Russia Has Cracked Secret Of Atomic Bomb

Could Long Maintain British Gov't Comments

(CP)—A government spokesman said the British government, as well as the states, has evidence of an atomic explosion from Prime Minister Attlee's office in terms similar to the Washington an-

Russian Bomb Won't Change Gov't Policy

OTTAWA (CP)—Evidence of an atomic explosion in Russia is not expected to change Canada's basic atomic policy which is working only on the peaceful aspects of atomic energy, a high source said today. Canada's policy in this regard was recently laid down by Trade Minister Howe who said that Canada is capable of making atomic bombs at her Chalk River plant, but will not do so. Prime Minister St. Laurent, when Parliament opened today, said that Canada associated itself fully with the observations made by President Truman. "May I express the hope that with this new knowledge may come a new sense of shared responsibility — for enforceable international control of atomic energy so that this new force can be used solely for peaceful ends," the Prime Minister said.

METAL CRUMBLES UNDER IMPACT OF POLITICAL VOICE

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON — Parliament is no place for drawing-room debates. To speak in the House of Commons you have to be rough, tough and nasty. The Ministry of Works thinks so, anyway. When the Commons adjourned for its summer recess, inspectors found curious little chunks of metal under the members' benches. It turned out that 150 loudspeakers recently installed to make all speeches audible were much the worse for wear. A number of them had to be sent back to the manufacturer for repairs. The pieces of metal came out of the loudspeakers—on both sides of the House. The damage apparently was caused by speakers in the heat of debate. When the members move to their new debating chamber next year, they won't have a chance to do that sort of damage. The loudspeakers will be built in. And a special air-conditioning system will cool off the hot air.

Conservative Party headquarters mortified. In the Labor Party's own newspaper, The Daily Herald, was this statement reported to have been made in Washington by Foreign Secretary Bevin:

"Every statesman today must decide on what will happen to the children in 30 years time—whether we are putting them on the right road."
The name of the Conservative Party's manifesto for the next election is "The Right Road For Britain." Party chiefs have decided to acknowledge Bevin's unconscious plug in a leaflet now being distributed.

$250,000 SUIT FOLLOWS CHARGE OF DRUNKENNESS

CLEVELAND, Ohio — A survivor of the Noronic disaster last Saturday who charged that Capt. William Taylor, master of the fire-swept vessel had been drunk during the holocaust in Toronto is to be sued for $250,000 on a charge of libel.

The charge was made by C. R. Willson, who said that Capt. Taylor was so drunk during the fire that he should not have been aboard the ship. The charge, made at an inquest into the deaths of the ship's 121 victims, was immediately denied by Capt. Taylor.

Willson said that he had seen Taylor on the jetty during the fire so drunk that he had to be supported by two policemen.

Capt. Albert Galloway, shore captain for Canada Steamship Lines, denied the drunkenness charge against the Noronic's skipper, saying:

"I was with him from the time the ship docked Friday until 10 p.m., and he hadn't had a drink then. I saw him again immediately after he came off the Noronic Saturday morning. There was no evidence of him having had anything to drink."

