Building Hits Post-War High Mark Here in Month of March

Issuance of building permits last month soared to $111,750, highest monthly total since pre-war years. Outstanding construction is the addition to the General Hospital Nurses' Home at a cost of $80,000. In April of 1949, permits totalled $15,660. Highest April total since 1944 was in 1947. In that year, the amount was $16,960. In addition to the Nurses' Home, four other new buildings are being constructed. These include a St. Andrew's rectory on Fourth Avenue at a cost of $12,000 and a residence for W. Kuzik on Fifth Avenue to cost $5,000. The Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. at Seal Cove are spending $5,000 for an addition to their plant.

Total number of permits issued were 27. Permits were issued to: M. Vanderheide, Eleventh Avenue, dwelling, $2,000. W. W. Wrathall, 336 Fifth West, siding, $765. P. Phillipson, Eleventh Street, dwelling, $660. A. Stenset, 107 Eighth Avenue East, alteration, $500. T. N. Rowe, McNichol Street, addition, $400. Raymond Nault, Eleventh and Conard, dwelling, $400. will rank with Caesar. THERE IS in the latest book one section which I read with a grain of salt, as it were. That is the one dealing with the flight to Scotland of Hitler's Number Two man, Hess. The most plausible explanation of the Hess episode that I ever heard was this: Some secret bureau of the British Intelligence bated the hook for Hess. To their astonishment he swallowed it, hook, line and sinker. Somebody had pledged him "word of honor" that his own life would be safe if he came. The fact remains that Hess, Hitler's deputy, was the only top Nazi to escape death either by suicide or execution.

TO TRY OUSTING MINISTERS

LONDON—A Conservative member of parliament said today he would submit to the House Monday his petition to throw out of office Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell and War Minister John Strachey. Sir Waldron Smithers, leader of the ouster move, wants Shinwell and Strachey removed because of what the petition calls their expressed "sympathy with Communist aims" in the past.

LARGEST CARRIER

BIRKENHEAD, Eng.—Queen Elizabeth today launched the largest aircraft carrier ever built by Britain—the 36,800-ton Ark Royal. The new ship replaces its famous namesake sunk by the Nazis in the second World War.

NEW POLISH PURGE?

WASHINGTON—Rumors that the Russians are planning a new purge of Poland's army and the Polish Communist party have reached United States government officials here. If the shake-up comes, it will be the first in a long series of purges aimed at tightening up the Kremlin's control over Iron Curtain countries.

KEEPING UP SEARCH

VANCOUVER—A radio van and helicopter have been withdrawn from the search for a light plane, missing for a week now on a flight from Trail to Vancouver with two young men on board. Royal Canadian Air Force planes are keeping up the search by air. Reported oil flicks in a creek near Keremeos revealed nothing.

SEARCH GIVEN UP

LONDON—Search for the British traveller Milford Viscount, missing with 13 men for 16 days, was virtually abandoned today for the second time. The search was renewed a few days ago after up weak signals believed to amateur operators had picked have come from his ship.

First Fish Goes East

Thirty Thousand Pound Consignment of Halibut To Atlantic Seaboard

The first carload of halibut of the season rolled out of Prince Rupert last night headed for an eastern United States seaboard destination.

The shipment was the 30,000-pound catch of the Rap I, Captain Les Reekie, who landed at Atlin Fisheries dock about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The fish were gathered from a camp boat near Squagaree, about 20 miles from port. In addition to the halibut the Rap I carried about 800 pounds of salmon, which will be treated for the American market. Rap I is owned by John Clausen and Sons.

Asked if he would go out again last night, Capt. Reekie said, "yes," as soon as they loaded ice and bait. "We'll go out to the camp again, leave bait and load up. Some of these days I'm going to get a little sleep, too," he said. Verne Scherk is the camp man.

The camp method of fish collecting is for smaller wishing boats to base at a house boat, bring their catches to the camp and load bait. The packer keeps the camp supplied with bait and provisions on her return trips. The fish from the camp is loaded on the packer, which delivers it to the company wharf.

James L. Lee, manager of the Atlin Fisheries Ltd., said the fish was going to the eastern American seaboard. The exact destination, he added with a smile, "is the business of no one but us."

Rupert Boys Clean Up In Alaska Track Meet

Bob Wilkinson, Eric Moore, Jerry Ford And Roddy Tait Garner Points

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (Special to the Daily News)—Bob Wilkinson of Prince Rupert became grand aggregate champion of the Southeastern Alaska track meet yesterday. He and Eric Moore set records in the 440 and 880 respectively and won first and second places in grand aggregate.

Williamson was the outstanding sprinter of the day, copping the 100 yard dash, the 220 and 440. He was fourth in the shot put. He was anchor man on the relay team, which was just nosed out by Ketchikan. Bob ran the 440 in 58 seconds to beat the previous record of 61 seconds. In the 100 and 220 yard dashes his nearest competitors were 10 yards behind. Williamson piled up 17 1/2 points for the grand aggregate award. Eric Moore was runner up with 11 points.

Eric Moore set the record for the 880 yard run by clipping off six seconds from the previous record when he broke the tape in 2 minutes and 21 seconds. He was second in the 440, fifth in the 100 yard dash and ran a leg of the relay.

Jerry Ford had a big day also, coming third in the 880 and mile runs, fifth in the broad jump and ran a leg of the relay. Jerry had tough luck in the mile run. He was winning at the end, but due to faulty counting of laps the boys ran an extra lap, in which he fell behind Ponio Penef. He showed up well in the sprints, garnering a fourth in the 220 and 440. He also ran a leg of the relay. Roddy Tait placed fourth in the mile and sixth in the broad jump. Final score was Ketchikan 1, Prince Rupert 2, Petersburg 3. Prince Rupert had no entries in the field events in which Ketchikan was strong. Thus they were nosed out in the final scoring. The meet was postponed until Tuesday because of the weather.

