WELCOME, VANCOUVERITES!

PRINCE RUPERT welcomes a very important group of visitors today in the members of the Vancouver Board of Trade coming here on a goodwill tour. It is more than ten years since such a group has been here and there have been a lot of changes since then in the relationships between the transcontinental terminal ports of the Pacific. Speedier transportation and more ready means of communication have brought them closer together.

Prince Rupert is no longer a mere fishing town through the fishing and all that goes with it is still a mainstay industry, and is not to be discounted). The big industry has been added to the picture with the advent of the $35,000,000 celanese pulp mill which will bring secondary industries here—some of which our visitors from Vancouver may be interested in.

Every visitor who comes here becomes immediately impressed with the fast developing possibilities of this northwestern British Columbia and particularly its key port of Prince Rupert and the Vancouver people will be no exception. The last time the Vancouver Board of Trade visited this district, we were abundantly confident but the rate of expansion and development then was in the future. Now this expansion and development is actually under way. The Vancouver Board will accept it in the spirit that many of us are expending—that what is good for the rest of British Columbia is good for Vancouver and that, as part of the country develops, so will our big city to the city in complement. In this spirit of mutual goodwill and friendly understanding we extend our friends from downtown today. Prince Rupert will extend its usual hospitality with the wish that our visitors may have an interesting and profitable tour here and on the remainder of their tour.

Woman Speaker Extols Work of United Nations

Challenging And Informative Address At Borden School P.T.A.—Officers Elected

Talk on United Nations at the Borden Street Parent Teacher Association last evening by Mrs. D. Fraser was the feature of a very successful evening. Illustrating her talk by means of a comprehensive chart, Mrs. Fraser outlined the complete organization of this international body and then went on to discuss the procedure, objectives, and accomplishments.

Mrs. Fraser's talk was a very convincing statement to every nation and to every individual. She pointed out the failure of certain aims and the success of others. She pointed out the failure of certain aims and the success of others. She pointed out the failure of certain aims and the success of others.

Board Of Trade Party Spending Day In City

Business And Industrial Leaders Of Southern City Complete First Leg Of 1950 Tour

Industrialists, financiers, bankers, investors, civic leaders, publicists, diplomatic representatives and some plain businessmen, all are comprised in the goodwill mission of the Vancouver Board of Trade which arrived in Prince Rupert today after the cruise up the coast from their home city aboard the

Flash

POWERLESS

MEXICO CITY—An electrical strike was settled last night after some 5,000,000 Mexicans went without light or power 11 hours.

WHEAT TALKS

LONDON—Trade Minister C. D. Howe arrived today by air for Anglo-Canadian wheat talks. He was accompanied by George Melver, chairman of the Canadian wheat board.

QUADRUPLETS DIE

KIRKSVILLE, Mo. — The quadruplets, two boys and two girls, born Monday night to Mrs. Dean Potter, died yesterday. The condition of the 20-year old mother was reported as good.

PROGRESS AT PARLEY

SYDNEY, Australia — The Commonwealth conference today announced "considerable progress" in talks on the plan for economic aid to check the spread of Communism in south and southeast Asia.

GAS RESTORED

VANCOUVER—Pressure was restored today to gas mains supplying 10,000 homes here. They had been without service for 12 hours. The interruption was caused by an explosion ripping apart a compressor. Three B. C. Electric employees suffered minor injuries.

FIRE AT BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE—An eight-alarm fire, visible for five miles, burned through a block long lumber yard and mill plant and sent 150 persons fleeing from their homes. Damage was not estimated. No one was injured.

Sentences Are No Deterrent

Kootenay—Mounties Called in Kootenay—Mounties Called in

NELSON B. — Thirty-six Sons of Freedom Doukhobors yesterday were sentenced to three years in prison for nude parading. The sentences brought the total to 67 since April 28, when 31 were given similar sentences on the same charges. While the magistrate read off the sentences, Freedomsites in nearby Kootenay burned another house, the thirty-third since the outbreak started April 14. More than 200 men and women have been arrested.

In Victoria, Attorney General Gordon Wismer said he would ask the R.C.M.P. for 20 officers to help ease the situation in the area.

Moscow Talks Satisfy Lie

LAKE SUCCESS B. — Trygve Lie told newspaper men in Moscow today he had "no reason to be dissatisfied" with his talks with Stalin and other high Russian leaders. The statement Lie made in the Soviet capital was released at U.N. headquarters here. The Secretary General said he had exchanged views of a "positive kind" with the Russians.

WHEN LAST THEY WERE HERE—Shortly before the outbreak of World War II the Vancouver Board of Trade paid its last goodwill visit to Prince Rupert. Prince Rupert, in those days, was entirely dependent upon its fishing industry for its economic mainstay and it was a short time previous that Ex-Mayor Lyle Telford of Vancouver had described this as a "Siwash village." Telford is seen in effigy here with humorous slogans. The picture was taken during that goodwill visit. In it can be seen such people as J. T. Harvy, W. J. Scott, P. M. Ray, R. G. Hopkins, Jarvis McLeod and the late Theo Collart. Paul Aivazoff of Vancouver is also seen. He is here again today.

Better or Worse?

IN the welter of statements and views which are producing such confusion in the average mind these days, it is difficult, indeed, to appraise the world situation. Depending upon how one looks at it, there can be optimism or pessimism.

For instance, President Truman has said that the world is more settled now than in 1946, the previous low point in relations with Russia.

On the other hand, Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations, say that things have not been so bad since 1945.

There are at least two ways of looking at world conditions at this moment. One way is focused on the question as to who is winning the "cold war." The other is indicated in the question as to whether the "cold war" can be kept from getting hot.

If preventing this "cold war" from boiling over depended on reaching agreements with the Kremlin by tomorrow, then we should be obliged to set the Truman and Lie estimates in direct contrast and should guess that Mr. Lie was nearer the mark.

