Local P.C.'s Hear About Ottawa Meet

Delegates Enthusiastic About New Leader—Smithers Man President

Reading of reports, an informal discussion concerning public matters and election of officers comprised the business at the annual general meeting of the Skeena Progressive-Conservative Association, held at the Civic Centre last evening. W. R. McAfee, retiring president, was in the chair.

M. C. O'Neill of Smithers is the new president. He is a pioneer business man of the interior town and is well known throughout the district. Read by J. T. Harvey, secretary, were reports from George Rorie and M. C. O'Neill who had been delegates to the national Progressive-Conservative convention in Ottawa when George Drew was elected party leader.

In the course of his report, Mr. Rorie said that, to be in Ottawa on an occasion such as the convention, was for him a wonderful experience. He had been appointed to the committee on policy and organization in which he did very little—if any—speaking but which was an education in itself. Like all the other committees it sat late every evening after each general session of the convention. Its deliberations carried a great deal of weight with its senior body—the resolutions committee.

As to the election of Mr. Drew as party leader, Mr. Rorie said he did not think that a better man could have been chosen. He is comparatively young and a dynamic and brilliant speaker. He appears to have the future of Canada very much at heart and he is an out-and-out adherent of the British Commonwealth. Mr. Rorie said he had been given to understand that Mr. Drew, with his wife, who is an equally dynamic personality, will make a tour of Western Canada at an early date.

Mr. O'Neill, writing from Smithers, thanked the Association for his nomination as delegate. The convention was a wonderful occasion in his experience and would always be remembered. The atmosphere of the event was splendid and a feeling of good fellowship prevailed throughout. In the choosing of a leader there was no room for argument. After seeing the candidates and listening to them speak, Mr. Drew was so outstanding, there could, in his opinion, be no other choice. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Honorary President, George Drew.
Honorary Vice-President, Hon. Herbert Ansbomb.
President, M. C. O'Neill, Smithers.
First Vice-President, J. T. Harvey.
Second Vice-President, Alf Harvey, Ocean Falls.
Secretary-Treasurer, Douglas Stevenson.

The meeting, which adjourned about 9:30, devoted some time to an informal and general discussion relating to district political matters. There was an impression that, within a year or perhaps earlier, Canada would have a general election. Next fall was the time most frequently heard mentioned, while some suggestions spoke of the spring. It was felt, respecting party matters in Northern B.C. that, with a federal election, in any event, not far off, it was becoming necessary to make ready for the campaign. No good purpose would be served by indefinite delay in decisions as to policies and details.

MARCEL CERDAN IN NEW YORK

PARIS, (P)—Marcel Cerdan, world middleweight boxing champion, left here by plane for New York. The Frenchman, who lifted Tony Zale's crown last September, plans to fight a number of non-title matches in the United States this winter.

Canada Seen Joining United States Orbit

Trend Toward Arms and Equipment Standards

Visit of Minister of Trade and Industry Howe to Washington Being Watched

OTTAWA (CP)—Observers here say that recent indications point to a post-war trend that appears to be taking Canada deeper and deeper into the military orbit of the United States in contrast to the traditional policy of adhering to the United Kingdom's concept of arms and equipment.

Canada, while expressing herself steadily for general Allied standardization of arms, has simultaneously been seeking integration of current military production with the United States.

Observers are watching closely the current visit of Minister of Trade and Commerce C. D. Howe to Washington. Howe indicated yesterday that an attempt was being made to have Canadian equipment interchangeable with American items. He announced a standardization of screw threads, something that has been worked upon for thirty years.

FIVE HUNDRED HINDUS DROWN

PATNA, India, (P)—Five hundred pilgrims were feared drowned yesterday when a river steamer capsized on the sacred Ganges, while returning from the Sonapur fair, the year's biggest Hindu festival. The pilgrims, packed on the lower deck of the vessel, were believed trapped when it capsized. More than 100 cattle and horses were drowned.

WALGREN IS NOT WANTED

Feel He Would Serve Alaska—Exploiting Interests if Appointed Interior Secretary

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, (P)—Alaska Democrats said today that they had sent telegrams to President Truman opposing the appointment of Governor Mon Walgren of Washington, defeated in the recent election, as Secretary of the Interior. They felt that Walgren represented the interests in the Pacific Northwest whose main interest would be to exploit Alaska.

BOAT ESCAPES IN EXPLOSION

A flash-back in the engine room of the fish packer Rap I, owned by John Clausen, caused a fire which did slight damage to the deck and forecabin of the vessel as she was backing away from the Imperial Oil Co. dock at 2:30 Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Clausen, who was operating the boat, said that he could not understand why the fire did not make further headway after it had been ignited by the explosion. He believes it must have smothered in the enclosed hold.

The blaze was easily extinguished by Mr. Clausen and Ben Stewart, his crew man, who used buckets to throw water onto the burning area.

The city fire department was called but the fire was practically out on its arrival. The boat was towed to the dry dock for examination of the damage.

