Canada May Send Troops

OTTAWA — Canada will send a special force of infantry and supporting ground troops, possibly 3,000 to 4,000 to fight under the United Nations flag in Korea, it was indicated authoritatively today.

Announcement of the decision and a special session of Parliament to approve it is expected from Prime Minister St. Laurent Monday after the third in a series of cabinet meetings on Korea.

Further measures to buttress home defence are also anticipated and a meeting with American arms experts here Tuesday is expected to set the stage for an arms production program unprecedented for Canada in peacetime.

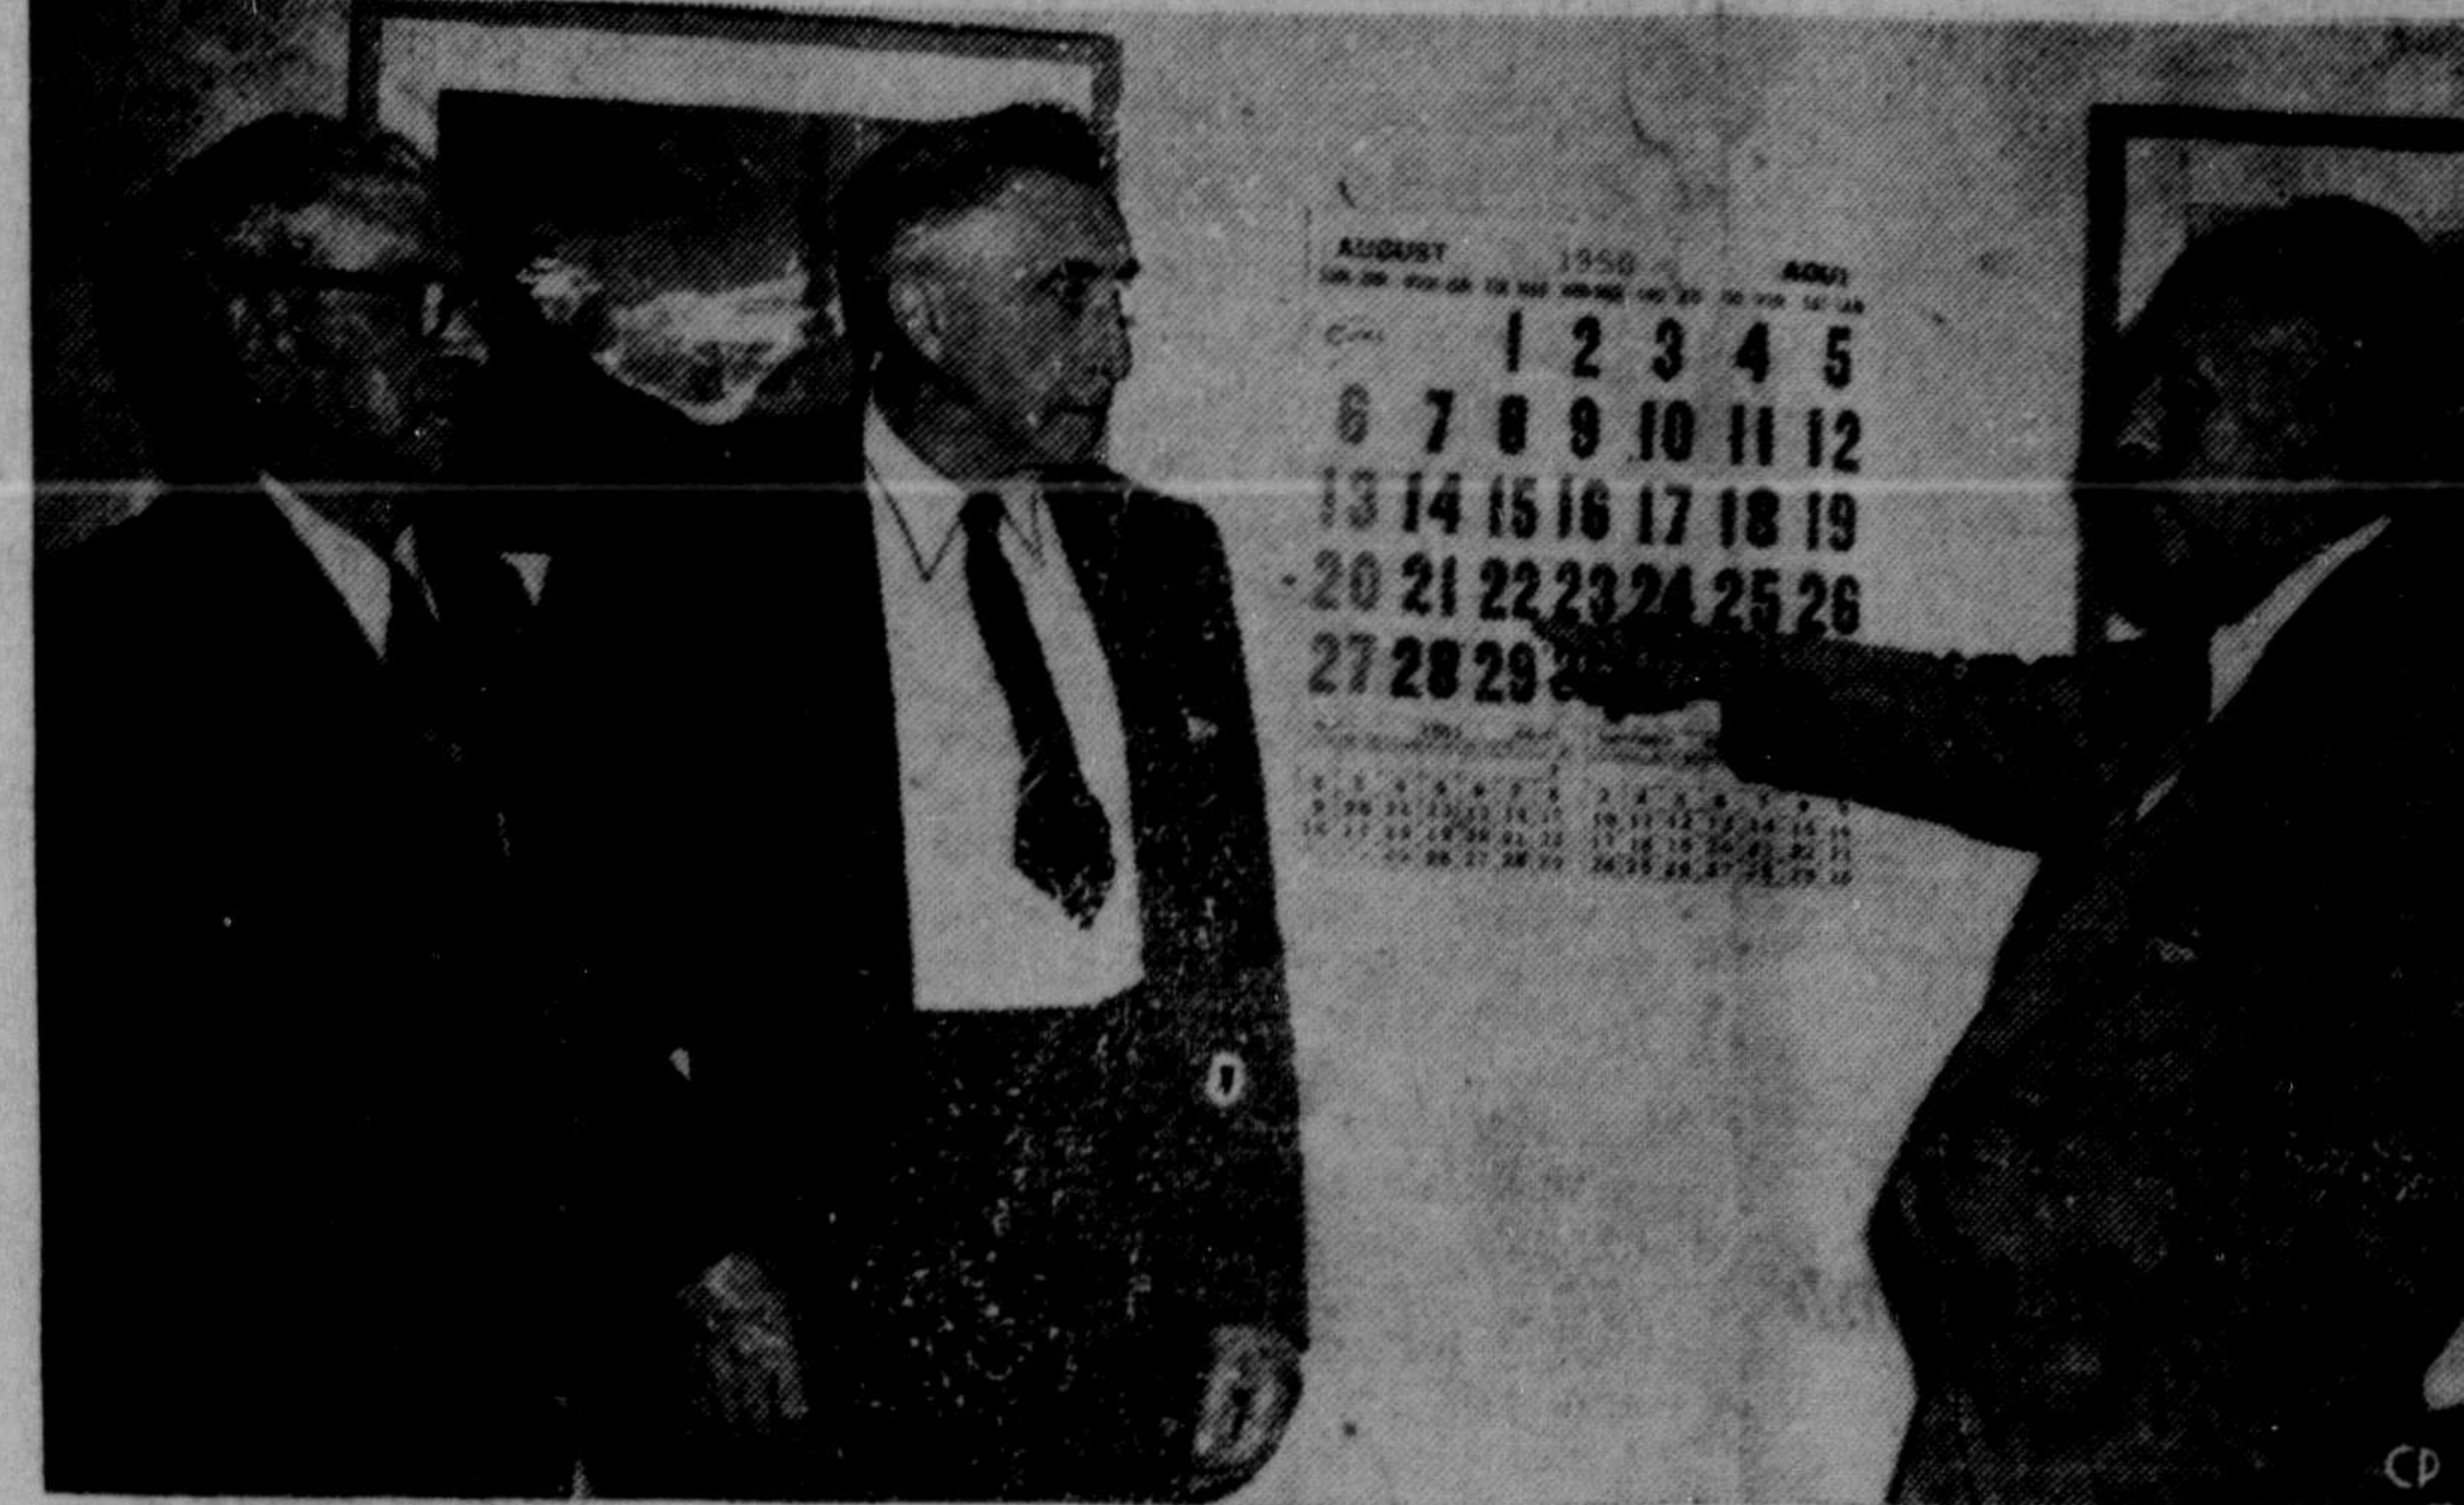

The country is nearer a war footing than ever before in peacetime. But the cabinet is believed to feel that the time has not yet come for the drastic mobilization and control that would emerge with the imminence of war. The first steps in that direction, however, are in the making, and they could be hastened if the world crisis grows darker.

Defences Must Be Strengthened

LONDON — Civilian directors of the 12-country North Atlantic Alliance wound up a 10-day meeting today convinced overall defences of the whole area must be strengthened rapidly.