But prevention of shooting war has usually depended on the very combination of influences which are now at work. That is, it has depended on the deterrent to war which exists in a fairly well-balanced division of military and political power between the possible contestants. And it has depended on the possibility that negotiation meanwhile can ameliorate the least tolerable grievances which set the contestants against each other.

So the case seems to be that the West is farther than ever from an agreement with Russia, and that is bad. But the West is in better condition to defend itself against aggression, and to maintain itself if necessary through a protracted period of tension, and that is good.

This is true even when the loss of Chinese territory to communism is considered. In World War II the Axis overran vast territories while the democracies were gradually winning on innumerable hidden or semi-hidden fronts.

Something like that may have been happening again during the last four or five years as between the West and the Communist East.

TRYGVE LIE'S WARNING

THE secretary general of the League of Nations Trygve Lie, on his way to Moscow on his mission of enquiry, used the following grave words in the course of a press interview:

"We are at the cross roads. Now it is proposed to split the world permanently into two camps. That road will harden existing divisions, create new ones, perpetuate and accelerate the armament race, make economic warfare a permanent condition, condemn all the poor and hungry in many parts of the world to remaining poor and hungry, bring the propaganda war and its accompanying hysteria to new depths of intellectual and moral degradation and destroy the chance for agreement on control of atomic energy. There is only one possible end to that road—sooner or later a third world war."

Victoria Report

... by J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA—Hon. A. D. Turnbull is the new baby of the cabinet! He is 46.

He replaces Hon. E. C. Carson of Public Works. Mr. Carson is 56.

It isn't often a man gets into the cabinet before he's 50.

The new Minister of Health and Welfare, Mr. Turnbull is a quiet, soft-spoken man. He's the M.L.A. for Rossland-Trail. He's a walking example No. 1 of the fickleness of the voters. At a by-election in November of 1948 he was defeated by J. D. Quinn of the C.C.F. Little more than six months later, in June of last year, the same voters turned around and threw Quinn out and put Turnbull in.

Mr. Turnbull shows once again that the spellbinding oratorical types are gone now from government. Mr. Turnbull is a plodder. He'll probably never raise his voice, even in legislative debate. Gone are the days when cabinet ministers made flowery speeches and thumped their desks in so doing. Cabinet ministers nowadays think it undignified to get mad in public. It may be all to the good, but most observers are rather doubtful. The old-timers sigh for the days of "Duff" Pattullo and Harry Perry, Dr. Weir and Dolly Steeves, when legislative debate was real debate indeed. The trend today is towards a businessman's type of government, and politics is much duller as a result.

Premier Johnson, in appointing Mr. Turnbull to the cabinet, continued to walk the political tightrope that's Coalition. The Premier might well have increased the cabinet to 12 but, if the additional minister had been a Conservative, the Liberals would have been mad (Liberals lost out on the Conservatives in House seats) and, if he had been a Liberal, the Conservatives would have been hurt and might have threatened to walk out. If there's one thing the Premier is determined to do it's to preserve Coalition and keep any arguments from getting out into public. Turnbull is a Liberal. George Pearson, whom he replaces, is a Liberal. So there is no change.

It seems strange in Legislative corridors these days without George Pearson. For many years he was a familiar figure entering the Buildings and taking the elevator to his office high up under the dome, with its view of the Inner Harbor and the Buildings' lawns.

Everyone knew Mr. Pearson's resignation was coming. Mr. Pearson, broken in health because he would not spare himself, just couldn't carry on. He had hoped against hope he would be strong enough to finish the job, right on to the end, but it was impossible. Turned 70 last month, he took the course of wisdom. He will now be able to enjoy well-earned leisure for a few years.

It was the most difficult thing George Pearson had to do in his life—making up his mind to get out. To him it seemed so like quitting in the middle of the stream. He wanted to complete his task, but he knew it wouldn't be honest to the government and to the people, let alone to himself.

Now he is gone from the Government—after a record it's going to be hard for other cabinet ministers to beat, both in years of service and almost fanatical devotion to duty. He'll carry on as a private M.L.A. for Nanaimo-The Islands, however, and that's fine. His counsel will be needed behind the scenes. His legislative speeches on behalf of the underdog will be good to hear. George Pearson has never paid much attention to the status quo. He doesn't believe in polite legislative speeches, all sweet mouthings that say nothing. He has always believed in a punchy presentation. He never quibbled. As a result he made political enemies. He did and said what he thought best for the people. Unfortunately for him he always took criticism too personally. It hurt him to think that even for political reasons anyone could doubt his good intentions. He should be told he hasn't an enemy in the world.

In cabinet he was a persistent battler for the little man. When some cabinet minister thought labor was getting too much, that the sick and the old and the underprivileged were being babied, George Pearson went to bat for them. He wouldn't budge. If he thought he was right he stuck to his guns; the others backed down. If they didn't like his stand they could fire him. George Pearson somehow thought it more important that a lonely old sick person have a hospital bed than it was to put up a new building, a streamlined highway. He is that kind of man—the humanities to him are more important than the trappings of success and prosperity.

Legion Offers Scholarships

"A minimum of five" scholarships, offered by B. C. Command, Canadian Legion, are available to high school students in the province this year. Preference will be given to children of service men killed in action with children of deceased, disabled or other veterans next in line. Other worthy applicants will also be eligible.

The value of each scholarship is $200 and a further grant of $25, arranged through other sources, will be made to each successful candidate on entering U.B.C. this fall. Four of the five scholarships may be used toward taking Grade XIII in an approved school. The fifth is reserved for technical education. In addition to the five scholarships made available through B.C. Command there are two others made possible through grants from branches and their auxiliaries.

Mrs. Hans Koch and Mrs. Frank Clifford of Terrace arrived in the city yesterday by car and left today on their return to the interior.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Kennedy Replies

The Editor, Daily News:

The editorial taken from your paper of the 8th instant dealing with Liquor Board policy, has been forwarded to me. I have read the article very carefully and it is evident to me that this material was not prepared without considerable thought, as you have gone below the surface of this particular matter and considered some very important points dealing with liquor legislation in this province. With this in mind I felt I would like to advance my side of the question for your consideration.

