Housing Coming to Head With Government Official Now Here

Recent keen interest which has been taken in the possibility of securing new and adequate housing for Prince Rupert under the federal-provincial scheme will come to a head tonight at a meeting in the Civic Centre when interested parties are being invited by the city to gather and participate in discussions with J. E. Brown, housing commissioner for the province of British Columbia.

Mr. Brown arrived yesterday afternoon from Victoria and this morning was out with City Clerk H. D. Thain inspecting property available for housing projects including a low rental scheme.

In all 154 persons desirous of obtaining housing have filed applications either through the City Hall or the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce both of which have been actively interested themselves in the matter.

Of the applications, 69 are for rentals, 40 for purchase and 45 optional. A few have expressed themselves as being interested in apartment rentals.

Mustangs Coming To Canada West

EDMONTON — First delivery of Mustang fighter planes to Royal Canadian Air Force units in western Canada is expected within the next few days, officials of the Northwest Air Command said yesterday. The aircraft will be flown direct from Burbank, California, to reserve squadrons in Calgary and Winnipeg. The number of planes involved was not made known here.

Production of Europe is High

Aerial Tragedy—Planes Collide—Thirteen Dead

TUCSON, Arizona — Thirteen airmen were killed and ten survived a collision of two United States Air Force bombers over the desert last night.

Lt. W. Piwetz, public relations officer, said that two four-engined planes—a B-29 tanker and a B-50 bomber, plunged to the ground near Papago Indian village.

It is believed the planes collided during a refueling operation.

India Snubbed By Red China

Invasion of Tibet Not Her Business, Peiping Says

NEW DELHI, India — Communist China today brusquely rejected a second Indian protest at military invasion of Tibet.

Peiping's reply to the Indian note calling the use of force against the peaceful Tibetans an unwarranted act further endangering peace of the world was received today.

Red China declared that India had no right to "interfere" in what the Communists consider an internal Chinese affair.

Six Killed At Level Crossing

BEETON, ONT. (CP) — Six persons were killed in a level crossing collision near here during a blizzard last night. The victims were identified as Mrs. Inez Rushon and her daughters, Marion, ten; and Joan, seven; Edwin Hewitt, George Pathe and Roy Morrison.

The automobile crashed into the side of a fastmoving Canadian Pacific Railway freight train.

Brooke Claxton Visiting Coast

VANCOUVER — Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of Defence, arrived in Vancouver November 17, on an inspection tour of the coast. He announced Mustang planes capable of flying four hundred miles were being received by the special brigade. The planes were from the U.S.

The Minister made reference to what he called the extreme cost in money and effort to train a formation as large as a brigade together in Canada in winter weather and also because the brigade might have to fight side by side with the American forces.

Prefers Horses To Hockey Game

WINNIPEG — A few days ago personable young Rickey Sharpe, the thirteen year old lad from Munson, Alberta, created history when, as a junior farmer, he won the world's wheat growing championship at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto. Last night as he, with his "Mum and Dad," passed through Winnipeg over Canadian National lines enroute to Toronto where he will officially receive the CNR trophy on Saturday afternoon, he created a new record—maybe for the world, but certainly for western Canada. He became the only young lad ever heard of who did not want to see the Toronto Maple Leafs play hockey—providing he could see some farm horses.

Rickey is a good hockey fan and likes the Maple Leafs but he has an over-riding love for a good horse. When asked last night just before the train left whether he would like to go to the hockey match in Toronto on Saturday night, or see the horse show, the bright youngster said: "I'd sure like to see the Leafs play, but gosh, if there are any good horses at the fair, that's where I'll be." With apologies to Connie Smythe and Hap Day, Rickey wrote a new page in western Canadian history.

Princess Was Near Shooting

LONDON (CP) — Raymond Emmett, aged 37, was charged today with firing six shots at another man outside a Soho restaurant where Princess Elizabeth was dining with friends.

Insp. A. J. Usher, the Princess' bodyguard, rushed out and took part in a police chase after Emmett.

The man shot at was Charles Cozen, 29, who was walking with a girl. Six bullets went through his clothes but he escaped injury.

Ship Workers Are Still Out

VANCOUVER — Vancouver's 400 striking shipyard workers were not back at work today although they had voted to return to their jobs today and end the month-long strike. A hitch over a statutory holiday clause in the new agreement, is the trouble now.

