Canada's Answer To Communism Is Social Security -- Paul Martin

QUEBEC, Q.—Canada's answer to communism is economic and social security providing a level of life that communism cannot match, Hon. Paul Martin, minister of health, said today. He declared in an address prepared for delivery in French at a meeting of the Quebec Reform Club, that "these are decisive years for democracy."
"As world citizens," Mr. Martin asserted, "we cannot escape the fate of our generation. In Parliaments of the world political leadership of mankind has long debated and in many countries will soon be put to a vote. Soon we shall know whether this century is dedicated to democracy or whether, under communism, lights will go out all over the world."

GENERAL HOSPITAL ADMITTED 2,290 PATIENTS LAST YEAR — IS DECREASE

There were 2,290 patients admitted to Prince Rupert General Hospital in 1947, a decrease of about 8 per cent under 1946, C. G. Ham, hospital board chairman, said last night in his report to the annual meeting of the institution.
Mr. Ham's report was received, with a vote of thanks by the 17 members present who re-elected him to serve on the 1948 Board. Later he was again selected as chairman by the other board members.
Statistics contained in Mr. Ham's report showed that there were 1,151 operations performed in the hospital, 326 of them major and 825 minor.
There were 312 births in the hospital and 84 deaths. In three cases twins were born.
"During the early months of last year the shortage of nurses was most serious and it was impossible to maintain adequate service," Mr. Ham said. "Considerable study was given at that time to a proposal to operate a training school for non-professional staff but, unfortunately, it was found impractical and the plan abandoned. I am pleased to report that the situation improved later to such an extent as to permit the re-opening of the first floor."
"There still exists, however, an acute shortage of trained personnel—a fact which frequently reacts unfavorably toward the hospital. In view of this, I know our thanks are due to the entire organization—nurses management, doctors and general staff—for the manner in which they all have co-operated through the year to carry on the affairs of the hospital efficiently and effectively."
Mr. Ham pointed out that the contract or remodeling the former military wing had been let and that, on completion, it "would not only provide for an additional 60 patients, but will give a completely modern hospital."
"The alterations will improve and modernize all departments and will include a model children's section. Credit for this latter addition goes to the Prince Rupert Rotary Club whose efforts now have culminated successfully."
"Decision to proceed at this time with this major undertaking was reached only after careful surveys and planning. With it, I am sure that every citizen will have ample reason to be proud of the hospital facilities of our community."
"Hospital costs in common with all other services, have risen steeply and it has been impossible to stay within our budget. The deficit, however, is by no means an isolated case and the need for additional government grants for hospitals is well recognized today."
"In comparison, our institution is maintaining a high standard of hospitalization commensurate with its fixed charges, although I would remind you that our present financial position has been improved by the foresight of the previous board in procuring substantial amounts of war surplus supplies. This advantage, of course, cannot continue to hold down operating costs as new materials become necessary."
Mr. Ham said that the Board

SINO-AMERICAN PACT
WASHINGTON—A secret but once suspended agreement to arm China with 1000 American war planes is in full force again. The administration let this be known today in reply to congressional critics demanding military aid for Chiang Kai Shek's nationalist armies which are locked in combat with communist forces.

DIES IN RING
HOLLYWOOD—Ten seconds before the end of his first professional fight, Leroy Decatur, 20-year old negro light-weight boxer, collapsed and died in the ring at Hollywood Legion Stadium last night. A Los Angeles fighter, who had had 49 amateur bouts, Decatur was ahead on points of his opponent, Fred Hehera, 20-year old Mexican battler from Jerome, Arizona, when the tragedy occurred.

"COMPLETE CHANGE"
PRAGUE—Communist Premier Klement Gotta today promised a "complete change" for his country. The former minister of justice, Dr. Prokop Drtina, was found severely injured in front of his home today. A letter indicated he had tried to kill himself.

CHIANG DESPERATE?
NANKING—Reliable sources said today that Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek had decided to abandon the Manchurian capital of Changchun in a desperate effort to save Mukden from the Chinese communists. There was no official confirmation.

