The 21-gun salute was approved by the King in recognition of the Governor General as his personal representative.

The British Election

SECRECY AND PROMPT RESULT are two outstanding characteristics of the elections in the United Kingdom. Voting will go on generally until 9 o'clock in the evening tomorrow and the first results will be announced within two or three hours of closing the poll.

However, many results are not to be expected until the next day. But political observers hope to be able to judge the complexion of the new Government by midnight or thereabouts. For its final hours, at any rate, and for hours immediately after its close, the British general election takes on the character of a sporting contest.

In the public places in several constituencies people will have been waiting for the result of the election. Candidates, winners and losers alike, go there to speak—usually from the balconies of local town halls. There the winner is declared to the people. The candidate he has defeated will make congratulatory speeches in the best sporting tradition.

They did not always order these things so well. Political manners have improved greatly over the last century, but in the 18th and early 19th centuries there was a good deal of violence.

One of the most sober historians of the great election of 1931, when the Reform Bill was the issue, records that a false notice was put about that the police would not protect the houses of those who did not put lights in their windows. Anti-reformers refused to illuminate—among them the Duke of Wellington. His house was attacked and his windows were broken. In Scotland one candidate was assailed and pelted in church; another was hunted by the angry populace, hid in a house under a heap of bedclothes and finally made his way in some peril to a steamer where he found several of his supporters in similar disarray. The polling went on for 14 days, accompanied by bribery, drunkenness and every kind of excess.

This is ancient history—part of the political folklore of Britain. Tomorrow's general election will be conducted with some pale 20th century reflection of the old enthusiasm and under eyes jealous to see observed the very letter of the strict modern law of elections. And the voice of the people will prevail.

OUR MEMBERS SPEAK

WITH TED APPLEWHAITE at Ottawa and Jack McRae at Victoria, Skeena and Prince Rupert had their day in the Throne Speech debates and our members, judging from press dispatches, made the most of it.

Applewhaite is now in his second session and, having been by no means unheard from at the first and to the manor born anyway, he is becoming somewhat seasoned as a Parliamentarian in spite of the fact he has not been there so very long. Armed with knowledge and fortified by research, his facility in presenting a case and making it convincing is well known.

For McRae it was a maiden appearance. He had, apparently, marshalled considerable facts. Further he gave some forthright opinions and, all in all, appears to have made a good impression for himself.

On one thing the provincial member was definite enough—the immediate need for good and permanent roads including from Prince Rupert to Port Edward. He emphasized this would have to be provided inside of a year's time if Prince Rupert is to maintain its position as point of residence for the workers at the new celanese mill. He also said that the time had now come where industry and attendant traffic demanded a well built and maintained all-year highway from Prince Rupert to Terrace. The Daily News is glad that Mr. McRae was positive about these needs which we ourselves have been advocating persistently against an argument that traffic did not justify the latter.

Mr. Applewhaite, at Ottawa, also touched upon the desirability of government assistance to aid in speeding up the inevitable development of this part of the country along industrial lines.

We are glad to see that both our members are convinced of the wisdom of a policy of at least going half way to encourage and prepare for industry instead of waiting until it offers and then being unable to handle it.

Ray Reflects . . .

. . . and Reminisces

Parliament in Ottawa and Victoria, Monday heard about Prince Rupert and Skeena. Members for both ridings fired good, resounding shots in the form of timely, informative and comprehensive speeches. They will appear in Hansard and in the press. It's all first-rate publicity. Prince Rupert and Skeena cannot receive too much, for its astonishing how few, back east have ever been out west, and the scant number down south who have ever been in the north long and far enough to know this great region.

Zero weather has gone, power has returned, there's all kinds of water, there are fewer letters to the press, and hardly any groups on street corners talking short-ages. What's come over the city, anyway? Or is this what is called being back to normal?

Texas fliers from the B-36 who hungry, soaked and exhausted, were rescued down the coast, may be up this way again in years to come. But, it will be as tourists, the weather will be warm and sunny, they will be sitting in comfortable deck chairs, and to casual fellow travellers what a story of adventure there will be to spin as the steamer nears Princess Royal Island.

The average Canadian, in 1948, spent $18 on armed service. The average American spent $74. But on cost of government, the Canadian spent $70 and now both are feeling cold weather and sham warfare away up on the Alaska-Yukon border. There's nothing sham about the frost.

Nearly every province has its chief city. But not one has it in such an overpowering sense as British Columbia. In Prince Edward Island, there's Charlottetown; in Newfoundland, St. John's; in Nova Scotia, Halifax; in New Brunswick, St. John; in Quebec, Montreal; in Ontario, Toronto; in Manitoba, Winnipeg; in Saskatchewan, a toss up between Regina and Saskatoon; in Alberta, choose Calgary or Edmonton, and in British Columbia—Vancouver you bet. In other provinces, are other centres, but not here—where the main stem is practically half a million, and the next largest town the size of Victoria. Too much of a crowd in one corner, and more on the way.

