DEFENCES STRONG AND PARLIAMENT TO RECESS

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

(CP)—British parliamentarians hope a week summer recess July 30 with the assurance that the country's defences are ready in event of emergency.

Leader Winston Churchill in the Commons last week asked the government for a statement on the military situation before the House adjourns. It may be made when international affairs are debated in both the Lords and the Commons Wednesday.

Churchill made his request after Foreign Secretary Bevin reiterated in the Commons that Britain, the United States and France intend to stand firm in Berlin despite the communications difficulties created by the Russians.

Churchill said it is "very important that the military aspect should not be out of line with diplomatic procedure."

Detailed figures of Britain's operative ships, guns and planes no longer appear in the estimates placed before Parliament. But the published program provides that manpower in the armed services will drop from 940,000 last March 31 to 616,000 on the same date in 1949. Defence expenditures during the same period will be cut from £200,000,000 ($1,000,000,000) to £692,000,000.

Britons, with a vivid memory of the Battle of Britain in 1940 when their fast fighters fought and stopped German bombers, recently were assured by Air Secretary Arthur Henderson that the jet-powered successors of the Hurricanes and Spitfires of the Second World War are "the best in the world."

He added that re-equipment of all Fighter Command Interceptor Squadrons with the latest jet types is virtually completed.

Churchill in March said he protested as "foolish" an announcement that the British Home Fleet consisted of only one cruiser and four battle destroyers. But the government program provides that next December Royal Navy ships in commission will include four battleships, three fleet carriers, five light fleet carriers, 17 cruisers, 56 destroyers and numerous smaller craft.

The defence program provides for an army regular force 200,000 strong by March, 1949, in addition to compulsory service young men and the territorial army. The objective is to have the regular army so trained and equipped that it would be able to proceed overseas at short notice.

The Territorial Army, co-operating with the civil defence organization now being revitalized, must provide the bulk of anti-aircraft and coast defences.

CONVENTION DATES SET

Price of Paper Takes Jump, Increasing Daily News Costs

The Daily News was notified yesterday of another increase in the price of newsprint. This time it is up from $95 to $99 per ton. Four years ago the price was $57 per ton.

This is only another of a series of increases along the line in the cost of newspaper production. Recently, the Daily News granted its staff a substantial cost of living bonus.

In spite of increased costs of production, the Daily News has been endeavouring to hold its own price for advertising and circulation.

Taking Case Direct to Stalin

Western Powers Going To Top

Two Police Chiefs In Berlin—Anti-Red Demonstration

LONDON, (CP)—Direct approach to Prime Minister Stalin by the three western powers to discuss a way out of the existing Berlin deadlock is believed to have been discussed in detail by French, British and American representatives today.

Purpose of the meeting was to work drafts of an initial approach to Stalin and possibly decide upon an alternative, such as separate three power notes, if Stalin says he is unable to meet the western representatives for direct talks.

A diplomatic official said today that the western powers had decided to present personally to Foreign Minister Molotov proposals for settling the crisis.

Meanwhile blocked Berlin turned up with two police chiefs today, setting the stage for a new test of strength between east and west. Chief Paul Markgraf, suspended by the anti-Communist city, continued to receive the backing of the Russians who appointed him originally. Dr. Johannes Stumm, anti-Communist deputy, was ordered dismissed by the Russians but the missed by the Russians but the and the city is run by four power.

Four persons were arrested today after a scuffle with police who broke up a demonstration of some 600 persons in the Russian sector of Berlin. The demonstration was in protest against the slowness of the currency exchange organization of the Russians.

Russ Forces Are Massing

BERLIN, (CP) — German press reports said today that the Russians are increasing substantially the number of their fighter planes, including jets, stationed in the zone around Berlin. Reports also said that large Russian summer army manoeuvres, involving 350,000 men and full transport and combat equipment, are taking place in the Russian camp.

NEWFOUNDLAND IS CONSIDERED

OTTAWA, (CP) — The Canadian cabinet met today to consider the result of Newfoundland's national referendum on Thursday last. The discussion was informal as the official returns have not yet been presented. No decision was, therefore, made on the question of whether or not to admit the island to Confederation.

Almost complete returns have given Confederation a 6000 vote majority over responsible government.

SKEENA M.P. RETURNS TO CITY NURSING CAR MISHAP INJURY

Harry Archibald Not Particularly Impressed With Work of Last Session of Parliament

Harry G. Archibald, Member of Parliament for Skeena, drove into Prince Rupert Monday night in a somewhat battered condition resulting from a high-way collision near Sudbury, Ontario, two weeks ago. With him on his return from Ottawa were his wife and small daughter neither of whom received severe injuries in the accident.

