RAILWAY STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED

Companies, Unions Get Together

Brotherhood Chairman Says Both Sides Are Exhausting All Possibilities

MONTREAL (CP)—A break came yesterday in the dispute which threatened to tie up Canadian railways in a general strike July 15. The railways and representatives of eighteen brotherhoods renewed negotiations which were broken off a few weeks ago when the parties could not agree on wage increases.

WINS AGAIN

Citation Captures Stars and Stripes Handicap
CHICAGO—Citation and Eddy Arcaro teamed up again Monday to win the $56,000 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington before 50,000 fans, the largest crowd in the history of this track. Second was Eternal Reward and third, Pellicle. The Calumet Stables' triple crown winner paid $2.60 and, with the win, gained fourth spot among all-time money winners. He has made a total of $562,000 and is behind Stymie, Armed and Assault.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
Except for local fogs skies were clear through the night over the northern British Columbia coast and along the B.C.-Yukon boundary. Elsewhere in the province cloudy, unsettled weather still prevailed this morning. Considerable amounts of rain have fallen at several points throughout the interior with Quesnel reporting 1.08 inches in the twenty-four hours up to 4:30 this morning. Improving conditions are expected over the southern coast today with cool, showery weather persisting over the interior. An active storm centre, developing in the Gulf of Alaska, will bring rain to the northern coast early Wednesday with precipitation spreading to the northwestern half of Vancouver Island by Wednesday evening as the storm continues its eastward motion.

Forecast

Queen Charlottes and North Coast—Cloudy in southern section and clear elsewhere, becoming generally overcast by evening. Intermittent rain commencing in vicinity of Queen Charlottes early Wednesday, spreading to the mainland during the day. Cloudy over the Queen Charlottes by afternoon. Winds light today and southerly (20 m.p.h.) tonight, shifting to southwesterly (20) over the Charlottes about mid-day tomorrow. Cooler. Lows tonight and highs Wednesday—At Port Hardy 52 and 58, Masset 48 and 58, Prince Rupert 50 and 57.

BUSY SUBWAYS

NEW YORK—The peak rush hour on the New York subway system is between 5 and 6 p.m. when 800,000 persons jam the trains. The second busiest rush hour is from 8 to 9 a.m. when 640,000 persons are carried.

Garson Talk

To Be Proposed As National Liberal Leader
WINNIPEG—The Free Press today quoted "Manitoba Liberals" as predicting that Premier Stuart Garson will be nominated by the Manitoba delegation for leadership of the Liberal party at the national convention at Ottawa in August. A front-page story in the newspaper said that persons close to the Premier were confident that he would allow his name to stand if there was indication of support from western delegates. The story thought that Alberta, British Columbia and the prairies would back Garson.

MAYOR ARNOLD OFF TO REGINA

To Be Honored As Canada's "Woman of the Year"
Mayor Nora E. Arnold, who has been chosen Canada's "Woman of the Year" by the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, left Monday by car for Regina where she will be formally invested with the honor at the group's annual convention next week. With her on her way to Saskatchewan capital is Mrs. Basil S. Prockter. They plan to motor as far as Prince George, then ship the car to Jasper, continuing by highway to Edmonton, Calgary and Regina. They are expected to return about July 26 after driving over the Big Bend Highway to Kamloops, then over the Cariboo and northern trans-provincial highways, a total distance from Regina of about 2,000 miles. During Mayor Arnold's absence, Alderman T. B. Black is acting Mayor.

MOTOR NOMADS

A California couple who live a nomadic life for about 10 months of every year in their elaborate aluminum trailer which is just about the last word as far as appointments and equipment in the modern covered wagon is concerned are in Prince Rupert on their way to Alaska. They are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Peterson of Oceanside, near San Diego, who arrived at the week-end in their Dodge car with canoe on top and will sail tomorrow afternoon on the Prince Rupert for a brief visit to Ketchikan unless they can make arrangements in the meantime for transport of themselves and their outfit to Haines in which case the night head for the Alaska Highway cut-off and thence return home. Mr. Peterson is a retired automobile dealer and, with Mrs. Peterson, now spends most of his time enjoying life on the highways of the continent. They left Oceanside on the present trip May 17 and came north via the Okanagans. They have no complaints about the roads although it was "a bit rough" between Terrace and Tye. They were impressed with the magnificent scenery of the lower Skeena valley and approach to Prince Rupert.

Defence Talks

Canada, States Meet with Western Powers in Anti-Soviet Move
OTTAWA—The government disclosed yesterday that the United States was initiating "exploratory" discussions with defence-pooling countries of Europe's western union—talks which may lead to formation of an anti-Soviet Atlantic pact. The discussions opened in Washington today, marking the first long-awaited step toward a security arrangement with five western powers who are already pledged to defend their democratic way of life against any aggressor—with arms if necessary. In making the announcement, the Department of External Affairs said that the discussions "at this stage at least will be purely exploratory and on the diplomatic and not the government level." INDUSTRY FOUNDED IN 1720

The first establishment of tin plate manufacture in Britain was in South Wales in 1720, and the replacement by hammering and rolling came eight years later.

"Ike" Chooses Not To Run

EISENHOWER

WILL NOT BE DEMO PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE

NEW YORK (CP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower last night flashed the "stop" sign at the "Ike for President" band wagon but many Democratic supporters ignored the signal while other anti-Trumanites started desperately to find another candidate who might be acceptable to the forthcoming Philadelphia convention. The General said: "I will not at this time identify myself with any political party and I could not accept nomination for public office." President Truman, en route back to Washington from a speaking trip to Missouri, was reported cheered at Eisenhower's action. He said Eisenhower "is an honorable man" and he had not expected him to be a candidate.

