Happy Settlement

It was a mighty satisfactory thing that the strike which threatened the logging industry of British Columbia should have been averted even if it was an eleventh-hour settlement after a final period of tense nervousness. The strike, which happily is not going to happen, would indeed have been disastrous to the whole economy of the province and, as the minister of labor says, would have had its effect upon every citizen of British Columbia.

With the loggers' strike out of the way, so far so good. There is still another serious strike dispute facing the country—this time on a national rather than a provincial scale. This is the matter of the dispute involving the railways. This strike would be even more damaging and widespread in its effects. It is only to be hoped that good reason and successful negotiation may also come in this dispute for the strike, if precipitated, would be a disastrous economic blow, the impact of which would be felt by every Canadian.

ALASKA STATEHOOD

ALASKA statehood, desirable as it may seem and notwithstanding strong support which it has already been accorded, still seems to be faced with serious obstacles and there are those who doubt that it will hurdle the United States Congress this year. Statehood has been approved by a large majority by one branch of Congress, the House of Representatives. However, it appears to have bogged down in the Senate where the committee on interior and insular affairs is holding it up with various pretexts. The principal obstruction, although it is kept in the background, would appear to be that big business does not want statehood as it would affect the stranglehold that it now has on the ambitious northern territory.

There is every indication now that the statehood bill will get lost in a Congressional adjournment logjam and that Alaskans will have to wait another year for the privilege of supervising the development of their own rich resources, the increasing of their population and wealth and the ability to support the kind of government they want—all of which, incidentally, might be very important and beneficial to Prince Rupert.

As I See It

ALASKA LADY

WE MET AT A dance, the Alaska lady and I. It was a Swedish dance, at which I made a little speech.

The wife had not recovered from the Scottish dance we had attended a few weeks before so was sitting it out with me. We were talking to a grand couple from Timmins, Ontario, who were homesick for their old friends in that friendly northern city. But Dad's hardy Norwegian heart had played out and he was in pretty desperate shape when he came to the coast a few years ago. In fact, the heart specialists had once given him just one week to live.

Yet here he was, beaming with cheerfulness—kept alive. I thought to myself, by his wife's radiant faith as much as any medical treatment.

IN THEIR PARTY THEY HAD a young lady, strikingly beautiful.

She was tall, lithe, dark, with a truly superb figure. As soon as I saw her I thought to myself "what a success she would be as a model, or perhaps what a find even for Hollywood." For this young woman was no anaemic wand, such as the fashion folks usually select to show off their clothes. Strength and grace were evident in every step she took on the dance floor.

Part of her story I heard from my Timmins friends, with the Norwegian name. Part heard from the lovely girl from Alaska herself.

HER FATHER WAS OF SCOTTISH origin and her brother a full-blooded Eskimo. It was really grand to hear this lovely young lady—the last word in civilized beauty and charm—talk with such ease and pride of, her mother. She told me the very beautiful love story of her parents, about how happy the big family had been, about her own loneliness when she had come south to school in Seattle. For the first couple of years she had almost counted the days till the date of her father's annual arrival. Then, finally, now she had fitted in to the regular pattern of American life and about her work at the hospital where she is a nurse-in-training!

SHE TOLD ME ABOUT HER own fiance, a Canadian war veteran working in Alaska on construction work, but who hopes some day to be a dentist. I thought to myself "lucky fellow."

And, whenever I think about that lovely young lady from Alaska I say to myself how lucky we are to have such magnificent racial stocks on which will surely grow a finer race of humans than have ever yet trod this earth.

I PLAY A LITTLE GAME whenever I get the chance. Just for fun I put a little star on an imaginary map wherever I have a friend in distant places or wherever I have made a friend among minority groups here at home.

It's amazing how many you collect in a lifetime, even without getting around the whole globe. I started out as a gunner in World War I by having as my best chum a Bolivian. Now there are all sorts of nationalities and colors on that map—even Red—Russians, as well as the kind uprooted by the revolution of 1917.

Scientists tell us that the Bible speaks literal truth when it says God made of one blood all nations on earth.

Certainly, you just can't get to know the people of other races without realizing how ridiculous are assumptions of innate superiority of one race over another.

A preliminary unofficial census count puts the population of Juneau at 5,781. That would make Prince Rupert about twice the size of Juneau—with an I.W.W. (I won't work) grain elevator thrown in.

There is nothing petty about Canada's Associate Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, Sidney Porter. Travelling expenses came before the public accounts committee. He had been putting up at the Chateau Laurier. Who wouldn't? Ten days, in fact. Ten days at $36 per day. Ottawa has not yet settled the account, so it is quite possible it's been adjusted privately. But let it be repeated! The Deputy Minister is no piker.

A contemporary defines a wise man as one who knows that he doesn't know half as much as he thought he knew at twenty. But at twenty, he knew everything.

Prince Rupert will have a second theatre before long. If this keeps up the city will be as cheery as it was forty years ago when there were three.

