Will It Succeed

DELEGATES FROM all over the globe are assembling in Paris today for the third session of the General Assembly of the United Nations, to talk peace. It seemed like more of a harmonious world three years ago in San Francisco, than it does now. Since then? Who has the answer? The commencement of the League of Nations, with glitter and color, made a noise in the world. And what was ever accomplished? Is the same result to be true of the U.N.? People today can be excused if they appear skeptical.

PRINCE RUPERT'S DEFENCE

PRINCE RUPERT is said, by competent authority, to be wide open to surprise attack. For that matter, there are few ports between Siberia and Mexico where real defense, as understood today, is maintained. There is some protection here and, if there is a sensible reason why there should be far more, it is that in actual warfare Prince Rupert demonstrated more than any other coast city its importance as a point of strategic value. If Canada wanted to, or deemed it necessary, this city could be made powerful—perhaps even impregnable.

UP TO CITIZENS

THE FAILURE of members of parliament to do their full duty can frequently be laid at the door of their constituents. The popular belief that members and governments are afraid of the big interests has no foundation in fact. In dealing with government bodies, the so-called big interests are the most respectful and the most timid people in Canada. So timid are they, that they are the only people in the country whom politicians know they can abuse and malign without fear of retaliation. It is the little men at home that the politician is afraid of. They are the people who elect him—the people he is most anxious to please. They are not always right; but they always have the last word. Every member knows that his future depends on their good will.

Thus it happens that members who can resist all kinds of pressure from other sources will capitulate immediately when the pressure comes from the people back home. It takes a strong man to oppose the wishes of his constituents and not many members will dare to do it.

We expect parliament to keep the government true to its principles. If it fails in that duty, it is probably because the members are not sure how far their constituents will support them in fighting for the right.

The key to good government is to have good representatives in parliament, actively supported by intelligent public opinion. The key is in the hands of the citizens themselves. If our government is not what it should be, we ourselves are to blame and we alone can correct it. "On our own heads, in our own hands, the sin and the saving lies."

WHAT ABOUT B.C. BUSINESS?

PREMIER BYRON JOHNSON went off to England in mid-September to attend Empire Parliamentary Association convention, leaving all sorts of important questions unanswered. He couldn't say when the two by-elections—Rossland-Trail and South Okanagan—will be held. He said he didn't know whether dates for them would be set while he was away.

Now the acting Premier, Finance Minister Anscob, is clearing his desk and getting ready to depart for Ottawa on political business that's mighty important to him—Conservative convention to pick John Bracken's successor as leader. Mr. Anscob, as B.C. Tory chief, will be an important figure at the convention. It will be up to him to swing B.C. delegates solidly behind one man—Diefenbaker or Drew—and it might be suspected Mr. Anscob is a Drew man. In Mr. Anscob's absence from the capital, Health and Welfare Minister-Provincial Secretary Pearson will be acting for the acting Premier, for he is senior member of the cabinet.

With all the big-wigs scurrying around far corners government business in Victoria is in the doldrums—which is rather amazing, what with the two upcoming by-elections, a session expected to start in mid-January and a provincial general election by this time next year. There are those who think cabinet ministers should stick closer to their desks—unless they are up-country in their own province.

Six Is Crowd Records Show

At 1927 Convention Six Men Sought to Lead Party—Only Five Thereafter

By D'Arcy O'Lonnell Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, (C)—Should more than six men stand as leadership candidates at the National Progressive - Conservative convention here September 30-October 1-2, a new party record will be established.

At the party's first convention in 1927, six stood as leadership candidates. There were five at the 1938 convention.

In 1927, the nominees were Hon. Robert Rogers, Manitoba; Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Ontario; C. H. Cahlan, Quebec; Sir Henry Drayton, Ontario; Hon. R. B. Bennett, Alberta, and Hon. R. J. Manion, Ontario.

On the first ballot this is how the 1,564 delegates voted: Bennett 594, Guthrie 345, Cahlan 310, Manion 170, Rogers 114, Drayton 31.