EVACUEES BACK

Most of the residents of the Usk and Terrace area have returned to their homes which they were forced to evacuate during the recent floods, according to information received at the local social welfare office. Only two houses at Usk were rendered permanently uninhabitable—those of Miss Barbara Post and the Mackenzie family—and one at Terrace, that of Mrs. Nigel Sherwood. Department of Lands officials, including Hon. E. T. Kenney, the minister, personally, have completed a survey of the situation with a view to drawing up a program of flood protection for the future. The provincial police have made a valuation of the actual damage. Usk's main industry, the Adams mill on the south side of the river—is running again, transport for the workers being by a rowboat ferry for which new towers and cable were speedily rigged up. The former ferry was carried away by the flood waters. With the possible exception of one family, it is expected that the people of Braun's Island, near Terrace, will be able to return to their homes.

STRANGE SETTLEMENT—Elaine Dunham, above, Los Angeles, Calif., won a divorce from Farmer Maurice F. Dunham, but it was the property settlement which intrigued Judge Arthur Crum. It provided that Mrs. Dunham continue to cook for her ex-husband. He will pay her $140 a month. She will live in the big house. He will live in the pump house. Arrangement will last at least until the end of the best season. Elaine explained that the nearest restaurant was 16 miles away "but he does like my meals too."

Truce To End

Looks Like Resumption of War in Palestine This Week

CAIRO, Egypt. —A delayed Tel Aviv dispatch said today that the Israeli government voted last night for "complete rejection" of the main parts of the United Nations peace proposals or Palestine. An official government statement said there was little doubt the Arabs will resume fighting when the four-week truce ends Friday. In Jerusalem Israeli forces have begun to dig in for an all-out resumption of war.

VISIT IS OFF

Polio Prevents H.M.C.S. Athabasca From Coming Here
Visit of H.M.C.S. Athabasca, new West Coast destroyer of the Canadian Navy, which was to have been here next week, has been postponed, according to word received at H.M.C.S. Chatham. The Athabasca is now quarantined at Esquimalt after an outbreak of polio from which six of the crew members are suffering in isolation at Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, one other man having died. Quarantine of the Athabasca is to be lifted in one week.

PALM BEACH TO PRINCE RUPERT

WELL-TRAVELLED STATION WAGON ARRIVES HERE

Out of West Palm Beach, Florida, since June 16 and planning to be away until September or October, Brothers A. W. and Clyde Wyndham, Uncle J. G. Wyndham and Stepther J. R. Land are in Prince Rupert for a few days in their well-travelled 1940 Pontiac station wagon carrying the publicity legend: "Come to West Palm Beach, Florida to Alaska and Back Again." There is no contest or stake involved in the trip which is merely a leisurely holiday, taking things as they come and seeing the country. The men with their car have booked to proceed to Ketchikan on the Prince Rupert tomorrow night and plan to head from there, if they can obtain the necessary transportation, to Anchorage or Seward and on to Fairbanks over the Alaska Highway and thence home. They had never heard of the Haines Cut-off until they arrived in Prince Rupert and called at the Daily News office yesterday afternoon. Thereupon they started to look into the possibilities of taking their car to Haines and entering Alaska from that point. Leaving West Palm Beach on the evening of June 6, the Wyndhams travelled via Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Wyoming, Yellowstone, National Park and Seattle. The original intention had been to ship their car by Alaska Steamship Co. from Seattle to Ketchikan but, on arriving in Seattle they found their ship was delayed in leaving. The idea of coming to Prince Rupert then occurred to them but was dampened when they received a choice bit of misinformation from the information bureau of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce that there were no automobile-carrying vessels running between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan. After nearly a week's delay assuming that this information was authentic, the party finally got straightened out and found that cars could be shipped from here to Alaska so on they came immediately to Prince Rupert. They crossed the border at Sumas and heading directly north over the Cariboo Highway to Prince George and thence on here. Leaving Seattle at 6 o'clock Thursday evening, they arrived here at 9 o'clock Sunday night. The Wyndhams disdain hotels and restaurants but are fully equipped for camping and live on the roadside. Their trip from Florida has so far registered 5,117 miles. Lashed to the top of their car is a round-bottomed rowboat which they launch in likely looking roadside lakes or streams to do a spot of fishing. Compared to the paved highways of the United States the party has found the British Columbia roads "dusty and rough but passable," adding that they are used to roughing it, however, and there was really no particular bother. A. W. Wyndham and his uncle J. G. Wyndham are engaged in the construction trade at West Palm Beach. Clyde Wyndham is just out of the United States Navy after six years' service and plans on going to college, this fall. J. R. Land is a diesel mechanic.

ALIVE, LUCKY

American Geologist Takes Three Weeks For Four-Day Trip

EDMONTON. —An American geologist, Robert Parry of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, started from Mile 363 on the Alaska Highway on a planned four-day trip to Fort Nelson. It took longer than he expected. He arrived last night, three weeks from the starting date, lucky to be alive. Parry had been rescued from a rocky ledge overlooking the Duneid River where he had been stranded in a gorge unable to climb after his dinghy capsize enroute. More than a week previously he had been located by a Royal Canadian Air Force search plane but it was another week before rescuers could reach him.

A Fair Request

FREIGHT RATES on the railways and the highways are to be regulated and approved by government commission in the public interest, as they are, it is reasonable and logical that coastal shipping rates should be similarly governed, which they are not today. Therefore, the petition of the Prince Rupert Liberal Association to this effect is in order.

Recent precipitate increases in coastal freight rates have brought the matter to a head. Last September, suddenly and with little warning, the coastal shipping companies announced a thirty per cent increase. Business interests at that time expressed resentment as much as the brevity of notification as on account of the sharp increase. Recently there was another boost in rates of such an involved nature that the full impact of them was not realized until they became actually effective.

