CAMPAIGN OVER, CANADA IS NOW VOTING

Verdict Of Federal Polling Will Be Known Here Early This Evening

Results Should Start Flooding in at 7 p.m.
Which Time Last Ballots Will Be Cast

Seven weeks of election campaigning in Canada quietly to a close Sunday night as the Dominion expectedly towards its twenty-first general since Confederation. Polls opened across the nation at 8 a.m. Standard Time and will close at 6 p.m. local Standard Time. (That means 7 p.m. Pacific Daylight Time in Prince Rupert.)

Hours of vote-taking of Canadians, the total up to a national record of 1,000, will flood the polling to elect the 262 men and women who will form the new Commons. Nearly 100,000 voters are registered. A visit to the polls in Canada under almost weather conditions. At one Ontario centre—reported a "terrifying" vote, in the Mar- and Quebec the early vote light. No incidents reported in the East. A rain began in Vancouver after 10 a.m. Results will become known after the polls close here. It being contrary to action Act to publish or any results until after the polls have closed. There is a flood of eastern re- immediately after 7 p.m.

Flash

STILL ON STRIKE
LONDON—More than 1000 stevedores today walked out of a London dock in protest against what striking crews on Canadian ships described as "betrayal" by shipowners of the agreement announced Friday. Work stopped at one dock on ships including the strikebound Argonaut, a Canadian vessel. Canadian crew leaders said they had been informed the terms would be kept only until they arrived in Canada and then they would be obliged to join the S.I.U.

STILL SEEK KILLER
MISSION—Belief that the killer of Silver Hill will come out of hiding and attempt to slay at least three more persons is expressed by the man who considers himself No. 1 on the "death list." Phil Catherwood, superintendent of roads for Mission district, said the hunted farmer, Ivar Johnson, aged 70, will return to the scene of the killings of two women and try to take the lives of Constable Peter Bergen, a neighbor, Ivar Ericson, and himself (Catherwood).

FRENCH ARREST RUSS SOLDIERS

BERLIN ©—Two Russian soldiers and a Russian civilian were taken to the headquarters of the French police after a scuffle over the custody of a Polish national, a police official said today. He told reporters that a west Berlin patrol in the French sector first went to the aid of the Pole after he complained early today that a Russian civilian was trying to kidnap him. Police took the Pole into custody and later Russian soldiers arrived and a flight developed over the prisoner.

PAPER HITS AT CZECH PRELATE

PRAGUE ©—The socialist Czech newspaper Svoboda today accused Archbishop Joseph Beran of trying to become a cardinal by serving the Vatican at the expense of the State. The paper claims that the Archbishop's activities were "directed against the State and dictated by the country's enemies."

CRITICAL OF PRESS

Criticism of the press by the chairman, W. H. Brett, and a warning of approaching recession by the speaker of the evening, Harry Archibald, featured the C.C.F. meeting in the Sons of Norway Hall which was comfortably filled by an audience in which a good many women were included Saturday evening.

Following the address a brief discussion in which some of the audience took part, dealt with the Atlantic Pact. Mr. Brett said statements had been made to the general effect that it was always desirable for a winning candidate to be on the government side. Such a principle was both wrong and harmful, if actively practised. Speaking of Mr. Archibald, he could certainly say he had been most vigilant and industrious during his four years in Ottawa. Local establishments such as the grain elevator, post office and other requirements were already here when he became member and, since then, he had performed much good work.

Mr. Brett, in his concluding remarks, devoted some attention to the press. He charged there had been unfairness. It could be clearly seen in this campaign there had been a large proportion of space given Coalition and Liberal matters, than to the C.C.F.

MR. ARCHIBALD

Mr. Archibald, early in his remarks, declared there was not the slightest doubt about the approach of a depression in the United States and, that being the case, the same would follow in Canada. Indeed, it was true that in Canada, commercial bankruptcies were showing an increase. One, everywhere, could note unmistakable signs of a return of lowering prices. About as good advice as he could offer now, was to get ready for the coming change.

Speaking of Ottawa, and the four years he had spent there, it was always so obvious that unless one kept himself absolutely in line with government policy and trend of thought, he would be promptly and surely branded as a Communist, no matter how much and how strongly he could be opposed to it.

