Reduction Suggested By Prime Minister In Speech from the Throne

Sizable Relief Expected In Budget

Reference to Budgetary Proposals at Opening Session of Parliament

OTTAWA (CP)—Possible tax reductions in the budget were forecast today in the Speech from the Throne read at the opening of the fifth session of Parliament.

The speech, laden with forecasts on important matters for what may be the last session of the Parliament, made its reference to the budgetary proposals.

Difficult economic conditions are being reflected in the present level of national production, a condition which is being considered in the budgetary proposals.

The government is hopeful of making a budgetary tax reduction.

Things the Speech said there also would be bills respecting forest conservation and assistance for Canadian ship building.

Several measures will provide for amendments to defence legislation.

RELIEF NEAR FOR PRAIRIE VILLAGE

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Relief is in sight today for 40 residents of the southern Manitoba hamlet of Wakopa, isolated for two weeks by snow-blocked roads and railway lines.

Works Minister Erick Willis ordered rotary snow plows dispatched and it was expected that Wakopa, 135 miles southwest of Winnipeg, would receive loads of groceries and fuel, now poised ready for movement when the road is opened.

RAILWAYS ASK NEW INCREASES

OTTAWA, (CP)—An attempt by the railways to hoist express rates on some commodities was in prospect today while two organizations sought to suspend recently announced increases on fresh fish, express charges.

The railways are asking new boosts on fresh fruits, packing house products, yeast and movie films.

Meanwhile, the Fisheries Council of Canada and the Maritime Transportation Commission are asking the Board of Transport Commissioners to suspend increases which the railways filed, effective February 14.

BRITAIN FIRM ON ISRAELI

LONDON, (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin said today that Britain is withholding recognition of Israel until the matter is discussed with Commonwealth countries and her allies under the Western European treaty.

Meanwhile, he told the Commons that the government "is not going to be deterred an inch" from its present policy toward Palestine.

He said that if fighting broke out again, Britain will find it difficult to "stand by, indifferent and inactive."

GORDON FOGO NEW SENATOR

OTTAWA—Appointment of J. Gordon Fogo, president of the National Liberal Federation, to the Senate was announced last night by Prime Minister St. Laurent. Mr. Fogo has been president of the National Liberal Federation for three years.

Mr. St. Laurent made the announcement of Mr. Fogo's appointment to the Senate at the annual banquet of the Federation's advisory council. He said the Governor General had accepted the recommendation.

Mr. Fogo is a 52-year old Halifax lawyer.

The appointment makes Liberal strength in the Senate 65 with 15 Progressive-Conservatives and 16 vacancies.

FEARS HELD FOR VILLAGE

VICTORIA, (CP)—Word was awaited today from the tug Island Commander which last night set out to investigate reports that a tiny Vancouver Island mining camp of 11 persons has been marooned for more than a month with no radio or other communications available. The camp is 18 miles up Muchalat Arm, 60 miles northwest of Port Alberni.

The tug is equipped for ice breaking duty.

Christmas supplies were delivered at Nootka for the settlement but were never picked up.

Ice in the arm is thick for wooden vessels and the overland route is too tough.

Yuletide Liquor No Bargain

LONDON, (CP)—The bottle was labelled "whisky" but the magistrate thought differently and fined two men £290 ($1,160) and £65 costs for selling it to a thirsty public.

The liquor was advertised as a "special Christmas offer of Highland Bonnie Liqueur" at 39s 6d ($7.80) a bottle in a London store. An analyst said it was not whisky or whisky liquor and the flavor was rum.

"In my opinion it's a swindle to sell people a bottle which is advertised to contain whisky and in fact is not whisky," said Magistrate Paul Bennett, V.C.

"It has been no nearer the Highlands than the Edgware Road (London)."

CORNWALL'S OLDEST WOMAN

Question of Procedure May Produce Fireworks

OTTAWA (CP)—The fifth session of Canada's twentieth Parliament opened today amid forecasts that it will be the liveliest since the 1930's and the last before a general election. After the Speech from the Throne was read by Viscount Alexander, the question of procedure came up. Prime Minister

WHEAT PARLEY OPENED TODAY

Forty-eight Countries Gather In Effort to Distribute Supplies Fairly

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Representatives of 48 countries gathered here today at a conference to draft plans to make sure that the world gets plenty of wheat at fair prices to the consumer and farmer alike. Five major vendors—Canada, United States, Russia, Argentina and Australia—plus most of the buyers have set a three-fold goal for an international agreement:

1. To assure importing countries of a dependable supply.
2. To divide the world market fairly among exporting countries.
3. To stabilize prices.

It may be difficult to get together on prices because world grain supplies are improving and prices are on a downward trend.

FREDERICTON MURDER CASE

FREDERICTON—Three men, under arrest for questioning in the Burgoyne murder case, are not Fredericton residents, but they have been located near or around this city a lot.

Norman F. Burgoyne, 34-year-old taxi driver, with wounded head, was found jammed into a locked truck, in his taxi on a lonely road beyond the city limits south of the river. His watch and $200 he was known to be carrying, were missing.

