DISCOURAGE BORROWING

Progressive-Conservative Financial Critic Would Have Interest Rates Increased

OTTAWA, (CP)—J. M. MacDonnell, Progressive-Conservative member for Muskoka-Ontario, urged the government in the House of Commons Thursday to allow interest rates on money to rise and discourage borrowing for expansion that would lead to depression.

"If we go on allowing boom psychology to continue undisturbed, uncontrolled and uncorrected we will get a bust," said Mr. MacDonnell, who is chief financial critic for the Progressive-Conservative party, during continued debate on the Throne speech.

TEXAS GETS CANOL LINE

Oil Pipe Being Moved To Southern States

SEATTLE—Gradually, the Canol pipe line, connecting the Norman oil wells in the far north with White Horse, Y.T. as a war-time precaution, is being moved to Texas. That is, a substantial part of it.

With the return of peace and the conviction that there would be no further use for the line, away up north, suggestions that it be sold were discouraged.

The pipe, however, is being taken up and shipped over the White Pass and Yukon line to Skagway. Two American companies are the purchasers. They will find plenty of use for their property in the Texas oil fields. The pipe was rushed north, when there seemed a strong possibility of the Japanese invading North America. The line cost originally $133,000,000.

Naas Native Is Missing

Mail Boat Operator Not Seen Since February 6

Search parties from three Naas River villages set out this morning to scour the 70-mile stretch between the river mouth and Aiyansh for Abel Derrick, 48-year old mail boat operator who has been missing since he set out for Kincolith on February 6.

Examining the ice-encrusted banks of the northern river are groups of men from Kincolith, Greenville and Aiyansh. Derrick has not been heard of since he left Aiyansh 14 days ago with a load of mail for Kincolith which is port of call for Union Steamships mail and passenger vessels.

Word of Derrick's disappearance was received here Thursday by Indian Agent F. E. Anfield. Aiyansh is an Indian village above the Naas River canyon. The river, partly frozen, is dangerous with floating ice blocks at this time of year. However, according to Indian Agent Anfield, possibility exists that Derrick may have sought shelter in one of the many cabins along the route, perhaps with engine trouble. Ordinarily the downstream trip requires two days.

MAY BE ITS LAST SESSION

Alberta Legislature Meets With Pensions High on List

EDMONTON (CP)—The fifth session of Alberta's tenth legislature opened Thursday and the top subject of speculation among the Opposition was whether it will be the last before the Social Credit administration, re-elected in 1944, calls a provincial general election. Premier E. C. Manning and cabinet ministers gave no indication of what the government's plans may be, whether the province will go to the polls this year or in 1949.

A government spokesman announced that legislation would be submitted to ensure adequate pensions for all Albertans and definite plans are under way for bills to authorize prepaid medical and hospital services.

SEATTLE MAYOR NOT WORRIED

Willing to Assist Alaska in Obtaining New Trade Channels

Mayor William F. Devin of Seattle, in a letter to the editor of the Saturday Evening Post commented on an article in the February 7 issue by Richard Neuberger on Seattle, Prince Rupert and Alaska.

The Mayor wrote in part: "My viewpoint towards Alaska is simply this: Seattle enjoys a natural geographic advantage for commerce with Alaska. But we have no intention, either, of going to sleep on that advantage, or of attempting to throttle Alaska by opposing the opening of new channels of trade and commerce for the territory. Further, we are pledged to assist activity in securing new channels for her. We have a warm sympathy for Alaska's problems, and a strong determination to help her solve them. There are no gnawed fingernails here, and no nightmares.

CITRUS PROFITS NOT EXCESSIVE

In View of Heavy Losses on Other Produce and Short Supply

OTTAWA, (CP)—High wholesale profits in citrus fruits in recent months were not out of line considering losses on other produce and short supply, wholesale representatives maintained yesterday before the House of Commons investigating committee.

