Local Man On World Cruise

Off on a round the world trip, Arthur H. Silversides, pioneer local business man, sailed Thursday on the Prince George for Vancouver whence he will proceed to San Francisco to embark February 9 on the steamer Mount Davis which will be his floating home for nearly two months as he travels westward across the Pacific with ports of call at Yokohama, Singapore, Calcutta, Bombay, Alexandria, Naples, Marseilles and, finally, crossing the Atlantic to leave the ship at New York.

Mrs. Silversides will meet him in New York and they will then travel leisurely back home to Prince Rupert by way of Toronto and other cities. Mr. Silversides will be away for three months, he expects.

Sub-Zero At Stewart

STEWART—Sub-zero weather continues and 16 below zero was experienced during the past week-end. Ice had collected in the harbor to a depth, in places, of 18 inches. This was blasted on Saturday and the harbor is now clear of ice.

From Tractors to Printer's Ink in Refugee Camps

Hears Problems—

Applewhaite At Stewart

STEWART—The Stewart Board of Trade held a special meeting recently with Edward T. Applewhaite, M. P. for Skeena, as guest of honor.

Many matters of importance to this district were brought to the attention of the member, among them the possibility of getting assistance for the construction of an airstrip in view of the aviation activity in the area.

A Northern Airways plane made nine landings on a hastily constructed strip on the West bank of the Bear River. Pilot George Dalzell of Telegraph Creek said that some improvement would be necessary before he could make further use of this strip.

Radio reception, Stewart hospital, reopening of Canadian National Express Agency, airmail facilities, and customs clearance for foreign planes were also among the matters discussed.

The member gave a very interesting report of the recent session of Parliament — what had been accomplished on behalf of the riding. He was accorded an enthusiastic reception and thanked for his efforts on behalf of the district.

William R. Tooth, President of the Stewart Board of Trade, presided, with Ernest Love as Secretary.

LOST ONTARIO PLANE?

CHAPLEAU, Ontario—Search planes converged today on wild bush country around Kormak, 30 miles south of here, following report that a four-engine aircraft crashed in flames there late yesterday. A report from Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, said today that wreckage of a large plane was spotted in rugged country about 100 miles west of that border city.

BERLIN TROUBLE

BERLIN—Western officials declared today that the Russian squeeze on east-west truck traffic this week is part of a desperate move aimed to soften west Berlin for communism. Americans in this divided city are talking about the possibility of economic reprisals if tinkering with traffic continues. East and west Germany have a trade agreement which could be suspended.

WORKLESS INCREASE

OTTAWA—The number of unemployed in Canada has increased from 261,000 to 323,000, the Department of Labor reported today.

STRUGGLING TO GET PAPER OUT

Working against irregularly staggered hours and newly imposed deadlines and, at the same time, endeavouring to conserve power, the Daily News is struggling to keep publishing every day. Today a further interruption in power caused added difficulty at a time when minutes counted. There is no option but to curtail the news, eliminate and defer. Readers, we hope, will understand the situation. If they are unhappy, we ourselves are a lot more so.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis

Central British Columbia is again the coldest spot in Western Canada. Temperatures in the Cariboo and Prince George areas dropped to 45 degrees below zero during the night while readings along the coast ranged between 6 at Vancouver and 20 on the west coast of Vancouver Island. At the same time Whitehorse in the Southern Yukon enjoyed a mild 16 above.

There is still no indication of any early break in the current cold spell.

U.S. Transport Still Missing

Norwegian Air Hero Leading Hunt for Lost U.S. C-54

EDMONTON @—A huge air armada today droned over snow-covered mountains of northwestern Canada searching for a missing United States Air Force plane with 44 passengers and crew members aboard.

Taking off from bases scattered in the Yukon and Northwest Territories, forty planes fanned out over the area between Snag, Yukon Territory, and Watson Lake, also in the Yukon, in "Operation Mike."

The armada was made up of one-third Canadian planes and two-thirds American.

Object of the search is a C-54 which was last reported over Snag, 1500 miles northwest of here, Thursday bound for Edmonton and Great Falls, Montana, with a mother and child, 34 military personnel and eight crew members.

The search which yesterday covered 2700 square miles in the Watson Lake area, 520 air miles east of Snag, was expanded today to cover the air route from Snag to Whitehorse, a distance of 300 miles, and from Watson Lake to Fort Nelson, British Columbia, about 230 miles.

Heavy blizzards rage over most of the area where the missing plane is lost. It is a rugged, sparsely-settled country.

The missing transport carried standard equipment of survival in the Arctic including cold weather clothing, emergency food supplies. It was bound for its home base at Biggs Field, El Paso, Texas.

Col. Bernt Balchen, United States Air Force officer, directing the international search, is one of aviation's most durable heroes. A Norwegian, Balchen first came to prominence 25 years ago during a search in the Arctic for the explorer, Roald Amundsen. Admiral Richard Byrd was so impressed by the then young flying officer that he brought him to the United States in 1926. Out of their partnership came a Transatlantic flight and air conquest of the South Pole.

Union ss. vessel Chilcotin, Capt. H. E. McLean arrived at 3:45 p.m. Friday from Vancouver, leaving for southern Queen Charlotte points at 10 o'clock tonight. Passengers from Prince Rupert will include R. Watson for Queen Charlotte City.

Celanese Corporation Heads Are Satisfied With Work Progress

The Celanese Corporation of America is giving thought to the possibility of processing timber of this district beyond the high alpha cellulose pulp stage for which the $25,000,000 plant of Columbia Cellulose Co. Ltd. at Watson Island is primarily designed, George Schneider, vice-president of the Celanese Corporation, told the Daily News last night in the course of an overnight flying visit to the city to inspect progress of operations at the big plant. "There is open discussion of the possibility of a more advanced stage of production," Mr. Schneider admitted although the first concern was to get the present plant into operation as soon as possible. Mr. Schneider expressed gratification at the progress which was being made in spite of the current slowdown due to the long cold snap which has stopped concrete pouring operations and as a result of which there are now only about 850 men employed on construction work whereas there should be upwards of 1000 and will be again as soon as the weather moderates.

