WALTER REUTHER, PROMINENT C.I.O. LEADER, IS TARGET OF ASSASSIN

DETROIT (CP)—Firing through a window, an apparent would-be assassin shot and severely wounded Walter P. Reuther, president of the C.I.O. United Automobile Workers Union, Tuesday night.

Hastily-summoned surgeons placed Reuther on the operating table a little more than two hours after

Gov't Holds Vote Margin

Some Tenseness, However, Exists In Italy Following Election

ROME (CP)—Virtually complete official count of the popular vote in the Italian Chamber of Deputies as a result of the first of the week elections shows that Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrats got 48.7 percent of the ballots cast.

With only 156 of 41,647 precincts missing, the Communist-led Popular Front got 30.7 percent of the vote.

The Christian Democrat vote was 12,681,527 to 7,995,601 for the Front.

In third place is the Independent Socialist Unity party which is allied with the Christian Democrats in the government. It has 1,848,826 votes or 7.1 percent.

Meanwhile, with Italian communists demanding representation in the cabinet under threat of causing dangerous tension, violence has broken out both in the north and south of the country in protest at "election fraud."

Six Socialist leaders have demanded that their followers withdraw from association with the communist party.

MINE TAX IS PASSED

VICTORIA—After four divisions and three hours of debate, the four per cent tax bill on mining operations passed the British Columbia Legislature yesterday. The C.C.F. wanted the tax increased.

Harold Winch, Opposition leader, contended that estimated $750,000 revenue from the Act was "meagre return to the people for exploitation of natural resources."

Hon. Herbert Anscomb, minister of finance, said the measure was designed to take the place of the two per cent tax on the value of ore mined which was declared ultra vires in a court decision last year.

he had been shot at through a window in his home while he was taking a midnight snack. Authorities immediately began an inquiry and Prosecutor James McNally said Reuther blamed the shooting on management, communists or a screwball."

Reuther's condition is described as "excellent, all things considered."

NOMINATIONS ARE RECALLED

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—The White House yesterday announced that President Truman was renominating members of the Atomic Energy Commission for new terms and then, without explanation, suddenly recalled the announcement.

As first announced Truman was nominating Sumner T. Pike for a four-year term, Lewis I. Strauss for three years, William Waymack for two years and Robert F. Bacher for one year.

THE WEATHER

Clouds were thickening over the province this morning in advance of a storm which is approaching the B.C. coast. Rain fell over most of the coastal areas during the night and commenced in the southern Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland areas this morning. Another storm centre is forming off the Oregon coast and will give continued unsettled weather over the province tomorrow.

STANDINGS IN ITALY

ROME—A late tabulation indicates that Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian-Democrat party will hold 533 of the 574 seats in the new Italian Chamber of Deputies. Communist-led Popular Front parties will hold 178. Christian-Democrats will hold 130 seats in the Senate against 74 by the Popular Front.

TAX GOING THROUGH
VICTORIA—British Columbia's three per cent sales tax was given third reading in the Legislature Tuesday night. The C.C.F. made a last minute attempt to block the Act's passage by moving a six month hoist. The motion was defeated 25 to 12.

15-MILE GAP STILL REMAINS ON HIGHWAY

Public Works Department snow removal crews from Prince Rupert and Terrace are working to narrow down the 15-mile gap which is still blocked with winter snow on the Skeena River Highway between Kwinitsa and Estew about 60 miles east of the city.

No definite predictions are being made as to when the road will be open to traffic since the frozen condition of the snow is making heavy going for equipment on both ends of the obstructed area.

However, if a spell of warm weather were to arrive, the job could be completed in a relatively short period because the snow would soften and make the work easier.

Public Works crews have bunk cars and kitchen cars near the job and are remaining out all week, rather than coming in at the end of each day, consequently, the office here is receiving little information on the progress of the clearing.

In some places along the road, winter snow is packed to a depth of more than six feet and this has been increased by more recent snowfalls. Earlier this week, snow fell to a depth of eight inches at the Rainbow Lake summit. No word as to the amount of snow which fell further east has been received by the Public Works office here.