It is planned to connect Squamish with Vancouver by rail and already disputes as to routes and costs multiply. The further the P. G. E. extends from Vancouver, the better for B. C. The line should be in Prince George and in touch with the north, before long! Then the P. G. E. should begin to see daylight.

Newspapers will cost more in Victoria. There won't be much change, in particular. There will be just as many—perhaps more—sold on the streets. Readers will borrow a neighbor's. Somebody will be sure to remark there was nothing in it anyway. Also, it was the fault, not of the speaker, but the pesky reporters didn't get it right.

Catholic Play Much Enjoyed

Excellent acting abilities of the cast, good direction and favorable stage setting blended satisfactorily in a three act farce, "Professors Preferred" staged Monday and Tuesday in the Catholic Hall by the Catholic Youth Organization Dramatic Society. Over 100 people attended each night and were thoroughly satisfied with the production.

The cast put on a hilarious show. No dull scenes were encountered by the audience. Even during intermission, the audience was entertained. Between the first and second acts, two young Dutch girls, Maria and Francisca Vermeer, rendered duets accompanying themselves on guitar and banjo. The clear tenor voice of Father O. P. Mohan.

CANVASSING FOR VOTES—A candidate for East Walthamstow, British Prime Minister Clement Attlee is shown canvassing his constituency in preparation for the general elections tomorrow. He is chatting with one of the voters, Mrs. E. Rich, to whom the premier has given a poster photograph to put in her window. Mr. Attlee is closing his campaign with personal calls in Walthamstow today.

young Irish priest and a new arrival in Canada, was also heard. Father Mohan also acted as master of ceremonies.

The farce, the setting of the same in each act was a living room of the Berkshire boarding house, situated in the western United States, involved a French professor, Denis Garon; a nimble fingered crook, Reginald Lavigne and a landlady, Amelia Berkshire, played by Miss Lepine. The first act performance by Miss Marie Lavigne as Patricia, niece of the landlady, commenced the humorous chain of events which increased with the arrival of three boarders, Tom, Dick and Harry, ably performed by Melvin Murphy, John Mac-Dougall and Gordon Sharun respectively before a telephone operator, Miss M. Dorion, and Jane, a stenographer, Miss M. Ross; also figured very prominently in the production.

With witty pantomime actions, Reginald Lavigne, as the crook, was outstanding. In a preceding scene Mr. Lavigne, with his sister Marie, kept the audience in merriment. The cast presented a fine performance and the most humorous scenes, were those enacted by Miss Lavigne, her brother, and Gordon Sharun. The landlady was very good as her part called for high strung and nervous portrayal. The professor, although uttering only a few words of French, was comical.

The play was directed by Father Mohan and following the final act, he gave praise to Melvin Murphy in assisting setting of the stage. Father Mohan's solo following the second act was an old Irish melody entitled "Sean O' Dulbir An Gleanna".

Of Mouse—and Men

Fire Chief Rescues Pussy From Flour Bin

A cat, a mouse and empty flour bin were involved in the life of Fire Chief Earl Becker Monday morning. Receiving a call from a housewife who said nervously her cat was going to starve to death, the Chief hastened to the origin of the telephone conversation. Arriving on the scene, he was informed by the housewife that her pet cat was put in the flour bin, which pulled out in an arc formation, to catch a mouse. Tabby, apparently, did not favor his white, dusty surroundings, so he made a hasty exit to the rear of the cupboard, close against the wall. By the time the cat was rescued, the Fire Chief ran across more mice than probably the cat could handle. It all ended happily with the cat rescued and mouse and mice still alive. Mr. Becker later stated his intention of perusing through "Of Mice and Men."

PEDDLERS AND DOGS NUISANCE

TERRACE—Before the close of the Ratepayers' meeting called by the village commissioner last Wednesday evening, the matter of salesmen coming into the town and selling their goods to residents without first procuring a local license was brought up.

There were also one or two cases of local business men not procuring the necessary license and the unlicensed dogs roaming the town came up for much caustic comments. These matters were aired for action which no doubt will be taken before very long.

The oil fields of southwestern Ontario, among the continent's oldest, were first developed during the 1850's.

Basketball—High School Takes Runner-Up Spot In Senior League

Merchants Assume Leadership in Intermediate—High School Girls Eliminated

Brownwoods lost their second place Senior Basketball League standing to Bo-Me-Hi last night in a fast-moving fixture at the Civic Centre Gym. High School grabbed the lead, scoring the first basket on a free throw and from there in they were never headed. They ended the first quarter with an 11 to 5 lead, moved into the second half with the score doubled at 22 to 11 and finally won by a clear-cut 45 to 34 margin.

