Important People In Aviation Impressed

Admitting that a fully equipped landing field, permitting a 24-hour day operation, was essential to transportation needs and economic commercial aviation in all directions from a modern and importantly situated city such as Prince Rupert, Grant MacConachie, president of Canadian Pacific Airlines, addressed the Chamber of Commerce, whose members were his guests at dinner Saturday night at the Canadian Legion.

Mr. MacConachie also stated that Tugwell Island appeared to be the logical site. He told of a very recent conference he had in Ottawa, accompanied by E. T. Applewhite, M.P. for Skeena, with Hon. Lionel Chevrier, minister of transport, and Hon. Robert Mayhew, minister of fisheries.

It was too late, Mr. MacConachie pointed out, to expect an appropriation for a local airport in this year's estimates but he had been assured that a survey would be made. "And I am sure that the people of Ottawa are convinced that eventually Prince Rupert must have a modern airport," Mr. MacConachie said.

With such an airport, the service between Vancouver and Prince Rupert could be improved, there could also be direct service with the East and Prince Rupert could get on the direct air route to the Yukon.

Mr. MacConachie, who opened in humorous vein, told of his association with pioneer commercial aviation in this area and expressed satisfaction with the development of air travel out of Prince Rupert since two years ago when it had seemed doubtful if it could even be continued.

Mr. MacConachie and his party were welcomed by President L. M. Felsenthal of Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. Sixty-four were in attendance at the dinner. Mayor G. W. Rudderham joined in the welcome.

ADVANTAGEOUS LOCATION J. R. Baldwin, chairman of the Air Transport Board, whose say-so has much to do with the establishment of airports, admitted Prince Rupert's advantageous location for the establishment of a landing field. The Air Transport Board was interested in the best possible service being provided. However, the final decision is to an airport at Prince Rupert or anywhere else was something for the government. Obviously, it was desirable that there should be facilities here for the landing of wheeled aircraft. Economic factors, of course, must be considered, such as the balancing of the need against the cost. Then, too, there was the matter of priority and relative importance. On these points, there would have to be more analysis. Meantime, Prince Rupert's airport case was receiving continued attention and was by no means being forgotten.

Dr. L. M. Greene, on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, expressed appreciation for the hospitality which had been extended by Mr. MacConachie and Canadian Pacific Airlines. "Other members of the presidential party were Dr. Warner, council president of the International Civil Aviation Organization, Montreal; A. C. Campbell-Orde, director of technical development, British Overseas Airways Corporation, New York; E. N. Townsend, technical manager, British Overseas Airways Corporation, New York; V. H. Perry, manager, domestic lines C.P.A.; R. H. M. Sargeant, supervisor of passenger service; Frank Spencer, public relations; E. R. Eisey, secretary to the president, as well as Dr. Alex Johnson, Vancouver surgeon.

The party arrived here from Vancouver by regular CPA flight Saturday afternoon, circling over the Tugwell Island air field site on the way in. Immediately after arrival, Chamber of Commerce members whisked them out by car to see the Columbia Cellulose plant. A reception and dinner occupied the evening and the visitors were later entertained at the home of Chamber of Commerce President L. M. Felsenthal. Sunday morning they embarked in a special Canso for Whitehorse whence they are proceeding to Dawson today. Fairbanks will be visited tomorrow and later Aklavik, Norman Wells, Fort Radium, Yellowknife, Fort Smith, Fort McMurray, ending up the 3,541 unduplicated mileage trip at Edmonton this week-end.

Australia and U.S. Planes Are Effective

CREDITED WITH SLOWING UP COMMUNIST'S — AMERICAN TROOPS HAVE BAPTISM OF FIRE

TOKYO (CP) — North Korean invaders have inched to within six miles of Suwon and are building up bases and supplies for a new offensive thrust in South Korea. The Communist drive appears to have come almost to a halt but could be expected to get going again soon. United States and Australian Air operations are credited with slowing the North Koreans up. Need for replenishing and regrouping, plus the wide-ranging and increasing American and Australian air attacks, appear to have caused the abrupt slowdown.

United States ground forces have reached the Korean war front, dug advanced positions and got their baptism of fire from strafing planes today. But by nightfall they had not yet seen the North Korean ground enemy.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's advance headquarters in South Korea said the northern invaders had made no serious progress during the day, which was only by sporadic fighting between Korean forces.

A spokesman indicated that a break through the Han River line at Youngdungpo by two tank columns might be less serious than at first anticipated.