RATLESS ALBERTA—Alberta is believed to be the only rat-free area on the North American continent. And the provincial government want to keep it that way. So John M. Brown, provincial entomologist, is leading Alberta's campaign against an expected rat invasion. A young brown rat was killed recently in Edmonton, one of the few that have been found in the province. Here Mr. Brown holds the rat and in the background is a government poster warning of the rat invasion. (CP Photo)

Provincial Minister Resigns And Two Successors Are Named

VICTORIA—Premier Byron Johnson today announced the resignation of Hon. George Pearson, minister of health and welfare and provincial secretary. Mr. Pearson has been in ill-health for some time.

A. D. Turnbull, member for Rossland-Trail, becomes minister of health and welfare.

Hon. W. T. Straith, minister of education, takes over the provincial secretaryship.

RESIGNS—Hon. George Pearson, minister of health and welfare.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis

Skies cleared in northern sections last night and cloudiness continues to decrease in southern regions this morning. However, a few showers will persist today in the southern interior especially near the mountain ridges. An intensifying storm centre which lies 600 miles west of the Queen Charlotte Islands is expected to remain in the Gulf of Alaska but a disturbance associated with it will move down the coast tomorrow bringing rain to most coastal regions. Temperatures in most of the province will be slightly above normal for the next two days.

Forecast

North Coast Regions. A few clouds today. Overcast tonight and Thursday with rain beginning early tomorrow morning. Little change in temperature. Wind—light today, southeast 15 m.p.h. this evening, increasing to 25 near midnight and shifting to west 25 tomorrow morning. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy 42 and 52, Sandspit and Prince Rupert 42 and 50.

United Nations Chief Would End Cold War

French And British Already Lined Up Want Cabinet Members, Too

PARIS —(CP)—Trygve Lie, United Nations secretary general, said today he will fly to Moscow May 10 in an attempt to persuade Russia to agree to a conference of the United Nations Security Council and all world leaders to end the cold war.

Lie told a press conference he had proposed previously that the Security Council hold a meeting with "heads of states and with cabinet members of all member nations."

In London, Lie saw Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

In Paris, he already has seen French President Vincent Auriol and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

Red River Dropping

WINNIPEG —Army and civilian personnel today tackled the boated Red River with the knowledge that the end of the three week rise was in sight. At two major points along its northward course through Southern Manitoba toward Winnipeg the flood has begun to wane. At Morris, almost submerged, it had apparently reached full peak. But at Winnipeg, pretty well at the end of its course of destruction, there was still more to come. The crest is expected Thursday.

Another Dr. Hankinson Here

Newly graduated from medical school of University of Alberta with term of internship at University Hospital there recently completed, Dr. Hazen Hankinson, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Hankinson, arrived in the city on Monday to join the medical clinic of Dr. L. M. Greene and Dr. J. A. Macdonald for the next few months.

Dr. Hankinson was born at Smithers and received most of his early education here after his parents moved to the city. He is being welcomed here by his many friends who congratulate him upon his graduation and entry into the profession.

After his stay in Prince Rupert, Dr. Hankinson will return to Edmonton to take up further post-graduate work in surgery. He served in the Navy during the war.

Fasier Hockey Is Expected Tonight

CALGARY —First round sparring will go by the boards tonight when Toronto Marlboros and Calgary Stampeders meet in the second game of the best of seven Allan Cup finals. Both President Harold Ballard of the Marlies and Stamps' coach Byron McDonald said they expected the second game would provide a faster brand of hockey. Toronto won Monday night's game 6-5.

ASS'N OR CIVIC CENTRE—

Who Will Operate Baseball Issue to be Decided Tonight

At a general meeting of the Prince Rupert Baseball Association called for this evening at the Civic Centre the question as to whether the Civic Centre Association or the Baseball Association is to operate baseball hereabouts this season is to be discussed.

Much interest has been shown this past week by baseball enthusiasts on this point and rumor has it that the Civic Centre body is willing to handle the youngsters but wants nothing to do with the senior set-up. This action would be a departure from policy of last season when the juniors drifted along in a haphazard manner which resulted in their league becoming defunct early in the season.

A spokesman for the Baseball Association made it clear today that there is a hot session in store if the Civic Centre plans to get out from under as far as senior league operation is concerned. Pros and Cons of the question, however, will be aired at a special session prior to the general meeting when the executive of the baseball body will be met by representatives of the Civic Centre group.

A special invitation is being extended to those who have recently arrived in the city and have been active in playing or organizing in this great summer sport, to attend this evening's meeting. Managers of the senior teams are hot on the trail of anything that looks like a ball player and already practices are being held at the Roosevelt Park diamond.

Is This Modern Youth?

A depressing condition of "sheer intellectual poverty" among teen-aged Britons is reported in a sociological study of the youth of Birmingham, the country's second biggest city. One wonders if it is a reflection of modern youth generally.

Semi-literacy is widespread and ambition generally low, boys and girls live lives that are "empty and barren. Rather than anti-social and vicious," the survey says.

The survey—"eighty thousand adolescents" (Allan and Unwin)—was conducted by 60 of the students and staff of Westhill Training College, Birmingham, over a three-year period among 81,976 persons between the ages of 14 and 19 who live in Birmingham.

The 188-page report makes these points:

1. Pocket Money—At 16, boys and girls average 11 shillings ($1.70) weekly spending money. Four out of 10 boys and one out of three girls spend a sizeable portion of this on cigarettes. There are 80 movie houses, three vaudeville shows, 17 swimming pools, 104 dance halls and 1,389 public houses in Birmingham, and teen-agers patronize all of these to some extent. One girl in 20 and one boy in eight gamble regularly.