"Around the end of 1950 or the beginning of 1951, depending upon conditions, we expect to be in operation at Watson Island," Mr. Schneider said. The work was going along "pretty well on schedule" and the various phases of organization were being knitted together. The plant will give employment to an overall of about 1000 persons in mill and woods. "We are as anxious as you are to get started as soon as possible," declared Mr. Schneider.

The economic outlook for the cellulose industry was very gratifying, Mr. Schneider said in commenting on general conditions. "Demand for finished products is very satisfactory."

There is no change in the general policy as outlined in original announcement two years ago of the decision to build at Watson Island. The company will, among other things, generate its own power. Mr. Schneider described as "tremendous" the progress which had been made on the construction work since he was last in Prince Rupert. "It is beginning to look like a real operation. There is real evidence of an industry going ahead."

Mr. Schneider reiterated a previous company statement that it was expected that Prince Rupert would take care of the housing requirements involved in the establishment of this new and large permanent payroll here. Cooperation from the citizens in this was expected by the company. It was important that conditions should be made as desirable as possible so as to eliminate labor turnover.

Mr. Schneider and Mr. Richards, time after time, in the course of an interview with the Daily News, enthused over the fine weather at Prince Rupert and the general attractiveness of this place. They could not understand the adverse criticism that was so consistently levelled against the city in regard to its weather.

The company heads expressed gratification at the new school building program here which would tend to make the city more attractive to permanent families. They also expressed interest in the development of hospital facilities.

Restrictions Unchanged

While the drop of the water level at Falls River and Woodworth Lake has not been stayed and can hardly be until weather permits an amelioration of runoff, T. B. Black, manager of the Northern B. C. Power Co., said today that it was expected easing restrictions on power consumption would not be altered during the coming week-end.

There was a drop of eight inches in Falls River level Thursday but an adjustment, it is expected, will reduce this materially. Woodworth Lake dropped another 2 inches.

It was explained that arrangements had been made to keep on the circuit during certain evening hours while boats or trains are being handled.

The importance of economy in use of electricity not only in straight lights but in water heaters, electric stoves, refrigerators and such heavy appliances is being emphasized.

Lamps Are In Demand

Closing Pubs in Blackout.
O No.

The good old natural flame is coming in mighty handy during these days of partial blackout. Hardly any concerns are reporting a hasty snatching up of any available kerosene or gasoline lamps. And anyone handling candles, notices increased jangles from cash registers.

Some citizens nearly suffered mental collapses at the mention of a downtown pub closing notice. It was thought at first, all beverage rooms were closed, but the "not open" sign hung only on one swinging door. That drinking parlor is undergoing cleaning & painting for the next seven days. But bartenders in two other concerns are angry. Automatic glass washing machines are not automatically during power curtailment. Some shops stayed closed unsly.

til 11 a.m. yesterday but others went ahead with business under candle or gas lights. Although power was on in a certain section of Third Avenue, most establishments complied with conservation pleas but still obtained sufficient illumination to carry on business.

The weather is being blamed for this grim situation while the Northern B. C. Power Company is also being heckled.

With only a month to go under present conditions, some other method of power should be obtained before the crisis becomes more than a crisis, some of the citizens think. It is suggested a light battleship or cruiser be made available so that all power could be eliminated thus extending the water supply. An American aircraft carrier once supplied sufficient power for the immense city of Seattle.

"But I know somebody who isn't going to think too much of the idea," someone remarked slyly.

Bank Makes $100 Gift to Firemen

PRINCE GEORGE—The effort by the Prince George fire brigade in exceptionally low temperatures to prevent spread of the recent blaze at the H. H. Douglas and Company store received practical recognition in the form of a $100 cheque from the Royal Bank.

In a letter to the fire chief Dave Fraser, Norman Napier, Royal Bank manager, states: "On behalf of the bank we wish to express our sincere appreciation for the excellent work done by you and your men to protect our building and others during the recent fire, which caused so much unfortunate damage to the H. H. Douglas building.

"We realize that your efforts were hampered by the most adverse weather and special commendation is due to you all for the manner in which you handled the job under those adverse conditions."

"As a token of appreciation we have much pleasure in enclosing our cheque for $100."

B.C. HOSPITAL INSURANCE SERVICE

One in six of all British Columbians were hospitalized and had their hospital bills paid last year by the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service. Many of these bills ranged from $500 to $1,000.

$15,000,000 was paid in 1949 by the Hospital Insurance
Service on behalf of those hospitalized under the plan.

PERSONS PAYING BY INSTALMENTS SHOULD NOT LET THEIR PAYMENTS LAPSE. JANUARY AND FEBRUARY INSTALMENT PAYMENTS ARE NOW DUE.

LATE PAYMENT OF HOSPITAL INSURANCE PREMIUMS

There are two semi-annual paying periods for those not on the instalment basis... November 30th and May 31st.

AFTER MARCH FIRST, 1950, there will be a waiting period of one month for persons who have not paid their premiums on time. During this period they will not be eligible for hospital benefits.

This has been introduced to prevent persons from paying their premium one day and going to hospital the next.

There have been instances of this kind and it is pointed out that, obviously, such a practice is unfair to the great majority who have been making their prepayments at the proper time.

If all premiums are kept up to date, there is no need for any resident of British Columbia to worry about unpaid hospital bills.
