LOODS IN AMERICA

DE JANEIRO, (AP)—More than a hundred persons are missing and hundreds are homeless in two states of Rio de Janeiro today in the heavy rains which sent floods over wide areas. In other parts of the state, heavy rains have beaten down with monotony for 15 days. Floods in the states of Minas Gerais and were caused by a cloudburst two days ago. In other parts of both states, hundreds were injured. Authorities have asked for military units to rush millions of dollars to the worst hit areas to parachute medicines and other supplies.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
Weather centres are moving north Pacific again, but milder weather to the south. The Charlottes and North Islands today but also considerable snow and rain. Over the rest of the province the weather will remain cloudy and rainy, moderating tomorrow. Snow flurries are expected in sections tomorrow.

Forecast

$1000 IN RIDE

A honest taxi driver last night saved a visiting couple from anxiety in addition to his loss. Henry Knutsen driven his fares to a residence on Seventh Avenue. After the trip he found the seat of the car a purse containing no less than $1,000. Much to their gratification, the wallet was immediately returned to its owners. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis of Hartley Bay, who were paying a visit to the city.

C.N.R. CASE IS PRESENTED

OTTAWA, (AP)—Hearing of British Columbia's case against the mountain differential is expected to end today.

Canadian National Railways, in its case for retention of the mountain differential, contended that the annual cost for the British Columbia run was $3,000,000 above the prairie level. The railway evidence, it was expected, would be completed today.

Figures for the C.N.R. were given by T. J. Gracey, assistant comptroller. He said that $1,750,000 goes to extra operating costs because of the mountains and $1,339,000 annual interest charges and debts incurred on early mountain construction.

Gracey said that British Columbia costs are 12 per cent over the prairies in traffic units. He also showed, however, that British Columbia costs are under the national average and those of eastern lines.

HIGHER PENSIONS BEING SOUGHT

VANCOUVER, (AP)—Federal civil servants on pension have a message for Santa. They want an increase in pensions to meet the high cost of living.

Pension allowances are now based on the 1924 cost of living. The dollar now purchases as much as 49c did then, it is said, and some civil servant pensioners are trying to get along on less than $50 a month.

A resolution is in process of preparation asking that allowances be increased at the next session of Parliament.

Bonus of $40 per month which is being sought is "sufficient to compensate, at least to some extent, for the present abnormal increase in living costs."

C.P.R. CONTESTS TAXATION RIGHT

Case is Before Supreme Court of Saskatchewan

REGINA, (AP)—The Canadian Pacific Railway stood pat today on its contention that an agreement entered into with the federal government in 1880 exempted its property in Saskatchewan from municipal business and property taxation.

The point was raised by company counsel at yesterday's opening of a two-day session before Saskatchewan Court of Appeal, counsel saying that the 1880 agreement which stated that neither federal nor provincial or municipal body could tax any part of the Canadian Pacific Railway was still in effect.

The right of Saskatchewan municipalities to tax C.P.R. property comes up with the contesting by the railway company of the validity of Saskatchewan government amendments giving the municipalities the power to tax the company.

United States, Russia Favor; Canada Abstains

PARIS (CP)—Israel's bid for membership in the United Nations failed to win security council approval today. Five countries voted to admit Israel. They were United States, Russia, Soviet Ukraine, Argentina and Colombia. Five countries, including Canada and Britain, abstained and one voted against the new state.

Q.C.A. MAY SEEK MAIL CONTRACTS

Queen Charlotte Airlines, which formerly operated a non-scheduled service between Prince Rupert and Vancouver, is resuming its interest on the north coast and may station an aircraft here next year in anticipation of air mail contracts with the Islands and northern points.

Word of the company's intentions was received by H. G. Archibald, M.P., after he had informed them that Postmaster-General Ernest Bertrand would view sympathetically applications for air mail service to isolated coast settlements. Mr. Archibald passed the information on some time ago.

At present, Queen Charlotte Airlines is the only company holding air mail contracts on the coast other than the two major lines, Canadian Pacific and TransCanada. Q.C.A. operates an air mail service between Vancouver and Tahsis, Zeballos and Kyuquot on Vancouver Island.

The company plans to station a six-passenger seaplane at Prince Rupert for charter work next summer, company officials say.

The company was the first line to establish air service at Prince Rupert more than two years ago, but withdrew when it lost to C.P.A. Its bid to operate a scheduled air mail and passenger line to Vancouver.

peal, counsel saying that the 1880 agreement which stated that neither federal nor provincial or municipal body could tax any part of the Canadian Pacific Railway was still in effect.