How those wicked little teenagers worked their fool heads off during the battle to save Winnipeg! If there was any delinquency lying around loose, they openly and brazenly neglected it. Yes, sir, the young scoundrels did exactly that. One would have hardly thought anything of the kind could come to pass.

"Peace and freedom," sang the half million young Germans, marching in Berlin the other day. They praised Stalin and all his works. "Peace and freedom" sang half a million young Germans in Berlin, in 1933. They also marched and praised Hitler and all his works.

Commenting on the tributes paid Jan Christian Smuts of South Africa, the Liberal member for Cariboo, George Murray, suggested the government should not forget Louis Riel. How about a statue? Both had been rebels against the Crown. Mr. Murray forgets that Riel was not charged with treason. What he was charged with and executed for was murder—the shooting of a man named Scott at Fort Garry, long before the rebellion of '85.

Mrs. H. B. Rochester, after spending the past week in the city, sailed by the Prince Rupert last night on her return to Vancouver.

Rotary Called Church's Child

Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright of First Presbyterian Church, told Rotary at luncheon yesterday that their organization was a child of the church. "You don't find service clubs anywhere except in Christian countries," he said.

Dr. Wright spoke of the good work that had been done by the club and encouraged members to continue. Prince Rupert has a great future, he said, and mentioned the physical assets of land and sea that abound here. But, he stated, the greatest asset of all was the men and women. It was their duty to pass on untarnished to their children the heritage from their forebears.

"The church tries to eradicate evil," he declared, "by giving communities a new heart." He said it was not enough to clear out the cesspools of iniquity but the hearts of men and women had to be cleaned, too. It was the church's job to give everyone a true conception of his duty in the city where he lives. The speaker told of his experiences in some places he had been stationed, many of them pioneering settlements in the north of Canada. The people who went there, he said, were Empire builders, making the country what it should be for future generations. But, wherever he had gone he had found the greatest need was the church. He mentioned the Peace River country where the church had gone as far as the farthest settler.

Dr. Wright also told of reports from his son, who had been in meteorological stations in the far north, telling how the church, both Roman Catholic and Protestant, had given something new to the Eskimos in places where they had been operating. President R. G. Van der Stuyts reported 253 new Rotary clubs in 36 countries had been opened since July 1, 1949, bringing the total number of clubs in the world to 7,073 with a combined membership of 339,500.

Douglas Stevenson reported the Rotary barrel would come down the Skeena July 1 no matter what happened. The barrel goes to Terrace by tonight's train.

Museum Fee Criticized

It shouldn't happen even to a museum member, who said he got from reliable sources, two members of the Prince Rupert Museum Board hadn't gone through the museum. This information was handed to members following a question by Mr. Gonick. Mr. Gonick wanted to know why the museum was charging a fee of 25 cents per admission. He said he had never stepped into museums which charged admission. Another member said, some mus-

Sons of Norway To Stage Dance

A dance will be staged by the Sons of Norway in their hall June 23, it was decided at a meeting of the organization Wednesday night. In the absence of President John Fredheim, chairman was Rudolph Olsen. Attendance was small at the business meeting, due to many members engaged in halibut fishing.

There are plates and a silver collection is taken.

It was pointed out that the museum here is self-supporting as compared with others which are generally financed by the government. Mr. Gonick said that many tourists are "talking" after visiting the museum and being asked for 25 cents. "It's not the money," he stated, "but the principle."

A recommendation was drawn up to the effect that voluntary donations be initiated and this will be forwarded to the board.

Jaycees Talk Street Signs

Geoff Hill to Attend Convention—To Meet Hydro Engineer

The matter of street signs was again discussed by Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night. It was stated that a paint firm has donated one can of paint towards the venture. The city, the members were told, has not yet been delivered the lumber. A painting firm from Vancouver, it was reported, were willing to paint all street signs provided the Jaycees provide the paint and complete construction of the signs.

Geoff Hill was elected as delegate to attend the National Jaycee Convention in Vancouver June 19, 20 and 21. His selection took place following a short talk by Art Lind, a member of the youth leadership committee of Vancouver Jaycees. Mr. Lind explained the agenda and entertainment to be provided by his club which will include a trip to Bowen Island by chartered steamer.

The drastic power shortage during the winter here was brought to light again at the meeting. It was decided to delegate two or more members to meet the hydro engineer upon his arrival here. The move will be commended to the senior chamber.

Eric Speers, chairman of the radio committee, reported that 27 broadcasts had been staged with 24 members participating.

Discussion Of Library Matters

Views of how other libraries in the province are operated were given by C. K. Morison, superintendent of the Public Library Commission at Victoria, when he met with the Prince Rupert Public Library Board Wednesday night.

He explained that in the province five city and three union libraries are operated. During the course of discussions he stressed the cultural value of a library in a community.

Chairman Mrs. M. Roper presided at the meeting. Other board members present were Mrs. Basil S. Prockter, Mrs. W. S. Kergin, A. D. Ritchie, T. E. Black and Librarian Miss Mae MacDonald.