American pilots reported that most Communist convoys were apparently lying low during day light.

The North Koreans' drive on Suwon, the abandoned American forward base, appeared to have bogged down or collapsed.

American bombers today raided the North Koreans twice and dropped more than 800 bombs. Radio Pyongyang said tonight.

Five to seven unidentified planes gave American combat troops their first taste of warfare in a savage 25 minute strafing and rocket attack. The aircraft dropped out of a clear sky. They were unopposed by American fighters. The fury, fire and flame shook but did not unnerve the young troops, most of whom had never been in combat. The Yanks dived for cover like veterans. The first casualty was a sergeant. A plane's machine gun bullet ripped through a toe of his right foot.

Koreans and Americans are working side by side at the front line positions digging gun emplacements and foxholes.

North Koreans are reported building up bases and supplies to support a renewed drive southward from the Han River.

Retired Rancher Is Driving East

Retired rancher of southeastern Saskatchewan who has been living of late in Portland, Oregon, Sam Luse arrived in the city on the Coquitlam last evening from the south, bringing with him a fine new Buick station wagon with which he and Mrs. Luse will drive eastward from here later in the week. Meantime they are making the round trip to Alice Arm and Stewart aboard the Coquitlam today. Mr. Luse belongs to a well known pioneer family of Saskatchewan. The town of Luse-land in the Moores Jaw area was named after his father.

Vancouver MLA Is Visitor To City

Arthur Turner, M.L.A. for Vancouver East, and Frank Calder, M.L.A. for Atlin, arrived in the city Saturday night by train in the course of a speaking tour from Prince George westward. Mr. Turner will be leaving for Vancouver Wednesday after meeting the local CCF Club members and addressing a public meeting.

Wouters Defends Title Successfully

GLACE BAY, N.S. — Roy Wouters, hard hitting Vancouver middleweight, successfully defended his Canadian championship before 6,000 spectators Saturday by taking an easy 12 round decision from George Ross of West Bay Road, N.S. There were no knockdowns but it was Wouters all the way. Wouters won the title from Ross two months ago.

Port Day Goes Over Strong; Interest In Various Events Keen

PRINCE RUPERT SEES FISHING FLEET IN ACTION AND WITNESSES SOME THRILLING RACES

Unexcelled weather with a brilliant sun sparkling from a cloudless sky, thousands of spectators lining the points ofantage ashore and hundreds of boats, big and small, dotting the sparkling waters of the harbor, all combined to make Prince Rupert's renewal of Port Day on Saturday an event of outstanding interest.

It was amply indicated that Port Day has lost none of its appeal as far as the public is concerned. The day was a keen measure of the interest in the most of events and excitement was provided on such as when two of the boats in the salmon race, first event of the day, were off and on the line in taking off and on the line of the five competitors in the outboard motorboat race on rounding the first point of the triangular course, the boat being quickly picked up by one of the many nearby boats.

Headquarters boat of the day was the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. packer Chief Tappet, Capt. Fred Reid, where Inspector Woods-Johnson acted as starter and from which the judges and recorders functioned. William Tocher of Nelson Bros. Ltd. with his runabout cruiser lent invaluable assistance in connection with the rounding up of contestants and patrolling of the harbor.

A feature of the day was the large number of natives who took part in the contests, particularly in the salmon vessels. Fishing companies such as Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd., B.C. Packers and Canadian Fishing Co., in the midst of a busy season, lent their co-operation.

Climax race of the day was that for fish packers over sixty boats gathered to pit their strength against each other in contests designed to cover most phases of their trade.

An Anxious Holiday

IT WAS a grand Dominion Day holiday in Prince Rupert and the sports and outings were of happy and normal character but here, as in the rest of the western world, there was a tenseness over the international situation. People were interested in Port Day, the international baseball series, the Rotary barrel derby and other holiday activities but there were also inquiries and discussions on every hand as to the latest developments in the Korean situation where an explosive crisis continues to threaten the peace of the world. It was like the old anxious days of the war and there was something of the grimness of those times.

Possibly, the latest international crisis, will not lead to widespread conflict in which Prince Rupert might well expect to be physically involved. If it does not, it will at least have served one useful purpose. It will have brought about a closer realization of the seriousness of situation in which the world dwells, the threat that exists to democracy and our way of living. Perhaps it is the shock that has been needed to shake us out of our lethargy and complacency of easy living which might be so easily lost.