Burgoyne was last seen when he left on a call to Fredericton Canadian Legion. The investigation is in the hands of the R.C.M.P. and city police. It is believed Burgoyne was murdered some miles from where the body was found.

SKEENA SNOW CONDITIONS ARE DESCRIBED WORST IN 35 YEARS

Worst snow conditions in thirty-five years in the lower Skeena Valley west of Terrace are reported by C. A. Berner, divisional superintendent, Canadian National Railways, but the line is being kept open although trains have been delayed for several hours.

Drifts six feet deep were piling up over the tracks Tuesday as no less than seven inches of new snow fell within twenty-four hours in the Salvas and Kwinitsa area between forty and fifty miles east of Prince Rupert.

In addition to the continuously drifting snow, extra snow fighting gangs, with rotary and wing plows, had to contend with two new slides—one five miles west of Kwinitsa station and another at Salvas. Big snows hanging high on precipitate bluffs have been menacing the railway line for two weeks or more now and mild weather has been causing virtual avalanches. So far the railway crews and equipment have been able to cope successfully with the situation.

The train, due from the East at 10:45 Tuesday night, arrived at Prince Rupert more than fifteen hours late at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, the delay having been largely due to the Skeena Valley snow conditions. It was held at Terrace until 10:30 this morning.

L. S. St. Laurent proposed that the debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne, which sometimes lasts for a month, be deferred until legislation confederating Newfoundland has passed. Already this matter has been discussed with the Progressive-Conservative leader, George Drew, but no agreement has been reached. Observers predict that this and other clashes between the new leaders will be reminiscent of old exchanges between former Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King and the late Viscount Bennett in the 1930-35 sessions.

NANKING (CP)—The Nationalist government will move to Canton immediately, the Chinese foreign office today formally notified foreign embassies.

Some of the embassies plan to follow.

The United States is awaiting word from Washington.

Announcement of the removal came as Nanking city council members moved for a separate peace for the city and decided to send a peace mission to the Communists across the Yangtze if Nationalist peace talks fail.

Middle East

THE ISRAELI FORAY into Egyptian territory bears comparison with the charge of the famous light brigade at Balaclava, of which an astute French observer remarked that it was magnificent but it was not war. The Jewish military picnic certainly was not good politics.

However, it gave the British Foreign Office an excellent occasion for publicizing the many good reasons which exist for co-ordinating American and British policy in the Middle East, a co-ordination which would logically prove a restraint on the ambitions of at least the more heady groups within the new state.

Stability in the Middle East is essential to world security and the success of the Marshall Plan as well as to British interests.

The whole strategic position of Britain in that area could be upset by the effect of unrestrained Israeli military success on the Arab regimes. This would mean new burdens for the United States, which is much less well fitted to play policeman-benefactor in Arab territories than is Britain.

Israeli assurances that Jewish troops did not intend to occupy Egyptian territory but were engaging in a tactical raid, have helped to quiet the alarms the raid raised. But these assurances surely will not be permitted to interfere with renewed efforts for closer co-operation between America and Britain in an area vital to both.

MEMORABLE EVENT

THE FAMED Harlem Globe Trotters, noted basketball champs and gymnasium floor entertainers, have come and gone. It was a stroke of the best of good fortune that Prince Rupert was favored with their visit. The enterprise of Don Forward, Civic Centre director, and a combination of fortuitous circumstances made it possible.

Any large city in the country would have considered itself lucky to have been favored with a visit from this group of super-athletes and showmen. It was a memorable incident in Prince Rupert's history and something that local folk will continue to talk about for a long time.

Without the facilities of the Civic Centre, the project could not have been entertained. Let's just rejoice again that we have such an institution which requires an extraordinary function of this kind once in a while to remind us of the many uses and pleasures which it affords us. Jesse Owens, world-famous Olympic sprint star, himself referred to Prince Rupert's good fortune in having such an asset as the Civic Centre.

THE SENATE

THE PRESENT STANDING in the Canadian Senate is Liberals 65, Progressive-Conservatives 15, with 16 vacancies. The majority are well along in years and, within the past few months, several deaths have occurred.

A general election is expected this year and how it will result cannot but have a bearing of more than ordinary interest on Senate affairs. It is probable that before the election is called the vacant seats will be filled including those for Newfoundland, making total party strength 86.

Few assume, should the Progressive-Conservatives win the election, that they would do anything more than seek gradual better balance as vacancies happen. The average remains at five or six every year. None can read the future and should the C.C.F. ever take office at Ottawa there need be little uncertainty as to the fate of the Chamber. The C.C.F. stand on their record as favoring abolition of the Senate—an out and out declaration.

BIG BLAST ON SUNDAY

Next Sunday has been set as the date for the setting off of the big blast when 40 tons of dynamite will be detonated to loosen 80,000 yards of rock in a new quarry being opened up by Canadian National Railways at Hole-in-the-Wall, three miles west of Salvas, to provide rock for rip-rapping the railway embankments on the Skeena River as part of the repair program following the 1948 floods.

