

What Next For Molotov Is Question

Shift in Soviet Office Is Cause of Broad Speculation

(CP)—Andrei Y. Vishinsky replaced Molotov as Soviet foreign minister in a momentous shift of helmsmen in international relations.

Foreign trade minister and Russia's important official in dealings with the outside world, was also replaced by his deputy, M. A. Menshikov, after 23 years at his job.

Until today Vishinsky had Molotov's deputy.

The dramatic changes are the most important in a decade. They were announced by the president of the Supreme Soviet in a brief statement which left unanswered a host of questions.

There is no hint as to what new jobs Molotov and Mikoyan might be taking and there is no hint as to what significant changes might be portended.

Diplomatic circles at Lake Success, London, Washington and other world capitals are dumfounded by the unheralded change. They speculate that it might be preparatory to Molotov succeeding Joseph Stalin or that Molotov has been given the boot in order to execute a far-reaching change of Soviet policy in the cold war with the west.

THE WEATHER

Forecast

The weather will remain mild in British Columbia throughout the week-end with considerable cloudiness expected in most regions. Occasional light rain expected along the north coast. Overcast today and tonight. Occasional light rain tonight and tomorrow. Wind today, south (15 m.p.h.). Little change in temperature. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—Port Hardy 36 and 45, Masset 35 and 45, Prince Rupert 35 and 45.

BRISTOL, Eng.—At a social meeting of the Canadian Club here, H. Healey, local representative of the C.P.R., was elevated new president for 1949.

ROCK SLIDE ON RAILWAY

A 100-foot long rockslide covered the Canadian National Railway line at Sockeye, 17 miles east of Prince Rupert, this morning but railway authorities hope to have the tracks cleared in time to permit tonight's west-bound passenger train to arrive here on time at 10:45.

Up to noon today there had been no reports of snow trouble along the Skeena, danger point from slides which have been causing continuous delays of late.

The rockslide covered the track to a depth of several feet and one boulder was said to be the size of a boxcar. Track crews were busy today with bulldozers and dynamite clearing the rails.

HOOP PLAYERS TO FLY HERE

Aiyansh Native Teams to be Brought from Naas River by Terrace Amphibian

Tom Scheer, with his Seabee amphibian of Skeena Air Transport, left yesterday for Terrace after having been held up here for a week on account of poor visibility between Prince Rupert and the Lakelse side air strip. First job Scheer was planning on his return to Terrace was another attempt to take into Aiyansh on the Naas River two teachers for the school there—Miss L. Nicholls and Miss S. Freeman—who have been waiting for the past few weeks, first here and more recently at Terrace—for transportation. Ice conditions on the Naas River have been preventing the plane from landing there.

After delivering the school teachers to Aiyansh, Scheer will fly out Naas River native basketball players who are coming here for the forthcoming district native tournament.

ST. LAURENT PUZZLED

MONTREAL—Prime Minister St. Laurent indicated today that he is just as puzzled as anybody else in the western world over the change in the change in Russia's cabinet line-up which dropped V. M. Molotov from the position of foreign minister. "I don't know if he is in disgrace or is on his way up," said St. Laurent, who is making his first visit to Montreal as Prime Minister.

LIVING INDEX DOWN

OTTAWA—The cost of living index dropped 1/10 of a point as between January 1 and February 1, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics announces. It is now 159.5 as compared with 159.6. Higher fuel, light and home furnishing prices were more than offset by dropping food prices.

ANTI-RED CAMPAIGN

CAPETOWN—The Nationalist government of South Africa is starting a campaign against Communists whom it accuses of working hand in glove with Russia. Economics Minister Low said that the Soviet consulate at Pretoria is the hub of a communist propaganda drive and that special couriers leave for Russia each month with reefer documents.

GARGRAVE CHARGES

VICTORIA—Charge that Finance Minister Anson had withheld a $6,400,000 payment from his statements of assets in the provincial budget was levelled in the House by Herbert Gargrave (C.C.F.-Mackenzie) Friday. "The budget should have shown a surplus of $10,000,000 instead of $3,600,000," he said. "One payment of the Dominion-provincial share to the province was held back." This had been done by Anson, Gargrave said, to facilitate defence of the three percent sales tax.

ST. LAURENT IS RELIEVED

To Hear That Wheat is Not a Surplus Commodity Under European Relief

OTTAWA—Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent said last night that he was pleased to hear the United States has not declared wheat a surplus commodity under the European recovery plan.

Earlier Mr. St. Laurent said that he was "somewhat disturbed" after receiving unofficial information that Agriculture Secretary Bannan of the United States had declared wheat a surplus commodity.

GREAT HOCKEY MAN RETIRES

VANCOUVER—The hockey career of one of the greatest players, the fearless Frank Frederickson, ended today. He said he was retiring as coach of the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds in Senior B hockey and from active participation in the game. He said that he was 55 years of age and did not have time for the game any more.