Andrew Thompson returned on the Prince Rupert this afternoon from a business trip to Vancouver.

MENNONITES TO VOTE

VICTORIA—Mennonites and Hutterites were given the franchise in amendments to the Provincial Elections Act brought down in the Legislature Tuesday. Japanese, Doukhobors and native Indians are still excluded unless they served in the armed forces.

TENSION AGAIN

LONDON—Russian disputes with the western powers over Germany and Austria sharpened today with new thrusts and counter-thrusts. A Russian commission has found the British plane responsible for an air crash over Berlin April 15 in which 15 persons died.

VANCOUVER WINS

MAGRATH, Alta.—Vancouver defeated Magrath, Alberta, by a score of 83 to 59 in the first of a two-game total point series for the Alberta-British Columbia basketball championship.

Margarine Is To Fore

Liberals In Both Commons and Senate Urge Removal of Ban

OTTAWA (CP)—Bitter criticism of the ban on margarine loomed yesterday in both Houses of Parliament and it all came from Liberals.

In the House of Commons James Sinclair, Liberal, Vancouver North, roared out in all directions time and again. His attack was aimed straight at the cabinet and his own Liberal party.

The Senate heard the same sort of thing from four Liberal senators.

However, the full scale drive for support of the controversial butter substitute does not mean that the margarine question has been brought to a head. In Commons, particularly, it may not be even put to a vote this session. It will probably not be discussed again for another month.

Fort Worth Wins From Vancouver

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Fort Worth Rangers of the United States Hockey League clubbed their way to a five to three victory over Vancouver Canucks of the Pacific Coast Hockey League in the first game of an exhibition series.

LEWIS CALLS MEN TO WORK

Appeals to American Coal Miners to Return to Jobs

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—In spite of the conviction and fines imposed upon himself and his United Mine Workers' Union, John L. Lewis last night, in a direct appeal, called upon striking miners to return to their jobs.

The assistant attorney-general indicated that, if the miners went back to work, civil prosecution would not be proceeded with and no further penalties would be sought.

Should the coal strike flare anew, Lewis might face a still bigger fine and even jail for civilian contempt on Friday.

Meanwhile, the result of Lewis' appeal (p) the miners to hurry back to the pits was an avalanche of orders from twenty-seven unions to the coal diggers to be back on the job in force by Monday at the latest.

The air was cleared at once and the pension strike, which began March 15, seemed to be definitely over.

The Canadian Congress of Labor offered to Lewis its "utmost support in the struggle for the miners."

Non-Confidence Votes Are Being Decided On

OTTAWA (CP)—The House of Commons is expected to vote today on the ticklish freight rates issue. Actually, there will be two votes, one each on two motions of want of confidence in the government which arise from the recent 21 percent increase in freight rate charges.

HALIBUT FLEET HEADING NORTH

SEATTLE (CP)—Doughty fishing vessels upped anchors at a dozen west coast ports yesterday to head for Alaska in an open scramble for choice locations on the North Pacific halibut grounds. A record armada of six hundred ships is expected to be dispersed throughout the area when the season opens May 1.

FRITZ KUHN IS SENTENCED

MUNICH, (CP)—Fritz Kuhn (missing former leader of the German-American Bund, was convicted in absentia yesterday by a Bavarian denazification court as a major Nazi offender and was sentenced to serve 10 years in a labor camp if he is found. The court was told that Kuhn had had ties with Adolf Hitler and had attempted to transplant his ideology into the United States. He escaped from Dachau internment camp on February 4.

PLAN FOR PALESTINE

Tentative Proposals Put Forward by United States

LAKE SUCCESS, (CP)—A 47-point trusteeship plan for embattled Palestine was yesterday offered by the United States for consideration by the United Nations. It was made clear that it was not a formal proposal but was merely brought forward for comment.

A group of powers to be selected later should defend Palestine and keep order, the document said. It did not commit United States troops to any enforcement program nor did it specify who would maintain peace.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Starr returned to the city this afternoon on the Prince Rupert from an extended trip to the south.