A communique announced the court of civil deputies was adjourning for 18 days to consult their home governments "in order to further plans for the increase of forces, which shall be accomplished in the near future."

A. J. Dominato, Gyro Club president and well known young business man, was admitted last night to the Prince Rupert General Hospital where he underwent an operation this morning. His condition is reported favorable.

STRIKE DATE SET—Some 125,000 non-operating employees of Canadian railways will go on strike August 22 unless hourly and wage demands are met. Here Frank H. Hall, right, chairman of the negotiating committee representing the various brotherhoods involved, indicates the strike date while two committee members, W. H. Phillips, left, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Telegraphers, and R. Hewitt, another vice-president, look on. (CP Photo)

Thank God For Churches

THANK GOD for the churches. They are far from perfect but they are the nation's first line of defense. They maintain a standard of honesty and decency without which the nation would not be worth saving, nor would its citizenry care for any interest beyond their own selfish personal gratifications.

A nation with strong moral convictions and a deep reverence for God is able to defend itself against all enemies within and without.

But this is not time for complacency regarding the religious life of the nation. The forthcoming census (figures) will reveal some startling facts regarding the millions of children who are receiving no religious instruction of any kind, while other millions receive only fragmentary portions of such instruction.

America would become overwhelmingly pagan in a few years should the churches fall into decay and ruin. Every communicant, yes, every well wisher of the churches, should be actively supporting the churches and all that they are defending in the fields of moral and spiritual development.

A good-natured tolerance is not enough. Active participation should be the resolve of every citizen.

Throughout the world the forces of enlightened religious groups provide an atmosphere of good will and confidence that is worth more than armaments and international treaties. Remove from the minds and hearts of men and women everywhere the religious convictions and practices of Jews, Catholics and Protestants, and civilization would crumble like a house of cards built upon the shifting sands of treachery and greed.

Thank God for the churches, but do more than that. So live that the churches will thank God for you and your co-operation in the task of establishing peace and justice among men.