"We were held up 12 days on account of the accident," said Mr. Archibald, nodding a cloth to his nose which has been bleeding with periodic profusion ever since the collision. "Mrs. Archibald received a bruised arm, but the baby was unhurt."

Only slightly less pleasant than the accident was the session of parliament which began last November and concluded in June. Mr. Archibald intimated it was a session in which domestic problems were constantly overshadowed by the darkening world situation.

Interviewed in his apartment at No. 11, Killas and Christopher Block this morning, the Skeena member said that he looks forward to spending the next six

Utilities Committee Completes Report on Rehabilitation of City's Worn Out Telephone Service—Cost to Exceed $500,000

Recommendations by the civic utilities committee for methods of financing a $500,000 loan which it estimates as necessary to rehabilitate Prince Rupert's worn out telephone system are in the hands of the aldermen and will come up for consideration at a council meeting early in August.

The report has been turned over to the aldermen for decision on a course of action at the first council meeting when the full eight council members and the mayor are present. This probably will be a special meeting shortly after August 9. At least two of the aldermen are expected to be away at the time of the regular August 9 meeting.

Based on the fact that "the present plant has outlived its normal life expectancy and that further extension of services with existing equipment is impossible," the report recommends the floating of a loan "which may be slightly more than $530,000 and which probably will amount to nearly $556,000" for reconstruction along lines contained in a report made several months ago by Assistant Telephone Superintendent F. M. Kempton.

With present funds in the telephone trust account, the committee expresses the hope that the amount to be borrowed can be held down to $500,000.

Based on a twenty-year serial issue of bonds bearing four per cent interest, on $500,000, the average annual sum required for retirement of principal and payment of interest would be $37,169 and the highest amount would be $37,900.

With a new telephone system, it is estimated that the reduction of annual expenditures, through reduction in the number of operators, maintenance staff and material would be $18,349. With the addition of 277 new telephones, for which applications have been made, the increase in revenue would be $6,117.

"A combination of the anticipated reduction in annual ex-

ECONOMIC SANCTION

Western Germany Rail Blockade Against Russia Not Much Itself, May Have Ramifications

FRANKFURT, (CP)—British and American officials last night orally termed the rail stoppage against Russia in western Germany an "economic sanction." They said the rail commerce between the Soviet zone and western Germany "does not amount to much." However, a United States military government official said the action may have "far-reaching economic and political ramifications."

All but the international mail train are banned to travel to or from the Soviet zone. The Allies claim that Russia has failed to return 16,000 of their railway cars.

Many Demands of Congress Made By Chief Executive

Price and Wage Control, Excess Profits Tax Among Measures to Avert Depression

WASHINGTON, (CP)—President Truman today demanded of the special session of Congress, which he called, limited price control and resumption of excess profits tax to help check the rising cost of living in the United States and avert "another great depression."

Fined $10 On Driving Charge

K. F. Hill, a visitor from Seattle, was fined $10 and costs in city police court Monday on a charge of dangerous driving. The charge resulted from a mishap in which a small girl, Lillian Sylvester, received bruises when struck by a car. She was admitted to hospital but released a short time later.

Coupling a plea for power to hold wages in line with the price control recommendation, Truman said "Communists, here and abroad, are counting upon the present prosperity turning into a depression. That would cut the ground from under the free nations of Europe."

The price control program will be followed up with an administration bill later this week.

The President also asked for more and cheaper housing, restoration of consumer credit controls, regulation of inflationary bank credit, prevention of "unwarranted rent increases" and authority to limit wage increases where they would force a break in the price ceiling.

The President also asked the special session for a new displaced persons bill to provide for the admission of 400,000 refugees into the United States during the next four years.

Federal aid to education, Senate ratification of an international wheat agreement and increase in old age retirement benefits are also asked.

PARIS—Premier Andre Marie was successful last night in forming a new cabinet for France. Socialists finally agreed to give support thus ending the political crisis in the country for the time being at least. Former Premier Robert Schuman is the new foreign minister in succession to Georges Bidault.

Marie today presented the members of the new coalition cabinet to President Vincent Auriol.

The cabinet contains no Communists or DeGaullists. It is made up of members who favor the cause of the western allies. Marie's party is a moderate centrist.

The announcement of the formation of the cabinet Monday night came after more than 36 hours of negotiation with the Socialist party.

The one major change in the make-up of the cabinet is the replacement of George Bidault who represented France as foreign secretary in important international affairs since 1945.