Frederickson was a top-notch player from the age of five when he first started in backyard rinks in Winnipeg. He broke into senior hockey with the Winnipeg Falcons at the age of 17 and captained the Falcons in 1919-1920 when he won the Olympic crown for Canada in those days of twenty-minute periods and seven-man teams.

Terrace Asks Public Works

Terrace Board of Trade Seeks Lakelse Avenue Improvements—Harry Bowman Speaks

TERRACE—This year's objective for the Terrace Board of Trade will be the draining and paving of Lakelse Avenue from the Skeena Bridge to the elementary school. The survey of the road has been completed and the job is likely to be reasonably easy so a communication will be sent to the Hon. E. T. Kenny asking for the government's assistance in this matter. This was the decision of Wednesday night's meeting of the Terrace Board of Trade held in the Silver Tip Cafe with Dudley Little presiding.

In the highways report, George McAdams stated that a very good job had been done by the Department of Public Works in keeping the roads plowed and open for traffic including the heavy logging trucks during the worst season in history. He thought however, that the Village Commissioners should be approached to have the ugly banks of snow removed from the centre of the roads in the business district at the very beginning and not be allowed to remain there all winter long. The danger of Deep Creek hill on which, during the past years there have been several serious accidents, will be brought to the attention of the Provincial Department of Public Works with copies of a letter sent to Hon. E. T. Kenney and W. E. Bottomley, assistant district engineer.

Introduced by Mr. Little, Harry Bowman of Prince George brought the greetings of that city's Board of Trade and in his talk said that 10,000 acres of land had been cleared by land clearing machinery between Smithers and McBride during the three years of operation at a reasonable cost. There was, however, no farm machinery to break up the land after clearing but they intended getting in some big plows for the farmers to get in their crops quickly. He spoke of the suitability and adaptability of the Dutch settlers who had come to the district and who are very pleased with the treatment they had received here. They were an asset to any community. Mr. Bowman thought that there should be an Experimental Farm here and that it should be pressed for.

SAVOYS BEAT BROWNWOODS

Close Battle Continues For Senior Basketball Play-off Spots

Savoys defeated Brownwoods 47 to 37 in last night's league fixture to join Bo-Me-Hi in a tie for third place in the Senior Basketball loop. Brownwoods are still in second place far below the league-leading Co-ops and a keep contest is still going on for play-off position. Half-time score last night was 24 to 18 for Savoys who kept the lead throughout the play. Mel Thompson was high scorer for Brownwoods with 12 and Ted Arney for Savoys with 22.

In the opening game of the evening Fashion Footwear trampled High School 50 to 13 to forge out further ahead in the Intermediate League where Merchants, High School and Morgan's are still battling for play-off position. Half-time score was 20 to 6 for the shoe-men. Sharpe led the High School scorers with 8 while Gill was high for Fashion with 12.

Don Forward and Fred Calderone shared refereeing duties and it was also made known with some gratification that Johnny Comadina would be back on the Senior League floor again next week in his arbitral capacity.

City Radio Amateurs Take Part In Long-Distance Air Rescue

The annals of usefulness of Prince Rupert's group of radio amateurs—"hams"—were enriched this week by their participation in the long-distance rescue of a sick woman at isolated Fort Ware—some 700 miles away in the wilds of northeastern British Columbia.

The story of persistent amateur communication began when Fred McDonald, operator of station VE7AFR, was listening to his set in the early evening. He picked up station VE7OW, Fort Ware, calling any fellow amateur with an emergency message.

The Fort Ware operator stated that a woman was in great pain at the northern outpost, suffering, apparently, from appendicitis, and that a plane should be sent in for her.

McDonald acknowledged the message and promised to make contact. He asked the Fort Ware operator to stand by for advice on progress.

Then, McDonald went into action. He phoned Frank Parlette, operator of station VETANK, and asked him to try and contact Prince George. He also got in touch with W. W. Wrathall and asked him to contact Burns Lake or Fort St. James on his VE7LK station.

Mr. Wrathall was able to reach W. S. Lake of station VE7UQ at Burns Lake who, in turn, got in touch with Fort St. James by telegraph. Mr. Leake is Canadian Government Telegraphs operator at Burns Lake.

An hour and three-quarters after the original message had been received, word was passed to Fort Ware that there was a plane at Fort St. James but no pilot. An hour later, Prince George reported a similar predicament.

Shortly afterward, VE7AAU at Prince George was in direct communication with Fort Ware and arrangements were being made to have a plane flown in as soon as possible.

War Not Impossible—St. Laurent Should Be Realistic, Says Canadian Prime Minister

MONTREAL (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today that a person would lack "most elementary realism" to consider that another war was an impossibility. "There is no doubt that war is avoidable and I am sure that, if we follow our present firm policy, we can avoid war," he said, "but one would have to be lacking in almost elementary realism to consider war an impossibility."