By making it necessary for coastal shipping rates to be subject to approval by public commission, there would be opportunity for full study, representation and adjudication which would be better for all parties concerned.

AIR TRAVEL RISK

NEWSPAPERS are sometimes accused by the commercial aviation companies, intent on making people air travel conscious so they may increase their business, of unduly playing up aviation disasters. Yesterday, for instance, two disasters—one in England, the other in this district—got front page headlines.

Actually, railway or steamship disasters might have received similar news treatment even though aviation is newer and more spectacular.

The fact that such tragedies are unusual is what makes them news and subject for headlines. If they were very common they would soon become relegated to normal treatment. So really, there is no cause for people to be deterred from taking the odd airplane, railway, steamship or even motor trip just because there is the occasional accident. If we were to do that, we might just as well refuse to cross the street for fear of being hit by an automobile but might stay at home or in the shop or in the office. Even then we would doubtless worry about dying from heart failure—which quite a few folk do.

As a matter of fact, air travel, particularly in Canada, has achieved a high standard of safety because the regulations are so stiff, sometimes to the point where we are irritated when we are disappointed in a trip because conditions are deemed unsafe for flying.

In travel like anything else, it is the mishaps or the mistakes that we hear about. The things that go right and are well done are taken as a matter of course and nobody thinks much about them.

SOME ARE STILL AROUND

TO ANY REASONABLY informed observer with more than ten years perspective it must be apparent that management, on the average, has come a long way in its recognition that "labor relations are human relations"—as one executive puts it—and, by the same token, so are management-union relations.

Why, then, do unions look so fearfully upon any proposal to restrict in any way their freedom of action? Partly because some of the "treat-em-rough, tell-em-nothing" school of management are still around.

Says the featured editorial in a recent issue of a trade journal which purports to serve a great industry:

We ought to do away with all the labor legislation passed in the last 20 years. We ought to go back to the 54-hour week . . . We ought to give up the National Labor Relations Board. . . . If the men on the railroads don't want to work for wages and under the current conditions, let them get out. . . . If those men do go out on strike, let the management hire some more men. . . . It is a simple matter, that is all there is to it.

We quote this artlessly uninhibited throwback to the thinking of a bygone age, not because we think it is typical, but because it may help toward the understanding of what makes the labor movement tick.

LETTERBOX

WRITE UP ISLANDS

Editor, Daily News:

