SECURITY, FEAR OF DEPRESSION, WORRY AFFECTS CANADA FAMILIES

OTTAWA.—Insecurity, depression and worry are the subject of a report of the Family Welfare Division, Canadian Council, issued yesterday on the results of Canada's first survey of living conditions.

The battle of the dollar is weakening family life in this country, said Miss K. M. Jackson, secretary of the Division, in releasing the findings of a survey taken by the Council of the day living conditions in Canada.

Reports indicate that not only are families having a hard time to make ends meet but insecurity, fear of depression and worry are increasing family tensions.

SHORT, SNAPPY 'PHONE TALKING TO BE ENFORCED

City telephone authorities are going to clamp down on long-winded 'phone conversations and enforce the three-minute time limit on party lines.

City Council cheerfully adopted a utilities committee report to that effect last night in a manner that was itself a model of terseness and verbal economy.

"It will give a great deal more telephone service to a good many more people," commented Mayor Arnold.

"Good idea," echoed the eight aldermen.

SETTING SIGHTS HIGH

Government officials anticipate Britain's coal production for 1950 will amount to 249,000,000 tons—18,000,000 tons above 1948 output.

Wanted to Evict Infant Mothers

OTTAWA.—A landlady asked in court for the eviction of infant mothers, their children and an 18-months-old child that she could take care of her home.

The landlady said she bought the house in July 1946, with the understanding that the tenants would stay until "soon." But no such understanding was made when the case came to court.

Infant cases are expected in May and June.

Pope Not Gassed, Laughs Off Story

ROME.—The Pope's physician, Dr. Galeazzi Lisi, commenting on a report that the Pontiff had fainted a few days ago, in the bathroom because of a gas leakage, said the Pope laughed heartily when he heard the story for the heating equipment in the bathroom happens to be electric and not gas.

BLOODY FIGHT IN PALESTINE

British Authorities Send More Tanks and Artillery to Judean Hills

JERUSALEM.—British authorities rushed more tanks and artillery into the Judean Hills today to smash the bloodiest Arab-Jewish battle in Palestine's recent history. The fight has been raging for four days. An hour after dawn British headquarters said the battlefield was quiet.

Tanks ranged the dirt roads leading to Jewish Hartuv and Arab Ishwa, the main points of battle, part of the fierce fighting which claimed 140 lives yesterday.

Unofficial death toll since November 29 when the United Nations announced decision to partition Palestine now stands at 2018. It includes 858 Jews, 1,013 Arabs, 120 British and 23 others.

CHAVCHAVADZE WINS OVATION FROM TRANSPORTED AUDIENCE

PIANO RECITAL OF RARE DELIGHT GREETED WITH UNPRECEDENTED EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION

Not in a long time has a Prince Rupert audience displayed such enthusiastic appreciation of sheer musical artistry as that which was accorded the international pianist, Prince George Chavchavadze, who appeared in specially-arranged recital at the Civic Centre here last night. It was the outstanding musical event of the season in this city and an audience of five hundred persons expressed its acclaim in no uncertain manner. The artist caught the spirit of the ovation and met the undeniable spontaneous approbation with gracious generosity, responding with a series of encores which were as interesting and delightful as the main program itself. The recital was timed for an easy one hour and twenty minutes. It lasted for two hours. Even then the audience wanted to listen on.

One may go to a recital to observe technique, interpretation

Special Grant To Municipalities

VICTORIA.—The British Columbia government this year will make a special grant to municipalities in lieu of taxation on government-owned buildings used for commercial purposes, it was announced yesterday by Hon. R. C. Macdonald, minister of municipal affairs. He said that municipalities had been granted $17,988,000 this year as against $11,267,000 last year.

TO REMAIN IN BERLIN

Yanks Staying There Although Four Power Machinery Paralyzed

BERLIN.—"We are in Berlin by agreement and we intend to stay," said Gen. Lucius Clay, United States occupation commander, yesterday when asked to comment on a Russian suggestion that the Americans get out of town.

"We are in Berlin by agreement just as the Russians are in Saxony and Thuringia (territory conquered by Allied Troops) by agreement."

A Russian boycott of the four power government machinery in Germany, which followed their walk-out on the meeting of the Allied control council Saturday, spread paralysis today through the whole control authority.

MAD KILLERS ARE RETAKEN

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont.—Two mad killers, fugitives from a mental hospital here, were recaptured early today in the snow-covered countryside within a few miles of this Georgian Bay town.