The blast will be directed by Steve Markovich and C. A. Berner, divisional superintendent.

R. G. Davidson, divisional engineer, and A. E. Carlson, roadmaster, will be on hand to witness it.

BRITISH DIVORCES ARE ON INCREASE

LONDON—Divorces in Britain are being granted at ten times the rate they were in 1937. Eleven years ago 5,750 persons filed divorce petitions and the courts disposed of 5,222 suits. New laws to ease divorce resulted in a great increase in petitions. Recently a judge somewhat satirically suggested that divorces might be obtained from any local post office.

PIONEER PERSONALITIES

WILLIAM MANSON

Prince Rupert's second Mayor was William Manson who was well versed in early day affairs in this city and along the north coast. It is worth noting that in the choosing of their first two mayors, local electors selected two men who had had experience in that capacity. The first, Fred Stork, served in Fernie in the Crow's Nest country. Mr. Manson was mayor of Nanaimo from 1901 to 1904 inclusive.

Mr. Manson came to Canada, originally from Scotland and much of his active life was spent in British Columbia. He was interested in public matters and, in this, enjoyed a measure of success. He was elected member for Alberni in the Provincial Legislature and subsequently became British Columbia's Provincial Secretary.

It was after this he took over the duties of Government Agent at Port Simpson, later assuming the same position at Prince Rupert. Since leaving the north a good many years ago, Mr. Manson has been living in Vancouver.

FISH SHIPMENTS HIT BY INCREASE

East Coast Industry Figures How Much It Will Mean

MONTREAL—The increase in express rates for fish will affect several million pounds annually of fresh and frozen fish, moving mostly from points on both east and west coasts. The higher cost will also apply to lake fishermen.

Rand H. Matheson of Moncton, manager of the Maritime Transportation Commission, estimates that the railway move will increase shipping expenses for maritime shippers by more than $100,000 yearly. Sixteen million pounds will be touched by the higher charge, every year. There was not yet, an estimate on what value of traffic on the west coast would be affected but it was believed it would be higher than in the Maritimes. Both carload and less than carload rates are to be jacked up by the railways which can undertake the move without specific advance authorization by the Board because the rates are "special" tolls below the ceilings allowed the carriers.

Some sample rates are: The less than carload toll from Halifax to Toronto is going up from $1.70 to $2.50 per 100 pounds while from St. John, N.B., to Toronto will increase from $1.50 to $2.25. On a carload basis the Halifax-Toronto charge goes from $1.80 to $2.25, while from Lunenburg, N.S., to Toronto, it is up from $2.05 to $2.35.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

If you have soured on things in general, and have that "oh, I don't give a ———" sort of feeling that now and then overtake the most of us, go see someone who has real trouble. Because, in comparison, you have none whatever. It's astonishing how well you feel, after leaving.

A federal capital interesting city to see out the spending of copper, you can see an example there in the opening of Parliament of many another events throughout some doubtless social—but well nevertheless.

Clyde Gilmour of the Province staff, challenged to do a bit of investigating, took an hour off, and in that time visited four different buildings and held open 17 doors for a total of 29 times for a total of 37 women. Here's their reaction to this little courtesy: Sixteen said nothing and didn't notice him. Ten said nothing, but looked. Some definitely glared. Eleven said thanks.

The luckless proof-reader usually deserves to be fired but there are times when the slip, instead of being an example of grievous negligence, is close to the truth and puts everybody concerned in the humor for a laugh. For example, this from the Medical Economics Magazine: The Wichita Eagle reported a Kansas surgeon who was quitting active practice: "Dr. S ———, one of our most eligible bachelors, is retiring from practice. Hale and hearty at 65, the doctor says all he wants is a little peach and quiet."

The west continues to struggle with snow and all that jolly rot. It comes, and what are you going to do about the situation? But long before next midsummer, when it's good to be outside, the difficulty will have solved itself. It's so pleasant to be chatting with tourists, describing advantages and opportunities, fishing and scenery, the celanese

Says Truck Logging Apple Pie Nowadays

VANCOUVER — Albert F. Grant, of Courtenay, B.C., considers truck logging today "a piece of apple pie with cheese" compared to the "old days."

Grant, who claims to be the first truck logger on Vancouver Island, now operates a fleet of six 30-ton trucks with his brother, Bob.

He said he had his first start in 1921 with a 15-ton truck. It had a chain drive, hard tires, wooden wheels and no cab.

"We had fun trying to keep the tires on," he said. "The heat would shrink the wooden wheels and the tires would fall off."

CASTLE BECOMES CULTURE CENTRE

Welsh College of Music and Drama Planned for Cardiff

CARDIFF, Wales, — Cardiff Castle, a fortified site since Roman times, will be opened this year as a National College of Music and Drama for Wales. The first classes next September will begin with 50 part-time students but eventually it is hoped to have an enrolment of 1,000. Initially students will work for diplomas from other colleges but later the college will award its own.

The educational program provides for the study of such specifically Welsh arts as harp playing and pennillion singing and for research in Welsh drama. There will be week-end courses in stage production, and courses in playwriting and construction are under consideration.

