Air Field Issue Hot

$8.00; By Mail, Per Month 50c; Per Year $5.00.

RINCE RUPERT appears to have won support in high places for its air field case. Grant Mc-Conachie president of Canadian Pacific Airlines, told the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce during his visit here that a well-equipped 24-hour day calls at Prince Rupert in the airport was essential to economic air transport at course of her survey duties. And this important city. J. R. Baldwin, chairman of the also a change from the fall of Air Transport Board, said it was obvious that there should be facilities here for handling wheeled air- a hospital ship as the ominous craft. From a defence standpoint, particularly in view of the situation in the Pacific today, it would also appear to be requisite that there should be a landing field at Prince Rupert.

We appear to be well on our way now in the campaign for an air field.

E. T. Applewhaite, M.P. for Skeena, has been active on this matter in Ottawa and has had the support of other British Columbia members as well "as officials of Canadian Pacific Airlines. A gener-"ally favorable attitude appears to be developing at ""Ottawa towards the Tugwell Island proposal.

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, and the Daily News, which have been in the forefront of the movement since we started writing lonesome editorials about it two or three years back, may be depended upon to keep the matter alive now that it is hot.

COURTESY PAYS

T WO incidents of official discourtesy to visiting motor tourists from the United States came to the ears of the Daily News yesterday. They were minor and probably unintended incidents arising on The spur of the moment but, nevertheless, they were the sort of thing that makes bad impressions for a community and its public servants.

In the course of our busy day's work all of us become impatient at times. We have many routine things to do, many tasks to attend to. The tourists, on the other hand have plenty of leisure time to spend asking questions and doing what might seem to us minor things.

However, if we would only realize it, it is quite as easy to be smiling and courteous as to be brusque and uncivil. And the important thing is that it pays off in goodwill both for ourselves and our community. We should practice courtesy and patience. That goes for all of us—the postal clerk, the police officer, the store attendant and all the rest of us.

TRUMAN DOCTRINE

ESS than three days after the Russian-sponsored _ government in Northern Korea began its Communist attack on Southern Korea, President Truman ordered United States planes and warships to give every possible aid to the defenders of the invaded territory. This action on the part of the chief executive at Washington-after consultation with Democratic and Republican leaders-implements in practical form the machinery of the United Nations and follows refusal of the aggressor to heed the cease-fire order issued by the Security Council last Sunday. Regardless of the obvious risks involved, the course now decided is an indication on the part of the most powerful member of the global organization that it has learned the lesson of timidity in similar circumstances which marked the failure of the first League of Nations. It should also quickly disclose just what further plans for the Asiatic continent, and elsewhere, the men of the Kremlin have up their political and military sleeves.

-Vietoria Times.

YOUR JOB

Wherever you're working in office or shop And however far you may be from the top And though you may think you're just treading the mill Don't ever belittle the job that you fill.

For, however little your job may appear, You're just as important as some little gear That meshes with others in some big machine That helps keep it going though never is seen. They could do without you we'll have to admit For business keeps on when the big fellows quit. But always remember, my lad, if you can The job's more important—(ah, yes)—than the man. So if it's your hope to stay off the shelf Think more of your job than you do of yourself.

Your job is important—don't think it is not— So try hard to give it all that you've got, And don't ever think you're of little account Remember you're part of the total amount. If they didn't need you, you wouldn't be there, So, always my lad, keep your chin in the air. A digger of ditches, mechanic or clerk-Think well of your company, yourself and your work. -Mrs. C. R. Sumner.

There is no reason for pessimism for the future in the employment picture in Prince Rupert, according to the monthly higher. The shortage there statement of the National Employment Service here.

The report shows labor shortages in nearly every line, particularly in coast type loggers. It is only the odd drifter who is not presently employed.

"There are just not enough people for the work to be done, said E. V. Whiting, manager of the local office, commenting on conditions. Both skilled and unskilled laborers are in short supply and it is necessary to import labor.

There may not be much demand for work from fishermen since this season has been one of the best ever for halibut fishing. Salmon trolling to date is only fair and it is too early to form a sound opinion on gillnetting.

The weak spot in the employment picture is the suspension coal mining operations at Telkwa mine due to lack of However there is demand from base metal mines