Melville Wilkie, 37-year-old Owen Sound man, who confessed to burning his wife and baby daughter to death, and Henry Leo Cada, aged 29, River Rouge, Michigan, adjudged unfit to stand trial for the knife slaying last June of his 21-year-old sister, Ida, fled from the asylum Saturday night after slugging a guard and lifting his keys. The escape is Wilkie's fourth since he was committed to mental hospital in 1933.

COAL STRIKE IS GOING ON

WASHINGTON.—United Mine Workers of America today flatly rejected the government's proposal for ending the nine-day-old soft coal strike. The proposal called for the creation of a fact-finding board to investigate the dispute over miners' pensions that touched off the walk-outs. John L. Lewis would have sent the miners back to work before the plan could go into effect.

Lauritz Melchior studied singing in his early youth in Copenhagen and was a pupil at the Opera School of the Royal Theatre there.

British Columbia Men Seen Menace to U.S. Government

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Department of Justice has issued an immigration ruling which a Labor lawyer said Monday night has the effect of excluding from the United States "every member" of the Canadian Labor-Progressive Party.

The Department said it had "reason to believe" that three Vancouver C.I.O. officials, as members of the LPP, belong to an organization advocating violent overthrow of the United States government.

Attorney General Tom Clark, reversing Board of Immigration appeal board findings, ruled that three Canadians had been properly excluded from the United States last November.

The Department of Justice said that the Attorney General had declared John McCuish, Bert Meisness and Karl Dalskog of British Columbia "inadmissible under the immigration laws." Dalskog is a member of FRENCH COMMEMORATE 1848 REVOLUTION—All France recently commemorated the revolution of 1848, in which King Louis-Philippe was overthrown and the second republic instituted. The fact that the current French president, Vincent Auriol, stood under an umbrella while the Marseilles was played, above, brought smiles to many faces in Paris, since the umbrella was a "trademark" for King Louis-Philippe.

New Development On International Front

LONDON (CP)—Another development on the international front today was the report from Paris that Foreign Minister Bidault and perhaps Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin would go to Washington to confer next month with Secretary of State George Marshall.

It brought immediate denial, Bevin calling it "absolute nonsense."

French sources said the chief topics of such a meeting would be the Marshall plan to reconstruct non-communist Europe.

MAYOR CRITICAL OF SALES TAX

Thinks Provincial Government Went Too Far in Imposition

Mayor Nora Arnold thinks that the provincial government is going too far in its plan to levy a sales tax in British Columbia.

Commenting on a letter from the secretary of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, of which she is an executive member, she declared: "The U.B.C.M. originally asked that a small tax be levied on everything but the necessities of life in order to raise funds for educational purposes. We did not expect that the government would try and make extra money for itself, too."

Under the government scheme one-third of the money raised by the sales tax would be distributed among the municipalities and the other two-thirds go into provincial general revenue.

REGINA.—Hon. Reginald John Marsden Parker, Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan since 1945, died suddenly early today from a heart attack. He was 67 years of age.

Frontier Incident; New Swap

TRIESTE (CP)—Fresh detachments of British military police have moved into the tense frontier area of Trieste, it was announced officially tonight.

Last night the United States military government announced that a patrol of civil police in the Anglo-American zone had been fired upon by the Yugoslav police at the border between the two zones. One policeman was slightly wounded.

An Italian policeman, wounded by Yugoslav frontier guards in a scrape last night, said today he had been shot after two arguments over where the boundary lines lay in free territory. The guard was the first reported casualty in tension produced here by the proposal of the western powers to return Trieste to Italy. The guard was hit in the right hand and left knee.

The scene of the shooting lies in the area where the border is not well defined and where there have been many arguments between opposing police and patrols.

Italy today rejected the Yugoslav offer to trade Trieste for the Italian town of Gorizia to the north. The Yugoslav proposal met with a cool reception, it being pointed out that Trieste is international territory and not Yugoslav's to barter.

The new Yugoslav move followed a proposal of United States, Great Britain and France to return Trieste to Italy. The decision is regarded as adverse to Italian communists who are bidding for supreme power in the April 18 elections.

Previous to the making of the Gorizia suggestion, the Yugoslav government had protested to the western powers yesterday that their proposal in regard to Trieste would not strengthen the peace of central Europe.