George Reynolds, secretary of the Toronto Wholesale Fruit and Produce Merchants' Association, took the stand in rebuttal of charges made by retailers that wholesalers had been engaging in "gross profiteering."

Well Known Cannery Manager Is Missing

SEVEN VESSELS NOW SEARCHING—NO FURTHER TRACE OF THREE UNREPORTED INDIANS

FINDING OF WRECKAGE IS INDICATION OF DISASTER

It became practically certain this afternoon that wreck of a fishing vessel sighted earlier in the week in Wright Sound, seventy miles down the coast from Prince Rupert, was that of the Louisa Todd of Klemtu Cannery and that the vessel had definitely come to grief. Constable Anderson, from the B. C. Police boat P.M.L. 15, reported to headquarters here that a searching vessel, the Good Partner, had picked up a board bearing numbers "KC217" or "KC247." Klemtu was checked and it was found the number of the Louisa Todd was "KC247." It is supposed that the board was from the Louisa Todd. Aboard the Louisa Todd, overdue from Hartley Bay to Klemtu, were Louis W. Hogan, manager of Klemtu cannery, and three crew members. A report from Klemtu cannery this afternoon said that the seiner Good Partner had found a pilot house and had identified it as being from the Louisa Todd.

Possibility that the drifting and partly submerged fishing vessel sighted Tuesday afternoon in Wright Sound may be that of the 45-foot halibut boat and packer Louisa Todd, of Klemtu was strengthened today with word from Hartley Bay that the J. H. Todd & Sons vessel left that port Tuesday morning and has not been heard from since.

The Louisa Todd, in command of Capt. Charles Hoy and Louis Hogan, Klemtu cannery manager, and at least one other man aboard, was headed for Klemtu when she put out from Hartley Bay at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Weather at the time was so rough that the vessel was forced to turn back twice before she finally cleared into Wright Sound, southbound. The vessel had come north from the Todd cannery on Monday.

Meanwhile, seven boats of the Canadian Fishig Co. fleet, based at Butedale, are searching the area in spite of stormy weather in the hope of finding the hulk that was first sighted by the government lighthouse tender Birnie on Tuesday afternoon.

First indication that the half-submerged boat may be the Louisa Todd came when Capt. Norman McKay of the Birnie reported that it had a halibut chute on the after deck, a fixture rarely carried at this time of year. Only boat in the area known to be carrying one was the Louisa Todd.

Also, the hulk carried her cargo boom in an "up" position. Capt. McKay reported. The Louisa Todd also carried her boom that way, while on most other vessels it lies horizontally while not in use.

Believed also to be aboard the Louisa Todd was Cliff Landels, a crew man, although this is not certain. Both Capt. Hoy and Mr. Hogan are Vancouver men. Mr. Hogan has been in charge of the Klemtu cannery for a number of years and is well known.

According to a report from the local office of the Canadian Fishing Co., Todd Fisheries are planning to send out a plane to scout the area. On the basis of reports received here today, it is not yet certain that the vessel is the Louisa Todd but fishermen at Butedale find it hard to account for the unexplained absence of the boat out of Hartley Bay.

TOURISTS ARE NOT AFFECTED

By Canada's New Import Regulations

OTTAWA—D. Leg Dolan of the Canadian Travel Bureau has announced that United States visitors to Canada are not affected by Canada's import restrictions.

Tourists' vacation equipment will be admitted to Canada under the same regulations that applied before the restrictions became effective last November 17.

Customs officials, Mr. Dolan says, will offer every assistance in expediting the border formalities.

Concerning exchange, currency is exchanged at par. Visitors may receive change in U.S. funds, if desired. On leaving they may obtain up to $20 in U.S. funds from any bank.

There also were several boats fishing in that region, some of them Prince Rupert vessels.

NO TRACE OF THREE INDIANS

In the same general area at the south end of Grenville Channel, the provincial police boat P.M.L. 15 is scouring Verney Pass, just off Wright Sound, for three Indians who have been missing since their gillnetter was found afloat on Wednesday.