Q. What should a girl do with her wedding gifts, when an engagement has been broken a few days before the wedding.

A. Mail each gift back to the donor with a brief note saying that the wedding is not taking place; it is not necessary to state the reason. But don't fail to express sincere appreciation for the gift, just as though nothing had happened.

Q. If you are in a crowd, and your companion is talking in such a loud voice that it is attracting attention, what should you do?

A. Lower your own voice perceptibly. If this is not effective, say, "Let's step aside where people cannot hear us."

Q. Does the hostess attempt to introduce all her guests at a dance?

A. No; she introduces each guest to whoever is receiving with her but she does not attempt any general introduction.

HIGHER RATES, TAX BOOST (Continued from Page One)

penditure and of the known increase in revenue amounts to about $25,000, and falls short by $12,159 of repaying the proposed indebtedness, disregarding entirely any profit from operation of the telephone system," the report states.

"It is, therefore, apparent," it continues, "that the only solution of the problem is an increase in existing rates.

Revision of rates to a level as proposed by the B. C. Telephone Co. which is currently trying to standardize its rate structure, would result in the following increases:

Proposed	Present
Rate	Rate
Business, main line	$5.75 $3.75
Business, party line	$4.00 $2.75
Residential main line	$3.00 $2.75
Residential party line	$2.75 $1.75

Current rates quoted are for wall telephones and varying surcharges apply on all other types of instruments. In the case of the proposed rate, the charges would be for wall or desk monophones.

The committee also has considered retaining the present gross rates but reducing the discount from $1.00 monthly to either 50 or 25 cents.

On the basis of present connected equipment, totalling about 2200 telephones, plus the 277 for which applications have been made, the net amount received annually would be:

B. C. Telephone scale: $95,451.
Present rate with 50 cent discount: $85,200.

Present gross rate with 25 cent discount: $92,256.

"Bearing in mind that our new borrowings will probably have to amount to nearly $556,000, it appears definite that the rate structure with the 50 cent discount will not suffice, and that for either of the other schemes to be workable, it will necessitate payment of the entire profits from the system into a fund for renewal and replacements as they become necessary, otherwise, at the end of twenty or twenty five years, the city will again be faced with a major rehabilitation problem.

"This will mean that three-quarters of the annual net profit from the telephone department which formerly formed part of the general revenue will no longer be treated in this way and that this loss to the general revenue will have to be offset by an increase in the mill rate.

"To make the proposed scheme possible, it will be necessary for telephone users to pay more for the service and for the rate-payer to pay additional taxes to an amount equivalent to the share of the telephone profits he had previously enjoyed," the report concluded.

Telephone profits turned over to general revenue ranged from a peak of $16,316 in 1943 down to $5,938 in 1947, the decrease being caused by rising operating costs and increased maintenance for the worn out system.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

Where's Vega, Alta.? Alberta, of course. Wrong! How come? Well, feeling generous today, we'll let you in on it. There is a place called Vega Alta, but it is located in Puerto Rico, and not in Western Canada. The difference between the two is four thousand miles.

It appears that in the town of Ames, in Iowa, a six year old Hereford bull, Prince Rupert, with no offspring to comfort his sunset years, munched nervously on a meal of corn and alfalfa awaiting results of an operation that may make history. In 1943, Governor Turner of Oklahoma paid $38,000 for Prince Rupert, the highest price known, up to then. But Prince Rupert was a royal dud. The pituitary gland at the base of his brain failed to develop normally which meant Prince Rupert could never be a daddy. At six a bull should have a herd of grandchildren. Prince Rupert is just a 1,500 pound bachelor. That may now be changed. An extra pituitary gland has been grafted into Prince Rupert's neck. It was taken from a high class animal called Letston, with a distinguished record and winner of numerous prizes. Letston never knew what had happened to him, for he was marked for early slaughter. Nevertheless, greater love hath no bull.

Tourists all seem to have the same look. Time, season or place make little difference. Whether or not it's in the saunter, stroll or easy walk, the study of show windows, the new creases, and fresh, stylish looking clothing, camera slung over shoulder, one can hardly say. Yet it is there, just the same. And welcome. And now for the job of buckling down to be one, also.

For the person with a taste for public life this is a wonderful year. Canada's old line party leaders have retired and new ones will be found. Nearly all the provinces have had by-elections. Newfoundland opinion leans slightly in the direction of Confederation with Canada. Four United States presidential candidates are groomed for the race to finish next November. And in between and all around are political busybodies of whose exact intent and purpose one is never precisely sure. But anyway, 1948 is anything but inactive politically.