Mr. St. Laurent spoke at a Richeieu Club luncheon. He blamed Russia for current international unrest.

FIGHT CATERPILLARS WITH IMPORTED WASPS

JOHANNESBURG—Many fruit-growers and bee-keepers fear that the thousands of parasite wasps, being imported from the United States to attack the karo caterpillar pest in South Africa, will eventually grow into an army of bee-killers and fruit stingers.

Such fears are groundless, said an official of the Department of Agriculture. These insects, he said, resemble the wasp only in appearance, and do not have the same habits or appetites.

They are only a quarter to a third of an inch long, and it will take years to ascertain just how effectively they are attacking the karo caterpillar.

The reasons for importing these insects, it was stated, is that the natural parasites which attack the caterpillar are not doing their work properly, and the pest is increasing. The parasite wasp attacks different species of caterpillar including the cutworm, the bollworm and also the common meal moth.

WORKS GRANTS IN THIS DISTRICT UP—NEW BRIDGES—CLEMMENTS—TLELL JOB

Works maintenance grants for Prince Rupert, Northern British Columbia for the year 1950, announced by Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works and the Legislature yesterday are substantially Prince Rupert grant for the coming year is $80,000 with $61,000 last year.

Complete reconstruction of the Port Clements-Tlell Highway on Queen Charlotte Islands and, as announced yesterday, reconstruction of the highway from Prince Rupert to Port Edward and a section of the highway in the vicinity of Kitwanga west of Hazelton.

Bridges expected to be built in Skeena riding during the coming year include Porphyry Creek, $50,000, and Skeena suspension, $150,000.

Prince Rupert Benefits

PRINCE RUPERT gets at least one very satisfactory item under the highway program for the province as announced yesterday in the Legislature by Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works. That is the taking over of the responsibility for maintenance as an arterial highway of 2.61 miles of city roads and streets from the city limits along Shawatlans road, Frederick Street, Eleventh Avenue and McBride Street to the Civic Centre corner. The fight for an arterial highway classification has long been pressed for by city council, Chamber of Commerce and other organizations following the Goldenberg recommendations of some years ago and it is gratifying that the government has decided to do something. This section of the city streets will be largely taken off the city's hands and, besides the city saving money, it should mean a good road. It is to be noted that the termination of this arterial highway is at the Civic Centre. It had been hoped that arterial highway classification might have been carried through further towards the west end of the city. Maybe something will come of that later.

CANDY FROM KIDS

BEING "mean enough to take candy from a kid" isn't a good basis for political popularity. Few public careers are built upon such a reputation. That's one reason why Finance Minister Abbott is understood to be unhappy about the penny nuisance taxes on candy and soft drinks.

They've been in effect since 1942. Canada's kindergarten and public school set has never known or doesn't remember that a nickel used to buy a bottle of pop or a chocolate bar. But a lot of youngsters have grown old enough to vote in the years since the taxes were imposed as a wartime measure.

The taxes are still in effect—30 percent on confectionery and chewing gum and 25 percent plus one cent a bottle on soft drinks. People have got used to paying them but that doesn't mean they like them.

Consumption of soft drinks is actually increasing. More and more people are daily required to dig up an extra two cents for a five-cent bottle of pop. Each time they are reminded that a government with a surfeit of surpluses still stoops to filching pennies from Junior's piggy bank.

These extra pennies flooded $18.6 million into the federal treasury in the year ending March 31, 1947. The following year they totalled $23.7 million, and in the nine months ending last December 31 the take was $20.7 million, indicating an annual rate of around $27 million.

This averages out at about $2 apiece for every Canadian. Children, however, are the chief consumers so they must be paying far more.

Bottlers say the saving would be passed on to the purchasers if the tax was abolished. Generations of youngsters and their parents would appreciate it if Mr. Abbott decided it would be a timely gesture to include it in his next Budget speech in May.

Personalities
Jim Flaten was born October 9, 1930 in Edmonton, Alberta. He came to Prince Rupert in 1937 and has made his home here ever since. When it comes to playing basketball it is generally conceded that Jim has no peer. At the present time he is the star of this year's Bo-Me-Hi team which recently defeated the Duke of Connaughts and earlier captured the Southern Alaska championship by defeating Kay Hi. A prolific scorer, Jim can usually be relied on to come through in great form when the going is tough. In the proposed coming series for the B.C. Championship Jim will be bearing a load on his shoulders in the capacity of floor captain.

