Bootlegging, Illegal Drinking, at Labor Progressive Party Alleged

"SURPRISE" SEQUEL TO AFFAIR IN MONTREAL—
FIFTY-SIX, INCLUDING NINETEEN WOMEN, ARE ARRESTED

MONTREAL, (CP)—A "party to help the labor press," sponsored by the Labor-Progressive Party, ended with an unexpected "surprise" Saturday night when 56 participants, including 19 women, were arrested in a raid by the Quebec liquor police.

Pierre Gelina, editor of Le Combat, Montreal leftist paper, banned in Quebec by the provincial padlock law but being published in Toronto, and Daniel Durocher were charged with selling liquor illegally.
Others were charged with fre-quenting an illegal bar.

Plainclothes officers, it is said,
visited the party and bought drinks before the raid.

"Moscow and Belgrade propaganda" is said to have been found in a brief case carried by Gelina.

Tories Win In Britain

LONDON, (CP)—Conservatives
claimed an overwhelming victory today, mostly at the expense of the Labor party, in Saturday's municipal elections.

Amended unofficial returns,
party headquarters said, showed the Conservatives had won 138
council seats and lost 19.

The trend to the right, first evident in English and Welsh municipal elections last fall, cost the Socialists 100 seats on rural and urban district councils. Conservative tabulators reported.

The Labor Party, which made no tabulations on Saturday's voting, declined to comment immediately. A spokesman promised a statement after complete returns had been analyzed.

The voting to fill 3,062 seats in more than 500 districts will continue through Tuesday.

ALEXANDRIA IS TERROR-STRICKEN

ALEXANDRIA (CP)—Twenty
persons were killed and at least 20 hurt today as Egyptian troops fought striking police and civilian mobs in the streets of Alexandria. The dead include seven policemen. Mob terror is said to be gripping the entire city which is the second largest in Egypt.

Three thousand policemen, Alex-andria's entire force, walked out this morning, demanding higher wages and working conditions.

Hundreds of police are also on strike in Cairo, protesting at proposed transfer of some officers to villages and asking for more pay.

LOGGERS OUT FOR MORE PAY

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Officials of the British Columbia district of the International Woodworkers
of America (CIO) on Sunday announced that the union would seek wage increases of 35c per hour across the board and full union shop in bargaining for a 1948 contract with British Columbia lumber and logging operators. The present contract expires June 20.

The union, which claims 35,000 members, gained a 15-cent an hour wage increase in 1946 after a 36-day strike. Last year the Wood Workers got a 40-hour week and a 12 1/2c hourly wage boost.

THE WEATHER

Mixed snow and rain fell over all sections of southern British Columbia, during the night.
Showery conditions will persist today in that area and will be followed by clearing weather tomorrow morning. The northern half of the province is clear and cold. Lowest temperature recorded during the night was 12 above at Prince George. Temperatures are expected to remain about 10 degrees below the early April normal today and Tuesday.

ISLAND MINERS VOTING TODAY

NANAIMO (CP)—Striking Vancouver Island coal miners are casting secret ballots today on a final wage offer from the Canadian Collieries. Neither United Mine Workers, officials or company executives commented on the proposal following a special conference. It is indicated from reliable sources, however, that the 50-day walk-out might end. The miners seek a $2 per day increase. The company has offered $1.40 with 60c extra for two-ana-a-half ton per day output.

DESIGN FOR USE—The National Gallery at Ottawa has established an Industrial Design Information Services to promote wider use of Canadian talent in the design of manufactured products for everyday needs. The modern stoves being demonstrated by Tom Farley, Ottawa student, to Bud Glunz and Miss Norma Young, government employees, are models for improved design in electric ranges done as part of practical project by third years architectural students at University of Toronto in co-operation with an important electrical manufacturing company of Ontario. The new design arises out of complaints from housewives and is leading to a higher oven with window door to allow view of cooking without opening door, or stooping. Support for the new profession of industrial designs comes from Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of trade and commerce. In opening an exhibition devoted to Industrial Design in Canada he said: "This exhibition squarely poses the question of the place of the designer in Canadian industry." Mr. Howe is shown examining a mantel radio designed and produced in Montreal. Lower left is an original Canadian design which caters to the busy executive. It is a combined brief case and traveller's bag, designed and produced in Ottawa. The desk lamp shown is used by Miss Janet Hardy of the National Gallery; it combines utility and simple pleasing design, based on the minimum number of construction parts needed for its all steel manufacture.