On a second ballot, Mr. Bennett won an over-all majority. This was the vote: Bennett 780, Guthrie 320, Cahlan 266, Manion 148, Rogers 37 and Drayton 3.

Mr. Bennett led the party until 1938 and then went to Britain where he was elevated to the peerage. He died June 26, 1947.

The 1938 convention chose Dr. Manion as his successor, but again two ballots were necessary. The candidates were Dr. Manion, M. A. MacPherson, prominent Regina lawyer; Joseph Harris, M. P. for Toronto, Donforth; Denton Massey, M.P., Toronto - Greenwood, and J. Earl Lawson of Toronto.

MANION WON ON SECOND BALLOT

On the first ballot, the voting was: Manion 726, MacPherson 475, Harris 131, Massey 128, and Lawson 105. Dr. Manion won handily on the second ballot.

He led the party until after the 1940 general election when he suffered personal defeat at the polls. Mr. Meighen was chosen by a representative party group to head the party, but he too was defeated at the polls.

The 1942 convention was then called and the candidates were Mr. Bracken, Mr. MacPherson, John Diefenbaker, M.P., Lake Centre, Sask., Howard Green.

Reminiscences

By W. J. — and REFLECTIONS

Because he does not believe in God, a Vancouver man had his evidence refused in a Vancouver court last week. He would not swear on the Bible. So Magistrate Matheson declined to hear him. There was something like that in the Prince Rupert police court years ago. When the time came for a prospective witness to come forward and take the Bible, he came forward all right, but would have nothing to do with the Scriptures. He was willing to swear, but with uplifted hand only. And that was quite acceptable here.

Oh well! Into each life some rain must fall, and, brother, you can have it all.

Lou Green, the layman arthritis practitioner of Alberni may have accomplished something. His claims have been given a cold-blooded investigation by a provincial government commission, and final word from Ottawa is now awaited.

M.P. Vancouver South, and Hon. H. H. Stevens, a cabinet minister in the Conservative government from 1930 to 1935.

On the first ballot, the vote was: Bracken 420, MacPherson 222, Diefenbaker 120, Green 88, Stevens 20.

Mr. Stevens and Mr. Green withdrew and on a second ballot, the voting was Bracken 538, MacPherson 255 and Diefenbaker 79.

Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. MacPherson are mentioned among those who may contest the leadership this time. Other possible candidates include Premier Drew of Ontario, Donald Fleming, M.P., Toronto-Eglinton; Gordon Graydon, M.P., Peel, Ont., and Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto.

With a multitude of all ages, arthritis is an exceedingly personal and important subject.

Solemn arguments about gold not being all it is cracked up to be still leaves one cold, even though the cost of producing it is becoming higher and higher. Gold is "tops" and has been, all through the ages. Another point! It cannot be counterfeited. And there is rarely, much uncertainty in determining values. A chunk of gold is OK anywhere, any time. Having got this out of one's system, the next step will be to proceed to the nearest bank and deposit $1.78 in the savings account.

BIBLE STUDY COURSE PLANNED FOR HIGH SCHOOL

It is some years since the Department of Education at Victoria agreed on Bible study courses for High School students for which credits could be received, though these courses have to be taken off school property and out of school hours. So far as is known there has been no attempt at a community level to interest the High School students in these courses in Prince Rupert.

This year, however, the Prince Rupert Ministerial Association is offering the course, Bible study, to High School students. A weekly class period held probably at the Civic Centre with the departmental examination at the end and one credit for those who pass. Principal A. M. Hurst has been consulted and has expressed himself as ready to lend all possible co-operation.

The course has been set up for 35 periods with five different ministers of the city taking part and the Rev. Basil S. Procter, President of the Association as director of studies.

Part One—The Bible, books, writers, languages, versions, etc. Rev. Earl Solland. Five periods.

Part Two—Abraham to Solomon. Selected passages. Ven. Archdeacon Hodson. Three periods.

Part Three—The Prophets. Selected passages. Rev. R. A. Wilson. Seven periods.

Part Four—The Ministry of Jesus Christ. St. Mark 1-10. Rev. Paul Barber. Eight periods.

