C.N.R. and Vancouver

PRINCE RUPERT people read with some interest about the plan of the Canadian National Railways, as reported by the Vancouver Sun, for a major terminal development at Vancouver so that the government railway may have terminal facilities there equal to the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is also noted that one of the objects of the proposed development is to make a feeder line to Vancouver for the Canadian National Railway from central British Columbia, which Prince Rupert has come to regard as pretty well its own.

Prince Rupert people, during recent years, have, we believe, pretty well got away from the idea of petty quarrelling with Vancouver, feeling that, with the great development of the country, there is ample room and need for two great ports on the British Columbia Coast—Vancouver and Prince Rupert.

On the other hand, they may have valid cause to wonder about all this sudden interest, if the Vancouver Sun report be true, of the railway company in a major port development at Vancouver when they already have their own port at Prince Rupert which is well fitted and most strategically situated to be the ocean port for the central interior even with the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the Peace River country. No less persons than Premier Johnson and also George Murray M.P. for Cariboo, have made public statements regarding the function that the port of Prince Rupert should play in connection with the extension of the Peace River and the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern.

Incidentally, last week we had occasion to refer to the brief presented by the Peace River Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce to the royal commission on transportation, urging that Prince Rupert should be getting alive again on the matter of the Peace River outlet.

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, when making requests for improvements and developments here, knows how difficult it has been to have the Canadian National Railway depart from its policy of economy and a "dollar made for a dollar spent" policy. We have, indeed, taken a very understanding attitude on the matter. Doubtless, the railway or the government, whichever is behind such a project as the Vancouver Sun reports, will be satisfied, in such a major development in Vancouver harbor, that these sound business principles will be satisfied and that there is more to the scheme than merely to give the Canadian National "equal facilities to the C.P.R.," in the C.P.R.'s own port of Vancouver, particularly at a time when duplication is supposed to be taboo.

Prince Rupert people will want to know why those "equal facilities" might not be set up in the Canadian National's own port of Prince Rupert and thus help in the opening up and support of a part of the country which, in spite of all the obstacles and opposition which beset it, is coming into its own.

Yes, Prince Rupert is very interested in the Vancouver development project and the whys and wherefores.

A LAWYER MIGRATES

MOST OF US take for granted that anyone can move from one province of Canada to another. It is assumed this can be done without let or hindrance or expense and the change having been made, continue on in his chosen line or some other business as the case may be.

This belief comes close to being correct. Yet if one cares to verify, it will be discovered there is one profession where the exception must be made. Where a practitioner moves to another part of the dominion he is required to pay as high as $1,500 to the Provincial Law Society. And it makes no difference as to experience or qualification. Fifteen hundred is no trifling sum, and a young man or woman pondering the future had best make certain concerning location to start with.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

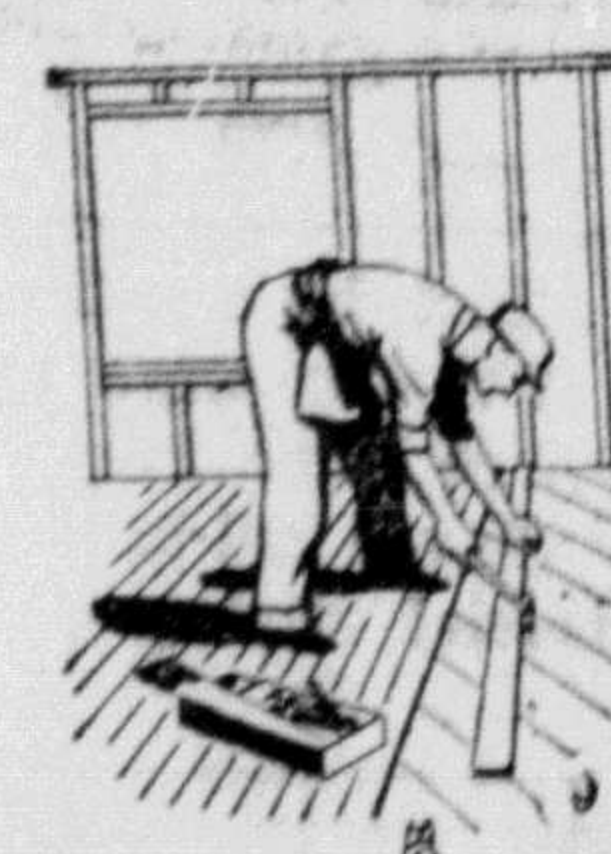

Motorists coming to the junction of Third Ave and McBride Street, now stop for a few moments. Perhaps they also look and listen, which is quite permissible for it's all in the interests of public safety. But there was previous little driving at Third Avenue and McBride in early days. Then there was a gully on one side and a rocky hill on the other.