PORT DAY APPEAL

SATURDAY'S PORT DAY demonstrated again the appeal of that sort of event to the people in this essentially marine and fishing community. The crowd turned out in what appeared larger numbers than ever before on the vantage points along the waterfront. The harbor was crowded throughout the beautiful day with all manner of craft, particularly the vessels engaged in various phases of the fishing industry. And everyone seemed to have a good and interesting time.

Of course, there might have been room for criticism from those who do not take into consideration the many difficulties of organizing such an affair. The committees in charge learned a number of things which will be of use in planning future Port Days. Some of Saturday's defects can be eliminated by early and thorough organizations.

However, the main thing is that the 1950 Port Day marked a quite satisfactory renewal of this particularly distinctive Prince Rupert event. Chairman Douglas Frizzell and all those who assisted him, including the fishermen's organizations, the fishing companies, the native people, the energetic young men of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, are to be congratulated on the effort. They know and realize such mistakes as were made and will be in a position to rectify them in the 1951 Port Day, for the interest that was manifested in this one and the response on the part of the public which marked it suggest clearly that Port Day should be made a yearly institution from this on.

THE WINE FLOWED FREE IN BERLIN — Berliners assembled by the hundreds in front of the Schoenberg city hall when it was announced that West German wine growers had converged in the city to launch a "drink more wine" drive. All the wine they could drink was available and the merchants found no lack of willing customers. Even "Fifi" a pet pooch sampled some and found it refreshing. In the background a wine dealer tries to satisfy the crowd of thirsty citizens reaching out for refills. The wine ceremony occurred in the midst of battered buildings that can be seen in the background. The object of the wine drive was to remind the Berliners that vintage wine is a German product too and not the monopoly of other countries.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT
INDIA KEY TO V

INDIA HOLDS THE KEY TO world victory in the great struggle now developing between the loyal supporters of the United Nations Charter and the new challengers of world law.

Hence India's decision in supporting the UN Security Council's actions to halt the aggression in Korea is the most decisive event of the whole Korean crisis to date. It suggests that India and all the other newly created democracies of southeast Asia may soon abandon their position of neutrality in the world struggle, hitherto polarized between the United States and Soviet Union.

ONLY A FEW DAYS before the Communist aggression against South Korea a person who knows United States world policy as well as anyone spoke to me in deep concern about India's attitude. Nehru, said the speaker, was quite willing to see all south east Asia go as China had gone. I tried to show this person (as I have tried to do in this column) that there was only one way to get the positive support of the new Asian democracies like India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma and Indonesia. That was to give them action, and not just promises, that they are to get real home rule, real democracy and freedom from white man's overlordship.

As between old style western imperialism and Communism the masses of Asia have increasingly shown that they will turn toward Communism I argued. But, as between Communism and genuine native democracy, based on national liberation, Asians plainly show that they prefer the genuine article.

INDIA HAS MADE it plain that she is determined to use her whole immense weight to secure for all Asians the same kind of freedom that India and Indonesia have already won.

Mr. Nehru made that crystal clear even in his speeches in Canada last year. Hence, if the western democracies want the positive support of India and Nehru, they will have to do the things which will earn that support. They will have to base their opposition to the spread of Communism in southeast Asia on positive applications of democracy, and not mere negative opposition to Moscow's Red imperialism.

ON HIS RETURN TOUR OF Indonesia, Malaya, Burma, Nehru was greeted by the same immense crowds as used to greet Gandhi in public appearances in his own country. It was made clear that the hundreds of millions of Asians, outside India, look upon Nehru as the living symbol of what they want for and in their own countries.

It is worth contrasting Nehru's fervent welcome in Singapore with that accorded a few days earlier to the British cabinet Minister John Strachey. The latter is greeted only by white officials. Nehru is also greeted by the officials. But he is also greeted by a vast throng of 50,000 cheering Asians.

"Besieged by a surging crowd" says the news report, "Pandit Nehru acted as his own policeman. Protesting good naturedly he made a path for himself and Mr. Malcolm MacDonald."

AFTER THE Communist aggression in Korea, and the deliberate repudiation of UN's fundamental charter by the Moscow government, all loyal members of UN have drawn together to hold a world line for mutual protection. That may require military measures which we shall share.

But we cannot hold that line by physical force alone—it will break unless we call in Nehru to help "write the ticket" of democracy for all the doubtful areas. Asians plainly show that they

by J. K. Nesbitt

Jockeying Doukhobor Question—What About Coalition?