Opening of Limberlost-Inaugural of Splendid Resort on Q.C. Islands

Setting of Natural Beauty Enhanced by Modern Lodge Development With in Short Distance of Prince Rupert

A sun-bathed meadow, flanked by groves of fresh new growth spruce through which the breezes of the Pacific Ocean waft and opening on to the famous North Beach of Graham Island on whose hard white sands the surf breaks in long white rollers reminiscent of the California beaches.

Nearly a meandering river in whose deep pools the hungry cutthroat and Dolly Varden lurk eager for the fly or worm. Where the curious deer stroll out of an evening from the glades of the forest.

In such a natural setting of picturesque and unspoiled beauty at Sangan River, seven miles from Masset village, has been established by an enterprising Prince Rupert syndicate Limberlost Lodge, a smart and well-appointed holiday resort designed along the popular central assembly and individual cabin lines such as have made such places as Jasper world famous and greatly in demand by people the continent over.

Thereby is now brought to the people of Prince Rupert, within sixty miles of the city and accessible by a few hours delightful sail in a comfortable Union Steamships coastal liner or in a half-hour flight over the sparkling waters of Hecate Straits by speedy Queen Charlotte Air Lines seaplane, a type of vacation venue—one which is easy on the pocket book and yet provides by up-to-date and carefully arranged appointment everything that the greatly-heralded and farther-removed retreats have to offer.

The official opening of Limberlost Lodge took place Saturday night with Mayor Nora Arnold of Prince Rupert officiating in a colorful international ceremony before an assembly which included a large representation of the population of Masset, forty special excursionists from Prince Rupert and already resident guests from as far away as California.

The opening ceremonies culminated a day of full enjoyment in which, under blazing sunlight, all manner of outdoor recreation, for which arrangements and equipment have already been admirably provided, were enjoyed to heart's content. It was a simple or preview over which all present came home loudly enthusiastic, resolved to go again on the first possible occasion and anxious to tell their friends of the new facility which has been provided for their recreation relaxation.

FORMAL OPENING
The formal opening of Limberlost Lodge might be called an historic event for the Queen Charlotte Islands and was also not without significance in the new relationship which has been growing up, particularly in view

NAAS RIVER MATRIARCH—Mrs. Emily Bolton of Kincolith, who passed away recently. She claimed to be over 100 years old although official records do not verify the claim.

LOOKS AT LIMBERLOST

Limberlost Lodge Ltd. is a Prince Rupert incorporation. Neil Kingston is president of the company. Ross Kingston is vice-president and resident manager. R. C. Barbour is secretary and George Martin and J. T. Harvey, directors.

Operating staff consists of twelve, the Kingstons, older and younger, being assisted by their wives while Mrs. Bond is dietitian. Local guides assist the hunters and fishermen and look after the boats.

Neil Kingston announced during the opening proceedings on Saturday that he was resigning as president of the Northwest Construction to devote his full attention to the operation of Limberlost Lodge.

Hon. L. G. Eyres, provincial minister of trade and industry, sent a message of congratulations and best wishes at the opening of Limberlost. The minister had hoped to be at the official opening. The deputy minister, E. G. Rowbottom, is expected to visit the lodge in July.

A public address system carries music and messages for a distance of 2 1/2 miles from the central recreational hall at Limberlost.

No one had a finer day at Limberlost than Joe Scott. And there is no bigger booster. Reason, of course, the fishing was good. Joe was fly fishing and he hauled out seven fine cutthroat as he took time out from the other diversions of the day to cast his seductive flies into the deep pools of the Sangan. Fish were about uniform size up to 15 inches.

Pilot Bill McLeod of the Queen Charlotte Air Lines gave the evening crowds a thrill as he zoomed over the Limberlost meadow. Dr. Bill Kergin, president of Prince Rupert Aero Club, was flying with him. Some of the Prince Rupert guests stayed overnight and came home on the aircraft Sunday.

Capt. William McCombe, Chief Engineer Fred Smith and others of the personnel of the Coquitlam were evening visitors at the Limberlost as the ship lay at the Masset dock following her return after the run up Massett Inlet and before the departure for Prince Rupert at midnight.

Skeena Opening Quiet; Electors' Flow Steady

Voters at 135 polling stations in Skeena riding today are deciding which of two candidates will represent them at Ottawa for the next five years—C.C.F. former member H. G. Archibald or Liberal candidate Edward (Ted) Applewhaite.