The right of Saskatchewan municipalities to tax C.P.R. property comes up with the contesting by the railway company of the validity of Saskatchewan government amendments giving the municipalities the power to tax the company.

An affirmative vote of seven was required for approval by the eleven-member council.

Stranded Trucks Are Back In City

Clarence Thomson and William Gair Bring Vehicles in After Snow Blockade

Two local trucks which were caught last week near Kwititsa when heavy snow blocked the Skeena River Highway are back in Prince Rupert. Clarence Thomson arrived yesterday afternoon and William Gair, with a Lindsay Cartage vehicle, arrived Wednesday. They were extricated by Department of Public Works snow fighting equipment which came west from Terrace.

Thomson reports that a trench wide enough for one vehicle was cut through. The snow is up to a depth of three feet on either side.

The Public Works Department has already announced that it is not the intention to keep the road clear of snow this winter through the "snow belt" of the lower Skeena.

Efforts will be made to keep the road open from Prince Rupert to Tye and that section is today reported to be in good shape for travel.

JOBLESS ARE FLOCKING IN

VANCOUVER (AP)—Unemployed are estimated to be flocking into British Columbia from the prairies and Eastern Canada at the rate of two hundred per week. Unemployment service officials are under orders to give no further figures on what they call a normal winter influx of jobless. Welfare people disagree that it is a normal situation. Police are also in a quandry. They blame much of the recent crime on floaters.

FINED $300 FOR ILLEGAL FISHING

Fine of $300 was imposed by Magistrate W. D. Vance in city police court this week in the case of the local fishing vessel Strafen, owned by Peter Anderson, which was convicted of fishing hilibut illegally in Area 2. The charge was laid under International Fisheries regulations with evidence by American authorities. Rod MacLeod acted as counsel for the prosecution and Bruce Brown for defendant.

Terrace Elects Dudley Little

TERRACE, (Special to Daily News)—Dudley G. Little won a three-year term on the Board of Village Commissioners at the municipal election here yesterday. He defeated the retiring commissioner, Thomas P. Walsh.

The vote:
Little, 118.
Walsh, 67.
There were two spoiled ballots.

Three NPA's, Two Independents Returned In Civic Voting Here

Casey Back In With Wide Margin—Present School Board Members Are Returned—All Plebiscites Approved

Prince Rupert electors returned three Non-Partisan candidates and two independents to city council, three Non-Partisan-endorsed school trustees and gave clear-cut approval to three plebiscite questions when they voted in the annual civic elections Thursday.

Harry M. Daggett, independent candidate for a two-year aldermanic seat, topped the poll among city council aspirants, while Dr. R. G. Large, present School Board chairman, led the trustees race with 821.

The present School Board, which includes Mrs. E. W. Becker and A. Bruce Brown who sought office again, was re-elected.

Ald. G. B. Casey won over Ald. Robert McKay in a spirited contest for the one-year aldermanic term.

Despite the fact that this year's voters' list contained almost 500 more names than in 1947, there were fewer votes cast yesterday than in the civic election a year ago. Thursday's vote was 1,304, while in 1947 1,366 ballots were cast.

The results:

STAGES COME-BACK—Ex-Mayor H. M. Daggett who headed two-year aldermanic poll by substantial margin in yesterday's civic election.

Centre of interest during the vote count was the contest for the one-year term, which settled into a fight between Alderman George Casey and Alderman Robert McKay. McKay took an early lead but, as the count progressed, Casey forged ahead, coming out with a majority of 146.

Of the three plebiscites, the one seeking opinion on the telephone rehabilitation plan received the largest majority, although approval in all three cases was overwhelming. Of 1,192 votes cast on the telephone plebiscite, 920 favored the plan. Voters' attitude in this regard will likely bear weight with the provincial government, whose approval must be obtained for a money bylaw which must be submitted to the ratepayers before the proposed $550,000 could be borrowed.

It was an election victory that gave Alderman George Casey a majority and also approved the bylaw which he had bitterly opposed prior to the election.

Thursday's vote count began at 8 o'clock and was completed by 10:45. Use of the Hunter ballot, a patented voting scheme which permits all votes on the ballot to be counted at the same time, was credited by City Clerk H. D. Thain as being responsible for the speedy count.

Use of the old type of ballot would have made it impossible to complete the count before midnight, Mr. Thain said.