Crisis Over Land Transport To And From Berlin Now Ended

TRAFFIC IS MOVING

BRITAIN, UNITED STATES
AGREE TO TALKS WITH SOVIET AUTHORITIES

FOOD TRAINS GETTING THRU

BOTH SIDES REAFFIRM THEIR DETERMINATION TO STAND PAT

BERLIN—The crisis over
movement of western power
trains to and from Berlin
through Russia-occupied zone
appears to be much relieved.
Supplies are again moving freely by train and the emergency air service which had been instituted by the Americans has been withdrawn.
Guards have been removed by the United States authorities
from the building in the American zone which is used by the Russians as railway headquarters.

British authorities today accepted a Russian offer to talk over the Allied deadlock resulting from Russian restrictions on railroad traffic to and from Berlin. They suggested a full four-power meeting.

The United States had previously accepted the Russian proposal for discussion of these restrictions.

Controls on traffic through the Soviet occupation zone had forced suspension of Allied military rail traffic between Berlin and western occupation zones. The Russians wanted to board and inspect such trains but the western powers refused to let them.
Even last night United States authorities reaffirmed that the United States Army would never agree to Russian inspection of trains, while the Russians said
the restrictions would not be relaxed.

Regularly scheduled passenger trains were still suspended today but Allied freight trains with food were getting through to Berlin.

A special train of Lt. Gen. Sir
Brian Robertson, British commander, passed through Marienborn, Russian check point, early today with no apparent interference.

The Russians suggest that the talks they propose should be in the form of informal dinners.
Field Marshal Montgomery
would be among those participating.

KRUPPS ARE ACQUITTED

NUERNBERG, Germany,
(CP)—Alfred Krupp and 11
co-defendant directors of the Krupp munitions combine were acquitted today by a United States war crimes
court of plotting aggressive warfare.

The tribunal cleared all 12
of charges that they committed crimes against peace and that they participated in conspiracy against peace. They still face two charges of plunder and spoliation of conquered nations and deportation, exploitation and abuse of slave labor.

MANY MINES OFF COAST

SEATTLE (CP)—The district Coastguard reported Sunday the sighting of eighteen floating mines along or off the north Pacific Coast in the last four days. Most of the recently reported mines were floating off
the west coast of Vancouver Island.
From Esquimalt naval base it was announced that the naval tug Glendon had been dispatched to the Kyuquot area to destroy three drifting mines.

British Transport and Russian Fighter Collide Over Berlin; Serious View Taken of Incident

BERLIN, (CP)—A British transport plane crashed in flames today after colliding
with a Russian fighter craft,
British authorities announced.
The British plane, a Viking, carried 10 passengers and four crew members. Royal Air Force officers said that all 14 were killed. Two of the passengers are understood to have been Americans.

The Russian fighter also crashed, killing its pilot, the sole occupant.

Royal Air Force officials said
the planes fell when their wings
hit.

Following the incident, it was announced that British transport planes coming to Berlin will henceforth have fighter escorts
until the Russian authorities give assurance that Russian planes will not further endanger British aircraft.

In today's incident, the Soviet plane is stated to have moved directly across the path of the British transport which was coming in for a landing.

There are rumors that Russian fighters have been diving recently on British transports.

A formal protest at today's incident is being made by the British authorities, a spokesman saying that a serious view was being taken of the affair.

General Sir Brian Robertson, British commander-in-chief in Germany, lodged the official protest regarding the collision between the British plane and Russian fighter with Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, Soviet commander-in-chief, personally tonight.

This was at the same time as the office of the British commander in Germany was announcing that British planes coming into Germany will have fighter escorts until assurance is received that Soviet planes "will not again endanger British flights."

NEW LIBERAL ORGANIZER—

nounced last week.

CHIANG PREMIER, NOT PRESIDENT

Chiang Kai-Shek is not expected to be a candidate for re-election as President of China but will,
it is believed, be in the field for the Premiership.