The shipyard workers had demanded a 25c an hour increase but accepted the management's 15c offer.

The new basic wage rate is about $1.26 per hour.

Five hundred Victoria shipyard workers will vote later and it is believed they will accept.

Canada's Opportunity Rests In Socialism, Leader Says

Gives Impressions of Countries Abroad—Preaches "New Approach"

With the great natural resources Canada possesses and the privilege this blessed land has to exercise democratic processes in an orderly manner if its people will to do so, this Dominion could well lead the world in the standard of living of its own people and have abundant to spare to share with less fortunate peoples.

Harold Winch, leader of the CCF Opposition in the provincial legislature, told a Prince Rupert audience last night in the Civic Centre. Mr. Winch, recently returned from a trip to European countries and Palestine, told of the wonders that were being worked in various Socialistically governed countries under adverse conditions in making for better living and contentment of their people.

Canada could be the most blessed nation of them all if she decided to embark upon the socialistic approach and remove the elements of the capitalistic system which contributed to worry, want and war.

Mr. Winch spoke before an audience which filled the common lounge of the Civic Centre. W. H. Brett, former CCF member of the legislature for Prince Rupert, was in the chair.

While Mr. Winch devoted himself extensively to observations derived from his trip abroad, he also dealt with some provincial and federal matters.

THE COALITION

He spoke of the coalition government and declared that both Liberals and Conservatives were unhappy and would break it up. Both parties were advocating the "vicious" single transferable vote as a means of keeping the CCF out of power. Under the single transferable vote, he charged, there could be no absentee vote and loggers, fishermen and Indians would become disenfranchised.

The CCF leader, during a question period, said that he would have questions on the order paper at the forthcoming session of the Legislature in regard to road work which was going on outside of Prince Rupert.

The road between Prince George and Prince Rupert he described as the worst in British Columbia.

Alluding in opening to the fact that last Saturday was Remembrance Day, the speaker referred to the millions who had been killed and wounded and the billions of destruction that had been caused by two world wars and posed the question: "Why?" Thus came to mind the word "democracy." Was democracy something that was enjoy-

Weather Causing as Many Casualties as Red Fire in Korea

SEOUL (CP) — An American tank column blasted its way through a Red trap in a far north Korean mountain ravine today. Then it rolled northward in a blazing bid to reach the Manchurian border in four days.

Communists opened up on the 17th Infantry Regiment from hillside as tanks rumbled along a narrow road in northeast Korea. A three-hour battle ended with 125 Communists dead on the hills and Marine planes firing on fleeing remnants. This was about 25 miles south of the Manchurian frontier.

Elsewhere on the front the South Korean capital division clawed 3000 to 4000 yards forward on the extreme northwest sector.

United States Marines probed the mountains around Changjin reservoir in the centre of the peninsula and patrols of the 24th Division roamed unopposed more than six miles north of Pochon in the northwest.

Other American troops inflicted heavy casualties on guerrillas far behind the front lines.

A United Nations medical officer said today that the sub-zero weather in which the fighting is taking place is taking as heavy a toll of casualties as Communist fire. Fifty per cent of the casualties are directly due to the extreme cold.

Boat Capsizes—94 Slavs Perish

BELGRADE — Ninety-four persons died when a crowded ferry boat broke loose from its cables on the River Sava and capsized near the village of Orasje.

An official report says that Hasan Kistic, secretary of the people's committee in the village, insisted upon moving the ferry across the river despite objection of a ferry man that it was overloaded.

Kistic was one of two persons who died of injuries after being hauled from the water.

Ready for Communists

OTTAWA — Hon. Stuart Garson, minister of justice, said that plans and precautions of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to deal with Communists in Canada were well matured and "some of them are now in operation."

The minister added, however that it would be contrary to the public interest to disclose what these plans are since such disclosures would be of vital assistance to Communists themselves.

In a statement Mr. Garson referred to a magazine article by T. G. McManus, former Communist, who said that Communists in Canada were prepared to strike at Canada's internal security if an emergency arose.

Fascists In Italy Jailed

NAPLES — Sixty-seven "new Fascists" were being held in jail today after two bomb attacks in Rome and a big demonstration in Naples.

The police seized 300 Fascists when bombs wrecked the Rome offices of the Italian Republican Party and Socialist Unity Party.