So far, no word has been received of any development in this search. The P.M.L. 15, under command of Capt. Reg. Good, went south Thursday morning but bad weather hampered the search yesterday. She put into Butedale overnight, resuming the hunt this morning.

The three missing men are Clarence and Walter Shaw and Tom Maitland, all of Kitimat.

Need Again Illustrated

IF THERE WERE an efficient and well-equipped Canadian Coastguard, a much speedier and more effective effort would be possible in the case of the three Indians feared lost in the capsizing of their dinghy in Wright Sound and the investigation of the report of a halibut boat being derelict in the same area.

The same storms which caused possible disaster are hampering to a point of near ineffectiveness the more or less disorganized and to large extent voluntary search which has been instituted.

Whenever vessels are derelict, it is to be presumed that persons are in trouble, not necessarily perished but probably in dire need of rescue. And the emergency usually arises when weather conditions are stormy and plenty of good sound equipment and well-skilled men are needed. Also time is the essence of the requirements in such life-saving operations.

Prohibitive cost cannot be accepted as a reasonable excuse for the continuation of lack of coastguard service particularly in this exposed area where shipping and marine activity is constantly on the increase.

UNIVERSITY SEATS

WIT, WISDOM and useful non-political opinion will, members of British parties agree, be lost to the House of Commons by elimination of twelve university seats provided for under representatives of the People Bill.

This would remove from the House five notable independent members—Sir Arthur Salter and Sir Alan P. Herbert, Oxford; H. Wilson Harris, Cambridge; Sir Ernest Graham-Little, London, and Kenneth Lindsay, combined English.

Salter is a notable economist and author; Herbert an outstanding humorist and playwright; Harris is editor of the Spectator, an influential periodical; Graham-Little is a scholarly physician and Lindsay is an authority on education.

These Independents have salted Commons debates with brisk criticism of both government and opposition and their endorsement of legislation is eagerly sought by the administration.

None of them may wish to enter the hurly-burly of election contests in constituencies other than the universities where they are judged as much on their scholastic and public service records as on their ability as platform orators.

The universities have been represented in parliament for 323 years and the first four elected for Oxford and Cambridge took their seats in 1625. University representatives are elected by graduates who can vote both at their university and the town in which they live, a system of plural voting the Labor government decided should be discontinued.

Prime Minister W. E. Gladstone is counted as the most famous of university members. He was returned four times by Oxford.

The Bill will cut total Commons membership from 640 to 608, the lowest figure since before union with Ireland in 1801, when the number was increased from 558 to 658. The record high was 707 members in 1918.

Matty Sedgewick

HIS IS LARGEST ROUTE IN CITY—BOASTS MANY SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

A robust boy of 14 years, Matty Sedgewick totes the largest bag of papers of any Daily News delivery boy. His beat takes in Seventh and Eighth Avenues from Hays Cove Circle to McBride Street where he has 155 satisfied customers.

If you ask Matty which sport is his favorite, he will reply, "skating" with a broad grin and a sparkle in his eyes as brilliant as a sunny winter morning in Saskatchewan, the land of his birth.

Matty Sedgewick

Born at Saskatoon, Matty spent 12 years in the little prairie town of Kinley before moving with his family to Prince Rupert in November, 1945.

While Matty thinks there is nothing to beat the thrill of swishing over a frozen surface on a pair of steel blades, he will allow that Prince Rupert has a lot to offer a teenage boy. The activities he engages in as a member of the local Sea Cadets give him special satisfaction. As a member of the Civic Centre he spends part of his spare time playing games in the teen room. In season, basketball, football and football are the games Matty enthusiastically enters into.

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Concentric, concensus, concentrate.
4. What does the word "discern" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with imp that means "ungodliness"?

ANSWERS

1. Say, "will hold its annual meeting." 2. Pronounce re-pair-a-b'l, both a's as in ask unstressed, and accent first syllable, not re-pair-a-b'l. 3. Concensus. 4. To understand; to detect. A student of Booth Memorial High School, Matty is in Grade 9 this year and hopes to continue with his studies until he obtains his matriculation. After that he is not sure what occupation he will enter although he is interested in technical trades.

