Forgetful Hearts

IT IS SOMETHING of a commentary on our lives, perhaps a hopeful commentary, that under certain stresses many of us seem capable of forgetting ourselves, our private interests, our partisan thinking and our guiding prejudices.

The other day, two little girls walking on the highway were hit by a truck and almost instantly killed. It was one of those grim tragic items that most of us read and hasten to forget. But, for those whom it touched more closely, it was more than that. It was the experience, the momentary experience perhaps, of a better and more kindly world. Here were two little school girl friends, the one's parents were Roman Catholic and the other Protestant. Perhaps the dogmas and the mutual prejudices that draw so sharp a line between the two great branches of the Christian church are no less acute in Sturgeon Falls, Ontario, than they are elsewhere. But they could be forgotten. They were forgotten, for the moment at least, by the town's Catholics gathered in a United Church to share its sorrow. They were forgotten as a day later, Protestants joined in the Catholic service for a Catholic child.

Years ago when earthquake and fire blasted the great city of San Francisco into a heap of rubble the same spirit of selfless and unthinking kindness. An editor sat at his desk as the work of rescue drew to a close and some sort of order emerged from chaos, and he wrote: "The Kingdom of Heaven came to San Francisco, but it lasted just ten days."

The pity of it! The sad and wasteful pity of it, that people with such good hearts should have such short memories.

Efficiency is based on a philosophy of life which considers first the claims, needs and desires of the other fellow.

FINNY FUTURE

GOOD NEWS for Canada's fishing industry came recently in Fisheries Minister Mayhew's announcement of a five-year program for the realization of the great fish potential of this country, now the greatest in the world since the admission of Newfoundland. In 1948 the United States produced 900,000,000 pounds of fish; Canada and Newfoundland produced 1,460,000,000 pounds.

The federal government is going to the aid of this greatly expanding industry by (1) increasing use of specially designed refrigerator cars for fish haulage; (2) establishing terminal warehouses in large cities, especially Montreal and Toronto for better handling of fish; (3) special steps to improve retail distribution and get highest quality fish to consumers; (4) an expanded advertising program to get people to eat more fish.

The government is also going to assist and encourage use of improved fishing and fish handling equipment and techniques and will consider capital assistance where necessary.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.I.

There has not been a tag day in Prince Rupert for weeks—or so it seems. Once, it was nearly "tops" in out of door sports. Or has the innocent and playful old custom been discouraged? Some brutal fellows even suggest that the increasing cost of living might possibly have something to do with it.

Prince Rupert people, like those of all other Canadian communities, have been hearing a lot about injustice suffered by school teachers in Canada, but what do they know of the situation in Washington? From the American capital comes word that members of the teaching profession, in the event of illness, remain unpaid for every day absent from school—and on top of this, hire and pay a substitute. Try that on your piano.

Damme sir, what next? Here's Allan Histed, president of the Hamilton and District Trades & Labor Council, announcing he will seek nomination as Progressive-Conservative candidate for the riding of Hamilton East. Holy-toity Tories need not feel surprised—not, if they know their history and all that jolly rot. Surely they must remember that the Conservatives, with their thirst for pomp and privilege, were the first to give recognition to unions in Canada—and at a time when the Dominion generally, stood opposed to unions, and that a party plank this very day endorses collective bargaining.

"Suffered much with constipation"

Famous cereal helps where "remedies" failed

Are you among those who long for constipation relief? Then read this unsolicited letter:

"I tried several remedies but could not end this old trouble. One day I was told I should try KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. I began to eat this cereal regularly. And without exaggeration, it turned out to be perfect for me!" H. Mason, 5727 9th Avenue, Rosemount, Montreal.

If your constipation is due to lack of bulk in the diet, you too may find lasting relief! Eat a daily portion of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN and drink plenty of water! ALL-BRAN is not a purgative, but a wholesome regulating cereal. Eat an ounce as a cereal or in muffins for constipation relief. If after using a package you are not entirely satisfied, get double your money back as guaranteed on the package. Buy delicious ALL-BRAN from your grocer today. Made by Kellogg's of London, Ontario.

Local folk need not be so short-tempered and inconsiderate because of occasional dust. Indeed, it is hard to see what there is to complain of when nearly as many ride in comfy cars, as travel on foot and right in the teeth of the gritty breeze. Of course no protests were heard the time of the dust annoyance out Park Avenue—that is, the gold-dust nuisance.