TO SIGN TREATY

MOSCOW—The treaty between Finland and Russia is expected to be signed within the next three or four days.
Differences are said to have been ironed out after two of the members of the Finnish delegation returned from Helsinki where they had gone for further instructions from the Finnish government.

secution was ordered and the three were discharged on the indictment. Theoretically the

A Shot In The Arm

IT MAY BE TIME to suggest to the good folk of Prince Rupert who seem to be a little downhearted these days, be it due to the gloomy international situation, the seasonal slack or what not, that things are looking just as good as ever for our town.

Everybody has their ups and down and it's a mighty low-spirited individual who cannot take them both, the former with a grain of salt, if you like, and the latter with a dash of pepper.

Just because the pulp mill excavation is going a little slower than had been expected, just because the international situation may cause a slow-up, just because strikes and bottlenecks and what-not are delaying the normal flow of business and development, are no reason to be downhearted.

What Prince Rupert may be experiencing in the way of deferment and uncertainty is being experienced everywhere. We are all in the same boat. Those who are not able to tough it out will, of course, have to fall behind. After all we have had good days to fortify us for a time.

These are days when it really counts to be of stout heart and good cheer.

Rather than being the least bit pessimistic we should consider ourselves blessed to be located here on the ground floor in the place which a little later on when things become settled and the world starts moving forward again, must be in the forefront of the development of this newest and richest part of our great Canada.

Meantime, there are still things that we might be working for, developments that we might be expediting and improvements we might be pressing for. It is no time to throw up our hands.

PATTULLO AND PERRY

T. D. PATTULLO, former Premier of the province and for 30 years member of the Legislature for Prince Rupert has been named chairman, and H. G. T. Perry, former speaker and minister of education as well as House member for Fort George for almost as long as Mr. Pattullo, has been named member of the British Columbia policy committee for the national Liberal convention this summer at Ottawa. Northern and Central British Columbia is thus assured of strong and effective voices in that important gathering. That these two men have been appointed to the plank-building committee should be of general gratification. It is a recognition of the importance of this part of the country and the wish of the party that it should have its say on federal affairs particularly as regards British Columbia.

Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Perry between them may be expected to put much life and many ideas into the work to which they have been assigned. The former has always been outspoken and virile in championing the interests of the province. The latter is well known as one of British Columbia's most expert and practical resolution framers.

EVERYONE'S OPPORTUNITY

IN THESE TROUBLED TIMES when individual freedom has disappeared or is threatened in so many parts of the world considerable reference is made to the freedom of opportunity we enjoy in Canada. But what can we do in order to take advantage of this opportunity?

Unfortunately, too often we look for opportunities everywhere except in the right place which is where we are and in the job we hold. If we give the matter some serious thought, we realize that everyone can improve his job. No matter how simple the job may be, it will improve to the extent that it is done with interest and enthusiasm and in a lively spirit of co-operation.

If we put the shoe on the other foot and look at people in other jobs we see how these qualities add up to success.

When we have things to buy we admit, perhaps without realizing it, that there is a great difference between the people who sell us the things we need. When we need a haircut, most of us don't go just to any barber. We go to a barber we know, one who, we think, is better than the others we have patronized. When we go to a store or a restaurant, we like to go where we know a clerk or waiter who has given us good service in the past and will continue to do his job well. We use this selective method every time we can, whether it is in dealing with an individual or a company.

All of us should realize that although we are employees we are really in business for ourselves. Our wages and salaries are paid with the money of our customers. When we treat our job lightly and do not give it the full attention it deserves, we are hurting ourselves more than our employer. We are actually neglecting our customers and literally telling them we don't care whether or not they pay for our dinner, our rent and our clothing.

If we study our jobs and criticize ourselves, we can be better. It's just a case of realizing that the improvement of our own position lies entirely in our own hands.

THIS AND THAT

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

It is gratifying to realize that the firemen of Prince Rupert have complete protection from the distressing and sometimes deadly effect of smoke fumes when called out in the performance of their duty. But the relief is not yet 100 per cent coverage. At the average get-together social when slow burning stogies becloud the intellect all that can be done is retire at once to a previously prepared position—and stay there.