Just at the age when boys begin to take particular care in the way they dress, Matty is proud of his ability to earn enough money to purchase his own clothes. For more than a year Matty has been delivering Route 9, the highest paying route in the city. His customers can look forward to receiving the same dependable service in the future as they have in the past.

LETTERBOX

WORKING WOMEN

Editor, Daily News:
I am writing this letter to you in the hopes that we, the young, single and divorced girls and boys of Prince Rupert with dependents will get a chance. Speaking for myself I am a divorcee with two children both under school age.

I was born and raised in Prince Rupert and have worked for the last seven years in different cafes around the city. I am sure there must be quite a few others like me here and, if they are lucky enough to draw the big unemployment insurance check, would you kindly tell me how you go about supporting your families and yourself?

Can anyone deny my statement that on an estimate of this town's female working class over 75 per cent are married women whose husbands are drawing more than enough in salaries to support any family and we, the ones who desperately need work are either drawing unemployment insurance or starving slowly.

Perhaps I may be wrong in this estimate but would you kindly take a look around the local dry goods stores and cafes or in fact any business you can name and look for yourself before you doubt my word?

If then you still think I'm wrong please won't you kindly tell me and the other citizens of Prince Rupert your ideas on this subject.

A CITIZEN.

SCHOOL BUILDING FUND

Editor, Daily News:
As a solution for the replacement of presently inadequate and condemned school buildings, it seems to me a grand suggestion to consider the possibility of utilizing the former United States Army administration building now held by War Assets Corporation. This building, together with wharves and warehouse building, can, I understand, be obtained for $250,000 which is less than a new school building could be built for. With the Department of Education paying half of the purchase price, there would be a minimum of expenditure involved in obtaining well-heated and well-lighted accommodation in the administration building for Booth Memorial and King Edward schools combined.

As for playgrounds, there is plenty of land immediately adjoining which could be landscaped and made entirely appropriate.

The administration building would also have the advantage of being centrally located for school purposes.

The lower warehouse building could be rented for manufacturing, storage or shipping purposes.

PROTECTION COSTS UP

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (C)—The utilities commission here has informed city council that the charge for water and hydrants required in fire protection will be $25,000 this year, compared with $20,000 in 1947.

SAVING FOR A "RAINY DAY"

Nearly everybody is familiar with insurance. It's one way of saving from salaries or wages for the "rainy day".

This is the fund for emergencies of life, or for education, or for sickness, or as collateral for loans. It's the handy jack-of-all-trades to make life more easy.

So in business, the good manager has to set aside money for emergencies, particularly when times are prosperous.

Often misunderstood under the name of "surplus," this is the fund that provides for salaries, equipment, raw materials, light and rent when the business is not so prosperous, or when adverse conditions make the going tough.

Some businesses do not have the necessary emergency funds to carry them through these times of stress. With business failures on the increase, jobs are lost, and that's the time when the calamity howler with pet Marxist theories comes into his own with a mumbo-jumbo that planned economy can eliminate all such inflations and depressions.

Yet there is not a single example today of Socialistic or Communistic economies providing a standard of living remotely approaching that of our Enterprise System.

True, we may have shortcomings, but none that sound planning and teamwork between management and labor cannot overcome.

These children are citizens in the same world but their worlds are more than poles apart. One is a happy Canadian boy... well fed, his cheeks radiant, and being schooled today for living tomorrow. The other is a European child, not well fed, his cheeks sallow and living in a world of unrest. The Canadian Appeal for Children seeks to help 400 million boys and girls in Europe and Asia... help them to know what it is like not to be hungry, to know the happiness of health and be taught the ways of peace and understanding. Help the Canadian Appeal for Children bring happiness to these boys and girls.