First, I may say that I have never at any time endeavored to mislead the public in connection with my position with the Board—that is that I am the sole member of the Board. As such am quite prepared and willing to accept all criticism dealing with the Board's decisions. However, the Act definitely states that "if there is only one member of the Board, he shall, for all purposes of this Act be deemed to be the Chairman," from which you will judge the Act itself gives this designation.

I am also particularly interested in that portion of the article wherein you object strenuously to making an exception for the city of Vancouver, and ask why this city should be treated differently than any other city in the province. You are of the opinion that I have decided this principle when it is time for the people to take some drastic action. With this statement I have no serious objection. In making an exception of the city of Vancouver, however, I am simply carrying out the principle as laid down by the members of the Legislature in the "Government Liquor Act" wherein they make very definite exceptions for a city in our province having a population of more than 25,000. I think they were most wise in making this provision, because it would be extremely difficult to meet the various needs with which we have to contend without this protection in our "Government Liquor Act."

Previous to the change in legislation some three years ago this Board had no authority over the hotel proper and legally had no right to even ask the proprietor to change the linen on the beds. The matter was taken up by the Members of the Legislature and they insisted that something be done to provide better hotel accommodation in the province with the result that by legislation the Liquor Control Board was authorized to take charge of the entire situation. I am pleased to report that from that date to the 31st March of this year over $9,800,000 have been expended by the hotel industry of British Columbia in improving the service not only for our citizens but also for the tourist industry and, with a very few exceptions such as this situation we are dealing with in Prince Rupert, we have had nothing but the highest praise for the work we are accomplishing. Today many of our tourists are visiting the interior of the Province thoroughly enjoying our country where previously they stayed for one or two days in the Coast Cities, where conditions are very crowded and then returned home because we

Labor Council Hears Speakers

Two guest speakers attended the May meeting of the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council,
Geo. Viereck of the Credit Union and George Wilkinson of the Labor Relations Board.

Mr. Viereck gave a very interesting talk on the formation of Credit Unions and their growth into an International Credit Union Association with an established central insurance company. He also stated that money invested in the Credit Union aided the community as it was spent locally. The administration cost was very reasonable for the simple reason most of the administrative work was voluntary by the membership. He also gave a detailed account of the functions of the Credit Union and benefits derived by the membership.

Mr. Wilkinson presented the meeting with an address on Labor Relations Board and the functions and set-up of same. He stated that the democratic right of debating was very essential for Trade Unions and the country as a whole. There had been no setback in Union membership since the incorporation of the I.C.A.

act. He also stated that Arbitra-

Mr. Wilkinson ably giving the answers.

Two Pipe Line Firms Okayed

OTTAWA (C)—The great pipe line debate died in the House of Commons Monday night in a welter of division bills and defeated amendments.

Climaxing the bitter filibustering debate that has raged almost since Parliament opened February 16, two private bills to incorporate western pipe line companies won a final, rocky passage through the legislative mill. But it took four recorded votes to do it.

The bills were those incorporating Alberta Natural Gas Company and Prairie Transmission Lines Limited, both of which will now seek the right to construct a natural gas line from the rich Alberta oil fields to the Pacific coast industrial market.

The bills now go to the Senate.

competition with existing premises, we should at least protect the industry by the provision which was established three years ago, that a new hotel should provide at least equal accommodation to the best hotel in the city. This, after all, should not be considered unfair. On the other hand there should be no criticism of the Board granting licences under provisions such as this as it is only natural that, if a person is ready and willing to provide such accommodation, he is thoroughly convinced that the need exists for additional accommodation.

The Board has continual pressure from all sources for additional beer licences. However, I think you will agree that in the majority of our places, due to the unfortunate policy at the beginning, we have sufficient beer licences, but in most localities we do lack proper hotel accommodation and the plan followed is such that it does guarantee that eventually each district will have the proper accommodation to handle the business.

Providing we grant a beer licence in Prince Rupert for 40 rooms, it will only be a short time until someone else will apply for a beer licence for 20 rooms and the result will be more beer parlors than are needed, and they will still lack the required accommodation.

In this particular application it has been stated that these people are ready to spend from $80,000 to $100,000 which, in my opinion, is ridiculous for a city the present size of Prince Rupert, to say nothing for the future prosperity of your community because today we have in many of our smaller communities, with but a few thousand people, hotels greatly in excess of the amount suggested in this operation. In this connection I may say that recently beer by the glass was passed in the city of Penticton and the Mayor of that city has stated definitely that no licence should be granted to a new building unless it has at least 75 rooms. I am simply mentioning these points to show that we have not in any way singled out your city but we are endeavouring to build up our province and, having spent a good deal of my life in the interior of British Columbia, I am firmly convinced too little thought has been given to building up these important districts of our province. While it is true that in your case, and also that case of one other point, I have received criticism of the policy, I am glad to say that these are the only two exceptions, while many communities have been good enough to thank us for the interest which we have taken in providing them with good accommodation which has assisted in their development.

In closing I may say that I trust you will accept this letter in the spirit in which it is written as I realize every man is entitled to his opinion and I have endeavoured to explain to you our policy, the reason for the stand taken. I can assure you that in this particular case there are no personalities entering into the decision whatever but I do hope the Board will be able to hold the line and proceed along the plan adopted. With the progress made during the past three years, we should be able within the next few years to build up a plant throughout our province which will appeal not only to our own citizens but will also be a decided drawing card for the tourist industry, which, as you realize, will require more effort as time goes on because, with our modern transportation systems, it is a fact that many people are seeking distant where previously we had difficulty in maintaining a flow of visitors to our province. REAL AID MAY BE GIVEN MANITOBA FLOOD VICTIMS—Waterlogged southern Manitoba has the highest level in 125 years. At Emerson, where the Red River enters Canada on its westward course toward Lake Winnipeg, the reading has topped that record in the 1897 disaster. Since the legendary flood of 1826 has there been so much water in the valley. Fed by the unseasonable spring snowstorms, the Red has risen to 46 feet above datum. As damage in the valley's battle with the relentless Red, the federal government promised to investigate the possibility of federal aid. Seen above is a section of Winnipeg partially flooded.