Wrangell, and other Alaska cities, observing the fiftieth anniversary of the gold strike, will foster the wide open free-and-easy frontier complex this summer. For example, anyone shaving will do so at the cost of a fine. Being cursed with a stiff whisker, tender skin and dull razor, we plan on sailing for Wrangell by the next boat.

The Daily News, printing a despatch from Moscow dated January 1922, reports 20 million peasants in the Volga region suffering from starvation and that help must come from abroad, mainly from the United States. But how can anyone get over or around that dashed iron curtain?

One cannot escape the conviction that the ss. Prince George, soon to ply the fairest of coasts, will offer the maximum of niceties in all the little things distinguishing high class service. The only disturbing thought is that in going down to dinner the first evening one might blunder in choosing a spoon, and become exposed to the gaze of a superior waiter. But of course, it is a simple matter to watch the other fellow opposite or at your elbow.

RECLINING TOTEMS

Editor, Daily News:

Your editorial "Tourist Week Here" reminds us that the tourist season will soon be here and naturally tourists will expect to find a tidy city. I have heard Prince Rupert described as the "Garden City of the North" and I also heard flattering comments from the Officer Cadets who recently visited the city—one of them made a remark to me that it was a real pretty city.

On another page of your paper there is a notice from Mr. Howe, city engineer, drawing attention to unsightly piles of old lumber here and there on the city streets. I would, therefore, like to ask, are the two Totem Poles or figures lying alongside the Museum to be classed as "unsightly piles of old lumber?"

If so, why not have them removed and burned, and, if not, why not have them placed upright beside the Museum? May be some of the husky lads of the Junior Chamber of Commerce might spare time to come along and with a merry "Yo heave Ho," hoist the totem poles to the position meant for them, that is, upright.

They could beg or borrow a bag of cement and so make a base for them. At present they are rotting away and are merely the targets for facetious remarks and they look like two "drunks getting on a canned heat jag." I actually heard that remark applied to them. Totem poles are getting scarce and "unders" and that the native will not carve any more. If nothing is done to preserve what remains of them a bit of Indian History will pass into oblivion as these totem poles are carved histories of various tribes.

PRIORITY OF LABOR

Editor, Daily News:
My anti-union friend who spread his woe over a column of your paper April 2 has my supreme sympathy. He appears to have taken a bad beating from a co-op or some trade union. The battle of life is not to be strong alone. It is to be active, the diligent, the brave.

The views expressed in the letter might have been acceptable about the time that Balaam and his ass went on their long journey and disagreed as to direction. When Balaam and his ass got into their argument, facts proved the ass to be right. But a lot of water has gone over the dam since Balaam's ass spoke.

The world goes rolling along in high and all who cannot adjust themselves to the speed are rolled under. The motive power that drives things along is economic stress in perpetual motion developing the mind of man and unfolding the secrets of nature, widening the horizon for the brain, making things possible today that once could not have composed a dream when the ass disputed Balaam's judgment.

The trade union movement needs no defence by me. Its history is written in the laws of the civilized world and is reflected in the homes of millions of workers throughout the world, in schools and universities of all countries.

The co-ops and trade unions are the heavy artillery of the great working class—a weapon inspired by such men as Abraham Lincoln who said that labor, being prior to capital, has a priority claim on wealth created by it.

GEORGE B. CASEY
(Author of Bogeys and Ghosts)

DEFENDS UNIONS

Editor, Daily News:

In reading Mr. Letchford's letter on trade unions the old Irish got the better of me and I wish to state a few views of mine on the same topic.

Naturally, each individual thinks in accordance with his own economic interests insofar as he understands these interests. Mr. Letchford has a grudge against the unions and is eager to convince others that the unions are one of our major evils. However, in this period of violent red-baiting and building up class and race hatred, it would not be amiss to bring out a few good points for unionism.

I am not denying the fact that free enterprise—capitalism—has produced all these wonders such as the steam engine, the electricity. It has built magnificent ships and buildings and made flying commonplace. In developing all these grand things they have also created bigger and better wars and instruments of destruction including the atom bomb. I can assure Mr. Letchford that organized labor shall not claim credit for these things.