There need be no further doubt about Barbara Ann Scott, who skated her way to fame, having turned professional. A beastly sneak thief has taken $200 cash from her wallet in a private dressing room in Toronto. He overlooked, of course, a diamond ring and highly valuable wrist watch. This has the true professional touch.

Ice is unknown in the beautiful harbor of Prince Rupert. It's always been like that. And to say the same about wheat is coming so close to the truth that it's no jesting matter.

Charged with keeping liquor for sale, Rene Van Walleghem was remanded to May 23 when he appeared before Magistrate W. D. Vance in city police court Monday.

LETTERBOX

MUNICIPAL TAXES

Editor, Daily News:

May I comment upon the alarming all-round increase that has taken place in the above over the past four or five years. Not only have the usual annual taxes been greatly increased but there appears to have been a determined effort to create new taxes where possible. The latest we are about to have imposed upon us is a water-tap tax—in other words a premium upon cleanliness and sanitation. A modern home owner who has endeavoured to establish a creditable home by installing ample plumbing will likely have to pay more than an old crowded rooming house with minimum facilities which, consequently, must operate all day and night. This type of taxation is not only discrimination against those promoting sanitary and healthful conditions but a retrograde step equivalent to the old tythe system of taxation which was practised in European countries and Britain a hundred years or more ago when taxation was imposed by tythe according to the number of chimneys appearing through the roof of one house or the number of windows installed to let in wholesome sunlight. History relates that collection of these taxes brought on so many riots and so much disorder that they had to be abolished. Now our city is considering reverting to an equivalent state of affairs.

Whether are we bound? Maybe we are getting ready for another commissioner? There would not have been one before had the citizens demonstrated a willingness to pay unlimited taxes.

ELIZABETH SEES CHILDREN OFF TO SWITZERLAND—Princess-Elizabeth is shown bidding good luck to 50 children who left London to spend a month's holiday at Lucerne, Switzerland. The children—25 boys and 25 girls—are all between the ages of 10 and 14, and all their expenses are being paid as a gift from the town council and hoteliers of Lucerne to Princess Elizabeth on the birth of Prince Charles. They were chosen from air raid sufferers and orphans in London, Manchester, Birmingham and Plymouth.

H. F. Robins, manager of Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd., at Port Edward, will be returning to the city on the Prince Rupert tomorrow following a trip to Vancouver. Norman Nelson, who has been here for the past week or so, will return to Vancouver Thursday night on the Prince Rupert.

W. H. Crocker, field representative of the Regional Development Division of the Department of Trade and Industry, left this morning by car on his return to the interior after spending the past week in the city. He will visit Terrace and Smithers on the way.

BILLIARD FINAL IS SET TONIGHT

The winning pair of the Old Vets is Alex Harvey and Jack Judge while the champions for the New Vets are J. Campbell and B. G. Simundson. Both sides are playing scratch and the match of 250 points should be keenly contested.

The scores for the closing games of the respective sides in this, the final tournament of the season, were:

OLD VETS
W. Goddard and G. J. Dawes beat W. Strachan and Rod Smith (both teams playing scratch) 150-143.
Alex Harvey and J. Judge beat J. Nicoll and P. M. Ray (both teams playing scratch) 150-79.
In the final Alex Harvey and J. Judge beat W. Goddard and G. J. Dawes 150-94. In this match Alex Harvey, by scoring a break of 28 points, at present, is top scorer for the prize for the highest break in the tournament.

NEW VETS

Sport Shots

In Sunday's football game there were no fewer than three pairs of brothers playing. The two Eby boys were giving a good display. "Brick" has been playing regularly but it was "Buck" Eby's first game for some time. He is a good defender.

Then there were the two Summers. "Monk," the younger, who starred in basketball, gave another of his fine displays of fearless tackling and sure kicking. Brother "Billy" on the wing was always a source of danger, controlling the ball well and setting up his inside men. It was from his pass that Pat Wilson scored. The other duo were the Wilson brothers. They had three of the four goals between them. John, at centre half, followed up his forwards smartly and picked up two partial clearances to drive the ball home. Pat Wilson, on the other team, gave a smart, unselfish exhibition and was a source of danger at all times.

Teams are signing up their players for the regular season. The biggest news is the transfer of Stan Cornwell from the Battery to the Legion. The Battery will miss him, but it is probably true that the Legion will need him more than the Artillery men.