Had Handy Victory In Last Night's Opening Game

Rupert 48, New Metlakatla 38

Obviously suffering from the effects of a stormy trip and little sleep, the New Metlakatla basketball team was defeated by Prince Rupert All Stars last night in the Civic Centre by a score of 48 to 38.

Lead by Rupert Holkestad, the local All Stars took command of the game in the first quarter and, although at one time in the third quarter the score was tied 21-21, the All Stars never seemed pressed throughout the game. It was a close-checking game which accounts for the low scoring on both sides.

Bert Leask was top scorer for the visitors with 15 points and easily the outstanding player for the visitors. Demmert was next on the scoring list with 8 points for New Metlakatla. Rupert Holkestad with 14, and Jack Lindsay with 9, were top men for the locals. The score at the end of the first quarter was 11-7 for Rupert, at the half 20-17, at the end of the third quarter 29-25 and finally 48-38.

Referees Comadina and Calderoni handed out 34 personals which were evenly divided between Rupert and Metlakatla.

The locals converted 8 of their 17 free throws while the visitors only managed 6 out of 20.

In the intermediate fixtures, Bo Me Hi, lead by Flaten and Lavigne, easily defeated Port Simpson visitors 49-27. Keph and Sankey for Port Simpson were top men with 11 and 10 points respectively. At the end of the first quarter Port Simpson lead 11-12 and in the second quarter the High School lads got going to make the score at half time 25-11.

The Bo Me Hi Juniors piled up a lead of 8 to 2 in the first quarter and went on to defeat Gyro 16-18. Large and Johnson with 6 points apiece were high for the Scholars while Marshal, with 4, was tops for Gyro.

All Stars
New Metlakatla—B. Leask, 15; F. Bolton, 4; Large, 5; Hayward, 2; Reese, 2; Cook; Demmert, 2.

Intermediate

BASKETBALL CHATTER

(By BILL LONG)

Elsewhere on this sport page one will have read or may read of another victory for the local senior all-stars and this time it was of a very decisive nature. Taking the lead from the opening gun and holding it throughout the 40 minutes of play, the locals were never pressed for points and the only time the visitors were in the running was when Alex Bill had called off his first string to give them a rest.

On the other hand it must be considered that the New Metlakatla boys had travelled all the previous night and were without much sleep for the 24 hour period previous to the game. It definitely will be a different story tonight, says Bert Leask, playing coach of the Alaskans and a man that knows his basketball inside out. He was a very disappointed man after the showing his boys put forth last night and it was the old charge as soon as the game was over.

Rupert Holkestad was the star of the homers last night and seems to improve every time out. He was very ably assisted, but took advantage of every opportunity to give the spectators a fine exhibition of his shooting skill. No one likes to pick stars when everyone on the local side played so well but it's Holkestad's personality and sportsmanlike conduct that seems to get the fans—he's just a first class athlete that's all.

Dave Houston, one of the most rabid fans in town, is taking that big step into matrimony tonight and will take Sev. Dominato along to steady his nerves. As a result, there will be no Dominato at guard against the visitors unless the organist handles the ceremony. Sev. rushes things a bit or Alex Bill played well last night but on guard the all-stars have many first class substitutes in Fitch, Beynon, Forman, etc. and one may be sure that the opposition will have little edge if Sev. does not appear.

Tonight's game will be broadcast but there is nothing like a ringside seat to the show. Tickets are going fast.

Cameron, who made breaks of 34, 29 and 26 during the game, secures his place in the semi-final and will meet the winner of A. M. Hurst vs. V. G. Houston match. Other contestants in the semi-final will be the winners of matches to be played by R. H. Simonson vs. D. Owens, and J. Campbell vs. W. J. Rance.

Toronto's Varsity Grads romped through to the Olympic hockey title, 20 years ago, defeating Switzerland 13-0 in the final. Hugh Plaxton and Dave Trotter each scored 12 of the 38 goals the Canadians chalked up to win the championship.

Guide Week will come on Sunday when the boys and girls will hold church parade to their respective churches.