One of the votes of confidence has been moved by the C.C.F. group and the other by the Progressive-Conservative party. Both motions criticize the government for not holding up the increase but the Progressive-Conservative motion goes a bit further. It censures the government for failing to remove inequalities in the freight rate structure before the increase becomes effective.

While acceptance by the House of either of these motions could mean the government's defeat, the administration is believed to have marshalled enough support of dissident members in its own ranks to ensure rejection of both opposition thrusts.

Enunciates Platform

John Bracken Gives Keynote Speech at F.-C. Convention

OTTAWA, (CP)—John Bracken, Progressive-Conservative leader, yesterday placed the basis of his party's platform before supporters from all parts of the country.

Mr. Bracken said he favors a broad contributory social security scheme and told of other things his party would do if elected in the next general federal election.

The Progressive-Conservative leader made it clear he was counting on the support of his listeners who are here to attend a three-day annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada.

The convention ends today and closing sessions are expected to be highlighted with reports of the resolution committee. That committee may give some indication of the reception to Mr. Bracken's announced policies.

Costa Rica's War Over

Insurgents Assume Control As Former President Flees

CARTAGO, Costa Rica (CP)—Rebel Leader Jose Figueres rushed couriers to his armies today to halt further bloodshed after ratifying an agreement with the government aimed at settling revolt-torn Costa Rica's civil war in which the insurgents appeared to be the victors.

Former President Teodoro Picardo Michalski and about thirty-five ex-government officials arranged to flee from Costa Rica today. Former officials booked reservations on Pan-American planes less than twenty-four hours after the peace agreement had been signed by Picardo and a representative of Figueres.

The agreement provides Santos Leon Herrera yesterday assumed the interim presidency until May 8 when it is believed a constituent assembly will be called.

The rebel leaders will continue to advance upon the capital, leaders said, avoiding firing as much as possible.

Armed troops roamed the streets of San Jose, the capital, today and sporadic shooting was heard in spite of the peace agreement.

KRUPP ON TRIAL IN NUREMBERG—At the war crime trials in Nuremberg, Germany, Alfred Krupp (centre) owner of the gigantic Krupp munitions combine, listens to testimony concerning his treatment of slave labor. Krupp was forced to sit with his former financial director, Ewald Loeser (right). The latter left Krupp in 1943 as a result of a personal quarrel.

ITALIAN VERDICT

THE SOVIET is not passing Italy. The western world sighs with relief. The Marshall aid plan is moving quickly into operation. European economic stability is getting under way. Truly things, after these many anxious days, are looking better again. Even the Soviet itself, her bid for expansion stayed, begins at times to look more tractable.

Of course, this troubled world's affairs are not settled yet. There is a long way to go. However, there are indications that the air is clearing. It is not too late yet for acceptance of reason, the development of international understanding and the shaping of courses accordingly. Possibly, this may be closer than it has been appearing of late might have been possible.

We have been accepting the assumption that the verdict in Italy would shape the course of events to come in Europe and in the world. We may, indeed, feel well satisfied at the course things have taken in Italy. But it is nothing to gloat about. A key nation, strategic politically and geographically, has accepted one ideology over another. On that acceptance it is for the other nations to compose themselves. If there must be dividing lines in the meantime for the ideologies, may those lines be accepted and those on either side govern themselves accordingly!

On that acceptance rests hope for a peaceful world.

MR. KING'S RECORD

MR. MAKENZIE KING today achieves in his seventy-third year a long-cherished ambition in becoming the Prime Minister with the longest record of service in the history of the British Commonwealth. With typical reserve and unostentatiousness he has planned no special ceremony.

However, it is a time for felicitating the Prime Minister who, although becoming full of years, is still a dignified and sagacious leader, competent and skillful.

Even those who may not agree with him or have not the inspiration to admire him, must admit that Mr. King is a great man. Only a great statesman and a diplomat and a politician too, if one will have it, could have achieved the record of longevity in such a high office as Mr. King. So the satisfaction that he may feel is fully justified.

And, with his record achieved, Mr. King goes on and who knows it may be for a considerable time yet.