It was gratifying to have two full teams fielded on Sunday. Many of the regular players were working but reserves showed up. A special bouquet is due the Indian lads Alvin McKay, Oscar Mercer and Robinson who at great inconvenience and some expense were determined to get to the game and did so. With that spirit among the players a good season seems assured.

Music, Drama--Comments, Criticism

JUNIOR PLAYS ARE COMMENDED

Local Schools Commended By Adjudicator
At the Friday afternoon session of the Music and Drama Festival, Adjudicator Mrs. Audrey Johnson commended the local schools on the excellent quality of drama being produced. Referring to the "Spinners of Lush," she thought this comedy of manners on the pre-Victorian era, was a very good choice for festival work. Except for a too even spacing of chairs the set was good and the costumes well planned and pretty. The girls did an extremely good job of conveying the feeling of the play. Mrs. Johnson suggested that more movement would have been better. Elizabeth Martin showed herself capable in her part, had good stage presence and with fine acting. Margaret Giske proved herself, the dominating older sister of sweet submissive by Dorothy Marshall. Barbara Moore was a capable actress though her part might have had more character. Joyce Strand had a short part but played it well. The maid's part taken by Marie Hiltz, was nice but she was not seen well enough by all parts of the audience.

The play was well chosen and splendidly done, said Mrs. Johnson. The comedy, "Advice to the Love-Lorn," was presented also by a cast from the Booth Memorial High School. Mrs. Johnson expressed satisfaction that the cast had, by a good performance, put over a play that had little to go on. The set, she commented, was the best arranged up to that performance, though it was a little too tidy for the newspaper office it was supposed to be. She suggested a trip to the local newspaper office for atmosphere. In her own words Mrs. Johnson considered the tempo and audibility absolutely excellent, 10 per cent of which could be credited to the audience. Melvin Moore, as Mr. Jones, gave a good performance and convinced his listeners that he was thoroughly enjoying it himself.

Substitutions in cast had been made but the team work was splendid. The play was a lesson in concentration and energy.

Chairman of the program was Mrs. A. C. McKenzie.

Stanley Bligh acknowledged his introduction in part with a pun. Speaking of Prince Rupert's weather he suggested that he might have been partly responsible, having brought with him a little of the Vancouver Sun.

One chairman brought a laugh from the audience when she introduced the next play as "The Spinners of Lush" play.

A thrill of delight was felt in the audience when Mr. Bligh brought the three junior choirs together and conducted them in their test song, "As Torrents in Summer" by Elgar. Mr. Bligh told of a time in England when he, a lad of nineteen, conducted a choir in the singing of that same song and later was told that Sir Edward Elgar, the great composer himself, was in the audience.

In discussing the importance of studying the characters and their real life settings, the students of one play were advised by Mrs. Johnson to visit the local newspaper office and to find out how the office boy spent his time and energy.

Due to a reporter's oversight, the name of Elspeth MacKenzie, who gave a commendable performance as Lady Satteringham in "Meet the Chinooks," was not mentioned with the rest of the cast.

formance and convinced his listeners that he was thoroughly enjoying it himself. Substitutions in cast had been made but the team work was splendid. The play was a lesson in concentration and energy. Chairman of the program was Mrs. A. C. McKenzie.

BOOTH SCHOOL IS HIGHLY PRAISED

Wins Unqualified Praises For Dramatic Performance
"Cloudburst," a one-act tragedy presented by Booth Memorial High School and directed by Miss Enid Ball, was awarded first place Friday night in the Junior drama class of the Music and Drama Festival.

Marjorie Leeman as a neurotic wife, gave an outstanding performance that won for her the title of best junior actress. In adjudicating the three plays presented at the final program of the Festival, Mrs. Audrey Johnson declared that in all her festival experience she had not seen many actresses who equalled Miss Leeman's performance. Miss Johnson said this particular play would present grave difficulties for an experienced cast and she declared herself astonished at the remarkable performance given by the student cast, particularly in the face of adverse audience reaction due to the inability of some of the younger people to understand the dramatic qualities of the plot.

Alan Forman, as the over-worked farmer, was complimented for his fine contribution to the success of the play. Others in the cast included Dick Large, Frank McFadden, Joanne Langridge and Joyce Scherk. "The Last Curtain," a tragedy based on historical facts leading up to the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, was presented by Hazelton High School and directed by J. L. Burt. Mrs. Johnson felt that this was a poorly written play but was still a good choice because of its historical significance. The adjudicator paid marked tribute to the ability of Geraldine Martin, last year's winner in the best junior actress class, who played the part of John Booth's sweetheart.