They started streaming to the polls at 9 o'clock Pacific Daylight Time this morning and the final ballots will be cast at 7 o'clock this evening. In that 10-hour interval, the majority of Skeena's 15,000 voters are expected to make their choice.

About one-third of the eligible voters in the riding are registered in Prince Rupert, where 22 polling stations are active in the Civic Centre auditorium. The other 112 are scattered over the largest electoral district in the province and one of the largest in the Dominion.

Voting here this morning was relatively light, Returning Officer Rod MacLeod reported. Between 9 o'clock and 11:30, 540 votes had been cast out of an eligible total of 4,991.

The pace was expected to increase sharply this afternoon when scores of plants and business places released their workers to vote.

When the polls opened, almost every one of the 23 tables at which sat a deputy returning officer, a poll clerk and two scrutineers, was immediately visited by a voter, some of whom had waited half an hour for the opening.

Both Mr. Applewhaite and Mr. Archibald were present when the polls opened. During the morning they chatted frequently and had a friendly cup of coffee together.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
A storm centred over the Queen Charlotte Islands this morning is moving southeastward along the coast of British Columbia. Rain is falling in the coastal regions and there will be scattered showers over the interior of the province. Prospects for Tuesday are for a continuation of cool cloudy weather with scattered showers.

Forecast
Queen Charlottes and North Coast—Cloudy with showers this afternoon, tonight and Tuesday. Winds light. Little change in temperature. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy 48 and 55, Massett 45 and 53, Prince Rupert 45 and 55.

Two Bear At Limberlost

California Hunter Happy Over Bag—Coming Back in Fall

Edwy Safford, Sacramento Valley rancher, who also has a home at Berkeley in San Francisco Bay, came to Limberlost Lodge, near Masset, with the express intention of bagging a big black bear. He was doubly rewarded. Here yesterday with Mrs. Safford and grandson, John Murphy, after two weeks at Limberlost, Mr. Safford was taking home two fine hides which will find a treasured place in his home as rugs and mementoes of a memorable trip.

Mr. Safford had been trying hard for some days to sight a bear, putting out crab meat and such bait and had just about given it up when, one morning last week in a meadow about a mile and a half from camp, he sighted the object of his quest. It was about 150 yards distant but Mr. Safford proved a deadly shot. With one bullet from his 30.06 Winchester he laid Bruin low. The bullet had broken his back.

Three days later Mr. Safford sighted and shot his second bear about 400 yards distant from the first.

Both animals weighed over 400 pounds. Mr. Safford has hunted with success in the Cariboo and Stuart Lake districts of Central British Columbia but this was his first trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands. He was so pleased with the stay at Limberlost that he intends to come back in the fall for bird hunting.

LIBERALS WIND UP CAMPAIGN

"Get the vote to the polls" was the theme of a final, pre-election rally held by the Prince Rupert Liberal Association, at the Civic Centre Saturday night. E. T. Applewhaite, Liberal candidate in today's federal election, was speaker.

Addressing an audience of 50 party supporters, Mr. Applewhaite urged them to make an extra effort to bring out all the voters so that the election would be an expression of political feeling on the part of all the people.

He congratulated his opponents and his own supporters on the clean campaign which had been waged in past weeks. The campaign had been fought on both sides, he said, on the issues involved and no outside considerations had been injected.

The issues, he declared, were largely those of free enterprise versus socialism "of prosperity versus depression."

"Depression is the only thing that they know. They have worked, thought and prayed for depression since the end of the war. We have fought equally hard for prosperity," he said.

His trips through this riding revealed that "this district is progressing—the people are working and they are working hard and cheerfully."

Chairman of the meeting was P. H. Lindsay.

POPULATION PROBLEM

IN THE CONDITIONS which existed in his time, the fears of Malthus were justified. It seemed then that the population of every country in the world was likely to increase beyond the ability of the then trading nations to feed themselves.

During the last hundred years, except for wars and brief periods of famine, the white race has been well fed, but the world as a whole has lived at a bare subsistence level.

LIMBERLOST

OPENING of the new Limberlost Lodge near Masset, backed by a local syndicate, brings within range of Prince Rupert, both from the standpoint of distance and the pocketbook...