Ray Spring, for the students, came through with one of his biggest scores of the season to garner a smart 25 points. This places him in top spot for league honors with a total of 215, four more than Ted Arney, who was idle last game.

High School made 15 big points on free throws, getting 15 of 22 possible. Brownwoods were not as good in this department, converting only 10 of 20. Bill Sunberg put on a brilliant display of foul shooting in the last quarter, making 5 for 5, everyone a swish shot that didn't even rim the basket. Glen Carlson, for Bo-Me-Hi, left the game on fouls in the last quarter. High School making 16 penalties in all. Brownwoods made 20 penalties and the school team capitalized on their opportunity to score the resulting free throws.

The game was fast but ragged, as both teams were too eager. Of course a win is mighty important at this stage of the game and Bo-Me-Hi's gave them second place which had been held by Brownwoods until last night. Tomorrow night the same teams meet again and the fans are assured of an exciting game.

Line-ups
Brownwoods—Lavigne 4, Shier 3, Pierce 10, Gurvich, Bill 2, Owens 2, Thompson 6, Sunberg 7. Total 34.
Bo-Me-Hi—Carlson 6, Spring 25, Webster 5, Scherk 3, Ratchford 3, BH 2, Kristianson, McChesney 1. Total 45.

Intermediate
Merchants moved into first place in the Intermediate League last night by virtue of their smart 42 to 29 victory over Fashion. This is the first time during the current season that Merchants have headed the league and they do so now on their percentage of victories over losses. They have 12 wins and five losses in comparison with Fashion who have 12 wins and six losses. Joe Walsh, for Merchants, played a bang-up game setting up play after play for his team and aiding team-mates Marshall and Currie who scored 14 and 10 respectively. Bob Gill was Fashion's bulwark all evening and was their mainstay on both defense and offense. He scored nine points and Barry Hill again topped the Fashion score with 11. The game was clean only nine personals on the losers and eight on the winners. Both teams were weak on foul shooting.

Line-ups:
Fashion—Gill 8, Internela, Hill 11, Watson, E. Morrison 1, Brew, Lien, R. Tall, 6, Hougan 8. Total 29.

Merchants—Dumas 6, Marshall 14, Currie 10, Davidson 4, Walsh 4, Christoff, Anderson, Boulter 4. Total 42.

Ladies' League
Dom's took a 36 to 17 victory over High School to play-off position in the Ladies' League. High School lost the game and their final chance in the pennant race. Dom's were never headed after the first period when they out-scored High School 10 to 5. In the second period they increased their lead to 19-9 and in the third 29 to 10. High school made a strong bid in the final quarter to out-score Dom's 7-4, but it was too late. Both Irene Kildal and Nina Youngman were outstanding for Dom's each getting 12 points. Doreen Paul for the winners played a sterling game, picking off rebounds at both ends to give her teammates plenty of assistance.

Line-ups:
High School—Webster 4, Pavich 5, Matson 4, Keays, Lykegard 2, Marshall, Pearson, Greenwood 2, L. Erikson, E. Sedgwick. Total 17.
Dom's—B. Hamilton 4, Kildal 12, Currie 3, Paul 2, L. Youngman, Williamson, N. Youngman 12, Shier. Total 33.

Junior
Sea Cadets won their fourth game of the season to take the luckless Stone's in a 42 to 21 victory. Welsford Drake, with 15, and Bill Toderas with 11, accounted for more than enough points to win over Stone's. Julian Parnell was high for Stone's with eight points. The game was rough for a Junior fixture and referees Large and Carlson called 16 personals on Sea Cadets and 24 on Stone's. The foul shooting was very poor. Cadets getting 10 of 28 possible and Stone's only five of 20.

Line-ups:
Sea Cadets—Black 4, Drake 16, Toderas 11, Davidson 2, Leighton, J. 1, Mathews 2, D. Leighton 2, Wing, Ford 4, Christensen. Total 42.
Stone's—J. Parnell 8, G. Marshall 4, P. Parnell 3, Adkins 1, Snakey 3, Jefferys 2, Stewart, Antone. Total 21.

Between the BASKETS

Postponed games scheduled for this Thursday are Kinsmen vs. Stones in the Junior League, Rupert Hotel vs. Boy Scouts in the same league. North Star versus Merchants in the Intermediate division and Brownwoods vs. Bo-Me-Hi in the Senior game. Brownwoods need a win over Bo-Me-Hi to keep in the running for second place honors and a chance in the playoffs, so tomorrow night's game is sure to be a crowd-pleaser.