Organization was here long before working men were mature enough to understand the value of collective action. The unions have been instrumental in producing a higher standard of living for the whole community, not only for the workers themselves. It has added to the dignity of the individual and the skill of the workman. It should be generally known to all citizens that a better payroll in a town is a blessing to the merchants as well as the worker.

As I mentioned, the value of organizing has been understood by the merchants, the medical men etc. In fact there is hardly any group today that does not build associations of some kind or other. Is Mr. Letchford opposed to all these or is it just the workers' associations that he dislikes?

Workmen do not have to be ignorant little men. It is unfortunate that ignorance should exist in our group but ignorance is by no means exclusively our vice, Mr. Letchford.

In conclusion I wish to congratulate George B. Casey for his courageous struggle for more light in a period when free thought and expression is in serious danger.

A. WALLIN.

TOOK PICTURES IN TULSEQUAH AREA

Nick Krook, of the Customs staff at Prince Rupert, some time back spent a while at Tulsequah, not far from Juneau, where important mining development work is in progress. The trip gave opportunity to take a few pictures, and these, enlarged, give an excellent idea of appearance of the surrounding mountain country, the general scope of operations, and what can be done up there, in the way of snowfall.

LOCAL COUPLE WED QUIETLY

Quiet but of much interest in view of the wide circle of friends and acquaintances of the contracting couple was the marriage which took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the parsonage of First United Church, Rev. R. A. Wilson officiating, of Miss Gertrude McNeill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Little of Moose Jaw, and Thomas Smith, younger son of the late Henry Smith and Mrs. Smith, 431 Ninth Avenue West.

The bride wore a grey gabardine suit and had a corsage bouquet of pink sweetheart roses. The matron-of-honor was Mrs. Louis Wide, sister of the groom, whose costume was of black gabardine with corsage of pink carnations. Louis Wide was groomsmen.

Following the ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of the groom's mother where a toast to the bride was proposed by Carl Zarelli and responded to by the groom. A pretty two-tier wedding cake, baked and decorated by the groom's mother, was duly cut by the bride.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Smith will sail on the Princess Adelaide for a honeymoon trip to Seattle on the conclusion of which they will return here to take up residence at 309 Second Avenue.

Both bride and groom are in the service of the Atlin Fisheries here. Mr. Smith was born and raised in Prince Rupert, being member of a well known pioneer family. The bride has been here for seven years and is in the Atlin Fisheries office.

PREMIER TO CLOSE DOWN?

VANCOUVER—If miners persist in their demand for a $2.80 a day wage increase, Silbak-Premier Mines Ltd. will have no alternative but to close its operations, Dale L. Pitt, manager-director, told the annual meeting of shareholders here. Having operated for the last two years at a loss, he said, the company had not the working capital to pay the wages demanded for any length of time.

Mr. Pitt referred to a new income source from zinc as the "one ray of hope" in a picture which otherwise was none too bright due to renewed wage demands of labor for a $2.80 a day increase, the fixed price of gold and mounting operating costs.

Although Silbak-Premier and its predecessor the Premier Mining Co. have produced more gold than any other mine in British Columbia, it is not regarded as a "gold" mine for the purpose of receiving assistance under the proposed federal government gold mines assistance plan, he explained.

The mine receives 60 per cent of its revenue from gold production, 10 per cent from silver and 30 per cent from lead. Because of the high ratio of other metals other than gold, the mine does not qualify for the federal subsidy. It is ineligible also because the bonus will apply only to gold produced over and above that produced in the basic year of 1946. Silbak-Premier produced its maximum quantity in that year.

However, Mr. Pitt said, preparations are well advanced to start turning out a zinc concentrate and the price of zinc has advanced sufficiently to ensure

CLERGY AND PULPIT TALK

Meeting With Ministerial Association Today—Great Biblical Picture Coming

Co-operation between press and pulpit in the dissemination of church messages and activities was discussed between members of the Prince Rupert Ministerial Association and G. A. Hunter, managing editor of the Daily News, at the regular monthly meeting of the Association this morning.

Mr. Hunter offered the facilities of the press to the clergy of the city in "popularizing" and "selling" the message of the church, stressing the need in particular of interesting the younger generation.