VICTORIA—The Doukhobor question is being tossed back and forth between Victoria and Ottawa once more.

Attorney-General Wismer went on the air the other night and told Ottawa the Doukhobors, in their burnings and nude parades, could well be Communist-inspired. If that's so, they're a menace to the security of the state.

As near as we can learn here Ottawa authorities just said "hah, hah—what nonsense—that's just Wismer trying to pass the buck to us." "It's civil insurrection," cried Mr. Wismer, but Ottawa's not paying any attention.

Rank-and-file Liberals and Conservatives want Coalition to end—and soon. Liberal and Conservative members of the House aren't so sure. They feel they were elected as Coalitionists and should remain Coalitionists until the next election anyway.

At a Conservative meeting the other day Col. Cecil Merritt, who was defeated for the House of Commons a year ago, said the Conservatives should get out of Coalition right away and become the official opposition, replacing the C.C.F.

A. R. MacDougall, Conservative member for Vancouver-Point Grey, was against Col. Merritt. He said: "The people elected us as Coalition candidates and they expect us to remain coalition for the length of the Coalition assembly at least."

Meanwhile the party leaders, Premier Byron Johnson and Finance Minister Anscomb, are mending their political fences and keeping quiet. They are touring the province, talking to the people at grassroots level to see exactly what they think of Coalition.

B. C.'s Indian history is going to be studied in more detail than ever. A trained anthropologist, Wilson Duff of Vancouver, University of British Columbia graduate and also University of Washington, has joined the Provincial museum staff and will concentrate on Indians.

"We've had to neglect Indians, because we haven't had the trained personnel," says Museum director Dr. Clifford Carl. "Mr. Duff is now investigating old village sites in the Fraser Valley, in the Yale-Chilliwack area. Later he will cover the entire province. He questions natives about what they remember long ago and studies the markings of the old villages, when he finds depressions in the soil, often in farmyards."

B.C. will now concentrate on Indian history and folklore, seeking to preserve every totem, every scrap of information. Dr. Carl says: "We have in B.C. one of the richest Indian areas of the entire continent. We have had greater diversity of tribes, with a unique art and culture."

Dr. Carl and a group of scientists have returned to Victoria from the isolated Scott Islands, off the northwest tip of Vancouver Island. They went there on a mouse-trapping expedition and brought back to the Museum 70 specimens, which they've stuffed. Dr. Carl would like to know how the mice got to those islands in the first place. They could have gone there over the ice, in the ice age of 10,000 to 15,000 years ago. Or they might have got there on logs that drifted over from the mainland. The mice on Triangle Island are so big at first the scientists thought they were rats. They are seven inches long. There are two varieties—the white-foot, and the giant meadow. Another thing that puzzles Dr. Carl is that the mice on each island are different, and different from mice along other parts of the coast. The skulls of the islands' mice have been removed and they are being studied, so that in time Dr. Carl hopes to say to which mouse race the mice of the Scott Islands belong.

Heavy Rain Helps Crop

North Alberta Needs Moisture—Okanagan Shipping Now

WINNIPEG — Beneficial rains occurred over the major part of the three prairie provinces during the past week with the exception of south-eastern Saskatchewan and the Peace River area of northern Alberta where rains are still required. Only scattered showers occurred in the Edmonton district and the area north-west of Edmonton, according to the weekly crop report of the department of agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Crop prospects south-east of Calgary and west of Saskatoon have greatly improved as a result of last week's heavy rains. Grasshopper damage has been moderate, with five per cent reported south-east of Calgary and up to fifty per cent between Regina and central Butte in southern Saskatchewan.

In the Okanagan Valley lettuce, cabbage and beets are now moving out in vegetable carlots. Weather during the past week has remained hot and dry. Latest estimates of B.C. tree fruits indicate that the cherry crop this year from Naramana, Penitence and Summerland will be twenty per cent of last year's crop, and that the peach crop will be five per cent or ten per cent of last year's. Production of apples is expected to be about seventy-five per cent of last year's crop.

Battery Wins Soccer Trophy

Handed Legion First Defeat 3-1 In Dominion Day Finals

The Heavy Battery defeated the Canadian Legion in the final of the Dominion Day football competition Saturday and so became the first winners of the Sheardown trophy. The Battery were value for their 3-1 win, for they took advantage of their opportunities.