SATURDAY SERMON

(By Rev. L. G. Sieber, First United Church)
"Put up waymarks, set up guideposts."—Jerm. 31: 21.

To the tribe of Ephraim was given this high task of pioneering in adventurous living. That is what Jeremiah is saying here in the name of God. The words we are using—waymarks . . . guideposts are Moffatt's translation. Well, this tribe was to set up the guideposts for others. Theirs was the duty to establish a standard for future generations.

We know the value and the help of guideposts on our highways. As we travel by car or bus we look for these signs that indicate where we are in relation to our goal. All our living is moving on toward some ideal, be it high or low, and along the way are the posts which mark the journey.

We know the guideposts set up by others for our living. In the discovery and settlement of this American continent there came the fur-trader, the soldier, the settler and the missionary. Whatever the moral and spiritual guideposts of others, the missionary set a godly standard of conduct and devotion to God which was an inspiration or a challenge to others. And we do not know all that those early missionaries suffered to set up these guideposts for us! Yes, the injunction to Ephraim has point for us all. It was Christ's intention, too, that all should help in setting up for the future as for the present guideposts of godly living.

Jesus had a warning for those who would not set up these guideposts. It runs like this to those who mislead: "It were better that a millstone be hanged about their neck, and that they should be cast into the depth of the sea." It is a terrible thing to leave footprints, guideposts, by which others are led astray. Robinson Crusoe saw a footprint in the sand after long solitude. He was so frightened that he barred himself in his stronghold and remained there many days in terror. May we never bring such terror to others by our way of living. Our Christian duty is to guide others into truth and not error and wrong.

Our personal living should mark the way to God. We live in a very secular world. Many folk have pushed the guideposts of God aside. We need to renew our faith in God, and deepen our devotion to Him. Does our living point others to God and the things of God? Or do we cause others to turn the other way. None of us is perfect, yet there should be a destination, a singleness of eye, which leave others in no doubt where we are going.

This was the essence of Christ's living. In him there was such assurance of the goodness of God that it commended God to others. We know some of those who have set our feet in the godly way. They have been within our own homes, and churches, and communities. So our walk has been closer to God. They have marked the road that leads to the Lamb. God speaks to us as individuals: "Set ye up waymarks . . . guideposts; be ye examples one to another."

In this second half of the twentieth century we are to pioneer. We are to set up those guideposts by virtue of which we can establish Christ's kingdom. This is on a personal level and on the level of nations and the world. Then we shall attain unto an atomic civilization. The spirit can conquer, can win through.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

A preference quiz conducted by the North Bay Nugget discovered "Blondie" to be the overwhelming favorite. Natural enough! For have you noticed that Blondie and Dagwood, living largely the same way are everywhere on this continent. Yes, largely with the same limitations, hopes, pleasures and expectations. You're related to them, as well.

Here's a new brewery to replace the old Capilano plant in Vancouver. It will cost $2,500,000. Incidentally, the company board recently approved a thirty cent quarterly dividend. In short, brewing appears to be a good line. But as for one appearing anywhere in the north, that's a cat of a totally different color! Up here, we draw money for beer. The other fellow draws beer for money.

Submarines seen off the Maritimes and Newfoundland could belong in Soviet Russia, admit the Admiralty. What of that? The ocean is wide, wild and free—or supposed to be. And just because it's an undersea craft, it can go most places unobserved.

Resting one's feet on a desk or table, while not called polite, has nevertheless, its good points says an Ontario doctor. The flow of blood through the legs, can relieve, if not reduce, varicose veins. Women are said to be more troubled with that affliction than men, and that of course is obvious. But why not copy men, particularly if it can so simply ease pain. Rest your legs on the nearest what d'ye call it and light a cigar. You smoke, anyway.

How the passenger liner Franconia came to hit a rock a few miles from Quebec is something a board of inquiry proposes to become fully informed on. No where else on the continent, is there anything else quite like the St. Lawrence. There appears to exist, an uncertainty as to how the Franconia, with Quebec still almost in sight, piled up. It has been called "one of the main arteries of the capillary system of the nation. It must be kept free of doubt."

Recruiting for Korea has been brisk in Eastern Canada. A good many are veterans. There are various reasons. Some have a hankering for the front, no matter what their experiences may have been. Others will never be satisfied without having ever been under fire. Perhaps a few have a yearning to see parts of the earth they would never behold without the government paying the shot. And with a lot, it would be curiosity as much as patriotism.