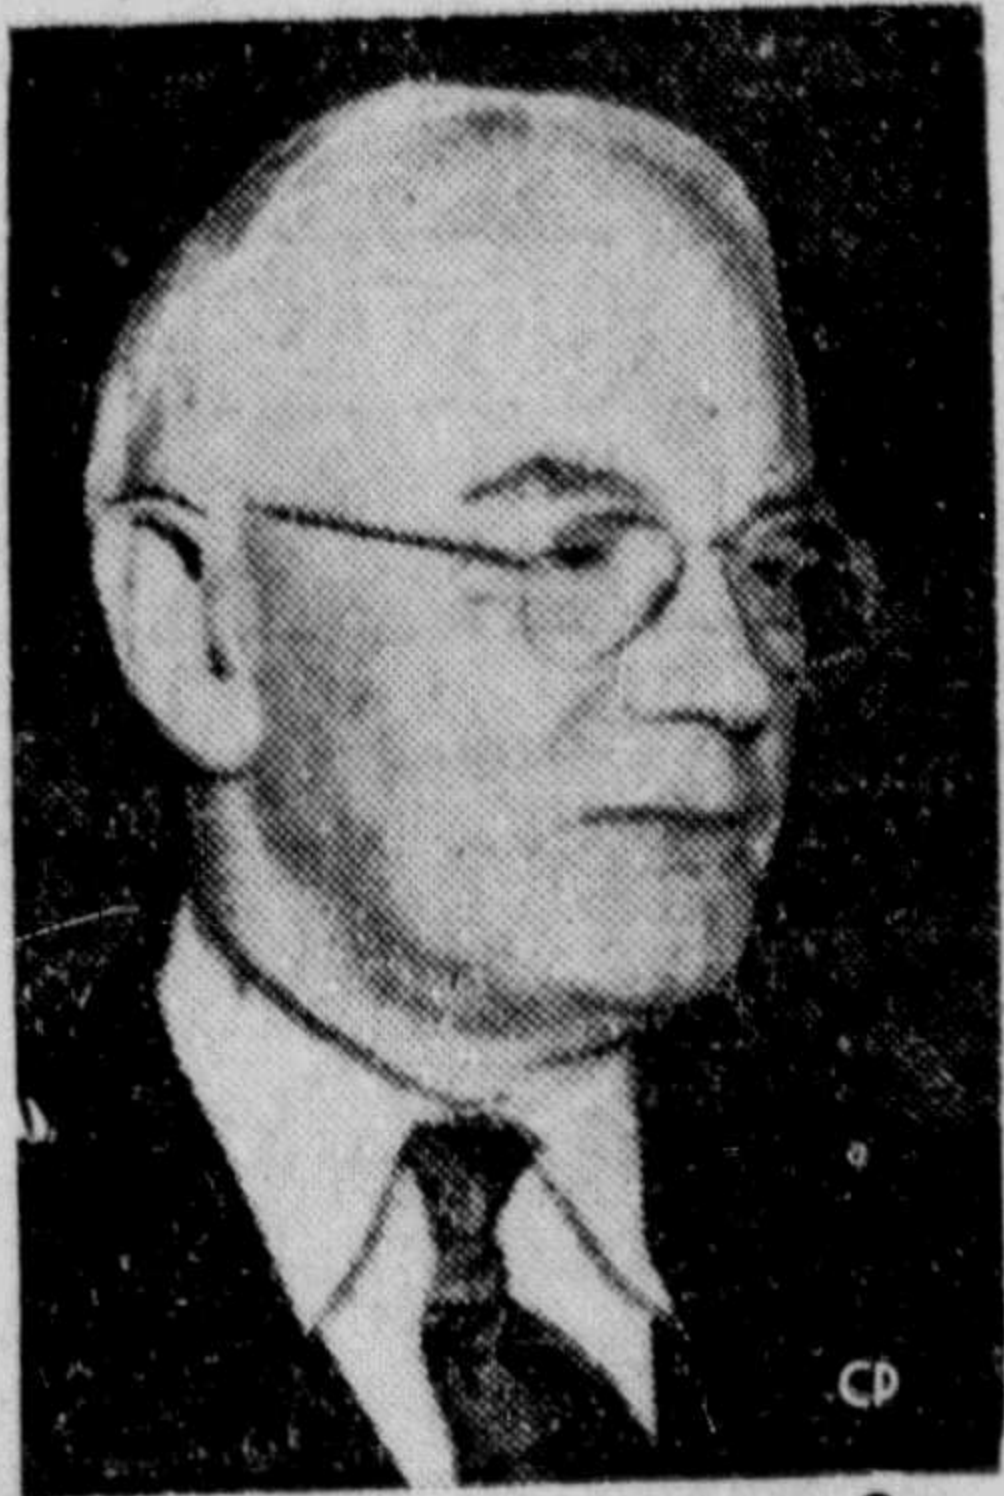

Canada Steamship Lines has started the suit for $250,000 against Willson, a Cleveland man.

PROTECTION OF INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS URGED

OTTAWA — A plea for government action to protect the rights and privileges of the individual Canadian was made in Commons Thursday by John Diefenbaker (P.C.—Lake Centre), who for years has championed the cause of a Canadian Bill of Rights.

The 53-year-old criminal lawyer from Prince Albert, Sask., joined in the free-swinging debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne and said that the protection of the fundamental freedoms in Canada is particularly necessary because with an overwhelming government majority "the rights of the individual may very well be invaded unless there is some controlling body."

He urged that a committee on the delegation of powers be set up to check on government use of powers delegated to it by Parliament and the re-establishment of a committee on freedom and fundamental rights to make people conscious of any invasion or infringement of their freedoms which may take place and also a conference to study proposed amendment to the Constitution.

ALL THAT REMAINS—Fire-charred debris is all that remains of the upper decks of the S.S. Noronic, queen of the Great Lakes passenger fleet, following the disastrous fire which swept the vessel as it was tied up at Queens Quay in Toronto early Saturday morning. This is what firemen and investigators saw when the ship had cooled sufficiently to allow them aboard. (C. P. Photo)

Join The Civic Centre

PRINCE RUPERT PEOPLE have more or less got used to having their Civic Centre lauded by enthusiastic strangers and it is pretty much routine for anyone who has a visitor in town to guide him proudly through the Centre, then wait for the pleasant comments which are sure to follow.

It is good to have such a showplace. It is also good to have a Centre which is of real use to the community, one that is well managed and which caters to the widest interests of the people. We have such a place and it is becoming greater and more useful every year. But it is not doing so through accident.

Behind the Civic Centre lie the vision and energy of a fairly small group of community-minded people whose only guarantee of success is the interest and support which they receive. Starting tomorrow, they are going to solicit that support. For tomorrow begins the Civic Centre's annual membership drive.

In three years that the Civic Centre has been in operation, annual membership has grown steadily, but not to the amount that it should have done. Considering the size of the city, the percentage is too small. Because whether they choose to admit it or not, there is scarcely a man, woman or child in Prince Rupert who has not at some time, in some way, benefitted by or made use of the Civic Centre.

Last year, membership was in the neighborhood of 1,600 which was an improvement over the 1947-48 year. This year, it is hoped to bring it well in excess of 2,000. With the growth of membership, there is a corresponding expansion of facilities which means that more and more the Centre is approaching its ideal of offering something of interest for everyone.

So when the drive begins, we urge everyone, adult or child, to take out a membership. It's fun as well as good citizenship to be a Civic Centre member.

CIVIC CENTRE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE STARTS

The Civic Centre membership drive will officially get under way tomorrow with an opening which will be heard over C.P.R. address by Mayor Nora Arnold in the evening.

The Centre has set an objective of 2000 members for the 1949-50 year and every effort is going to be made to pass this objective as early as possible.

Statistics for 1948 show that more than 190,000 people attended 4000 events held in the Centre during the twelve month period. The actual paid up membership for that period exceeded 1600 and is still growing.