Murray, Cameron and Veitch all threatened before Pavlikis got the ball into the net after Krause had partially saved Cameron's corner kick. Baxter headed against the crossbar. Armstrong missed a good chance to equalize the score when he drove the ball just wide from a penalty kick. Krause punched away Parkhouse's long drive but Veitch tricked two players and scored with a fine ground drive. Murray hit the upright but it was the Battery who scored when Darrow Gomez took a pass from Parkhouse and put his team three goals up.

Cornwell and Greer came on for the Legion and Gun-a-noot for the Battery. Vuckovich had replaced Cameron who had a nose injury. Legion pressed steadily but the Battery were always dangerous in their break-aways. Cornwell finally got a goal for the Legion when he scored from the penalty spot. Krause brought off two grand saves, one at full length from Vuckovich and then a sensational stop from Pavlikis who turned a cross from A. Gomez into the goalmouth. Morgan caught a fine header from Cornwell but the Legion while playing dainty football could not break through the Battery defence and the Gunners were value for their win.

Teams: Battery — Morgan; Dunbar, Ferguson; Mazzoni, D. Gomez, B. Gomez; Cameron, Veitch, Pavlikis, Parkhouse, A. Gomez; Gun-a-noot, Vuckovich, Canadian Legion — Krause; Sunberg, Eby, McAfee, Yelland, Alexander, Wyatt, Aird, Baxter, Armstrong, Murray; Greer, Cornwell.

Referee: Pat Forman.

Prince Rupert Sweeps Holiday Ball Series

SCORED THREE DIAMOND VICTORIES OVER KETCHIKAN, TWO BY ONE RUN MARGINS

Appreciative Prince Rupert fans were treated to good, and at times thrilling baseball over the weekend as Prince Rupert All Stars battled it out against Ketchikan in the annual diamond classic. Prince Rupert swept the series, winning the Saturday afternoon game and both Sunday fixtures. Scores were 7-6, 1-0 and 7-0. The series resumed at Ketchikan today.

Saturday's game was a crowd pleaser with the visitors starting the scoring with two runs in the first inning. There was no further scoring until the last of the second, when the local boys came back with two runs to tie the count. Prince Rupert scored again in the third to give them the edge 3-2.

Ketchikan again tied the game in the first of the fifth but the home team came back in the last half of the inning to take the lead once more when Simundson, who was walked, was driven home on a three bagger from Dahl. Ketchikan tied the game at 4-4 in the top of the sixth, but the Dahl babies came back in the latter part of the frame to garner three runs to put the game on ice. With one away, Pavlikis tripled. Ewart followed with a two bagger that brought Pavlikis home. Scherk singled and advanced to second on a second baseman's error. Hawryluk's single scored Ewart and Cornwell hit a fast one to second base that scored Scherk. Cornwell was caught out trying to steal second. Simundson was struck out to retire the side.

Pavlikis showed his skill as a batsman by coming through with a two-bagger and a three base hit on four times at bat. The arch enemies Jack Lindsay and Harry Ludwigson had a real battle on the mound, but Lindsay won it, allowing only 7 hits to the Ketchikan man's 12.

Ketchikan came back with a ninth inning that looked as if it might succeed for the moment. Skelly started the ball rolling with a two base hit. Vincent got a hit. Leo Bass fled out to Pavlikis at left field. C. Bass hit to load the bases. Skelly was caught out trying to steal home. Johnston was walked to load the bases again. A two-bagger by Contreras scored Vincent and Bass. Johnson tried to stretch it from first base, but was caught out at the plate to end the ball game with the score Prince Rupert 7, Ketchikan 6.

SUNDAY GAMES

Sunday afternoon saw tight baseball all through with neither side giving quarter. Two errors by Ketchikan in the sixth were the only ones recorded. Cornwell scored the only run of the game in the first inning.

Both pitchers, Robinson for Prince Rupert and Glenn for Ketchikan, were stingy with their hits and allowed only three each. Prince Rupert's were all in the first inning, while Ketchikan collected two in the second and one in the third.

Sunday evening Ketchikan was in for a drubbing. They lost 7-0. Vincent, first man up for the visitors, was walked, but L. Bass and C. Bass were both struck out by Letourneau. Johnston fled out to first baseman to retire the side. Prince Rupert began the slaughter in the first inning when Cornwell started it off with a two-bagger. Simundson was walked, as were Dahl and Abel. Pavlikis struck out. Cornwell scored after Shier's fly was nabbed by L. Bass in centre field. Arney's single scored Simundson and Dahl. Letourneau's fly to Bass ended the inning.