OKALKA CONDITIONS
VANCOUVER—Charges of filthy conditions and unfair padding of prisoners at Okalka Prison Farm will be presented to Attorney General Gordon Wismar by Harold Winch, C. C. F. Opposition leader in the Legislature. Mr. Winch made public a letter, smuggled out of the prison, charging such conditions. Warden J. H. Millman denied the charges, declaring that "conditions are 100 per cent O.K. considering we have so many people."

Helsinki To Give Answer To Stalin at Moscow Soon

PEOPLE OF BALTIC SCANDINAVIAN COUNTRY APPEAR RESIGNED — POLITICAL ATMOSPHERE TENSE

HELSINKI (CP)—President Juho E. Paasikivi is expected to name a delegation by Tuesday to discuss with Moscow the friendship treaty requested by Prime Minister Joseph Stalin. It seems likely that the delegation will be headed either by Premier Mauno Pelkala or by Foreign Minister Carl Enkell, as to what kind of pact was intended, whether of friendship, mutual defence or a combination of both.

The Foreign Ministry said that President Paasikivi had received a personal letter on Thursday containing what was described as a "Soviet program declaration." There was no explanation of the phrase. The letter was said to be signed personally by Premier Stalin.

Well informed diplomatic sources said that the President later met with members of his government for two days to discuss the matter.

Stalin had informed Finland that she should sign a pact with Russia similar to those linking the Soviet Union and its other neighbors, sources close to the government said last night.

Tension suggestive of atmosphere of government crisis pervaded the country.

National $3,000,000 Red Cross Drive Opens Monday Morning

THIRTY CANVASSERS WILL COVER CITY TO MEET $3,000 QUOTA

With a countrywide objective of $3,000,000, the Canadian Red Cross appeal for 1948 opens on Monday and on that day some 30 canvassers will start visiting Prince Rupert homes and business places seeking donations for the humanitarian work.

Prince Rupert's quota this year is $3,000, according to Campaign Chairman S. H. Saville who anticipates that, from the quota standpoint, the drive will be even more successful than previous ones. This year's quota is below former years.

The campaign is expected to last three weeks. "One of the big factors in a campaign of this sort is for the public to be ready for the canvassers when they call," Mr. Saville said. "It helps these volunteer workers greatly if they do not have to make 'call-backs' in order to pick up donations."
The Red Cross, which rendered invaluable service during the war, has now turned to a multitude of peacetime projects many of which are vital to the well-being of thousands of Canadians.

"The Work of Mercy Never Ends" is the slogan which the Red Cross uses to remind Canadians that throughout the year, quietly but effectively, thousands of humanitarian acts are performed because of the dollars they contribute.

- Some of the work which Red Cross dollars are used for are:
1. Free blood transfusion service.
  2. Maintenance of 71 outpost hospitals for Canadian frontiers (There is an outpost hospital at Terrace).
  3. Aid for disabled and sick veterans.
  4. Hospital treatment for crippled children.
  5. Junior Red Cross work, which aims at finer, healthier young children.
  6. Swimming and water safety instruction.
  7. Nutritional services.
  8. Disaster relief.
  9. First Aid instruction and First Aid posts on highways.
  10. Home nursing courses and other nursing services.
  11. Sickroom loan cupboards, medical and dental services, women's workrooms, visiting home-makers.

Each year, the work spreads wider, covering greater sections of the country. Ninety-seven per cent of the services are made possible through the work of volunteers without whose help the society could not function.

The complete list of local canvassers is still under preparation

HOSPITAL OPERATION SATISFACTORY DESPITE $6,000 DEFICIT IN 1947

Despite the fact that it operated at a deficit of over $6,000, the 1947 operations of the Prince Rupert General Hospital were "very satisfactory" according to opinions expressed by members of last year's Board at the annual meeting of the Hospital Association last night.

Overall operating expenditures were $127,304, while revenues were $121,123, it was revealed in the revenue and expenditure account presented by Secretary-Manager D. C. Stevenson.

Held in the city council chamber, the annual meeting heard the annual report of Chairman C. G. Ham, elected five members to the Board, received financial statements and approved a series of minor revisions to the Constitution of the association.