Gyros Approve Park Program

A $500 program for improvement to parks and playgrounds was approved by the Prince Rupert Gyro Club, on recommendation of its playground committee, at the monthly business luncheon of the club this week. Provision is made for the repairing, painting and erection of playground equipment, replacement of worn-out items, painting and repairing of bathhouses, etc., much of which work has already been carried out. Construction of a new bathhouse at estimated cost of $1125 and a new diving board costing $360 to $400 had also been considered but this was deferred for this year.

The club received a report from the committee on the recent Klondike night to the effect that some $381 had been realized as a result of that effort on behalf of the playground fund.

Emil Blain was offered congratulations at the luncheon on the birth of a daughter.

Past President Matrice Brydges was in the chair in the absence of President A. J. Dominato who is away at Banff attending international convention.

This Saturday night the Gyro Club is collaborating with the Scoutmaster Club in holding a dance at the Canadian Legion Hall for Manitoba flood relief.

Memorial For Auto Victims

TERRACE—A memorial service was held in the Knox United Church on Tuesday afternoon for the two men who are believed to have been lost in the recent Skeena fatality, Donald Fraser and his son Donald, father and brother of Mrs. Sites of the Terrace Bakery. Rev. P. M. Mallett officiated and, in his short address, he left a message of faith and hope as he compared the Skeena River with the River Jordan. Hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Guide Me O Thou Great Jehovah" with Mrs. G. H. Seaman as accompanist. Principal mourners were Mr. and Mrs. Sites and their daughter Colleen. The local stores were closed during the period of the service.

Double Wedding At St. Paul's

Miss Edythe Birch and Miss Lila Kirstein Are Pretty Brides

Before a softly candle-illuminated altar adorned with white lilies, a double wedding of much interest took place on last night's beautiful June evening in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Miss Edythe Mildred Birch, daughter of Mrs. Florence Birch, 1332 Eighth Avenue East, and the late J. C. Birch, was one of the pretty brides, her bridegroom being Gordon Alfred Wasend, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wasend, 1039 Hays Cove Avenue.

The other bride was Miss Lila Jane Kirstein, daughter of W. A. Kirstein of Regina, and her bridegroom was Robert Birch, brother of the first bride.

The hour was 7 p.m. and the officiating clergyman was Rev. L. G. Sieber, pastor of First United Church in the absence of the regular pastor of St. Paul's.

Organ music was by Henry A. Plum.

Given in marriage by her older brother, Leonard Birch, Miss Birch was charmingly attired in long sheer white wedding gown with sweetheart neckline and full length veil, carrying a bouquet of red roses and wearing a string of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Miss Kirstein was similarly attired, her pretty costume being enhanced also with a four strand string of pearls, the gift of the groom. She was given in marriage by Ernest Anweiler.

Miss Hazel Birch was bridesmaid for her sister, wearing a full length turquoise gown and carrying a bouquet of carnations.

Miss Clara Varfeldt was bridesmaid for Miss Kirstein, wearing long blue bustle bow dress with a colonial bouquet of carnations.

Kenneth Wasend was groomsman for his brother and Jack Birch for his brother.

Ushers were Philip Parker and Lloyd Dague.

Following the ceremony, many friends repaired to the Valhalla Hall where a reception was held. The couples were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Birch who wore a black flowered jersey dress with grey accessories and Mrs. Wasend whose costume was also a black flowered jersey dress.

Gordon Dockendorf proposed to the brides with the grooms responding.

Two handsome wedding cakes were duly cut.

Miss Kurine Heday and Miss Lillian Fossum were in charge of the serving.

The evening was rounded out by dancing to the strains of accordion music by Mike Colussi.

Both couples sailed later in the evening on the Prince Rupert for honeymoon tours to Vancouver. For travelling the brides wore grey suits with wine shortie coats and grey accessories.

On their return to the city Mr. and Mrs. Wasend will reside at 321 Eighth Avenue West and Mr. and Mrs. Birch at 113 Eighth Avenue West.

Heads For Valley Forge Next Week

A great moment arrives in the life of a 17-year-old Prince Rupert lad when he leaves the city June 21. Magnus Eyoifson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Eyoifson, 1468 Sixth Avenue East will be one of 47,000 Boy Scouts of Canada and the United States who will attend a Boy Scout jamboree at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, June 29 to July 8. A King Scout here, he will go to Jasper and join six scouts from Vancouver and then continue to Saskatoon.

At the Saskatchewan city, 500 Canadian scouts will hold a pre-jamboree for a few days and then proceed to Valley Forge. The Canadian event was scheduled for Winnipeg but, due to the flood situation, was changed to Saskatoon.

Last year Eyoifson went from Prince Rupert to attend a Canadian Scout jamboree at Ottawa.

It pays to advertise.

President Is Appreciative

Reports were heard from all committees and votes of thanks were extended to various members by Mr. Hampton for their splendid work during the year at the annual meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night.

A United States flag made from silk gowns donated by ladies of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, was the first national ensign to be saluted at sea by a foreign power.