Forty Prince Rupert people made a week-end excursion to Limberlost on Saturday for the official opening and all came back, after a delightful day during which they found many happy surprises...

Neil Kingston and those associated with him in the venture are really offering something to the people of Prince Rupert who would be well justified in patronizing it not only because it is a local enterprise...

It is the most ambitious effort yet at developing the tourist and vacation industry in this part of the country and is worthy of support.

FAIR TO ALL SIDES

THROUGH the two election campaigns, first the provincial and then the federal, there were complaints by the C.C.F. of unfairness by the press and bias, even in the news columns.

On more than one occasion the C.C.F. people were advised that our news columns were as accessible to them as to any other side.

There were even occasions in the course of the campaigns where the Daily News endeavoured to obtain C.C.F. news but met with some difficulty in securing it.

KINSMEN WORK ON KIDDIE CAMP

Kinsmen and friends who took part in the work party at Lakeside Lake Kiddie Camp last week-end accomplished a great deal according to Herb Young, chairman of the camp committee, who presented a report to the club at the regular meeting Wednesday night in the Commodore Cafe.

Six tents were set up on their frames, the galley stove was put up in the cookhouse, cots were placed in the bunk tents and the site for the new messhall-cookhouse was cleared. However, Mr. Young pointed out that there is still plenty of work yet to be done before the Terrace Girl Guides take over the camp on July 5 and in order to get things in shape he asked for another work party this week-end.

As well as Kinsmen Bill Long, Bud Timmermeister, R. E. Montador, Jim Thompson, R. Barbour, George Dibb and Herb Young, the Prince Rupert party included Ted Thompson and Jim Sheddon. Leonard Casey of the Terrace Kinsmen Club also assisted in the work.

PRESENTATION TO LEAVING PASTOR

First United Congregation Says Farewell to Rev. R. A. Wilson

As a token of esteem, Rev. R. A. Wilson was presented with a purse by the congregation of the First United Church, Sunday morning at the close of the Communion service.

Presentation was made by Donald Forward who paid tribute to the service Mr. Wilson had rendered the church during his stay in Prince Rupert. In accepting the gift Mr. Wilson expressed his thanks and remarked on the fine co-operation he had received from members of the congregation.

Mr. Wilson, who has been minister to the First United Church for the past four years, left last night on the Coquitlam for Vancouver to join his family who are visiting in the south. About July 1 they plan to leave by train for New York where Mr. Wilson intends to take post-graduate studies at the Union Theological Seminary and Columbia University.

The major part of Mr. Wilson's theological training was taken at the United Theological College at McGill University. Prior to that he attended Union College in Vancouver where he completed the requirements for the M. A. degree. In preparation for his ministerial training he attended the University of British Columbia where he received the B.A. degree with first class honors in Philosophy.

Mr. Wilson will be succeeded here by the Rev. Lawrence G. Sieber, B.A., M.D., who for the past 6 years has been minister at the United Church in Revelstoke.

George Maddrell, Stewart manager of the Northern British Columbia Power Co., sailed by the Camosun last evening on his return north after a brief visit to the city in the course of his annual vacation.

For Bookworms Everywhere...

International book coupons issued by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (Unesco) now enable readers in countries with currency restrictions to buy books published in other countries. Coupons are sold by Unesco and may be paid for in local currency, then used to pay for books from abroad. Here a Belgian miss studies coupon, worth one dollar.

Harry Quickstad, pioneer mining man of the Portland Canal district and owner of the well known Red Top mine, was a passenger aboard the Camosun last evening going through from Vancouver to Stewart.

Miss Betty Gardner, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George McWhinney since February, left by train this week for Edmonton enroute to her home in Windermere. Following the holidays she will continue her education in New Westminster.

Miss Ann Brown, who has been attending Crofton House School at Vancouver, returned home on the Camosun yesterday afternoon to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Brown.

Twenty five members of the dentistry class of 1925 at the University of California at Berkeley, celebrating a class reunion with a trip on the Princess Kathleen to Alaska, were visitors in the city today. Including their wives, there were 32 in the party. The group was among the 250 passengers on the Princess Kathleen's second summer cruise to Juneau and Skagway.

Howard B. Moore, general manager of the Automobile Dealers Association of Canada, who arrived in the city on business at the week-end, left today by air for Vancouver.