Twelve carloads of oil drilling equipment, on the way to Skidegate, arrived from Alberta last Thursday morning. If thought necessary, Royalite is prepared to go down five thousand feet. Keep your feet on the ground. But just suppose Prince Rupert should suddenly find itself next door to a man size gusher. Any previous spouting by local publicity talent would be small potatoes. For oil, also, is where you find it.

Three lives were lost the day the Hope-Princeton road opened, the fatalities happening near the scene of the formalities. A car went over the edge. That, however was not the fault of the highway which represents the best in construction ability. A mountain road is a mountain road, whether along the Skeena, or between Hope and Princeton. There is always a point where engineering responsibility ends and public prudence should begin.

A high board fence has been built around the site of the new theatre at Third Avenue and First Street! The one infallible sign. When you see this, it means action all along the line, from then on. An aluminum making plant is coming to the north Pacific Coast anyway, because it's needed, and the coast is the best location on the continent. And if one of several potential sites is in central B.C. and not so very far from Prince Rupert, other fair cities should be frankly envious.

Letters from eastern friends, as usual, contain expressions of sympathy. You see, winter is approaching and Prince Rupert is less than 100 miles from Alaska. Hence, sub-Arctic conditions! It might interest them to know that in mid-November there is still not a flake here except on mountain peaks. Yet weeks ago, blizzards were common, far to the south and on the prairies.

The hospital guild committee of the Women of the Moose held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. J. G. Viereck. After a brief business session, an enjoyable evening of cards was spent and refreshments were served by the hostess.

BROTHER, SISTER IN DOUBLE RITES

Members of Well Known Family in United Church Rites

A brother and sister, members of a well-known city family, stood together as principals in a double wedding ceremony performed by Rev. Lawrence Sieber in First United Church Saturday evening.

Elsie Mintenko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mintenko, 709 Eighth Avenue West, became the bride of James Peter Thompson, son of Mrs. S. McPherson, while her brother, Neil Mintenko, took as his bride Miss Ruby McNeil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McNeil of Fairlight, Sask.

The nuptial group exchanged vows before the altar adorned with bouquets of chrysanthemums. Scores of friends of the principals were present for the rites.

Traditional wedding music, played by Organist Henry Poyam, set the background for the bridal procession. Miss Mintenko was given in marriage by her father and Miss McNeil by her brother, Chris McNeil.

Miss Mintenko's costume was a suit of steel grey with pink accessories and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Miss McNeil's costume was a suit of silver grey with pink accessories. Her bouquet also was of American Beauty roses.

Attending each of the brides were their respective sisters. Matron of honor for Miss McNeil was her sister, Mrs. Florence Munroe, whose costume was a blue woolen afternoon dress with white accessories. Miss Mintenko was attended by her sister Mrs. Anne Daumont, who wore an afternoon dress of green wool with rose accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

LETTERBOX

HUMAN TREATMENT

Editor, Daily News:
Could I have space in your paper to comment on a recent letter from Aid. Casey in regard to the red tape of old age pensions.

I believe that circumstances in our unemployment insurance, hospitalization and widows and old age pensions rackets are deplorable beyond humanitarianism with the knowledge common that the cost of administration is 60 percent.

I have at present in my employ a widow with five children who has been driven from pillar to post for the past nine years. Formerly resident of the starved out province of Saskatchewan, she lost her home in flood conditions at Prince George two years ago and has come through vicissitudes deplorable to the human race and, is receiving no widow's pension.

I think our citizens should more carefully examine our pension rackets.

If our churches would be more practical from the pulpit regarding Christianity, we would be more satisfied with our communities and our governments and would more willingly strive for free enterprise.

Maybe when we reach the good

HOPE FOR POLL TAX REMOVAL HELD SLIGHT

Hope that the city can obtain a private legislation bill to amend the Municipal Act so that the poll tax will be eliminated as a requirement to civic voting appears slight, according to a report on the legal aspect of the matter, given to council last night.

City Clerk H. D. Thain told council that the City Solicitor and the Deputy Minister of Municipalities had both expressed doubt as to whether the government would allow passage of a private bill to amend a public act for the benefit of any particular community.

