London Dockers Call Off Their Strike

Month's Tie-Up Is Ended On Advice Of Canada Union Chief

LONDON (CP)—London's dockers today voted at a mass meeting to call off their strike in support of the Canadian Seamen's Union and return to work Monday. Harry Davis, Canadian Seamen's Union president, told a mass meeting in Victoria Park that, "in view of the present position," the Canadian Seamen's Union had decided to call off the strike in Great Britain.

"Our struggle in Canada and the rest of the world will continue," Davis said.

The Canadian Seamen's Union declared "white" the Canadian ships Beaverbrae and Argomont whose blacklisting had brought on the dockers' strike a month ago.

Davis thanked the London dockers for their support. He blamed the strike on Canadian shipowners and our "anti-labor government."

"This was not a planned conspiracy directed by the Kremlin and Moscow," said the CSU president.

Davis said that the decision of the CSU to clear the way for resumption of work was made with a view to "the wider interests of English dockers and the whole people of England."

Minister of Labor Isaacs said he hoped the dockers would realize that their loyalty had been played upon and that in future they would heed the advice of their own leaders.

RUSSIA'S CHARGE AGAINST VATICAN

LONDON (CP)—Moscow radio charged today that the Roman Catholic excommunication of Communists was the Vatican contribution to "the cold war" that the Anglo-American reactionaries are waging against the camp of peace and democracy.

It is said the ban was intended to "split the united front of people fighting for peace against Anglo-American warmongers" and added that it was bound to fail.

BLOOD GIVING IS GLAMORIZED

Giving a pint of blood to the Red Cross for British Columbia's blood banks, one of which is being established at Prince Rupert to insure that there will always be a ready supply of whole blood and plasma here for any emergency, is a brief, painless and harmless operation. In fact, it was almost glamorized in a film "Miracle Fluid" which was shown last night in the auditorium of the Civic Centre. The picture not only showed the detailed process of drawing the blood but also depicted the various operations of processing, classifying, storing, distributing and actual use. The humanitarian aspect of blood donation was also emphasized.

C. N. Young acted as chairman for the evening's program which also included a presentation of the Government Travel Bureau's district travelogue "Highway Sixteen," and a Canadian Pacific Railway trans-Atlantic voyage feature from Montreal to Liverpool including intriguing scenes in the British Isles with visits to such cities as Liverpool, Glasgow, Edinburgh and Scotland.

Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton was in charge of the projection.

DAVIS CUP PLAY EVEN

MONTREAL (CP)—Brenden Macken of Montreal, whose inspired performance Thursday gave her first match triumph over Australia in Davis Cup tennis competition, today returns to action in the doubles fixture of the North American zone ties. The teams resume the five-match series deadlocked at one victory apiece.

Frank Sedgman of Australia squared the round in the other singles match yesterday with an impressive straight-set win over Henri Rochon of Montreal, Canada's No. 2 man. Sedgman also returns to action today, paired with John Bromwich, the Aussie captain.

The double tilt pairs Macken of Montreal and Walter Stohberg of Vancouver against Sedgman and Jock Bromwich today.

In yesterday's play Macken defeated Billy Sidwell 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 8-6. Sedgman defeated Rochon 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

$3,000 TAKEN FROM FISH BUYER'S BOAT IN RIVERS INLET HOLD-UP

Provincial police at coastal points between Prince Rupert and Vancouver are joined today in a search for two men said to be responsible for a $3,000 hold-up aboard a fish buyer's boat at Rivers Inlet Thursday afternoon.

According to reports received at the district police office here this morning, the boat Alco was held up and its owner, a man named Weaver, was robbed of $3,000 in the channel 300 miles south of here which is now the centre of a thriving sockeye salmon fishery.

The provincial police boat P.M.L. 17, of Ocean Falls, which has been at McLean's boatyard here for a hull painting job, left early this morning for its home port to take part in the investigation.

