in the City Council that a salaried manager, with full responsibility and freedom to act, would solve the problems of routine administration which are being encountered. Such a system would enable the Council to concentrate exclusively on matters of policy. Administration of the programs would be left to the manager. There are others, of course, who feel that a compromise arrangement would be more effective, with a city 'adviser' serving as a link between the Council and the execution of its decisions. A third view is also held—that new personnel on the Council might obviate many of the difficulties now encountered. Then, too, there is the question of departmental organization to be considered, with its attendant problems of efficiency and economy.

"Clarification of many of these points should be provided by the survey which has been authorized, and the residents of this community should be kept fully informed as to its outcome. Any form of city administration must preserve full control by the elected representatives of the people. That is a fundamental tenet. At the same time, any salaried official upon whom is placed responsibility for any phase of civic work should be permitted adequate freedom from "advice" in order to carry out his functions. A full investigation of City Hall arrangements should place the whole problem on a sound basis for further consideration."

PLUCKY PARALYTIC—Twelve years ago, Peter Dyck of Carman, Man., became paralyzed and faced the prospect of spending the rest of his life on his back. Today in a specially constructed vehicle, 37-year-old Dyck has become one of the most widely-travelled motorists in Manitoba. Dyck got his first vehicle—built on bicycle wheels and powered by a washing machine motor—in 1943. The next year he had a larger one built. In 1946, with help of friends, he bought a jeep and converted it to his special needs. Now lying on a bed, level with the windshield, and operating the accelerator, clutch and brake by lever, Dyck travels throughout the province. Here Dyck can be seen in his jeep. (C. P. Photo)

Ray Reflects . . . . . . and Reminisces

"I wonder," remarked a New England visitor the other day as her gaze rested on the sea and hills, "if you people in Prince Rupert realize how fortunate you are. Such scenery, and so cool and fresh in midsummer—the season we dread, back home. If you don't you should."

Fish are said to be vocal. Considering the millions paid out in freight charges for halibut shipments from Prince Rupert, year after year, there must be something to it. For money talks!

Using a parachute evidently requires about all the nerve anyone (particularly a novice) can summon. Gliding through space with the greatest of ease looks simple enough viewed on the screen. But is it? Ask parachuters engaged in "Exercise Eagle." Correspondents say that some, when the time came to drop into air, declined to leave the plane at all. Perhaps they tried again, after thinking things over. Anyhow, it's a long long way to Tipperary—or in this case, the good old earth.

Six murders, and one manslaughter case were committed in little more than a week in Toronto recently. It's quite out of place to attempt a clumsy pleasantry. No one wants to hear of "Toronto the Good" in the face of tragedies on this scale. The situation is something Toronto must face and, like enough other Canadian cities, will in time be called on to do the same. Canada likes to brag of her law enforcement, at the expense of other countries. What now?

Ross Munro, rated top Canadian correspondent during the war, spent the week-end covering "Exercise Eagle." Quizzed as to how he handled the situation, Mr. Munro said he did pretty much the same as in Europe—that is, he just went around among the troops and asked questions. But it's more than likely he already knew many of the answers.

Sometimes a good story breaks out when least expected. On Sunday morning in spring, year ago, there was hardly a soul on Saskatoon's streets, and not a whisper of anything untoward or scandalous. Water was high. The little steamer City of Medicine Hat, on her way to Lake Winnipeg, appeared around a bend of the surging Saskatchewan to make a discovery. A new traffic bridge spanned the river and there was not room to pass below. The smokestack hit the bridge, the firemen with ladders and ropes raced to the rescue, and by-and-by a cable connected the badly strained boat with the nearest stout tree. Prairie navigation sometimes runs into surprises. This one provided a readable one for Monday's front page.

WIDE INTEREST IN CITY RITES

A wedding of wide interest in the city and district was solemnized at St. Andrew's Cathedral at 8 o'clock Thursday evening when Helene Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kasper, Inlander Hotel, became the bride of John Stromberg Furness, son of Mrs. Fred B. Shannon and the late John Furness. Canon C. A. Hinchliffe of Smithers performed the rite before a floral background of gladiolas and roses.

Wearing a gown of white slipper satin edged with tubular beads and with sweetheart neckline, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her costume was crowned with a coronet of orange blossoms from which fell a floor-length net veil with border design of satin wedding bells. Her bouquet was of American Beauty roses.