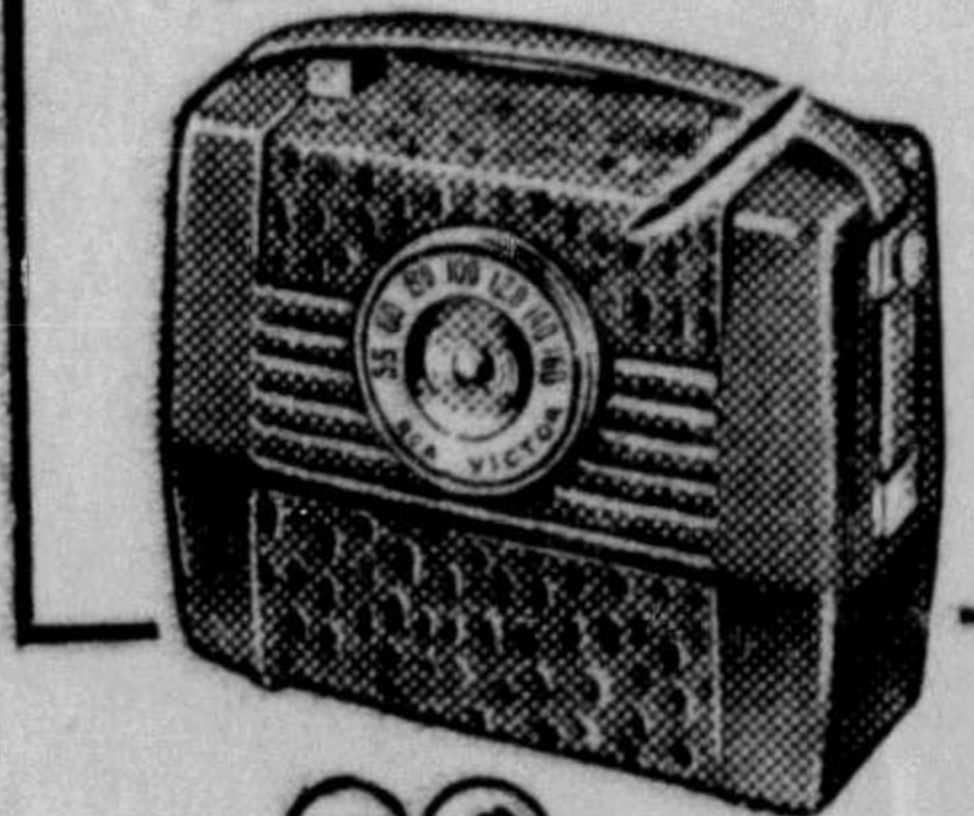

Ketchikan tried vainly to score during the remainder of the game. Although they got runners on bases, they just did not seem to be able to work them into scoring position. Prince Rupert scored again in the second, twice in the third and again in the fourth to give them a 7-0 win.

SCOREBOARD SPELLS END OF JAP REDS — A large crowd of Japanese people are shown watching the results of the Japanese House of Councillors election as they were pasted up on a tally board. With Premier Yoshida's Liberal party emerging as the strongest single group in the diet's House of Councillors, on top of its majority in the lower chamber, the government instituted fresh measures designed to curb and eventually eliminate Red organizations.

Straighten Out Terrace Water

TERRACE—Nine people turned out to last Tuesday night's ratepayers' meeting which had been called by the village commissioners at the request of L. Wheeldon, a representative of the Department of Municipalities in Victoria, who had been sent here by the government to investigate the present water system. Commissioners E. Haugland, S. Kirkaldy and D. G. Little were present, also Village Clerk A. J. Harmon. Others present were W. Donald, S. G. Cooper, G. Lambley, G. Martin, J. H. Smith, C. W. Alger, Mrs. T. Fraser, Mrs. Newhouser and Mrs. J. McLeod.

Introduced by Chairman E. Haugland, Mr. Wheeldon expressed concern at such a small attendance when he had expected at least 100 people present. However the meeting had to go ahead in the hope that his investigations would obviate a public inquiry. There was no minimizing the situation. Early in March 1948 a by-law had been passed by the ratepayers authorizing the borrowing of $70,000 for the purchase of the present water system. This loan was guaranteed by the government.