Hundreds of young Fascists demonstrated in Naples.

Pacific Coast Defences to Be Bolstered, Says Minister

VANCOUVER — Military defences of the Pacific Coast will be strengthened shortly, Defence Minister Brooke Claxton said in an interview here last night.

There will be new radar stations at undisclosed locations, seven new naval vessels, twelve Mustang fighters for the Vancouver squadron and two more anti-aircraft batteries in Victoria.

"The decision we must make," Mr. Claxton said, "is how to spend our defence dollars to the best effect."

Negotiating With Russia

THE RUSSIAN demand for a four-power conference about "demilitarization and unification of Germany" raises the general problem of negotiations with Russia. Some people would deny that such a problem exists; they would say that there can never be any harm in talking. But there can be harm in talking, as western statesmen in postwar negotiations with Russia (and in prewar negotiations with Hitler and Mussolini) have learned to their cost. How and when to negotiate, and about what, are questions which western statesmen have been taught by bitter experience to weigh very carefully.

Obviously, it cannot be western policy to refuse negotiations with Russia once and for all. The whole aim of western policy is an ultimate settlement with Russia which will serve as the basis for long peace; and such a settlement cannot be achieved except by negotiation.

Some time there will have to be negotiations with Russia on great questions which divide the world and an attempt will have to be made to compose these questions by agreement if they are not decided by war. Moreover, it may be possible that some questions will mature for international agreement more quickly than others and there is no need on principle to wait with negotiations on some specific questions till the time has come for a world-wide general settlement.

But, on the other hand, experience has taught the West that it cannot afford to sit down with the Russians unconditionally at their bidding and negotiate with them on their own terms and in their own time about whatever they please. Reluctantly and with difficulty, the West has had to learn that when the Russians offer negotiations this does not necessarily mean that they desire agreement. On many occasions they have deliberately instituted inconclusive and drawn-out conferences of foreign ministers for three purposes: delay, disruption and propaganda. They have proved that diplomatic conferences can be made to serve these mischievous purposes as well as their legitimate purpose of seeking international agreement.

NAVAL ADJUNCTS

IN A SEAPORT city like Prince Rupert it is appropriate that naval organizations should be active and flourishing so the move to establish a band in connection with H.M.C.S. Chatham is interesting—also the suggestion that the local Sea Cadet Corps, which was for so long the leading boys' organization in Prince Rupert, be revived.

We do not know what effect a naval band, seeking to recruit local talent, would have upon the present very worthy city band and whether Prince Rupert could produce two good bands. Possibly, some sort of a merger could be worked out whereby there would be one fine big band in Prince Rupert, even though it should be in naval uniform. That will be something to be decided upon by the sponsorship and management of the city band.

Since the Sea Cadets became defunct in Prince Rupert, the Boy Scouts organization has come into being on an extensive scale and is doing a good work. However, there is also probably room for a good Sea Cadet Corps as well.

DIOCESAN HISTORY

THE HISTORY of the Anglican diocese of Caledonia has been written and has just made its appearance in the form of an attractive booklet which was handed to the Daily News yesterday afternoon by Rt. Rev. James B. Gibson, D.D., ecclesiastical head of the diocese. It is one of the few historical documents which have been produced to record the story of this part of the country and, as such, is most timely and valuable, apart from any denominational considerations.

Many interesting facts are recorded as the story of the diocese from the time of its founding back in 1879 is told. The record, in fact, dates back to 1857 when, answering an appeal by Capt. Prevost, R.N., William Duncan was sent to the north coast to institute the first missionary enterprise in the evangelizing of the Indians. Since then there have been four bishops—Ridley, DuVernet, Rex and Gibson.

From a typographical and pictorial standpoint, "Diocese of Caledonia, 1879-1950," is an attractive document and credit is due to its authors, designers and producers.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

WALLACE'S BIG JUMP

THE UNION FARMER of Saskatoon is convinced that the radio will never take the place of newspapers.

Why?

"You can't start a fire with a radio set."

THE RED DEER Advocate remarks, with hard-headed common sense that had "Communist China been seated at the UN council table last winter, the Korean war might have been averted."

In both Britain and India, by the way, are all the more strongly of the opinion that the present government of China should be allowed to take its proper place within UN. Neither the Red Chinese incursion into Tibet, nor the strange hit and run Chinese intervention in Korea has altered the previous thinking of Nehru nor Attlee.