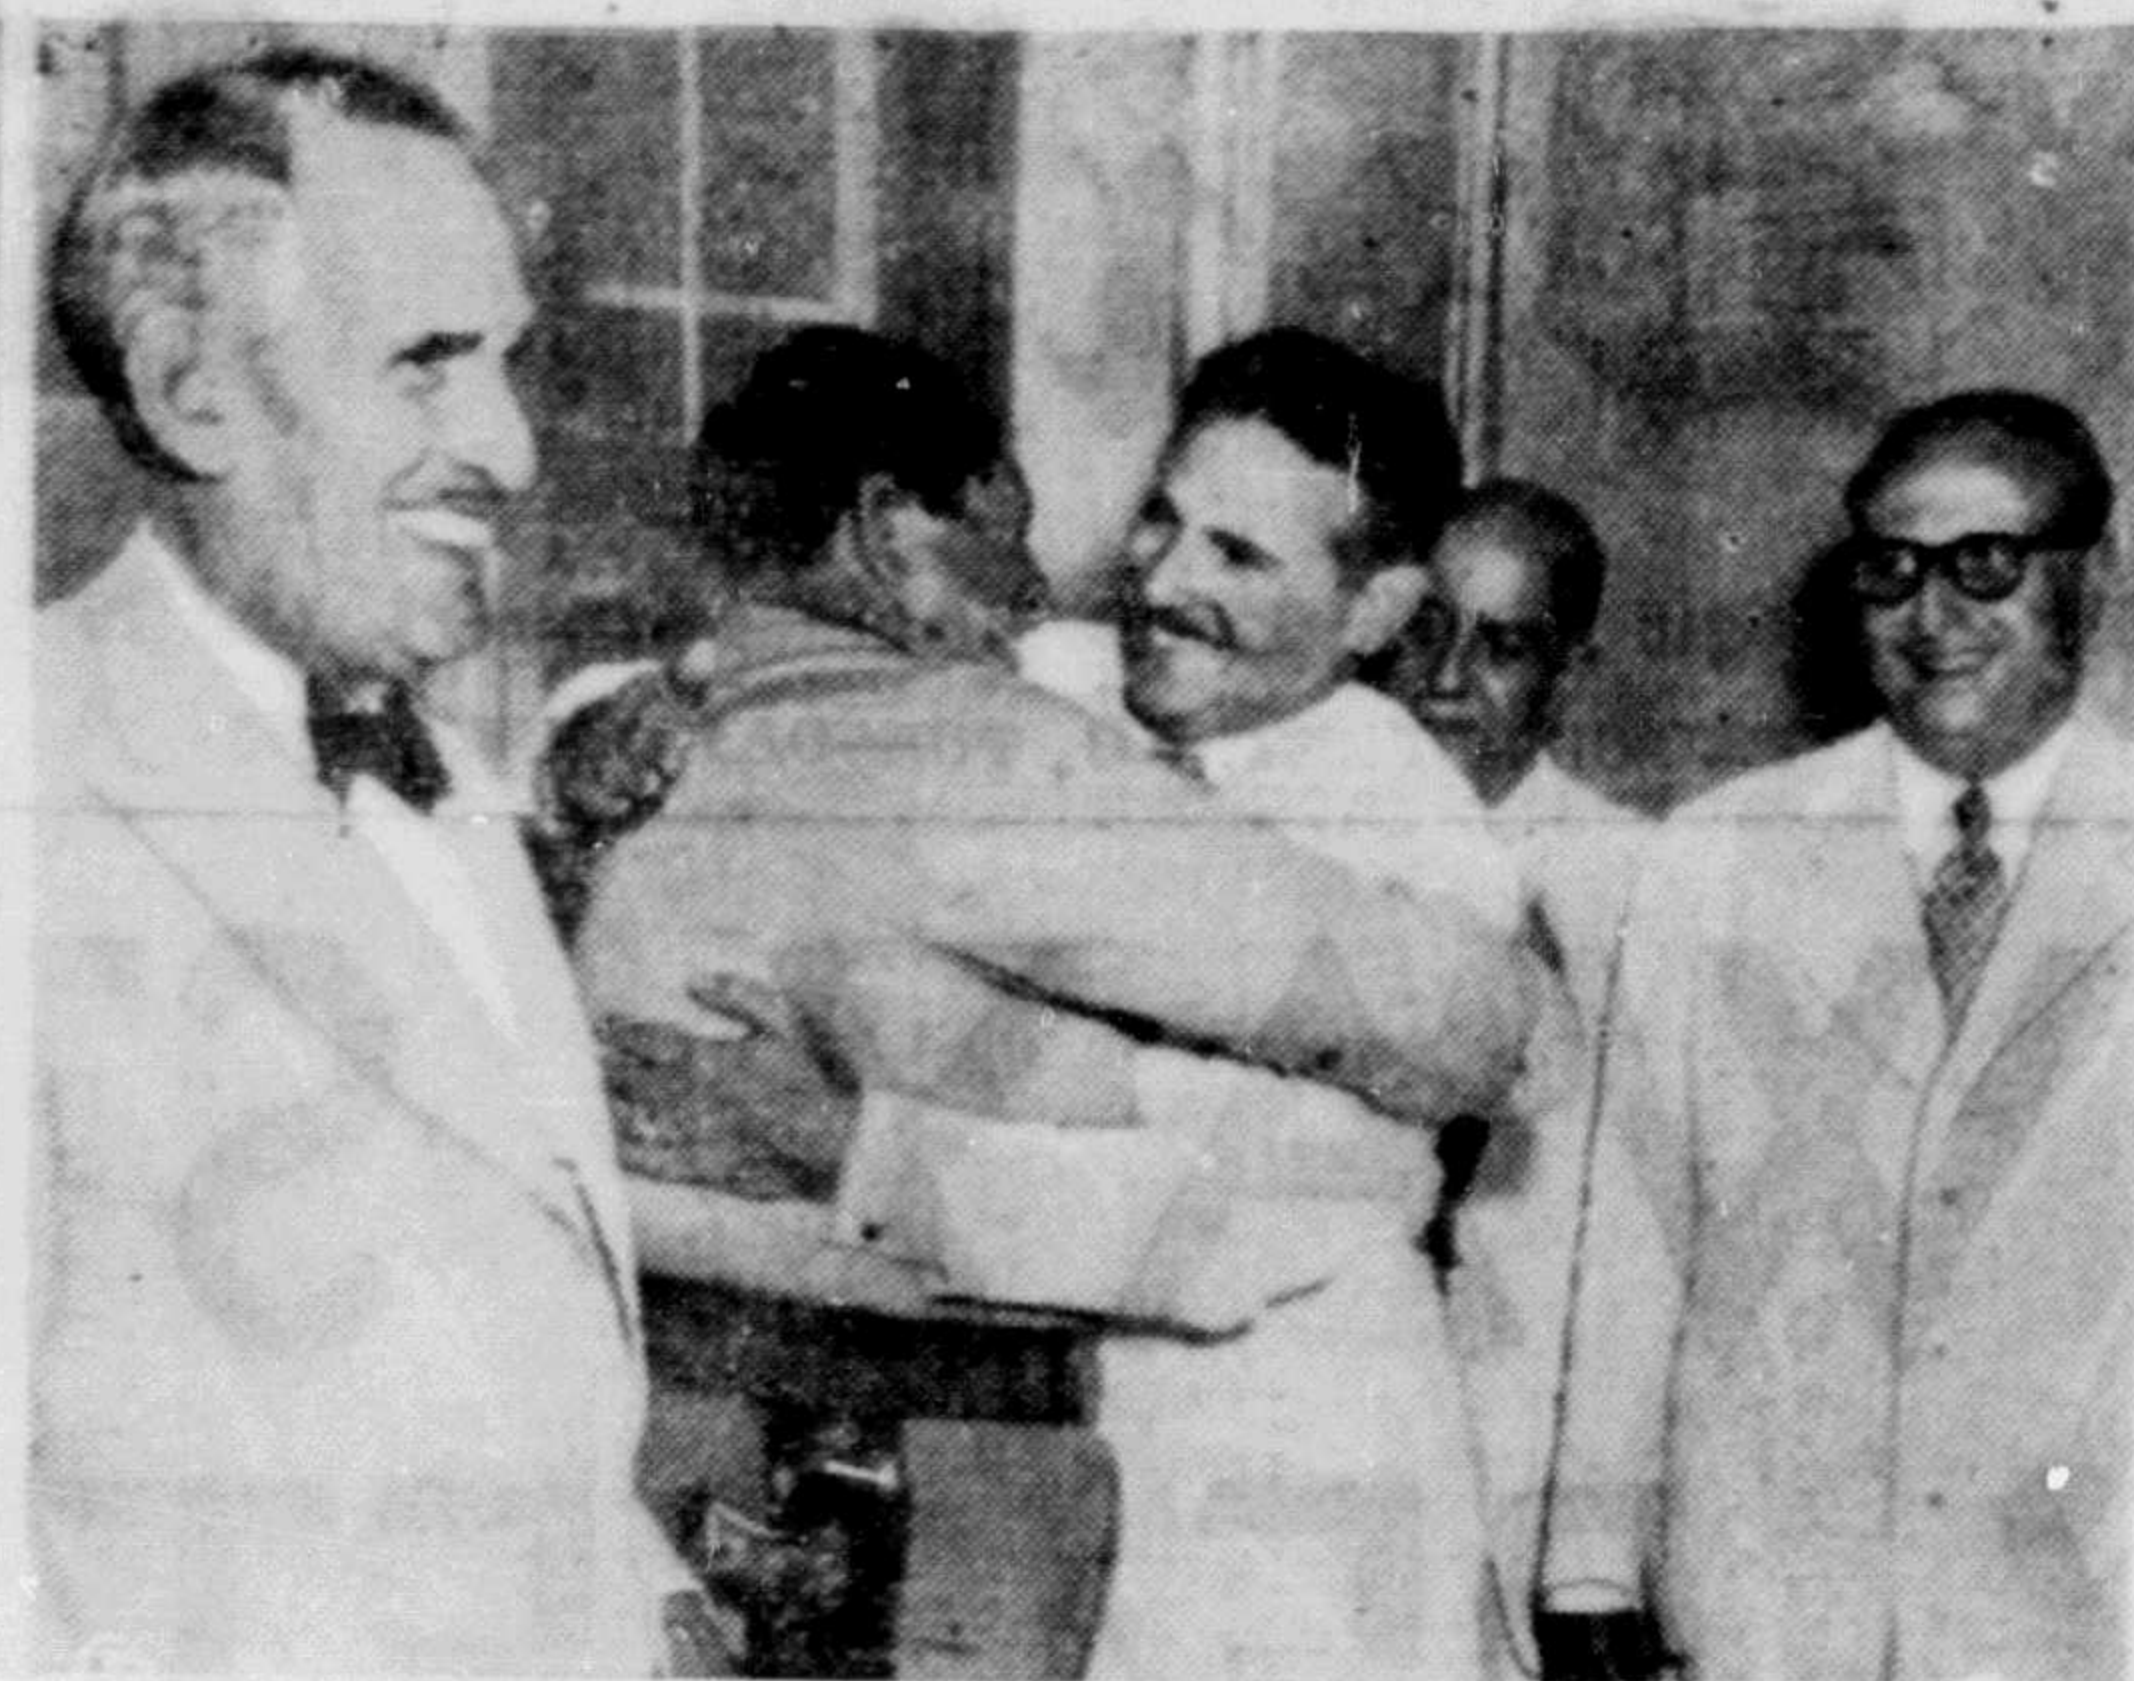

I am wondering why you don't steer some of the eastern writers that show up there occasionally over this way for a "look see." If they are good at hiking, a trip around the east coast of Graham Island might be found instructive and even enjoyable. If they prefer to ride, that might be arranged.

There is a guy with a jeep who has the Verhyden estate at Cape Fife. He delivers beef to Port Clements and Queen Charlotte occasionally via the beach of east coast. I think this party makes Massett his headquarters. Anyone coming down the coast with him could stop at my place at Cape Ball River, if they so desired, and I could take them on from there to Skidegate Inlet points. We do not have a jeep so we use horse and wagon to Belush's at Tlell, taking our pickups from there.

It is not practicable to bring an ordinary car or truck up the east coast. The lighter jeep with dual rear and four-wheel drive does negotiate the beach at 20 miles per hour. A slower rate of speed than that might orce him into shingle or soft and due to the tides.

As you possibly know, there are some very good areas that have been partially developed in the vicinity of Oeanda although they may be reverting to jungle now from neglect. At one time pretty much every "quarter" had a pre-emptor in possession. It is too bad DP's are not given an opportunity to settle up there. There is a lot of backbreaking work entailed in developing swamp land or clearing bush but there is a good chance of security in that as in casual or even permanent employment what with plenty of game and fish, productive garden plots, a friendly people cooperatively inclined.

At present one lone prospector is the only resident between Cape Ball River and Rose Spit. The Verhyden cattle are let rustle for themselves quite as much as were the original wild cattle so far as I can learn. It is suspected that some of the Tlell fishermen still kill "wild cattle" up around Cape Fife. The party that bought those cattle, so he inferred, has established himself only a sort of temporary camp on the old Sam Raybould property which he purchased for practically nothing.