The actual major activities for last year included Pup-Rec Classes, Badminton, Basketball, Junior Boxing, Craft Groups, University Extension courses and others and this year there will be added, bridge parties, art lessons, leatherwork and many other crafts and sports activities. Every citizen young and old, will be asked to take advantage of the many activities of the Civic Centre by taking out membership for the ensuing year.

TO SHOWER LEAFLETS

To start the Civic Centre membership drive off with a flurry, thousands of campaign leaflets will be dropped over the centre of Prince Rupert tomorrow afternoon by one of the Queen Charlotte Airlines planes.

Each one of the pamphlets will carry a number and the holders of the ten lucky numbers, which will be announced in this paper, will be given a student membership free.

SENATE PASSES ARMS AID BILL

WASHINGTON — The United States Senate Thursday night approved a $1,314,000,000 bill for military aid to countries in the shadow of Russia's great military machine, by a vote of 55 to 24.

Final passage came after administration forces defeated two moves to cut the size of the aid program.

The action set the United States firmly on a policy of re-arming friendly countries in the worldwide effort to bar the doors against communist aggression.

G. R. S. Blackaby returned to the city by air Thursday afternoon from a business trip to Vancouver.

Truman Says Russian Discovery Sharpens Need for U.N. Control

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Truman announced today that the United States government has "evidence that within recent weeks an atomic explosion occurred in the U.S.S.R. (Russia)."

A White House spokesman said that the President gave the information to the Cabinet this morning.

In his statement, President Truman said that the development emphasizes the necessity for that truly effective, enforceable international control of atomic energy which the government and a large majority of the members of the United Nations support." His statement made it clear that top American officials regard the development as meaning that the Russians have learned to make the atom bomb. Mr. Truman said that the probability that some other country might develop the atom bomb "has always been taken into account" by the United States.

His disclosure came at the time that the British, Canadian and American experts are discussing problems of an interchange of information and the supply of uranium available to each country.

ARREST MAY FOLLOW CRASH INVESTIGATION

MONTREAL — The Royal Canadian Mounted Police said today that a 41-year-old woman is under police guard in a Quebec City hospital and a man is being sought for questioning in connection with the crash on September 9 of a Canadian Pacific Air Lines plane with a death toll of 23.

The police said the woman is under treatment for an overdose of sleeping tablets. The man is believed to be the husband of one of the victims of the crash.

The police said the investigation concerned the possibility of a love triangle linked with the tragedy.

MONTREAL — Despite official denials that the police are working on a sabotage angle in the September 9 crash of a Canadian Pacific Air Lines crash near Quebec City, it was learned on high authority today that sabotage is suspected, and that "a big break in the case" can be expected soon.

The Canadian Press learned this in the wake of publication in a Montreal newspaper that an R.C.M.P. detective is on the trail of a woman alleged to have shipped a mysterious box aboard the plane which crashed and killed 23.

A mysterious explosion preceded the crash. The coroner's inquest attributed the crash to a mysterious explosion in the plane's baggage compartment.

Pacific Arena

A DELEGATE to the British Empire Service League Conference, Lieut.-General Sir John Brown says the Atlantic Ocean has been declining in importance since the Second World War, and that the arena of future world events will be the Pacific.

It is true the position of Japan, while not the powerful island empire of former years, is not reassuring and inspires much conjecture. The problem of China flows in grave possibilities. There has been no peace in China since long before the second great war, and now, Communism spreads. The far-reaching plans of Soviet Russia are not forgetful of the Western Pacific and East Indies.

It is toward Russia and Siberia that Washington looks. Australia seeks more security, and the western shores of North America think, not so much of the Atlantic as they do the greatest of oceans, and the shock and slaughter known as Pearl Harbor.

CONGREGATION MEETS PASTOR

"Get Together" Dinner at United Church Friendly Affair

The "Get-together" dinner in the First United Church hall last evening under the auspices of the Women's Association was most successful with upwards of a hundred and forty members and adherents sitting down to enjoy one of the dinners for which the women of the church are justly famous.

The guests of honor were the recently inducted pastor, Rev. Lawrence Sieber and Mrs. Sieber and their two children, Roy and Allan. Mrs. Sieber's father, Mr. Guiley was also introduced to the assembly.

Following the dinner and a short community singing programme Mr. Sieber told of the gracious welcome extended to him and his family by the members of the church who greeted them at the boat. It had been a most heart-warming experience. Since then he had experienced the friendly welcome of many of the congregation, a quality that he had been told the people of Prince Rupert possessed in a very high degree. He complimented the women on the banquet that had been provided and said that he and his family were looking forward with pleasure to the rest of their stay in the city. Working in unity they could make the church a great agency for the advancement of Christianity in the community.

Thanks were expressed to the women of the association through their convener Mrs. A. Thompson. The introduction of the members to the minister and his family was carried out by J. S. Wilson who later led the audience in some spirited community singing with Henry A. Pluym at the piano.

JINX VISITS SOUTH SHIPPING

VANCOUVER — Nineteen Americans were rescued early today from the grounded U. S. army tug BT 62 off Camp Point in Johnstone Strait, 125 miles northwest of Vancouver.

The Americans, 18 crew members and one passenger, were taken off by the B. C. fishing boat Haida. No one was reported injured.

In another marine mishap, the Dutch motorship Maocran rammed the United Grain Grower Elevator dock during a heavy fog early today, causing extensive damage to the dock and grain handling facilities. No one was injured.

Twenty-four hours earlier, 20-year-old Arvid Green was drowned when the North Vancouver ferry and the fish packer Betty L. collided in Burrard Inlet.

