Not Standing Alone

CRITICAL as the position of the United States forces in fighting the Battle of Korea may be we need not be discouraged. Conceivably, the Americans may be even driven off Korea. In fact, we had better steel ourselves for the worst as far as that is concerned. But, if they are, all is not lost. It just means that the decisive battle will be fought some where else and later on there will be the victory of Korea too.

Assistance to United States in the Korean war from the other members of the United Nations may not be so great as yet—and that is not discounting the contributions which have been made particularly by Great Britain, with her fine naval support; Australia, with its air power; Canada, with its naval vessels and air transport—but those other nations are living up to their obligations.

Though most of the smaller members of the UN have not come forward with offers of troops for the Korean war, they have offered all sorts of aid short of military involvement.

On this latter point it may well be that for them, as for Britain, realistic strategy dictates some husbanding of resources to meet threats elsewhere. We may assume that such decisions are being worked out with much more understanding among the western nations than can appear on the surface of current diplomatic developments.

It would doubtless be a comfort to many Americans to hear of troops of other nations fighting side by side with American soldiers in Korea. But the front against aggression extends far beyond that unhappy peninsula. Both Britain and France are fulfilling heavy responsibilities already in the Far East. And the British Far Eastern fleet is fighting alongside the American Navy under General MacArthur's over-all command.

In view of the fact that the American decision in Korea surprised Americans themselves it would not be surprising if the marshaling of public opinion in other lands were much slower than it has been. The fact is it has been remarkably speedy, due to the existence of common obligations among nearly all nations to the UN and the sincerity with which most of the nations of the world regard these obligations.

America is not alone in Korea—but the fact that the United States took the risk of standing alone there for the UN is reflected in such statements as have been made by the British Prime Minister.

WHY STUDENTS QUIT

THE results of the most detailed and comprehensive educational survey of its kind ever performed, have just been released. Notable in its findings is the alarming fact that each year 100,000 students leave Canadian high-schools without graduating because they find no meaning in the course of studies offered them.

The survey was conducted by the Canadian Research Committee on Practical Education, a group sponsored by the Canadian Education Association to study practical education in Canada. Highlights of the survey appear in the current issue of Maclean's magazine.

With the revelation that more than half the students who start high school in Canada never finish their studies, Maclean's points out: "It seems that our high-schools, costing somewhere close to $100 millions a year to operate are giving us 50 per cent value. Half the work they start is never finished."

The survey has brought into the open the controversy among educationists seeking an answer to the problems. The issue is this:

"Will secondary education continue its swing toward a more practical form of schooling, or will it shift back toward the old-style brain-teaser type of education which aimed at the development of mental discipline and hard thinking and left the student to pick his everyday knowledge on his own hook?" Asks Maclean's "Is the job of mass education to produce breadwinners or thinkers?"

"Say the modernists: high school education must be made more practical, it must deal with the problems students see in the world around them; otherwise many quit school and get little or no secondary education. It isn't a case of which system is better, the modernists add, it's a case of which is possible."

"Say the traditionalists: high-school education is too practical now. It has sold its birthright for a mess of contemporary courses dealing with trivial things. Too much of it teaches students how to work with their hands, too little teaches how to work with their heads."

Says Maclean's: "Whatever the solution, the survey reveals that the majority of students quit high-school because the schools are boring them stiff."

WHY NO SKEETERS?

RADIUM CALLING Sherlock Holmes—calling Sherlock Holmes. Wanted—the key to the great Rocky Mountain mosquito mystery.

This little haven in the Sinclair Canyon is full of refugees from Banff and Lake Louise—who have been driven out by the mosquitoes.

But here—believe it or not—there is not a single mosquito—not a screen on any window and not a screen needed.

PENDING A FULL REPORT from Sherlock Holmes here is my own guess as to the explanation.

The Sinclair river comes leaping down from the mountains with such abandon that no mosquito egg has a chance to hatch out in peace. And if any stray mosquito flies in near the hot water pool and takes even a tiny drink of the water—napoo—fini—he's all washed up. The radio activity in the water is just too much for mosquitoes and other bug pests.

Yet it puts new life in old creek humans.

THE MEN WHO WORKED all last winter on the construction project tell me that they had some grand times in the open-air hot pool when the air temperature was 45 degrees below zero.

Nobody has ever been known to catch a cold, after emerging from this hot pool—winter or summer. The local theory to explain this is that you get so thoroughly heated through in the pool that you carry your own furnace inside your bloodstream for the next few hours.

Incidentally, the above is not kidding. It is also in line with the findings of the Japanese—who are the greatest hot-water lovers in the world. They too claim that you just can't catch cold after emerging from the hot baths.

The Japanese, by the way, Classifieds bring quick results.

can stand much hotter water than can the rest of us. Here at Radium the hot water pours out of the Rocky Mountains at 114 degrees. But it cools off rapidly in the big pool—that is, the further away from the intake you are, the cooler.