Part Five—Passion and Resurrection of Christ. St. Mark 10-15. Rev. F. Antrobus. Seven periods.

Since it would not be feasible to use all the ministers in the one year on the one course, it was deemed wise by the Association this year to omit an immediate call on the time of the Salvation Army Captain and the Presbyterian minister since their respective ministries are either pending or in each case a change of leadership.

FIRE DAMAGES A.R.P. MATERIAL

Fire which broke out in a tunnel on the north side of the Court House sunken garden consumed several hundred civilian respirators Sunday evening and gave the fire department their first fire of the month.

Police are investigating origin of the fire following discovery that the door to the former A.R.P. warehouse had been forced open. The fire department answered the call at 9:40 and were able to confine the fire to the pile of respirators which were not considered to have any monetary value.

RETURNS FROM PRAIRIE VISIT

E. C. Trumbell who recently completed a three-week holiday which took him as far as Winnipeg, reported that prairie farmers were well on their way to having their crops harvested when he left there last week. Harvest was a little bit late this year but the weather held fine and the crop yield was good.

While east Mr. Trumbell visited the little town of Elkhorn Manitoba, where he was born. Thirty-five years have gone by since he was there last and most of the population, aside from his relatives and a few of the old timers, were strangers to him. Where he remembered roads travelled by horse and buggy, farmers in new shiny cars whiz along and in fields where lines and lines of stooks awaited the great steam-driven threshing machines, swift combines gather the standing grain.

OLIVER WINS TACOMA OPEN

TACOMA, (P) — Ed (Porky) Oliver of Seattle Monday jammed down an eagle three to win the $12,500 Tacoma Open golf championship on the first hole of a sudden-death play-off against Gary Middleoff of Memphis, Tenn., who had a birdie four on the hole.

The two had tied at 69 on the 18-hole play-off with three others: Chuck Congden, Tacoma; Fred Hass, New Orleans, and Vic Chezzi, Englewood, N.J. It was the first time in history that there had been a five-way tie in a major tournament.

All pros are now heading for Vancouver for the Canadian Open.

LOCAL MEN ON INTERIOR HUNT

It is likely that some of the up-country game is getting a good scare these days for hunters Bill Long, Art Murray and Abbie Phillipson are in those parts, and "loaded for bear". The party, accompanied by Jack Lindsay who is paying a business trip to Prince George, left Friday and expect to be away for two weeks.

Before he left, Bill Long issued tentative invitations to some of his friends to attend a moose steak dinner when he returned with the trophies of the chase. The hunters reported back when they arrived in Prince George but they made no mention of having encountered any monarchs of the forest.

While moose is what they would most like to see over their rifle sights, the men expect to enjoy fishing some of the streams between here and Prince George and generally enjoy an outdoor holiday.

English soccer's strangest transfer involved Albert Pape, Layton Orient centre forward. While dressing in Leyton's colors for a game against Manchester United, Pape was called to the front office and told of his proposed transfer to Manchester. Terms were arranged, certificates signed, league headquarters were informed and a dazed Pape led off to Manchester's dressing room. The crowd, unaware of behind-the-scenes negotiations, started in disbelief when Pape came on the field in United colors. But they soon started cheering—Pape promptly scored a goal against his former team. Story of the transfer is told in a book by Leslie Knighton, just published, "Behind the Scenes in Big Football." Knighton is a veteran of 35 years in management with such clubs as Arsenal, Chelsea, Manchester City, Huddersfield, Birmingham and Bournemouth.

who learned boxing by using a bunch of spring onions as a punching bag, runs what he claims is London's oldest school of boxing. Andrew Newton, gassed in the First World War, came home to learn that his sight would soon be gone. To prepare for the blindness, he practised nightly in his father's gymnasium with all the lights out. When his father died in 1940, Newton carried on the boxing school alone. He says a combination of instinct and practice enables him to keep track of his opponents in the ring. Newton learned to box at the age of six, using improvised punching bags for practice.