Tanjug, official Yugoslav news agency, said a note had been presented by United States, British and French ambassadors in Belgrade by the Yugoslav foreign minister, Stanoje Simic. Premier Tito's government made a point in the note that the proposal to restore Trieste to Italy came only four weeks before the Italian election. It declared: "The Yugoslav government considers that submitting such a proposal at the time of the pre-electoral campaign in Italy can

FLOODS ARE GOING DOWN

Recession Appears to Be Bringing Relief to Situation in Ontario and Quebec

TORONTO 1.—With the death toll standing already at four and damage that may run into millions of dollars, there were indications today of a general recession of flood waters in Ontario and Quebec. The subsiding commenced Sunday night.

One of the hardest hit places in the floods was Bromptonville, Quebec, where the surging waters and massive ice blocks from the rampaging St. Francis River swept over the town at the week-end, carrying away eighteen houses and leaving one hundred persons homeless. Huge ice cakes were piled 25 to 30 feet high. Several automobiles were buried. The flood tore up half a mile of railroad track, destroyed the Canadian National Railway station and cut down electric and telephone lines, causing a total power failure. Many houses, in addition to the eighteen swept away, were damaged beyond repair. Mayor J. P. Mullins estimated the damage to residential property alone at $500,000. One death was reported. The Red Cross has moved in with disaster relief.

One flood death was that of a small boy at Port Hope, Ontario, east of here on the lakeshore. Three persons were drowned in Ontario and one in Quebec.

Several million dollars damage was done to harbor facilities at Goderich.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex McKinnon of Lemberg, Saskatchewan, sailed today on the Coquitlam for Vancouver after spending the last week visiting Mr. McKinnon's cousin Alex McKinnon, 1840 Fifth Avenue East.

From Communist states there was chorus of protests in fear that the Trieste pronouncement would influence the Italian elections in which the Communists are bidding for power.

French Foreign Minister George Bidault, who announced the plan Saturday and conferred for three hours yesterday with Premier Alcide de Gasperi of Italy, declared: "Peace is possible. I think that peace is probable and I think that, if we do what we should, peace is certain."

The Moscow radio lashed out at western powers, charging that United States, Britain and France were acting behind the back of the Soviet Union in proposing to revise the treaty with Italy.

The Italian Election

THE EYES OF TWO WORLDS turn on Italy as the April 18 elections in that country approach. It may be a turning point in the current deep and alarming international crisis. The contest in Italy is between the "popular front" parties—the communists and socialists—and the Christian Democrats, a heavily Roman Catholic party around which the present DeGasperi government is formed. Neither of these groups are expected to poll a clear majority—each hoping to gather about forty percent of the votes. The remaining twenty percent will probably be divided among the much smaller parties which exist in Italy in such extravagant numbers.

But naturally none of these facts explains the intense concern felt everywhere over the outcome of the Italian elections. That concern rises from Italy's position as a strategic outpost of western influence in Europe.

Elections in Italy will reflect the worldwide conflict of communism and parliamentary democracy. They will spotlight—and in a show window—not only the ideological struggle between East and West but a power test between the United States and Russia.

The importance of Italy to either of these powers may be judged by geography. If Moscow can extend its reach into the boot that cuts into the Mediterranean, the American position in Greece and Turkey will be gravely threatened.

But that is not all. The impact of a communist victory in Italy would send shivers throughout western Europe. American power would have met its first clear setback in a disputed zone, such as Czechoslovakia and Finland are not.

When one asks what needs to be done to save Italy from the communists, the answers add up to practically everything. Financial aid, food, security measures for personnel of the Italian government—anything that can help straighten out the economic problems of Italy and stiffen the backbone of those who must not only face the consequences of these problems but must stand up against terrorism.

DECENTRALIZATION

STATISTICS recently issued by the Dominion Department of Labor showed that there were more than 31,000 unplaced applicants for employment in the province of British Columbia, of whom over 17,000 were residing in Vancouver.

This situation is, of course, one which must give responsible authorities grave concern and, with the need for labor in rural and agricultural communities, which at times becomes acute, some definite action should be taken to decentralize the large unemployment population of the cities, especially that of Vancouver, where, it is well known, there is a lack of opportunity for employment for younger men. British Columbia has three basic industries, lumber, mining, and fishing, but there are few subsidiary industries in Vancouver and other cities as there are in eastern Canada.