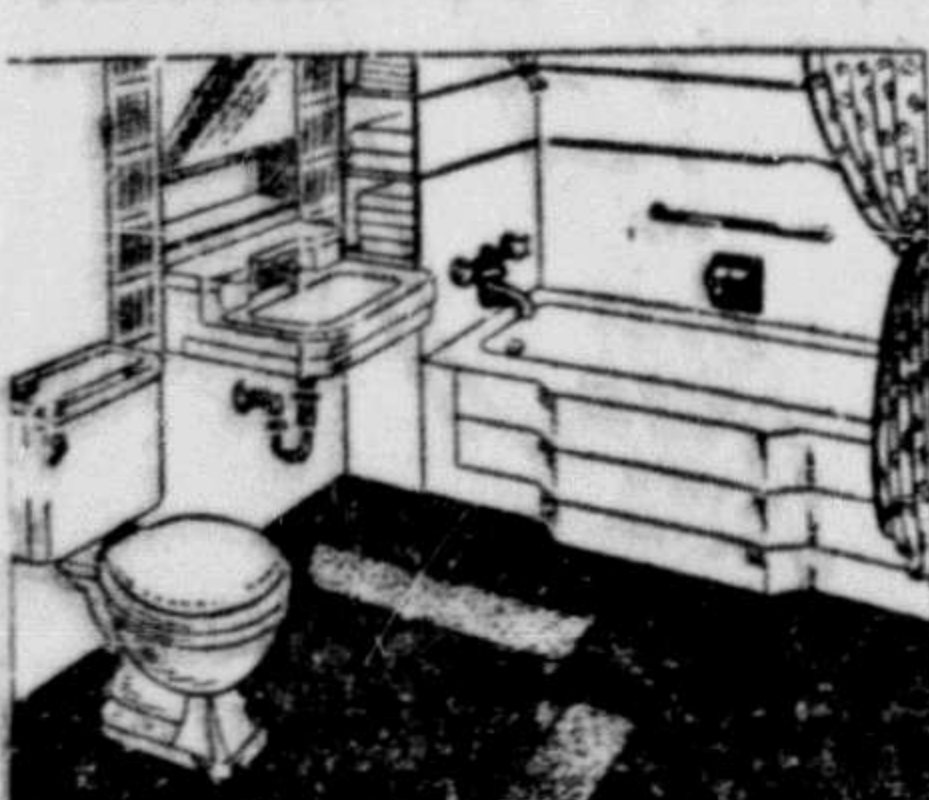

There once was a time when to emphasize distance, a paper printing a story would say "all the way from Cape Breton to Victoria," or "from Halifax to Vancouver." But no longer is the north left forlorn and neglected. It is being discovered that the extreme southwest corner of a vast land is not all there is to British Columbia. Quite frequently do you perceive lines like "from Newfoundland to Prince Rupert" or "from Prince Rupert to Sydney" or "from Prince Edward Island away out to Kaien Island, site of Prince Rupert."

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "I do not know if she heard us."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "clothes"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Courire, coterie, courageous.
4. What does the word "ephemeral" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with di that means "deeply dejected; sad?"

Answers
1. Say, "I do not know whether she heard us."
2. Pronounce kloth-yer, o as in no, the as in the, and not kloth-ier.
3. Courageous.
4. Beginning and ending in a day; hence, short-lived. (Pronounce e-fem-er-al, first and second e's as in set, third e as in her as in at, accent second syllable). "Some cynics claim that love is ephemeral."
5. Disconsolate.

Mills Beats Lesnevich

Big Upset in Heavyweight Boxing in London Monday Night

LONDON—A sensational ring upset here last night produced a new contender for the now vacant world's heavyweight boxing championship. Freddie Mills, the British champion and former carnival slugger, won the world's light heavyweight boxing championship by taking a fifteen round decision from Gus Lesnevich. Lesnevich took a merciless beating and barely survived the tenth round when he was floored twice by roundhouse lefts to the jaw, once for the count of eight and once for nine.

Forty-six thousand fans paid $280,000 to see Lesnevich fall victim although he was a 1 to 3 favorite on entering the ring. It was an outdoor fight in the White City Stadium.

Mills, a heavy-prowed clubber, landed a sucker punch on Gus' chin in the first round and the American never recovered. It was a slow fight from then on until the ninth when the referee warned them both that they would have to do better or he would disqualify them. Mills, evidently, took the advice seriously for then he opened up and Lesnevich was lucky to be able to keep going.