2. Liquor—One boy in six between 16 and 19 spends more than five shillings weekly drinking. Many girls drink too—but leave the paying to the boy friend.

3. Church-Going—40 per cent go to church regularly, the rest only when a relative is married or buried.

4. Entertainment—The movies and dance halls are favorite teen-age haunts. 41 per cent said they "never read books."

5. Dead-end Jobs—Although Birmingham has about 1,500 different trades, youngsters generally have at least two jobs within two years of leaving school at 14. Some have as many as 10.

6. Ambitions—One girl in seven regards marriage as an ideal career but only one boy in Birmingham mentioned that he wanted to be a good husband. Ambition generally followed the trade in which the adolescent worked—for instance bus conductors wanted to be drivers. But they ranged all the way between a 17-year-old girl who wanted to be "bally dancer" and a 19-year-old boy who wanted to be an Egyptologist and could spell it.

SEX EDUCATION

DON'T tell your children about "the birds and the bees," if you hope to give them a proper attitude toward sex. This is the advice of leading educators and psychologists throughout Canada, in a survey reported in a copyrighted article in Coronet. The educators were agreed that a child's questions should be answered directly, and in terms of humans, rather than birds and bees.

They also agreed that it is the parents' duty, not that of teachers or clergymen, to tell the child the facts of life. This, they admitted, was made difficult by the fact that most parents were themselves victims of lack of sex education and considered themselves inadequate to offer instruction on the subject to their children.

The need for a wholesome program of sex education was emphasized, says the article, as a result of three factors which were attributed to sex maladjustment caused by ignorance and misinformation in the formative year:

(1) an all-time high in Canada's convictions for sex offences. The majority of offenders came from homes where they received no wholesome, helpful sex information.

(2) a doubling of illegitimate births in ten years. A survey of 300 promiscuous girls showed that "the most striking feature was that most of these girls had incomplete or inaccurate sex information."

(3) a fivefold increase in divorces in Canada. The only grounds for divorce in this country were adultery, and this was frequently the result of sexual maladjustment.

As to how parents can inform their children on sex matters, the educators offered a number of rules. Among them were the following: "Answer all questions promptly, when they arise. But do not make the child's first question on sex the occasion for a 'complete' lecture. Tell the truth—but adapt it to the age level of the child. Do not resort to the story of the stork. Keep away from poetic answers and metaphors—this is just another way of evading the issue. Indicate that sex talks are a matter of privacy in the family, to avoid possible unpleasantness with less enlightened neighbors, should your child pass on your teaching to their children."

The Doukhobor Problem—Mounties Taking Over—Drunken Driving

By J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA—Attorney-General Gordon Wismer sounds earnest enough when he tells of plans to solve the Doukhobor problem. He's as earnest as any of his predecessors, which was very earnest, but they never had much success and there's no reason to believe Mr. Wismer will have any more success than they.

But, like other A.G.'s in the last few decades, Mr. Wismer waxes indignant and makes wry statements about the whole subject. Something will be done, he says. A.G.'s have said that before. This isn't to say Mr. Wismer won't do his best.

The attorney-general came back from Ottawa the other day and immediately called a press-conference. He gave forth with high-sound phrases about the Doukhobors.

"This is a matter that amounts to civil insurrection," he said. "It may have to be dealt with as such, which means it may have to be dealt with by Ottawa."

You could see that Mr. Wismer hoped the powers-that-be in Ottawa would decide it was civil insurrection and that the federal authorities would step in. However, all these years the federal authorities have washed their hands of the Douk problem as an earwig runs from a shot of nicotine juice.

"These Sons of Freedom aren't going to be allowed to defy the criminal law of this province," cried the attorney-general, knocking the ashes from his pipe. "As soon as we have accommodation we will proceed with all those who break the law. We're looking over the old army camp at Vernon."

Mr. Wismer said there are a lot of fine young Doukhobors who want to become good Canadian citizens and who don't hold with all the burnings and the disrobings in public.

"We have a long range plan of education and assimilation for these good Doukhobors and we don't propose to allow a fanatical minority to interfere with those plans," said Mr. Wismer.

Mr. Wismer had a lot of controversial problems on his hands when he returned from Ottawa. Besides the age-old thorn-in-the-side of the Douks, he tried to placate hundreds of provincial policemen who don't like the idea of the "mounties" taking them over. Mr. Wismer said he doesn't blame the provincial police for being worried but let them, he said, have no worry. They'll be looked after, every last man of them.

"We're going to see every man in the B.C. force is given the best possible treatment," he said. "I hope none of our men will jump to conclusions but will wait and see—the government is going to look after all these men—and I think they should be satisfied to wait and see."

Then there was the matter of drunken driving to concern Mr. Wismer. He admitted it's a headache. He said that perhaps it might be a good idea if, instead of the law having to prove that a driver is drunk, the driver should prove that he is sober, or that, if he had a drink, that drink didn't interfere with his safe driving.

"I think that perhaps it would be a good idea to let a driver know that if he wants to have a drink, or two or three drinks, he does so at his own peril," Mr. Wismer said.

Queen Mother Mary, when her hand-made carpet was displayed in the Legislative Buildings here, did more than show 15,000 Victorians an example of perfect needlework. She showed many of them for the first time the interior of the Legislative Buildings. They always intend to, of course, but never get around to it. After viewing the carpet, they roamed round the corridors, they studied the pictures of pioneers in the lobby,

Big Blast Goes Off

"A very successful blast," said C. A. Berner, divisional superintendent of the CNR here, who witnessed over 60 tons of dynamite rip a rock pit open near Pacific, 110 miles east of here.

"There was no interruption of traffic and no damage caused," Mr. Berner stated. "The rock was very successfully broken to suitable size."