MASS RALLY TO CLIMAX SCOUT-GUIDE WEEK

Prince Rupert Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Cubs and Brownies will climax "Scout-Guide" Week tonight with a rally in the Navy Drill Hall at which every troop, company and pack in the city will take part.

The function will highlight a week in which many of the groups have sought public attention for their training programs by inviting parents and guests to their regular and special functions. Particularly active in this regard have been the Cubs and Brownies, junior members of the Scout and Brownie movements.

During the week, many packs, troops and companies were "At Home" to parents and friends. Monday evening, six Guides of the Catholic Guide Company made their promise before Miss Honora Silversides, guide commissioner.

Tuesday afternoon, the Anglican Cathedral Brownie Pack entertained parents and other guests with dances and games. The same evening the Cathedral Cubs showed what they do at all regular pack meetings—a little play, a little work and then a story. Two Cubs were invested at this meeting.

The Catholic Brownie pack were "At Home" Wednesday afternoon demonstrating dancing and singing displays. Commissioner Silversides enrolled five new Brownies at this gathering. The function was concluded with the serving of tea.

Attractively dressed store windows also have been centreing attention on Scout and Guide activities. In addition, a Scout, Dennis Adoph, a Guide, Gerry Prockter, a Cub, Carlo Hansen, and a Brownie, Anne Eyoifson, were interviewed on the radio by Col. Keith Dixon, area Commissioner and F. E. Anfield, Boy Scout council president, on Wednesday evening. Final observances of Scout-

NEW PUBLICITY PAMPHLET TO BE PUBLISHED SOON

Production of a new publicity pamphlet for Prince Rupert and central interior will get underway within the next few weeks and will be available for distribution in time for the opening of the tourist season, following decision made last night at the annual meeting of the Public Relations Council.

Authorization for their publication as soon as possible was made after the meeting had heard a report from Convasser G. R. Brett that $1,508 has already been collected from business people whose businesses will be listed in the colorful pamphlet.

Estimated over-all cost of publication will be about $2,200. Secretary E. T. Applewhite told the meeting. This will provide 15,000 pamphlets—a three-year supply.

The $1,508 does not include a $250 grant which the provincial Department of Trade and Industry has agreed to make, nor $100 which Canadian Pacific Airlines has suggested may be made available to purchase a quantity of the pamphlets.

The meeting, under chairmanship of H. M. Daggett, agreed that the $1,500 was a sufficient backlog to justify an immediate move to have the pamphlet published.

Recognition of the publicity for Prince Rupert in the recent Saturday Evening Post article "Seattle Ponders a Bad Dream," was expressed in a motion by G. A. Hunter that a letter be written to Richard L. Neuberger, its author, expressing appreciation of the council.

Secretary Applewhite informed the meeting that he had received a large number of letters from readers of the Saturday Evening Post, indicating a wide interest which was inspired by the article. Mayor Nora Arnold also has received many similar letters.

In preparation for the tourist season, Internal Relations Committee Chairman Al. Manson was authorized to make preparations for selecting the site of a tourist bureau.

External Relations Committee Chairman J. Harry Black announced that a moving picture film made at Prince Rupert by a provincial Travel Bureau photographer last summer will be ready within a few months and will have its initial showing in this city.

New officers of the club, all elected by acclamation are:

President, Miss Honora Silver-sides.

Vice President, J. K. McLeod. Treasurer, Arnold Flaten. Secretary, E. T. Applewhite.

External Affairs chairman, Alderman Arthur Brooksbank. Internal Affairs chairman, Al Manson.

Those present at the meeting were H. M. Daggett, Miss Honora Silver-sides, E. T. Applewhite, Alderman A. S. Nickerson, Al Manson, G. R. Brett, A. P. Crawley, G. A. Hunter, Pat Deane, Rudolph Olsen, Bjorn Selvig, C. B. Howe, J. Harry Black and J. K. McLeod.