TELEPHONE COST NO BURDEN TO CITY RATEPAYERS

The proposed $550,000 telephone rehabilitation bylaw will not be a burden on city taxpayers because it will be a self-liquidating obligation and will be paid for out of municipal telephone revenues, Alderman Robert McKay told Booth Memorial High School Parent Teachers' Association Wednesday night.

Alderman McKay made this explanation in answer to a question regarding the effect of the telephone bylaw on the city's debt in its relationship to the obligations which the proposed new school financing bylaws would incur.

The telephone bylaw should have no adverse effect on the school bylaws because it would not be met by taxation, Alderman McKay said. Profits from operation of the telephone system are expected to meet the cost of retiring the debentures. Cost of building the proposed new King Edward school and a new unit to Booth would be met partly by increased taxation. Half of the cost would be met by provincial grant and the other half by district taxation. City taxpayers would pay about 85 per cent of the district's share.

EGGS HURLED AT COMMIES

One Meeting in Alberta Broken Up and Plans for Others Cancelled

SPEEDDEN, Alberta, (P)—Details of an egg-throwing display that routed two pro-communist speakers at a recent meeting in this municipality, 100 miles northeast of Edmonton, were revealed.

A reliable source said that an audience of Canadian immigrants took exception to parts of speeches made by two unnamed speakers, and threw eggs.

The speakers cancelled plans for other appearances in the same district.

CHURCHILL FOR UNITED EUROPE

Movement Will Go Ahead With or Without Government Help, Former Premier Says

LONDON, (P)—Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill said that the United Europe movement launched at the Hague last May will go forward with or without British government support.

Churchill told a group of European ambassadors that "we hope the government will not hesitate to help us in the matter."

The Hague congress proposed the setting up of a consultative assembly to work on the European union plan. France and Belgium officially approved but Great Britain took the position that the question should be left to a "council minister" appointed by the government.

REPAIRING OF WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON—For the first time in almost a century the White House will be without a President. It has become necessary to make extensive repairs and general renovations so the president and family will find accommodation in a three-story residential house across Pennsylvania Avenue. They may be there for perhaps a year. Secret service men will be stationed near the entrance. The building will be known as the "Little White House." The President will enter and leave just like any other citizen, dwelling in any other house.

LOYALISTS MOVE ON COMMUNIST REBELS—Equipped with U.S.-made trucks and supplies, Loyalist Korean troops are shown as they prepared to leave Kwangju, in South Korea, for the Communist-held city of Yasu. Communist-led Korean rebels started an uprising while President Syngman Rhee was in Tokyo consulting with Gen. of the Armies MacArthur. U. S. soldiers managed to persuade 150 rebels to lay down their arms at Taegu.

HAINES ROAD NOW CLOSED

Canadian Authorities Unable to Cope Further This Winter With Snow Conditions

Although the Haines Highway which connects the "Inside Passage" from the Port of Haines to the Alaska Highway, 154 miles inland, is now closed for the winter, owing to drifting snow conditions at the summit in Canadian territory, Frank Metcalfe, territorial highway engineer for Alaska, who was one of the victors in the recent election, paid tribute in Prince Rupert to the Canadian authorities yesterday for what they had done thus far in keeping the road open. "They did a lot of good work with poor equipment," Mr. Metcalfe said, "quite as good as could have been expected under the circumstances." A principal difficulty is that there is no place to house the men.

Mr. Metcalfe expressed the hope that existing difficulties would have been rectified by next year and that the Canadian governments would be in a position to keep the road open throughout the winter and thus maintain the short connection between the coast and central Alaska. The distance between Haines and the Alaska Highway junction is 154 miles and 112 miles of this is through Canadian territory. The United States government is keeping the 42 miles from Haines to the British Columbia border open. It is still passable and every effort is being made to keep the road open as long as possible. The work of clearing slides continues but just how long this will be practicable is uncertain.

Mr. Metcalfe was a passenger aboard the Princess Louise bound for Seattle where he will take delivery of a new car which he will drive over the Alaska Highway to Anchorage. Accompanying him was Highway Patrolman John Monagle who will make the drive with him. Mrs. Metcalfe and Mrs. Monagle were also going south but will return to Juneau by boat while the men drive. The latter will fly back to Juneau from Anchorage.

VIOLATION OF AGREEMENT

PARIS, (P)—A French government official said here yesterday that the government regards the proposal of Great Britain and United States to return the basic industries of the Ruhr to the German people as in conflict with the Dunkerque alliance.

MARGARINE DEFENDED

Manchester Unable to See Why it Should be Called Unfit

MANCHESTER, England (P)—The Manchester Guardian says that news that the Supreme Court of Canada is about to decide whether margarine is "fit to eat" came as "unusual sort of shock" from new world to the old.

"With laws to prevent margarine from selling itself we are familiar but that a substitute which has seen us through two wars should be a forbidden food in Canada almost passes belief," the Guardian says.