Many reasons exist for the congestion of unemployment at the south coast city, where so many of the younger element prefer to draw such relief as can be obtained, rather than go out into the world and find opportunities where they may do some good both for themselves and for the country of which they are citizens. The Pacific coast, unfortunately, is in somewhat the same position as California and on account of climatic conditions many thousands have flocked there especially since the end of World War II. In fact, as well known to officials of the department of veterans' affairs in Vancouver, hundreds of discharged veterans who enlisted in eastern Canada and on the prairies, on demobilization from the armed forces, took their discharge in Vancouver, in spite of their having enlisted elsewhere in Canada. This considerably added to the burdens already existing and, with war veterans unemployed and other benefits coming to an end at an early date for the majority of discharged men and women, the problem of subsistence is liable to become more and more serious to the government and to civic authorities.

The question of decentralization, both of industry and population, is one which must be faced.

LIBERAL REMINISCENCES

ALASKA PUTS IN A PLEA for modern accommodation for her tens of thousands of summer visitors—and asks that they stay around a while, instead of passing through. Many would like to but they have become accustomed to luxury. Certain it is, that no cities have ever suffered from having first class hotels. The Baranof, built at Juneau, has been, and remains good business. The stately Bessborough—towering from prairie flatness to a position of commanding grace and dignity—went far in helping chance Saskatoon from just another drab town, with neither scenery or sport, to a handsome, bustling young city.

What City Council Did

On recommendation of the board of works, decided to call for tenders for 10,000 cubic yards of gravel, specifications and delivery date to be provided by the City Engineer. All tenders are to be accompanied by 10 percent of the tender as a guarantee of performance.

Approved a finance committee recommendation that accounts totalling $51,627 for February be paid.

Adopted a recommendation by utilities committee that a second hand electric range, at a cost of $75, and an electric water heater, be purchased for the staff kitchen at the fire hall.

On recommendation of finance committee, decided to consolidate the city's fire and liability insurance with the Vancouver firm of Robert S. Day and Son to act as supervisors of insurance. Policies will still be let through local agents. W. H. Shortridge was appointed appraiser of city-owned buildings for insurance purposes.

On request of the school board, voted an appropriation of $8,000 to meet school operating needs for the month of March.

ATLIN MAKES IT OVERPROOF

The Coalition member for Atlin in the Provincial Legislature, Speaking in the House the other day, had an attentive audience. He is W. D. Smith, whose home is in Prince Rupert.

The substance of Mr. Smith's remarks was that in Atlin the winters are cold enough to freeze the spirits sold by the Liquor Control Board. The prospectors, declares Mr. Smith, call the liquor "mosicles."

Says the Victoria Colunist: "One fellow, fortunately, found his frozen bottle before the contents had thawed, removed all the broken glass and then licked his Kennedy's popsize to his complete enjoyment. Mr. Smith related to the Legislature's complete enjoyment too." "I am told this freezing is one way to distill the contents, as the water freezes and leave a core of real stuff."

COUNCIL SETS UP ELEVATOR COMMITTEE

A special three-man committee was appointed by Mayor Arnold last night "to work with other interested parties for the utilization of Prince Rupert's grain elevator." Committee members are Aldermen McKay, Casey and Brooksbank.

Appointment of the committee followed receipt of a letter by council from the Canadian Wheat Board explaining, at some length, why the Wheat Board could not commit itself to making grain shipments through this port.

Shippers had the final word concerning what port the cargoes were shipped from and availability of other types of complementary cargo also were a factor, the letter said.

Alderman Casey objected to the letter being filed and demanded that the matter be "followed up to see that the elevator is put to proper use."

"We have a legitimate claim to all we ask for," he declared. Alderman T. B. Black warned that appointment of a special committee by council would be duplication of effort, since the Chamber of Commerce already had an active committee working on grain shipments, but said that he would support a motion for a committee to cooperate.

with flawless and breathtaking perfection of technique.

The artist proved his own theory that good program building is no less a gift than good piano playing in his group of after-intermission selections which commenced with the ringing end-to-end keyboard encompassing "Prelude in A Major" by Debussy. The Brahms "Valse in A Flat Major," second only to the famous "Lullaby" in familiarity and sweetness, won high plaudits. Khachaturian's "Toccato" was sharply executed with deft fingering skill. "Andalusian Dance" (Granados), with its thoughtful opening and resonant crescendo, was a fitting instrument for interpretation and technique. Pulsating effects, displaying the artist's own originality and ingenuity, made delightful indeed the "Pantomime and Morning Bells" of Manuel de Falla. A short selection, "Cordova" (Albeniz) was a tasteful bit of pure melody. Climax of the regular program was Lecuona's "Malaguena," a full and feeling item which provoked the culminating ovation.