DRY LAND SHIPWRECK HALTS PLANS P.E.I. FAMILY COMING SETTLE HERE

Four Prince Edward Island fishermen who made a 5,100-mile motor trip from their home to Prince Rupert are probably the only people in these parts who ever had a boat wrecked on dry land.

The quartette are Beecher Court, mustached leader of the Court family and his three grown sons, Qantin, Emard and Veard, of North Rustico, and they came west to see what is doing in the fishing line. Things, according to the elder Court, are slowing down a bit back east.

So on September 1, they put their bedrolls in their 1941 Oldsmobile and headed west. And they meant west—as far west as they could go. Namely, the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Before they left they loaded their 32-foot boat, the Linda, aboard a railway flatcar just so they would have something to fish with when they got here. That's where the shipwreck came in. Seems a landslide hit the flatcar in the interior of B.C., knocking the wheels out from under it. Up to yesterday, Mr. Court hadn't heard how the boat itself had made out.

The Court odyssey was no spur-of-the-moment migration. It was the product of careful planning after canny preliminary investigation. If it hadn't been for the dry land shipwreck they probably even now would be wetting their long-lines in the west side of Beecoe Strait instead of waiting around Prince Rupert.

"Things aren't as lively in the fishing industry in Prince Edward Island as they used to be," Mr. Court said. "Not that they are really bad, mind you, but they are slackening off a bit. So just in case things really began to go down hill we decided to investigate some other part of the country."

"We had heard about the Queen Charlotte Islands so last fall, I decided to learn about them. Subscribed to the Prince Rupert Daily News and read all I could about the district. The village of Tlell struck our fancy so we wrote a letter to Mr. Gigerich there and we entered into correspondence."

As a result, they have a house

Sons of Norway Honor City Man For Outstanding Wartime Work

Although he is not a Scandinavian, J. A. McNaughton of 220 Sixth Avenue West will cherish a memento from the Supreme Lodge of the Sons of Norway and an honorary membership in the Prince Rupert Lodge of the fraternal order.

Mr. McNaughton, a retired railway employee was honored by the lodge last night for his outstanding work in aid of the wartime "Help Norway committee" when he was presented with a framed certificate of merit and an honorary membership button by Rudolph Olsen.

The certificate signed by the president and secretary of the Supreme Lodge in Minneapolis is in "deep and sincere appreciation of your incessant efforts to help Norway and her people in their sorry plight during the five dark war years and the difficult post-war period."

"All the information which has come to us in regard to your constant efforts to promote the relief cause, pictures to us a man with a big heart pulsating in unison with suffering humanity. Although we do not wish to intimate that your Scotch birth and ancestry have any influence on your acts in this connection, we cannot do otherwise than look upon them as manifestatario to Sault Ste Marie, then through the northern states from Michigan to Montana and into Alberta at Sweetgrass. They entered B.C. at Banff, coming over the Big Bend Highway to Kamloops and then north.

"Except for that train wreck we would have arrived here about the same time as our boat," Mr. Court said. "Then we could have sailed it across to Tlell. Now, with the weather so uncertain, I guess we'll have to ship it across on a steamer. Sure hope it's all right. Seems a pity to ship it that far and have it damaged..."

URGES PACIFIC DEFENCE PACT

OTTAWA - Canada, the leader in the drive toward North Atlantic security, has been urged to start thinking about defence in the Pacific. Howard Green (FC-Vancouver-Quadra), asked the government in Commons last night to take a stand in favor of a Pacific Pact.
"We believe there should be a Pacific Pact similar to the North Atlantic Treaty, a pact designed to hold communism in the Pacific," he said.
The Philippines are in favor of such a pact, as are Korea, Australia and New Zealand, he said.

Motors Win
Benefit Shield

Defeat Canadian Legion 2-1 In Well-Played Match
Last evening's football game in the final of the Benefit Shield produced a very hard-fought match with the youthful General Motors winning over the Canadian Legion by two goals to one and thus winning their first trophy.

The Legion kicked off with a strong wind in their favour and Smith capitalized a neat forward move with a good shot that Boulter saved. The Legion pressed but the Motors' defence was giving away and then their forwards took up the attack and forced a corner from which Currie shot past. The high wind interfered with the play. Bishop broke through and forced a corner but a handball against him nullified the advantage.

Eby's well-placed free was picked up by Armstrong who fed a neat pass to Murray but the latter shot past. Baxter tried a first-time shot but was wide. John Wilson checked a Legion attack effectively. Boulter saved long shots from Murray and Armstrong. From another shot by Murray, Boulter saved at the expense of a corner with Smith in close attendance. Then with Boulter beaten, Lien cleared from off the goal line. Eby was prominent in defence and from one of his clearances Baxter drove a hard shot that Boulter fielded smartly. Murray passed to Smith who let the ball go on to Bowman and the latter gave the Legion the lead with a splendid drive that beat Boulter completely.

Then Bishop seemed to be through but Eby brought off a brilliant tackle. Baxter cut in to head in a shot that Boulter did well to save and half-time came with the Legion leading by a solitary goal, a result that was a tribute to the Motors' defence.

With the wind at their backs on the resumption the Motors attacked but Yelland cleared and then Sunberg drove strongly away. Pat Wilson slipped a nice through pass to Bishop but the Legion defence cleared. Alexander came through with a neat tackle and forward pass. Yelland was kept busy intercepting passes that Pat Wilson was feeding. Bishop, Armstrong and Murray relieved the pressure and attacked but John Wilson cleared well. Armstrong came back to help his defence and his scheming passes opened many opportunities but the Motors' defence was equal to all efforts. Motors equalized when Owens, getting hold of the ball after Krause had saved but failed to clear shot it through. Legion attacked but were driven back. Smith tried hard but was balked and John Wilson was very sure. Price took a free from thirty yards out and rattled the crossbar.