Here are the league standings in all divisions:

Terrace Ups Water Rates

Fifty Percent Increase—Lines to be Renovated

TERRACE—A fifty percent increase in all water rates was approved at a ratepayers' meeting in the I.O.O.F. Hall. Called by the village commissioners to discuss the water rates and the reason for further expenditure of money on the present system, the meeting was well attended with Commissioners Haugland, Little and Kirkaldy on the platform. C. W. Michiel was chairman.

It was disclosed that the present water system has not proved to be as satisfactory as was expected when the village borrowed $70,000 two years ago for its installation. Second-hand wood stave piping had been purchased and this had been the cause of all the trouble. $61,000 had been the actual expenditure on the system while the cost of the upkeep and repairs came out of the general fund. The system is not self supporting as the present rates stand.

A suggestion was made that all dwellings on a water line be assessed the usual rates whether the water is piped into the homes or not. In some cases, it was disclosed, residents have refused to have the water installed and instead are having the service freed from neighbors who are paying the regular rates.

The total cost of maintenance and repairs last year amounted to $7,077. With 195 users in the village and 36 outside the village the total income for last year was $5,916. There is a deficit of $1161.95 of which $507 are arrears and there is still $300 to be collected from the infirmaries. As it stands, the system is not even meeting operating expenses and the service is now so large that a maintenance man must be employed on a full-time basis.

According to the present bylaw will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elkins arrived in Terrace on Tuesday morning's train from Vancouver where they have been on a honeymoon trip following their recent marriage in Prince Rupert.

Rev. J. B. Gibson, Bishop of Caledonia was here last Thursday. He will be returning to officiate at the funeral of St. Matthew's Church on Sunday morning, March 5.

Afternoon was of Mrs. C. L. M. Women's Auxiliary of the Church of Newhouse, who from a wedding table. the rates are: $2 for residents within the village and $2.50 for those outside; $1.50 for an office; $3 B. C. Power Commission; $3.50 restaurant; $5 for hotels and the hospital and $10 for the school.

After much discussion where questions were asked and answered, two separate committees composed of two men in the village and one outside, drew up the following resolutions providing for the increasing of rates and the raising of money to restore the system to a fit and proper state of repair.

Terrace Junior Red Cross Tea

TERRACE—A very successful tea and sale was held in the Orange Hall on Saturday afternoon when the high school group of the Junior Red Cross Society, branch netted $92. Led by Mrs. E. S. Laird the young people spared no effort in serving a dainty tea to patrons seated at small tables decorated with Valentine motifs. Valentine decked stalls displayed home-cooking and candy and a variety of needlework all of which was soon sold. A large cake donated by the bakery, was won by Mrs. S. W. Craig who was one-quarter ounce short of the correct weight of 5 pounds, 2 1/4 ounces.

Some of the high school boys were present to help out and these were Jimmy Procter, Roy Clifford and George Kofoid. General convenor was Flora Melvin. Others in charge were: Gloria Irving, Flora Melvin. Homecooking—Margaret Kennedy, Lorna Melvin, Norma Perry. Needlework—Clara Warner, Valerie Craig.

In the kitchen were Joyce Cote, Gloria Irving and Flora Melvin. Serviteurs were Margery Nel-

Rotarians And Gyros Het Up

Things are really getting to the fever pitch between the Gyro Giant Killers and the Rotary Giants. And the way words are flying it looks like March 2 will see one of the hardest fought if not the most superfine basketball is Rupert's history.

Bill (Drop Dead) Lambie, who has sent scouts into the enemy Rotary camp, says that the Giants are using unfair tactics. Earl (Three Alarm) Becker is reputed to be standing over six foot eleven in his fire hose and just dropping them into the basket while Jimmy (Tripple Torso) Greer picks up the ball and charges for the opposition basket.

But manager (Hot Stuff) Christie of the Rotary denies all charges and a trainer (Pistol Packin) Woods-Johnson says he will get the Gyros police protection if they are afraid. Meanwhile (Blackie the Book) Blackaby is offering 25 to 1 odds for the Gyros at his stand on Third Avenue.

Hot-bed Outside Window Warmed by Basement Heat

Most economical of hot-beds, and perhaps the most convenient, is possible for any home that has a basement window facing south. In front of this a miniature greenhouse can be constructed, where plants can be given an early start in the spring, with plenty of sunlight, plus warmth from the basement, which usually has plenty to spare.

Uses for such a hot-bed can be found the year around; and the cost of construction is small, especially if you build it yourself from the complete working drawing which accompanies this discussion. Dimensions in the drawing provide for a frame covered with two standard 3 x 6 sash; but these can easily be changed to fit any size sash you prefer to use.

Start by making an excavation in front of the window about a foot deep. Its area must be figured carefully, so that it will hold a frame filled to your sash. As in the case of other hot-beds, a plastic substitute for glass may be used if preferred.