Bridesmaid was Miss Catherine Thompson whose gown was of blue, silk taffeta with matching shoulder-length veil. Her colonial bouquet was of pink carnations and sweet peas.

Flower girl was little Lynne Charlene McIntyre. Her floor-length dress was of yellow organdy, sheered and ruffled with blue forget-me-nots.

Groomsman was J. C. Franks and ushers were Fred Grimbale, jr. and Donald Llewellyn. During the signing of the register, organ music was played by Peter Lien.

A large number of friends attended a reception which followed in the Oddfellows' Hall. Receiving were the mothers of the bride and groom. The former wore a gown of deep blue beaded crepe while the latter's gown was of royal blue.

The couple sailed last night on the Prince George for Vancouver, Seattle and Victoria on a month's honeymoon. On their return they will take up residence at 1369 Overlook St. The groom is a member of the city fire department.

Girls Stage Fine Display

Job's Daughters Prove They Have Something to Show in Spokane

Natural charm of the thirty-three girls, color of their locally-obtained uniforms and fine precision of their marching and formation drills combined to lead hundreds of admiring spectators Friday night to the conclusion that local Job's Daughters should rank high at Spokane where they are going later this month to participate in a drill team competition at international sessions of the order. Led by flag-carrying color party, the girls turned out for a full dress rehearsal on Third Avenue in front of the Post Office and put on a show that won the applause and approbation of all who saw it.

Four judges—Col. S. D. Johnston, Lt.-Col. J. D. McRae, Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton and Government Agent Gordon Forbes, who used the marking forms on which the team will be judged at Spokane, expressed their satisfaction.

It was an almost one-hour show, the high-perfect carrying out of intricate routines reflecting the intensive preparation and practice.

Led by Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell the team, leaving here for Spokane next Friday night, consists of Edith Jordan, drill captain; Donna MacArthur and Alma Knutson, lieutenants; In-

LOCALS WIN BASKETBALL

H.M.C.S. Ontario Defeated By 47 to 24 Score

An interesting game of basketball was played at the Navy Drill Hall on Saturday night before an enthusiastic crowd between a team from H.M.C.S. Ontario and a local aggregation hastily gathered together by Jimmie Flaten. The locals, although outweighted and outsize, out-manoeuvred the Tars to the tune of 47-24.

Outstanding for the Navy were Turner, Jones and Burke while for the locals all showed vastly superior ball control, with Holkestad netting 16 points.

Ontario—Kirby (2), Kiar (2), McIntyre, Baker (2), Turner (4), Moore (2), Jones (6), Clarke, Burke (6).

Prince Rupert—Lavigne (5), Slatta (8), Boulter, R. Holkestad (16), Flaten (4), S. Scherk (14).

Referee—Fred Calderone. Scorekeeper—Betty Hamilton.

Rupert Wins Over Ontario

Navy on Short End of One-Sided Game

A visiting H.M.C.S. Ontario baseball squad displayed lots of spirit but showed signs of lack of practice as it was blanked 7 to 0 by a bolstered Merchant team on Saturday evening. The Navy crew never quit trying and came closest to scoring in the final inning when they loaded the bases. Rosedale came through to strike out the last batter.

Merchants scored in each inning but the second. However, many of the runs were helped around by Navy's proficiency in booting the ball. The best runs were the two scored by Vanetta and Hartwig on Rosedale's triple. It was a mighty blow and not far short of Abel's home run drive on which 'Pear Shape' got as far as third.

The locals had trouble doing much with Baker's offerings and, with good support, the result would not have been so one-sided. Rosedale pitched his usual steady game and did not always get full credit at the plate for his wide breaking hooks.

Hanson Cup Stays Home

H.M.C.S. Ontario Fails to Field Team Against Rupert

H.M.C.S. Ontario left the Hanson Cup in Prince Rupert by conceding last night's football match to a Prince Rupert eleven. A Prince Rupert squad had won the first game of the two game total goal series on Friday night by a score of four goals to nil.

While city players were changing into their uniforms and spectators were moving towards the hill, the Ontario sports officer advised Prince Rupert Football Association officials by telephone that the ship was unable to field a team and so was forced to concede the game and the Cup.

Regular league play resumes tonight when the General Motors are home team to Heavy Battery in the first game of the Mobeley Cup competition.