Corporal M. N. MacAlpine of the P.M.L. 17 detachment was picked up by Skeena Airways plane at noon today in Seaforth of 1,000 boats.

B.C. Doukhobors May Move To Either Russia Or Turkey

NELSON (CP)—Canada's Doukhobors, 14,000 of whom live in the rich farm lands of the West Kootenays, may soon leave the Dominion, bound for either Soviet Russia or Turkey. A call has been issued by John L. Lebedeff, chairman of the spiritual community of Christ, urging members of the strange religious sect to "migrate east."

In a statement, Lebedeff said: "After fifty years in Canada, the Doukhobors are destined to migrate east either to Soviet Russia or Turkey. All Doukhobors desiring to fulfill the prophecy of migrating east should see the chairman."

In Vancouver Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer said he had heard the report of the planned exodus but had not been officially informed. Mr. Wismer is leaving for Ottawa tomorrow and one of the matters he is to take up is the Doukhobor question.

Passengers arriving in Prince Rupert on the Princess Norah from Vancouver include: Mrs. A. L. Simms and Miss J. Simms.

PUBLICITY FILM WINS APPROVAL

"Highway Sixteen," a 500-mile trip in 15 minutes, is delighting Prince Rupert audiences with scenic glories of central British Columbia. The 16-millimeter color film produced by the B.C. Travel Bureau is receiving its premier showings in the city this week.

Its initial showing was held Thursday afternoon at the Capitol Theatre as part of the Rotary Club's weekly luncheon entertainment and drew expressions of appreciation from club members and guests.

Last night at the Civic Centre, it was displayed publicly for the first time in this city before an audience of 150.

With photography by Clarence Farris, provincial government photographer, the film takes its audience on a trip from Prince George to Prince Rupert, through Central British Columbia at its most scenic time of the year—the early autumn.

On the highway drive, it visits Prince George, Vanderhoof, Stuart Lake, Fort Fraser, Burns Lake and the Lakes Country, including the Stellaco River for fishing scenes, Telkwa, Smithers, the Hazelton and nearby native villages, Terrace and Prince Rupert.

Local models take part in the Prince Rupert scenes, highlight is the crowning, on the court house steps, of Port Queen Barbara Wilson by Mayor Arnold, a pageant of considerable color. The harbor on Port Day, local gardens and industrial scenes are also featured.

The film will be available for showings here until next Wednesday and next Tuesday there will be another public presentation. It is in custody of E. T. Applewhaite.

QUEBEC MAN IS HANGED

CHAMPIONSHIP DREAM IS OVER

LOS ANGELES (CP)—Light-weight champion Ike Williams retained his title last night when he scored a fourth-round technical "knockout" over Enrique Bolanos of Mexico City before an estimated 17,000 fans. Referee Jack Dempsey stopped the fight two minutes and 40 seconds after the start of the fourth round.

It was the Mexican challenger's third try for the title. His championship dream lay in shambles, broken to bits by the devastating fists of "Deadpan Ike." Bolanos went down and out before a furious fusillade of punches in the fourth round of the scheduled 15-round clash. His left eye was completely closed.

Hon. Harry Bowman

TO AGAIN be represented by two ministers in the provincial cabinet will be a matter of satisfaction to Central British Columbia. It is particularly appropriate that Harry Bowman, the new M.L.A. for Fort George, should be choice as minister of agriculture to succeed the retiring Hon. Frank Putnam.

In his capacity as agricultural and colonization agent for the Canadian National Railways, Mr. Bowman has been long associated with the development of agriculture in a practical way in the area tributary to the railway line between Prince Rupert and the Alberta border. This area in the next few years will be an important field for new land settlement to keep pace with the industrial development that is undoubtedly in the immediate offing for the whole centre and north of British Columbia. No one knows this country and its problems better than Mr. Bowman.