Build a frame to fit in the excavation. The sides must slant sharply from a point above the window, almost to the ground. Fit the sash on this frame, using hinges at the top so the sash may easily be raised for ventilation. Earth may be banked around the frame to keep out the cold; and the sides should be caulked where it joins the foundation to prevent drafts.

Heat is supplied to this bed by opening the basement window. The window is left open at night, and may often be closed during the day, when the sun is shining. Hotbeds of this type have been tried and tested, and although they do not maintain temperatures as high as other kinds the heat will be more even, and the ventilation much better.

The main things to watch are temperature and drafts. Ventilation is necessary on warm days, and for very short periods on cooler days.

Scott MacLaren and James House of the Vancouver firm of Crehan and Meredith, city auditors, arrived in the city on the Prince George this morning from the south, being here on official business.

Eczema Prescription Praised

Considerable praise has been given to the results obtained with a prescription for the relief of Eczema and other skin troubles. The prescription is a clear, colorless and odorless liquid containing no oil or grease and will not stain. Application is simple. Affected parts are washed with a pure soap and warm water, the prescription Eoxoff Concentrated is then patted on with a small swab of cotton—applied night and morning. Your own druggist can supply you with this prescription, simply ask for 3 ounces of Eoxoff Concentrated and if your skin is tender, cracks, or gets dry, you should also obtain 1/2 ounce of Eoxoff Ointment. If you have not tried it, clip this out to remind you or to give to another sufferer.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHT

The B. C. School Broadcast on Thursday at 2:00 p.m. will be of great interest not only to school children but all residents of the Northwest Coast. The story centres about some of the adventures of Ven. Archdeacon W. H. Collison, who came to Metlakatla as a missionary in 1873. Capt. Lewis, skipper of the Hudson's Bay steamer "Otter," the boat which first brought the Collisons to Massett, tells the fascinating story. His report will show the progress which took place in just under a generation. This program also includes the Haida Indians, and the history of totem poles carved of black slate, native to the Queen Charlotte Islands.

CHINOOK'S COMING—This peculiar cloud formation is called a Chinook Arch and appears with those celebrated winds of southwestern Alberta which turn winter into spring in a couple of hours. This photo shows the arch with a section of downtown Calgary in the foreground. Most popular theory as to the cause of a Chinook is that air moving from the Pacific Ocean is dried and heated as it is lifted over the mountains. The arch is a cloud formation, believed built up where the moisture leaves the air. (C. P. Photo)

JOHNNY'S Jottings

"I remember my first steamer trip. The memory lingers on in my stomach. It was in Vancouver that I decided to take a trip up the northern coast as I was told of the beautiful scenery I would feast my eyes upon. The day was calm and as I walked across the gangplank the unexcelled sea air and spray brushed across my face.

The cook was sorry. He said he threw the dishwasher through the wrong porthole. On deck I was grasped by that seaman confidence and, with a stiff lower lip I peered into the horizon. Someone yelled, "Look out." Below deck, Joe, the steward, a few minutes later, explained to me that seagulls are dangerous animals in some respects and added that a dry cleaner would do a good job on my sport coat.

The time was fitting by and I decided to find out why we were not yet moving. Approaching the Captain, I professionally inquired, "What's holding us up?"

He replied, "The water. (They told me later, it was a foolish question.)"

I was becoming impatient. A seagull had threatened me, a cook didn't like me and now the Captain was getting smart. Seagoid hospitality, ha! I decided to go to my cabin and take a short nap. On awakening, I felt the boat rolling. "Ah, ha," I smiled, "at last! Walking erectly from one wall to another down the narrow corridor, I came across the purser. "How far are we out?" I asked.

"It all depends," he answered. "With the tide moving back and forth, we may be at the moment, about two feet away. Why?" I didn't answer. But we finally did pull away and were soon far from the lights of Vancouver. Poised on the top deck, I breathed in the fresh ocean air. Stars blinked across the blue expanse above me. I tried to fix our position. Once reading of methods ancient mariners employed, I felt I could ascertain our position. After two hours, at which time I busily scribbled on a piece of paper, I finally had the solution.

I stated, I approached the first mate and proudly produced my calculations.

Scanning the sheet of paper, he said, "Very good."