The Legion played now with ten men and Pat Wilson showed hard but Krause saved well. The Motors were now definitely on top and forced another corner and Pat Wilson put the Motors ahead with a good drive. The Motors were now out for blood and forced another corner but no more goals were scored and the game ended with the score, General Motors two goals, Canadian Legion, one goal.

Teams:
Canadian Legion—Krause; Sunberg, Eby, Alexander, Yelland, Greer, Baxter, Bowman, Smith, Armstrong, Murray.
General Motors—Boulter, Lien, John Wilson, Price, Olson (captain), Robinson, Bob Currie, Pat Wilson, Bishop, Charlie Currie, Owens, Halverson.
Referee—S. P. Woodside; linesmen, Parkes, Karasoski.

In retrospect—it was one of the best contested games of the season in spite of the difficulty, owing to the high wind, of controlling the ball. Krause did well and brought off one great save though his failure to clear on one occasion gave the Motors a chance that Owens made effective use of. Sunberg kicked strongly and fearlessly while Eby again gave a first-class display of effective tackling and well-judged kicking. Yelland was effective and was well aided by Alexander who gave his best display of the year. Greer gave his usual well-calculated display of stubborn defence and gainful passing. The forwards were up against a tenacious and aggressive defence. Baxter was good though not so prominent as usual. Bowman scored a lovely goal. Smith bore in as usual but could find no openings. Armstrong had to drop back to help his defence but always had a plan to turn defence into attack. Murray tried hard and was fast but was given little leeway. Boulter again gave a fine display in goal. John Wilson was a most effective back and didn't put a foot wrong. Lien turned in a good game and saved an otherwise sure goal on one occasion. Olson covered the centre like a blanket using his height and speed very effectively. Robinson was another good defender with the ability to make advantageous runs. Price was particularly effective in the second half with his long drives. His free kick was a feature. The forwards gave their best display. Pat Wilson was a hard worker, feeding Bishop well and getting a good goal. Bishop opened out the play well and his experience and neat foot-work are a great help. The Currie brothers did well and Owens got some nice centres across as well as being right on the spot for the equalizer.

There is talk of a post-season series of benefit games for funds for a player with a broken foot during the season. Such a series should be attractive. The teams were very evenly matched with only a goal difference in most of the games. The trophies have been distributed with the Legion winning two of the Heavy Battery and Motors one each.

FIND LITERARY RELIC IN SHIPS' GRAVEYARD

NEW YORK — A relic of Joseph Conrad's seafaring days is on its way to its last port. The teakwood wheel of the iron-hulled barque Otago, first command of the Polish captain who became one of Britain's foremost authors, is being shipped to a London museum.

During Conrad's later years—the 25th anniversary of his death was observed earlier this month—he did not know of the existence of any Otago relic. He thought she had disappeared without trace.

But authors Christopher Moseley and William Stanley Hall accidentally discovered the hulk of the sailing vessel in a ships' graveyard in the Derwent River, Tasmania.

Hall went below decks to the after cabin. There he found the eight-spoked wheel among rubbish, rotted canvas and abandoned gear.

The weather-beaten wheel, now 86 years old, was sent to New York. From here it will go to England in the wheelhouse of the liner, Media. Then it will be turned over to St. David Bone, oldest surviving sailor-friend of Conrad, for delivery to the Honorable Company of Master Mariners which has a maritime museum aboard a ship moored in the Thames.

Conrad wrote of the Otago in "The Shadow Line," "The Secret

Ladies' Orange Lodge held their monthly meeting at the Oddfellows' Hall with Worshipful Mistress Mrs. Harry Paulson in the chair. The meeting heard that plans are under way for the fall bazaar with Mrs. V. Morrison in charge.

Two members were admitted into the lodge and will be initiated at the October meeting. Mrs. A. S. Hamilton was elected Mistress of Ceremonies.

A grant of $50 was voted for the Royal Protestant Home.

Following the business meeting, there was a social evening during which bingo was played. Refreshments were served. Those in charge were Mrs. F. Barber, Mrs. B. Menzies, Mrs. J. Hitchens and Mrs. I. Murray.

RADLETT, Hertfordshire, Eng. — Hat fashions proved almost as interesting as airplanes at a recent model aircraft rally here. Highway Will Boost
Fraser Valley Town

HOPE, B. C. — The sleeping princess awaiting the touch of the prince's magic kiss could have a modern parallel here in this town in the lower Fraser Valley.

Founded more than 100 years ago as a Hudson's Bay fort, Hope has been stirring restlessly in recent years. Its full awakening may come when the "magic kiss" is applied with the opening of the $12,000,000 Hope-Princeton highway.

Tourist traffic will flow east through here enroute to the Okanagan and the Kootenays. Tourists from eastern points will be able to make a six-hour drive from the Okanagan to the coast.

W. A. Trout, president of the board of trade, says Hope had only a population of 500 four years ago. Today it has 2,500. "Hope will continue to expand, now that the new route is about to be opened," he predicted.