Winner Wanted—An anonymous Lincolnshire farmer has set a search in motion for a Briton "who can win an Olympic event in 1952." Apparently depressed by the "Yankee Blast" thrown over British athletes at Wembley, the farmer says he will foot the bill for training and equipping one outstanding candidate for Helsinki. Selection of the athlete will rest with Jim Littleover, a track judge at the games. Search is already under way.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

The big coastal freighter Nootka, belonging to the Canadian Pacific Railway and under charter to the Frank Waterhouse line, is now on her way up the Alaska coast from Vancouver Island to Skagway with a cargo of 2000 tons of coal for the Yukon Territory.

Having been delayed by engine trouble while on her way up the coast, Union steamer Chilcotin, Capt. Harry McLean, arrived in port at 11 o'clock last night from Vancouver to pick up the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia convention party for Juneau. The Chilcotin, after discharging a parcel of local cargo which she brought from Vancouver, sailed at 3 a.m. for Alaska. She is due back here Saturday night with her party.

On a regular voyage from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands, Union steamer Coquitlam, Capt. Alex McLennan, arrived in port at 9:30 last night and sailed at 11 o'clock tonight on her return south over the same route.

Alterating Rooms At Civic Centre

Considerable discussion regarding the use of former staff quarters resulted in decision by the Civic Centre executive to make staff lounge into bridge club and meeting room, to remove wall between two staff bedrooms, making these two rooms into one large hobbies and crafts room and to retain the present kitchen for staff purposes. The secretary has been instructed to have this work carried out immediately.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove oil stains from leather?

A. By dabbing the spots carefully with spirits of sal ammoniac. After allowing it to remain a while, wash with clean water. If necessary, repeat the treatment, but be careful not to injure the color of the leather.

Q. How can I take proper care of ferns?

A. A fern should not be moved from place to place, and should not be kept in a very strong sun. Do not water it every day, but soak it thoroughly every third day.

Q. How can I prevent wooden utensils from cracking?

A. When drying any wooden utensils, place them where they are not near a fire. The heat will crack them.

AIYANSH COUPLE MARRIED HERE

A.A.'S MEETING GOOD RESPONSE IN AUSTRALIA

SYDNEY, Australia. — Alcoholics Anonymous is meeting with success in Australia.

Membership of Alcoholics Anonymous—a fellowship founded in the United States by reformed alcoholics to work for the rehabilitation of other alcoholics—has risen by more than 500 in Sydney during the past year.

A.A. members now regularly attend the law courts to watch for men and women who may express a desire to overcome their craving for drink. Police magistrates have been helping the fellowship by remanding alcoholics interested in A.A. for a month to allow them to seek rehabilitation.

High tribute to their work was paid by leading Sydney psychiatrist, Dr. S. J. Minogue, in an article in the Medical Journal of Australia. Dr. Minogue says that A.A. has had amazing success in a field where psychiatry had failed and suggests that their methods could be applied successfully to neurotic cases.

"The method and proud, like a tormented man battle with pathological tors and relief the A.A. the ceremony and his drinking habit and that come disorders. sion is the the is learning

YOU CAN'T BUY A BETTER MOTOR OIL

"It's Alloyed"

- 1. QUALITY
PEERLESS QUALITY rates above all others... because it is refined from better crudes... with the latest scientific knowledge known to the oil industry... and because PEERLESS, and only PEERLESS, IS ALLOYED.
- 2. PERFORMANCE
PEERLESS PERFORMANCE improves engine performance. No matter how high the temperature PEERLESS won't "thin out"... still provide maximum compression strength all times... resulting in greater power and greatly improved oil mileage.
- 3. ECONOMY
PEERLESS ECONOMY starts with better lubrication... follows through by keeping motor costs down and giving your motor longer and longer life. PEERLESS is the all-season, all-temperature, response reducer because it reduces the cause of many motor failures.

To improve Peerless Motor Oil and give it stamina to stand up longer under a wider range of temperatures, an "alloy" is added which forms a protective film around each molecule thus eliminating breakdown. "It's alloyed".