Bo-Me-Hi's May Travel To New Westminster Basketball Finals

There have been a considerable number of inquiries as to whether the Bo-Me-Hi Basketball Team will enter the Provincial Inter-High School Championships at New Westminster on March 26, 27 and 28. The team's travelling depends on a number of things. These championships are under the sponsorship of the Department of Education and Department regulations state that the Principal must certify that all pupils taking part have a satisfactory scholarship record, that is, have passed in all subjects and that they are good citizens for the school. This last means that all pupils travelling must co-operate with other pupils and teachers on all occasions and must act at all times and in all places in such a way as to reflect credit and not discredit upon the school. The members of the team are now taking tests to clarify their academic standing. Of course, when it has been decided by the school, permission of the Board is necessary as a final step. It would then appear that whether the team travels rests in a large measure upon the members of the team.

There is, of course, one further obstacle and that is financing. As it is impossible on account of the dates to secure a return fare with any one company it will be necessary to go down by the Union and back by the Canadian National. This means extra fare. It would cost the school approximately $1,000 to send the team to the tournament. The Students' Council has not got $1,000. It is hoped citizens of the town will be sufficiently interested in financing such a trip.

SATURDAY SERMON

STRAIGHT AND NARROW
By Archdeacon E. Hodson, St. Peter's Anglican Church
1 Peter 1: 5: "Kept by the Power of God."

There are many Christians who think that the most important thing in life is the matter of their conversion and it is a most important matter indeed. But there is something else of almost equal importance which some of us forget. It is the vital matter of being kept on the straight and narrow road. We all know how easily we are led astray and the most earnest ones realize that it needs some power not our own to keep our feet in the right path.

In the verses before my text St. Peter says that God's people are heirs "to an inheritance incorruptible, and undimmed, and that fadeth not away." Then he adds that they are "kept by the power of God."

God not only saves but keeps. Let us think for a moment or two of what the text does NOT mean.

I do not think that it means that we are kept altogether from sinning. God is "able to guard you from stumbling," as St. Jude tells us in the twenty-fourth verse of his epistle. Yet, as a matter of fact, "If we say that we have no sin we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us." Nor do I think it means that we are kept from sorrow. The shadows of life fall on the Christian's pathway and the Christian's home as they do on those of any other men. God has promised that one day He will wipe all tears from their eyes but the time is not yet. Nor does this text teach that we shall be kept from all danger. Accidents and fatalities are the common lot of all. Nor are we kept from sickness. Some of God's greatest saints have been most grievously afflicted. Yet even here God is specially present for do we not read that "God makes all his bed in his sickness?"

Nor are we kept from the presence of temptation. Our Lord Himself was not free from that testing.

God has nowhere promised that we shall be free from temptation in this world, though He has said: "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man, but God is faithful, who will with the temptation provide a way of escape that we may be able to bear it."

What the text does mean is that among all the changes and chances of this mortal life the Christian soul is in the hands of God and there can no real harm befall him.

"As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about His people henceforth forever."

How will the home tomorrow be paid?

The home of tomorrow will have many conveniences unknown today.

But tomorrow, as today, few people will be able to afford to buy or build such homes for themselves. Most people will need help. And many will turn to a loan from thousands of "insurance partners."

These partners are the nation's great life insurance owners. Part of every dollar in premiums is set aside to be invested for the future. And some of these funds, in turn, are invested in home mortgages.

Other life insurance dollars are invested in government bonds to help build bridges, schools, power plants and harbours — all that help the nation's great industries grow.

So every life insurance owner not only helps promote progress, create jobs and improve communities from coast to coast.

NEW MEMBERS OF JOB'S DAUGHTERS

Seven new members were initiated last night at the monthly meeting of the local Bethel of Job's Daughters. They were Shirley Haugan, Isabel Taylor, Mary Lou Lund, Agnes Smith, Dolly Smith, Joan Smith and Janet Rackow.

During the social period following the meeting bingo was played, a cake march enjoyed and refreshments served.

Two raffles turned out to be quite a family affair. A pair of pillow cases donated by Mrs. J. A. Teng was won by Mr. Teng. A pair of mitts, donated by Mrs. H. Mork, was won by her daughter, Solveig Mork.

Robert Joyce, local manager of Kelly-Douglas Co., left on yesterday's plane for a brief business trip to Vancouver.

H. G. T. Perry, president and managing director of the Prince Rupert Daily News Ltd, arrived in the city from Prince George yesterday afternoon and will be here for the coming week on business.

Arthur David Campbell was fined $10 and costs or seven days in jail when he pleaded guilty to being intoxicated in a public place, in city police court this morning. He was taken into custody by the police at 1:30 this morning.

A Crippled Veteran will thank YOU

A crippled veteran is destined to spend the rest of his life—in hospital. Wouldn't you like to lend a hand to make his lonely, monotonous life more interesting? Wouldn't you like to support the Red Cross lodge, for instance, where he can entertain friends or relatives in homelike surroundings? Wouldn't you like to bring him periodic gifts of cigarettes, candies or fruit, or to provide handicraft instructions to help make his days interesting and useful?