C. G. Ham was returned as chairman and Earl Gordon, was named vice-chairman. Other elected Board members are Thomas McMeekin, Sydney Elkins and C. A. Berner.

Other board members are G. F. Forbes and W. L. Armstrong, representing the provincial government, and Alderman Ralph Morin, representing the city.

The statement of operating revenues showed that receipts from various hospital fees totalled $111,191, from which was deducted $15,562 for free cases, rebates on earlier accounts, provisions for doubtful accounts and bad debts written off.

Net receipts from hospital fees totalled $95,628, to which was added $14,566 per diem grants from the provincial government, $7,993 in municipal per diem grants and $2,935 in income from investments and other small revenue sources.

Deducted from revenues was the sum of $11,283 for "free cases," which, Mr. Ham pointed out, was far more than the operating deficit.

"However, that is something no hospital can get away from. On the whole I think we had a very satisfactory year," he said. Finance Committee Chairman Arnold Flaten said that "with the exception of salaries, costs were about the same as 1946."

THE WEATHER

(Synopsis)
Skies were clear in most areas of British Columbia this morning. Some cloudiness was present in the Cariboo area and on the northern coast. The cold air mass lying over Northern and Central B. C. produced sub-zero temperatures during the night. Prince George reported 17 below at 6 a.m. across southern B. C. temperatures varied from 30 at the coast to 10 above zero in the Kootenays.

A disturbance moving into the Gulf of Alaska this morning, is expected to cause increasing cloudiness on the north coast today with rain tonight. Increased cloudiness should spread to the southern coast regions on Sunday. A little moderation may be expected in temperatures in northern and central B. C. in the next 36 hours. Elsewhere there will be very little change.

(Forecast)

Winds light increasing to southerly (20 m.p.h.) tonight. Milder. Lows tonight and highs Sunday—At Port Hardy 36 and 40, Massett 34 and 40, Prince Rupert 34 and 40.

RUPERT WEATHER STAYS BEAUTIFUL

Prince Rupert's moonlight nights and mornings continue. Most of this week, the light of the moon shone clear in a cloudless sky. Weather in daytime might be a bit changeable but night after night the moon would appear sooner or later and would certainly be in evidence as dawn approached. It was like that this morning. Meantime dispatches told of heavy gales and snow storms in Alberta.

FOR Human KINDNESS...

With suffering reaching unprecedented proportions abroad—and with our people at home facing many complex problems of peace, the need for generosity and kindness of heart was never greater than right now.

In such times as these, people turn to the Red Cross as to an old friend, confident that they will receive help seasoned with friendship and a deep understanding of their problems.

In Canada, the work of mercy moves ahead. Red Cross services are now established in many humanitarian fields. . . . Blood Transfusion Service, to save lives of mothers in childbirth, accident victims. . . . Out-post Hospitals in northern settlements, so that our isolated citizens may have medical care in their times of need. . . . Aid for our veterans, disabled, in distress. . . . Junior Red Cross, inspiring our children to better health, good citizenship, and many other important services. We invite you to share in this great and far-reaching work.

SEX
 (By Rev. Basil S. Prockter, St. Andrew's Cathedral)

I am beginning to get a little tired of the doctrine that sex is the most beautiful thing in the world. Necessary, yes. Good in its way, yes! But receiving today far more advertising and build-up than it merits. Teaching young people to choose their mates on the basis of who puts them in the state of greatest physical excitement, instead of on the basis of what the other one thinks, believes, hopes and loves! Implying that beauty consists in the measurement of bust, hips etc!

It is refreshing to notice a healthy reaction against this in many of the young people of our time. There is a spirit of irreverence with regard to the body beautiful which is growing today. Notice it in live and in collegiate conversation. I like it. Certainly we all have to learn to be reverent where reverence is due but reverence where no reverence is due is worse than no reverence. The traditional reverence for woman, for example, has not been on the basis of her physical attributes but her spiritual attributes which, when denied, make a woman a far more dreadful travesty of a human being than is possible in a man. The Son of God was born of a woman.