The castle, whose high stone walls are a feature of the city centre, was built in 1425 on the existing Norman fabric. Its large rooms, with soundproof walls nearly five feet thick, will be easily adapted for classrooms.

It was presented to the people of Cardiff last year by the Marquis of Bute.

Reportorial Experiences

OTTAWA YEARS AGO

During the first Great War the first House of Parliament was totally destroyed by a fire that spread with remarkable rapidity. The time, being in the very midst of a vast war, it was only to be expected that disturbing rumors would circulate. There was an investigation but nothing came of it.

Years prior to this we spent an interesting afternoon in the press gallery, the occasion being Mr. Fielding's budget speech. As there was no hint as to what the Minister of Finance was to tell the country, public interest was keen.

The Montreal Herald an afternoon paper, was preparing to issue a morning edition. The writer was sent to Ottawa for a copy of the speech and was given a solemn warning not to lose it or waste a moment in returning.

Ottawa was wintry. There was no stately Chauveau Laurier. The railway station had neither size or style. Hon. W. S. Fielding, spare and grey-bearded, was no orator and did not pretend to be one. He was deliberate, clear, and with a knack of clarifying certain features of a complex subject. Standing by his desk, he read what he had to say, speaking slowly, and now and then pausing as if expecting a question, and placing each page after it had been read, carefully before him.

There had been but little ceremony in the assembling of the government and members. Through a small private entrance, the correspondents breezed into the gallery—observing, alert, now and then exchanging timely quips, but all in good humor, as they waited for the formal beginning of the proceedings. Faces, some familiar though seen for the first time in the flesh by the visitor from Montreal, registered close attention as Mr. Fielding commenced to speak.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who not so long before had proudly declared the twentieth century would belong to Canada, sat with folded arms.

Sir Robert Borden, leader of the Conservative Opposition, who little dreamed the day was rapidly approaching when he would be at the head of affairs in the stress and strain of war, listened attentively to what was being said concerning the country's finances.

Frank Oliver, war horse from Edmonton, with well-nourished moustache, looked grim enough to make one wonder how far he agreed with all he heard.

Dr. William Pugsley from New Brunswick, with his never failing aura of amiability, kept quietly absorbing the speech. It was said of Dr. Pugsley that he was never known to lose his temper. Friends in his constituency called him "Sweet William" — a little pleasantry in which he found enjoyment.

All have long since passed away! The leaders and legislators of half a century ago had never heard of the C.C.F. and could hardly visualize radio, fleets of bombers flying over continents and oceans, and Canadian active service troops in their hundreds of thousands fighting in Europe. As they grew old and took their rest, a new era was unfolding for the land they loved and labored for.

TRAGEDY IN DOGLAND—Becky, two-year old spaniel on the left, is wondering what happened to her litter of 10 pups, four weeks old. They lost their lives in a fire in London last week. Here Becky is being consoled by her only surviving offspring, Ebony, six months old. (CP Photo)

When the bride-to-be is separated, but not divorced, it is all right to send the announcements in both names.

Yes, if the bride's mother is using her husband's name and the news of their separation is not generally known, a really unforfeitable error is to use the joint names after both the parents have received the notices.

What should a girl say when introduced to a man? "How do you do, Mr. ..."

How should one go about the expenses of a motor car?

The best way would be to have a definite understanding about the division of expenses starting on the day of purchase.

No Pain Felt By Locals As 'Trotters Win In Double Hoop Exhibition Here

Globe Trotters 63, All-Stars 32
Globe Trotters 65, All-Stars 44

Dark and devious doings in the Civic Centre gymnasium last night added up to two additional victories for Abe Sapperstein's Harlem Globe Trotters and to a lot of good clean fun for the fans and the Prince Rupert All-Stars alike as the invading hoop professionals claimed 63-32 and 65-44 wins from the local team.

The dusky troupers dropped from a cloud-banked sky at 4:45 Monday afternoon, in time to halt an epidemic of fingernail biting and frantic hair-tearing among city basketball enthusiasts who feared that the weatherman might not allow them to arrive at all from their 24-hour aerial exile at Port Hardy and Sandspit.

But they were well greeted when they did arrive. Capacity crowds totalling more than 1,500 turned out to see last night's two games which were played at 6:30 and 9:30 and none were disappointed at the quality of the show.

Least of all were team members of the Prince Rupert Jets, the all-star aggregation which gave its all, or almost that much, for the greater glory of Prince Rupert sport. They loved every minute they were on the floor with the impish southerners.

Richest of fanfare were the brilliant routines of passing and shooting put on by the Globe Trotters after they had sounded out Jets during the first half of the initial game. Nor had Prince Rupert any reason to be anything but proud by the game played by Coach Alex Bill's chosen team.

In between halves, there were discourses on sport and demonstrations of sprinting starts and hurdle jumping by the great Jesse Owens, 1936 Olympic track star, described as the finest of his type.

In the between-halves interval there were also demonstrations of straight and comic table tennis playing by Ted Bourns and Syd Cohen, contenders for the world's table tennis championship. This New York pair put on a show that was a real hit.