A colony that want to take up dairying—butter and cheese making—could start right in up there with abundant range for quite a nice little dairy herd. Butter and cheese are articles that market readily, are not particularly bulky or heavy and require no particular speed in transport.

I have been considering trying a write-up for the Islands. I think if I took the time out for the purpose could assemble facts and pictures of interest with particular accent on agricultural possibilities but I just can't seem to find the time.

One excuse for not attempting to write is lack of local color! If I was any good at writing, I think I could find plenty to write about—imagination can build romance around very simple things and almost any fact can be dressed up to look good else there'd be no gold bricks. Ground parties will also operate in various sections of the province.

Modern Etiquette

BY ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it courteous for men to take off their hats in business elevators?

A. While this is always courteous, it most certainly is not necessary, nor is it expected. In fact, on typical crowded office building elevators, it is much better to keep the hats on to avoid added jostling of fellow passengers.

Q. Is it ever permissible to use the knife to convey any kind of food to the mouth?

A. No. The only purpose of the knife is for cutting, and then it should be done as skillfully as possible, and not used as a saw. Q. When someone compliments you on the suit or gown or hat you are wearing, what should you say?

A. "Thank you" is sufficient.

VICTORIA, B.C. — Extensive aerial surveys for mapping of British Columbia will be carried out this summer. It was announced by Hon. E. T. Keaney, minister of lands and forests. Ground parties will also operate in various sections of the province.