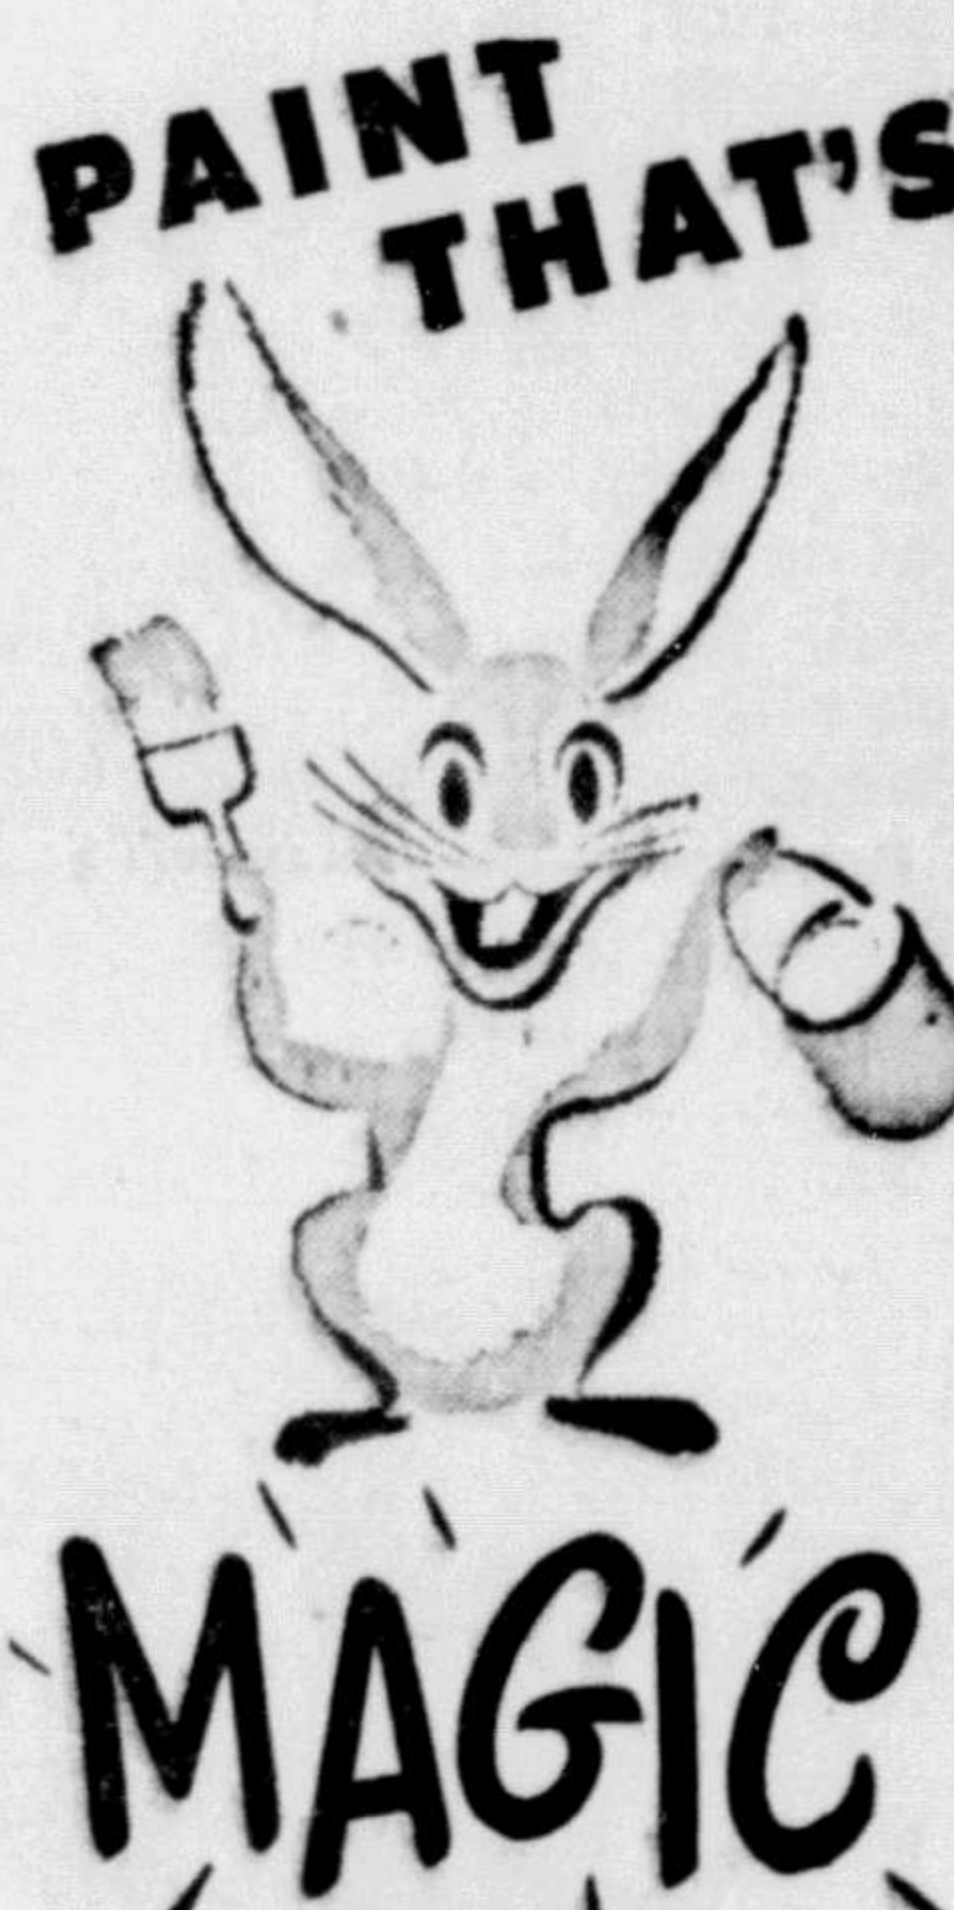

The 33-year old Gus said later: "I just didn't have it tonight." His defeat eliminated him from a possible shot at the world's heavyweight title this fall. He and Ezzard

Charles, Joe Walcott and Joe Baksi had been rated tops. In their last encounter in 1946, Lesnevich had knocked out Mills in the tenth round.

Sport Shots

Roused by threat of legislation to abolish hunting and coursing in England, the British Field Sports Society has come up fighting. The Society which claims a membership of more than 22,000, plans to put out millions of pamphlets and hundreds of thousands of posters upholding the traditional right of hunting for sport. "Our opponents have said that they intend to abolish all forms of killing for sport, including shooting and fishing," said assistant secretary Michael Shepherd. "We intend to show Parliament that the countryside is behind its traditional sports. We say that fox-hunting is a sport, not a means of exterminating foxes, but it does control foxes, provide employment and has a long tradition."

Gene Tunney, defending the world heavyweight championship he won from Jack Dempsey in September, 1926, gave Tom Heeney, courageous New Zealander, the worst beating of his career before 50,000 spectators 20 years ago today. Tunney won a technical knockout in the 11th round and never fought again.

AUSTRALIA WINS CRICKET MATCH

Morris and Bradman Give Superb Display of Batting in Fourth Test Game

LEEDS — The fourth test match which had been played on even terms until today resulted in a decisive win for the Australians when they piled up 404 runs for the loss of only three wickets and so won by seven wickets.

When play was resumed this morning England had scored