Civic Elections

PRINCE RUPERT civic voters in yesterday's municipal election indicated that they are not so keen for organized slates. The striking victories of Ex-Mayor H. M. Daggett and Ald. G. B. Casey in the two-year and one-year aldermanic contests respectively showed this. Neither Daggett or Casey had the official backing of either Non-Partisan or Civic Labor Federation. Both, undoubtedly, received support from both sides, support the full measure of which they might not have received had they been officially tied up to either. Mr. Daggett might possibly have had the backing of either N.P.A. or C.L.F. but, instead, he went it alone and headed the poll by a substantial margin. Stormy petrel of last year's council and most publicized alderman of 1948, George Casey can probably count his success to the fact that, rightly or wrongly, he kept things stirred up and the people knew he was a fighter.

It was a severe blow for the Civic Labor Federation to be unable to elect a single candidate although it presented full slates for all the offices. Some people may say that organized labor does not have the hold on this community it once had.

It was fitting and proper that the three members of the school board who offered themselves for re-election should have been accorded it. They were in the middle of an important job and had demonstrated their competence. There would have been no good reason for turning them out.

The voters were in a generous mood in their approval of the plebiscites on the big telephone project and parks development. They indicated that they recognized the need for improvements in the city and are willing to pay for it. The chlorination issue was settled once and for all with a decided affirmative vote.

Taking it by and large, the voters did a good job in their selections. The winners are to be congratulated and the losers can take comfort from the fact that they offered themselves as good citizens and can now stay home with clear consciences.

HEALTH PLAN SUPPORTED BY MEDICAL MEN

The British Columbia medical profession is strongly in favor of the contributory hospitalization plan which will go into effect in this province at the beginning of the year.

The same group is just as firmly opposed to the principle of "state medicine" in which administration of medical functions would be controlled by political rather than medical leadership.

These opinions were expressed Thursday by Dr. C. H. Hankinson, city practitioner, in an address to the Rotary Club in which he assessed the background of the contributory health plan and the worthiness of its aims from a doctor's viewpoint.

A member of the panel of 90 doctors and government leaders, which, in 1943, advised on federal enabling legislation to set up such contributory health plans, Dr. Hankinson said that both the government and the medical profession were aware of the forces which have made such legislation desirable.

"Three wars since the turn of the century have made the government aware of the low rating of physical fitness among the country's younger age group," he said. "This was particularly noticeable in the last conflict when a surprising percentage of young men were found unfit for service."

Economic pressure has been a factor, particularly in the groups with fixed incomes and pensioners, dependent mothers and others.

"In 1900, the average life expectancy was 48 years," Dr. Hankinson declared. "Today it is 65. People are living longer and therefore, greater numbers will require in their latter years more medical and government care."

Public clamor for the benefits of mass purchasing power as applied to the health field also have been an important factor.

"There are many hit-and-miss schemes providing various degrees of health and medical service and government intervention has begun knitting these together into a large, solid plan."

Far from being opposed to such procedure, the medical profession of Canada has welcomed it and provided leadership and technical knowledge in its development, both in the federal enabling stage and in the final provincial stage, Dr. Hankinson said.

However, they remain opposed to any "state medicine" scheme which they believe would put national health on a political basis and stultify research and medical practice.

As applied to Prince Rupert, the Act will prove of benefit, particularly since this is a city in which seasonal labor looms large. Payment of hospital dues during periods of unemployment will be a guarantee of hospital costs during periods of unemployment.

The Act also covers hospitalization costs of social service and other cases which ordinarily would be burdens on the municipality or other government agencies.

"I would advise Prince Rupert to equip its hospital in the best manner possible. The better equipment you get the more money the hospital gets from

Britain's Future In Labor's Hands, Gov't Declares

By H. L. JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON)—The Labor government has told the British working man that he is master of his own destiny, that whether Britain sinks or swims economically depends on him and his production in mines and factories.

The story is hammered home with pamphlets, posters, radio broadcast luncheon addresses. It is told to men inclined to be suspicious of the "boss," and to grumble about high prices, short rations and taxes that almost put beer and cigarettes out of reach.

Government spokesmen say that despite such disappointments as the failure of the coal industry to reach its 1948 production target of 211,000,000 tons, its campaign is beginning to take effect.

The labor year in Britain, which produced only one strike—a two-week tie-up of London's docks at a cost of $3,500,000—saw these developments in the production drive:

The Trade Union Congress, mother body of 3,000,000 British workers, began a campaign to carry the productivity drive right to the workshop floor; open warfare was declared against Communists in the British trade union movement; labor generally reiterated support of the government's wage-prices-profits stabilization policy but warned prices can't go higher.