MISS SEPIA, 1950 — Beverley Evans, 18-year-old Detroit, Mich., university student, centre, was crowned Miss International Sepia at the annual Emancipation Day celebrations in Windsor, Ont., during last week-end. An estimated 150,000 attended the three-day celebrations marking the 116th anniversary of emancipation of slaves in the British Empire. The queen's attendants are Irene Ellis, 19, left, who placed second, and Billie Banberry, 19, who placed third. (CP Photo)

RETIREMENT SLATED—Walter S. Thompson, for 30 years director of public relations for Canadian National Railways and its predecessors, will retire Oct. 22 on his 65th birthday. Known familiarly as "Walter" to scores of newspaper men across Canada, Mr. Thompson arranged Dominion tours of many important visitors, including that of the King and Queen in 1939. He was the first to greet Their Majesties and the last to bid them farewell. Mr. Thompson began newspaper work half a century ago as a five-shilling-a-week "leg boy" in London's famed Fleet Street. The photo is by Nakash of Montreal. (CP Photo)

HOW CAN I ???

Q. How can I make an effective liquid glue?
A. A good liquid glue can be made by putting naphtha into a bottle and dissolving shellac in it to the consistency desired.
Q. How can I determine the length of material needed when making a frill?
A. Measure the actual length of material required and then add half as much again. This will give a nice frill that is neither too full nor too skimpy.
Q. How can I restore a bottle of ink that has become thick?
A. Merely by adding a little vinegar to it.

Frank Clark of Prince George, Liberal district organizer, after spending a few days in the city, left on last evening's train for Hazelton and Terrace and will be back here in time to sail next Tuesday afternoon on the Coquitlam for a visit to Bella Bella.

Mrs. G. S. Reade sails tomorrow night on the Camosun. She will go to Victoria and return Wednesday to Vancouver to meet Mr. Reade, who is flying to Vancouver Wednesday on fisheries department business. They will return together on the Camosun next week.

Competition In Cooking

Feature of the home cooking contest at this year's Civic Centre fair and carnival will be a new under fourteen section for boys and girls. Listed for the contest are bread, muffins, drop cookies, chocolate cake and white cake.

Other sections for competition are section B, white bread and brown bread section C cakes, biscuits, pastries, etc.; section D, jams and jellies. Detailed lists of classifications appear elsewhere in this newspaper today. Idea of the contest is to raise public interest in home cooking.

Convened by Mrs. T. W. Boulter, other members of the committee arranging the contest are Mrs. N. S. Brewer and Mrs. H. V. Tattersall.

After judging, entries will be distributed among hospitals and the old people's home.

To Feature Box Derby

Will be One of Highlights of Labor Day Celebration

Arrangements for a soap box derby which will be a new feature for the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council's Labor Day celebration were further advanced at a meeting of the celebration committee last night. Following a procession of the decorated cars, the derby will take place on the Sixth Avenue West hill between Fulton and McBride Streets. Local unions and city businesses are being invited to sponsor entries. There will be $35 in prizes. J. C. Ewart of the Fire Hall was named chairman in charge of the organization of this event.

Negotiations have been commenced to obtain the services of the Prince Rupert Shrine Club band to enliven the proceedings of the day.

H. S. Harrison, president of the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council, was in the chair over last night's meeting.

Ed. Barker of the Civic Employees' Union was added to the general sports committee.

HANGS UP SKATES — After three highly successful years as coach of Toledo's amateur hockey team, Andy Mulligan has been named general manager of Toledo Sports arena. The former Winnipegger, now 44, will handle all arena activities. His Toledo squad won the United States amateur title in 1948, won the International League title in 1949 and this year went to the U.S. semifinals. Mulligan was a defence star with University of Manitoba and turned pro with Regina Capitals. He played later with St. Louis, Chicago, Providence, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Kansas City and Boston. SPORTS

Ball Plans In Spite Of Rain

Rainfall at 1.16 inches for the 24-hour period ended at 4 a.m. today was the second highest for the year for such a period. It was exceeded July 17 with 1.27 inches precipitation in a 24-hour period.

In spite of the persistent rain and heavy downpour this morning, the baseball association is going ahead with plans to bring the Ketchikan Eagles down for their games with Abel & Odowes tomorrow. A slight northwest breeze held out the hope that by Sunday some of the moisture might be driven from the skies and that the sun would be out for the occasion.

Meanwhile tourists coming in on cruise ships for the past few days have been met with the kind of weather outsiders credit to this northwest ocean port. People here with friends aboard the ships going north are hoping for good weather when the boats return so that passengers will have a better opinion of Prince Rupert climate.

Clearing Hoped For Soccer Game

For the second time this week rainy weather caused the postponement of a Manson Trophy football game. Last night the game between Heavy Battery and General Motors had to be deferred. Better luck is hoped for tonight when local All Stars are to meet Kitwanga in another of the series with district native teams.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Prairie MLA City Visitor

Seeing the Pacific Coast for the first time and having made his first steamer trip since he arrived in Canada in 1904 from his native Scotland, James Gibson, C.C.F. member of the Saskatchewan Legislature for Moose riding, is a visitor in Prince Rupert. He arrived here yesterday morning on the Princess Louise after visiting Yellowstone Park and Vancouver and Victoria. The guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGhie during his stay, he will leave for home on Monday night's train.

A wheat and cattle rancher, Mr. Gibson reports crops reasonably good in his part of the prairies — Caron near Moose Jaw. However, he looked enviously at Prince Rupert's rain and remarked: "We could do with some of that at home."