LEGAL EXPLANATION
In legal phraseology an act of God is an overwhelming natural event, such as a storm or an earthquake which no human being can be reasonably expected to foresee or prevent.

700-POUNDER IS FARMER'S "DREAM COW"—The proud looks on the faces of Glen Rehn, Andover, Ill., dairy farmer, and "Rog," his 5-year-old Jersey cow, are justified by the cow's remarkable production record for 1947. Official production records for 363 days show that Rog produced 11,143 pounds of milk and 717.5 pounds of butterfat. A cow which will produce 500 pounds of butterfat annually is generally considered good but a 700-pounder is the dairyman's "dream cow." Rog, who was raised on the Rehn farm, has the impressive registry identification of Volunteer Triumph Empress Number 1338374. Rog's best single month of production was May when she yielded 1,218 pounds of milk and 82.8 pounds of butterfat.

Reminiscences By W.J. and Reflections

Catching a fighting salmon—or any sort of able-bodied salmon—can give a person new to the coast, the thrill of a lifetime. A tussle with a coho, for example, takes you back to the days of real sport. The late Bishop G. A. Rix, not long after his arrival here from Ontario, and that's somewhere around 35 years ago now, felt the call of the spacious harbor one calm summer morning, and put out in a small boat. His reward was swift and certain. The line started zipping through the water. Something was doing below the surface. His Lordship had hooked a beauty and the battle was on. With victor's tread, he packed the weighty, dripping prize up Third Avenue homeward bound and one somehow sensed that he had a grand and a glorious feeling. And no matter how long after you chose to mention the subject in his presence, you surely knew he still had it.

having, so long as it is rigidly restricted to an artificial rink suitable for hockey in any season.

DeValera steps down! Costello takes over. Typical old Irish gentlemen.

There was refreshing informality about life in Prince Rupert in the days prior to the arrival of the transcontinental. One can recall, with much distinctiveness, a June morning that was perfection itself. No one, in the party, had gone to bed. The hour was anywhere between four and five and all were enjoying a townsite stroll before breakfast. They sighted a tent in which a light still burned.

"Let's go over and see Joe." The resolution carried. Joe was stretched on a cot, still reading and cold sober.

"Get up, you weary stiff. Come walk with us."

"Since that's the way you feel about it, all right." So he arose and, pulling on his boots, strode forth. That was quite O.K. but he left his pants behind.

It is not easy to see where there should be the slightest objection to winter, similar to what Prince Rupert has been

EXPRESS COMPANIES EXTEND PICK-UP SERVICE TO EAST END OF CITY

Extension of parcel pick-up and delivery service to the east end of the city by Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Express companies was announced Thursday by W. D. McAra, manager of the joint express offices here.

The extension will enlarge the delivery area to include as far east as Herman Street on Sixth Avenue and Immanuel Street on Eighth Avenue.

The Seal Cove section, east of those points is not included.

Decision to enlarge the area was made following a request made to the express companies last fall by the Chamber of Commerce. Approval was granted after a survey was completed a month ago by Harry Herget, express company representative.

Previously, pick-up and delivery service had been confined to the central section of the city bounded on the east by the Hays Creek bridge.

Both pick-up and delivery services will be on a daily basis in that they will be made at any time they are required, Express Agent W. D. McAra said.

In the western section of the city, the pick-up and delivery boundary remains at the Morse Creek bridge.

Streets east of the Hays Creek bridge which are included in the extended service are Sixth Avenue to Herman Street, including Ambrose Avenue, Donald Street, First Overlook, Piggott Avenue and Piggott Place, Second Overlook and Herman Street, Seventh Avenue and Claude Street, Eighth Avenue East to Immanuel Street, including Conrad Street, Ninth Avenue East and Bacon Street, Tenth Avenue and Alfred Street.

Committing on the extended service, Chamber of Commerce Secretary E. T. Applewhite pointed out that in order for it to be effective, residents of the areas served will be required to include their street addresses on parcels so that drivers will not have difficulty in finding their homes.