In a nutshell they both hold that the same chances of preventing world war 3 are better with Red China inside than outside the UN.

HENRY WALLACE never does things by halves. He now campaigns for all-out armament and for keeping Red China out of the UN.

In 1948 I shocked two of my best friends in New York by telling them that if the United States ever fights Russia in that much-talked-of world war three it would be under leadership of such men as Henry Wallace. I was not trying to be funny, much less disparaging Mr. Wallace for whom I had, and still have a deep respect.

I was arguing that a democracy can only successfully fight a war under the leadership of THE CLASS LEST WILLING TO FIGHT THAT PARTICULAR WAR.

Thus, according to my theory, Lloyd George became the great British coalition leader of World War One chiefly because, till the war had actually started, nobody knew which side we would be on. Would he oppose the war, as he had opposed war in South Africa?

Or would he help line up his radical followers to fight the Kaiser? We all know the answer.

Britain was able to present a united front to the world because the key left wing leaders teamed up with the natural jingoes, the Tories.

IN THE SECOND WORLD war Churchill became the ideal leader for precisely the same principle, applied the other way around.

It was the left wing of British politics that was most willing to fight fascism. Years before Hitler took the plunge, British Labor, and all the ex-pacifist and internationalist-minded Britishers were for ending "appeasement." The big question-mark was which way the Tories, and right wingers in general, would go.

There was a very widespread

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Deborah Kerr, British film star, needed all of her pluck and endurance, helping make "King Solomon's Mines," Rider Haggard's fantastic story of Africa. It ought to be a wonderful screen play for most of the action actually was in the dark continent. She kept healthy while other actors and technical crew members suffered from malaria and dysentery. They toiled in Kenya, Tanganyika and the Belgian Congo where the temperature sometimes reached 152, mosquitoes and the tsetse flies swarmed and bit. Once, Miss Kerr stepped on a crocodile, mistaking it for a log. She escaped a cobra. For one scene she had to climb four miles up a mountain, and down again every night for five days. Rider Haggard, by the way, once spent a forenoon in Prince Rupert where he did a bit of discriminating tobacco buying.

Ninety-nine lives—51 victims from Canada—have been lost in two plane crashes over the Alps since November 3. Had the second one been flying three feet higher it would have escaped the rocky crest that meant death for all.

A more open Sunday for Vancouver? Perhaps! Vancouver can hardly complain of having suffered Puritan-like Sabbaths. Restrictions remain within reason—sympathy for Hitler, Mussolini, and Franco among British Big Business men, and especially among the titled aristocrats.

Hence for Britain again to achieve a truly united national front, it was necessary to have a Tory top man. Mr. Churchill filled that bill to a T.

I AM NOT PREDICTING A World War Three—nor making any guesses about Henry Wallace's political future (if any).

But I am recording my belief that IF we do get that world war three we will not be able to win it except by combined political measures, with military action, to a degree greater than ever used in the past.

You can't beat Communism with mere negative reaction from the Right (call it Fascism, or any other name).

But Communism might well have the political ground cut from under its own feet by Liberation based on genuine freedom, not in mere words, but in a concrete program completely prepared in advance.

INCIDENTALLY, I THINK Chiang Kai-shek should no longer be allowed to represent China at UN, because in fact he represents nobody but Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

British Columbia might never have become part of Canada but for Judge Begbie, who stepped ashore in Victoria in 1858. Fresh from London, his instructions were to enforce the law. Bruce Hutchison tells about him in Maclean's, saying he arrived just in time. A multitude had started pouring northward from the fields of California, to find new gold in the bars of the Fraser and discoveries of Cariboo.

What is now a province was, in '58, a far away, little known colony. Next door neighbor was a powerful republic where they spoke of "manifest destiny" if anyone mentioned B.C. Begbie sensed the situation and saw clearly. So he enforced the law which meant among other things that there would be a border that would remain that way.

You can't predict what kind of a winter—or any other season—Prince Rupert will show. So it's next door to an absurdity to think, or speak, of a change of climate. Here, weather but not climate, has variety. Sometimes February is not unlike a mellow October.

Ratepayers And Election

Are Endorsing Two Candidates But Would Hear Them All

Although the Ratepayers' Association is not endorsing any one aldermanic candidate, it was decided last night to arrange a meeting to hear all candidates in December's civic elections.