As I See It Death By Abortion

Ernest Jabour Associated by Coroner's Verdict With Case of Betty Young

By ELMORE PHILPOTT
WORLD DOES MOVE

WHEN YOU GET TOO
downhearted about world conditions here is a good tonic:

Read history — any history. No matter how bad you find conditions today, you will find them a lot worse in each preceding century.

If you had lived a hundred years ago, for instance, you would have taken human slavery for granted. If you had lived two centuries ago you would have taken duelling-to-death for granted.

Mankind has made great moral strides. But as the mechanical changes have been greater than the moral changes man finds his life just one problem after another.

I HAVE JUST BEEN READING a new novel about the slave trade, just a hundred years ago. (Barracoon, By Harry Hervey, Thomas Allen $3.50).

The story makes one realize how much we have moved ahead since then. Mankind is slowly, clumsily, two-steps-forward-and-one-step-back, applying the great ideas of the French Revolution, Liberty, Equality, Fraternity.

In our own lifetime more people have won political democracy than ever won in the whole previous history of the human race. India has gone free. China is going free, in her own slow-motion manner. All Asia and Africa will follow.

Anyone who looks down on the Assembly of the United Nations will see at a glance how far we are from Equality—much less Fraternity—between the races.

The "white" race which numbers about one third holds at least five sixths of the seats of power.

But the world is on the move. I HAVE A LETTER FROM A British-born business man in Latin America who tells of the sincere but painful attempts of that country to apply real democracy.

"We are in a very special position as a result of large masses of ignorant and poor people. In the subconscious of the people we are still under the Spanish rule of force. Whenever force is lacking in a government they feel it cannot last. For the past decades the Coroner M.M. Stephen recommended at inquest that Ernest Jabour, charged with supplying for an illegal operation, be charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Betty Young in a downtown rooming house or about April 18.

The six man jury returned a verdict that she came to her death between 4 p.m. April 18 and 2 a.m. April 19 as a result of an abortion performed by some unknown person or persons. They found that Ernest Jabour, by his own statement, did aid and assist, knowing that an abortion was to be performed.

No further evidence was presented by Sgt. Lance Potterton who added that results of pathological examinations of Mrs. Young's organs had not been received from Victoria. Sgt. Potterton stated that he had been informed that results would not arrive here for some time.

A jury member inquired about a long distance phone call Jabour received on the morning of April 18.

Const. Jack White answered the query by stating that a check revealed a call had come in at 10:19 a.m. Jabour could not be found until 10:45 a.m. The conversation, said Const. White, terminated in 6 minutes.

Jurymen were: W. G. Sheardown, foreman; P. H. Linzey, Harold Helgeson, Don Stewart, Stewart Donaldson and M. McArthur.

Cambrai Sale in Store Nets $35

In McRae Bros. store on Third Avenue Saturday afternoon, a Cambrai home cooking sale netted $35, it was announced today. A raffle for a cake plate was held at the store and was won by Miss Barbara Teng. In charge of the event were Mrs. Jack McRae, Miss Evie Rivett and Mrs. Bert Withers.

Using parties in elections have done nothing but wait for the moment to pull down the winning party by force. They have not learned to combat government policy in a democratic way and to try to win future elections, not by force, but by offering a better plan of government.

"We DO have democracy in a way this country never had before. Criticism of government action is permissible to such an extent that many people cannot understand it and wonder when the critics of the government are going to be thrown out of the country. There are pressure groups and favoritisms from the party in power but on the whole we have advanced a hundred years in five years, as far as freedom is concerned."

COMMUNISM HAS MADE least progress where Liberty, Equality and Fraternity are most nearly a reality, that is in the English-speaking democracies and Scandinavia.

It has made most progress where one race is held to be superior to another, or where feudalism or imperialism still prevail.

The lesson is obvious—water never yet ran uphill.

Damage to Seiner Less Than Thought

Frank Cobbeart, suffering from severe burns received last week from an explosion aboard the seiner Point Yoho, is recovering at Prince Rupert General Hospital.

The seiner, which sank following a second explosion that blew out a plank, has been raised. Damage, although extensive, is no so serious as was at first feared. In the cabin woodwork was badly charred and a new paint job is required throughout. Greatest damage to the engine appeared to be burning away of the wiring.

No decision has been reached yet on repairs to the boat.

Helicopter Flips In Rescue Attempt

NIAGARA FALLS @ — Two pilots and a woman they were rescuing by helicopter narrowly escaped death near the brink of Niagara Falls when the craft capsized in the Niagara River. All three were saved with the aid of a second helicopter after a rock had caught the drifting ship and kept it from being swept over the 160 foot Horse-shoe Falls on the Canadian side. The woman, Jeannette Bugay, 25, said to be suffering from a nervous breakdown, disappeared from her home yesterday. She was found clinging to a rock in the Niagara River.

Koreans Make Bid For Help

VANCOUVER @ — From a secret hiding place, two young Koreans have made a bid for help in their wish to stay in Canada.

Young Mah Lee, 22 and Pong Che Yue, 21, escaped from the immigration building here last Tuesday night. They disappeared seven hours before they were slated to be put aboard a freighter bound for their strife ridden homeland of Korea.

An appeal, addressed to Immigration Minister Walter Harris in Ottawa, came to the Vancouver Sun in a pencilled note which asked that they be permitted to stay here as students. The note said, "We promise to work hard—We like to study here. Please help us be Canadian citizens."