But it was the Globe Trotters that were the show, despite Sapperstein's claim that this particular branch of the "Trotter" family is largely "inexperienced" and needs several seasons yet to reach perfect form.

Anchorman of the team was Ted Strong "Mr. Hands," veteran of 12 years with the Globe Trotters but it took a mighty critical eye to see anything wrong with his team mates. After a brief display of ball-passing pyrotechnics during the warm-up period, they settled down to straight play while finding out the calibre of their competition.

The Trotters were leading 10-4 at the first quarter and 30-14 at the half. Then, they began to spread themselves and put on a show. This included periodic series of trick passing routines which left the Jets confused but still determined and the spectators roaring with laughter.

There was a football routine and a baseball take-off which caused everybody, including referees Johnny Comandina and Fred Calderone, to forget basketball temporarily and play along with the gags.

During the periods of "straight" play, Prince Rupert demonstrated a good quality of basketball, notably in passing and interception, but was weak in the shooting department. That, of course, was fatal in competition with such sharpshooters as the Trotters.

Silas Phelps, 6-foot 3-inch centre, marked up the highest score of the series by scoring 25 points in the first game. Given the ball and a position near the basket, Phelps merely had to reach up and drop the melon in.

Prince Rupert's top scorer in the first session was Ted Arney, a durable forward who is slightly less than six-feet-three. Despite his low centre of balance, however, he capitalized nicely on his opportunities and scored 22 points.

Jack Lindsay of the Prince Rupert forward line corralled 15 points in the second game, eight of them in the final quarter when he showed a remarkable accuracy, particularly on long and difficult shots. The Trotters' scoring was more evenly divided in this game, although "Boots" Moore, 6-foot, one-inch guard marked up 18.

In the first game, the Globe Trotters scored 30 field goals out of 60 tries and made three out of six penalty shots. All-Stars scored 16 out of 69 tries and missed their only two penalty shots.

In the second game, the Trotters scored 31 out of 67 field goals and sank three out of six penalty shots. The Jets sank 21 out of 57 field shots and made two out of seven penalty shots.

Lance Cudjoe, who could only be distinguished from his brother, Lawrence, by the number on his back, scored the first basket for the visitors. Phelps then took over and during the first quarter it was something of a duel between him and Arney.

Authentic color of the circus, which Coach Sapperstein obviously, and successfully, wished to provide, was enhanced by the antics of Ed Hamman, the clown who is noted for his acts on professional baseball fields south of the border. Hamman filled in the intervals and made a few intervals of his own, which he filled with humor.

In the dying moments of both games, Lawrence Cudjoe pulled his ball-spinning trick, in which he made the sphere revolve at high speed on the tip of his index finger.

Silas Phelps, in a co-operative mood, helped the Jets to two points when he climaxed a fast-passing spree by tossing the

Recreation Is Vital--Owens

Sees Civic Centre Here As Great Asset

Jesse Owens, who in 21 active years in sport has won the distinction as being probably the greatest sprint and jumping star of all time, named good recreation facilities and leadership as one of the major factors in developing good citizens in addresses before Prince Rupert sport fans last night.

Owens, who at one time held six world records and more than a score of sectional and national records and was outstanding athlete at the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin, was an intermission entertainer at last night's Harlem Globe Trotters basketball games.

"This gymnasium is one of the greatest assets your community could have," he declared to the audiences which packed the Civic Centre gym twice Tuesday evening. "It is not only developing good athletes, but good citizens."

Because of the perfection of his form, Owens has been de-

Toronto's "Kid Line" led all National Hockey League point-getters 17 years ago today. Pacing Leafs to the Canadian section lead, Charlie Conacher, Harvey Jackson and Joe Primeau each had 29 points. Final statistics that year showed Jackson with 53 points, Primeau next with 50 and Conacher with 48.

Howie Morenz was traded to New York Rangers for Glen Brydson by Chicago Black Hawks 13 years ago today. The great centre from Stratford who started with Montreal Canadiens for nine years before going to Chicago, slumped after the trade. But back with the Habituants in 1936-37 he regained his old-time dash until death cut his career short in March, 1937.

night he demonstrated his famous running and jumping style. His explanations were followed by examples of sprinting starts and hurdle jumps which left little question as to why he is rated so highly.

He described the highlight of his athletic career as the receiving of the victory award at the Berlin Olympics.

Once, at a track meet in Michigan, he broke four world records in an afternoon, three in running and one for the broad jump.

Still only in his '30's Owens describes himself as getting "old," although it didn't show noticeably in his performance last night.

Seasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

CHICKEN STANDARD FARE FOR SUNDAY DINNER OF SPECIAL FAMILY TREAT

Chicken is almost standard fare for the special dinner or for the Sunday treat, in many families.

Roast chicken is usually first choice, but chicken pot-pie or fried chicken, can be just as good a treat. It is a strange anomaly that a bird which is sold as a fowl will be called chicken, when cooked. Fowl, being less tender, requires long, slow cooking in moist heat, or a shorter cooking time under pressure, to make it completely tender. Once cooked, fowl makes an excellent base for many fine dishes such as chicken pie, fricassee, a la king, stew with dumplings, croquettes, turnovers, souffles and many delicious casserole dishes.