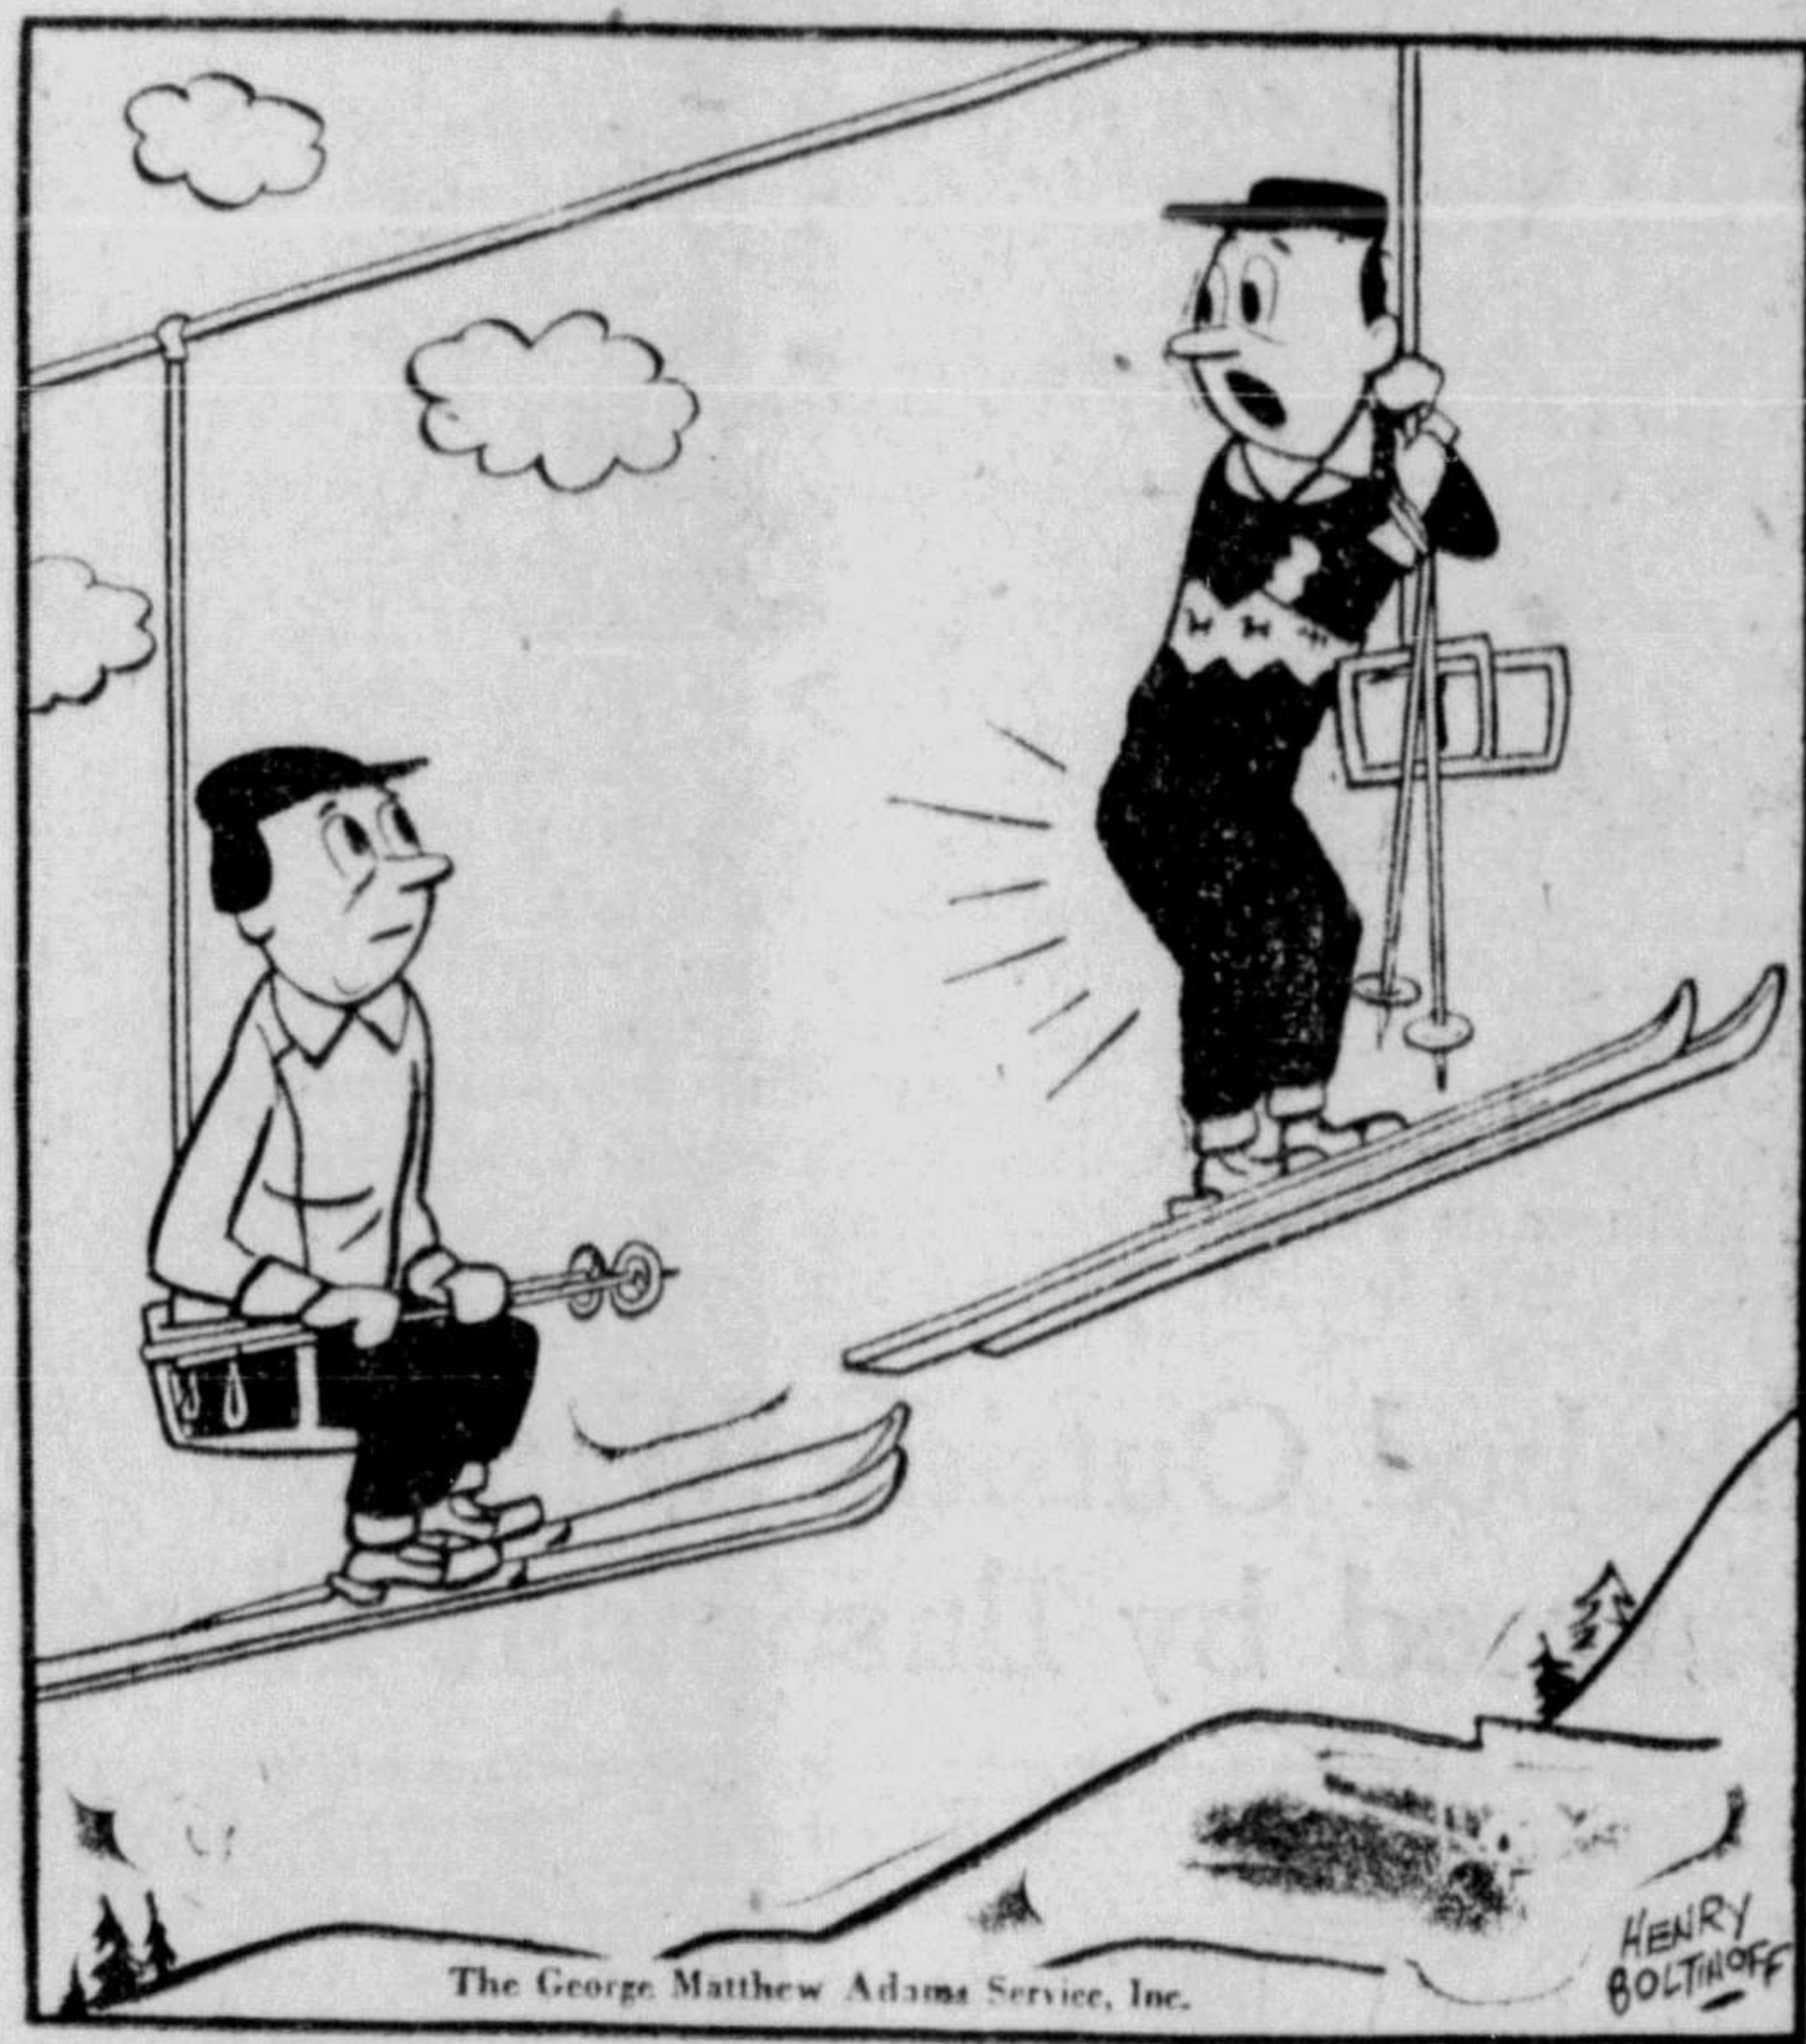

I felt good.

"Only one thing though," he added, "although minor, it should make a slight difference"

"Tell me, my good man," I asked, "what is it?"

He pushed his officer's peak cap to the back of his head and replied, "By this, we would be five miles out of Chilliwack in my uncle's bay field." A minor detail you understand—just a matter of direction.

I slept well that night. The sea was calm and the vessel quiet, except for the occasional party in every stateroom. Morning came, as it inevitably does, and I awoke, which is the natural thing. Someone said that we

"I've got to go up standing. I didn't come down quite right the last time!"

Reuben Scherk arrived in the city on the Prince George, this morning from Vancouver. Mr. Scherk was chief engineer of the fish packer Cape Perry which figured last week in the rescue of airmen from the United States Army B-36 bomber which ditched off Princess Royal Island.

Nine Month Sentence