Of Women Of Moose

Mrs. Mary Etta Newell, pioneer woman of Stewart, passed away Monday morning at the age of 81 years, in the Prince Rupert General Hospital, after a long and serious illness. Mrs. Newell was born in Sioux City, Iowa in 1868 and spent her early childhood in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. In 1912, she moved to Vancouver, and was married on February 14 of that year to William Newell. She spent many years in Anchorage, Alaska and while there was associated with the Women of the Moose.

In 1919 Mr. and Mrs. Newell moved to Stewart, and helped pioneer that country. As she was always a very active member of the Women of the Moose (a member for 34 years) she finally instituted Portland Canal Chapter No. 16, an international organization, in Stewart, B.C. and Hyder, Alaska on April 3, 1939.

Those left to mourn her passing are her husband, William Leonard Newell, Stewart, her son William Calvin Newell, Vancouver, another son J. Stillinger
Los Angeles, Calif., and a sister,
Mrs. Carrie Banning of Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

Prince Rupert Chapter No. 211
W.O.T.M., will hold a service on Sunday afternoon, before her husband takes the remains to Stewart, for interment.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis

A mass of cold air, which two days ago lay over western Alaska, has moved in over most of B.C.
Temperatures across the great-part of the Fraser River watershed have fallen to near freezing and light snow was reported from several sections of the Cariboo overnight. The weather throughout the interior today will be very unsettled with the likelihood of thunderstorms in the southern valleys this afternoon and followed by frost tonight. Along the coast scattered showers around Vancouver and Victoria will give way to clear skies in the late afternoon. Tomorrow will be mostly sunny across the province although more clouds will move in from the west in the afternoon from a storm now far out over the Pacific.

Forecast

North Coast Region — Mostly clear today and tonight. Sunny tomorrow becoming overcast in the afternoon. Remaining cool.
Winds light. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy, Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 40 and 55.

Relentless Red Levels

WNNPEG @ —The flooding Red River rolled on through Greater Winnipeg today with deceptive quiet terrible. But it held almost steady.

To the city of throbbing pumps,
the river's breather brought confirmation the crest had levelled off and probably now would begin a gradual drop from heights untouched for more than a century.

Coupled with hopefulness, however was wariness. The city's dikes are showing signs of weakening.

Mrs. A. L. Holtby and daughter, Monica, who has been attending University of British Columbia in Vancouver, arrived home on the Prince George this morning. Mrs. Holtby attended the graduation of her son, Gwyn.

LEWIS DECLINES CALL OF SENATE

WASHINGTON @ —
Lewis yesterday declined to testify voluntarily to a committee but denied he sent secret signals to during last winter's congress. Chairman Andrew Jacobs (Ind.) has asked Lewis appear before the subcommittee tonight. He made a letter from Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, saying down his invitation.

Mrs. O. Stegavik returned to the city on the Prince George from a trip to Vancouver.

Prince George on First Summer Voyage—Freighter Island King Calls

Making her first voyage of the summer season and with the Vancouver Board of Trade tour party of sixty persons as her principal passengers, C. N. P.

steamer Prince George, Capt. E. B. Caldwell, arrived in port at 11:30 this morning from Vancouver, Westview and Ocean Falls and sails at midnight for Ketchikan whence she will return here tomorrow evening southbound. In addition to the Vancouver group, the Prince George had a number of general passengers. Back in Vancouver Saturday morning, the Prince George will turn around the same evening to head back to Prince Rupert and Skagway on a charter voyage sponsored by the Oregon Journal newspaper of Portland with which she will be due here Monday next. On her return to Vancouver from that voyage, the Prince George will operate a special two-day week-end cruise out of Vancouver followed by another round trip to Skagway, due here June 9 northbound, under charter to Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. This year, for the first time in her so far brief history, the Prince George will call in at Sitka, former Alaskan capital, included in the itinerary of the Oregon Journal cruise. Canadian National's regular Alaska summer cruise schedule of eight 10-day voyages between Vancouver and Skagway commences in mid-June with Prince George arriving in Prince Rupert northbound June 16, 29, July 9, 20, 30 August 10, 20 and 31.

Frank Waterhouse freighter Island King, Capt. William Gleason, arrived in port at 7:30 yesterday morning from Vancouver via Namu, Klemu, Butedale and Carlisle and, after spending the day discharging general cargo at the Canadian National dock, moved today to Watson Island and the Skeena slough. From there she will proceed to Alice Arm to load Torbrit ore and will then start her southbound voyage, calling at canneries and fish reduction plants to load fish meal for Vancouver.

Application for Passenger and Freight Licences to be Heard Soon

Applications for licenses respecting scheduled public passenger, scheduled public freight service and non-scheduled public freight service by highway between Prince Rupert and interior points will be considered at a Public Utilities Commission hearing in Vancouver June 1. It was revealed yesterday.

Five applications for a scheduled public freight service will be dealt with. Four are asking for reclassification of licenses while the fifth, Canadian National Transportation Ltd. of Vancouver, are tendering a tentative application for four class II public freight vehicle licenses.

Applications for a scheduled public passenger service resulted from a move last month by the Terrace and District Board of Trade who sponsored an application for a daily bus service between there and Prince Rupert. But Terrace did not favor sponsoring any particular bus line. That, they thought, was up to the Public Utilities Commission.

The applicants are Watson Island Stages Ltd. of Prince Rupert and the Canadian National Transportation Ltd.

President of Watson Island Stages Ltd., Cherrill McIntyre, tendered a firm application. If granted the license, his firm will operate two vehicles 28 and 29 passenger busses; on a scheduled run between Prince Rupert and Terrace. As the Terrace and District Board of Trade requested, the run would be a daily service.

A tentative application was presented by Canadian National Transportation Ltd. They would institute a scheduled bus service between this city and Smithers serving all intermediate points including Hazelton. Three buses will make three round trips weekly from this city to Terrace and two weekly round trips through to Smithers.

Firm applications for scheduled public freight service are being presented by Lindsay's Cartage and Storage Ltd., Prince Rupert; Harold Smith, Terrace; Marshall Bros., Hazelton; Victor Menzies, Prince Rupert for a non-scheduled public freight service—for a non-scheduled public freight service, James Capling, Smithers.