The Bible tells us that sex came to man as a result of disobedience. They knew that they were naked after they had disobeyed God. In other words, since by disobedience man came under the law of the natural world which is birth and death, sexual differentiation entered the picture as the necessary concomitant. Since man, by disobedience would die, other men would have to be born. The Bible teaches us that there is no such thing as sex in heaven and that there was no such thing in the Garden of Eden before the Fall. God does not need the animal process in order to create in His image. But since things are as they are, it is all very necessary and right in its way. But nothing to boast about!

The Victorians may have been wrong with their excessive sense of shame about sex. But we are just as wrong in trying to drive all sense of shame and modesty from the world. For apart from some sense of shame and sin, have we any right to consider ourselves human beings at all? The person with no sense of shame and sin is surely just an ape and not a human being at all.

And suppose that anyone should object and say that we should assimilate more into the ways of the higher animals and what noble creatures they are, could I be permitted to point out that if tigers had calendars they wouldn't put girls on them. Nor if they did, would they make such a fuss over the beauty and form of the mammary organs and then bring up a whole human race on artificial feeding methods. No, we have found it quite impossible to live as the higher animals live. It is time we turned from the textbooks of the world of nature, back to the textbook of God and the human soul . . . the Bible.

Mrs. George D. Hague is sailing tomorrow night on the Comquillam for Stewart to join Mr. Hague who recently accepted employment there, and make her future home.

PRINCE RUPERT ATTACKED

THE KETCHIKAN CHRONICLE, on at least one occasion of late, appears to have gone out of its way to knock Prince Rupert. Knowing Publisher W. L. Baker as we thought we did, and believing him a stout friend of Prince Rupert's we are somewhat surprised at a recent feature article on the Chronicle's Page 1 centre devoting itself to one of the most unwarrantedly critical blue ruin articles pertaining to Prince Rupert which we have seen in a long time. The article paints a picture of frustration, depression, austerity and pessimism here that is so contrary to the facts of the situation that we consider it unworthy even of re-publication. The celanese mill is criticized and "many businessmen" here are credited with feeling that "the mill will mean little to the community" anyway. Local merchants are said to be suffering the worst recession in the town's history . . . worse than in any of the depression years. The article comes to a climax with the statement that "many of the citizens are just waiting for the demolition of the United States Army installations because it will provide employment for 100 or so idle persons."

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce has already taken steps to check up on the endorsement or otherwise by Publisher Baker of such an attack and is justified in doing so in order that we may know who are—and who are not—our friends.

It is difficult, as a Chamber of Commerce leader remarked yesterday, "to understand such a vicious attack, so grossly distorting the truth, more particularly as we have always had a genuine liking and respect for the City of Ketchikan and its citizens, a liking which we believe is general throughout Prince Rupert. We have also entertained the greatest respect and friendship for the publisher of the Chronicle. This feeling, too, we believe to be shared by all in Prince Rupert who know him.

"It is more in sorrow and disappointment than in anger that we are forced to the realization that our feelings of friendship and esteem evidently are not reciprocated.

"If the activities of a city in another country should affect materially the welfare of Prince Rupert we might feel called upon to oppose them. But if the temptation to criticize a friendly community ever assails us, we sincerely hope the dictates of good taste and good manners will come to our rescue and prevent us publishing destructive criticism solely for the sake of criticizing."

To which the Daily News says "Amen."

WORSE THAN WAR

THE OTHER EVENING, the husky-voiced girl who always sounds heartbroken, started the customary after dinner chore and it was worse than ever. She must have had an unholy falling-out with somebody or other. One felt saddened and a bit maddened. Couldn't help it. Relief came when the announcer said:

"For the next quarter of an hour, the band of His Majesty's Coldstream Guards." We may hate war, and anything suggesting war, but Boy!

Red Cross Juniors lead on to lasting peace

WHILE OTHERS talk about it, 850,000 members of the Canadian Junior Red Cross are doing something to assure permanent world peace. Through their constant correspondence with Junior Red Cross members in foreign lands, international friendliness is being promoted—and the desire of all peace-loving nations brought nearer.