It is doubtful if a Prince Rupert piano audience ever heard such a forceful instrumental emission as emanated from the first encore—Manuel de Falla's "Ritual Fire Dance." Deliberate delicate "Passepied" was followed by a Chavchavadze transcription of an orchestral arrangement around the famous "Espagnole" theme, presented for the first time before an audience. Concluding item was Schumann's ever-appealing "Traumeri."

The recital, by special arrangement, was under the joint sponsorship of the Soroptomist Club and the Civic Centre Association. It was indeed a privilege for local music lovers as it evidently is not often that Chav-

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I treat the shoes of children who do not like to wear overshoes?

A. The next best thing to overshoes is to give the soles of the shoes about three good coats of shellac. This not only prevents water from going through the leather but will add to the life of the shoes.

Q. How can I clean windows and mirrors easily, and also give the glass a nice polish?

A. By using a lintless cloth dipped in a solution of two tablespoons of household ammonia to two quarts of water.

Q. How can I distinguish fresh fish from spoiled fish?

A. By looking at the gills and the eyes. The gills of fresh fish are red and the eyes are clear.

Jack Frew to Meet Les Parks in Legion Billiard Semi-Finals

By winning his match against J. Kerrighan last night, Jack Frew reached the semi-finals of the English billiard tournament at the Canadian Legion and will meet Les Parks to decide who will play in the final match. Last night's score was J. Frew (plus 25) 150, J. Kerrighan (plus 40) 130.

Jimmy Nicoll, who has won consistently throughout the tournament, continued his victorious career in his game in the semi-finals defeating C. L. Youngman 150-141, thereby becoming one of the two players to play in the final match on Wednesday night.

Youngman, who was playing scratch, and conceded Nicoll 10 points, started off with a break of 32 early in the game but Nicoll, the dark horse of this tournament, played a steady game and, after a neck-and-neck struggle throughout the game, won out by nine points.

SHORT SPORT

What makes a great athlete? Sir Adolphe Abrahams, honorary medical officer to the British Olympic athletic teams, says good physiques are usual but not necessarily good health. Writing in the London Evening Standard, Sir Adolphe said Britain, the Dominions, Colonies and the United States will always be prominent in the sport world, but every nation and even every race may produce examples to prove those countries have no monopoly. The marathon race, for example, has been won by a Greek, an Argentine, a Japanese, and an Algerian. And in all probability as the vogue of athleticism spreads, exceptional athletes will appear from even more remote parts of the world. "Athleticism, Sir Adolphe asserts, is a special attribute, but an athlete may be delicate and even unhealthy. On the whole the essential feature is co-ordination—and possibly an elusive chemical substance."

Several fight offers have been made. Tommy will get a crack at the European title. Tommy McGovern, well known British lightweight boxer, who began his professional career in the United States after the British Board of Boxing Control refused him a licence to box in the United Kingdom, now has permission to box in Britain. Administrative stewards of the board, after interviewing McGovern, reprimanded him for boxing outside their jurisdiction. But the rebuke is a nominal one.

TERRACE SEES FASHION SHOW

Latest in Styles Admirably Depicted—Program of Entertainment

TERRACE—Terrace's third Easter fashion parade was presented in the Terrace Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday nights. For two consecutive nights the theatre was packed with young and old eager to see the "New Look" in modern fashions, the clowning of the local Kinsmen and hear the musical items which contributed not a little to the enjoyment of the evening.

Previously staged by Mr. and Mrs. George McAdams for charitable purposes, this year's show was the combined efforts of the Skeena Mercantile and the Kinsmen Club. The net proceeds will go towards making a wading or swimming pool for the children on the south side of the Civic Centre.

It was a tip-top show, the artists and models being in fine form.

The "New Look" modelled on a very old style of dress gave a look of simplicity and girlishness which was altogether charming on the young models. It was a decidedly "little girl" look, not for sophisticated misses. The most becoming silhouette of the season was modelled by Pat Judd in an afternoon dress of heavy bengaline black and white check trim, full ballerina skirt and short basque jacket. A preview of styles to come in Terrace was shown by Phyllis Little wearing a black ballerina skirt and Gibson girl blouse with eyelet ruffles. Full embroidered, ribbon-trimmed petticoats showed beneath the Gibson girl blouses complete with a big bow tie.