WRESTLES BEAR TO SPLIT DECISION — When Fernand Therrien, North Bay, Ont., farmer, saw a bear leap at him from bushes on his farm lot, he instinctively clubbed the animal with a .22 calibre rifle. The bear fell away, Therrien shot him in the head, but then found himself clawed and bruised as the animal came back for more. After 20 minutes, Therrien broke free, ran for help, but could find no trace of bruin on his return. Here he shows the rifle broken in the struggle.

GOLD RETURNED
CITY JEWELLER

Ninety-six ounces of gold dust, held by court since last May, was returned to E. D. Manson by Judge W. O. Fulton in County Court here after police investigation showed that it had not been obtained through dishonest sources.

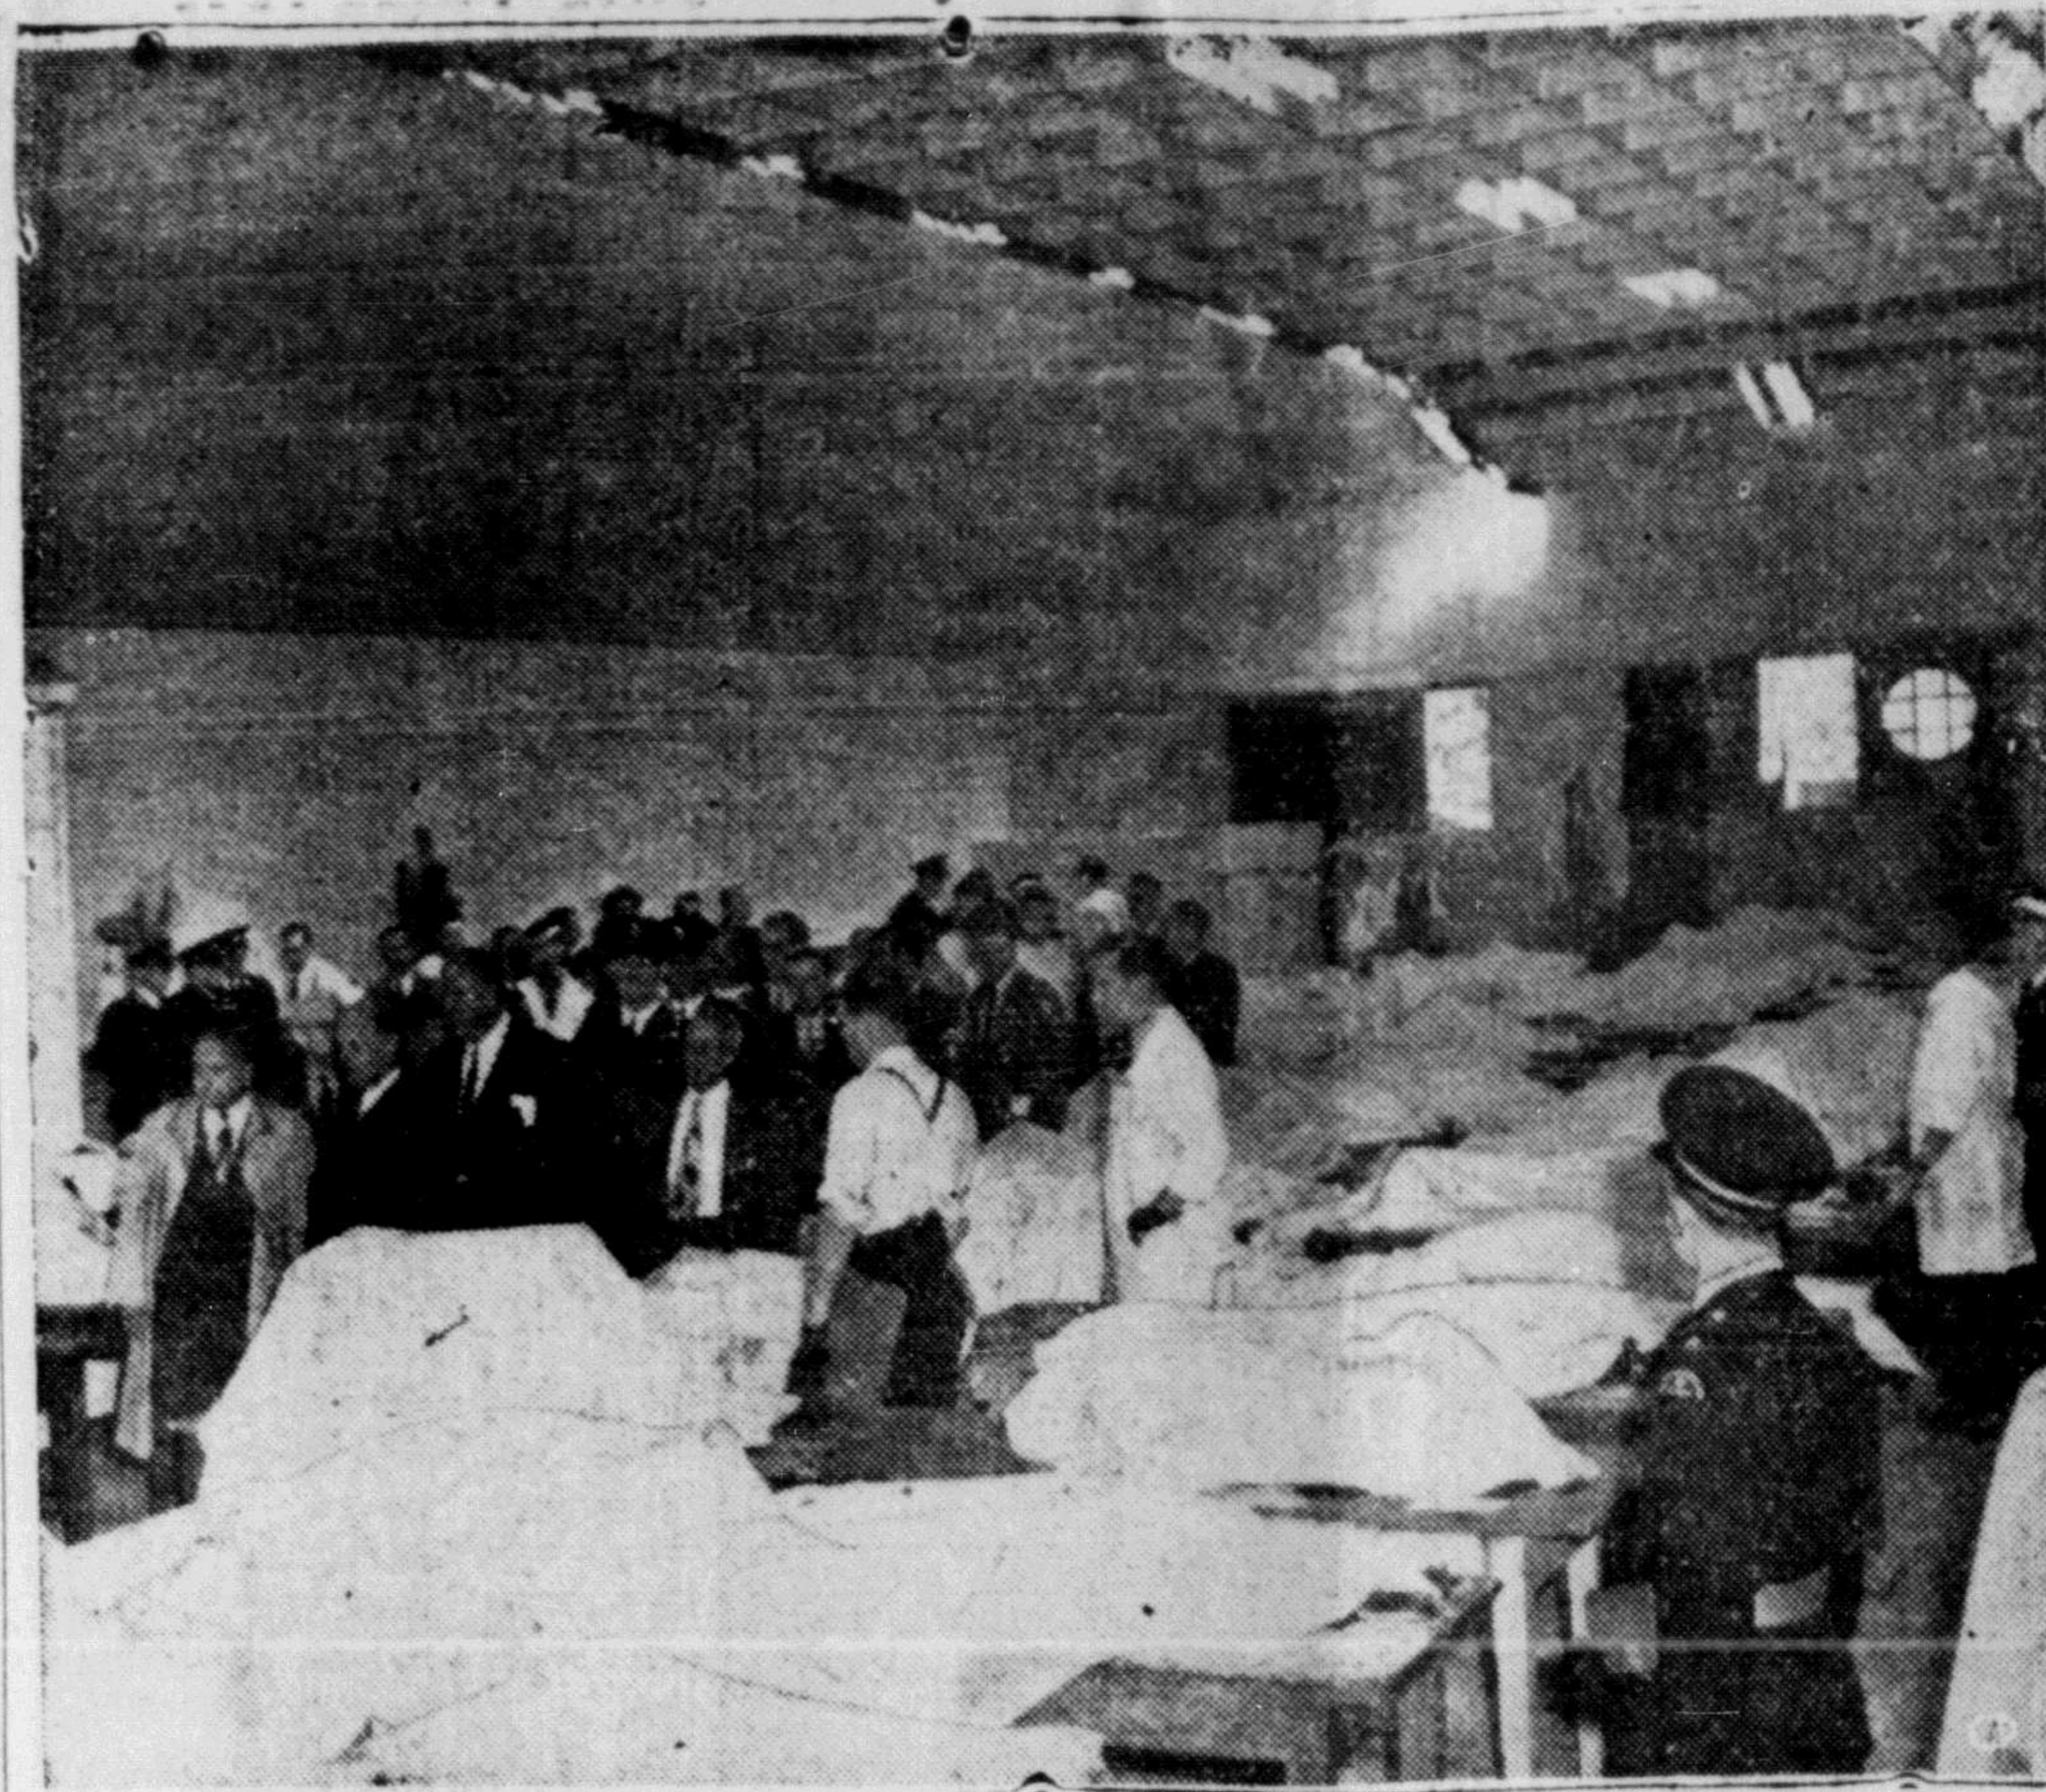

The gold was ordered held following a County Court hearing last May in which Manson was accused of purchasing gold without taking a proper record of its source as required by law. It was estimated in value at that time at more than $2,000.

Subsequent police investigation was unable to show that the persons from whom Manson had

AWAIT IDENTIFICATION—The charred bodies and bits of 121 passengers on the Noronic have been taken to a temporary morgue established in the horticulture building at the Canadian National Exhibition. This is a general view of the morgue with the rows of shrouded remains. Centre, left, in raincoat, is Mayor Hiram McCallum of Toronto. Standing at his left are Lt. Gov. Ray Lawson of Ontario and Dr. Smirle Lawson, chief coroner. It is hoped x-ray experts and dentists may help establish identity of some victims. It is here also the bits of jewelry and personal possessions are displayed to assist relatives and friends identifying victims. (CP Photo)

THEY FEAR WORST—Relatives and friends of passengers, listed as missing following Saturday's disastrous Noronic fire, flocked to Toronto in an effort to identify the bodies in the temporary morgue at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds as those of loved ones. Here nurses and volunteer workers help relatives check lists of survivors and view possessions and bodies in the morgue. Most of the dead were from Michigan and Ohio cities. (C.P. Photo)