Mr. Gibson was first elected to the Legislature in 1946 at a by-election and was re-elected at the general election in 1948.

Today Mr. Gibson was taken on a drive to Port Edward to see the Columbia Cellulose mill construction and visit a salmon cannery for the first time — the Nelson Bros. Ltd. plant. His guide was E. A. Evans.

Are Married At Catholic Church

Church of the Annunciation was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding at 10 o'clock this morning when Miss Patricia Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stuart, became the bride of Theodore Prystay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prystay, also of this city.

The nuptial mass was conducted by Rev. Father P. M. Rayne, O.M.I. and there was bridal music by Miss Mary Zogas, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a pretty picture in her beautiful wedding gown of white satin with shoulder length veil, carrying a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations and roses.

The charming bridesmaid was Miss Colleen Barrie, the bride's cousin, who wore a full-fashioned dress of yellow net with floral bandeau and had a bouquet of pink and yellow carnations.

James Prystay of Terrace came to the city to act as groomsmen for his brother.

Following the ceremony a reception took place at the home of the bride's parents, Third Avenue, where the occasion was suitably celebrated with toasts and refreshments and the offering of felicitations to the happy couple.

Later this afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Prystay are leaving by car for a honeymoon drive to Prince George after which they will return here to make their home on Second Avenue.

The groom is identified with the construction staff of Columbia Cellulose. The bride was born and raised in Prince Rupert.

Elopement Delayed Until House Built

GRAAF-REINETT, S. Africa — Elopement by instalments was practised by a young couple here after the girl's father opposed the marriage.

The couple first secretly built a house to occupy after they were wed. When it was ready, the girl, a school teacher, gradually transferred her clothes there.

When school closed she bought a return ticket to Johannesburg, telling her father she was going to visit friends there. She got off the train at nearby Middelburg, where her fiancé was waiting with a special licence, and they were married.

From Middelburg they went to Port Elizabeth for a honeymoon and then returned to tell the bride's father: "We're married."

District Is Free Of Forest Fires
Prince Rupert forestry district reports no fires at the moment. Earlier in the season fires in the Bella Coola region and near Fernow caused a great deal of anxiety but were put out before any large scale damage was done. Recent reports of two fires in the district have been traced to two interior sawmills, where the operators were burning sawdust piles.

Band Concert In Outdoors

Summer visitors to the city as well as local citizens gathered on the Court House grounds on the fine August Thursday evening to enjoy an outdoor concert by Prince Rupert's ever-improving Shrine Club band. It was an excellent program, including many popular tunes, which was in progress for over an hour in which the bandmen demonstrated their versatility under the able baton of Bandmaster Peter Lien. It would have been even more enjoyable had there been some seating arrangements for the picnic.

It was the first of three such outdoor concerts which the band is to hold in the course of the next few weeks.

The program was as follows: March, "Our Director," Bigelow; Medley, "The Southland," White; March, "Power," Bennett; "Minuet" from "Bernice," Handel; March, "Victorious Legions," Romberg; March, "Stout Hearted Men," Romberg; Waltz, "Vienna Dreams," Siczynski; "Gridiron Pageantry," Walters; March, "Energy," Bennett; March, "Port of Call," Walters.

New Chaplain Moose Women

Mrs. A. S. Hamilton was installed as chaplain of the local Moose Women of the Moose at the regular meeting this week at the Moose Temple. She succeeds Mrs. F. Curie who has resigned because of ill-health. The installation of Mrs. Hamilton was carried out by Mrs. J. T. Kasper, graduate regent.

Three applications for initiation were accepted by the meeting over which the senior regent, Mrs. Frank Parlette, presided. Winner of a lucky box draw was Mrs. Oriole.

As I See It By ELMORE PHILPOTT ARMY FOR KOREA?

CANADA CANNOT ESCAPE an unwelcome decision on the war in Korea. Very soon the government must decide whether to send land forces to stand beside those of U.S.A., Britain, Australia, New Zealand. If the government's answer is "no" then parliament will not need to be recalled. If the answer is "yes" parliament should be given the chance to pass on the whole proposal.

WE ARE BEING TOLD, chiefly by American newspapers formerly noted for their own isolationism that we must promise an army—and pronto. We would be unwise to pay any attention to these advisers. The United States has already committed to the actual battle in Korea, or has en route there, five full army divisions. If those five divisions cannot hold at least one corner of Korea then nothing that we can do overnight from Canada is going to make any difference.

On the other hand, if the U.S. forces can halt the aggressors from the North, a strong counter-offensive is just as good in the spring of 1951 as it is in the autumn of 1950. The tragic lesson of the Korean war, to date, is the military folly of "sending a boy to do a man's job."

UNDER CERTAIN CLEARLY understood conditions—but only under those conditions—Canada should agree to raise, train and land in Korea not later than January 1951 a formidable fighting force. In my opinion, this should be at least a full armored brigade—and possibly even a full army division, complete with tanks and artillery.