Miss Lillian Monckton, who has been teaching the native school at Kitselas, sailed last night on the Coquitlam for her home at Victoria to spend the summer vacation.

Dr. Olga Lazarczuk of the Miller Bay Hospital staff sailed on the Princess Norah Saturday afternoon for Vancouver, accompanying two patients south for treatment.

W. Traeger and O. J. Moscrip of the Standard Oil Co., who have been in the district for the last week on business, are sailing south on the Camosun Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Knut Uggla returned to the city on the Camosun yesterday after having been in Victoria for the past few months. Mrs. Uggla is the former Mrs. W. J. McCutcheon of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bucknall of Los Angeles were week-end visitors in the city, arriving Friday afternoon on the Coquitlam from the south and leaving last night by the same steamer on their return. Mrs. Bucknall is the sister of Ike Martin of the local forestry service.

MOOSE CALF IS RESCUED
A moose and her two weeks' old calf started to swim across Tchesinkut Lake one Sunday afternoon. The calf weakened when a quarter of a mile from shore but the mother kept on going and deserted the calf. The three Snyder boys went out in a boat and brought the calf to shore. He has been drinking cow's milk from a pail.

STEWART NEWS Latest from Portland Canal Mining Centre

JOAN McKAY IS STEWART QUEEN

STEWART—Joan McKay, the fourteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKay, sponsored by the Loyal Order of Moose, was the successful candidate for the Dominion Day Queen with a vote of 57,300. Betty Behnen, Legion candidate, had a vote of 40,200 and Shirley Lawrence, Parent Teacher's Association candidate, had 15,800.

STEWART MOOSE WHIST - DANCE

STEWART—The Portland Canal Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, held a successful whist drive and dance on Saturday in the Moose Hall. Mrs. J. McKay was first in the ladies section, Mrs. Sadie Young getting the consolation prize. In the men's section Dan MacAulay was first and Isaac Soderlov won the consolation prize. A table lamp, which was raffled, was won by W. J. Wakefield. A fine refreshment spread was enjoyed. Music for the dance which followed, was supplied by Mrs. L. A. Behnen, and Mrs. H. Woodford on the piano and Bobby Hutchings on the drums.

Plane Drops Supplies in Unuk Area—Fine Samples From Terminus

STEWART—Charlie Knippel, with his son Shubert and Thorlief Retvedt, left here for the Unuk River area on a Queen Charlotte Airlines plane piloted by Bill McLeod who said it was a ticklish job dropping the supplies on account of the down drafts. The plane was buffeted around considerably but he made it. Later on he dropped the Knippels and Retvedt on Brightwell Lake, a few miles from where the supplies were dropped.

J. O. LeFrancis arrived here from Montreal and states that his company expects to do considerable development work on the Mountain Boy property on American Creek about 18 miles from Stewart. He and his associates also own the L. L. & H. property on Bitter Creek. It is understood that an aggressive policy of development is now being arranged by the companies.

Owen McFadden brought in some fine specimens of high grade Silver-Lead ore from the Terminus Mine on American Creek. He expects to ship about sixty tons of ore this year.

Rehabilitation work, on the Silbak Premier Mine, is proceeding apace.

NEAR TRAGEDY FRANCOIS LAKE

FRANCOIS LAKE—Near tragedy came to the Erikson family two miles west of the Landing in Hickey's Bay on Sunday afternoon. A tiny raft floated into the bay which had been left after the launching of the ferry, Connie and Deanna climbed onto it. A wind sprung up and turned it into the lake with the two girls.

Little Deanna sat still but Connie, ten years old, jumped off to get to shore. The water was deep and she sank, but, fortunately, lost consciousness immediately and floated on her face without struggling.

Deanna screamed for help and her mother and sister Tyra, eleven years old, ran down to the lake shore. Mrs. Erikson immediately waded out to try and reach Connie but could not swim and was soon almost drowning herself. She managed to get ashore and ran down the road to get help from the Van Jantens.

Tyra noticed that the wind had changed at that moment and was gradually drifting Connie towards shore, so she waded into the icy water up to her neck and could manage by reaching her limit to catch Connie's hair in her fingers and pull her to shore. She dragged her onto the rocks at the lake edge and pounded and called her name, and, although Tyra thought that Connie was dead, she noticed her starting to move and after a while she came round. Tyra ran to the house for blankets which she wrapped around her sister who was badly chilled.