It might prove interesting to reflect where are the "greats" of that day, December 29, 1921, when Mr. King first became Prime Minister. Gone from this mortal sphere are David Lloyd George, who was Prime Minister of Great Britain then; Warren Harding, who was president of the United States, and the most of the Prime Ministers of the provinces—Oliver of British Columbia; Greenfield of Alberta; Martin of Saskatchewan; Norris of Manitoba; Drury of Ontario; Taschereau of Quebec; Foster of New Brunswick; Murray of Nova Scotia, and Bell of Prince Edward Island. Even some of the names have been practically forgotten.

THAT NUISANCE AGAIN

LIKE IT OR NOT, daylight saving goes into effect again in British Columbia next Sunday. Victoria, in its wisdom, the cows and chickens, the railways, the airplanes and the steamships notwithstanding, decrees that we must have it. So in these bureaucratic days we must grin and bear it. But it is still a free country and we can still protest if we want to. There are a lot of people who do not like daylight saving, and we are among them, but we would gladly tolerate it, if there was an effective agreement in the majority. But it is obvious that it is never going to be satisfactory until it becomes universal. Daylight saving should be national or not at all.

C.C.F. FOREIGN POLICY

THOSE OF OUR socialistic friends who may still murmur tolerantly of Soviet Russia and her communism should note the foreign policy declaration of the national council of the C.C.F. That council forthrightly says in its statement that the rebuilding of western Europe as "a political and economic unit" is one of the great needs of the day and, for that reason, the British Commonwealth should support the newly-formed union of Western European democracies. And, to make it doubly clear, the C.C.F. declares that a successful western union would lessen the danger of Russian-American conflict. In other words, the C.C.F. agrees that only unity and strength will stay the communist peril.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

Once upon a time anything north of San Francisco didn't count. By and by the hateful discovery was made that profitable business could be transacted through Portland and Seattle. Came a day, as they say in "drammer," when Vancouver was acknowledged a competitor. And now, fearless of successful contradiction let it be said that history will be again repeated as Alaska and Prince Rupert become more neighborly.

There is just one place to keep the Cunningham art collection and that's in the museum at Prince Rupert. If money can do it—and it usually can—these prized possessions will be lost to Prince Rupert. They can never be replaced for the skill and talent which created them belong to past generations. Nothing today, is done for the love of it. Or next to nothing!

Fifteen thousand Londoners assembling in Grosvenor Square for the unveiling of the memorial sang "Battle Hymn of the Republic." It was a happy choice, harmonizing so greatly with the ideals and services of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Eighty-six years ago, when Julia Ward Howe penned her inspiring words, there were dangers, problems, ordeals not unlike what beset nations today. "Glory, Glory Hallelujah," "Die to Make Men Free" "His Truth is Marching on" are lines that still have power to thrill.

That unused building over on Digby Island, erected away in advance of the railway, is still waiting for business. Originally intended to provide immigration accommodation and at first an attractive spot, it is that no longer. Windows have long ago been boarded over. Sil-

P.T.A. MEETING WELL ATTENDED

Interesting Program For Music and Drama Festival

A joint meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association held Tuesday evening in the King Edward School drew one of the largest attendances ever to be present, the feature of the occasion being an address by Mrs. S. J. Anderson, official delegate from Prince Rupert to the Provincial convention of the B.C. Federation, held in Vancouver during Easter week. E. E. Hyndman, inspector of schools, and chairman of the Music and Drama Festival, gave a progress report on the plans for that forthcoming event and the King Edward School Girls' Choir, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Moxley, rendered very enjoyable vocal selections.

Rudolph Olsen, president of the King Edward School P.T.A., opened the meeting and then turned over the proceedings to Mrs. Earl Becker, chairman of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Council.

In his talk on the Music and Drama Festival arrangements, Mr. Hyndman outlined the plans for the program which will include five plays and seventeen musical items. From out of town there will be a play presented by students of South Hazelton. Four plays will be given by the local high school. One the first afternoon musical items by the junior groups of the schools will be given. On the second afternoon musical numbers will be given by the 'teen-age school and church choirs. The plays will be presented each evening. Mr. Hyndman paid tribute to the committees who are working to make the festival a success and urged the practical support of every parent-teacher member both by their attendance and by arousing the interest of the public generally. As the centre of the district Prince Rupert has a fine opportunity to become the music and cultural stimulus of what should become an increasingly valuable entertainment.