The practice of health; relief for child victims of war; work for veterans in hospitals; service to handicapped children—all form part of the great job of work now under way.

Even as Canada needs the Red Cross, so the Red Cross needs your financial backing—and that means every dollar you can spare. Every cent you give will be used for a noble cause. Now is the time to be generous. Give MORE to the Red Cross!

LETTERBOX

Editor, Daily News: The letter appearing in Thursday's issue written by G. M. Perry in reply to a news item from Burns Lake was of interest to the writer. It so happens that we have a well organized Chamber of Commerce in Prince Rupert and their attitude in this matter, of vital importance to every operator of a motor vehicle appears negligible for their attitude is mum. As pointed out by Mr. Perry it seems a pity that the B.C. Motor Association and the Associated Boards of Trade of Central B.C. should lie dormant on a matter of such vital importance to the public. It is a known fact in Saskatchewan when one applies for a motor licence, it is also necessary to enclose five dollars to cover insurance. If the Saskatchewan government can supply insurance at such a nominal fee, why should the B.C. motorist be penalized to the tune of $24. There is no doubt the idea is sound. On the other hand why should an auto owner in B.C. be penalized over and above neighboring provinces? Thanking you Mr. Editor I am, Yours truly, LEW ANDERSON.

WHYS AND WHYS-BY Barbara Brent

MONTEAL, Feb. 26th-Fashion's Formula for Spring, in no uncertain terms, demands a good figure under that New Look of yours! Here's the secret to a smooth silhouette... without dieting, girdles or other! Foundation garments made of nylon fabric assure you of firm control without bulk... provide you with the ultimate in smooth fit! You see, the nylon fabric is permanently "set to shape", so your foundation garment will not stretch or shrink. It's easy to wash-quick to dry-and you can forget about ironing, for it simply and you with these long-wearing, wear and tear resistant foundations. Just remember to look for the tag "Fabric Made of Nylon" as your shopping guide!

OUCH! This is just the kind of cooking tip I like to pass along... a budget-wise way to bring flavour and life to your meals! Keep Oxo, in a handy cube or fluid form, in a handy place on your kitchen shelf. It's the goodness and flavour of prime lean beef and means more "meatiness" in your meals at less expense! For instance, begin a meatless meal with Oxo vegetable soup... or make meatier stews by adding Oxo. And even without meat-you can have rich Oxo gravy! Your grocer has Oxo for you... and remember, when you're buying-Oxo has remained stable in price!

It's Good Economy to bake your cakes with the finest of cake flour... poor economy to risk good ingredients with anything less than a tested, reliable brand. That's why I urge you to be sure to ask for SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR... the flour made by cake flour specialists! You see, Swans Down is finest Canadian wheat, sifted again and again through silk-then tested by the Swans Down staff of Home Economics experts. As I have, that cakes baked with this tested flour are usually successful... feather-light, moist and even-crumbed. So for SWANS DOWN to-morrow and try this recipe! CHOCOLATE FUDGE CAKE

The Perfect Answer to the problem of how to have more mealtimes nourishment at less expense is HEINZ CONDENSED VEGETABLE SOUP! It's not necessary to stretch your food budget out of all proportion in order to have well-balanced meals! Simply ask your grocer for any one or several of these delicious Heinz soups... Tomato-Pea - Celery - Mushroom - Cream of Green Vegetable - Asparagus-and, of course, delicious Vegetable soup, containing fourteen varieties of vegetables. Serve these savoury soups in meat loaves-pies-sauces. I never worry about having a well-rounded menu when there's a good supply of Heinz soups on my kitchen shelf... easy to serve-easy on my budget and always deliciously welcome!

Orchids To You if you've already discovered the budget-wise way to make tasty tried dishes taste even better! For versatile Mazola Salad Oil gives that out-of-this-world flavour to fried foods... and saves on butter bills by the way! No wonder this golden utterly delicious salad oil is a cooking "must" in thousands of Canadian kitchens... a flavour favourite all over the Dominion! Ask your grocer for MAZOLA SALAD OIL to-morrow... it's a wise and flavourful way to cook with economy!

fires to keep them going until morning. And it may be December, January or February.