Deputy Minister of Municipalities B. C. Bracewell had stated that the government had found that, in cases where such local amendments to public acts had been granted in the past, the community which obtained them had found itself at a disadvantage with subsequent general amendment to the main act, Mr. Thain said.

However, Alderman H. M. Daggett, who introduced the move to have the poll tax eliminated, told council that it should "still pursue the matter". The aldermen agreed.

Alderman Daggett suggested that council members should take the matter up with J. D. McRae, M. L. A., briefing him on the city's desire and that of E. T. Kenney, Minister of Lands and Forests also should be approached during his current northern visit.

"It might also be a good plan to get in touch with other members of the house and solicit their support," Alderman Dag-

ALLEGED MERCY KILLER—Ralph Kilbon, right, 56-year-old farmer charged with the 22-rifle slaying of his wife, is led to court in Cobourg, Ont., by Provincial Constable Don Nicol. Kilbon was remanded to Nov. 14 for preliminary hearing on a charge of murder. Neighbors quoted him as saying before his arrest that his wife was suffering from a mental disorder and that he "put her out of her misery" after she tried to commit suicide. (CP Photo)

JESUS' VOICE IS REAL ONE

Prayer Discussed by Rev. L. G. Sieber at First United Church

At the morning service in First United Church on Sunday, the pastor, Rev. Lawrence G. Sieber, acknowledged gratefully the many complimentary remarks he had heard about the new organ and its effectiveness under the competent musicianship of the organist, Henry Pluym, but he went on to remind his congregation of the "greater than organ" voice—the voice of Jesus. Without thunder, without mechanical amplifiers, the gracious, sympathetic charm of the Master's voice captivated his contemporaries and carries down through the ages to speak to a weary waiting world today. It still had the answer to prayers and gave satisfying hope and faith for the future.

Speaking at the evening service on "The Deeper Remedy for Peace," Mr. Sieber discussed the unexplored and unrealized power of prayer. People in their superficial thinking might first consider prayer as a way of getting what they wanted. They found that it did not supply their selfish desires. In a second stage they decided that prayer was a failure and classed themselves as realists. But they found that that attitude did not satisfy their deeper longings. It was only as they found that God would give them their heart's desires in His own way that they found prayer was the real remedy. As long as man conditioned his conduct on an animalistic or material plane so long would he fail to be happy.

It would be well if mankind re-established a belief in angels for it was only when he set a higher standard than the world offers that man achieved his heart's desire. An apparently easy road to peace was a false doctrine. God's way was the complete answer.

The Junior Choir gave a spirited rendering of "Praise ye the Father" at the morning service, while in the evening the senior choir sang "Jerusalem" effectively and the restful anthem, "Lead Me, Lord." Organ accompaniments and incidental instrumental numbers were capably played by organist Henry Pluym.

OCEAN FALLS PAPER TOWN

The name Ocean Falls is synonymous with Pacific Mills Limited, the paper manufacturing company which has operated there for thirty years. Its population is about 3,200, all of which, with the exception of those in the government service, are employed by the company.

Annual payroll of the district, which includes Bella Bella, Bella Coola, Namu, Rivers Inlet, Wadhams and others is about $4,000,000, bulk of which is made up by Pacific Mills operations.

Developed hydro - electric horsepower is 28,850, while nearly undeveloped resources could provide more than 1,000,000.

There is one limestone quarrying operation, Koyee Limestone Co. which produces about 10,000 tons annually, much of it used in the paper industry.

Economic supplement is given to the area by the agricultural potential of the Bella Coola valley and the salmon canning industry on the coast.

Is Helping To Place Settlers

James Nicoll of the Canadian immigration department here left on last evening's train for Prince George where he will spend the week on business in connection with the placement in that area of new settlers. Returning here Saturday night, he will proceed next week to the Hazelton area on similar duties. Three thousand Dutch settlers a month are now being brought to Canada and quite a number of these are finding their way into the central interior.

HOCKEY GREAT—Donald (Danny) Bain was hunting ducks near his Delta, Man. lodge when informed he had been elected to Hockey's Hall of Fame. Bain now 75, starred for the old Winnipeg Victorias from 1895 to 1902. A centre on the seven-man team, he was considered one of the fastest skaters of that era. He also excelled at gymnastics roller-skating, bicycling lacrosse and figure-skating and in 1903 won the Canadian trapshooting championship. He now is head of a wholesale commission and brokerage firm in Winnipeg. (CP Photo)

Pt. Edward Town Site On Market

A re-surveyed townsite will be put on the market next spring at Port Edward which is assuming major industrial importance as a result of the establishment of the Columbia Cellulose Co.'s celanese plant and the expanding fish processing operations of Nelson Bros. Ltd. Announcement to this effect is made by Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests, who is a visitor in the district.