Rev. Basil S. Prockter, president of the Ministerial Association, was in the chair and members present were Rev. R. A. Wilson, Rev. Fred Antrobus, Rev. Paul Barber, Rev. A. M. McColl, Ven. Archdeacon E. D. Hodson, and Capt. Earl Jarrett.

The Association is to co-operate in the presentation at the Civic Centre toward the end of the month of the epic full length talking picture production "Golgotha," the picturization of the Crucifixion.

A considerable revenue from this source.

Among the economies effected in the last year is the replacement of the tram line to Stewart with two newly-purchased five-ton trucks and this will reduce the cost of moving concentrates to one-fifth of its former level.

Offsetting factors are the higher costs of longer hauls underground and the smaller size of ore bodies now being worked.

Getting Ready For Election

Herbert Morrison and Lord Woolton Match Wits in Britain

LONDON (GP)—Lord President of the Council Herbert Morrison and Lord Woolton, former food minister, who worked as colleagues in the Churchill wartime coalition government, now match their brains in the 1950 general election preliminaries.

Both count victories and disappointments, lay down strategy for their party organizations and give repeated warnings against complacency.

Conservatives still winced when they think of the November by-election in Gravesend where Morrison was credited with the ingenious idea of importing a former Liberal, Sir Richard Acland, who was able to keep the seat for Labor. He succeeded the former Toronto newspaper M.P., Garry Alligher, who was expelled for writing an article the Commons considered offensive.

Lord Woolton had his revenge in the Glasgow constituency of Camlachie, previously held by Rev. Campbell Stephen who was elected as an Independent Labor party candidate but switched to straight Labor before his death last year. Labor fought hard but the Conservatives snatched the seat for their first gain from the government party since the 1945 election.

When things go badly, the Conservatives are apt to complain that Labor is in a happy position because of the ceaseless flow of funds from the trade union movement. But Lord Woolton, as Conservative Party chairman has announced his "Fighting Fun" to finance the Conservative campaign now has passed $4,000,000 with subscriptions still coming in.

Another Conservative grouse has been that Labor never al-

MAPLE LEAFS
OUST BRUINSToronto and Detroit in Final
For Stanley Cup

TORONTO, ©—Toronto Maple Leafs won an exciting and ever close game at the Gardens here Saturday night to dispose of the fighting Boston Bruins by a score of 3 to 2 and enter the final of the National League's Stanley Cup world professional hockey championship series against Detroit Red Wings who eliminated the New York Rangers last night.

Peter Kennedy, as he was a week ago Saturday, was again the hero this Saturday by scoring the winning goal in the third period after the count had been two-all. Fighting all the way, the Bruins sent their goalkeeper off in the last minute of play and put on a six-man power play which Turk Broda and the other Maple Leaf defenders held off. In one breakaway Kennedy got the puck in front of the empty Boston net but missed. However, that goal was not needed. Toronto won the best of seven semi-final series four to one.

The Red Wings smashed into the final round of the play-offs having won the first two games by a margin of four games to two, and lost the second two and coming back for the last two.

SAN DIEGO WINS
SOUTH DIVISION

FRESNO, ©—San Diego defeated Fresno by a score of 3 to 2 in overtime last night to win the best of five finals in the southern division of the Pacific Coast Hockey League by three games to two.

CITY TEAM TO TRAVEL
FOR PLAYOFFLocal Players to Journey to Port Alberni in Quest of Title

Playoffs between Port Alberni and Prince Rupert for the provincial Senior "B" basketball championship will be played at Port Alberni. It was decided this morning by the city basketball association after receipt of a telegram advising that the Port Alberni team will be unable to travel here for the contest.

The two-game, total-point series was scheduled originally to be held here April 15 and 16 but now it will be at Port Alberni.

The Prince Rupert team is recognized as the northern B. C. champions while Port Alberni recently won the southern play-offs against Kamloops. After receiving a telegram from Harry Chapman secretary of the B. C. Amateur Basketball Association advising that the Port Alberni team will be unable to travel, Art Murray, president of the local association said that the city team would travel south for a crack at the provincial championship.

Mr. Robert McCarthy returned in Saturday night from a holiday trip to Edmonton, Calgary and Banff. While in Calgary Mrs. McCarthy attended the Dominion skating contest in which Barbara Ann Scott competed.