Freight Applications

Lindsay's Cartage and Storage are tentatively applying for an additional class one license and will operate a service between Prince Rupert and Terrace and Copper River twice weekly to Terrace serving Copper River on the first trip of each week. The application of Harold Smith of Terrace asks for reclassification from a present class three to a class one license to include scheduled public freight service between Terrace and Prince Rupert. He will operate one trip per week and one or two non-scheduled trips weekly. Marshall Brothers of Hazelton have drawn up a proposed schedule of one trip per week and added a tentative application for a class two license for service between Hazelton and Prince Rupert. Victor Menzies, also asking for reclassification from a class three to a class two license, would operate a proposed schedule of one round trip per week between Prince Rupert and Telkwa.

According to the tentative application of Canadian National Transportation Ltd., four trucks will operate a scheduled public freight service between Prince Rupert and Smithers serving all intermediate points, including Hazelton. Their application also provides for pick-up and delivery service within corporate limits of towns and villages. They propose to operate three weekly round trips.

According to all five applications two firms will still operate with one vehicle while the other three, if tentative applications are granted, will furnish freight service with two vehicles. Canadian National Transportation Ltd. will be able to conduct a scheduled public freight service with four trucks.

The gears of that combine, for instance, are made of tough, long-lasting Nickel Alloy Steel because of the terrific strains they have to bear.

Think of the punishment tractor parts have to take! That's why axles, gears and other critical parts are made of Nickel Steel. It gives greater strength, longer wear.

There's a lot of Nickel in that truck—in its gears, steering knuckles, and numerous other parts.

Forty-three years of research have uncovered hundreds of uses for Nickel in the United States and other countries. Now Nickel exports bring in millions of U.S. dollars yearly. These dollars help pay the wages of the 14,000 Nickel employees in Canada and also help pay Canadian railwaymen, lumbermen, iron and steel workers and other men and women making supplies for the Nickel mines, smelters and refineries.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Donald Gordon reminded his audience in Prince Rupert that last year the Canadian National Railways hauled 667 carloads of fish and other products originating in Alaska and destined to United States ports. Just another illustration of what the transcontinental means to the north even with the Jones Bill.