The original subdivision and public sale of Port Edward townsite was back in 1911. A new re-surveying was made necessary to conform with certain utilities installations which were made when the United States Army was there during the war. The survey was carried out by Fred Nash, B.C. L.S.

HEARTWARMING AND COLORFUL

Heartwarming story of a beautiful concert singer into whose happy life tragedy comes but who loses her heart to a country boy. "The Sun Comes Up", based on a novel by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, opened before large and appreciative audiences at the Capitol Theatre last night and will have its final showing tonight.

The picture is filmed in technicolor and, besides Jeanette MacDonald, as the opera star, features Claude Jarman, 13-year old juvenile star, as the boy and Lassie the screen's wonder dog.

The picture offers all around enjoyable entertainment for a happy two hours.

Lloyd Nolan, Lewis Stone and Percy Kilbride, the last-mentioned as a typical country storekeeper, have important supporting roles.

The Pacific Coast halibut fishery is truly international and Canadian and American vessels vie with each other for the annual quotas. Although halibut were sought by the primitive Indians, no serious attempts were made at developing a fishery in the Pacific until 1888 and in 1889 the total coastwise catch of the species was 1,777,200 pounds. In 1948 the Canadian landings alone in British Columbia were 18,830,800 pounds, the large majority of this being landed at Prince Rupert.

What City Council Did

Adopted a utilities committee report which stated that a report had been received on the condition of the La France fire truck and that it had been forwarded to the manufacturers with a request that the city be reimbursed for repair costs. The committee felt that mechanical trouble with the truck, which has a very low mileage and has been well maintained, should be repaired at the manufacturer's cost.

Approved the sale of the following city-owned lots at request of the finance committee:

Lot 23, block 33, section 8 (Eleventh Avenue near Conrad Street) to A. C. Cameron for $95.

Lots 7 to 73, inclusive, block 39 section 8 (Justin Street at Eleventh Avenue) to Alexander Repp for $120 subject to the provision that the city will not undertake to provide services for the outlying property.

Referred to the board of works and City Engineer a motion by Alderman Daggett that the city build a sidewalk on Seventh Avenue side of Hays Cove Circle from the Eighth Avenue intersection to the Hays Creek bridge. Alderman Daggett described the present lack of a sidewalk a hazard to pedestrians.

Referred to the City Clerk a request by Alderman George Casey that council be provided with an accounting of travel costs of council members and city officials between January 1 and November 1. Alderman Casey referred particularly to the amounts spent on attending conventions.

Filed a letter from E. T. Applewhite, M.P., answering a protest against proposed federal legislation which would make it illegal to dump garbage or sewage in navigable waters. Mr. Applewhite's letter advised council that the matter was no longer a problem, since the proposed bill had been defeated in the House.

Accepted the resignation of Alderman H. S. Whalen for his 1950 term. In his letter of resignation, Alderman Whalen explained that he was resigning to run for mayor in the December elections.

Gave first reading to a bylaw establishing a new scale of telephone rates which had been approved by council at a previous meeting. The bylaw authorizes that the new rates go into effect in December.

Approved a report of the licensing committee which granted the following new trade licenses: Canadian General Electric Co. wholesale business; Herbert Wauldbaum, welder; R. Bernard, general contracting.

Approved a recommendation by the utilities committee that a request by Telephone Superintendent J. F. Edwards for an increase in salary be referred to the 1950 council.

A steel mill on the Pacific Coast would seem to be assured once Canada decides to produce her own steel instead of depending upon the United States. The north coast of British Columbia might well be the location of such an industry with its resources of iron and coal. The old copper mining town of Anyox, 100 miles north of Prince Rupert, has been mentioned as a possible steel mill site. British Columbia, has large iron resources but the little incentive so far them. A steel mill employment to from men.

Let us
CANCEL THAT MORTGAGE
for your family

That mortgage on your home presents no worry so long as your earning power continues. To your family, alone, it would be too much to handle and might result in the loss of their home.

For a very small yearly premium you can guarantee enough money for your family to pay all the remaining instalments on your mortgage. The yearly premium starts at about 1% of your mortgage loan, and reduces by about half long before the mortgage period ends.

Their house—their home—rent free. Isn't that the most important assurance you can give your family? Let us send you all the details about this mortgage cancellation policy.