It can be recalled how previous cabinet ministers from the north, including such as T. D. Pattullo, A. M. Manson, H. G. Perry, W. J. Asseltine and E. T. Kenney, were able to achieve important things for their own districts, at the same time carrying out their duties to the province as a whole. Hon. Harry Bowman, in his position as minister of agriculture, the first time that portfolio has come north, will be in a position to do likewise in his particular sphere. A good choice has been made in his appointment.

EFFECTIVE PUBLICITY

A NICE SPOT of impressive and colorful publicity is given the entire district between Prince Rupert and Prince George in the Government Travel Bureau's travelogue "Highway Sixteen" being given premiere showings in Prince Rupert these days. All concerned with its production are to be complimented on a good job well done.

The scenic beauties and the attractions of the area from a tourist standpoint are effectively set forth and the film should result in further attention being centred on this area when it is shown abroad as is the primary purpose.

The beauty of it is that there is no exaggeration but it is an accurate record.

Prince Rupert people should take the opportunity to see it for it is entirely of local interest.

IN HEAT OF BATTLE

BRITISH PARLIAMENT has been arguing over the wisdom or otherwise of the "unconditional surrender" talk regarding Germany which was a popular catch word during the last war. Mr. Churchill, although some of his vitriolic speeches about the wicked Nazis still ring in our ears, now repudiates any agreement he may or may not have had about "unconditional surrender," saying now that it was the late President Roosevelt's idea and his alone.

It may have been unwise or ill-considered to resolve that Germany should be reduced to an "agricultural state" but that was the way the most of us were feeling in the heat of war and it would be probably the same in regard to the enemy should we have another war. In the heat of battle, indiscreet and impracticable things are sometimes said and done. When the indirection or the impracticability is realized, the view and the course could and should be changed.

ITALY'S POLICE DRAW NO CHEERS—Celebrating the third anniversary of the founding of the Italian republic, the Italian government sponsored parades all over Italy, but none quite as impressive as the Rome parade. For the most part, military equipment consisted of well-kept, freshly painted Allied surplus Sherman tanks, sporting clean guns and a fresh coat of green paint, are shown advancing up the avenue. Half the persons participating were police, and while the regular Italian army members were greeted with scattered applause, the police members were greeted by silence all along the line of march.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Most of the published pictures of Third Avenue, Prince Rupert, show little more than a quarter of the whole. That's short-changing the beholder. The first city council and the first engineers might have been able to have graded Third Avenue originally with more of a long-range view and fewer inclines. Anyway, there's no harm in mentioning it. It would be gratifying to look from Seventh Street away off to the corner of McBride—to watch the jay-walkers and mutter—"a d--d close shave for that fellow."

Was a man, years ago, better off with his own business or is he more prosperous working for wages today? It can make a good argument, and was debated in Vancouver the other evening. One of the points emphasized was the immensity of certain business groups and the relative smallness of the little fellow, as the situation stands now. This might be mentioned. The list of minor enterprises in Prince Rupert and district that changed ownership during the past twenty years runs into quite a respectable length.

The number of personal letters received by Prince Rupert people can only be guessed at, and the quantity of what practically is propaganda, is something else again. The latter is not becoming less. It is not an over statement to say millions of tons of newsprint can be considered wasted, unless it is in the form of skilled labor. To design, embellish, print and distribute means plenty of high class work and wages.

There was at least one citizen in Prince Rupert who, on Wednesday, found a picture in the Daily News of special interest. This was the view of Carton House in County Kildare, a mansion presented by Prince Aly Khan to his actress bride Rita Hayworth. Major Bahiff grew up in the neighborhood, which is not far from Dublin, and gradually becoming a great racing centre.

Profoundly shocked by a bestial crime, Ottawa parents are keeping their children at home, when they should be playing in the sunlight and fresh air. All branches of city and district police are working day and night. Some mothers are on the verge of nervous collapse. It has been noticed, possibly, that in recent years, governments and misguided individuals have not been over enthusiastic concerning continued enforcement of capital punishment. They might find perusal of the case, interesting reading.