IN REALLY COLD WEATHER nature acts a hatter to the users of this pool. Icicles form on the hair of bathers—especially after they have come out.

The pool itself gives off clouds of steam, so thick that you can see only a few feet.

With the pure white snow on the mountains—the red rocks—and the evergreen trees the place is almost unbelievably beautiful in winter. In fact, I have always claimed that it has the makings of a far better winter resort than a summer resort.

THIS TIME I CAME TO Radium alone—without my better half or any of the offspring. The family gave me orders before I left to "cut down that corporation," otherwise paunch.

But Emil Hess, who used to be chef at the Hotel Vancouver won't let me. Two days ago Emil went fishing in Kootenay National Park. He caught only two trout—but I got both of them.

Last night Emil had a treat for all the customers. Resplendent in his big hat, he wheeled out a huge roast of beef on one of those moveable cart affairs. You-pick your own cut, just like we used to do at Simpsons' on the Strand in London in the old days.

So, family, prepare for the worst. The paunch is holding its own notwithstanding what steams out of yours truly each in the hot pool.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

A brace of bandits stole three gold bars worth $95,000 at a mine in Northern Ontario. Less than ten hours later, the bars were found near an abandoned car. The robbers must have suffered an embarrassment of riches. The job of turning a lot of raw gold into legal funds of the state has its dangers. Yet, such a quantity of yellow metal must have a mighty fine "feel."

Word comes from Minnesota that a tomcat died there recently, in his twenty-fifth year. This, it seems, is explained by the fact that he went to bed regularly every night and shut up.

Kelowna, in roasted brown Okanagan Valley, is having water events on a major scale with everyone smiling and streaming with sweat. They really seem to enjoy a temperature of 107 which reaffirms the old axiom that there is no accounting for taste.

An authority says there are more than fifty waterfalls higher than Niagara. While not going quite that far, we know of a high one not so far from Prince Rupert. Its situation is on Vancouver Island and it's worth a second look.

NOT SO HIGH There are at least 57 waterfalls in the world higher than Niagara.

OTTAWA — The United States government, seeking 14 "eighters" from the New York shipping market, to transport supplies to Korea, has already obtained four Canadian freighters and may charter more, a government transport official said today. He added the transaction is "purely commercial, in which the government has not been consulted."

Toronto M.P. Is Visitor

Impressed with the scenic beauty of the British Columbia coast after his first visit thereto, A. J. P. Cameron, Toronto barrister and Member of Parliament for Toronto-High Park seat of that city, was a visitor in the city yesterday. He also commented on the obvious prospects for industrial expansion already demonstrated by the establishment of the Celanese Corporation of America at nearby Port Edward and the prospective huge Aluminum Corporation of Canada industry. "It is certainly evident that Prince Rupert is on the make," Mr. Cameron observed.

Mr. Cameron who was accompanied by his wife and daughter, stopped off on the way west at Brandon, Calgary, Nelson, Beaverdel and Vancouver. They arrived on the Prince Rupert yesterday morning from the south and proceeded east by the evening train. On their way back to Toronto, they will stop off at Jasper and Edmonton.

During their stay here, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron were entertained by E. T. Applewhite, M.P. for Skeena, and Mrs. Applewhite.

Designations, Appointments

School Vice-Principal
Fire Marshal's Report

Designations from and appointments for the teaching staff were accepted by the Board of School at their regular meeting yesterday afternoon.

Designations were from R. D. Davidson, vice-principal of the school, P. Sbrocchi, P. G. R. Slade, all of Booth High School.

Appointments were Miss Marston, Miss Sheila McKen-Edwards, Leslie Matthews Davidson, vice principal of the high school; the Miss Neufeld and Annie Essington and Mrs. Nicholson, Digby. Another appointment was left up to Mrs. Becker, chairman of the committee to act on the report of School Inspector J. completed with and some were already established. He had suggested sprinkler heads over the furnaces in Borden, Conrad and Booth schools, and metal clad doors to the furnace room. Mrs. Becker pointed out that Booth school is already provided with a furnace chamber, there are cupboards for chemicals, fire extinguishers have been relocated and the manual arts room is soon to be moved from its present location. It was also suggested that sprinkler and metal clad doors be installed at Conrad Street school and that the fire marshal be informed regarding the school that it was built in accordance with specifications at the time of building. She said it would be an expensive job to alter the fire escapes and that the building had been evacuated in about one minute at fire drills.

Regarding transportation to Dodge Cove, it was decided to request the Department of Transport to pay 60 per cent of the cost and if the department complies, for the board to pay the remainder.

Recruits For Navy

Young Men of Prince Rupert Are Enlisting for Active Service

Since the start of the recruiting drive for the three armed forces, there have been eighteen applications for the Navy active service, it was announced yesterday at H.M.C.S. Chatham. Seven men are now awaiting acceptance and eleven others are in various stages of medical examination. The most of them range in age from 17 to 20. Once they are accepted, they will be sent to H.M.C.S. Cornwallis in Nova Scotia for training. Two new officers in H.M.C.S. Chatham are awaiting acceptance of their enlistment.