Working with the government, the T.U.C., headed by 59-year-old Will Lawther, himself once a 4s. (80-cent) a day coal miner, has taken the lead to "educate" the worker on the importance of production.

REGULAR CONFERENCES
Conferences are held regularly on production problems in individual industries. A T.U.C. productivity school for shop stewards is also planned.

Lawther, once jailed for six weeks in 1925 during mine labor troubles—and in the very courtroom where he later sat as a magistrate—terms unofficial strikes in Britain today "treason."

The London dock strike of last June was unofficial. It tied up 152 ships and forced the government to proclaim a state of emergency because the government because the arrangements are made on the basis of service provided."

Dr. Hankinson was thanked for his address by D. C. Stevenson, Rotary Club president.

CAMBRAI GROUP "ADOPTS" TWO RURAL SCHOOLS

Schools at Port Essington and Port Edward will be "adopted" by Cambrai Chapter, I.O.D.E., and the group will begin its sponsorship by providing a small library and presenting a picture of the King and Queen to each school.

The sponsorship plan will be similar to one in effect between the chapter and Conrad and Booth Memorial High School, which receives assistance from Cambrai.

Plan to "adopt" the two rural schools was approved by a meeting of the chapter at the Civic Centre after it had been outlined as an educational project. The group also voted to donate $50 to Conrad Street School and a similar amount to Booth High School to aid in building up their libraries.

The meeting also made arrangements for preparing Christmas hampers for distribution to needy families in the district.

The meeting concluded with refreshments served by Mrs. J. D. McRae and Mrs. Duncan McRae.

Fine New Establishment of Bob Parker Visited by Well-Wishing Friends

Hundreds of friends of Bob Parker and the Ford Motor agency gathered yesterday afternoon to inspect the city's latest new automotive establishment on McBride Street and offer congratulations and best wishes to owner and staff. Mayor or Nora Arnold officiated at the opening ceremonies and officials of Ford Motor Co. and Standard Oil Co. of British Columbia from Vancouver were on hand to take part in the celebrations incidental to the memorable occasion.

Bob Parker presided and, in brief remarks, thanked the Ford and Standard officials and Mayor or Arnold for their attendance. He expressed appreciation of the good work of the contractors, Mitchell & Currie.

Jim Ferris, assistant British Columbia manager of the Ford Motor Co., extending the greetings of his company, commented on the long association of the name of Parker and Ford in Prince Rupert. It had become something of a tradition. The new establishment, he felt, was appropriate at this time when Prince Rupert had "arrived" at the stage of prosperity and development which had long been anticipated. He wished Bob Parker every success.

Cliff Wightman, superintendent of sales for Standard Oil Co. of British Columbia, felt that this evidence of confidence in the future of the community, business and "our way of life" was the most important factor. A virile, youthful spirit had been demonstrated. Mr. Wightman felt that the prime responsibilities involved in good business—handling of top quality goods, fair prices, prompt and courteous service and up-to-date premises—would be fittingly demonstrated here. He added his voice to the congratulations.

E. R. Carswell, manager of the coast division of Standard Oil Co. of British Columbia Ltd., expressed gratification at the progress which was indicated in responsible positions. The fine new beautifully located station was something of which the city could be proud.

Ralph Hood, accountant for Bob Parker Ltd., expressed thanks to Mrs. Arnold for having conducted the opening and presented her worship with a handsome bouquet.

First car to move up to the pumps after the Mayor had cut the ribbon was one driven by Duncan McRae.

Serving of refreshments followed the opening of the fine new premises.

After cutting a ribbon to open the pumps, Mayor Nora Arnold spoke appropriately. The name of Parker had for many years been highly esteemed in Prince Rupert. Tribute was paid by Her Worship to the memory of the late Stan Parker—"a good, sound, friendly citizen."

This was now getting to be a young man's town, Mrs. Arnold observed. Sons were taking their father's places. Bob Parker, she was confident, would carry on the fine Parker tradition in business. It was gratifying also to see local boys such as Tommy Forrest and Gus Stromdahl in Stephen Howlett announced the intention of the Symphony Orchestra to becoming an activity of the Civic Centre Association on the same basis as the Drama Group.

Further details were planned for the New Year's Eve cabaret, the floor show to be under the leadership of Steve Howlett.