SEA-GOING CRUISER IS SMOOTH JOB

Fine Forty-Foot Craft Here Enroute to Skagway

She is as smooth-looking as a mermaid but there the resemblance ends. The "Judy B. II" is a creation of man's skillful designing and engineering ability. A 40-foot Matthews sea-going cruiser, this pleasure craft of Dr. G. H. Mathis from Longview, Washington, is a thing of beauty from her chrome trimmed anchor winch to the tip of her telescopic telephone mast.

Dr. and Mrs. Mathis, accompanied by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Olson, left Longview on June 21 on a cruise that they plan will take them as far north as Skagway. They arrived in Prince Rupert Sunday night after a rough trip up the coast. Wind or rain accompanied them most of the way and, before they left the United States side, they had the unhappy experience of seeing another pleasure craft blow up at sea.

The Longview party had seen the unfortunate boat go by and were gassing up the Judy B. II at Friday Harbor when the accident occurred. Another boat put out to the rescue and picked up those who had been aboard. While doctors of the island worked on three injured members of the party, Dr. Mathis, with the aid of rescuer he carries on the Judy B. II, attempted to revive the fourth member, a man who had apparently received the brunt of the explosion. However, despite Dr. Mathis' prolonged efforts, no sign of life was evidenced in the victim of the tragedy and he was pronounced dead.

Cruising speed of the Judy B. II is 15 knots and inside her pilot house, which has more windows than a glassed-in porch, there is a wide array of navigation aids including radio-telephone, a direction finder, a depth-sounder and an automatic pilot. Dr. Mathis and his party tried fishing at a couple of spots on the way north but without luck. They aren't discouraged however and are looking forward to landing some salmon when they get into Alaskan waters.

HOLIDAY SCHOOL

Forty Youngsters and Helpers at United Church
About forty youngsters and helpers turned out at the opening session of the vacation school at First United Church yesterday. The school was most popular on its first day with the beginners—who crowded into the kindergarten room of the church. This holiday school is under the direction of Miss Ina Dearing of Vancouver who arrived in Prince Rupert on Friday. Miss Dearing was on the staff of the Burnaby School Board until a year ago when she went to the University of Washington for special training in library work. She has made a hobby of children's work and was formerly superintendent of the primary department in the Sunday School of West Point Grey United Church. In previous years she has directed vacation schools at Ocean Falls, Skidegate and Prince Rupert. The vacation school program combines a period of planned summer recreation with an intensive course of Christian Education. Children are often attracted at first by the handwork and recreation part of the program but discover as the school progresses that Bible study and worship can be exciting too. Assisting Miss Dearing in the leadership of the school are Mrs. C. J. O. Olson, Mrs. Wm. Dunn, Mrs. G. E. N. McClintock, Mrs. L. A. Dakin, Miss Jean Faught, Miss Luella MacDonald, and Rev. R. A. Wilson.

DIDN'T I TELL YOU?
You get 50% MORE Jam or Jelly with CERTO
AND RESULTS ARE SURE!
Sounds almost unbelievable — until you know the reasons why. Certo is nothing but "fruit pectin" — the natural substance in fruit which makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell." It's extracted from fruits in which it is most plentiful for better, quicker, easier jam and jelly making.

- Short boil — That's why, when you use Certo, you don't have to "boil down" your fruit to make it set. A one-to-two-minute full, rolling boil is enough for jams... a half-minute-to-a-minute for jellies.
- Extra yield — The short Certo boil saves all the precious fruit juice which, in long boiling, goes off in steam. You get an extra yield of 50% more jam or jelly.
- Saves time, work — What a lot of time and work it saves, too! The old long-boil way you'd have to boil and stir many times as long.
- Fresh fruit flavour — colour — With Certo you use fruit at its peak of flavor and colour and not the under-ripe fruit used in long-boil recipes. The Certo boil is too short to spoil this lovely taste and colour. They stay right in your jam or jelly.
- No failures — You'll have no failures if you follow exactly the recipes provided with Certo. Different fruits need different handling, so there's a separate tested recipe for each one.

C.N.R.A. WINS

C.N.R.A. 17, High School 11
The High School football team lost its immediate opportunity to climb to the top of the league standings on the basis of playing off postponed games last night when it dropped by a score of 17 to 11 before the C.N.R.A. squad at Gyro Park.

High School currently is featuring in four straight games. Had they won last night's encounter, it would have placed them in a tie position with the league-leading 99 Taxi team with four wins to only one loss.

In the first of the four postponed games, the students started off commendably, defeating General Motors 9-3 on June 28. They held high hopes of repeating the same treatment with C.N.R.A. last night but the plan did not work out. Last night's game was one which had been postponed from June 5. Wednesday night, the students will meet Co-op, in a game originally scheduled for June 19 and on Saturday night they will clean up a fixture scheduled for June 26 against Gordon and Anderson, the league underdogs.

If they win the next two games, they will advance themselves to second place in the league with three wins and two losses for a percentage of .600. That, however, is not an exclusive spot, being shared already by General Motors and C.N.R.A.

Two runs in the first inning, one off a double by Cembella, and one off a single by Jensen, gave C.N.R.A. the initial lead which was not threatened until the seventh inning when High School made their second rally to tie the score at 11-11.

High School did not get its first run until the fourth inning when Shier doubled and was brought home on a hit by Olsen. They built their score to six runs in the sixth, however, by bringing in five runs, four of them off Lloyd Lahti, C.N.R.A. starting pitcher and one off Wesch who went to the rubber with one man down.

Wesch got similar treatment in the seventh from the students, who brought in another five runs in that inning to tie the score at 11-11.

C.N.R.A. broke the tie in the eighth by scoring three runs and continued in the ninth to pile on another three to bring their final total to 17.

Olsen, who pitched nine innings for the students, faced 45 batters, striking out 12, allowing 11 hits, 12 bases on balls for 17 runs.