WHAT'S HAPPENING?—One of Prince Rupert waterfront installations, disposition of which is subject of speculation. War Assets is not talking.

LIQUOR CHARGE
BRINGS FINE

In city police court Saturday Joan Barton, a native, was fined $25 and cost with an alternative of one month in jail when she pleaded guilty to being in possession of liquor contrary to the Indian Act. Gerry Gunoo, a native, was fined $15 and $3.50 costs, or 7 days on a charge of intoxication. In juvenile court, a city youth was fined $10 for an infraction of the Game Act. He was charged with being in possession of a loaded gun on the Kalien Island Game Reserve. The charge was laid by Game Warden Dennis Stevenson.

SMOKIES ARE ELIMINATED

EDMONTON, ©—Edmonton Flyers swamped Trail Smoke Eaters by a score of 10 to 0 Saturday night to take the best of seven Allan Cup quarter-final series four straight games.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

There is more than one way to spell ollachan. It varies widely. You have your choice of oolican, oolachan, eulachon, oulachons, candlefish or ulchen. It's a popular springtime dish, and in Prince Rupert everyone appeared to be consuming it a week or so ago. Large quantities are marketed in Vancouver. Some become frozen into ice blocks for future use and Fraser Valley fur farmers find them useful.

Approach of salmon fishing in this district is indicated by preparations for the start of the salmon camps and canneries but, of course, this is still rather early and part of what is being done is largely preliminary.

During the winter J. R. Brett, assistant biologist of the Pacific Biological Station and H. V. B. Giraud fisheries inspector at Terrace, made a short survey of winter conditions at Lakelse Lake, a centre of sockeye salmon studies. The effect of cold weather was not at all severe and examination of previously marked spawning spaces showed survival to run a shigh as 83 per cent.

Octopus
Has His Friends

The Octopus has never been known to win a beauty contest. In fact it is doubtful if he ever bothers his ugly head about such things. His chief concern in life seems to be eating or being eaten. If he has any claim to beauty it is on his underside, a part of the body he seldom exposes to the public gaze and shows to best advantage on the screen via the colored film method.

But, despite his homely appearance and notorious reputation for squeezing the life out of everything he lays his tentacles on, the octopus is loved by others beside his mother. Of course, the feeling halibut fishermen have for him can't be classed in the same emotion as a mother's devotion but they have a very high regard for the octopus when used as bait to lure the halibut onto the barb.

Halibut fishermen like to have a few hundred pounds of octopus on board when they sail for the banks. There is never enough of the eight arm creature to provide bait for the entire season or even for a major part of it. Most of the time the halibut isn't too fussy about what he eats and is enticed to take the hook concealing herring. There are, however, times when he needs a little special encouragement and then it is a lucky boat that has octopus in the hold. For some reason it is hard for the halibut to resist the white meat of the octopus. Another feature the fishermen like about the octopus is its durability, a piece can be used to catch several fish.

Native fishermen long ago learned of the magnetic-like attraction octopus meat has for a hungry halibut and they passed the knowledge on to fellow Canadians. The Queen Charlotte Islands coast waters are well-known for their large and numerous devils of the deep but they haven't a monopoly on the eight arm swimmers. At the proper season and tide the beaches of Metlakatla yield a fair harvest.

The approved method of capturing the octopus on the beach is to tour a likely looking stretch at low tide. Having located the home of the quarry which is usually under a large rock and identified by the disturbed gravel, broken shells and the remains of crabs. The hunter probes the cavity with a long stick. If the octopus is home he extends several arms of welcome to what he probably assumes is a prospective meal. When a secure hold on the stick has been taken by the octopus, he is likely to start dragging the thing toward him. Then is the time for the hunter to act. As soon as the inward movement stops, the stick is jerked outward and, with luck, the octopus comes with it. Sometimes if the creature has a firm grip of the rock he is drawn out one tentacle at a time, literally torn limb for limb.

Skinned and cleaned, the octopus is placed in cold storage until fishing season calls him to the spotlight again. Those who have tasted octopus claim his meat is somewhat like crab. If just thrown into the pot and boiled for several hours it is likely to have the chewing qualities of rubber but, if boiled to the tender stage, it is tasty.