It is YOUR Red Cross that is continually carrying on this work among disabled veterans all over Canada. Your Red Cross is providing Free Blood Transfusion Service to save lives, supporting Outpost Hospitals in far northern settlements, sending relief wherever disaster strikes, extending help to suffering humanity everywhere. Your continued—your increased support is urgently needed to carry on and extend this great work. Give.

Red Cross services also include: Treatment for Crippled Children, Nutrition Services, First Aid and Home Nursing Courses, Swimming and Water Safety, Women's Work Activities, etc.

Many Modern Fashions
Known to Egyptian Gals
in 2,000 B.C.

CAIRO, C.—The women of ancient Egypt could teach some of their modern sisters a trick or two. A visit to the local museum demonstrates this.

Modern wives please note: Tahatre (231 B.C.) who knew her man, Imhote, had a roving eye, pinned him down in black and white. The documents, attested by 16 witnesses, had clauses like this:

"I have made you my wife. To the children that you bear me shall belong all that is mine and that I may acquire. I give you so many measures of wine, silver and oil to secure your food and drink for every year. Should I turn you out, I will give you 50 staters of silver. Should I take another wife beside you, I will give you 100 staters of silver." (A stater was a Grecian coin of varying denomination).

Not content with that alone, Tahatre kept handy a nice little jewelled copper dagger.

MODISH WOMEN
Miss Egypt (2000 B.C.) anticipated the now fashionable stole for evening wear. There are examples in the museum that would be perfect with a plain black dress today.

Teen-agers of those days would incorporate the names of their boy friends in the design of their jewelry just to show that it was honorably acquired. Nefertiti, Tutankhamen's wife had a cosmetic cupboard that would shame all the beauty shops of today. She ordered by the gallon in beautifully carved alabaster jars. Also, she made sequins popular and the modern sequin-embroidered collars are poor imitations of those she ordered by the dozen.

The latest spring fashions show many types and styles of pleating but the Theban dress-makers of 2000 B.C. used one style not yet tried by modern designers. They cross-pleated linen at right angles to give robes a checked effect.

Portraits of Roman women of 30 B.C. give jewelry styles now on show in London — drop earrings, three-string choker necklaces. And these same Roman misses wore the tulip-cut hair style, popular choice of today's new short-cuts.

HUNTINGDON, Eng., C.—For more than 40 years Henry J. Twigden issued car licences from the county finance offices here. He was recently fined $4 soon after his retirement, for driving without a licence.

BROADSTALLS, Eng., C.—Champion police rifle shot of Kent, Police Constable Arthur, 42, scored nine "possibles"—full points of 100—a 99 and two 98's in his match card. Average was 99.58.

of 300 members, have arrived in Australia to settle. The remainder will travel here as soon as shipping can be arranged.