The blast scattered a little, the C.N.R. official said. From the blast, the company obtained 100,000 yards of rock to be used for rip rap, a type of grade fill and ballasting material for the grade along the Skeena River. Supervised by Fred Bergman, powder specialist, 2400 cases of dynamite were packed into "coyote tunnels" totalling 1500 feet. Loading began April 7.

Also on hand to keep a watchful eye was R. C. Davidson, divisional engineer.

crowded over the golden bar and peered into the dimness of the blue carpeted, marble pillared legislative chamber, trooped into the library and archives, poked around in the Museum of Natural History, saw the Indian exhibits, generally said they were surprised that the Legislative Buildings, which they pass every day, are so splendid and so filled with interest, historical and otherwise.

EDITOR'S NOTE
Please excuse ur spellin' on this paige. Just call it a tipografikal arrur. The printer's dont kair, anyways, and the prufe reder's already started sellebratin.
We also run shorte of tipe in an ad. or too. If you can't rede sum of this korn, just gess.
Don't get kritikul. That calls for fueidin' and we always kepe our iruns loded.

It's All For Good Cause
"Check your poke, mister?"
"Come wiz me, honey! I'm goin to the Gyro's Klondyke Nite!"
"Hey, thar, Whar yuh goin' wit' that thar six shooter?"
Yes, and lots more like it will be heard in Prince Rupert Friday night as the Gyros swing into action with their second annual Klyondyke Nite. There'll be lots of fun around the old town. The only thing that'll be missing is the old time saloons. Mr. Kennedy put his foot down there.

WHOOPIING IT UP FROM EIGHT TO 2

The festivities will get under way for Klondyke Nite a little after 8:30 this Friday night and will continue until 2:00 a.m. or thereabouts.
And the many amusing and interesting events that the committees have lined up will follow in quick succession throughout the entire evening. The major events will include the carnival games, the dancing and, of course, the many contests.

The Gyros have gone to a lot of trouble to give the residents of Prince Rupert a grand old time in the spirit of '98 and promise no lagging moments when the show swings into action. Besides what they make goes into all kinds of projects that will benefit the community as a whole — park maintenance, payments on the McClymont Park swimming pool and other projects that hold down juvenile delinquency in the city.
The Gyros expect to see everyone at the big celebration. What you spend goes toward making it even a better place to live. Yes sir, the Gyros are giving the kids a break. Why not climb on their band wagon?

Everything Goes, And Many Prizes

Everything goes during the Gyro Klondyke Nite and there's a prize for just about every type of costume as well as the three major prizes for the Beard Contest competitors.
First prize for the Beard Contest will be $50 in cash with the second prize amounting to $20 and the third prize of $10. The contestants will all parade in front of the three judges who will be armed with the necessary equipment for judging the length and thickness of the many fine beards.
Besides the Beard Contest there will be prizes for costumes. The men's section will receive merchandise prizes of $10, $7.50 and $5.00 for the best costume and the women's section also will receive $10, $7.50 and $5.00.
There will be a $5.00 merchandise prize for the best dressed couple and a $5.00 merchandise prize for the most comical costume in the show.

Those smart Beard Contest and Klondyke Night window cards which have been seen around town lately are the work of the art students of Booth Memorial High School.

Gyros All Out For Klondyke Night-Jobs For All Members

The entire membership of the Gyro Club is officially on the Klondyke Nite Committee with all members working hard to raise funds for the playgrounds for children in Prince Rupert. Joe McKay, assisted officially by Bill Stone, Jack Lindsay and Mitch Green and unofficially by everybody in the Club, will handle the games.
Norm Baker says there'll be plenty of rarin' red hot dogs and coffee, etc.
George Dawes will be at his old stand seeing that everybody has plenty of Klondyke money to spend. He will be assisted by some Gyrettes.
Grant Stewart is having a real busman's holiday and will tell us just what the financial situation is after the affairs are over.

100,000 DOLLARS TO FALL FROM SKY

Some time during Friday more than $100,000 in Klondyke money will fall from the sky over the city of Prince Rupert. This money will be good for use only during the proceedings of Klondyke Night, Friday at the Civic Centre.
Bearded Gyros, who, incidentally are not even allowed to enter the grand contest have paid some penalty in the way of discomfort.

Alf Large and Don Forward are responsible for getting suitable judges for the costume contests at the Dance.
Bill Lambie will produce suitable professionals for the judging of the hay crop.
The Gyrettes have volunteered to assist the men's organization and this department is in the hands of Orme Stewart.

MEANTIME, JERRY AND JACK GLOAT

Jerry Lemire and Jack Guthrie, two of the local tonsorial artists, are rubbing their hands with glee these last few days as the day to shave off beards approaches. The rush of trade when the men who have enlisted is expected to start Saturday dured the itching and the general riscomforts which generally go with beard growing rush to their nearest barber.
Incidentally great sighs of relief will be heard from the many wives and girl friends of the beard growers.

WHAT A MAN! WHAT A BEARD!

That man Watmaugh, who copped the first prize last year, looks unbeatable again.

IS A SURE SIGN OF SPRING!— Sure sign of spring is the sight of pussy willows unfolding their cloaks as winter's relaxes. This beautiful bouquet, held here by Glana Morrow, is just a few of many that are now well out, bringing more than a lot of things to come. Several weeks ago the pussy willows appeared but they retreated during the recent cold snap in southern Ontario.

OPEN FIRST CANADIAN AIR STEWARDESS SCHOOL— Three members of Trans-Canada Air Lines' first stewardess training school, to be held in Montreal, perched on tail of North Star, are June Lowrey, daughter of managing editor of Ottawa Journal; Helen McKenzie, Winnipeg; Ann Fleming, Edmonton.

LOTS OF POWER IN SMALL PACKAGE— Two mechanics easily handle a 175-horsepower gas turbine engine, similar to one installed in the truck in background, which has successfully completed road tests in Seattle, Wash. The new engine weighs 200 pounds, 2,500 pounds less than motor installations of equal power in a 10-ton truck. It takes up only 13 per cent of the usual space.