A nine-month sentence was imposed on a Burns Lake Indian, David Leon George by Judge W. O. Fulton in Smithers Tuesday afternoon. The native, charged Friday with the breaking and entering of the Omineca Cafe at Burns Lake, was arrested shortly after discovery of the smashed cash register found outside the establishment with $50 missing. A Bruce Brown was crown prosecutor.

Eileen Cross Coming— Word has been received that Eileen Cross will give a course at the Civic Centre from April 3 to 17. She says, "I shall arrive with the usual large box filled with full complement tools and sewing equipment prepared for anything." In the afternoon it will be tailoring and in the evening Home Rejuvenation. Those who wish to make a dress, suit or coat in the afternoon course will do well to get their pattern and material ready soon. Those who wish during the evening course to make loose covers for, or upholster chairs should choose or order the material well ahead. Lamp shade covering can be bought after the course has begun and the shade measured. Paint remover, stains and varnishes for refinishing furniture Miss Cross always has with her in her large box, also the tools for mending or fixing any variety of dilapidated household equipment.

And before doing too much material buying it will be well to get in touch with the Civic Centre and have one's name put down for the course as the number who can take it at once is limited to about twenty-five.

Electrical "Hands" make work light

Electricity is the handiest worker! It does everything better, more cleanly, more quickly.

An automatic toaster, for instance, gives you toast just the way each member of the family likes it... and does it while you are busy with something else.

And an automatic iron, thermostatically controlled, makes ironing a pleasure.

The more electrical "hands" you have to do your work, the more hours of leisure for you.

If you have a birthday or anniversary coming, why not tactfully suggest something from this list:

- AUTOMATIC TOASTER
- REGULAR-TYPE IRON
- AUTOMATIC IRON
- REGULAR-TYPE IRON
- COFFEE MAKER
- FOOD MILLER
- VACUUM CLEANER