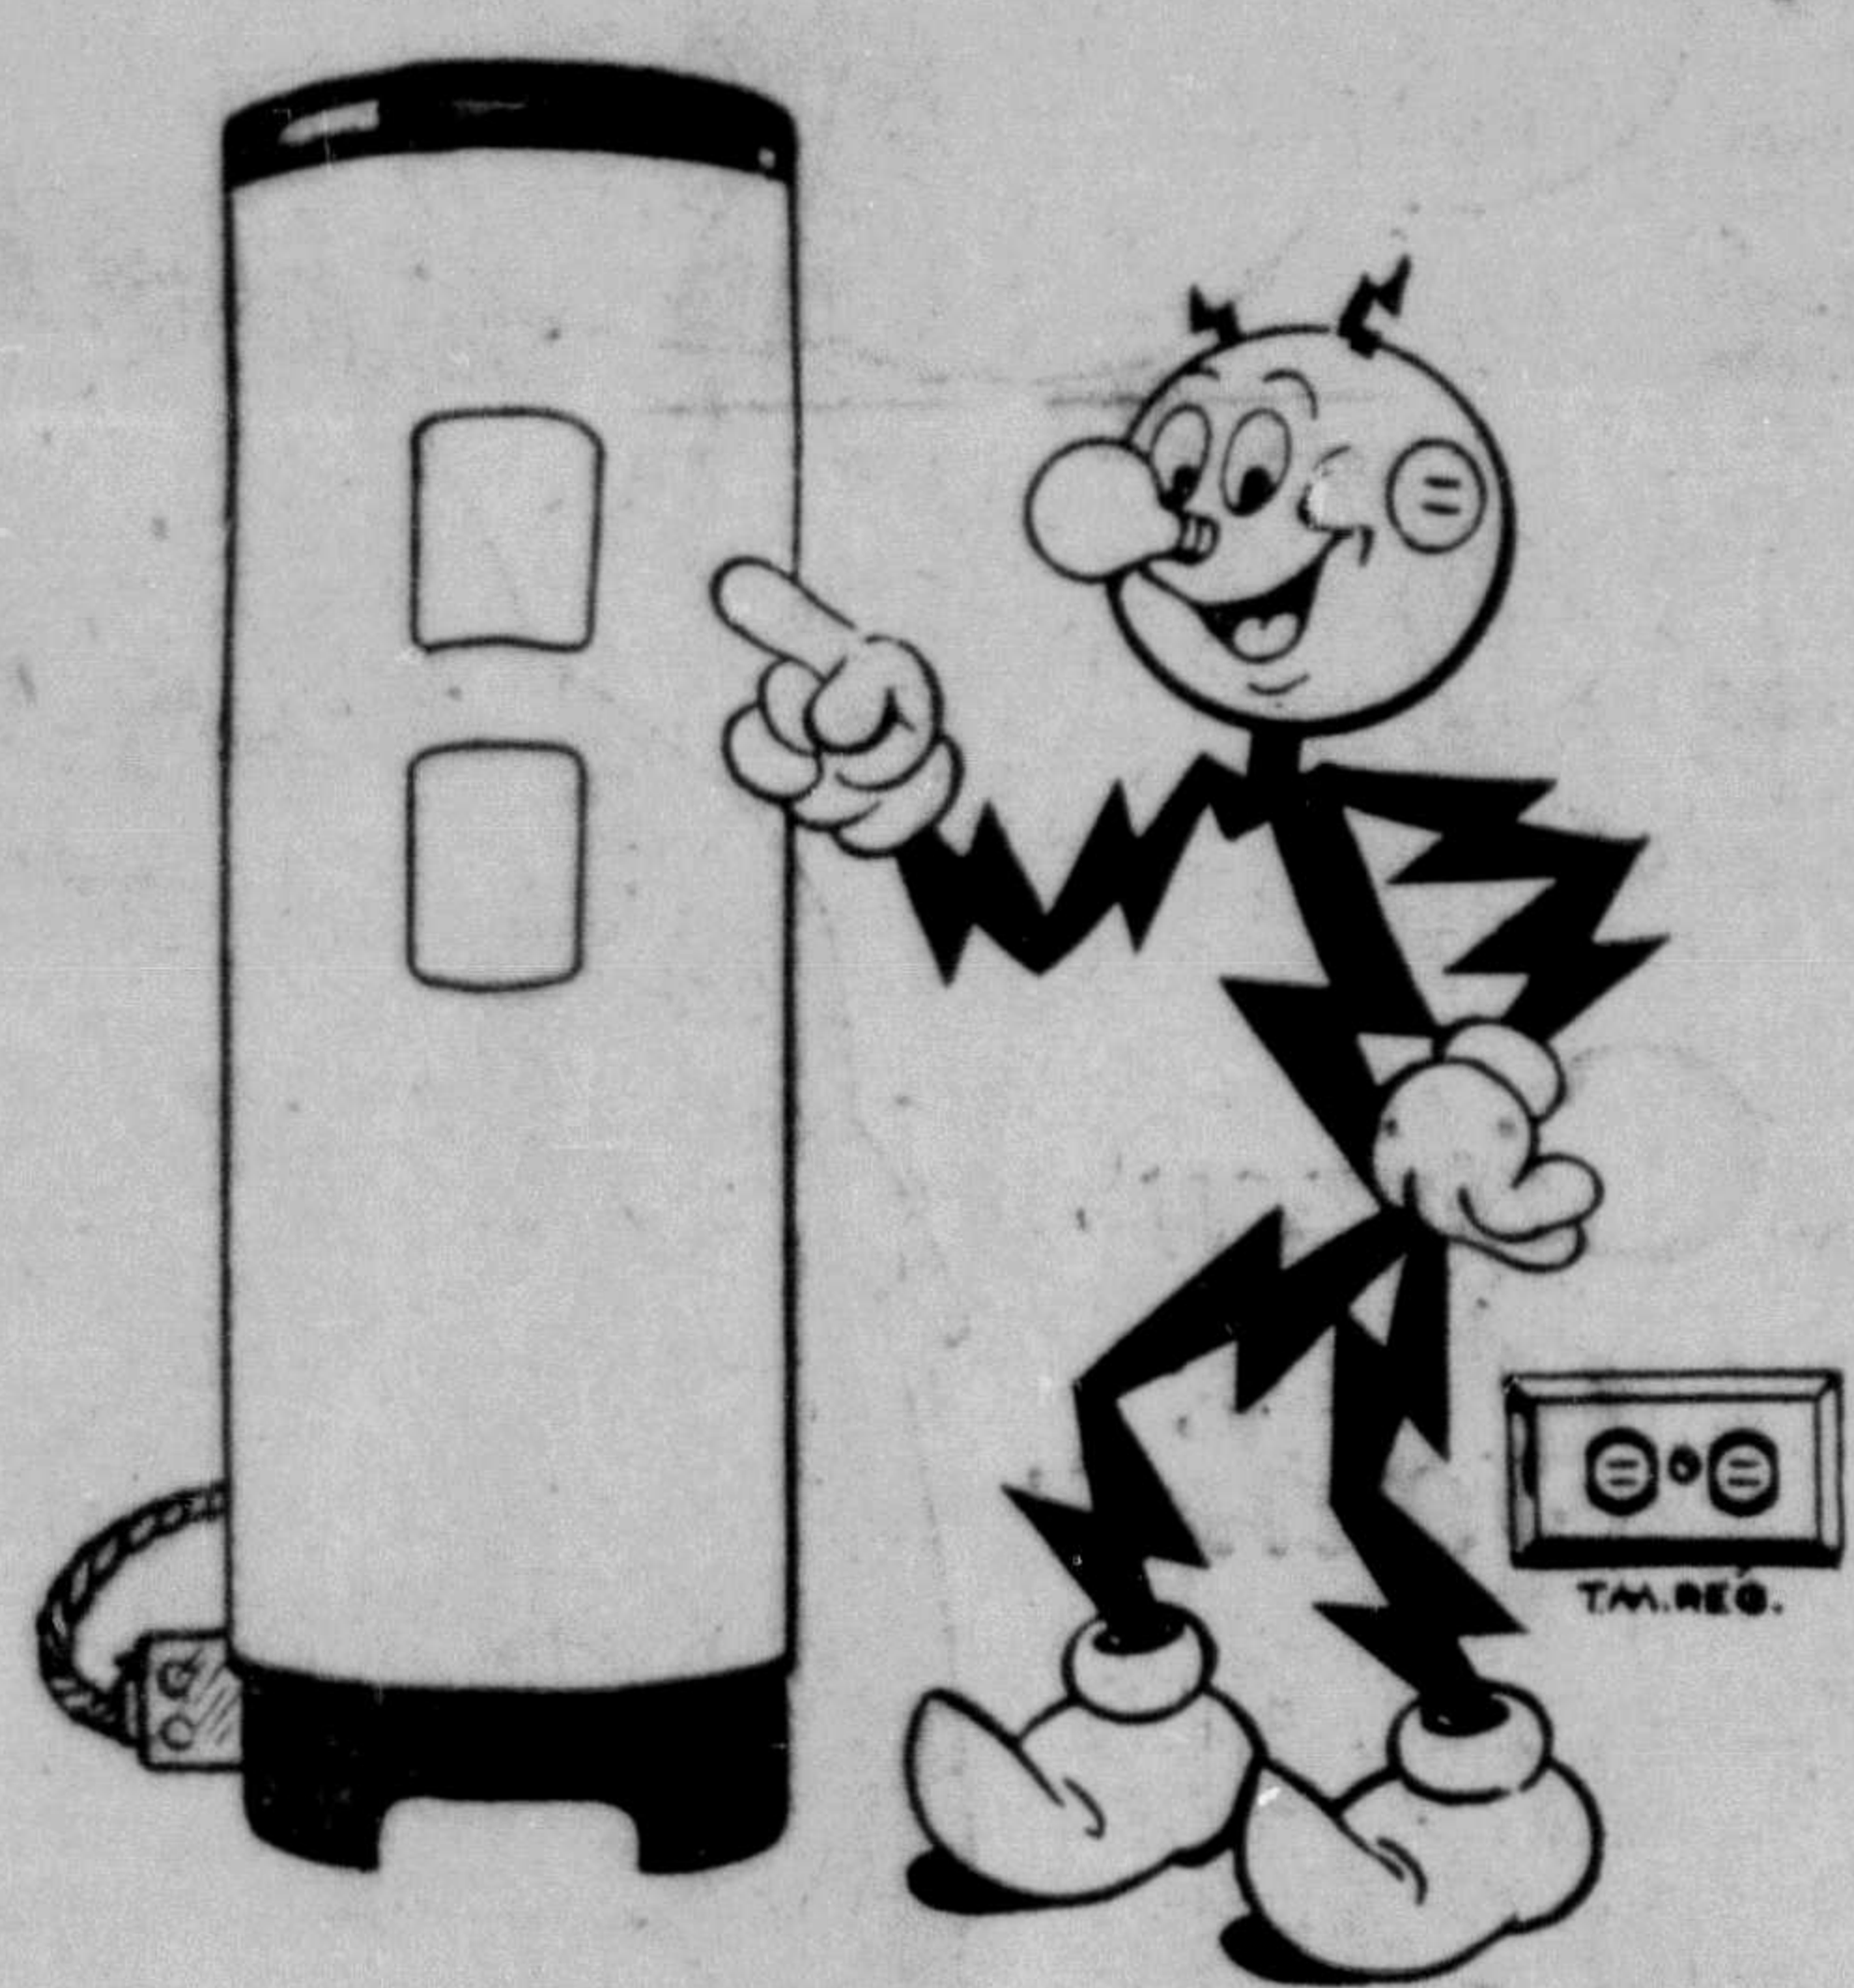

An industrious, farming people they are descended from the followers of the German theologian, Christopher Hoffman, who led them into Palestine in 1860 with the stated intention of preserving and improving the spiritual and economic development of the Holy Land.