Letters of resignation were accepted from two members of the ratepayer's executive who are running for office in December's city elections. The resigning officers are W. D. Griffiths, chairman of the public welfare committee, and James Prusky, treasurer. They were accorded votes of thanks for their service since the inception of the Association. Both positions will remain vacant until city elections are over. Election of ratepayers' executive will be held at the next general meeting December 21.

Due to poor attendance, a motion by Dudley Pearson seconded by Harry Harrison, gave authority to the executive to forego monthly general public meetings during the summer. Instead regular executive meetings will be held with public meetings called for special business or upon the request of at least three ratepayers. This will be in effect from May to September. "We must have a wider basis of representatives or else close up shop—you can't keep talking to yourselves," said Mr. Harrison. Mr. Harrison recommended that city organizations be approached to have representatives attend ratepayers' meetings.

"Prince Rupert is in more need of a strong ratepayers' association than it is even of a good city council," said Mr. Pearson. "This association is a bridge between ratepayers and the city administration—we can meet here on common ground," he added.

The association will be represented at the provincial housing commission's meeting tonight. Introducing the housing question, Robert Ferguson president of the association believed that city council should have invited a representative of the ratepayers to be on the housing committee. Other organizations will be represented he said.

Immediate consideration is to be made by the association into the problem of street lighting between 13 and 1400 block Sixth Ave. East and the condition of the steps leading up to Rushbrook Heights.

Acting-secretary Harry Quick read the minutes of the last meeting. The president was in the chair.

Final Respects To Harry Davies

Before the remains were forwarded last night on the Prince George to Victoria where interment will be made, friends of the late Harry H. Davies, general agent here for the Canadian Pacific Railway, who expired suddenly this week, gathered at a quiet and simple service in the Grenville Court Chapel of B.C. Undertakers to pay their final tribute of sincere respect to a popular and highly regarded official. The service was conducted by Rev. Canon Basil S. Procter, rector of St. Andrew's Cathedral, who paid fitting tribute to Mr. Davies' sterling character and worth. Mrs. J. C. Gilker presided at the organ to accompany the hymns which were "The Sands of Time are Sinking," and "Lead Kindly Light." Members of the Masonic craft and local transportation officials joined with personal friends to form the congregation.

Shawatlans Phone Line Wire Taken

Just who did the act and the possible idea therefor have not been established following the removal of 700 feet of iron telephone wire forming part of the line which connects the far end of Shawatlans Passage to the city pumping station at Shawatlans Lake. It was simply cut down and taken away, according to the report to Telephone Superintendent J. F. Edwards who has turned the matter over to the city police for investigation. Meantime, telephone communication between the city and Shawatlans Lake area is out of commission pending the stringing up of new wire.

Superintendent Edwards is thinking of the possibility of substituting the old land line with a radiophone system and may present estimates to the civic utilities committee.

CANADA'S OPPORTUNITY

rived from taxation, direct or indirect, upon the people while only $7,000,000 was levied on the natural resources or the sources of production. Thus the great companies and corporations were able to continue to pile up their huge net profits while there was no diminution in the cost of living.

Natural resources meant nothing, the speaker said, unless there were the working men and women to be used with them.

Mr. Winch deplored the continuing tendency toward government by order-in-council but which the power of the members of the legislature was reduced and that of the executive council increased. This system of bureaucracy, by which even a semi-military police had now been set up, was, he felt, dangerous to the people and to democracy.

Mr. Winch condemned the "restrictive covenant" whereby Asiatics and Indians were not permitted to own property or even be guests in certain areas. This applied even to university endowment lands.

Turning to the national field,

Mr. Winch declared that removal of price controls had resulted in the cost of living reaching the highest point in history.

But what a different story it was when the workers wanted more for what they had to sell, their own services!

DIFFERENT APPROACH

Turning then to his recent travels, Mr. Winch told of his visitations to countries where the "new approach" with its benefits to the common people could be seen. War-torn countries which had been laid in ruin by the ravages of war, their economies smashed, were doing things by the application of socialist principles and practices which seemed almost unbelievable. Full employment, social security and care of children had been brought about.

"I was proud to see what the Labor government has done in Britain," declared Mr. Winch who asserted that there was "bare faced lying" about conditions there by opponents of Socialism. The coal industry, he declared, was on a firm foundation with greater employment, and production, more efficiency and at the same time profits were being made.