There is a type of tourist strolling Prince Rupert's streets that somehow makes you think they are from certain steamers. If you're a good guesser the chances are your judgment will be right. There is something about the clothing—its quality and style—the walk, and general personality! They all have a certain "It." And you're not often mistaken.

MODERN DRUIDS AT STONEHENGE—Watched by a thousand spectators, members of the Haemus Lodge of the Ancient Order of Druids conducted their annual mid-summer ceremony within the stone circle at Stonehenge, Salisbury Plain. The Grand Arch Druid of Sussex, Brother J. J. Price, who presided, stood by the altar stone as Druids, each representing a sign of the Zodiac, formed a wide circle behind which a surpliced male voice choir sang. Stonehenge is a collection of huge prehistoric stones arranged in two rings 10,000 feet in circumference. It is associated with the Druid religion practised in Ancient Britain and dates from the bronze age. Modern Druidism, which claims to be linked with the ancient faith, is a movement "working for health, happiness and harmony for all on earth."

QUIET BUT INTERESTING

Miss Mary Calder Becomes Bride of Joseph Green at Salvation Army Ceremony

Quiet but interesting was the marriage which took place yesterday afternoon at the Salvation Army officers' quarters when Miss Mary Agnes Calder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Calder, formerly of this city and now of Francois Lake, became the bride of Joseph Aaron Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson Green of Newboro, Ontario. Major William Jurgensen officiated and Mr. and Mrs. John Linney were witnesses of the ceremony, others present being Mrs. Yurgensen and Mrs. C. K. Ytreberg. A duet was sung by Mr. Linney and Mrs. Yurgensen.

Mr. and Mrs. Green are taking up residence at Eighth Avenue West.

The bride, until recently, was a member of the hospital staff here. The groom is engaged in fishing.

R. W. Lefler returned to the city today from a business trip to Vancouver.

BASEBALL— Commercials Are Winners

Defeated Merchants 7 to 5
In Error-Studded Game

Commercials won an error-studded game from the Merchants at Roosevelt Park last night by a score of 7 to 5. The Merchants spotted the hotelmen four runs in the second inning and the margin was too much for Johnny Odowes' crew to overcome although they kept on fighting and were still in the game until the ninth when "Monk" Sunberg singled to score Lewis. However, Letourneau had turned on the heat and registered two of his four strike-outs to dampen the rally.

Commercials out-fumbled the Merchants 10 to 5 but the Merchants' "boots" came when they did most good—for the hotel crew. The unusually high score of errors was largely attributed to soggy and rough condition of the infield. In spite of the number of errors it was an interesting game to watch and most fans went home with their money's worth.

Commercials' big second inning came about when Sinclair hit sharply along third base foul line. Shier reached first when Linney who had singled was forced out at third. Guthrie was safe when Sinclair scored on an error at the plate. Vanetta sacrificed Shier home on a well executed play. Then Kerr, in centre-field, dropped Ewart's long fly for a two-run error that gave the Commercials the runs which turned out to be the margin of the game.

Lorne Vanetta showed his best form of the season at first base when he handled sixteen put-outs, three of them unassisted, without a mis-cue. He was heavy hitter for the night and handled the sacrifice play faultlessly. Letourneau kept Merchants' big guns well in control and only Bill Lambie made good work with the lumber with two for four. He also scored two runs.

Both pitchers were stingy with the hits, allowing just five each. Rosedale's record was better in the strike-out department when he registered 7 to Letourneau's 4.

SPORTS

PLAY BALL

Local baseball fans are on the short end of the deal up to now as far as seeing outside teams playing here is concerned. The Rupert share of the Ketchikan series was cancelled due to threatening weather. Now a touring California team that was to play here has called off the engagement. No explanation is given but it is thought that they ran out of paved roads and were unable to keep up to schedule.

Next on the program the local All Star team journeys to Smithers for two games on August 31.