The King Edward School Girls' Choir sang four numbers, the first being "The Owl and the Pussy Cat" with Annette Windle, Jean Golds and Shirley Haugen, soloists. The second included three selections from "Alice in Wonderland." Mardel Soland was a capable accompanist. The hearty applause showed how much the audience enjoyed the numbers.

Following the closing of the meeting refreshments were served by a joint committee composed of Mrs. John McLeod, Mrs. Christoff, Mrs. Mohler, Mrs. Vic King, Mrs. W. J. Lineham, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. F. E. Anfield and Mrs. G. A. Hill.

JAYCEES PAINT CITY MUSEUM

Second storey room of the Museum of Northern British Columbia, which is to be used as an exhibit room this summer, was transformed from its original drab color to a bright white and pale green color combination Sunday when a band of 10 Junior Chamber of Commerce volunteers, led by J. Harry Black, Museum Board chairman, attacked the walls and ceiling with paint brushes. Scaffolding and canvas tarpaulin covers were lent by Fred Scadden, local painting contractor. Major part of the job was completed during the day and final work is being done during evenings this week. Taking part in the work were Harold Hampton, Harold Helgeson, J. K. McLeod, A. P. Crawley, J. H. Jefferies, Ed Mussallem, Eric S. Speers, David Hay and Stuart Furk.

TELLS ABOUT CONVENTION

Mrs. S. J. Anderson Gives Reports on Important Activities

Feature of a joint meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher Associations held Tuesday evening in King Edward School was a comprehensive review of the many activities of the provincial convention of the B. C. Federation of Parent Teacher Association, Mrs. S. J. Anderson, the official delegate from Prince Rupert, kept her large audience keenly interested as she related some of the highlights of what was the largest convention the Parent Teacher Federation had ever held.

Over 450 official delegates attended and, with others also at the meetings, there were more than 500 present daily. There were very few men. Matters taken up at the request of the Prince Rupert associations were the mailing of Parent Teacher News and other literature. A meeting held under the joint auspices of the Parent Teacher Association and the B.C. Teachers' Federation had been addressed by Mrs. Pearl Wana-maker, superintendent of Education for Oregon State and a delegate to United Nations meetings. She made a strong plea for the developing of proper leaders at home so that world peace may be assured.

Other speakers stressed the import of pre-kindergarten schools and the needs for more social contacts between parents and teachers. Such contacts paid big dividends. Parents should get to know the teachers personally, not just through the impressions gathered from the talk of the pupils. Hon. W. T. Straith, minister of education, eulogized the work of the P.T.A. as an interlocking agency between education and the home. He referred to the plans for education in the use of alcohol.

Other speakers included Dr. Black who spoke on a pattern for progress. There was no normal school for parents he pointed out. S. Evans, assistant secretary, B.C. Teachers' Federation, referred to the shortage of teachers. The profession would have to be made more attractive and teachers should be given full rights of citizenship. Committee reports were made on visual education, the need for a graded course in Bible reading in schools, the curse of undesirable literature and comics, education of Indian children and home economics.

Mrs. Anderson announced

Mrs. Anderson also reported on the presentation of cards to those associations which had made the biggest increase in membership during the past year. She then presented cards to King Edward, Booth Memorial and Conrad Street Schools.

A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mrs. Anderson for her interesting talk. In moving this Mrs. G. A. Hill said that all must have been happy to have been so ably represented by the delegate. Mrs. Anderson had not spared herself but had attended every possible meeting and the results of her attendance would continue to be an inspiration to the local associations for the future.

GUIDING MAKES LARGE STRIDES

No Less Than 150 Girls
Now Enrolled Here

Plans for Prince Rupert's participation in the first provincial Guide Cookie Day were discussed at a meeting Monday evening at the home of District Guide Commissioner Honora Silversides. On Cookie Day, which comes on April 23, uniformed Guides and Brownies of the city's six companies and packs will be knocking on doors taking orders for cookies, as will be Guides and Brownies all over British Columbia and the Yukon.