But before Canada agrees to send a single soldier to Korea we should demand a WORLD understanding between the United States and British Commonwealth. Will the United States help us to hold Hong Kong, Singapore, the Holy (and Oily) Land around the Suez Canal—and the Rhine line in western Europe?

Unless we have a hard-and-fast agreement on those matters we would be plain boobs to send a single battalion to Korea. For there is no evidence that I can see to indicate that Korea may not have been deliberately planned as a "bogging down" place to trap the western democracies.

A CLEAR CUT AGREEMENT between the U.S.A. and the British Commonwealth seems to me a vital preliminary to any decision on sending Canadian soldiers to Korea.

On the very day that the U.S. decided (quite rightly) to intervene against the Communist aggression in Korea she also proclaimed her unilateral intervention in the purely Chinese civil war. In her Korean policy the U.S. had the UN Charter and the vast majority of UN members on her side.

In her pronouncement re protecting Formosa she was on very dubious moral ground—and legally did not have a leg to stand on.

SUPPOSE WE DECIDE TO send a Canadian contingent to Korea, but fall to demand and get the kind of WORLD defence treaty I have indicated. Suppose the Chinese mainland armies make their long planned attack against Formosa—the last hide-out of Chiang Kai-shek. Suppose their invasion is defeated by U.S. naval and air forces.

Would not the immediate certain effect be a declaration of war by the government of 450 million Chinese against the U.S.? How would that affect OUR army if we had sent one to Korea?

Would it, or would it not, increase the threat to Hong Kong?

These are questions we should ask, and get answered, before we agree to send a single Canadian soldier to Korea.

If we get the right answers—but only if we do—we should send at least an armored brigade, and even a full division.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Johnson of Snohomish, Washington, after a visit here with their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Johnson, Seventh Avenue East, are now at Round Lake, near Telkwa, visiting with Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Flockhart, before continuing their homeward trip on their car and trailer.

"That one didn't count—it was a foul."

Cannery Indians Under VD Survey

Miss Doris Fowler P.H.N., venereal disease control division, provincial department of health and welfare, Vancouver, arrived in the city by plane yesterday afternoon. In conjunction with the Indian Department and Prince Rupert Health Unit, she will make a survey of venereal disease among the Indians in the canneries on the Skeena.

It is estimated that there are more than 3,400,000 households in Canada.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is it proper for a man to remove a cigarette, cigar, or pipe from his mouth, when he meets a woman of his acquaintance on the street and lifts his hat in greeting?
A. Yes, always. It is extremely impolite not to do so.

Q. If one is receiving an invitation by telephone, would it be all right to say, "I'll let you know this evening, or tomorrow?"
A. No. This kind of invitation must be accepted or declined without a moment's hesitation.

Q. If a girl should drop her handkerchief or any other article she may be holding, should she hurry to pick it up?
A. Not if she is talking with a man. She should wait for him to pick up the article, and then thank him graciously.

WHY IS MAMA CRYING?
"CAUSE PAPA WONT LET HER BUY THE PLAID COAT SHE SAW IN HINKEL'S WINDOW" SAD ISN'T IT?
LET'S SPEAK TO POP ABOUT IT

NO! AND WHEN I SAY NO I MEAN IT... SHE CAN'T HAVE THE COAT!
GEE, I'VE NEVER SEEN POP SO HARD-HEARTED
I DONT KNOW WHAT'S COME OVER HIM--HE'S USUALLY SO KIND

I CAN BE A MAN OF STEEL WHEN I WANT TO-- I CAN BE CRUEL AND COLD WITH A HEART OF ROCK WHEN IT'S NECESSARY
I'LL COOK ALL HIS FAVORITE DISHES FOR SUPPER--THAT ALWAYS WINS HIM OVER

IT'S A DELICIOUS SUPPER, BUT NO COAT! UNDERSTAND, NO COAT!
BOO HOO HOO

STOP CRYING DEAR--HERE'S YOUR COAT-- I BOUGHT IT FOR YOU YESTERDAY
THEN, WHY DID YOU TELL ME I COULDN'T HAVE IT?

I WAS PRACTICING BEING FIRM--I KNEW YOU WANTED THE HAT THAT WAS IN THE WINDOW, TOO, AND I WANTED TO BE FIRM ABOUT IT
OH, DARLING, YOU DONT HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT THAT

I BOUGHT THE HAT THIS MORNING
YOU'RE THE SWEETEST, KINDEST MAN IN THE WORLD

SIXTH STREET AND THIRD AVENUE

IN HEALTH SERVICE—For the 15th year the hospital ship Lady Anderson is cruising the coastal waters of Newfoundland as a travelling clinic and medical patrol boat. Built in 1924 as a luxury yacht, the Lady Anderson was purchased in 1935 for hospital ship duties. Ninety-two feet long and 19 feet wide, the ship has a gross weight of 90 tons, powered by diesel engines and capable of 10 knots. Under the command of Capt. Sam Flander with a crew of eight, the trim vessel provides a communication link for the doctors and nurses in the isolated coastal settlements. (CP Photo)