The Supreme Court of Canada is scheduled to rule next week on the validity of the ban on the manufacture and sale of margarine in Canada.

We Can Build Ships

IT WAS small warship construction that early in World War II sparked a period of shipbuilding at the Prince Rupert dry dock which was to see four minesweepers and later thirteen ten-thousand ton freighters as well as two China coasters turned out, causing upwards of 2000 men to be employed in the local plant at times.

Rear-Admiral Rollo Mainguy, flag officer of the Canadian Atlantic fleet, who formerly held a similar post on this coast, spoke in Boston yesterday and broadly hinted that the time was ripe, in view of the present international situation, for Canada to be getting busy in building up her naval strength through construction of new warships.

We have often expressed regret that it should have taken a war and admission of her importance in time of crisis to bring a boom to Prince Rupert. However, it is a fact that, when new ships were needed in a hurry, Prince Rupert's dry dock was quickly resorted to and did a good job in the emergency, turning out vessels that were unexcelled in any other shipyard in Canada—even the older and more firmly established plants.

Whether or not another emergency exists at this time, it is not for us to be certain, although there have been repeated warnings that, after another war breaks out, there will not be much time to get ready to fight. No doubt, however, in any warship building program for naval and other purposes which Canada may deem it necessary or advisable to embark upon, Prince Rupert's proven facilities will be taken advantage of without too much reminding of the authorities that they still exist.

GRUENING FRIEND OF OURS

IT WAS AN interesting message of the possibilities of co-operation between the port of Prince Rupert and the territory (soon to become a state) of Alaska which the Daily News received yesterday from Alaska's friendly governor, Ernest Gruening, for delivery to the people of Prince Rupert.

Every time we meet Governor Gruening we are the more convinced of his sincere conviction that Prince Rupert can play a big part, if permitted to, in the solution of Alaska's long standing transportation difficulties. Some day, with the support and interest of such friends as Governor Gruening, and it now seems assured that he is going to remain in that important post for a while longer, Prince Rupert may well enter upon its role as the natural and most economic port of entry and railroad for Alaska.

We are having, of course, to buck the big interests centred at Seattle, who naturally want to put every obstacle they can in the way of this port which Dick Neuberger so aptly described as their "bad dream." If the Alaskans themselves are as enterprising as their kinsfolk in continental United States and Prince Rupert people, as well as the railway people and others who have interests and something to sell here, keep on the job, the worm is sure to turn some day. The natural economic laws cannot be held back forever by artificial and unreasonable restrictions which are maintained for the selfish interests of some parts of the country at the expense of others.

Prince Rupert can rest its case on the natural advantage which it so obviously possesses as the port of Alaska, but of course, it must keep pounding away all the time in the promotion of its case. More enthusiastic and persistent advocates, even among ourselves, like Governor Gruening would be very helpful.

EDUCATION OR LIQUOR?

THIS HAS BEEN Canadian Education Week. The schools have been receiving many visitors to see for themselves what is happening in the classrooms—to find out what kind of facilities and teachers they have, to get an idea how the schools are preparing students to cope with the conditions of modern life and to be better citizens of the community, the nation and the world. Articles have been written, speeches made and meetings held.

Success in the making of a better and more adequate educational system can well come from more enlightened citizens in each community, able school boards and superior teachers.

The key to bring about needed changes in the educational system and standards, after all, lies in the hands of the people whom it has been endeavoured to reach during this Education Week. Here in Prince Rupert just short of a million dollars was spent at the government liquor store last year. The city of Prince Rupert in the same year spent $80,000 on schools and education. These are striking figures. When the people become convinced, not only in Prince Rupert but in the rest of the country, that the school house is as important as the liquor store, they may be expected to take a more sober view of the sacrifices and efforts to be made for education. There are other things, too to which undue importance appears to be attached as compared with the vital matter of education.

Marshall, wife of the U.S. secretary of state; Mrs. Clement Attlee, wife of Britain's prime minister; Ambassador Douglas; Secretary Marshall; Lewis Douglas Jr., son of the ambassador; Mrs. Lewis Douglas, Jr.; Premier Attlee; Foreign Secretary Bevin and (kneeling in front of Mr. Attlee) Miss Sharman Douglas, daughter of the ambassador.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

It has been learned at a local meeting that Scandinavia is the true home of Scotsmen and that the backbone of Scottish people were the Kelts, which surely means kilts, and the Norsemen. The late M. P. McCaffery would chuckle to himself when declaring as he frequently did that he always understood the Scots descended from "ship-wrecked" Norsemen. So from this bit of ancient history it may be reasonably enough inferred that Scotland, revolving on stout ships in future, looked toward the Clyde. Hence, next to whiskey, shipbuilding became her proudest industry.

This, it is perhaps needless to say, is Education Week and much information of interest and value is heard. The various relationships between parents and teachers and the children are treated in full, as well as other matters pertaining to instruction. It might also be said there is a connection between school books and bank books—so sensitive a subject.