PRINCESS AND HER SHADOW—When Princess Margaret of England attends public or social functions, generally close beside her is the girl you see behind here. The girl, who has a passion for anonymity, is Miss Jennifer Jane Bevan, 22-year-old first lady-in-waiting. She is the "brake" on the princess, probably the only one in the world, outside of the princess' parents, who can say "yes" or "don't" to Margaret and get away with it. Miss Bevan is the granddaughter of the 5th Earl of Lucan an Irish representative peer. Although Miss Bevan frequently and diplomatically applies the brakes to Princess Margaret, the first-lady-in-waiting is one of Margaret's favorite friends.

ON THE CREDIT SIDE OF THE UNITED NATIONS' EFFORT—United Nations' conferences seem to be getting nowhere, but in many places throughout the world, the U.N. effort is bearing fruit. Here an Arab refugee, made homeless by the Israel war, builds his home of mud bricks with the aid of his son. United Nations funds and experts are helping to make whole new villages for the refugee Arabs.

FOUND GOOD HUNTING FROM THE AIR—Use of a light plane enabled O. M. Runner of Treherne, Man., to bag 21 timber wolves and eight bush wolves in northern Manitoba and Ontario this season. The four wolves shown here were all shot in one trip.

EMIGRANTS FROM INDIAN JUNGLE—Two interesting arrivals to the western hemisphere are Shanti and Ashek, a pair of baby elephants, bound for the Washington zoo—a gift from Prime Minister Nehru of India to the U.S. The young pachyderms arrived in tip-top condition and are shown here with their mahout, Babajan, the 19-year-old cousin of Sabu, the elephant boy of Hollywood fame. He will return to India when he has delivered his charges to the zoo.