A saving had been made in purchasing second-hand pipe and instead of turning this $20,000 back into the loan, extensions had been bought with it. Now the second-hand pipe is gone and has to be replaced. A further $25,000 has been asked for. He believed the Commissioners had acted in good faith and asked repeatedly if those present were also convinced, as he was, that the Commissioners had acted in the interest of the ratepayers. No one doubted this.

Mr. Wheeldon stated that the only remedy now was for the Commissioners to prepare a new by-law for the new pipes which should be of cast iron. He suggested that this by-law should include authorization of the action of the Commissioners in purchasing second-hand pipes and their replacement with new pipes. Terrace could not afford to install anything but cast-iron pipes in swampy land. However, Mr. Wheeldon did say that, apart from the leaking pipeline, it was a good water system. With the savings the pumps are pumping 200,000 gallons daily when this town needs only 55,000 gallons. The pumps would not last long at this rate.

The department must have the assurance that the money asked for now would finish the job. A new plebiscite will be needed and the new by-law passed before anything further can be done on the water works. Various questions were asked and answered with regard to the boundaries and water rates. It was disclosed that the fire truck is not obliged to answer calls to fires outside the village boundaries and also that, under the act, vacant lots can be assessed water rates if the pipeline passes by it.

Rotary Barrel Was Speedier

K. A. McLeod wins $1,000 and Dr. W. S. Kergin Picks Up $250

K. A. McLeod, 409 Sixth Avenue East, painter, is 1950's best estimator of the speed of the Skeena River's current for the fifty odd miles from Terrace to Kwinitsa. His skill brought him the $1,000 first prize in the Prince Rupert Rotary Club's Barrel Derby which was run on Saturday. Second prize of $250 went to Dr. W. S. Kergin.

It took the barrel 14 hours, 5 minutes and 6 1-5 seconds to cover the distance.

Mr. McLeod guessed 14 hours, 5 minutes and 15 3-5 seconds. Dr. Kergin guessed 14 hours, 6 minutes 5 2-5 seconds.

The barrel was launched from the Skeena River bridge at Terrace at 3 a.m. Saturday by the Rotary committee in the presence of Ed Garner of the Prince Rupert Kinsmen Club and some sixty Terrace citizens.

It finished the course at Kwinitsa the 14 hours, 5 minutes and 6 1-5 seconds later.

Fifteen hundred persons in all made widely divergent guesses. Last year's time was 17 hours, 25 minutes, 42 seconds.

As might be expected, there is speculation on the reason why the time should be so much less this year. The best reason would appear to be that the river is clearer of obstructions this year than it was last and also the fact that the river was higher and the current more speedy.

Charlie Richmond and partner of Kitselas acted as guides for

Mr. Laird to Victoria where he will mark examination papers, and Peggy to Vancouver on holiday. In September the elementary school will move into the new school in town while the high school will take over the old elementary school west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Robert left last week for their former home near Edmonton where they will take up residence.

Mrs. W. Osborne has received word of the death of her mother, Mrs. F. W. Doubt, at the age of 82, in Spokane, Washington.

Mrs. W. Osborne, Mrs. McGilvery and Mrs. Michiel drove the girl guides out to the north end of Lakelse Lake on Thursday afternoon where they picnicked with their leaders.

the barrel on its course downstream following it in a river boat.

The Rotary Club's committee consisted of D. C. Stevenson, T. M. Christie, G. W. Green, William Scuby and E. C. Williams. Sam Kirkaldy and B. R. Dodds gave assistance from the Terrace end.

Banquet To Graduates

Impressive Gathering at Terrace Tuesday Night

TERRACE— Graduation for five students of the Terrace High School was marked with a banquet in the Credit Union Hall on Tuesday evening at which they and their parents were the guests of the grade 11 pupils. The hall, decorated with the high school colors in blue and gold streamers, the vases of flowers on the tables, the white dresses of the girls and the smart appearance of the boys made an impressive scene. Each girl graduate wore a corsage and each boy a boutonniere, the gift of the Parent Teacher Association.

Chairman was David Gillanders, president of the students' Council. After grace was said by E. S. Laird, High School principal, supper, convened by Mrs. Tumilson, was served by Clara Warner and Betty McCabe.

Patner Racette, O.M.I., spoke on the benefits of education and said that it was one burden which could be borne lightly.

Jim Proctor was valedictorian. A toast to the school was proposed by Joyce Cote and was replied to by D. Cochrane.