A broadcast Wednesday evening said Queensland in northern Australia had been without any rain for three years. Not so far away, over in Northeastern India, the average rainfall is between five and six hundred inches. This is passed along as a news item, free of charge. Speaking personally we'll stay in Prince Rupert a while longer.

Piper Bill MacKay, whose playing at the observance of Remembrance Day was an interesting feature of the occasion, hails from Winnipeg and has been residing here for the last three or four years. Speaking of bagpipe playing, many local old timers will recall the Leslie family, who, when they lived here, were frequently heard on the pipes, and who were most proficient. They moved to Montreal several years ago.

HOPS OFF FOR HARDY TODAY

Goose Hunter Is Robbed By Eagle

George Dawes, local Fisheries patrol skipper, is waiting to catch up with a certain bald eagle whose hunting instinct robbed him of one-third of his day's bag while on a hunting trip this week.

Mr. Dawes was hunting geese and had managed to hit three chonkers as they came in for a landing at Spiller River. Two of the birds were killed outright and the third wounded.

Mr. Dawes went to retrieve the two dead birds and, as he was returning, an eagle swooped down from a nearby tree and, clutching the injured goose in his talons, made off as fast as his cargo's weight would allow.

Presumably, the eagle lighted in some tree and enjoyed a feast which was about equal to its own weight.

A. No. It is the man's place to accept all responsibility for any missteps or mishaps while dancing.

Q. Which is the proper expression, "The boy was named for his father," or "The boy was named after his father?"

A. The preferred form is "the boy was named for his father."

Q. When one is asked to "fill a place" at dinner, should a person make it a point to accept?

A. Yes, if possible; and one should do it graciously and willingly.

25 Years OF WHISKY-MAKING SKILL

Sealed in charred oak casks, Harwood's Canadian Rye Whisky leaves the huge, vine-covered rack houses where the slow passing of time has brought it to a mellow maturity. Not a drop of Harwood's but it is fully aged, delicate in flavor.

The making of whiskies is not a business, but an art, as the men at Harwood's well know. For over a quarter of a century they have distilled superb ryes from the pure, crystal-clear mountain waters of the Coast Range... and watched them mature perfectly in the mild, even coast climate.

A background of fine promise, Harwood's realizes that promise.

Convention Reports—
NEW TRUSTEES ELECTED FOR TERRACE DISTRICT
TERRACE—Terrace and District School Board elected two new trustees and heard operational and financial reports from its officers at the annual meeting held in the Theatre here.
Newly elected trustees are Mrs. F. Hall and J. Hagen. Other members of the board, including Chairman Dudley G. Little, will remain in office another year.
Financing was labeled a major problem in the general report read by Secretary Treasurer C. W. Alger who said that increasing costs are placing greater pressure on the ratepayers. However, provincial government assistance has helped to offset these factors and the district school tax rate has been held at 9.86 mills.
Budget for the past year was $70,616, of which the Department of Education paid approximately $37,000. A surplus of $3,866 from the previous year left the district with $29,600 to raise by taxation.
Anticipated increases in salaries of teachers are expected to bring the total for that expense to $80,000, as compared with $43,000 for the current year.
Board Chairman Dudley Little outlined the school bylaw which will go before the people for approval tomorrow. It will raise $137,000 for new construction at Hazelton and Kispiox and for reconstruction and repair of schools at New Hazelton, Kitwanga and Terrace.
Separate senior and junior high schools at Terrace are not feasible, Mr. Little told the meeting, because there is not sufficient population to justify such division.
He said he favored the present large school districts which have simplified administration and has resulted in Terrace obtaining better teachers than formerly. A policy of paying good wages to teachers would attract a good type of person into the profession and would be of general benefit to education, he said.

FINISHED $300 ON LIQUOR CHARGE
In district police court this morning, Tom Lee, proprietor of a Port Edward Cafe, was fined $300 by Magistrate W. D. Vance after pleading guilty to supplying liquor to an interdict. The fine was the minimum for that offence under the Government Liquor Act. Tom Lee was represented by A. Bruce Brown and Constable Edward Anderson prosecuted.

FINAL LEGION BILLIARD GAME
Final game of the current Canadian Legion billiard tournament will be played at the Legion Hall Saturday night between A. M. Hurst and James Nicoll who will clash in a 200-point contest. Both players will start from scratch, making an even beginning. The game will complete the first of the Legion's winter billiard tournaments.

SHIPS and WATERFRONT
Having been granted a four months' leave of absence, O. C. Young, principal research engineer of the Fisheries Research Board in British Columbia, will carry out a mission in China for the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. While in China, his services will be at the disposal of the Chinese government through agencies set up to formulate rehabilitation plans in connection with natural resources. Mr. Young's time will be chiefly devoted to a survey of China's fish catching and processing facilities, as well as modernizing the existing operations, and the training of young Chinese fisheries technologists.