George Anderson Wonders Why—Sockeye Run Still Light—Alaska Tour Bookings Undisturbed

George Anderson, secretary of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union here, who has long advocated the split season for halibut fishing so that opportunity might be given to exploit a run of fish in Area No. 2 which is not now touched because under present timing of the season the fishing period never lasts that long, expresses some bewilderment at the attitude being taken by the Department of Fisheries and the delay in getting the treaty amended so that the split season may be made possible. Both United States and Canadian governments have indicated their intentions of drafting up a new treaty. Commenting on a statement of E. T. Appiewhale, M.P. for Skeena, this week on the making of a grant of $15,000 each by United States and Canadian governments for further research, Mr. Anderson expresses doubt as to what good such further research would be since the facts have already been established. "What good is further research, anyway, if there is no power to do anything about it?" he asks. "If we could get a new treaty we would be able to get another four million pounds of fish out of Area No. 2 from a run which is not now being touched," he declares. "That would certainly be a great help to the Canadian fishermen." The scientific staff of the International Fisheries Commission has already said it has enough information to justify the change along this line. "Give us the new treaty," he suggests "and the regulations can be quickly enough attended to. The Commission has always been attentive to the interests of conservation and can be relied upon to follow that policy." Mr. Anderson refers to a statement made by the minister of fisheries that "certain interests" are opposed to the split season but not disclosing what interests.

day. There has been no official announcement yet as to when the fishing with sockeye nets will end this year. Last year it closed August 11 and the assumption is that it may be a similar date this year.

Other steamship lines operating in the Alaska tourist service may be having cancellations of bookings owing to the war scare but not so Canadian National Steamships, it is stated by William Cruickshank, general agent for Canadian National Railways here. "C.N.R. is not suffering in the least," Mr. Cruickshank told the Daily News yesterday and heavy bookings on the steamers Prince George and Prince Rupert bear this out.

Union steamer Camosun, Capt. William McCombe, arrived in port at 6:15 last evening from Vancouver and waypoints, sailing at 10 p.m. for Masset Inlet points of Queen Charlotte Islands. The Camosun had a fair-sized list of passengers and capacity freight cargo.

Southbound from an Alaska cruise voyage, C.N.R. steamer Prince George, Capt. E. B. Caldwell, with close to 300 passengers on board, arrived in port at 8 o'clock last evening from the north. The vessel sailed at 12:15 p.m. in continuation of her voyage to Ocean Falls and Vancouver.

One family has the housing problem licked for sure. It is the Schrabel family of Washington. They called in here Wednesday on their converted coast guard vessel yacht Black Hawk on their return from an Alaskan cruise to clear customs. Aboard were Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Schrabel and their two children, Wayne and Sandra. They make their home on their yacht the year round.

Motorship Sidney, Capt. O. Hendrickson, arrived in port this morning from Ketchikan with 40,000 pounds of fish for transportation East over Canadian National Railways.

The Seattle yacht Deerleap arrived in port after an Alaska cruise to clear customs. Aboard were owner-skipper E. M. Cade, C. Wheeler, cook, N. Ortwein and R. White. Here they were joined by Miss L. Milkovich, Mrs. Cade, Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. L. Donaldson, who arrived here by plane yesterday. It was a hurried call, as they have to be in Bellingham Monday. The palatial Deerleap is no stranger to Prince Rupert, having often been here in the past.

Sailing north on the Princess Louise, Capt. W. C. Hubenet, yesterday were Rev. Father Donald Rankin, Skagway and return; E. R. Thornicroft, Juneau; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Adson, Ketchikan, and Mrs. Aasberg and child, Petersburg.

Rev. and Mrs. Jack T. Horricks and son of Castlegar arrived in the city on the Camosun last evening from the south and will be here for the next two weeks while Mr. Horricks relieves in the pulpit of First United Church during the absence of Rev. L. G. Sieber. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Horricks are Mrs. Horricks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Faunt of Regina.

Joan Crawford In Drama Film

Dramatic story of a bewildered woman who is clever in all things but love and who rises from middle-class surroundings to become one of the most sought glamor women in the country, "The Darned Don't Cry," with Joan Crawford in the leading role, comes to the Capitol Theatre here next Monday and Tuesday. David Brian plays the principal male role opposite Miss Crawford.

"The Darned Don't Cry" has for its background the gay but desperate life of big-time gamblers, racket operators and gangsters who live in a demi-world of respectability in the lush resort capitals of the country.

How Miss Crawford becomes the confidante of a gambling syndicate chief comprises the first half of the story. She is sent by Brian to check on the activities of a henchman whom he suspects of double-dealing. It is here that she finds real love at last and the complications which arise out of the situation produce impressive drama.

Others in the cast include Kent Smith, Hugh Sanders and Selenia Royal.