About half a dozen young men have responded to the Air Force call for which Ft. Lt. Elmer Clausen is interviewing officer. So far there appears to be little, if any, interest in Army recruiting here.

Gave Up Main Line 'Phone

A fine gesture was made recently by Bruce Love, according to Telephone Chief Edwards, when he gave up his main line telephone after retiring from the employ of the city. For years Mr. Love was Superintendent of Utilities. Giving up the main line has made possible a four party line so that all homes in the 900 block on Alfred Street may have telephones.

Basking In The Sun on the beach or fishing on a sunny summer day are lots of fun, but hard on your eyes! But here's a way to bring soothing relief to sun-weary eyes—in seconds! Just put 2 drops of MURINE in each eye—and your eyes feel instantly refreshed! You see, Murine's 7 ingredients blend perfectly with the natural eye fluids, soothing delicate eye tissues as gently as a tear. That's why I always keep one bottle of Murine at home to carry one with me wherever I go. Why don't you do the same? Try cleansing and soothing your eyes regularly with Murine for one week... then I'm sure you'll be sold on it as I am!

What Has More Summertime Appeal than a refreshing Jell-O salad? I'd say—nothing, unless it's a Jell-O dessert! Salads and desserts made with JELL-O JELLY POW-DERS have so much sparkle and flavour! HOW CAN I ???

Q. How can I transplant a maple tree properly? A. The best time to transplant a maple tree is the early spring, before any buds have appeared. Choose a rainy spell when the ground is soft, and preserve as much of the root as possible. This refers to trees not more than six or eight feet high. Then trim down the crown of the tree. Q. What is a good antiseptic mouth wash? A. The use of a dash of lemon juice in plain water is said to be very good. Q. How can I keep the powder puff soft and fluffy? A. Wash it in warm, soapy water, and then rinse in soapy water.

Railway State Their Case In Wage Negotiations

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 2—The following statement was issued today by the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways jointly in the light of developments in labor negotiations:

"In view of the fact that meetings designed to effect settlement of the labor differences between the companies and their employees have been taking place and have been arranged to continue, the railways are surprised and disappointed by the action taken by the international labor organizations, headed by Frank Hall, and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers, headed by A. R. Mosher, in announcing that the members of their unions will go on strike August 22, if a satisfactory settlement is not reached by that time.

"Before and since the recommendations of the two boards of conciliation were made known, the railways have sought a peaceful settlement of these differences. On May 1 last, they informed the minister of labor that 'having weighed their responsibility to the employees and to the public the railways are willing to accept the findings contained in the majority reports and are ready to negotiate a settlement on this basis.'

"The railways stated that this undertaking would involve them in an additional expenditure of $19,225,000 a year when applied only to the employees concerned and that this cost would rise to approximately $27,000,000 a year when the benefits were applied to all employees.

"The recommendations of the conciliation boards were summarily rejected by both the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers and the international labor organizations but nonetheless the railways have continued to hold discussions with labor and have indicated their willingness to go farther than the recommendations of the boards and give the dissident labor groups a reduction in working hours from 48 to 44 hours a week with no reduction in take-home pay, thus putting them in an advantageous position in relation to industrial labor generally in Canada. This would cost the railways $27,000,000 a year when applied to the organized employees concerned and $37,000,000 a year when applied to all employees.

"As late as Tuesday talks between the railways and the men were continuing and more are scheduled to take place later this week. Therefore, the out-of-hand announcement by the leaders of the labor groups that they have set a strike deadline for August 22 comes not only as a shock and disappointment to the railways but seems to them to be an unfortunate method of conducting amelioratory negotiations and to show small concern for the welfare of the public or the workers which has been, and continues to be, uppermost in the railways' mind.

"Despite this unexpected action of the labor groups and having regard both to the domestic and international situation the railways are sincere in their belief that negotiations toward a peaceful settlement of this dispute should not be abandoned."

'Ambush' Action Packed Drama
Superlative outdoor drama—trigger-quick action gun fights, Indian forays, spectacular horsemanship and magnificent scenic backgrounds—are combined in "Ambush," which brings Robert Taylor, John Hodiak and Arlene Dahl to the Capitol screen this week.
It is the drama of a wily scout employed by an Army post commander to lead troops to the capture of a marauding and murderous Apache renegade.
The daring escape of Robert Taylor, cast as the scout, from his Apache pursuers, a spectacular battle between Indians and troopers, the animosity between Taylor and John Hodiak, playing the post's stuffed-shirt second-in-command, leading to a blood-drawing slugging match, a suspense-filled ambush set by the Apache renegade and his followers, and Taylor's final deadly encounter with the Indian, are action highlights of a story revolving around a triangle comprising Taylor, Hodiak and Arlene Dahl.