Department of Transport is advising mariners of a potential danger to navigation, consisting of a large log of spar projecting about 15 feet out of water with cables and boom attached, being sighted in Hecate Straits about 25 miles south by west from Bonilla Rock.

Gold to Candy
On the face of it, from placer-mining to candy-making may seem like a long jump but Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Shaw are doing it and with considerable grace.
When war came in 1939 the Shaws were busily and happily working the paydirt on their mineral claim near Likely in the Cariboo. With the need for more hands on the production line, they packed up their belongings and headed for the industrial centres of the east. Windsor knew them and so did Halifax but by 1947 the call of the west urged them onto the road again and they sought out their holdings near Likely.
For a year and a half the Shaws enjoyed the free outdoor

CHRISTMAS IN THE AIR—
Santa Claus took to the air last week when a Trans-Canada Air Lines "North Star" skyliner left Malton Airport, Toronto, with an 1,100 pound cargo of assorted dolls, destined for Vancouver's Christmas trade. Five-year old Sharon Norman is shown holding on tightly to a giant panda bear as she rides up the cargo ramp into the nose of the plane.

For Services Rendered
In the service of their country while contributing to the safety of those who live by the sea and travel the water lanes of this rock-edged coast, the Wilkins had literally everything they possessed destroyed by the sea and nearly lost their lives.
The responsibility of replacing the losses suffered by the Wilkins might seem to rest with the federal government but the wheels of the bureau grind slowly their red-taped way toward settlement a family way in need. We have on occasion made much over such celebrities as chance to grace our city with their presence but here is a chance to do some thing in the name of humanity and the Municipal Chapter of the I.O. D.E. are to be congratulated on their move to aid those who lost all while pursuing their duty to mankind.
While the Wilkins were on Green Island, prior to their transfer to Egg Island, they had another harrowing experience in the service of the Department of Transport, Marine Service. A southwest gale ripped the major portion of the house roof off and for several weeks they lived in a place that was only slightly drier than the wintry rain-drenched island. At that time there was no means of electrical communication with the outside world and the Wilkins just had to get along without a roof over their head until the supply boat came along. Life on a light-house is not the picnic variety but Mrs. Wilkins says it is her life and she is ready to go back to it.

Long Necks
Swans are something of a rarity in the vicinity of Prince Rupert although the occasional pair has been sighted on neighboring lakes. However, the crew of the forestry boat White Cloud, had the opportunity of viewing a flock of fifty of these large graceful birds during a recent trip to Kitkatla.
There was a near gale blowing at the time and apparently swans have an aversion to bucking head winds. They were riding out the blow on the waters sheltered by "Glen Island." Last year the crew observed a flock of approximately 100 swans sitting on the sea near Holland Rock. Weather conditions at that time were much the same as on this occasion and at the approach of the boat the birds were only mildly disturbed, flying only a few hundred feet, and then settling down again.

Churchill Xmas Cards to Bring in Dollars—Winston Churchill, who has used his gifts of oratory and statesmanship with telling effect for his country, is now using his hobby for the same purpose. These two products of Mr. Churchill's favorite relaxation—painting—which he used for Christmas cards in 1946 and 1947 have been published by a London gallery and will be sold in Britain and America. The sales in America are expected to bring in much-needed dollars. At top is a still life. Below, the "Island of Choisi."

FINISHED $300 ON LIQUOR CHARGE
In district police court this morning, Tom Lee, proprietor of a Port Edward Cafe, was fined $300 by Magistrate W. D. Vance after pleading guilty to supplying liquor to an interdict. The fine was the minimum for that offence under the Government Liquor Act. Tom Lee was represented by A. Bruce Brown and Constable Edward Anderson prosecuted.

FINAL LEGION BILLIARD GAME
Final game of the current Canadian Legion billiard tournament will be played at the Legion Hall Saturday night between A. M. Hurst and James Nicoll who will clash in a 200-point contest. Both players will start from scratch, making an even beginning. The game will complete the first of the Legion's winter billiard tournaments.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a good wall brush?

A. A good wall brush can be improvised by covering the broom with clean flannel. Brush the ceiling and walls with a downward stroke. Replace the flannel as it becomes soiled.

Q. How can I mend a large hole in a woolen sweater?

A. Try basting a piece of material on the wrong side and darning through the patch. It will make the darn stronger and will keep the shape of the garment.

