POWER SHORTAGE—Why Vancouver industry and homes must drastically cut power consumption: Stave Lake, site of a big power development, has less than four feet to drop before the generators stop turning. It is one of the lower mainland's chief sources of electricity. Lack of rain in January has caused this condition.

Stricken Vancouver Is Swept By Arctic Storm at Week-End

STILL NO RELIEF IN POWER CRISIS ALTHOUGH SLIGHT RAIN EXPECTED

VANCOUVER (CP)—After the worst snow-storm to strike British Columbia's lower mainland in a long time had blown itself out last night, the weather bureau forecast today that a little rain might fall tonight and tomorrow but not in sufficient quantity to appreciably aid the power shortage. With only enough water in the reservoirs to keep generators running for twenty days, a week's heavy rain is needed to permanently relieve the situation, it was said today.

The week-end storm, which pattered out in the Kootenays today, dumped six-and-a-half inches of snow over the Lower Mainland, and added to deaths of two persons. It was accompanied Saturday night by a 45-mile an hour gale and it was a virtual Arctic storm that raged over the stricken blacked-out city. The snow drifted to depths of several feet at some points. All transportation services were disrupted, some suspended.

Mills usually close during the Christmas holidays and reopen early in February but the closures have been prolonged this year because of poor markets and bad weather.

POLITICAL EYES FACING QUEBEC

NICOLET, (CP)—Political eyes of the Dominion are today focused on two-county seat of Nicolet and Yamaska where the result of the vote in the federal by-election is expected to give an indication of which way the wind might blow in Quebec at the next general election.

It appears that the vote may be light because of a driving snow-laden blizzard which blew up this morning and was expected to last all day.

Power Company Asks Dim-Out To Conserve Electricity Here

Business and Street Lighting to Be Conserved While Water Crisis Lasts

Water level at Falls River and Shawatlans is continuing to lower as a result of the absence of rainfall which has persisted for most of the winter.

"We have asked city business houses to discontinue all display lighting during the water shortage," Northern B.C. Power Co. Manager T. B. Black said today. "We hope too, that house-holders will be as economical as possible, turning off all unnecessary lights."

A heavy, continuous rainfall will be necessary before water level at the Falls River plant will be restored to its former height.

The dim-out will be reminiscent of the early days of the Pacific war when all lights were shrouded as a security precaution.

First actual restriction on the use of electric power in Prince Rupert was requested today by the Northern B.C. Power Co. which asked darkening electrical display signs while cold weather continues to cause a water shortage at the company's Falls River hydro plant.

Already, the company has reduced the period which street lights are allowed to burn at night and city residents have been asked to conserve domestic use of water in a series of moves to stave off a power shortage.

The measures were taken as a result of the lowering of the water level at the Falls River dam, which has dropped to such an extent that only about a week's power is still in storage there.

Weather officials said the storm appeared to have been the worst since 1925 when more than a foot-and-a-half of snow fell within a few hours.

Vancouver Island and Victoria also felt the storm. There was rain, wind, sleet and snow at Victoria and up-island it snowed as much as six inches.

George Pallos, aged 15, died from injuries received when he was struck by a car during the storm at Cranbrook and five-year-old James Brady was killed instantly by a bulldozer clearing a snow-blocked road.

STEWART IS STILL ICED

STEWART—with the snowfall at the beach here now more than 23 feet, temperatures ranging from 16 above to 10 below and Portland Canal completely frozen over to a depth of a foot for a mile out from the Stewart wharf, this mining camp town has been really taking a beating from the Weather Man this winter.

There was some doubt whether the weekly steamer—Camosun—would be able to get alongside the Stewart wharf today.

If she fails, it will have been the fourth occasion during the last month that she has been unable to even make contact with shore. At two other times she has transferred passengers, mail and perishable freight to small boats which carried the cargo to the Hydr dock.

In spite of the tough job, public works men have been continuing their efforts to blast a channel for the steamer into the Stewart dock in the hope that she would be able to get in.

There has been a fair supply of foodstuffs with the exception of eggs and meat.

on a variety of matters comprised the principal business of the evening.

Representations are to be made to the Postmaster General to have the local post office open for the transaction of business from the hours of 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. noon hour inclusive as it was felt that the present hours are unsatisfactory.