Old Indian Culture
Unearthed In West

MACLEOD Alta. (P)—New evidence has been uncovered near here that the North American Indian may have come through at least two widely separated cultural eras before he lost his homeland to the white man.

An expedition from the University of New Mexico which has been seeking remains of Indian life near here came up with the evidence. The party found arrowheads of two different periods.

Excavations at two former Indian campsites uncovered the arrowheads. One type was found only a few inches below the surface while the others were buried nine feet down.

Those arrowheads taken from the deeper diggings were of a more crude manufacture, Boyd Wetlaufer, head of the expedition, reported to Alberta government officials.

Evidences of Indian culture have been uncovered all the way from near the surface to the 11-foot level. They are believed to be relics of the Blackfoot tribe and date back as far as 500 years before the white man reached the plains.

There still is a lot of laboratory work to be done before conclusion can be drawn from the party's discoveries but it seems the surface is just beginning to be scratched on the past history of the North American Indian.

SAYS U.S. AIMS
AT STIRRING WAR

NEW YORK (P)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky accused the United States today of leading an aggressive bloc in plans for a new war. In the prepared text of his major policy speech to the United Nations assembly he made no mention of the atomic explosion in Russia.

Ray Reflects...
... and Reminisces

From Prince Edward Island to Queen Charlotte Islands is a long way in any man's language, but Beecher Court and his family, who follow fishing for a living think the change will be to their benefit. They motored all the way here, shipping their boat by train. Fishing, in the Maritimes has long been a main industry there, and while admitting Skeena is a faraway field, it nevertheless sometimes pays to move.

Meanwhile the second attempt to find Noah's Ark is being pushed nobly onward. Ararat offers some of the most difficult climbing that can be found. A Russian airman has claimed he believed to have seen the Ark part submerged in a lake. Some are saying the thing is all nonsense, and that thousands of years ago there was not a vestige of it—if, indeed, there ever was. Suppose the remains of Noah's flagship was found, of what value, or particular interest would it be now?

British war widows living in British Columbia have been drawing $48, but since devaluation of pound sterling there will be a reduction. There is said to be a strong likelihood of the cut being slashed to $35 a month. Pensioners had long been deploring the smallness of $48. So now what?

Not in all cases, yet to a considerable extent Prince Rupert is wedded to the idea of late opening and early closing. This is barely noticed by those accustomed to the system, but it's apt to be commented on by strangers, visitors and tourists. They want what they want when they want it.

Premier Duplessis will undertake to persuade the country that a lottery is permissible in the province of Quebec. One of the objectives is the promotion of public health. Sweepstakes have never made any headway in Canada but it cannot be denied the Dominion has for many years allowed minor forms of gambling, and does now.

Daylight saving for 1949 will end in British Columbia at midnight tomorrow, but in Ontario it may remain in effect for more months in order to conserve electric power. Hang fast time, anyway! Let it be definitely settled one way or the other. Nineteen fifty is a good date for Ottawa to give a ruling. Already the recent convention of the Union of B. C. Municipalities has asked for a plebiscite. etc.