Q. How can I save time

HIGH SCHOOL
OPEN HOUSE

Mothers and Fathers Visit Booth Memorial to See What Goes On

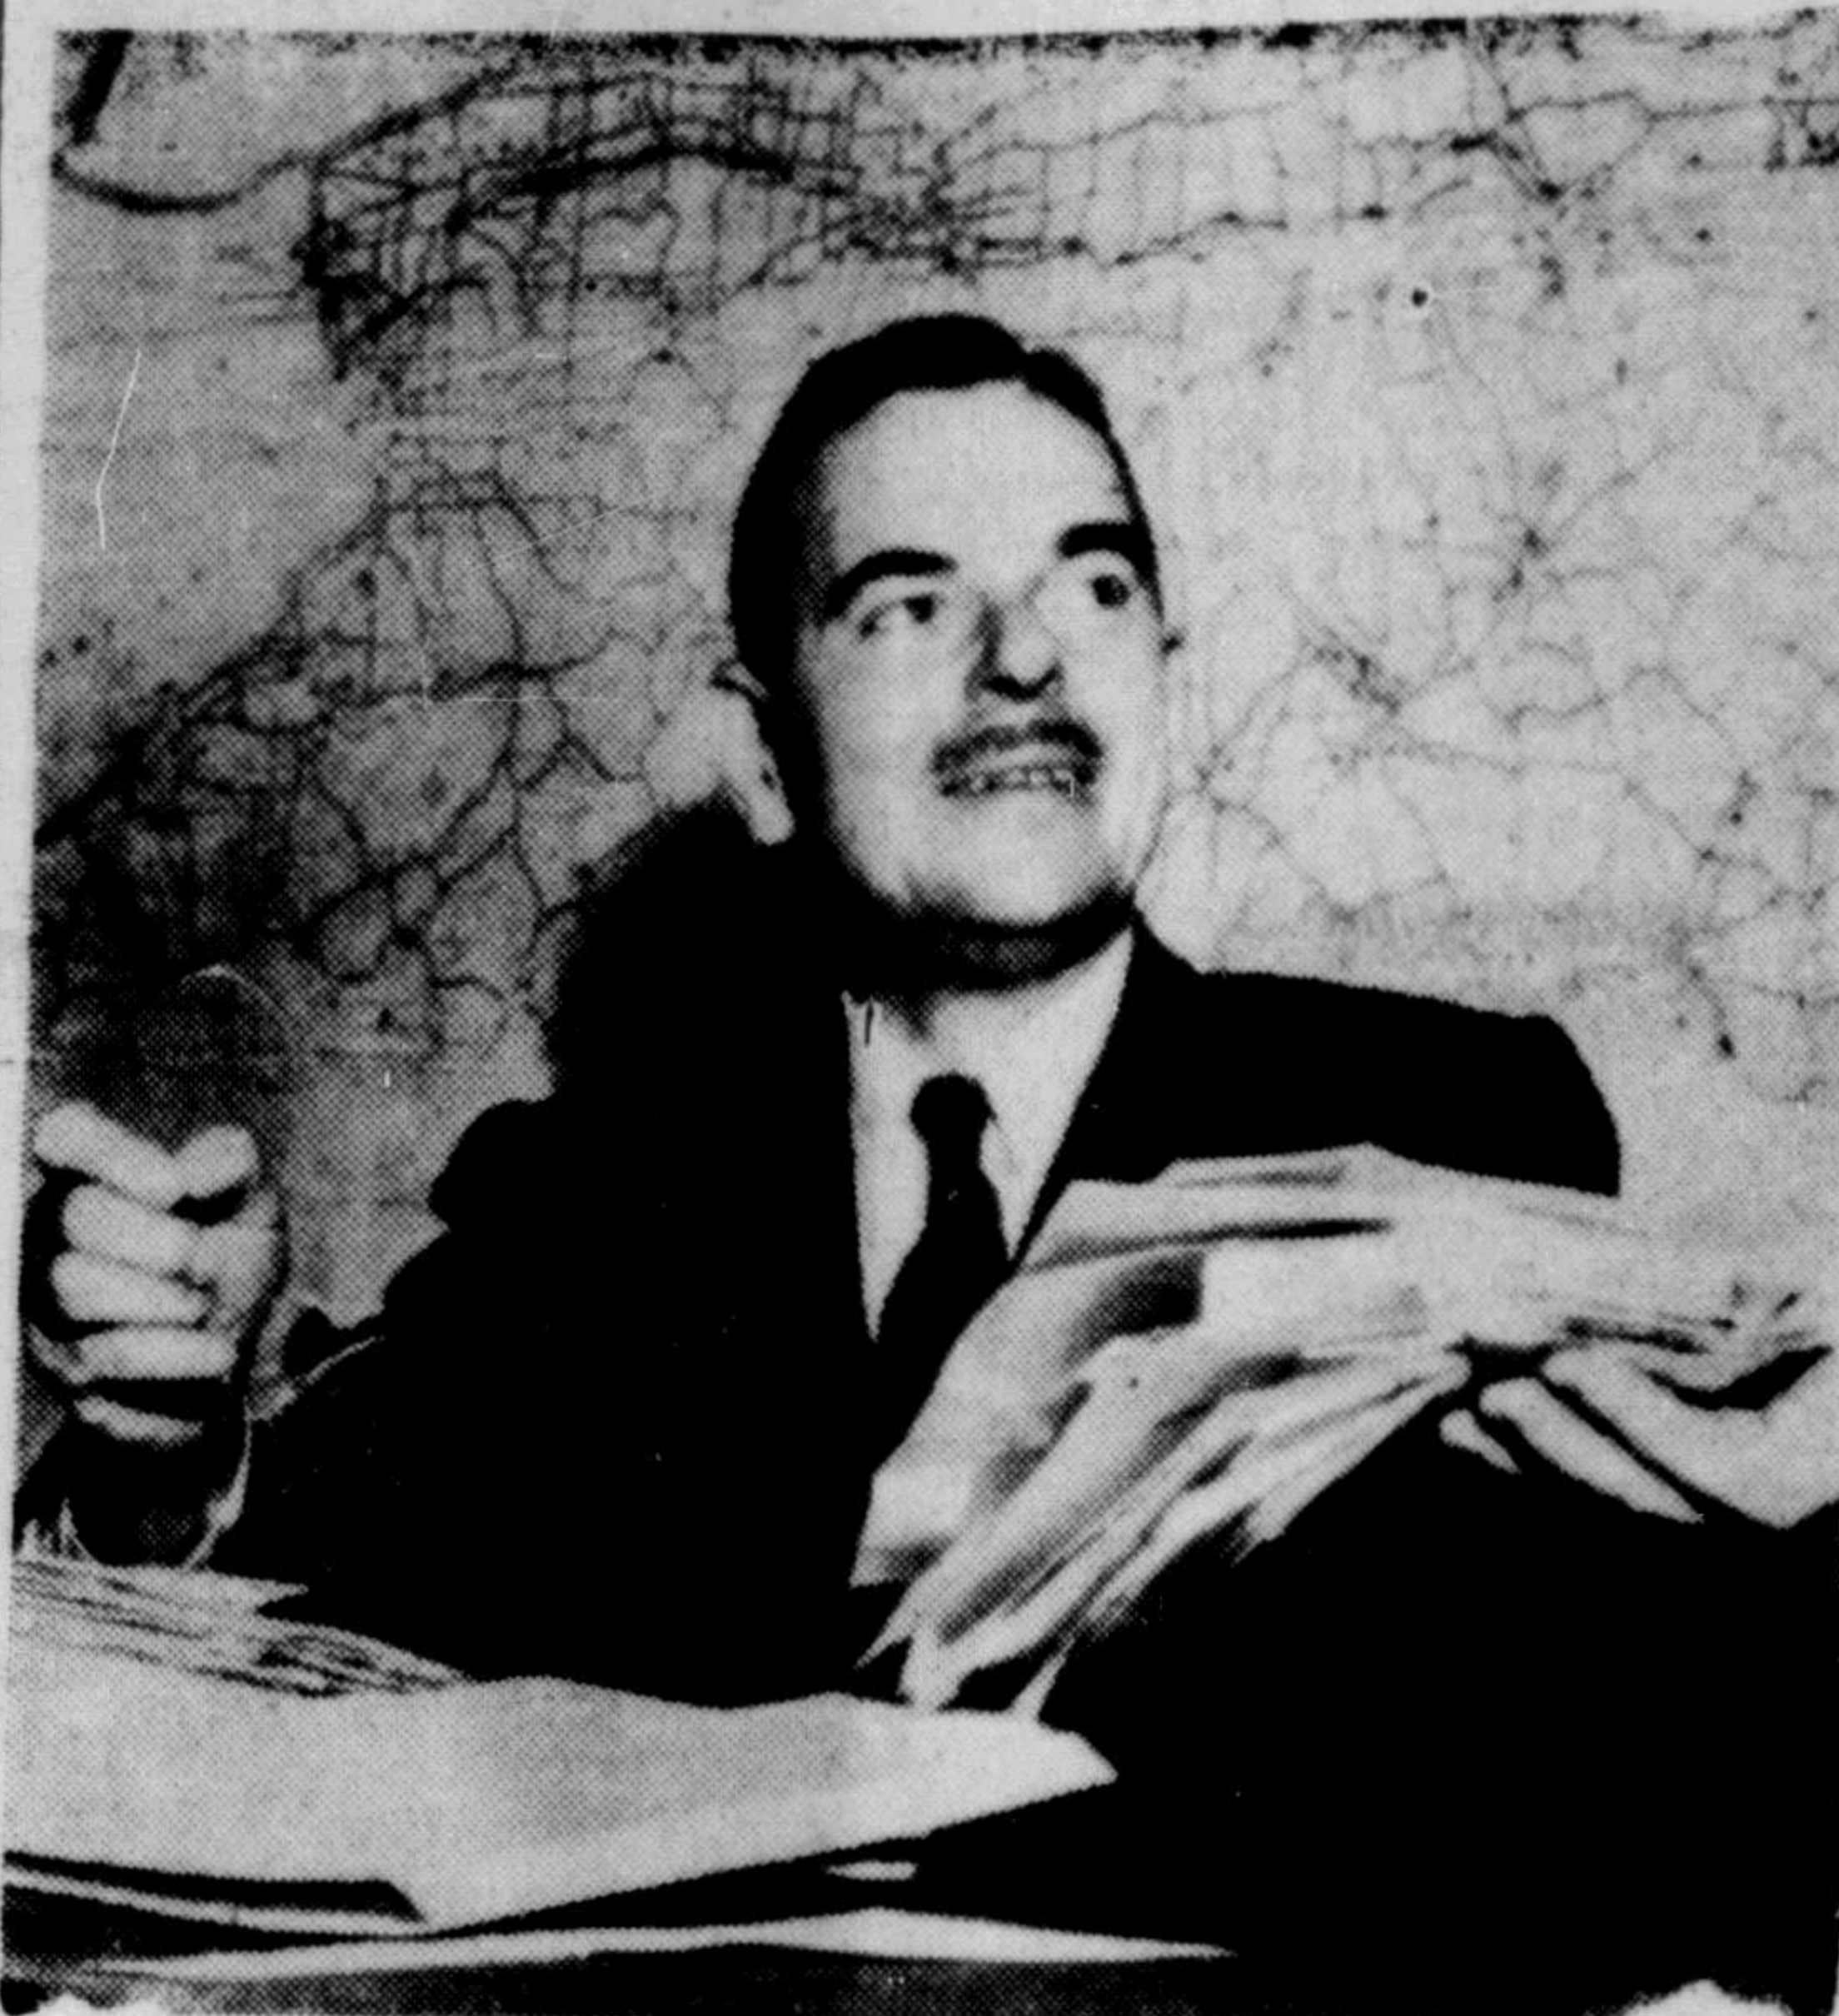

Open house at Booth Memorial High School Thursday afternoon brought out seventy-five mothers and a few fathers for a tour of the school. Guides from the senior classes met the visitors at the door and conducted them to rooms in which their children were taking classes, then throughout the school. Classes continued, as usual, insofar as possible in order that parents could see a routine afternoon. Pounding of typewriters, English compositions, turning of lathes, painting of murals, sewing fine seams, working mathematical problems were viewed in various rooms.

Tea was served by Home Economics classes who had been busily baking cookies and cakes. Over the tea cups parents and teachers discussed "Johnny's" progress.

The farad, a measure of electrical energy, takes its name from Michael Faraday (1791-1867), an English pioneer in electrical research.

When peeling apples for cooking purposes?

A. Try pouring boiling water over the apples that are to be cooked, and see how much easier they are to peel, and the time saved.