There are 37 skiers killed

DONAUESCHINGEN, Germany—Thirty German skiers were killed last night when a bus in which they were returning from a Black Forest ski centre skidded on a city road and tumbled down a 60-foot crevice. Police reported that seventeen were killed instantly and 13 others died in hospital.

Thirty-seven are still in hospital with severe injuries. Donaueschingen is in the French occupation zone.

Introduced by Amelia Gunderson, Ketchikan Democrat, the memorial cited that a few miles of the artery between Haines and the Alaska Highway are within Canada and constitute a barrier to valuable year-round traffic.

Representative Gunderson said she introduced the memorial by request in support of a bill Delegate Bartlett is presenting in Congress for appropriations for the Haines Highway.

How to buy

a DIAMOND

Their value depends on many things. We often have a chance to buy diamonds of so or a quality we would not offer them to our customers.

They should be pure and clear in color without cloudiness or tint.

The cutting of their 58 little facets should be well done.

Their shape should be well proportioned. They should have no flaws or spots.

Some large stones are not worth as much as the half size.

One of our customers brought in a diamond for setting which we sold over 30 years ago and it was amazing how the value had increased.

We pride ourselves that we sell a quality so good that there will never be any fault to find.

Timely Topics from Terrace

Mrs. C. R. De Kergommeaux, Terrace Reporter

To obviate further flood damage, the land owners in the vicinity of the slough from Kerr's farm to Brauns Island have petitioned for the dyking of that area. Conservative estimate of the cost of such a dyke is $22,800 and hopes are high that such a project will not be long in getting underway.

C. W. Alger drove to Hazelton last week on school board business.

Mrs. Grenfell and two children have returned from Regina where they spent the past few weeks visiting relatives.

W. Baker and E. Buckholz have left for Port Edward where they will follow their trade as carpenters.

SCHOOL TO GET MOVIE CAMERA

Terrace P.T.A. Makes Plans For Year

TERRACE — At a very enthusiastic meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association the members decided to purchase a film camera for use in the Elementary school.

This year's project came up for discussion with several suggestions being brought forward by the members, such as hot lunches, library books and dental care for the children.

C. W. Michiel, chairman of the school board, detailed a few plans which were being formed for the new High School near the present primary school and thanked the members of the P.T.A. for their past help in supplying things for the school which, at the time, were beyond the reach of the school board. Especially did he thank them for last year's soup kitchen which had proved of great benefit to the children. He also pledged that for every dollar the P.T.A. spent on the camera, the school board would spend an equal amount for films for it.

The meeting was held in the Credit Union hall with Mrs. Van Stolk as chairman. After opening with "O Canada," the president welcomed the fathers who were present.

A very entertaining program had been arranged by Mrs. Campbell and Miss Larsen.

Eight tiny tots from the primary school did their physical exercises to the record player which had been supplied by the organization.

Other records were played and enjoyed. These young children were Judith Amdam, Ann Smith, Barbara Hagen, Bernice Lee, John Jones, Pierre Normandieu, David Toop and Teddy Farquhar.

Mrs. Amdam gave a reading at the beginning of the meeting and Mrs. Campbell brought forward the idea of the "Problem Box," an idea which will be adopted.

Plans for another school concert which will take the form of an operetta to be held in May were made and, as the P.T.A. will supply all the costumes, Mrs. Bailey was appointed costume convenor.

The meeting also decided to pay transportation for the school children who will participate in the Music and Drama Festival to be held in Prince Rupert in May. Mrs. A. Kennedy was appointed chairman of a liaison committee for approaching the school board on different matters pertaining to the welfare of the children.

Following the close of the meeting, refreshments were served.

l owing reports, election of officers took place:

President, Mrs. Head.

Vice-President, Mrs. J. Julseth. Secretary, Mrs. H. Fisher. Treasurer, Mrs. D. Kerr.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Kerr for her past services as secretary-treasurer.

Boy Scout and Girl Guide Week is to be held from February 20 to 27, and a big jamboree is being planned for one night during that week with the Association and the Boy Scout Group committee getting together to plan the event.

BOB FELLER SIGNS UP TO $72,500

NEW YORK, \oplus — Bob Feller has signed a one-year contract with the Cleveland Indians for approximately $72,500 but Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees will probably top that figure today with a pact for close to $100,000.

CEMENT COMPONENT

Gypsum is added to Portland cement in the final grinding process to regulate the setting time of the cement.