The British government moved them from Palestine to Cyprus when fighting between the Jews and Arabs flared up following the withdrawal of British troops.

They were granted permission to migrate here on condition they did not attempt to form a Tenplar sect in Australia, but would live among the people. They will bring with them assets worth around $10,000,000.

The sect rejects orthodox Christian beliefs and base their religious life on the Old Testament prophecies.

Seiners Head For Queen Charlottes—Canning Clams Here—Beam Trawlers Are Operating

With the completion of the herring season on the north coast, a few seiners have gone to the Queen Charlottes to prospect an area that in the last few years has failed to yield any of the silver fish. A couple of boats have set out to investigate herring signs off the Islands.

All along the coast the herring fleet has returned to port to fit out for other types of fishery later in the season. The herring season this year was one of the best in recent years from the fishermen's standpoint and certainly one of the largest from the standpoint of number of tons of fish caught.

Clam digging and canning is under way in the district. Miller's cannery at Seal Cove is putting up clams, the only cannery on the north coast now doing so. The clams are being dug by natives in Kitkatla Inlet, Porcher Island, and on the west coast of Dundas Island. Clam diggers are being paid 1½ cents a pound on the grounds and 1¾ cents delivered at the cannery for unshelled clams.

Eight beam trawlers are operating in Hecate Straits at the present time, delivering cargoes both to Prince Rupert and Vancouver with fair regularity, despite a recent drop in the price of flatfish. Prices dropped by as much as a cent to a cent and a half a pound a short time ago. Among the various types of fish caught by the trawlers, sole are now bringing four cents a pound where formerly they brought five. Prices are somewhat higher in Vancouver, which accounts for the movement of some of the catches direct to that port.

A resolution opposing current "red baiting" in Canada will be presented by the Prince Rupert local, United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, to the fifth annual convention of the provincial union at Vancouver on March 21. The resolution was among several which have been approved by the local.

At a meeting of the local in the Metropole Hall Thursday night, Angus Macphie and R. L.

Gardiner, union secretary, were appointed as delegates to the convention. They will carry with them, in addition to the anti-red-baiting resolution, briefs urging changes in the income tax, unemployment insurance, provincial labor legislation and the open sale of margarine.

FINAL SESSION OF CO-OPERATIVE

Speeding up of the installation of a breakwater and the completion of a road to the new fishermen's floats at Westview Bay on the west end of the waterfront was urged at the general meetings of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative held here this week. A strong resolution on these matters, which have been hanging fire for some time, was passed for submission to the federal Department of Public Works. Other resolutions urged the federal government to dredge the Delkatla Slough near Massett and to install a breakwater for the protection of the trolling fleets which assemble there.

The meeting approved a differential of 2½¢ per pound between camp-landed fish and fish delivered to port.

The Co-op gathering spent some time in consideration of conservation matters, much interest being displayed both in conservation and curtailment.

A standing committee on conservation was appointed to consist of Barney Roald, O. Olafson, Nels Ruud, Ivor Eidsvik and John Carpenter.

It was also decided to ask the authorities, before granting power rights to industrial interests, to ascertain from the Department of Fisheries that fishery spawning areas would not be adversely affected.

Advance prices for fish in 1949 were discussed and it was left to the local board of directors and the board of the British Columbia Co-operative Federation to decide on these.

The meeting accepted an invitation of the University of British Columbia to an organizing conference with co-operative fishermen late in March when matters of interest to all fishermen will be taken up.

Delayed somewhat by low fog along the coast, the Union steamer Coquitlam, Capt. Harry McLean, docked here at 1:45 Friday afternoon on her weekly sailing from Vancouver. She sailed last night for Massett and Port Clements for her fortnightly trip to the north island. She carried nine passengers for Prince Rupert and one from Vancouver to Port Clements.

WAR MEMORIAL

Hockey Star One of Second World War Heroes Commemorated

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont., (C.P.)—This Northern Ontario town's new community centre has been completed as a memorial to 44 men who died in action during the Second World War.

Their names are emblazoned on a bronze tablet at the entrance to the hockey rink as a constant reminder to the town-folk of their sacrifice.

Among the names is that of Pilot Officer Haddo Eric Von Bruce, former hockey star, who died at his air gunner's post in a Halifax bomber over Germany. A bruising defenceman, Bruce was considered the town's most colorful and fearless player.

grandfather, it was the proudest day of his life when the tablet there to a hockey star, whose failing eyes could not discern the letters. Almost blind now, Bruce waited for the sunniest day of the week so that he could distinguish the outlines of the structure. "And some of these days there to a hockey star, whose bunch of blurs in my eyes, but in my mind see Haddo again." Advertise in the