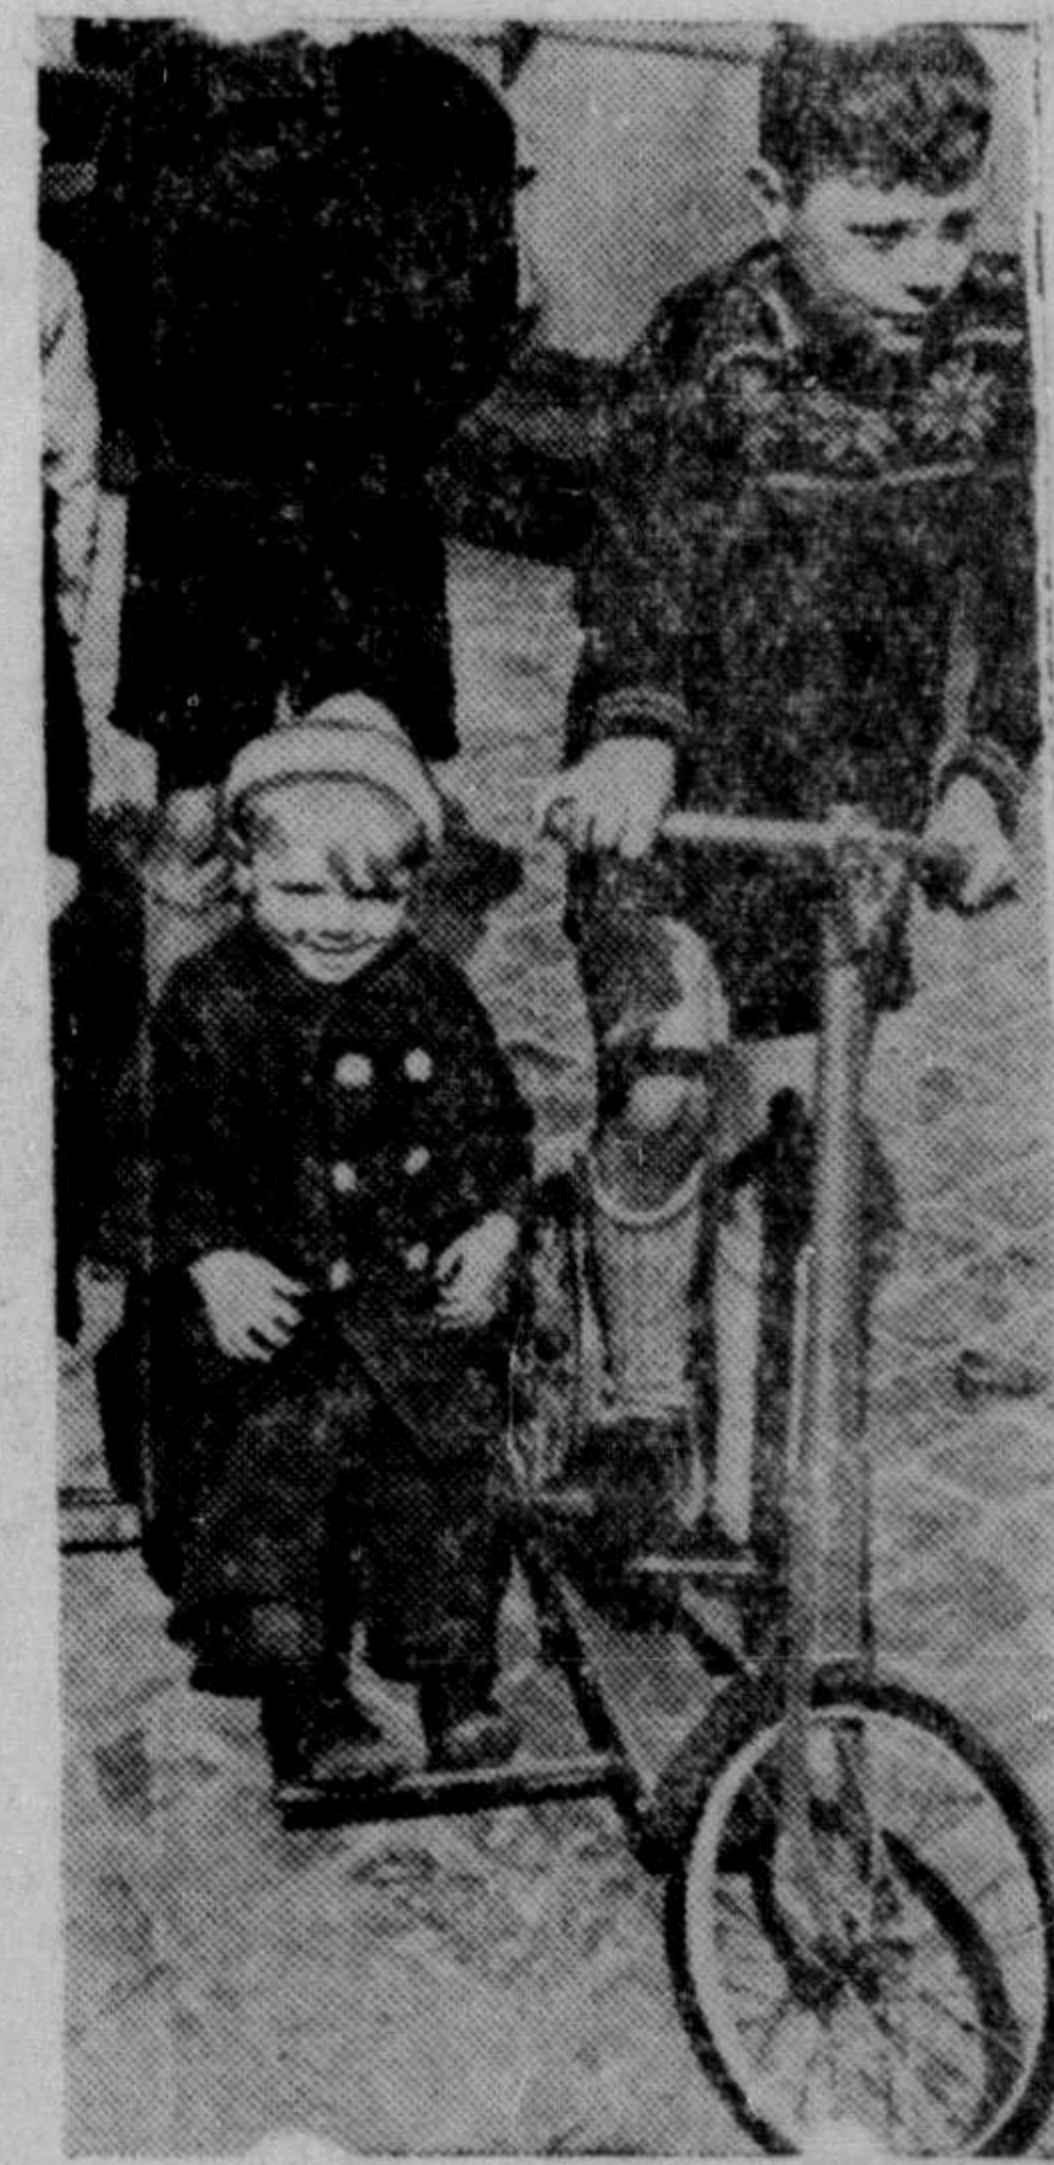

With U.N. in Northern Greece

High going on a mountain in northern Greece is encountered by members of the United Nations Special Committee for the Balkans (UNSCOB) on a recent inspection tour. UNSCOB observers are on constant duty in northern Greece, watching for any incidents along the mountainous frontier with Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

CYCLE AT NIGHT WITH SAFETY—As an additional safety precaution, all Canadian National Telegraphs messengers at Prince Rupert, who are required to work during the evening or night tour of duty will be provided with the latest bicycle safety light equipment. Brilliant Scotchlite safety strips applied to handlebars, front forks and rear mudguard will reflectorize the bicycle so that they may be seen by motorists at a distance and from any angle of approach. This new reflector material is an adhesive-backed plastic tape consisting of millions of tiny glass spheres permanently bonded to a fabric backing. As light strikes the tape, these tiny spheres act as so many perfect lenses. Each microsphere concentrates the light into a single intensified beam of reflection that travels directly back to the light source. Similar equipment will also be provided for messengers employed at all other offices in Canada. Illustration at left shows C.N.T. messenger with his bicycle in daylight; at right, is how the motorist will see the safety reflectors at night.

SCOOTER SIDECAR BUILT FOR TWO—Surprising that no one thought of it before. But now somebody has, and the world has its first scooter sidecar. The somebody who dreamed up the addition to childhood's popular means of getting from here to there in a hurry is Hermann Wolfe of Frankfurt, Germany. He hopes to clean up as affectionate big brothers acquire his sidecars so that they can take small brothers along on scooter jaunts.

QUEEN ALASKA IN ROYAL ROBES—Wearing the royal robe of her kingdom, a fur parka, Maxine Cothren, "Miss Alaska 1950," arrives in San Francisco for a visit. The northern "queen" will represent her territory in the "Miss America" contest in Atlantic City this fall. The trip was part of her prize, along with five hundred dollars in gold dust and one hundred dollars in clothing.

Terrace Topics

James Watson, provincial field commissioner for northern B.C. and Yukon, arrived in Terrace last week from Prince Rupert, where he conducted courses for Scout leaders. He drove in with Dick Dubeau and Robin Sait of Terrace who had been taking the course. While here, Commissioner Watson saw the cubs at work and met the group committee on Thursday night in the police station with Constable T. Brue presiding. He had one suggestion to make and that was that as the Terrace cub pack, with John Haaland as Cubmaster, is too large, that another group be formed from it, a Catholic group. This met with unanimous approval and the suggestion will be carried out as soon as a leader can be found. The commissioner, with headquarters in Vancouver, left on Saturday morning's train for the interior where he will visit other groups or in some cases, form new groups.