Government grading has now taken the guesswork out of buying. This is a protection for the housewife, who, if she buys by grade, buys with confidence, knowing well that the bird will be of the quality marked. When the bird is to be cooked whole, it is advisable to buy one of the higher grades. Grades "B" or "C" which are not so attractive in appearance, may be just as good for use when the bird is disjointed before cooking.

When buying a fowl for braising, stewing or pan frying, it is well to allow 1 pound per person if the bird is undrawn; or 3/4 pound if it has been drawn. The price per pound of drawn (eviscerated) poultry is higher than that of undrawn, but the costs per pound of edible meats are actually comparable, since the head, feet and viscera are not included in the drawn poultry.

Home economists have practical instructions for cutting and cooking a fowl.

To cut up fowl for cooking: Remove legs from body and cut drumsticks from thighs at knee-joints.

Remove wings, cutting through skin around wings close to body, pulling back and disjointing. Cut off tip ends of the wings and cook with giblets for gravy.

Separate from breast by cutting through skin on either side. Split back in half, cross-wise.

Using shears, cut through breastbone to split breast. To Cook in Water — Cover cut-up fowl with cold water, add an onion, one or two stalks of celery and one or two carrots and cook slowly, below boiling point, until tender, about 2 to 3 hours.

To Cook in Pressurized Saucepan — Follow manufacturers' directions, which usually suggest adding about 2 cups liquid and cooking for 25 to 30 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

CHICKEN FRICASSEE
1 fowl, about 5 to 6 pounds
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup fat
1/4 cup minced onion
or 1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1 1/2 cups water

Cut up fowl in pieces for serving. Dip each piece in milk. Coat with mixture of flour, salt and pepper. Brown chicken fat in heavy frying pan. Remove pieces to casserole. Cook onion in fat left in pan. Blend in remaining flour. Add remainder milk and water, stirring until mixture thickens. Pour over the chicken. Cover and bake in a moderately slow oven, 325 degrees F., for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Yield: six servings.

Note: Water may be used to replace milk.

BULL WAS CALM IN CHINA SHOP

The bull walked in, looked around and would not take another step. Spectators, who had crowded the place, broke $100 worth of stock as they tried to urge the bull into action. He declined to do anything of the sort.

The Experts Say - -

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OYSTERS AT BEST—This is the season when oysters are at their best and amateurs have that job of "oyster-shucking" cut out for them.

Experts have a few directions for the person who would eat his oyster with a minimum of effort.

One method for getting at this delicious seafood is by opening through the side, wherever an opening may present itself, but preferable just opposite the muscle located about one-quarter to one-third of the length from the broad end. Cut the muscle on the flat upper shell.

A second method is to insert a short knife between the shells at the hinge and break the hinge by prying the two shells apart at this point. The upper shell can then be lifted up and the muscle taken out.

OYSTER SOUP—Open oysters and empty in a fine strainer placed over a bowl. When all the oysters are opened let them drain for a while longer and sprinkle with a few tablespoons of cold water. Strain the liquid from the oysters through cotton to remove sand and heat, then add oysters which have been washed. Cook until the edges curl and add milk which has been heated. Add piece of butter or thick cream, and salt and pepper. Serve hot. Paprika may be sprinkled on each plate as desired.

POTATOES—Inexpensive and plentiful this year, potatoes are an excellent tonic for an ailing budget.

Home economists claim as "unjust" the old criticism that potatoes are "fattening." Cooked in its jacket, the lowly potato provides food elements for which many homemakers pay dearly in other foods.

POTATO BISCUITS—Ingredients: two cups hot riced potatoes; two tablespoons grated cheese; one teaspoon chopped parsley; two eggs; one cup sifted all-purpose flour (or one cup and two tablespoons sifted pastry flour); two teaspoons baking powder; one teaspoon salt. To the potatoes add grated cheese, chopped parsley, and well-beaten eggs. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Blend thoroughly with first mixture. Shape into rounds like a biscuit and bake in a hot oven (425 degree Fahrenheit) for 15 to 20 minutes. These biscuits are good served with jam or jelly and require no butter. Yield: 18 two-inch biscuits.

Sweet potatoes are a welcome dish at any dinner-table, particularly when a little care is taken in their preparation.

MARSHMALLOW SWEET POTATOES—Ingredients: large sweet potatoes; three tablespoons sugar marshmallows. Boil four or five potatoes in the skins until they are soft, peel them and mash with a fork. Put in a baking dish and pour over them syrup made by melting three

TROTTERS GIVE SCHOOL STUDENTS BIG MORNING

GLOBE TROTTERS 58;
HIGH SCHOOL 40

Eight hundred screaming kids and adults this morning saw Harlem Globe Trotters clown their way to their third victory during their overnight stay here, this time with Booth High School Rainmakers playing straight-men for their comedy. Game score was 58-40.