DRUG AIDS RH BABY—With her mother at Mount Hamilton Hospital is Baby Valerie Gayle Williams, who, but for a new medical discovery, might have needed a 90 per cent blood exchange to survive birth. Because of differences in the RH factors of her parents' blood, the baby's blood would have broken down soon after birth. A new extract, haptan, made for the first time in Canada in the laboratories of Hamilton General Hospital, was given her mother, Mrs. Ronald Williams, before the child was born. As a result, Valerie was born a healthy child requiring no extensive blood exchange. (C.P. Photo)

141 Pints At Terrace

Interior Town Makes Good Showing at Blood Clinic

TERRACE—This community's response to the call for donations of blood was highly gratifying to the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic which drove into Terrace from Prince Rupert on Thursday morning and left for the coast again early on Friday morning taking along 142 pints of Terrace citizens' blood. It was the clinic's first visit to Terrace and, just prior to leaving, Dr. J. Nelson, surgeon in charge, expressed his thanks to Mrs. C. J. Norrington, chairman of the local committee, saying: "I thank you and all the people in Terrace for a successful clinic. Especially do I thank, on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross Society and for myself all the volunteers who helped in the clinic, for without them we could not have carried on."

In leaving, Miss D'Ondt, nurse in charge, said to Mrs. Norrington: "You should be very proud of yourselves in Terrace for a very successful clinic. The patients donating were most cooperative and this made the clinic easy for us to manage."

Only a few of the donors had given blood before. Some were obviously very nervous but, when it was all over, they drank their tea or coffee and chatted in the tearoom with a warm sense of duty well done.

The clinic was quiet in the afternoon, only 46 donors coming in. In the evening, however, a queue formed down the steps of the Orange Hall where the clinic was held with men coming in from the lumber camps to give their share.

As the bottles were filled, Miss Lynn, the Red Cross panel truck driver took them across the road to the Empire Meat Market where they were kept in cold storage until it was time to load them into the truck.

Olin Parker was first donor. He arrived at the clinic one half hour before it opened and stayed through all the preparations until they were ready for him. There were 12 rejects—5 medical, 4 haemoglobin, and 3 age rejects, a girl of 16 years and a man and woman who were close to 70 years old.

The local committee, of which Mrs. C. J. Norrington was chairman, did a fine piece of organization work in making the clinic possible here and having it run smoothly. Every home in the district, also the lumber camps, were canvassed. The hall had to be set up as a clinic and for this, Mr. Hood, who is in charge of work at the Infirmary, sent a carpenter and some cots. Other

TERRACE GIRL PRETTY BRIDE

Miss Colleen Whalen and Raymond Sande Married

TERRACE—Traditional white satin was worn by Miss Colleen Whalen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Whalen of Terrace, when she was given in marriage by her father to Raymond Sande, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Sande of Terrace, at an evening ceremony in the rectory of the Sacred Heart Church, last Wednesday. Father Racette officiated.

In a floor-length, long sleeved gown which featured a bustle back and an inlay of pearls and bugle beads on the Peter Pan collar and cape shoulders the lovely bride wore a veil of embroidered net and a coronet of velvet flowers. She carried a bouquet of white lilies and baby's breath. Her only attendant was Miss Gloria Irving, who was charming in a floor-length gown, off-the-shoulder model of dusty pink moire. A halo of the same material held in place a pink veil which reached to her shoulders. She wore long matching gloves and carried a bouquet of white carnations, baby's breath and snapdragons.

Groomsman was Harold Whalen, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Park Avenue. The spacious living rooms were beautifully decorated with summer flowers and pink and white streamers. Under a large white bell the happy couple stood to receive the congratulations of their many friends.

Mrs. Whalen, in a blue flowered sheer gown with white accessories and corsage of white carnations, and Mrs. Sande, in black with grey accessories and a corsage of white carnations, received the guests who numbered about sixty.

A buffet supper was served and the wedding cake, made by the bride's mother and decorated by Mrs. Bailey was cut by the bride with fitting ceremony.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Father Racette and responded to by the groom, Gloria Irving sang "Because" and "My Hero."

Later in the evening a dance was held in the Oddfellows' Hall where dancing continued to the early hours of the morning.

Leaving by car on a honeymoon tour of the south the south the happy couple will be away for two or three weeks and on their return will reside in Terrace where the groom is employed with his father who is a lumber manufacturer here. The bride was a popular and valued member of the staff of the Skeena Mercantile.