When Mrs. Erikson came back with help she was astonished to find Connie safe on the shore. The only thing which saved the little girl was the change in the wind at that moment. She was taken to the Burns Lake hospital and treated for shock and exposure and, although still not at all well, is glad to be alive with her family.

Mrs. Erikson cannot swim and came very close to drowning in trying to reach the little girl but wisely turned back before getting completely out of her depth and leaving her family of five motherless. Small Deanna drifted back with the raft later on frightened but safe and sound.

News of Francois Lake

A selection of films was shown in the Hall on Friday evening sent by the National Film Board with Ralph Keefe and Peter Neave in charge. After the educational films, three delightful comics which the Women's Institute had sent for were shown and much enjoyed by all.

A start has been made towards the enlarging of the Francois Lake Store, with the foundations completed. Twelve whip sockets were dug up from where the old hotel stood and which was burned down, reminders of the old times when horses were used for transportation.

Mrs. R. Crawford, Earl Deeder's mother, has arrived from Moscow, Idaho, to spend the summer here. She flew from Spokane to Prince George, stopping off for a while in Vancouver.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at Mrs. Partington's home. Eight were present. The W.A. plans to attend the Topley Conference and all members will be given the opportunity of attending if they wish. A letter has been received from the School Board stating that tenders are asked for erection of playground equipment at Francois Lake School. It is hoped that when school opens in September this equipment will be in place. Articles were brought for the English parcel and for the bazaar. Mrs. Lobley was winner of the raffle. Mrs. Partington gave a humorous reading and Mrs. Neave read an article about insullin. Lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be on July 7 at Mrs. Peebles home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson of Burns Lake were visitors at the Neave home at the Landing on Sunday. With them was Mr. Wilson's cousin, Mrs. M. Porter of Tunbridge Wells, England, who is visiting them during a tour of the States and Canada. Mrs. Porter lived for several years with Mrs. Neave's family in Suffolk about forty years ago. Mrs. Lobley, who is staying at the Landing, also met Mrs. Porter again.

Dr. L. W. Kergin returned to the city on Saturday's plane from a brief visit to Vancouver.

CANADIANS BEATEN BY DUTCH SPEEDER—In the ninth annual relay races at Los Angeles, the Mercury club of Montreal placed second. #### DOUBLE WEDDING NEAR BURNS LAKE

Miss Gloria Hanke and Miss Frances Durban are Charming Brides
BURNS LAKE—The beautiful Durban Ranch on Tatalasca Lake was the scene of an historic double wedding when the Rev. A. W. Atkinson of Burns Lake united in marriage Clarence Durban, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Durban, and Gloria Hanke of the pioneer family of Hanks of Uchela Lake. The second couple were Gazza Nyeste and his charming bride, Frances Durban, the groom belonging to Burns Lake. The double ceremony took place in the commodious living room of the Durban farm home which was beautifully decorated.

There were many guests in the house which was a mass of tastefully arranged wild-flowers, interspersed by beautiful floral designs sent from many points in the Central Interior. Among the invited guests were Ted Applewhite and Barney Mulvany who were on a political mission to the Lakes District. The dance which followed brought a crowd of over three hundred. The local orchestra was assisted by the best volunteer talent of the neighborhood and the dance was only broken up when it was time to catch the first Sunday ferry for the crossing of Francois Lake. When thirty-two cars awaited the surprised crew of the Ferry which made three extra trips necessary.

The fight crowds might call him lefty, or Maxie, or the Belson Kid. Whichever it is, the last tag may give an idea of the six years Max Leftovich spent in Nazi concentration camps. He's in Britain now, awaiting to break into the home boxing scene, with one eye on fame and the other on raising enough money to pay for a trip to Canada.

He is trying to trace his last two living relatives. Max is no slouch in the fight business. Already he is welter and middle weight champion of Israel.

During the war Max was sent to a concentration camp. His parents and brother were killed there. Max's turn came when guards stood him, then 15 against a wall for bayonet practice. He grabbed a bayonet. The officer in charge thought that good enough to give Max another chance, and instead he was put into boxing contests arranged for the German amusement.

The resulting injuries from earned the most points during the year. Under the Y.P.A. points system, the Club is divided into three groups, each with a leader, which compete with one another for points. These points are given for attendance, work, outstanding helpfulness, program planning and other features which prove helpful to the Club.