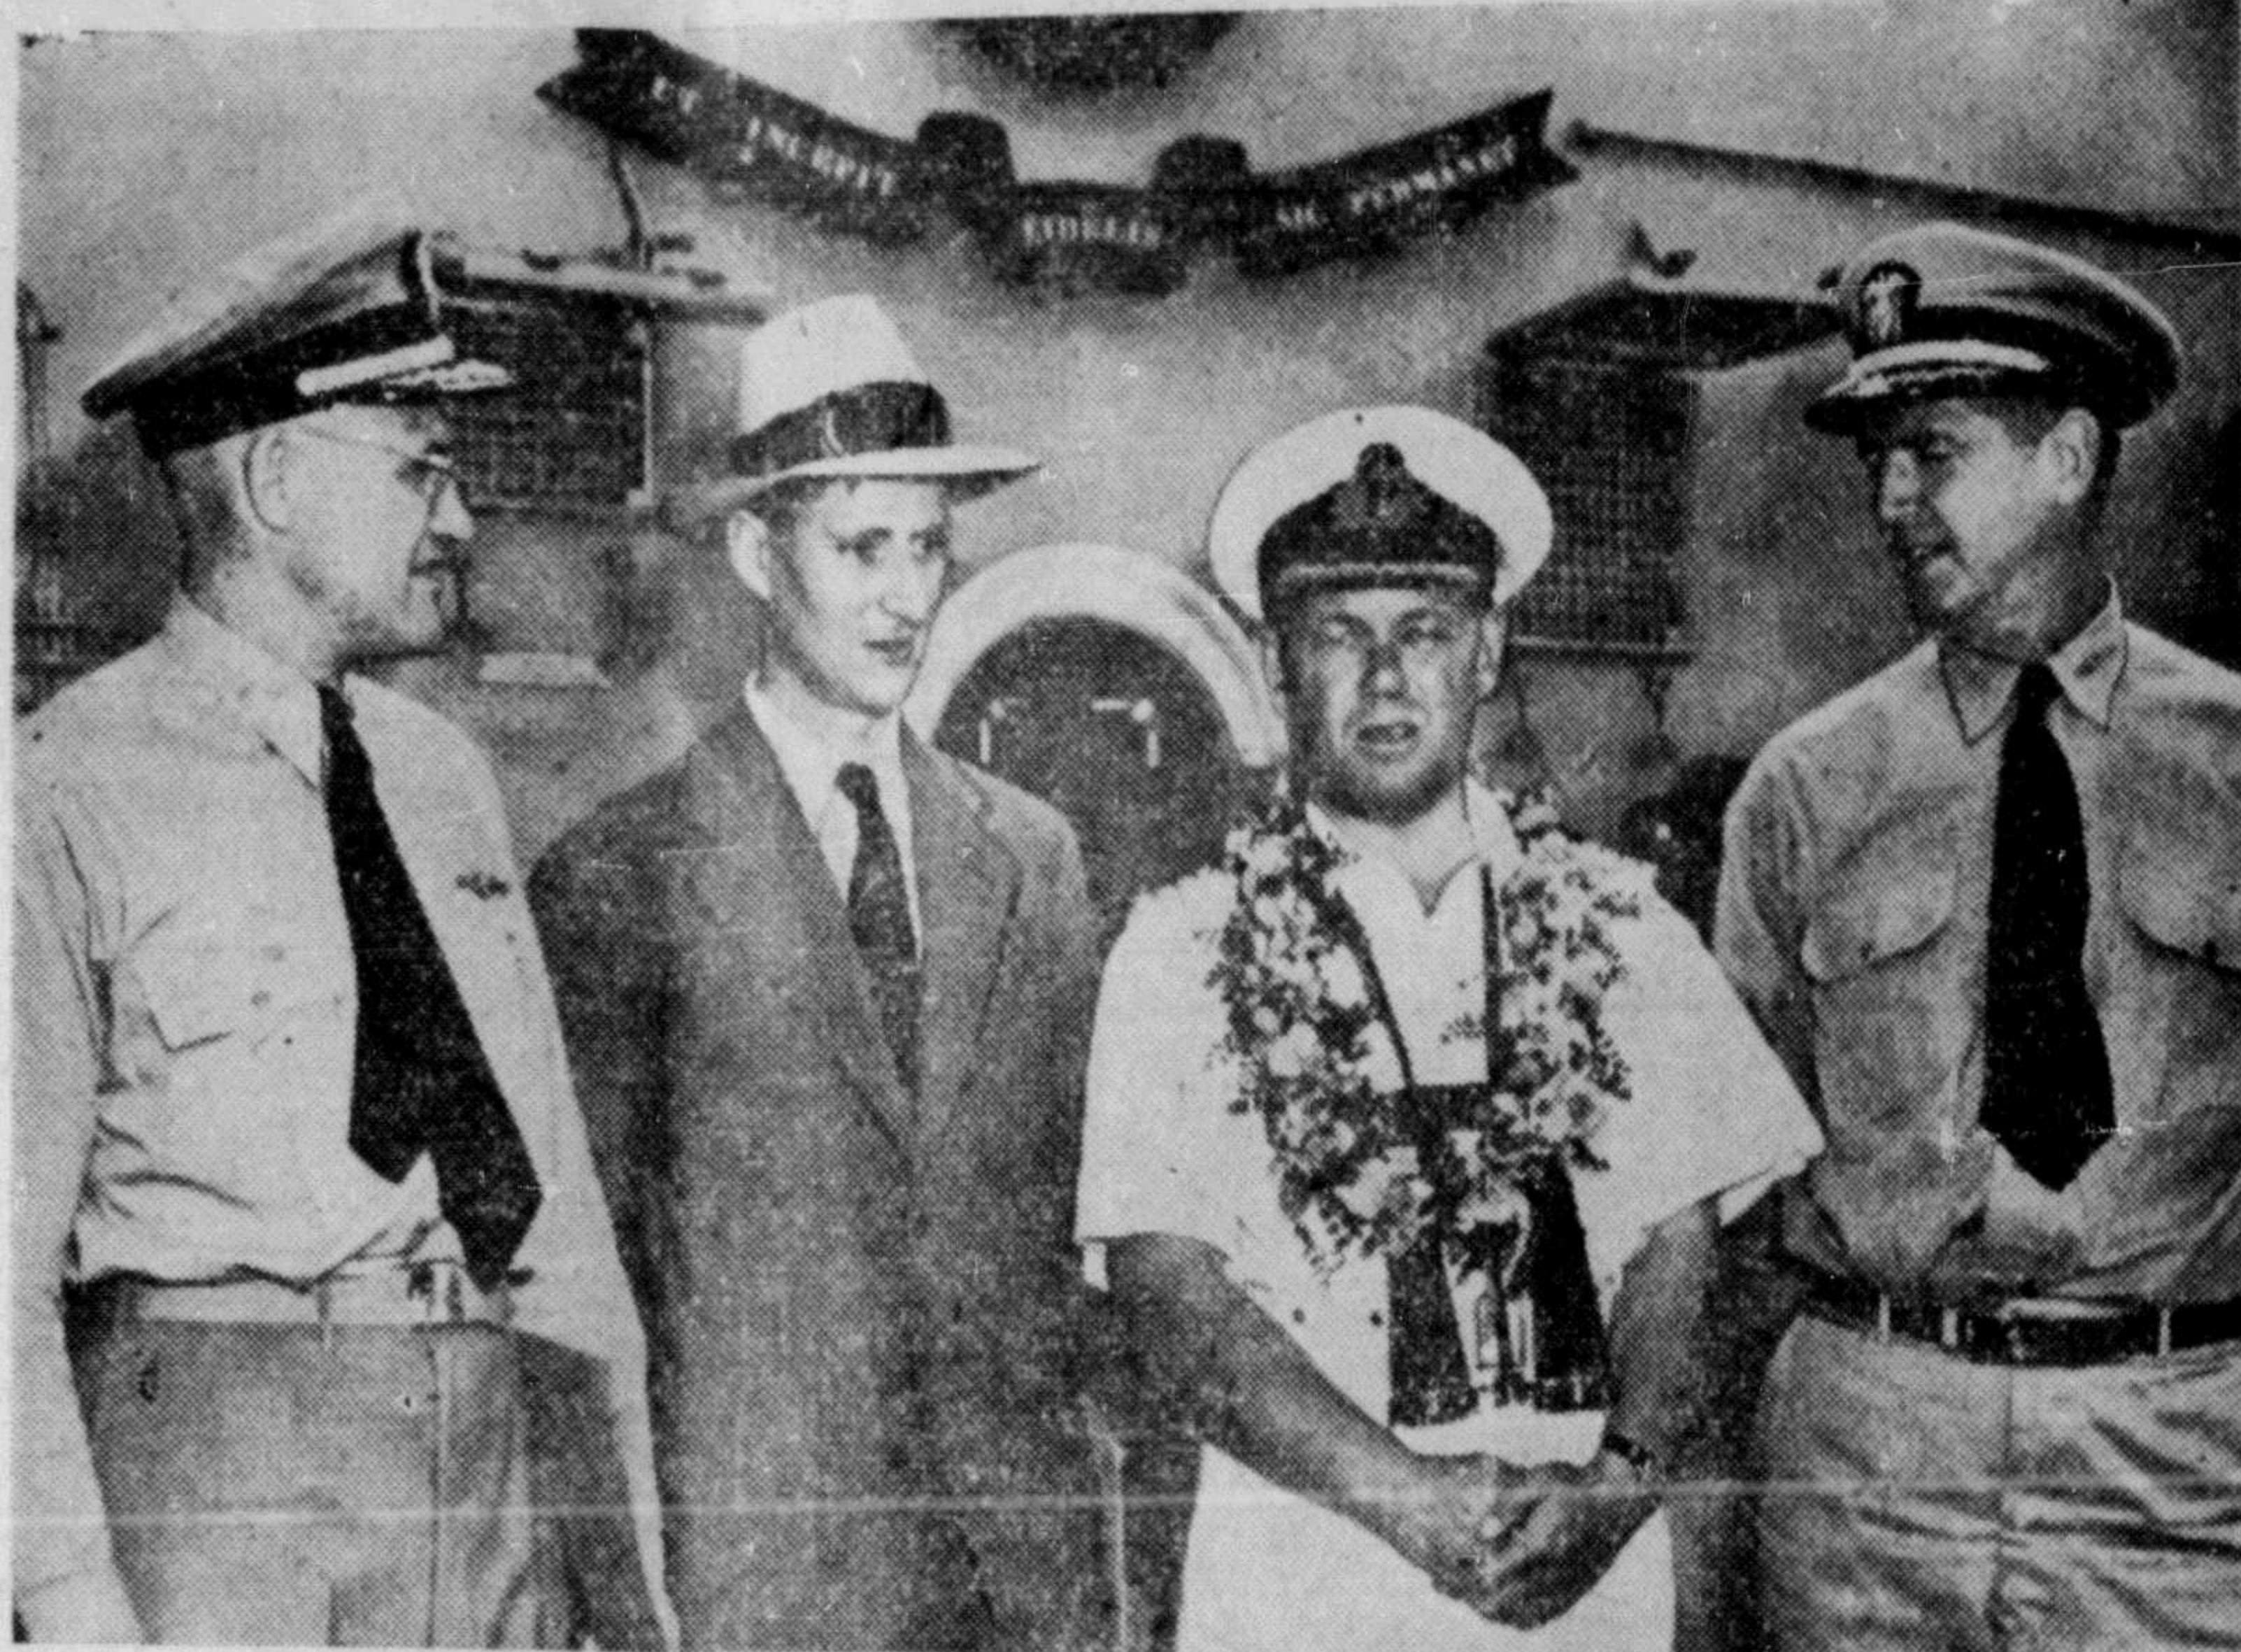

The Sons of Freedom, even with their clothing on, instead of off, might find the Red River chilly enough just now.

Euthanasia is condemned on moral, medical and religious grounds by Dr. M. Rabinowitch of the Montreal General Hospital staff. Medicine, he says, is challenging more than ever, the threat to life, no matter the gravity of that threat, or of the torture being suffered. Medical science can do many marvellous things but the one thing it cannot do is restoration of life, once that has been taken.

The former London stenographer, who married an African and is now Queen of Bechuanaland, has given birth to a girl. It won't be so very long before the little beggar will be dictating to her.

Believe it or not, the gondoliers of Venice, romantic city of Italy have gone on strike. You see, it's like this. For some time, motor boats have been offering hard-boiled competition. Motors are entirely out of place on the placid avenues and streets of such a place of dignity, age and enchantment. No one is supposed to rush. All visitors are expected to be leisurely and discerning. Having been looking at and listening to nothing but motor boats for the past thirty-five years we shall, when in Italy next summer, patronize the gondola exclusively.

The "twenty-fourth" is little more than a week away. For well beyond a century, the date has been observed in a more than perfunctory way. First, that day in May was hailed as the Queen's birthday. As time wore along, it became "the twenty-fourth", the assumption being that everyone would know without being told. Some have preferred Victoria Day. And now

CANADIAN CRUISER WELCOMED TO PEARL HARBOR—Capt. Hugh F. Pullen, second from right, of the 8,000-ton Canadian cruiser H.M.C.S. Ontario wears the traditional lei as he and his crew are greeted upon arrival of the Ontario at Pearl Harbor to engage in training exercises in the Hawaiian area with U.S. naval forces. The welcoming committee is composed of, left to right, Capt. Delbert F. Williamson, U.S.N., assistant chief of staff for operations of the Hawaiian sea frontier; Geoffrey C. Davies, British consul of Honolulu and Capt. Fitzhugh Lee, U.S.N., assistant chief of staff for operations.