City schools closed their doors for the event and practically every youngster in town crowded into the bleachers, sandwiched between scores of adults to cheer impartially whenever a score was made.

The students showed less tendency to string along with the dusky professionals than did the Prince Rupert All-Star team last night but concentrated seriously on basketball seriously throughout the four quarters. They put up a good variety of basketball too.

The antics of clown Ed Hammon and the ias., pepper-pot routines of the Globe Trotters were received with vast delight by the youngsters. Sprint star Jesse Owen's demonstration of racing and hurdling techniques and his talk on sportsmanship was a highlight of the morning session.

The lofty Trotter forward line had little difficulty in running up a substantial lead over the students although the Rainmakers' interference and combination plays managed to develop a somewhat spectacular appearance despite the brilliance of their opponents.

Art Olsen marked up the first basket for Rainmakers and Jim Flaten emerged as top scorer for the team with 14 points. "Boots" Moore, "Trotter" guard, rang up 24 points.

Trotters scored 58 points out of 62 shots, while Rainmakers marked up their 40 points from 75 field shots. The students tallied two out of three penalty shots.

Box score:
Globe Trotters—Lance Cudjoe, Lawrence Cudjoe 6, Phelps 6, Strong 2, Moore 24, Hawkins 4, Lloyd 10, King 6.—58.
Rainmakers—Spring 2, Flaten 14, Davidson 2, Carlson 4, Olsen 10, Webster 2, Sunberg 2, Scherk 4.—40.

SUITS ARE DEAD, DULL

Stylist Says Girls Should Look Feminine During Working Hours

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—With a convert's zeal, Edith Head is crusading. The enemy is severely tailored suits—on working girls.

Miss Head is a formidable antagonist—chief designer for a movie company and what she dreams up on her drawing board are the clothes that such fashion-plates as Loretta Young and Barbara Stanwyck don for the cameras.

"I saw the light," tiny, dark-haired Miss Head explained during a visit to New York. "I spent the best part of 10 years building up the idea that a sensible, efficient tailored suit—crisp white blouse of course—was the only garment a business career girl would be found working in."

It was the same with most of the Hollywood designers. The result was that the film capital persuaded working girls that their costume should identify them as such from more than 10 paces.

"The severe, tailored suit got to be sort of a uniform," Miss Head said. "And then, about a year ago, I met some South American and French designers—all men—in Mexico."

TOO SELF-CONFIDENT

She recalls they told her: "You American women are so sure of yourselves, so self-confident, that you make men feel you don't want any help from them. European women don't make you feel that way. American women, the way they act, the way they dress, frighten men off."

Miss Head started thinking. And now—as far as she is concerned—women are going to be looking more like women even when they are working in an office.

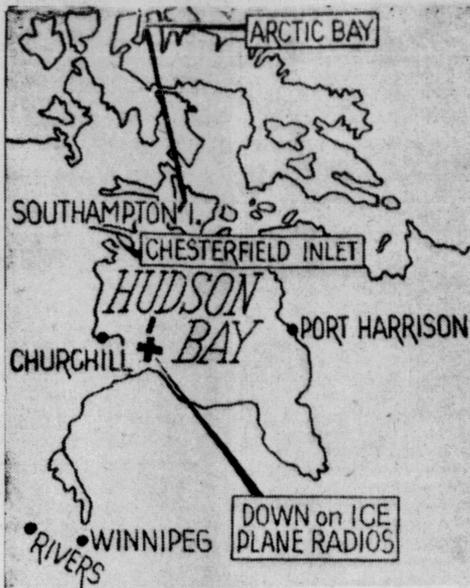

"By that I don't mean peek-a-boo blouses and a rose between the teeth," she said. "If I had my choice between the two for working hours, I'd still take the suit and crisp white blouse. But there's nothing wrong in the world with two-piece, softly tailored feminine dresses, wool or silk. And there's still room in every woman's wardrobe for a suit—the idea is to make it look like a woman's suit—not as though it screamed for two pairs of matching pants."

She wants her note of caution emphasized: "When I say girls want to look feminine during their working hours, I don't mean they should look like reincarnations of Theda Bara. They want to look trim, not sexy."

What should she call this crusade? "Well," said Miss Head, "if I weren't sick of the whole routine, I'd say 'the helpless look.'"

AREA OF CRASH—This map shows the general area of the search for 11 men aboard an R.C.A.F. aircraft forced down on the ice of Hudson Bay, 70 miles southeast of Churchill. The plane left Winnipeg earlier in the week for Arctic Bay to pick up Harold Dunn, department of transport radio operator who is ill. The plane left Coral Harbor on Southampton Island Thursday night for Churchill. Distress signals were later heard and the plane was sighted Friday on the ice, a rescue being safely effected. Scots Honor Their Bard

There was haggis enough for a' and a wee bit of something else besides at the Commodore Cafe last night when Prince Rupert's newly-formed Burns Club honored the one hundred and nineteenth anniversary of Scotland's famed poet with banquet and song.