Building in B.C. has made great strides in recent years. In Prince Rupert alone the increase in uniformed members has been from five in 1944 to 150 at the present time. A similar increase all over the province has made the appointment of a full time secretary almost a necessity. Funds raised by the sale of cookies will be used for that purpose as well as for general extension of Guide work.

Those present at the meeting were Commissioner Silversides, Mrs. G. F. Brett, Mrs. F. Stone, Miss Pat Clark and Mrs. W. F. Manning.

Today in Sports

CAPTAIN SURROUNDED BY COACHES—Captain Syl Apps of the Toronto Maple Leafs found himself flanked by two coaches in a post-game session of "watch the birdie" after the Leafs had eliminated the Boston Bruins from further play-off competition by virtue of their 3-2 win over the Bruins. That's Coach Hay Day of the Leafs on the left and Coach Dit Clapper of the Bruins on the right. Clapper came to the Leafs' dressing room after the game to congratulate the victors and this picture was snapped.

BASEBALL WRITERS PREDICT AND TABULATE STARS FOR THIS YEAR

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The baseball writers of the United States today looked for Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh and Johnny Mize of New York Giants to put on another thrilling duel for the home run championship in the National League this season but predicted a breeze for Ted Williams in the same department in the American.

In the pre-season Associated Press poll, the scribes nominated Kiner to nip Mize in the home run derby by the slightest margins. The slugging pirate outfielder, who shared the leadership with Mize last year at 51 four-baggers, received 57 votes to 56 for Mize. In all, 115 writers cast their ballots. The remaining votes went to Willard Marshall of the Giants and Jeff Heath of Boston Braves.

Williams shared 106 ballots to make a runaway race of it in the American. He paced the home hitters in his league last season. Four voters thought Joe DiMaggio of New York Giants would win the honors. DiMaggio's teammate Charlie Keller, got two votes as did Vern Stephens, Williams' teammate on Boston Red Sox.

The writers, voiced Williams and Stan Musial of St. Louis Cardinals to lead their respective leagues in batting.

The two top pitchers in the Majors in 1948 will be Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati Reds and Bobby Feller of Cleveland Indians, the writers predict.

The voting:

HOME RUNS
National League
Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh (57).
Johnny Mize, New York (56).
Willard Marshall, New York (1).
Jeff Heath, Boston (1).

American League
Ted Williams, Boston (107).
Joe DiMaggio, New York (4).

TERRACE — Alec Wilson of the National Film Board was in town last week and a committee meeting was held at Mr. Haaland's home to discuss the future of the showing of films in Terrace. The board, in their new policy have cut down the appropriations for the smaller towns and this means that the communities must raise $50 annually. As the board is greatly interested in community work and especially in showing educational films to the school children it was suggested that the school board be asked to donate $25 of the sum needed and the general adult public the remainder. A letter will go to the president of each organization asking that a representative be sent to the next committee meeting. In this way all will have a choice in the selection of future films. At present serving on the committee are J. Haaland, chairman; A. Gillanders, secretary, and Mrs. Spencer, publicity

Goldfish Gobbling College Boys Are Unwelcome to this Hobbyist

Charles McNab Finds Fascination In Miniature Fish In His Parlor Aquarium

College students with goldfish-eating tendencies are unwelcome in the Wallace Block apartment of Charles McNab, Canadian National Railways car foreman and spare-time ichthyologist. Owner of an expanding parlor aquarium, Mr. McNab raises fish as a hobby, not for food.

His sword - tails, fan - tails, black-a-moors zebra and guppies idle about in five tanks whose glass sides display a subterranean forest of marine plant life which provide a near-natural setting for his colorful pets. Mr. McNab has found that goldfish raising, like many hobbies, is a thing that grows on the hobbyist. Its development apparently only will stop when he runs out of space because it is unlikely that he will run out of fish.