Lloyd Lahti, C.N.R.A. starter, pitched five and one-third innings, striking out 12, allowing six hits and one base on balls. Wesch, who relieved him, struck out two, allowed four hits and three bases on balls, in one and one-third innings. Lorne Vanetta who took over from Wesch in the seventh, struck out two allowed four hits and no walks in two and one-third innings.

AWFUL THOUGHT

Had Joe Walcott Instead of Joe Louis Won

By Alan Randall
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Q. — "It would have been even worse."
The words are those of Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson and are repeated here because across Canada a lot of Canadians interested in the heavyweight boxing championship of the world must have thought along Fergie's line—what if Jersey Joe Walcott had won from Joe Louis?

Fergie calls it a "horrible thought" and bases his premise in his view of the motion pictures of Louis and Walcott.

"Things are bad enough as they are, what with the stout shadow of what was once a great fighter, Joe Louis, retiring from action and leaving the championship vacant, with not a single fighter, nor even a single angle prospect, in sight to fittingly wear the crown," says Fergie. "But if Walcott, a fighter said to be approaching his 40's had won the title, it would have been even worse," he added. "Walcott is by no means a great fighter. He danced. He sidestepped and he turned away and he made the crowd laugh."

"He clowned a bit, which may be funny, with a world title at stake, depending on what you think is funny."

"But he didn't look like a champion, not even when his right-hand over-arm swing sent Louis to the floor."

"Louis was up at once and he looked more the champion even then, as he treated his foeman with cool disdain, prevented him from trying to capitalize on the advantage he had gained."

Ketchikan Takes Two Games

Ketchikan 5, Prince Rupert 4
Ketchikan 8, Prince Rupert 2

Ketchikan All-Stars won the final two games of the six-game international baseball series at the Alaska city on Monday when they defeated Prince Rupert All-Stars 5-4 and 8-2 in a double header.

The wins were Ketchikan's first in the series, first half of which was played at Prince Rupert on June 30 and July 1. In the Prince Rupert series, the local All-Stars won two games and tied one.

The first game at Ketchikan Sunday evening resulted in a 12-1 victory for Prince Rupert.

In the second game of the Ketchikan half of the series, played yesterday morning, Ketchikan clinched its winning run in the last of the seventh off an overthrow at Prince Rupert's third base during an attempted double play.

The early part of the game saw Ketchikan build up a 4-1 lead, which was tied in the seventh when Prince Rupert scored three runs. Feature of this rally was a smashing double by Prince Rupert's first baseman Joe Davis.

Pitchers for Prince Rupert were Dick Letourneau, George Eluik and Alex Bill.

The second game was a definite Ketchikan victory all the way. Millard, Ketchikan's heavy hitting first baseman, knocked the second home run of the series, balancing the homer which was clouted in the first game by Prince Rupert first baseman Joe Davis.

Prince Rupert pitchers in the final game were Alex Bill and Jack Sharpe.

BOAT TO DIAMOND

The double-header at Ketchikan yesterday afternoon climaxed the Fourth of July game on Sunday when the local boys, after a thirteen-hour boat trip north, walked almost directly on to the ball diamond to defeat Ketchikan by a score of 12 to 1.

In the first of the three games at the First City, Eluik was the winning pitcher, allowing only

THIS AND THAT

The George Matthew Adams Service, Inc.

"Before we were married, he said he'd climb the highest mountain, and swim the deepest ocean for me—and now I can't even get him to go to the corner store!"

A gangster rushed into a saloon shooting right and left, yelling "All you dirty skunks get outta here!" The customers fled in the hall of bullets—all except an Englishman who stood at the bar calmly finishing his drink. "Well?" snapped the gangster. "Well," replied the Englishman, "there certainly were a lot of them, weren't there?"

The pious but cranky old lady was put out because her neighbors had not invited her to their picnic. On the morning of the event, one of them called to ask her to go along. "It's too late," she snapped, "I've already prayed for rain."

"Kid's Hangout"

You can't keep youngsters out of the kitchen... so why not give them a corner all their own! A private snack-bar, located just inside the back door, featuring jumbo jars of their favourite after-school treats. Of course, this is going to invite traffic. But your good Gold Seal Congoleum rug can take any amount of coming and going! With its wear layer of heat-toughened paint and baked enamel equal in thickness to 8 coats of the best floor paint applied by hand... Gold Seal Congoleum is lastingly pretty, and it cleans up bright as new with the swish of a damp cloth. Just remember! For all-round economy that only real Gold Seal Congoleum Rugs can give... look for this seal. It carries the famous money-back guarantee of satisfaction! You'll be surprised how much quality you can buy for so little money.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

Floods have subsided but that cannot be said for the general hardup condition of the thousands of victims. There has been a generous response but that's not saying more assistance will not be welcome. When there's a dollar to spare, the Fraser Valley and the Skeena can still stand some attention.

More than a thousand school pupils of Prince Rupert have commenced the annual vacation. Arrangements are under way for construction of another and larger school building to help take care of the increasing population. Yet—and it does not seem so long ago—all the school children in town stood in the old Empire office on Rupert Road to have their pictures taken. The office was little better than a fair-sized shack and there was room enough in a corner for the youngsters.

Bicycles appear to be on the way back and not all the riders are young, supple and full of "vim and vigor." But they can travel uphill as well as down and probably the better for it. The bike is handy and comparatively inexpensive and you get the fresh air and exercise for nothing. In Prince Rupert there is more good coasting than severe climbing.

Sir Henry Thornton, visiting Prince Rupert years ago, was asked for a hotel. "And there," he said, in effect, pointing to the area from Second to McBride Street, between First Avenue and the harbor "is the site." And so, ever since then, in the distant, purple past, the matter has remained, in the language of diplomacy "sub judice."