There was heather, transplanted to Canada, of course, like the Scotsmen who honored the day, but nevertheless, heather. And the haggis, more than 20 pounds of it, was piped in with the full flower of tradition as were all ceremonies connected with the feast.

Forty-five club members and guests were seated at the tables to partake of the ancient toasts, spoken proudly and reverently by appointed officers. Toast to the "Immortal Memory," with its rich eulogy of the universal virtues of humble and talented Robert Burns, was proposed by Jack Frew, president of the club, and himself an Ayrshire man like the poet.

The broadness of the Scottish tongue was carried down the line as toast succeeded toast. W. D. Smith, M.L.A., offered one to the Lassies and Bob Cameron directed the thoughts of the gathering back to Bonnie Scotland. The toast to Canada was proposed by Orme Stuart.

And it was Capt. W. F. Robertson who said the "Selkirk Grace" before the company approached their food.

The semi-sacred haggis was piped in by William MacKay and was borne aloft by James Bremner, the evening's bard.

Songs of Scotland, the "Star of Robbie Burns" and "My Ain Folk" were sung by Dr. R. G. Large, accompanied by Henry Plum at the piano. The evening progressed with songs and speeches and music by John Strachan with the piano accordion and Bert Cameron on the violin.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I exterminate reaches?

A. Use equal parts of plaster of Paris and powdered sugar. Lime powder well spread about is also good. Or, try powdered borax mixed with sugar. Also, wet a clean rag with kerosene and press it into the holes or corners where they enter.

Q. How can I get longer wear from shoes?

A. If the shoes are rubbed with a soft cloth, lightly smeared with Vaseline jelly every day, they will wear much longer, and neither will they require polishing so frequently.

Q. How can I remove stains from pie plates?

A. The oven-browned stains on pie dishes can be easily removed by soaking in a strong solution of borax and water.

WOMAN SENATOR NOT TO SPEAK

Republican From South Dakota Finishing Terms of Late Husband

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Vera Bushfield, Republican from South Dakota, says she is more interested in her six grandchildren than in political oratory.

"I guess I'm not as grateful as I should be about the honor of being a United States Senator for even a brief period," she told a reporter with a laugh. "I do not have any personal political ambitions. A lot of women have written me saying I should make more of it."

The only woman senator at present, she was appointed in October to serve out the remaining months of the term of her late husband, Harlan J. Bushfield. She never expects actually to sit in a senate session or make a speech.

And she is grateful for that, explaining: "I'm not very good at talking on my feet before a crowd."

Another woman Republican, Margaret Chase Smith of Maine will sit in the "next senate after election to a full six-year term."

Governor George T. Mickelson of South Dakota, who appointed Mrs. Bushfield, was attorney-general when her husband was governor of that state. She is 59 years old.

"I had never worked in this office before," she said, "but I took the appointment because the files and office personnel were here and I thought I could carry on for a few months as well or better than some stranger."

TROTTERS OFF TO KETCHIKAN

Harlem Globe Trotters took off at 12:15 this afternoon for Ketchikan, where they will play a basketball game in the Coast Guard gymnasium tonight before pushing on to more northerly points to put on shows at American Army bases. The 13 members of the crew were picked up here by two Ellis Airlines planes, a Grumman Goose and a Bellanca float plane which whipped them north. After games at Ketchikan, Fort Richardson, Anchorage, Ladd Field, Fairbanks and Nome they will return to Seattle Sunday.

DOORYARD FLOWER GARDENS IN FASHION FOR NEW HOMES

Dooryard flower gardens are growing in popularity in communities of new homes, and the fashion promises to spread throughout the country, transforming the appearance of older sections where flowers in front yards have rarely been seen.

The fashion is well suited to the new one-storey homes. Gay flower beds and borders give the simple lines of these houses a decorative frame which enhances their appearance. The flowers never grow so high as to obstruct the windows. A flower-flanked door extends a friendly welcome to callers, and a neighborly greeting to passers-by.

Eight months or more of floral beauty may be enjoyed in dooryard gardens anywhere in this country. For a full season's display, spring flowering bulbs should be planted in the fall. Snowdrops, scillas, crocuses, daffodils, early and late tulips, following each other in that order, will provide flowers from the time frost comes out of the ground until the June perennials are in flower. For summer, a planting of annual flowers may be depended upon to bloom until winter sets in.

The garden shown in the illustration is cleverly designed to increase the apparent size of the house and lot, while providing a charming decoration for the entrance. The fence is 18 inches high and serves to enclose the flower beds, for which flowers are chosen whose height will be in good scale with the fence.

Cosmos orange flare, dwarf marigold, and calliopsis are all yellow and orange; the fragrant nicotiana (sweet tobacco) is white. This gives a color scheme which is especially suited to a blue house, or one painted in tones of yellow and brown. All these plants will grow easily from seed sown direct in the garden. Flowers a few weeks earlier may be obtained by starting seeds in an indoor box.

While flowers of any color combination, or mixture, will be beautiful in a dooryard garden, regardless of the color of the house, delightful effects may be produced with color schemes worked out by amateurs having a gift for decoration.