The winner this year was Group 1 with 512 points. The trophy was received on behalf of the group by Leader Margaret Symes, who will keep it in her possession until next year. Group 3, Leader Vin Elliott, was runner-up with 389 points and Group 2, Leader Ruth Ketcheson, had 431 points. In 1947, the trophy was won by Group 3, under Jim Hemmons and in 1948 by Jim Wynn, and in 1948 by Jim Hemmons, who is now president of the Club. Jim was once again close to the top, with 61 points.

During a short program which featured piano accordion selections by Richard Tweed and community singing by the group, "Now is the Hour" was specially sung as a farewell selection for Vin Elliott, who is leaving in two weeks for an extended visit to England.

After the presentations and program, dancing was enjoyed until after midnight. The winning Group 1 had the privilege of cleaning the hall after the party.

CHURCH CHARGES REDS.
PRAGUE — The Roman Catholic Church yesterday, through a pastoral letter signed by Archbishop Joseph Beran of Prague, and the country's bishops, accused the Communist government of Czechoslovakia with deceit, fraud, kidnapping and robbery in which it called a fight for the "extermination of the church of Christ." MR. AND MRS. DREW

MR. AND MRS. ST. LAURENT

WIVES FIND DIFFERENT WAYS TO HELP IN ELECTION CAMPAIGN—Wives of the leaders of the Progressive Conservative and Liberal parties offer a contrast in techniques. Both aid their husbands in the strenuous cross-country tour involving demands on health and nerves equal to that of an athlete in training. Mrs. Drew, wife of the P.C. leader, assists her spouse by appearing with him on speakers' platforms, frequently receiving as much applause as when she addresses gatherings herself. Speaking French perfectly, she has made an impression on French Canadian audiences that is of great political importance. Mrs. St. Laurent, on the other hand, remains in the background, and though travelling with her husband assumes the role of homemaker even on a train. She has the power to cause the prime minister to relax, to see humor in difficult situations. They spend as many hours together as they can drawing inspiration from each other's company.

erations of the Kingston family and to wish them success and prosperity in their venture. She noted the example of courage, initiative and hard work involved. If there was a cheaper and more pleasant place for Prince Rupert people to spend a holiday she did not know about it. Here one could come at half the cost and really enjoy life instead of tramping the streets of Vancouver with all its noise and strain. "We are all going to be evangelists for Limberlost. We hope it will be completely successful."

Her Worship also conveyed the greetings of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce whose president, G. R. S. Blackaby, was unable to be present but who sent his good wishes. The Chamber of Commerce recognized the advantages and opportunities of such projects as this.

Thanking the management for a glorious day, Mrs. Arnold declared Limberlost officially open and thereupon was presented with a beautiful bouquet of native Queen Charlotte Islands flowers by little Linda Constantineau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Constantineau.

The ceremonies closed on an international note with the unfurling of the Canadian flag from one mast and the American flag from another in the front yard grounds of the lodge. Mayor Arnold raised the Canadian flag and Mrs. E. K. Stafford of Berkeley, California, the American.

The rest of the evening was given over to dancing which kept on in the crowded recreation hall even after the departure at midnight of the Prince Rupert guests to take the steamer Coquitlam for home.

Limberlost Lodge, representing an investment of $35,000 to date, is the modern development of the group of cottages which were originally built by Mrs. J. C. S. Dunn of Masset and which for many years were enjoyed by Prince Rupert people. The property consists of 123 acres of land and the central establishment is located in the spacious meadow lawn.

Principal of the new Limberlost Lodge buildings, green walled and red trimmed, designed in keeping with the general surroundings, is the recreation hall containing lounge and dance floor with huge fireplace, snack bar and office. The interior is mission style and hemlock flooring makes a fine dancing surface. The building measures 46 by 50 feet.

Nearby is the attractive dining hall with its seating capacity of sixty and a spotless kitchen. Here the visitors on Saturday were served with two splendid meals, cooked in best home style—at noon a full course hot roast beef dinner, in the evening a tasty cold plate spread.

Cabins so far built number nineteen ranged up and down on either side of the meadow. Some are three-roomed—two bedrooms and a living room, others two-roomed and the remainder one room.