The toast to the grade was proposed by Gerald Toop and replied to by Pat Johnson.

Mr. Laird was presented with an engraved ash tray by David Gillanders.

In his thanks, Mr. Laird also thanked the banquet convenors and all who had helped. Mrs. C. C. King had donated the flowers.

Those graduating were Flora Melvin, Valerie Craig, Jim Proctor, Pat Johnson, and David Gillanders. Peggy Laird graduated by correspondence.

Besides the grads' parents, other guests were Miss A. Lips, Mrs. Laird, Mrs. Cochrane, Father Racette, Mr. and Mrs. C. Michiel.

The grade 11 pupils present were Roy Clifford, Denis de Kergommaux, Joan Atwood, Gerald Toop, Don Gillanders, Francis Gavan, Joyce Cote.

For the third year in succession, David Gillanders has won the award for the best boy student in the high school. This year the award to the girls went to Anita Bue.

High Prices Mark Halibut Business—Improvements at Cow Bay—Salmon Fishing

High prices at the exchange marked this week's fish business and on Tuesday the second highest price paid this year went to the skipper of the San Juan who brought in a catch of 62,000 pounds. Atlin paid him 28c, 27.2c and 23c. Highest price of the year so far was handed out June 6 as 28.5c, 28.5c and 25.5c.

The closure of Area No. 3 is drawing nearer and boats are rushing back and forth with last and second last catches. Canadian vessels up to Thursday held a lead as far as landings were concerned by bringing in, since Saturday 605,700 pounds of halibut of which Co-op took 201,200 pounds. American vessels brought in 157,000 pounds. The total landings were 762,700 pounds.

Considerable emergency repair work has been in progress on the Cow Bay floats of late and these centrally located, moorings for visiting vessels are in much safer condition now than they were previously. The work is being carried out by the provincial department of public works. It was a job that had long been demanding attention and its execution is generally welcomed.

Salmon catches by gillnetters remain low on both the Skeena and Naas. Week-end averages on the Skeena were 14 per boat and on the Naas 40 per boat. Seiners have started operations but will not be in full swing until the second week in July.

Well known in marine circles at Prince Rupert and all along the coast for many years, Capt. Llewellyn Sheppard of the fisheries patrol cruiser Laurier has just retired after having been for thirty years with the Department of Fisheries on this coast. Born in Newfoundland, Capt. Sheppard first came to this coast in 1910 and was first officer aboard the yacht Dolaura of the late Sir James Dunsuir. He served overseas with the Royal Navy in World War I immediately after which he joined the service of the fisheries department.

Bamford and two children also on the ship were Oscar Mercer, Supervisor of the Alert Bay residential school and the final group of children returning to this district from residential schools in the south.

Taking advantage of the holiday week-end, several local persons made the round trip to Queen Charlotte Islands aboard the Camosun. They included Mr. and Mrs. R. Kean, Mr. and Mrs. J. Eyber, P. Mortenson, S. Miller, H. Falls, Miss Irene Foote, Leslie Jock and Messrs. Richard, Leduc and Pikard. H. M. Foote sailed for Tleil where he will spend a holiday.

Southbound from Skagway to Vancouver, C.P.R. steamer Princess Kathleen, Capt. Graham Hughes, arrived in port at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and sailed at 1 p.m. for Vancouver via Ocean Falls. The vessel's passengers consisted largely of round trip tourists. Taking passage from here for Vancouver were Mrs. Husvil and child and N. A. Beketov for Vancouver and J. M. Tucker for Ocean Falls.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Norah, Captain F. McGraw, docked at Prince Rupert at 10 a.m. Friday en route to Alaskan ports. Aboard were 91 members of the Safety Patrol Club of Philadelphia and 13 other passengers. The ship sailed at 1 p.m. and will be back here this Wednesday afternoon southbound.

Highway Reported Best In Province

The road from Hazelton to Prince Rupert is the best gravelled road in B.C., according to Lt. Col. H. E. S. Blades, who arrived in the city at the week-end from Tranquille by automobile. He was accompanied by Mrs. Blades.

During the war Lt. Col. (then Major) Blades served with the Rocky Mountain Rangers here from January to July, 1940, as headquarters company commander. He has recently retired as officer commanding the R.M.R. reserve battalion. He and Mrs. Blades are visiting the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Johnston.

Lt. Col. D. B. Holman is V.L.A. supervisor for the Kamloops area.

Major J. F. Tanner is living in New Westminster.