DANCE ENJOYED

Seventy Persons Attended
Affair Saturday Night

Registered Nurses' Association was host to 70 couples at a dance in the Aero Club headquarters at Seal Cove Saturday night. Objective of the dance was to raise funds for the purchase of an outboard motor for the nurses' rowboat.

In charge of the affair was Miss Phyllis Mooney, lady superintendent of the Prince Rupert General Hospital. She was assisted by Mrs. O. L. Murray, Mrs. Norman McKay and Miss Olga Sather.

The guests danced to music by Andy McNaughton at the piano and enjoyed luncheon served by a caterer. Armine Boas was in charge at the door. Winner of a china breakfast set which was raffled was Mrs. Jessie Webster with ticket number 442.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

SUMMER ATTENTION—Aside from some replanting, about the only summer care the garden should need now is thinning, weeding and cultivation. If the soil is very dry it is advisable to water. One good soaking is worth a dozen sprinkles. Sprinkling only settles the dust and has a tendency to bring root growth too close to the surface where the sun is liable to hurt it. A little chemical fertilizer applied carefully according to directions is also a good thing at this time. It will hurry along growth and with vegetables will increase tenderness.

When the hot weather sets in it is as well to cut lawn grass less frequently and not as short. This protects roots from the burning sun. Durine warm weather is the best time to apply 2-4-D weed killers. This attacks broad-leaved weeds but leaves grass undamaged.

Beans, lettuce, carrots and beets can be planted at intervals right up to mid-July with still good prospects of a crop. Where fall climate is mild and moist peas can be sown for an autumn crop in late July.

TALL ONES NEED SUPPORT—For tall plants or those pruned to grow tall, staking is advisable. Perennials like delphiniums and hollyhocks are quite liable to break over in a high wind or during a heavy rain. Stakes about an inch thick and wide, and as tall as necessary, will hold these flowers and also tomatoes. They need not be conspicuous if driven in behind the plants and they can always be stained brown or green. Plants should be tied to them loosely with soft twine or raffia. For bushy things like peonies, hoops of wire or wood placed in position before blooming will prove very satisfactory.

RIGHT EQUIPMENT HELPS—Good, sharp tools will save a lot of hard work. A dull spade or hoe never do the work efficiently. A few of the special tools, too, will prove helpful—things like Dutch hoes, hand cultivators and long-handled spudders to get out weeds. Under the general heading of labor-savers will be weed-killers like the new 2-4-D and some of the DDT insect sprays or dusts. These do the job with little effort.

Its tonic, stimulants, invigorators, iron, vitamin B, calcium, march blood, improve appetite and digestion so food gives you more strength and nourishment, put flesh on bare bones. Don't fear getting fat. Stop when you've gained 5, 10, 15 or 20 lbs. you need for normal weight. Costs little. New "get acquainted" size only. Try famous "Get New Pep, Vim, Vigor" Tablets for new vigor and added pounds, this very day. At all drug stores.

SYDNEY'S OWN B.O. PLENTY—Jack Mortimer, 32, Potts Point, near Sydney, Australia, who previously called himself the "Foolish Fiddler," has formed a band called "B. O. Plenty's Hillbillies" which has made its first appearance in the Australian capital. Jack considers himself the world's most exclusive "B. O. Plenty." "I must be—I live at Potts Point and I never take anything but Turkish baths," he said. "I always knew I must be the double of some famous character, but I didn't know who, until a couple of months ago. I was reading B.O.'s adventures in the paper when it suddenly came to me. I rushed to the mirror, and sure enough, there was a real flesh-and-blood Plenty staring me in the face." But Jack doesn't believe in carrying the B.O. Plenty resemblance too far. Sometimes he has doubts if he really qualifies for the part because: He takes a Turkish bath at every opportunity. He is a change-socks-daily man, and—under the false whiskers he is clean-shaven.

ACTRESS SUICIDE

Body of Carol Landis Found Under Tragic Circumstances

LOS ANGELES—Carol Landis, noted screen actress, was found dead by her maid in her home here yesterday. The 29-year Miss Landis had definitely committed suicide. Beside the body were found a bottle of sleeping tablets and a note to her mother. She had been a sufferer from malaria since making a trip overseas during the war with an entertainment party.

'Capitalistic Propaganda'

Mr. *A is a capitalist. He is married, has three children, a six room house and a car. His business is manufacturing and the company employs twenty people . . . seven girls and thirteen men—union men. The company buys raw materials and converts to a product that has ready acceptance on the market.

That's the situation today.

In 1933 Mr. A had three children, a mortgage on a four room house and no car. He was in the same business. It was grim. He employed two men—non-union.

Mr. A would not have been called a capitalist in 1933. The fact was he needed capital to get rolling for he had developed a good product. In 1934 he borrowed enough of other people's savings (capital) to expand.

Today, fourteen years later, his business is sound and twenty employees depend on it for their livelihood and security. Yes, Mr. A is a capitalist now. He's just risked $7,000 of his own savings in another undertaking which he, along with about 900 other enterprising citizens, thinks has a good chance of success. If this venture works out well, Mr. A will have helped create 200 brand new jobs.

For the record, 95 per cent of all businesses started as small enterprises.

EVERYTHING HASN'T RAISED IN PRICE . . .

It may surprise many but 1847 Rogers and Community Silver flatware is the same price as before the war.

And as the tax is now off it should be doubly attractive.

Bulger's always sell standard goods at Canadian advertised prices even though express charges are more than those of places nearer to the factories.

For instance a Big Ben clock or set of silver flatware for the same price as in Ontario where it is made.

A large part of our stock is made up of standard advertised goods and we try to keep the balance in line with the prices of other cities. And we guarantee the satisfaction of our goods.

Something from Bulger's is always something worth having.