However, the baseball executive is not forgetting the patrons here and the season will likely end up with a full quota of outside teams. Ketchikan would like to play here during Carnival Week and the series then might be of mutual advantage of all concerned. The return bout with Smithers will likely be arranged when the team is there at the end of the month.

In the meantime the league is making arrangements to have the Terrace team meet the Commercials in an extra Sunday game here some time the latter is free in the schedule.

MEXICO START FOR MANSON MEDAL WINNER

Anyone who wants to win Prince Rupert Public Relations Council's Manson Medal will have to drive north from Mexico instead of west from New York and beat this city's publicity drum along their route of travel.

The gold medal, which was posted a year ago to be awarded to the driver of the first car to make the trip from New York City to Prince Rupert, will now be awarded to the driver of the first car to arrive here from Mexico—and it must bear Mexican license plates.

The other stipulations regarding the medal, however, remain the same. The motorists must advise newspaper or press services offices along their route that they are intending to compete for the handsome gold medal. Purpose of the competition is to publicize Prince Rupert.

Decision to change the starting point from New York to Mexico was made at the monthly meeting of the publicity group last night after it had become apparent that there were no formal attempts to capture the medal from the eastern city.

To replace E. T. Applewhaite, Member of Parliament-elect, who has served as secretary to the Public Relations Council for the last three years, the meeting selected H. P. Glassey who will take office on Mr. Applewhaite's departure for Ottawa early this fall.

Mr. Applewhaite was given a vote of thanks for his services as secretary.

The council's campaign to raise operating funds among the business community will be continued. Retail businesses, many of whom profit directly from the council's publicity efforts, will be re-canvassed.

To attract wider representation to meetings from various organizations in the city, the council will send out a monthly letter describing its activities and publicity plans.

The meeting decided to write a letter of commendation to the B.C. Travel Bureau on its color film "Highway Sixteen" which portrays the attractions of central British Columbia from Prince Rupert to Prince George and to suggest that a similar film be made of the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Present at the meeting, which was held in the city council chamber, were E. T. Applewhaite, J. E. Boddie, Miss Honora Silversides, P. M. Ray, Edward

Seasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

HAPPY PICNIC DAYS HERE; MENUS FOR OUT-OF-DOORS

Warm weather is here again and soft breezes drag us out of doors. "Let's have a picnic," will be an oft-repeated phrase for the next three months. Whether it is a hurriedly packed lunch or a carefully planned menu, food seems to taste better in the open air than in the most beautifully appointed dining room.

Even in summer meals there should be some hot food. If there is an open fire some cooking may be done over it. No one cares if there is a faintly smoky flavour or a slight scorch on one side. If no fire is possible at the chosen spot, the hot food goes to the picnic in a thermos jug. Stews, baked beans and thick soups carry well in an insulated container, when no thermos jug is available if the hot cooking pot is taken from the stove and wrapped in several thicknesses of newspaper. It will keep hot for an hour or so. Beverages, hot or cold, carry best in a thermos bottle. Chilled tomato juice carried in this way makes a refreshing drink to start off the meal.

Sandwiches are usually the backbone of a picnic lunch and they should be substantial with a generous quantity of filling. Vary the appearance of sandwiches by combining different kinds of breads, such as white and whole wheat, raisin with white or rye or use fancy breads, such as cheese, date or orange. Use weiner rolls, hamburger buns, or scones for variety.

There are several things to remember in estimating supplies for sandwiches. One small sandwich loaf (1 1/2 lbs.) cuts into 30 to 40 slices. Picnic sandwiches should not have crusts removed. Chill the loaf of bread in refrigerator before slicing and use a very sharp knife, to make even thin slices. 1/4 lb. butter is needed for each loaf of bread. Butter will go further if creamed until light and fluffy. 1/2 lb. or slightly less of moist filling spreads one loaf. Cold meat, sliced thinly, yields 15 to 20 slices per pound.

1 doz. hard-cooked eggs, chopped, will fill 20 to 25 sandwiches.