Blessed events occur with astonishing frequency in the McNab household. The guppies are the most prolific and one of the tanks is set aside for the young. It started little more than a year ago when Mr. McNab brought back a few goldfish from Vancouver. The idea was that they would, like most goldfish, be accepted into the household as part of the furniture, half-forgotten. It turned out differently.

Mr. McNab, a widower whose family is grown up and scattered, lives with his sister, Miss Mary McNab who acts as housekeeper. Her pet, incidentally, is a Chihuahua dog, although she, too enjoys her brother's hobby. Mr. McNab was at work Tuesday afternoon but Miss Mary was hospitable about showing a visitor the goldfish. It was obvious that she, too, took pride in the aquarium.

"It keeps him interested, although, personally, I prefer a dog for company," she said, smiling. Frankly, Mr. McNab has struck on a fascinating hobby. Unique things go on under water. Take, for instance, the sword-tail of which the aquarium has two males and one female.

Any theory that the sword-tail developed his weapon as a means to chastise other fish who tease him about his ponderous scientific name "Xiphophorus helleri" is entirely false. The tail, actually has a genetic purpose. That, however, does not make him any the less of a fascinating fellow although, for biological interest, the female takes the cake.

Here is what the books say: "The females of these fish in their third year, and after having delivered themselves of their living young, occasionally change sex, assuming male characters. The explanation is offered that as normally, the males are far outnumbered by the females, the sudden change of sex is an attempt on the part of nature to equalize the odds and maintain a sufficient balance of the sexes to ensure survival of the species."

Or take the guppies, who in the McNab tank, at least, do not grow more than an inch-and-a-half long as mature fish. They certainly raise large families, born alive too, not as spawn like most northern fish. One enterprising McNab female guppy recently gave birth to a brood of 19 small fry while another almost reached that mark.

The pay-off is that the young have to be quickly separated from their mothers or they will eat them alive. Mr. McNab keeps the tiny babies in a nursery tank.

A couple of specimens that could be mounted right alongside "Lena the Hyena" in the gallery of horrors are the black-a-moors, whose periscope eyes project a full quarter-inch above their ugly faces. However, their sail-like fins rival the fan tails for chimeric beauty.

Then there is a Zebra fish an inch-long playboy who rejoices under the official handle of "Danio Rero." Despite his small size, he is very striking with his creamy-white body overlaid with longitudinal stripes of metallic blue.

This particular Danio Rero is more than a little on the lonely side since his mate was accidentally siphoned out of the tank while Mr. McNab was changing water.

The goldfish hobby, although not an exacting one, does require considerable attention to certain details if it is to be done successfully. Mr. McNab watches his fish closely to see that they are all healthy. If one becomes ill it can be immediately identified by the way its dorsal fin droops. Mr. McNab then separates from its fellows and places it in a salt water bath. A treatment with potassium permanganate follows.

So far, he has had little trouble with illness.

Water temperature must be kept fairly even. The McNab tanks are kept at about 70 degrees. Last winter Mr. McNab rigged up an electric heater

Philosopher of the McNab aquarium is an amiable tadpole who has grown to such proportions that he is far bigger than any of the goldfish with whom he associates. He is an even-tempered fellow who knows no fear and who, undoubtedly some day will grow up to be an up-standing frog.

Goldfish, incidentally, are members of the carp family, a species of fish believed to have originated in Korea but which now are indigenous to all parts of the globe. The exotic varieties have been developed by selective breeding and they would lose their exaggerated characteristics if the selective processes were dropped.

Warn Against Final Rush In Filing Returns

Assessors Kenneth Leckie and Thomas Healy, from the Dominion income tax office in Vancouver, who are here in their capacity as assessors to facilitate the filing of income tax returns by Prince Rupert people between now and the end of the month, expressed hope today that the making of these returns would be made as soon as possible.

The earlier the returns are made, the better service it will be possible for the assessors to give, they said. A last-minute rush would mean that the best of attention could not be given.

It is also hinted by the assessors that upon the advantage that is taken of the service being made available might depend whether it will be given again. So far it is estimated that, as a result of the presence of the assessors here to give information and advice, the writing of at least fifty letters to departmental headquarters in Vancouver has been obviated.