it appears more widely recognized as Empire Day. And so far as Canada is concerned, at no time of the year is the season better suited for the ideal public holiday. Away from the austerity of winter and chill of spring—too soon for the heat of mid-summer—and everywhere verdure, freshness and early bloom. Nature herself seems to be beckoning, as if everything had been arranged for.

Papers seek circulation and News of the World of London is said to have about eight million, greatest on earth. News of The World prints fully and truthfully police court and sex cases—as well as less lascivious stuff. But it's the former, and along with crime in general that has gone far indeed, in building up a vast patronage and keeping it there. A copy is said to be sent regularly to Buckingham Palace. From time to time, suggestions to play down the publishing of sin and such like are heard. But isn't everyone (unless on his death-bed) interested in it? Or can piety pay for paper and printers?

MOST POPULAR—Jean Simmons, British star, has been awarded the Silver Star for being voted the Most Popular Star of the Year in Britain. The award, made annually by poll under the sponsorship of The London Daily Mail Film Awards, puts the 21-year-old actress in first place for the first time. Her remarkable record of appearing in 14 films, and starring in at least six of them, has brought other international awards to Miss Simmons, chiefly for her role as Ophelia in Sir Laurence Olivier's "Hamlet." She is petite, with wavy brown hair and wide-set hazel eyes.

HIGHWAY IS IN SPLENDID SHAPE

The highway between Prince Rupert and Terrace was never in better shape, report motorists who went to the interior during the week-end. "It is smooth as a paved highway," said one driver who commented on the complete lack of potholes, even where the road skirts the railway along the lower Skeena River. The only spot which might be complained about was about 100 yards near Prudhomme Lake.