"There are fewer unemployed in Great Britain today than in Canada," the speaker declared and they have the greatest system of social security in the world. Today no misfortune could happen to anyone without the necessities of life being guaranteed so real social security has been attained.

Mr. Winch went on to describe the success of socialist governments and co-operative systems in such countries as Sweden and Denmark.

The most amazing of all was Palestine where flourishing cities, industries and farms were being established out of bare rock and sand as the desert was being pushed back.

When such things were being accomplished in far less favored lands, what opportunity there was, the speaker suggested, for Canada with its great resources to establish a standard of living unexcelled in the world and with plenty to spare to assist less fortunate peoples. This could be accomplished, he contended, by eradication of the system of capitalism with its competition and exploitation and its replacement by the new approach of the CCF.

"And we are going to get there, too," Mr. Winch declared. "How soon and how easily depends upon you people yourselves. The CCF is determined to march forward as rapidly as possible. We ask your help in the greatest crusade the world has ever known."

From forward looking item of social legislation put on the statute books of Canada had been inspired and due to the pressure of the CCF, he declared.

One heard much about Communism but there could be no danger from Communism, Mr. Winch asserted, if there was security for the people. As for himself, he was opposed to any form of totalitarianism—be it to the right or to the left.

Mr. Winch displayed his own powers of salesmanship by leading in the distribution of collection envelopes and pledge cards which resulted in a collection of $88.60 in cash and $93 in pledges. There was also an active sale of literature.

Most of the information you read on the subject of overcalls is incomplete. It takes into account only the cards—and not the people. Show any expert player the South hand shown below and he will tell you it does not justify an overcall of two clubs.

The point is that he has no right saying anything of the kind unless he knows who is sitting West. In the first place, don't overcall at all unless you have a definite and justifiable purpose. Please don't overcall just because you have "a trick and a half and five-card suit." One of the purposes in overcalling is to get your partner off to the right lead in case your left-hand opponent plays the hand.

Greens Look Good—Golds Are Flying High

Last Tuesday the High School "Greens" took an easy victory from the Port Simpson "Thunderbirds." This victory in a way made up for the hard fought game they lost to Fashion Footwear a week before. These boys, all juniors last season, seem to be turning into a well balanced team under the coaching of Mr. Mathews.

At this writing, the high flying High School "Golds" look as if they will sweep the Intermediate League this year. At present they are in first place with two victories and no losses.

Plans for having a bowling league in the High School this year are for the present discontinued. However, the 12-team league will resume a week from next Monday.

Bowling League Is Under Way

A High School Bowling League got under way on Tuesday, October 31 in the Prince Rupert Bowling Alleys.

There are 12 teams taking in students from grade 8 to grade 13. They are competing for a trophy donated by George Cook, and plans are being made for the purchasing of individual cups for each player of the winning team. There will also be a banquet at the end of the bowling season.

Noisy But Work Goes On

With blasting, drilling, hammering, sawing and the like going on outside the walls of Bo-Me-Hi, school goes merrily on day after day, week after week. Teachers suddenly find themselves hoarse from shouting above the noise and everyone nearly suffocates. When the windows are opened, it is almost impossible to concentrate on school work.

Assembly at Civic Centre

Last Friday afternoon the students assembled at the Civic Centre. The assembly began by the singing of "O Canada." Principal Hurst gave a brief talk on Remembrance Day. It was followed by singing of the High School song by the students. Mr. Furk spoke to the assembly regarding "Future Citizens' Day," explaining that the students would vote for their own mayor and city clerk. Mr. Furk said the Junior Chamber this year was going to put a lot of effort into "Future Citizens' Day" and that all the students should co-operate.

Mr. Thain explained that the City Council was made up of a mayor and eight aldermen. The mayor, he said, was elected every two years and four aldermen annually. Mr. Thain explained the voting procedure and the ballot used for voting. He offered further advice and assistance to the Junior City Clerk Iona Hardy has been chosen for that position.

Magnus Olafson gave a brief talk about his trip to the Boy Scout jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

On behalf of the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council, A. F. Robertson presented a $100 cheque to Bill Toderas towards the school orchestra. President Bill Toderas thanked the Trades and Labor Council on behalf of the students.