TERRACE VILLAGE COMMISSION SITS

TERRACE — The Village Commissioners met last week in the municipal office.
The Women's Institute are to be allowed to leave their belongings in the building near the Civic Centre until next spring when they may resume their activities there and the village will be held responsible for goods left there.
The Board of Trade's letter concerning the zoning of the village was tabled until word is received from the Victoria office concerning the zoning by-law.
The health unit by-law as re-drafted was given its first reading and the former by-law is to be rescinded.
At some future date, the flagpole at the Terrace Hotel is to be moved and placed at the municipal office.
George Martin, waterworks contractor, is going to set up a big Christmas tree offered by Little, Hauglund and Kerr. The Power Company will supply the energy for the colored light bulbs and holders.

"Yes, this is the residence of T. J. Flynn, attorney at law — proceed with the questioning."

HERRING FLEET
SOUTH FOR XMAS

Selneboats which had been prospecting for herring in this area during the last few weeks and picking up the odd lots here and there have left during the past week for Vancouver and other southern ports for the Christmas and New Year season and will not be returning until January or later, depending on when the migratory run develops in these waters. The last recorded take in Prince Rupert fisheries district was some 540 tons in Rivers Inlet.

The concert program, attended by some two hundred persons, consisted of carols and songs by beginners' and primary departments of the Sunday School led by Mrs. E. D. Forward and Mrs. C. J. O. Olsen respectively. Rev. R. A. Wilson, the pastor, presided and Henry Phym acted as pianist.

BURNS CLUB ORGANIZED

J. A. Frew is Elected President - To Honor Immortal Bard

The memory of Scotland's famed bard, Robert Burns, will take on an added glow in Prince Rupert following the formation here last night of a Burns Club, the first to be organized in the city.

The club will honor Burns' memory with a banquet in full traditional manner on the anniversary of his birth on January 25.

The meeting, attended by 15 men of varying degrees of broad speech, was held in the Civic Centre where officers and committees were elected and initial plans laid for the Burns night banquet.

Officers are: President, J. A. Frew. Vice-President, Robert Cameron.

Secretary, J. E. Irvine. Treasurer, Alex Haig. Entertainment Committee - James Nicoll, Graham Alexander, Doug McGillivray.

Membership Committee - Capt. J. R. Elfert, William Reid, William Barton.

Membership committee plans to get in touch with prospective members prior to January 14 when a meeting will be held to finalize banquet plans. Just in case there is a run on the market next January, the club has already placed an order for 25 pounds of haggis, mainstay of Burns night fare.

A suggestion that the meeting also take steps to revive the defunct St. Andrew's Society agreed that they would take sympathetic action if such a move were begun.

If you have the use of a post office box it's not a complicated process to keep it empty, thereby relieving the pressure on extra busy clerks and, finding out at once whether or not there's a cheque or a lawyer's letter in the mail, for you.

One of the melancholy things of life is to have someone nod and call you by name and return the salute without being quite sure of the other's name. It is also deuced embarrassing to suddenly forget when in the middle of an introduction. Yet these unhappy incidents will occur despite perdition and freshets.

If oleomargarine is going to sell at somewhere around 35 cents and butter is something else again, the man with a big family and small salary is not going to ponder any advice he may receive concerning marketing except in one direction.

STRONG CAST IN MOVING DRAMA

"If Winter Comes," Tells Story of Couple Made Victim of Gossip

With Walter Pidgeon, Deborah Kerr and Angela Lansbury in its pivotal roles, filmization of A. S. M. Hutchinson's novel of bigotry and injustice, "If Winter Comes," is the week-end attraction at the Capitol Theatre here.

Laid in a small English village at the outbreak of World War II, the story tells of a liberal minded textbook writer and a lovely girl, each of whom has made an unhappy marriage - he to a narrow-minded and unimaginative woman, the girl to a gambling playboy.

The girl is resolved to leave her husband but honor and compassion prevent her from doing so when the war sends him away with his regiment. The writer, in the meantime, has become the target of scurrilous attack due to his having befriended the daughter of a fellow employee who has been thrown out of her home because of an alleged misconduct. When the girl, waiting in vain to hear from the soldier who has gotten her into trouble, learns the writer is being sued for divorce, her feeling of guilt is so great that she commits suicide. It is now that the whole town turns against the writer with vindictiveness and brings him to trial in a powerful courtroom scene. His refusal to take the easy way out and his ultimate vindication in the woman he loves brings narrative to a close in a climax.