The salad part of a picnic meal is sometimes best when confined to finger food. Wee crisp carrots, radishes, green onions and pickles are good for this purpose. If lettuce or other green, leafy salad is preferred, the salad-dressing should be carried separately and tossed in at the last moment so that the salad will have all its fresh crispness.

For dessert, fresh fruit is usually wished. Cake with fluffy icing does not always carry well so the home economist will find it better to

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean the hair brush?

A. Put a small amount of household ammonia in warm water and dip the brush in this solution several times, back of brush upwards. Do not rinse it. Lay the brush on its back to dry.

Q. How should I grease cake pans?

A. The cake pans and muffin tins should be greased with lard instead of butter. The butter will cause cakes to stick. However, butter should be used to grease casserole dishes.

The Experts Say - -

COOKING VEGETABLES—Canadian Press Staff Writer
Since one of the objectives in cooking food is to make it as nutritious as possible, consideration should be given to the proper methods of cookery.

Health experts suggest that vegetables generally suffer most from improper cooking.

Vegetables are rich in minerals and vitamins, the nutrients so readily affected by water and heat. Great care must be taken to retain as much of the food value as possible.

Vegetables should be prepared close to meal-time. If cut, the pieces should be large because when cut in small pieces a larger surface area is exposed to the water, thus increasing the loss of vitamins and minerals.

For cooking vegetables here are some suggestions:

1. Use the least amount of water possible, since many of the nutrients will dissolve in water.

2. Have the water boiling before adding the vegetables. Experiments show vegetables started in cold water have almost twice the mineral loss that they have if boiling water is used.

3. Cover the saucepan tightly to shorten the cooking period and to cut down oxidation of vitamin C.

4. Cook only until tender—not soft.

5. Use the remaining cooking water in the preparation of soups and gravies.

6. Serve vegetables immediately after cooking because if they are allowed to stand for any length of time high vitamin losses occur.

The health experts also have some suggestions for cooking meat:

1. Cooking with dry heat: roasting, pan broiling, and oven broiling. Shrinkage is reduced when meat is cooked slowly in an uncovered pan.

2. Cooking with moist heat:

braising (cooking in steam) and stewing (cooking in water). These methods are used for less tender cuts in order to soften the connective tissues.

Eggs should be cooked at a low temperature to prevent the toughening and curdling of the protein. High cooking temperatures also toughen the protein of cheese and make it less digestible.

Pleasant conversation at meal-time is not just proper etiquette, it also is an aid to digestion. Health and welfare department officials say that tense nerves and frayed tempers at the dinner-table often lead to digestive upsets and, in the case of children, to the creation of a stubborn feeding problem.

Incidentally parents should never try to force food into a child against his will. Children do not always eat the same amount from day to day and their tastes sometimes change. Parents should try to fill their children's nutritional needs with foods their children prefer.

Modern Etiquette

Q. When addressing a letter to a widow, should her late husband's initials be used?

A. Following her husband's death, a woman is known, socially by the name which she used during his lifetime. Mrs. John Jones continues to be known as Mrs. John Jones.

Q. What is the correct way to eat canapés?

A. Canapés served before a meal or with cocktails are eaten with the fingers. At the table, they are eaten, as are other hors d'oeuvres, with a fork.

Q. When should an announcement of an engagement be made?

A. It should be made upon the day that the bride-elect chooses to wear her engagement ring for the first time publicly.

MACLEOD REVIVES COLORFUL PAST—These gentlemen with the moustache-faces are citizens of Macleod, Alta., members of the MacLeod Anniversary Whiskers' club who won't touch a razor until the town's anniversary celebrations are over this month. The colorful history of Macleod will be the basis for a pageant complete with Blackfoot Indians in war paint, scarlet-coated R.C.M.P. and rum-runners. The town's history began in 1874 when a log fort was built on an island in the Oldman river to suppress invading whiskey peddlers from Fort Benton, Montana, who had built a fort themselves on Alberta soil. They called it Fort Whoop-up and it deserved its name.