After singing God Save the King the students watched a basketball game between the Teachers and the Senior girls. The game was exciting and was enjoyed by all. The teachers won 26 to 19.

Movies Weekly At Friday Noon

The Students' Council has undertaken the task of showing movies in the auditorium every Friday at noon. The council has made arrangements to bring the students a wide variety of films which are both interesting and educational. Mr. Wilson, of the teaching staff, has thus far been operating the projector but it is hoped within the next week that a member of the council will be able to relieve Mr. Wilson of this task. The money raised in this way will be utilized by the council in various ways.

Selling Cards to Raise Band Funds

Every student in the school is trying to sell as many boxes of Christmas Cards as he possibly can—and no wonder! A lovely new sweater is being offered to the student who sells the most cards. The proceeds are for the money-raising campaign to buy instruments for the orchestra. The School Board has said that it will give a dollar for every dollar collected up to $750.

Happy Marriage— Is Not Menaced By Minor Spats

WINNIPEG (C)—Marriages are not headed for the rocks just because the husband and wife do not see eye-to-eye on everything.
Dr. Gerda Allison, mother and doctor, says it is perfectly natural, and also desirable, for husband and wife not to agree on everything. The prime requisite of the happy marriage is agreement on the ultimate goal.
She said each person has to take some individuality into marriage and retain it.

Dr. Allison was one of three speakers who addressed the Westminster Church marriage clinic. The others were Dr. Murray Campbell and Dr. Dorothea Wardrop.

Dr. Campbell said the truly happy couple must have a number of things in common.

In addition to a real affection,
emotional maturity, intellectual union and union of body and soul, he said the happy couple should have common background, church, grammar, table manners and similar elements including a mutual hobby.

Complete frankness and an understanding of your mate is vital, he added.

EQUAL PARTNERSHIP

Both doctors stressed equal partnership status for husband and wife. "Dignified Victorian acquiescence is no longer fashionable," Dr. Allison said. Also,
as far as the wife is concerned,
she deplored "slavish submission."

Marriage was not the end of the story. "It is just the beginning," a "dynamic state" calling for continual adjustments. The key to happy marriage is "tolerance, understanding and good humor... and an informed and realistic attitude toward sex."

Dr. Wardrop said "sex education should be according to the development of a child and should start with children, not at the pre-marital stage."

Handknit Gown Glamor Feature

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (C)—A white hand-knitted evening gown in traditional Shetland lace stitch attracted most attention at the recent London show, "Wool in Springtime 1951."

Completed in just under three weeks and comprising 500,000
stitches, the charming, balletskirted gown is draped enchantingly over a crinoline hoop and a trou-fou of taffeta petticoats.
The simple bodice, in a finger lace stitch, is topped by a cape-collar, off-the-shoulder neckline and the only touch of color is a narrow gold kid waist-belt.

The gown was knitted between daily chores by Mrs. E. N. Reed, a housewife and mother from Sedcup, Kent. Requiring 27 ounces of two-ply fingering wool costing £9, ($27), the dress is valued at £50.

The job was undertaken at the request of a well-known British wool firm to prove that hand-knitting does lend itself successfully to the textural softness and adaptability required in topranking glamor gowns.

SMARTNESS IN WOOL
The rest of the show, sponsored by London's international wool secretariat, displayed to advantage the glamor possible in both hand and machine-knit wools.
Two hand-knitted wool suits
have all the smartness and chic
of a well-cut tweed and a turquoise golfer jacket in heavilyribbed rough four-ply, would keep out the roughest winds and stay smart in all weathers.

Two-ply machine-knitted wool-ies included cashmeres so fine
they appeared transparent and yet were equally suited to a rough tweed skirt or a smart cocktail suit.

Two-ply is used again in hand-knitted white evening sweater
with off-the-shoulder cape neckline. A lovely lace stitch stole matches the lace stitching of the sleeves and neckline.

These hand-knitted articles will be ready for sale to next year's visitors, but patterns of the designs and the wool required will also be available for knitters who prefer their own workmanship.

BLAST RAZES HOTEL—Minutes after an explo ion that killed 10 persons, this was all that remained of the two-storey Ledue Hotel, 21 mi s south of Edmonton. This photo was taken by W. H. Bamber of Leduc as flames surged through the tottering remains of the hotel coffee shop, left. Seconds later the shop toppled into the basement. Some of the bodies were found beneath it. The juke box, arrow, was hurled into the street by the force of the blast. Sixteen persons were taken to hospital.