The one cheerful aspect of the whole arrangement is that both the "departure," and the temperatures are temporary. Both conditions, thank my lucky stars, as Scripture puts it, "came to pass." And while I lugged in coal and carried ashes out—such quantities of ashes as compares only to the ruins of Rome—I repeated it to myself. "It came to pass—it came to pass." Believe it or not, I think it helped.

That my stoking ever kept us from turning into human icicles borders the miraculous. (Those, my friends, are not my own words, but chosen at random from some of the eloquent speeches made by the "dear departed" on his return. Burning coal, the best of it, is an art learned in very recent years, and one very low down on my list of accomplishments. And the coal strike made it no better.

Quite recently I read an article on the "imagination." How, properly used, it is almost the chief end of man. In my hands, such a statement is dangerous. At least, it might have been a risk had I not been so busy rattling a stubborn grate, hunting for just one more stick of kindling or constantly heaping questionable blessings on great chunks of fuel that should never have been moved from its place in the bowels of the earth.

Even as some small, very dirty pieces fell on the floor, I pinched this lagging imaginative property and attempted to go behind this era of ashes and soot. Back to that time when a length of pipe, holding 250 pounds pressure, came directly from an oil well into my own kitchen, controlled by a heavy valve, and myself. Knowing that a four-ounce gas pressure was sufficient, and safe, for city consumers worried me not at all. Everybody had pounds of pressure in their stoves and everybody was careful—and it was wonderful. There was gas for the kitchen, for lights, for the garage—and all, as I screamed in unison with a new radio mania, "for free — for free — free-ee."

That was three days before the wanderer returned from his winter wanderings. And that day I happened to look at the Christmas cactus which, next to me, is Hub's pride and joy. Since the time he cradled it, as a slip, all the way down from Port Essington, it has flourished under his tender care.

To my unpracticed eye, it did not seem to be itself. Health goes not mean rosy cheeks on a cactus but it does not mean shrivelled fronds either.

Everybody knows that some people have a "green hand" while others have not. I have not. Mine ranks so poorly that it is classed on my husband's list of accomplishments with "keeping a good fire burning." But then, he likes a house real warm, and he puts this business of "green hands" down to nothing more than a hand that carries the right amount of water to plants at regular intervals. But he's that way about everything, always figuring things out so practical-like.

His last words came back to me. Of course, I wished they had been, "Goodbye, my darling." Or, "I'll be missing you every minute." But the winds wafted back, "Be sure and water the cactus."

It was all too plain that the cactus hadn't got much water and while it waited yet longer for a drink I psycho-analysed the set-up. Five minutes was long enough. Apparently that rebuff at parting had made me, subconsciously, of course, resentful of the cactus. Therefore I had refused to water it.

There again, Hub set me straight. In one sentence, "Bosh!" he said. "You never do water it so why should you suddenly change your ways?"

It sounded practical and good. So good that "Little Red Riding Hood" is again on the book shelf, defying any psychological effect it may have on young children's minds.

Ole Wick is completing construction at his Cow Bay boat works of a 42-foot troller for Carl Marki, local fisherman. The vessel was launched on Thursday. Its decking and deck housing is still to be completed.

Northbound on her regular sailing to Southeast Alaska ports, C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise, Capt. Graham Hughes, is due to dock here at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, the local C.P.R. office was advised this afternoon.

Poundage of fish handled by the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative during the year 1948, totalling 14,000,000 pounds, was more than that handled by the other two co-operatives on the coast—the United Fishermen's Co-operative, Vancouver, and the Kyupot Trollers Co-operative, Victoria.

Fish handled by the three co-operatives during 1947 was in excess of 26,000,000 pounds, T.H. Sorensen, president of B.C. Fishermen's Co-operative Federation, reported at the annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Co-op this week.

Sales value of coast co-op-produced fish was about $7,000,000. Halibut accounted for about 11,000,000 pounds of the com-

Two girls, Rosario Soriano and Jean McKay, won the gold medals at an oratorical contest at the high school. Running their close honors were Margaret Casey and Lee Gordon, who tied for third place, while next to them in the order of merit were Roth Gordon, Jack Stevens, Sudao Suga and Hazel Beadestone.