DEWEY BACK ON THE JOB—Three's still a smile on New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey's face as he settles down to his governing job in Albany, in spite of his startling defeat in the U.S. presidential election. An aide hands him some papers and Dewey knows that win or lose in the presidential election, he's still got a lot of state business to take care of.

Jasper Scenes
Are Appealing

"Emperor Waltz" Is Picture of More Than Usual Local Interest

The gorgeous mountain scenery of Jasper Park, where the outside locations were taken, makes "Emperor Waltz," with Bing Crosby and Joan Fontaine, showing at the Capitol Theatre here until the end of this week, a picture of more than usual local appeal. In fact, the scenery is the big feature of the picture. Many Prince Rupert people have been at Jasper—among the mountains, along the roads and amid the various resorts—and for these it is interesting to see in beautiful technicolor so many familiar scenes.

Rockies of Jasper are used to represent the background of the Tyrolean Alps for a romance between Crosby, as an American salesman of a new musical recording invention, and Miss Fontaine, as an Austrian countess. The court of Emperor Franz Josef is shaken by the romance in which Crosby's un-aristocratic dog and the countess' pedigreed poochie play a prominent part. The story is set to a delightful musical score. Crosby features some yodeling in his singing and echoing Tyrolean choruses are very effective. "Emperor Waltz," "Friendly Mountains," "The Kiss In Your Eyes," "I Kiss Your Hand, Madame" and "The Whistler and His Dog" are featured.

CABIN ROBBERS
ON Q.C. ISLANDS

John Anderson, who formerly lived on the east coast of Graham Island where he engaged in extracting gold from the black sands, called at the Daily News office to complain of persistent robbing of not only his but the cabins of other men similarly engaged. In fact, it got so bad that Mr. Anderson decided to leave the Islands. It was the custom to leave cabins stocked with provisions and even ammunition but every time they were left alone, the same thing happened. They were broken into and rifled.

The Chimes of Westminster

FOR EDUCATION WEEK

Here are the words of the tune played each quarter hour on our Westminster chime clocks.

"All through this hour Lord be my guide And through thy power No foot shall slide."

Part of the tune is played each quarter hour and the whole tune at the end of the hour when the clock strikes the hour.

The clocks are beautifully cased in real walnut and run about fourteen days with one winding.

The price is $55.00 plus tax and it is the lowest price as the clock is sold at in the east and west and the freight all the way to B.C.