HOUSEKEEPING

CHICKEN DINNERS ARE ALWAYS
POPULAR—HOW TO COOK THEM

Chicken is first choice for company dinners and for the family on Sunday or other special days. When the motoring tourist sees the sign "Chicken Dinners Served Here," on a restaurant or home by the roadside,
he invariably turns in if it is within an hour of meal time.
When a chef makes a specialty of chicken dinners he is sure to attract plenty of customers. The homemaker who serves well-cooked chicken is always popular with her family and friends.

The secret of perfection in cooking poultry is to have it well-done and tender enough to cut with a fork. High temperatures toughen, dry out and shrink
the poultry meat. Home economists say that the oven temperature for cooking poultry should never be higher than 325° F.
This is regardless of the age and size of the bird. The time of cooking is determined by the eviscerated weight of the bird.

It is now possible to purchase eviscerated chickens which are practically ready for the oven.
However, it is wise to examine the cavity of the bird to make sure that all bits of lungs, glands,
etc., have been removed, as well as the oil sac at the base of the tail. It may be necessary to singe and remove a few pin-feathers.

Wipe the bird, inside and out,
with a damp cloth or wash thoroughly by allowing a strong stream of cold water to run through the body cavity. Do not soak poultry in water. Rinse well and dry thoroughly, inside and out.

If the bird is frozen when purchased, allow it to thaw completely before cooking.

For chicken use a dressing not too highly seasoned. Rub the inside of the bird with salt before filling with dressing. Do not pack neck and body cavities too tightly but fill neck opening with sufficient stuffing to give the bird a plump appearance.
Allow 1 1/4 cups dressing for each pound of chicken. One 1 1/2 lb.
loaf of slightly stale bread will make about 6 cups of medium-dry bread crumbs.

Place the bird on the breast with the neck toward you. Fold the neck skin over the back to hold dressing in place. Extend wings. Turn tips in, placing them over neck skin. Place bird on back with legs toward you.
Cross drumsticks, having leg
over slit to hold dressing in place.
If necessary, skewer or sew up openings. Take a piece of cord (about 1 1/2 yards long), place

middle of cord under the tail, wrap once around then bring ends of cord up and over crossed drumsticks. Cross strings and again wrap around tail and ends of legs. Cross ends of cord and bring strings up firmly between the drumsticks and body. Turn bird onto breast, bring cord around wings to centre back to hold lower wing joint close to body. The cord securely on back, holding wings and neck skin in place. If neck skin does not reach under cord, fasten it in place with a skewer.

Place stuffed bird, breast
down, on a rack or crossed skew-ers, in an uncovered pan with no water or fat added. Baste occasionally with drippings from the pan. Turn breast side up to brown uniformly during the last hour of cooking. Pieces of cheescloth, dipped in melted fat, may be placed over top of bird during roasting. Roast at 325° F. Allow 2 to 2 1/2 hours for a 3 to 4 pound bird or 3 to 4 hours for 4 1/2 to 6 1/2 pound bird.

The pleasure of a chicken dinner is now made possible for the small family by the purchase of chicken cuts. Those who prefer white meat may buy breast or wings. For those who like the dark meat there are legs. Breasts or legs may be stuffed and roasted or they may be browned in hot fat and cooked in a casserole or in the pressure cooker.

STUFFED CHICKEN LEGS

Remove bones from each chicken leg (drumstick and thigh). Stuff with 1/2 to 3/4 cup bread dressing. Sew or skewer together to close opening. Bake, uncovered, in a moderately slow oven, 325° F., until tender, about 1 1/2 hours, basting occasionally

Agree Women Err Just As Men Will

COPENHAGEN, Denmark
(Reuters)—Justice Minister Hel-
ga Pedersen, Denmark's first woman minister of justice, says
she doesn't believe "the world would be the slightest bit better off if it were governed by women."

She says that "women in government would make exactly as many mistakes as the men do."

"Person's qualifications should be the guide, not that person's sex."

An attractive, slim woman of 39, Miss Pedersen said she was
"as surprised as anybody else"
when she was asked to become justice minister.

She preferred not to comment on her new job "until I have settled down," but she did make these general remarks.

The lash: "I do not like it at all."

The death sentence: "I would like to see it abolished throughout the world."