John Heckman, engineer and part owner of the American halibut schooner Alaska, had his arm amputated as a result of an accident in which his arm was caught in the gears of the vessel's winch.

Prince Rupert anticipated an increase in the mill rate due to a decrease of more than $1,000,000 in assessment values below 1922. Assessment in 1923 was $4,949,240 as against $6,072,354 in 1922.

Earl is his given name but, to avoid confusion at home, his second name was shortened to "Billy" and Billy Becker he is to all that know him. He was born right here in the city 13 years ago and enjoyed his Prince Rupert boyhood. Like his father he is a keen hunter and doesn't need more than one invitation to oil up his rifle or shotgun when the deer or bird season is open.

brought a tow of lumber from Vancouver for Capt. H. B. Babington.

In the realm of indoor team sport, Billy likes basketball the best. During the winter he played for the Civic Centre Arrows. A Booth Memorial High School student this year, he is in grade 8. Being an industrious stamp collector, Billy joined the school stamp club where he enjoys the companionship of other students with similar interests.

As a member of the Civic Centre and the Boy Scouts, Billy finds plenty of activity to fill his spare time but even if he did have more time, he wouldn't spend it reading. He would much rather engage in some outdoor activity such as boating or fishing.

Billy's route, number 7, takes in the whole of Westview which he took over last fall. Just what line of work he will follow when his schooling is complete is still an unanswered question to Billy but in the meantime University training is a part of his future plans.

Q. How should wet fur be dried?
A. Do not dry it by the heat of a fire, as this causes the skin to become brittle and the hair to fall out. Shake the fur thoroughly to get out the moisture, then hang up to dry.
Q. How can I make a dessert out of stale cake?
A. An inexpensive and delicious dessert can be made by pouring hot lemon sauce over stale cake that has been heated in the oven.
Q. How can I relieve pain of burns?
A. Try applying the white of an egg.

FLYING CLUB ASKING GOV'T FOR SUBSIDY

Prince Rupert Aero Club is joining other members of the Royal Canadian Flying Clubs Association in a move to have pre-war subsidies immediately restored by the government as an aid in developing Canadian civil aviation.

The club has sought support for the proposal from H. G. Archibald, M.P. for Skeena, the City of Prince Rupert and the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

Subsidies paid to the member clubs of the Royal Canadian Flying Clubs Association after its formation in 1929 were instrumental in allowing them to carry on during the depression and their activity gave Canada a pool of pilots which were in advanced stage of readiness in the early days of the last war, according to Jarvis H. McLeod, president of the Prince Rupert Aero Club.

Hundreds of club-trained pilots served with distinction in the Royal Canadian Air Force during the war.

Requests for the restoration of subsidies are being sent to Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defence by the 43 member clubs of the R.C.F.C.A., most of whom operated in 1947 at a substantial loss.

The Prince Rupert Aero Club, which is not yet in operation, is seeking assistance for the purchase of a plane and flying equipment, according to Mr. McLeod. Club buildings and landing facilities already have been turned over to it by the Department of Transport.

"The experience of many years has shown that flying training in itself is not a profitable business," Mr. McLeod said. "Before the war it was the grants received from the government for graduated pilots that enabled the flying clubs to carry on."

Equipping the Prince Rupert Aero Club will be considerably more expensive than for most other clubs in Canada since it is one of two in the country that are forced to use float planes.

How many of these dollars have you?

Today a dollar may be harmful or helpful.

If it is spent in competition with many other dollars to buy goods that are scarce, it tends to drive prices up. So, if spent needlessly, it is a harmful dollar.

But if it is placed in life insurance for future needs, it does not compete in this way with other dollars. In fact, part of it is reinvested in farms, industries and construction, thus helping produce more goods which, in turn, will tend to bring prices down. So it is a helpful dollar.

How fortunate that in Canada each year there are over two hundred and fifty million of these helpful life insurance dollars working against higher prices!

So when you buy life insurance to protect the future for yourself and your family, you are also helping to stabilize living costs.