W. Warner is a patient in the local hospital with an infected foot caused by stepping on a nail. James Wong opened his new Silvertip Cafe to the public on Sunday. Having been built in record time by Albert Haugland and Dave Graf the cafe is modern in all details and is a great improvement on Kalum Street.

George Anderson was a weekend visitor to Terrace from Prince Rupert.

Mrs. R. Squires entered hospital Sunday and was operated upon Monday morning.

Mrs. George Dover is leaving on Thursday's train for Toronto via Ocean Falls and Vancouver where she will visit members of her family. She expects to be away for a year and her home has been taken over by Mr. and Mrs. J. Kill.

William Donald and Mrs. R. Corlett are expected home on Thursday morning's train from Vancouver and Seattle, where they have spent three weeks on holiday.

Wilfred Baker and daughter, Arlene, accompanied by the latter's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Jensen of Spierhill, Manitoba, drove in from Prince Rupert to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker.

Anita Brue entered hospital on Tuesday night for an appendix operation.

PROMINENT POLE DIES
LONDON — Warsaw Tuesday reported the death of Vincent Rzymowski, foreign minister from 1945 to 1947. Rzymowski, 67 was a member of the Democrat party.

Archdeacon Hodson of Prince Rupert spent the week-end here Sunday he conducted services in the Anglican Church. Holy Communion was held in the morning and in the evening with the Odd-fellows and Rebekah lodges in attendance. The members met in the Oddfellows' hall in town and paraded to the church on the hill. H. King was marshal for the Oddfellows and Mrs. I. Frank for the Rebekahs. The Archdeacon's address on the "Brotherhood of Man" gave a warning of disaster to come unless Christ's command to "Love one another" be heeded. Well chosen hymns were sung with Miss Elliott Head at the organ. Following the close of the service the lodge members paraded back to the hall for dispersal.

Joyce Cote, 17-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Cote, left on Tuesday morning's train for Smithers, where, on May 1, she will vie with contestants from other communities for the title of "Miss Northern B. C." A charming, graceful girl, Joyce was the popular choice for May Queen here two years ago. A grade 11 student, Joyce has had all her schooling in Terrace. She is being sponsored by the Canadian Legion, who have given her a lovely evening gown and a pair of evening slippers.

Ross Hotel Is Up Again

With Unfavorable Reply From Liquor Board Head, C. of C. Going Higher

A letter from Chairman W. F. Kennedy of the Liquor Control Board to the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce Monday night, in response to a request from the Chamber for a review of the application for a beer licence from Ross Brothers for a proposed 40 room hotel, announced that the question had been reviewed. The letter suggested that it would be a backward step to approve a licence for a hotel that would be smaller than the largest in Prince Rupert. He said that, except for Vancouver, that had been the policy of the board for some time and that marked improvement in hotel accommodation had been noted since its inauguration. An $80,000 investment for a forty room hotel in Prince Rupert was not adequate, the letter felt. There was a movement afoot for a larger hotel in the city, the letter continued, and Mr. Kennedy thought it better to wait until that happened. If it did not materialize at present, it was bound to in the future. J. D. McRae, M.L.A., said he had been in contact with people at Victoria and that he had been told that, if the accommodation of Ross Bros. were increased to 50 rooms, the board might consider the proposal. T. Norton Youngs said he felt that it would really be a backward step if Ross Brothers were required to increase the number of rooms. It was inconceivable that the builders would go to the expense of adding another storey to provide ten more rooms. They were much more apt to decrease the space of each room in order to make more rooms. He moved a letter be forwarded to the Premier and the Attorney General enclosing copies of the Chamber's request to Mr. Kennedy and the reply that the letter renew the plea for granting the licence. George Ross said it would likely cost them $100,000 to build and furnish the hotel and that funds were available to do that much. However, it would be impossible to go further than that. He said the building would be well built and completely fire-proof.

Guide Tea, Sale Well Attended

TERRACE—The annual Guide Tea and Sale of Homecooking was held on Saturday afternoon in the Oddfellows' Hall and, the weather being fine and warm, there was a good crowd in attendance. The tables with pink and white and blue and white cloths, made and donated by Mrs. McGilvery, were placed on each side of the hall and showed to advantage the lace covered pourovers' table with its centre-piece of early spring flowers which stood at the top of the hall. Pourers were Mrs. Head, Mrs. McIlroy, Mrs. Wold and Mrs. Clifford.

The guides waiting on tables in charge of Mrs. McGilvery were Claudia King, Margery Thomas, Irene Cote, Bertha Andam, Gloria Irving, Marlene Michel, Shaaron McIlroy, Joan Gillanders, Shirley Reynolds, Maureen Kennedy. Mrs. A. H. Irving was in charge of the homecooking stall with guides Joan Gavan, Gabrielle Tetreault and Carol Jones helping. Mrs. W. Martin had charge of the candy stall, and her helpers were Betty Hoffman, Ivy Gillespie, Marilyn de Kergommeaux and Marianne Bissonette. Other guides helping were Yvonne Normandeau, Mary Ann Brandis, Bonnie McColl, Ethel Loveless. In the kitchen were Mrs. Philip, Mrs. Julseth, Mrs. Haaland, Mrs. Michiel, Mrs. T. Olson, Mrs. H. Cote, Mrs. Wold and Mrs. Head. Cashier was Mrs. E. West.

Six dozen blue pyrex cups and saucers were donated by Mrs. McGilvery to the Girl Guides to use at any future teas or socials which the girls plan.