The stage was beautifully decorated for the occasion with lovely spring yard goods and an archway of artificial flowers.

The dainty, flower-trimmed ballet dresses were locally made and all the clothes worn by the models were from the dress department of the Skeena Mercantile.

Lovely afternoon dresses, ballerina suits and luxury suits as well as simple and sophisticated dinner gowns were all there to see and admire.

Small children modelled play clothes and hooded spring coats, the star of these being tiny little Susan Campbell whose only concern was the bow of ribbon in her hair.

The Kinsmen opened the show with the Kin chorus and the bride tableau was the closing item. Mr. McAdam was the announcer and accompanist was Mrs. Bruce Barr. Other accompanists were Constable Bruce, Mrs. Peeke Vout, and Mrs. Lloyd Johnstone.

Modelling the children's clothes were Susan Campbell, David Peek e-Vout, Marilyn Johnstone, Lorne Little, Judy and Freddy Barr, Sandra Pache, Betty Lee van Stolk.

Models were Mrs. A. Kirkaldy, Mrs. Osborne, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Frank Gavan, Mrs. van Stolk, Mrs. B. Cooper, Mrs. R. Judd, Irene Pratt, Colleen Whalen, Dolly Haugland, Jean Kirkaldy, Pat Tumlinson, Phyllis Little.

Jean Kirkaldy was the bride in the bridal tableau.

On the program were J. McLeod, D. Little, H. Pache, P. van Stolk, B. Norberg, J. Schultzie, V. Giraud, C. Grant, L. Casey, M. Peeke-Vout, H. Whalen, N. Arseneau, in the Kin chorus.

COUNCIL ADOPTS AUDIT REPORT

Net Deficit of $2,405 In General Revenue Operations

Prince Rupert had a deficit of $2,405 in its general revenue operations last year but showed a minute profit on its loan rate, according to the 1947 auditor's report adopted by City Council last night.

The report was accepted without comment by the aldermen after its approval had been recommended by Alderman T. B. Black, finance committee chairman.

Total general rate expenditures—used in the normal operation of the city—were $347,199, while gross revenues in the general rate were $344,794, leaving a deficit of $2,405.

School revenues totalled $80,090, while expenditures took an equal amount from the city coffers.

Revenue from the loan rate was $92,868, while expenditures were $92,801, leaving a credit of $7.74.

General rate revenues were made up of $84,593 in tax levies plus $1,825 in tax penalties and $727 interest on arrears. Utilities grossed $147,389, of which the telephone department grossed $71,296 and the water department, $76,092. The city received $24,283 in provincial government grants.

Total operating expenditures for the year were $520,098.

ASKS RECISSION OF LIQUOR BAN

Ald. Casey Would Let Oldsters Have Liquor

Claiming that he was "not the keeper of a penitentiary," Alderman George Casey belabored his colleagues in city council last night over failure of the Pioneers' Home committee to lift the liquor interdiction imposed on Home inmates last December.

He learned that the committee planned to review the interdiction cases in the near future, but failed in an attempt to have council lift the ban forthwith.

The interdiction was imposed shortly before Christmas on grounds that some of the elderly residents had been creating disturbances in the Pioneers' Home by returning intoxicated or, in some cases, failing to return at all.

Alderman Casey spoke after Alderman Arthur Brooksbank had delivered a report on the Pioneers' Home, of which he is committee chairman, ending with the comment that the committee had visited the home last week and found everything "in first class condition."

"They not only dictate what goes on inside the home, but also what the men do when they are outside of it," Alderman Casey retorted.

He moved that the interdiction be immediately rescinded and the men restored their full rights as citizens." The motion failed to find a seconder.

"If Alderman Casey would change his motion so that council might suggest to the Pioneers' Home Committee that the interdiction be rescinded, I might second it," Alderman Black said. "I think the committee

A. They should call not later than the following day.

A. Yes. But, sad as it seems, resentment instead of gratitude is usually the effect, and very often a broken friendship.

Q. Should a man wear plain black socks with a formal evening suit?

A. Yes; patent leather shoes, white ties, and plain black silk socks should be worn.

should have the power, not council."

"The matter was coming up before the committee in the near future anyway," Alderman Brooksbank replied.

Alderman McKay suggested that the committee consider each case individually. His opinion was shared by Alderman Rudderham who pointed out that "discretion will have to be used or the ban might have to be slapped back on again."