DUTCH FAMILIES DOING WELL, NOT EVEN FLOODS ARE DETERRING THEM

If determination and hard work are factors in making a success of farming, Bert Wouden is sure the Appeldoorn family on Braun's Island near Terrace are well on their way.

Mr. Wouden had a chance to see what most of the Dutch families are doing in their new homes of the interior when he drove Dr. A. Evenster, consul-general for the Netherlands in Canada, and his wife, as far east as Houston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Appeldoorn arrived at Terrace with their five children last May and commenced work on the 10-acre plot almost immediately. Their crops were coming along splendidly when the Skeena went wild and in the process flooded their land. With the help of his wife and oldest son, Mr. Appeldoorn went to work on the land again as soon as the water receded. A hoe and a hand cultivator were the main tools and with these the soil was prepared for a new crop of vegetables. Fortunately, the weather was suitable for quick growth and now the Appeldoorns have a fine garden, abundant with good things to eat. Strawberries, raspberries, cherries are producing well and, if the new settlers can market their produce, they will be well on the way to being established market gardeners.

Dr. Evenster and his party reached Terrace on Thursday and spent the night at the home of Peter Van Stolk, who is making some interesting experiments with grapes grown under glass. Friday the party motored on to Houston where there are 25 Dutch families establishing themselves as farmers and adapting themselves to the Canadian way of life.

Following their visit to Houston, Dr. Evenster and Mrs. Evenster left by train Saturday morning for the east.