The usual guest house services are rendered.

Recreation facilities include a cement tennis court, outdoor badminton court, nine-hole miniature golf course, croquet ground and horseshoe throw. Motor scooters and bicycles are part of the lodge equipment. Rowboats are available for leisurely explorations of lagoon and river. Ocean bathing in the tepid water on the warm sands is another attraction.

Hiking trails have been cut out through the nearby forest.

While organized programs are planned, the guest's wish and pleasure is the management's command it is a camp rule that there is no compulsion or regimentation.

California, and Rowland Miles of Prince Rupert who returned from the Islands on the Coquitlam yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Safford and their grandson, John Murphy, continuing south and homewards. Mr. Safford's great achievement was the shooting of two big black bear from which he skinned the hides for two big rugs.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Boyd and family of Burns Lake arrived at Limberlost at the week-end for a two weeks' stay.

Sun burns which some of the Prince Rupert people brought home followed the afternoon siestas on those comfortable deck chairs on the meadow lawn.

Dr. P. J. Cheney had a great afternoon with the motor scooters. Others shed dignity, limbered out the creaks, renewed acquaintance with bicycles after years.

Photographer Almer Van Meer had a busy day with his particular line of "shooting" and got a good pictorial record of the proceedings as well as the picturesque settings of Limberlost.

Mayor Nora Arnold, still feeling the effects of recent illness but steadily recovering, carried off her good offices as official opener with dignity and thought. She also demonstrated her prowess on the croquet court.

It was a field day for the beach prospectors. Graham Island and beaches have long been famous for their agates and many of the Prince Rupert people came home with good specimens.

There are four generations of Kingstons at Limberlost these days. Mrs. Kingston sr., mother of President Neil, is out from Welland, Ontario, for an extended sojourn. The fourth generation is Resident Manager Ross Kingston's young son.

Timely Topics from Terrace
Mrs. C. R. De Kergommeaux, Terrace Reporter

The Knox United Church Sunday School picnic was held last Tuesday afternoon at Braun's Island. The small children were taken there by car and truck, many of the mothers going too. Lunch and ice cream were served to the youngsters and all joined in the games and races. They all returned to town after a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon.

Mrs. C. L. M. Gaggey and infant child returned to Terrace after an absence of several weeks in Vancouver where the baby has been in hospital for surgical treatment on his hand. Accompanying her aunt was young Iona Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brooks, former resident of Terrace, who will pay an extended visit here.

W. Chesner and daughter, Jean, who left Terrace late last fall, have returned this week and are considering making their home here again.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Skinner of Ashcroft drove into Terrace on Friday afternoon for a visit with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. McCabe.

Mrs. T. Kells arrived from

Mrs. A. E. Butterworth Back in City From Masset

After a two weeks' visit to Masset, Mrs. A. E. Butterworth of Croydon, England, who has long interested herself in the missionary work of the Church of England, is back in Prince Rupert. She arrived from the Queen Charlotte Islands on the Coquitlam. At Masset she was the guest of Mrs. Norman Green. She visited with the W.A.'s both at New and Old Masset and was much impressed with the work the native women were doing. Incidentally, they presented her with a handsome carved silver bracelet.

While here Mrs. Butterworth is the guest of Mrs. J. B. Gibson at Bishop's Lodge. Before leaving this area she plans on visiting Metlakatla and Kitkatla and will then proceed to the interior, visiting Hazelton, Smilthers and Burns Lake enroute to Jasper and Vancouver. Later in the summer Mrs. Butterworth will return to her home in England via the Panama Canal aboard a Holland-American Line motorship.

Mrs. Butterworth, among her other activities, is secretary of the Northern British Columbia News, a church periodical which was started by the late Rev. J. B. McCullagh of Aiyansh and which is still periodically printed in the Old Country.

ARSON AT KELOWNA
KELOWNA—A new Roman Catholic Church at nearby Rutland was burned to the ground in a series of five fires near here Sunday and Fire Marshal Fred Gore labelled it as "the work of arsonists." Also demolished was the irrigation district office at Glenmore, a hay barn and 10,000 apple boxes. Total damage is unofficially estimated at $50,000. The fifth fire damaged a Canadian National Railway high bridge between Kelowna and Glenmore. Beer bottles, filled with gasoline and fuses, were found near the bridge.