Frank Clark of Prince George, Liberal organizer for Central British Columbia, arrived in the city or last night's train from the interior. On Sunday night he will proceed to Stewart.

Choristers Give Opening Concert

TERRACE—A splendid evening's entertainment was given by the Terrace Civic Centre Symphony Orchestra and the choral group, last Friday evening, when they combined to present a program of concert music, chorus and part-songs, which delighted the large audience gathered in the auditorium of the Civic Centre.

The stage was beautifully decorated with a multi-colored background and a foreground of moss and spring flowers. It was a lovely setting for the choral group and for the ladies, who were all charming in evening gowns.

"Announcer was E. S. Sargent and, following the opening "O, Canada," the orchestra, with Frank Gavan conducting, played four numbers: "Campus Pride," "Night in June," "La Cinquantaine," and "I'll See You Again."

Then came two duets and two quartettes by the singers. Roger Campbell and C. J. Norrington sang "I Passed By Your Window." Catherine Fraser and Alice Campbell sang "Sunrise and You." "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" was sung as a quartette by Catherine Fraser, Mary Little, James Stevens and Harry Philip. "I'm Falling in Love" was sung by Blanche Matte, Ruth MacPherson, Roger Campbell,

Campbell and Jim Norrington. Following an intermission of 5 minutes, during which Mr. Sargent paid tribute to the fine work done by the two musical groups and thanked all those who, in any way, had given their assistance, the orchestra again played five numbers, "Marching Feet," "A Medley of Old Favorites," "Gold and Silver Waltz," the Overture to "Tannhauser" and "Moonlight Madonna."

Part four of the program was fully choral with C. J. Norrington conducting and Mrs. Norrington as pianist. Selections sung were, "Rolling Down to Rio," "Danny Boy," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Cradle Song" and the grand finale, "Land of Hope and Glory," which was especially well sung.

The National Anthem brought to a close the first entertainment staged by the newly formed choral group of the Terrace Civic Centre in conjunction with the Symphony Orchestra which has been heard on several previous occasions. Playing in the orchestra were: piano, Elliott Head; violins, Mary Little, George Grant, Wm. vanHeek, George Atkinson; Clarinets, Joe Schuzak, Georg Peters; Cor-net, George West; Cello, Bruce vanStolk; saxophones, Ted Bruc, John de Kergommeaux; drums, Francis Gavan.

The singers were: Alice Campbell, Thelma Christy, Catherine Fraser, Anna Irving, Mary Little, Blanche Matte, Ruth MacPherson, Molly Wilson, David Bain, Allan Campbell, Roger Campbell, George McAdams, Harry Phillip, Jim Stevenson.

Some of the scouts acted as ushers and Claudia Philip sold fancy packets of candy. O. Kaul-proceeds, a very satisfactory beek was cashier and the whole amount, go to the Civic Centre funds.

FIFTY POLICE DROWN CALCUTTA—Fifty Police-men were drowned in the River Hoogly Monday when three police boats capsized off Diamond Harbor. Fishermen rescued 50 of the party, which was returning from patrol.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

The site of the new hotel is right where the whole of Prince Rupert once congregated to do business. There was Centre Street and the wharf, Rupert Road and Vickersville over yonder. About all else was newly cleared town-site. There was Arthur Little, who started in business with a handful of papers and some tobacco. George Morrow spread out his meat for sale. Fred Stork ran a hardware store. R. L. MacIntosh was postmaster aided by J. R. Morison and others. Billy Shrubbs chuckled, and sold hall-out George Philpott made a garden for Bacon the harbor engineer. Ham Douglas talked politics and predicted great things.

Stalin is reported to have reviewed a military parade on May Day, doing this engulfed in a sea of red bunting. It couldn't have been Stalin's photograph, by any chance?

It's pleasant to think of the Navy striving just as hard to preserve a life, as to take it. H.M. C S. Sioux, swift destroyer, is back from a 600-mile dash in wild weather to take a sailor off a Greek freighter. With a ruptured appendix, he needed a surgeon the worst way. The destroyer provided both speed and operating table.

Britain's government was saved by a single vote the other night. If Attlee isn't extra careful it may become a habit.

There come frequent reminders of Federal parliament being a busy place. But there was time enough, not long ago, for somebody to devote a few hours to the alleged necessity of a Canadian flag. And in Vancouver last week, it was suggested at

Women's Club meeting that "O Canada," top-heavy with versions, could do with a new national anthem. So far, the chief difficulty seems to be Canada cannot discover what she wants.

Replying to the query "are bachelors happier than married men?" in a coast daily, a pair of columnists say they are not. They just whistle louder. They show a higher suicide rate and are less healthy. Besides, the married men live about twenty years longer and when they do die, it's less often from heart disease, pneumonia or tuberculosis. The married man is better fed, given better attention and gets proper sleep. In illness his wife nurses him and, when emotionally disturbed, that's taken care of, too. And most important of all, he has such a sense of well being.

Can't understand the foregoing. We have never dreamed of suicide. Been in hospital twice (military and civilian) served as palibearer at funerals of numerous married men. Never worried. Never heeded solemn counsel about liquor and food. Unable to recall emotional disturbances unless when spanked where it would do most good by some muscular woman with a shingle. Always enjoy deep sleep, when not observing dog-cursing period between 4:15 a.m. and breakfast hour. Have lived well over seventy. Feel fine. Whistle daily.

Norman Nelson, president of Nelson Brothers Fisheries of Vancouver, arrived in the city aboard the Prince Rupert today on a business trip.

Miss Winnie Poxon, who has operated a beauty parlor here for the past five years, has sold out her business and in a week or so will be leaving the city. She will visit in the Okanagan district on her way to her home in Drumheller, Alberta, where she expects to make an extended stay with her parents.