362 for the loss of eight wickets with Evans 47 not out and Laker 10 not out. Laker added 3 runs and then England declared at 365 for eight wickets, leaving Australia the seemingly difficult task of scoring 404 runs to win. This would require scoring at the rate of 75 runs an hour. They did it with less than half an hour to spare. The first wicket fell at 57 when Hassett was out. But Bradman joined Morris and the two stayed together until they had scored 362 when Morris was out for 182. He had been at the wicket for four hours and 54 minutes. Miller then joined Bradman who was 148 and after scoring 12 Miller was out to Cranston. Harvey then joined Bradman and scored the winning run with a hit for four. Bradman was then 172 not out. He had batted for over four hours. Bradman and Morris had given a superb display of batting and, while Bradman had been missed three or four times and the English bowlers were always trying hard, the batting of the Australian duo was one of the finest the Leeds spectators had ever seen.

There remains one more test match to be played. The Australians have won three and one was drawn.

months in his constituency without the prospect of another parliamentary session.

He does not foresee a federal election before next July or August, because, "if the Liberals do not call one before their national convention, they certainly will not be in a position to call one immediately after."

PICKS ST. LAURENT

Leadership of the Liberal Party, the C.C.F. member believes, will fall either to Hon. Louis S. St. Laurent or to Hon. J. G. Gardiner. Opinion in the capital favors Mr. St. Laurent, he added, "but you can't discount Jimmy Gardiner."

The freight rate increase, which was applied "almost solely to western Canada and the Maritimes," is still a "boiling" issue and will come up at later sessions, he declared.

"The western members are fighting the freight rate boost as a group, regardless of party lines," he said.

Western members also have shown inclination to disregard party lines in their effort to have price controls re-established, he added.

He had been assured that efforts by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce to have a Prince Rupert based service to the Queen Charlotte Islands "will be given every consideration by the Department of Transport and the Post Office department."

Appropriations for construction of a breakwater at Fairview Bay and the road approach to the floats went through in estimates without difficulty, he said, "but nobody seems to know when the work will get started."

Removal of barriers to free entry of American aircraft to Prince Rupert from Alaska is a matter that is under discussion with the Air Transport Board. The Board takes a reasonable attitude to suggested amendments he said.

"However, these difficulties in air travel are not entirely one-sided," he asserted. "Canadian planes entering American territory encounter an equal amount of red tape."

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald and their small daughter, Janet, motored to Vancouver where they spent a few days, then continued by car to Prince Rupert. Crop prospects in large areas of the prairies look poor, he said, because of lack of moisture.

Teams:

Curries-Bremner; McCrimmon, Dave Smith; Sam Currie, Harrison, Glen Smith; Bob Murray, Pat Wilson, Pat Foreman, Neil Foreman, Bill Toderas.

IMPRESSIONS

Greer did well in goal. Nelson was a tower of strength while Haig showed he had a lot of his former class still left. Olsen was fast and a tireless worker and Ward was a standout. His headwork was very clever. Halverson was good and gave Jack Wilson many a chance and the latter showed that he could still shoot

OLD TIMERS IN PRACTICE

Football Work-out Indicates That Exhibition Game Will Be Good

In spite of threatening weather eight old-timers turned out for a football practice Monday evening and showed that they still had a lot of "know how" and, quite a little of the "do how." The eight were Bob Murray, J. Ward, Magnus Halverson, Harrison, Jack Wilson, Sam Currie, Alex. Haig and Pat Foreman. With Jim Greer, Glen Smith, Jim Bremner, Don Nelson and Ken McCrimmon of the Canadian Legion, and Glen Olsen, Pat Wilson, Arne Lien of the High School and John Wilson, Neil Foreman and Bill Toderas also available two teams were picked and a hard-fought practice match resulted in a win for Wilson's team over Currie's by 3-2.

With Bob Murray feeding Glen Smith in capable style the latter got across some nice centres and one resulted in a grand goal to give Currie's team a lead which they held at half time.

In the second half Jack Wilson equalized from one of Halverson's through passes but Currie's team went ahead when Pat Foreman scored on a set-up by Bob Murray. Jack Wilson scored the equalizer when he converted a pass from John Wilson. Then, following a corner kick by Jack Wilson, Ward gave Halverson a nice pass and the latter scored what proved to be the winning goal.

Teams:

Curries-Bremner; McCrimmon, Dave Smith; Sam Currie, Harrison, Glen Smith; Bob Murray, Pat Wilson, Pat Foreman, Neil Foreman, Bill Toderas.

IMPRESSIONS

Greer did well in goal. Nelson was a tower of strength while Haig showed he had a lot of his former class still left. Olsen was fast and a tireless worker and Ward was a standout. His headwork was very clever. Halverson was good and gave Jack Wilson many a chance and the latter showed that he could still shoot

by scoring two goals. John Wilson crossed many a fine centre. Lien worked hard.