Supporting the role of Miss Martin was Jack Spooner as Peanut John, May Moore as Effie Evans, Toby Marshall as

PIANO WORK AT FESTIVAL

Capacity audiences Friday afternoon attended further sessions of the Music and Drama Festival in the Civic Centre common lounge and auditorium. The early afternoon session was composed entirely of piano solo work and young players from Terrace predominated. Six entrants in the class for children under 12 years, played Handel's "Prelude in G." Stanley Bligh explained that Handel's music should be played very smoothly and that this particular selection should be quick also. Four of the young musicians played too slowly to give the required effect while the other two were faster but not so smooth. Some of the players were commended for musical touch, careful fingering and good contrasts. Marks awarded were: Marilyn De Kergommeaux 83, Sylvia Heland 81, Ivy Gillespie 80, Margaret Olson 80, Gabrielle Tetreault 79 and Robert Melvin 79. Class 22 was for grade 7 students under 16; test piece was "Andante and Variations in E Flat" by Mozart. Again six contestants played. The adjudicator opened his remarks to this class with the notation

Sam Evans, Elsie Gildner as of play to put over and complicated the cast and Miss Enid Ball the director, on their effort. Mrs. Johnson, in adjudicating the third play, a drama entitled "Sanctuary," noted that there had been several late changes in the cast which might account for a slowing of the play's tempo at times. This, said the adjudicator, was a very difficult type

that Mozartian music derives its name from the fact that Mozart's music is characterized by its gracefulness. The opening of this composition must be graceful. Several of the players began too heavily.
Lorna Melvin made a mark of 85 by her lovely approach, and her variety in tone and color.
She was warned though against too much pedaling. Other marks were: Elizabeth Martin
80, Rose Marie Tetrault 79,
Anita Brue 79, Colleen Sites 79,
and Gail MacRae 79.
In Class 23 which was open for "Norwegian Bridal Procession" by Greig, Adjudicator Bligh complimented all four girls on their excellent performances. Virility and strength as well as imagination were needed to portray this beautiful composition and the girls proved themselves equal to their task.
Their attention to detail,

sustained rhythms and expressive contrasts gave a performance that was a delight to all who listened. Once again
Mr. Bligh warned against too much pedal. He stressed the value of contrasts and color in the playing of a composition.
He called attention to the extraordinarily fine playing of Flora Melvin, noting the various points that made it so. The following marks were awarded:
Flora Melvin 86, Lorna Melvin

"I'm in business for myself"

Allan McDonald,
Owner of Morva Service
Chevron Gas Station,
Chilliwack, B.C.
"I guess Morva Service, outside of Chilliwack, was just about the smallest gas station in B.C.
back in 1936. On a 12 ft. x 10 ft.
lot I had a general store and one hand pump. No electricity—no water. I sold about 25 gallons of gasoline a month, and my savings were nickels and dimes put aside in a special tin box. It took time, but those savings grew until I had enough to finance a new, larger Morva Service. Hard work? Yes, but I've had time for outside interests, too. I'm manager of the cup-winning Morva Archelitz boys' basketball team. I've made lots of good friends. And with those good friends, good products and good luck, I've built the old Morva Service into a business I'm proud to own."

This four-room bungalow, designed by Harold C. Beckett, with full basement and attached garage is an ideal home for a small family. Constructed of brick veneer, it has gables of horizontal wood siding which give an interesting contrast to the elevation. Although the kitchen is small, it is compact and leaves adequate space for a breakfast nook. For estimating purposes the floor area is 1,700 square feet. (Working drawings may be obtained from any office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost).

"Snake Pit" Is Current
Offering at Capitol Theatre

A completely unvarnished
drama with its principal setting
in an overcrowded American mental institution, "Snake Pit,"
first half of the week offering at the Capitol Theatre here, presents a powerful, if sordid story, with forceful realism. Possibly conditions may exist in some American asylums such as those that are pictured in this film but, fortunately, they do not exist in British Columbia.
Olivia DeHavilland gives a notable performance as Virginia Cunningham, the story's heroine. It is a role such as Miss De-Havilland—or possibly any other actress for that matter—has essayed and, for sheer dramatic