Bremner had no chance with the shots that scored. McCrimmon was very safe and cleared well. Sam Currie showed some of the neat touches that were characteristic of Prince Rupert's star centre half in bygone days. Dave Smith was a worrier and hard to beat. Pat Wilson was his usual fast and clever self and one moment would be setting up his forward line and the next saving a dangerous situation in his own defence. Bob Murray was very clever and gave Glen Smith numerous openings. Smith centred well. Pat Foreman was good and showed many of his old time tricks of different kinds. Bill Toderas should develop into a first class footballer while Harrison also played hard and successfully.

QUEBEC VOTE ON WEDNESDAY

QUEBEC—The provincial election campaign in Quebec is over and voting will take place tomorrow. The voters will choose from among 312 candidates for 92 electoral divisions.

The fate of Premier Maurice Duplessis' Nationale government will be in the hands of about two million voters from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time (6 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Pacific Daylight Time).

The campaign, winding up tonight, has been one of the liveliest in a year that has already seen three provincial elections.

The main issues have been the Union Nationale's administrative record over the last four years, anti-communist measures, interpretation of provincial rights and opposition to the Dominion tax agreement.

SEMI-ANNUAL PHONE BOOK

Prince Rupert's city telephone directory will be revised every six months, instead of every year, if council adopts a utilities committee recommendation presented by Alderman Robert McKay last night. The suggestion was tabled along with a report on the proposed new telephone system.

Alderman McKay said that, because of changes in population, there were now 240 telephone numbers not listed in the 1948 directory. He suggested that the directory be revised in March and September in future years.

Acting Mayor Black agreed. "I understand that there is about 15 per cent change in telephone owners and it is getting greater," he said.

Daniel Boswell of the British Columbia Public Utilities Commission with headquarters in Prince George, is in the city on official business, having arrived at the end of the week by car, visiting various interior points on the way here. He expects to return to Prince George this week.

Would Hold Living Cost

Home Makers Organize Here—
To Hear M.P. and M.L.A.'s

To consider the problem of the cost of living, a meeting open to the general public was held last evening in Valhalla Hall. Another meeting will be held next week with the Member of Parliament and members of the legislature in attendance.

Last night's proceedings were at first of a further organizational nature, several detailed matters being taken up and decided on, such as the forming of a committee, and the giving of a name to the group initiating the movement devoted to endeavoring to reduce expenses. It will be known as the Home Makers' League. Among those on the committee to work for the promotion of League activities are Elsie Fyber, Lillian Doane, Kathleen Phillips and N. Matson.

There was a fair sized attendance, chiefly women, with Mrs. Ross Richardson presiding and Mrs. A. G. Bartlett acting as treasurer. The meeting, which began at 8:30, adjourned shortly before 10.

There was an informal discussion, the opinions heard, or any suggestions offered, all centering around the ever increasing cost of everyday outlays essential in the maintenance of a home.

PROHIBITIVE FARM COSTS

G. P. Lyons, invited to the floor, spoke of how costs kept climbing and of how it seemed there was no way yet of avoiding this unhappy condition. He related an incident dealing with a recent visit to Terrace. He had gone to see about buying some new potatoes for his business in Prince Rupert but found prices prohibitive. He cited the cost of farm labor in the interior country which, he understood, was $1 an hour.

Once, youngsters had been working on a 50 cents basis but other young people had made it so unpleasant for them that they could not continue at that rate. Lyons had good words to say for the Home Makers' League and pledged his co-operation. What was wanted was more and fuller co-operation, a live interest, and the presence of more men, as well as women at meetings.

In a review of some features of the general marketing situation, Mrs. Bartlett mentioned several commodities, the cost of which kept going up. She touched on the home and the rearing of a family. That every child be well nourished was vital. The children of today were the men and women of tomorrow.

W. D. Griffiths spoke briefly, recommending the mandating of the committee that was to be formed. Mention was made that at the next meeting, Monday, it was expected there would be present the sitting Federal member, H. G. Archibald M. P. and Wm. Brett, M.L.A. It was also said there was a possibility of W. D. Smith, member for Atlin, being there.

OTTAWA—A means of controlling cancer may be discovered before the exact cause of the disease is known, said Lord Horder, vice-chairman of the British Empire Cancer Campaign, who visited here. One type of the scourge, he said, cancer of the prostate gland, has been successfully combated with a drug taken by the mouth. Known methods of treatment should be pursued to their limits.
