

Canada's Weather Chief Is Baffled

Reason For Change In Conditions Is Obscure

OTTAWA (C.P.)—Andrew Thompson, O.B.E., chief of Canada's Meteorological Service, is baffled at Canada's changing weather conditions. He is "amazed at the displacement in Canada's weather pattern." He said today that "the reason is obscure" why the West should have seven weeks of such cold weather while it has been abnormally warm in the East and why it should be colder in Vancouver than on the Arctic coast.

Mild Weather Will Continue

Snow flurries and clouded skies are expected to continue through today and tomorrow with a probable change in wind direction. Although scattered snow flurries and wind this morning seemed a prelude to colder weather, the weatherman assured temperatures to remain about the same as yesterday and early this morning—unless, he added, the present southeasterly winds shift to northwest. It may then become slightly chillier. Maximum reading yesterday afternoon was 34 above, apparent by melting snow and warm soothing air. The mercury dropped to 32 above overnight.

Robert Henry Fuller Passes

Veteran of World War I, and a resident of Prince Rupert for thirty-one years, Robert Henry Fuller, 74, passed away last night in Prince Rupert General Hospital where he had been a patient for a few days. He resided at 107 Eleventh Street and had been in failing health for the past few months. For many years Mr. Fuller was identified with canneries on the Skeena River and, during World War II, had been a security guard in the city. He was born in England and served during the first war in France with the 220th Battalion of the Canadian Army. Surviving relatives include two daughters, Mrs. John Elyotson and Miss Alice Maude Fuller of Prince Rupert, and two sons, Edward and Robert Fuller of Vancouver. Deceased was a widower and has a sister in England.

Current disbursements under Canada's Family Allowance Act are about $271,000,000 a year.

ALL LOST IN CRASH

THE HAGUE—The wreckage of a Royal Dutch Airlines DC-3, missing on a flight from Schiphol Airdrome, Amsterdam to London, with freight and mail, was found in the sea early today about 50 miles west of The Hague, according to the Dutch Navy Rescue Service. The 1,579-ton Danish steamer Rigmor was stated to be standing by the wreck. Five British aircraft from England took off to help the plane — with a crew of seven, including six trainees—left Schiphol Airfield at 3 a.m. No survivors have been sighted.

MORE SIGNALS HEARD

WHITEHORSE, Yukon—Two more radio signals, one of them a reported voice transmission, were picked up last night in the Smith River area where searchers yesterday concentrated effort in the week-long hunt for a missing C-54 transport plane and its 41 occupants. Air Commodore Martin Costello of Winnipeg, co-ordinator of the joint United States-Canadian search, said the second signal was picked up by a C-54. "Two planes from Fort Nelson (B.C.) have been sent to investigate," he said.

INDO CHINA FIGHTING

BANGKOK—The Viet Nam news service said today troops of rebel leader Ho Chi-Minh had killed and wounded 4,000 to 20,000 Chinese Nationalist soldiers attempting to cross the French Indo-China border. The Chinese were moving under French fighter plane cover during the last two weeks, the news service said today troops French and has been recognized by Russia and the Communist China regime. The Nationalist, the service said, were encircled at Nagiao between the Chinese border and Cao Bang Jan. 14.

NEW URANIUM FIND

QUEBEC—L'Evenement-Journal says today in a front page story that "important deposits of uranium" have been discovered in Charlevoix County in an area covering 40 square miles. The newspaper says the deposits extend from St. Simeon, about 150 miles down the river from Quebec to the Saguenay River. L'Evenement says a delegation of Charlevoix County residents is scheduled to meet Premier Duplessis and cabinet ministers Friday and will ask for an extension of the Quebec-Charlevoix Highway to St. Simeon to allow development of a new mining centre.

NURSES BATTLE EPIDEMIC—Beaver village, primitive Indian settlement in Halfway Valley in the wild mountain country west of the Alaskan Highway, was stricken with a diphtheria epidemic in December. Of the 52 natives living there, 48 were victims of the disease which claimed five lives. Two nurses, Miss Aileen Bond of Kelowna, B. C. and Miss Amy Wilson, an Indian Affairs Department nurse, volunteered their services. Taken to the village by plane, truck, horse sleigh and finally on foot, the two waged a successful battle for three weeks to curb the attack. This photo shows Miss Wilson arriving at an Indian settlement with her medical kit. (C. P. Photo)

ARRIVES FOR TREATMENT—One of six polio victims from St. Augustin, Que., is shown being carried from an R.C.A.F. plane at Montreal's Dorval Airport after being flown 1,000 miles from the remote settlement on the Quebec-Labrador border for treatment. The six children were brought to Montreal after a polio epidemic in the village resulted in the death of two other children last week. (C. P. Photo)

APPLY PADLOCK LAW—Two members of Montreal's anti-subversive squad look at the padlocked door of a Jewish school in the north end of the city after the building was raided Jan. 27 because of alleged Communist activities there. The padlock orders were issued by Premier Maurice Duplessis in his capacity as Quebec's attorney-general. (C. P. Photo)

Truman on Atom— Inspection Demanded

WASHINGTON D. C. (C.P.)—President Truman made it plain today that the United States stands by its demand for inspections before outlawing atomic weapons including the projected new hydrogen bomb. He said he does not propose to use the hydrogen bomb order as basis for a new move on the international control front. The United States government, he added, favors international controls with rigid inspections.

Vancouver Rail Line Cleared

VANCOUVER—Canadian National Railways officials here announce that the company's Vancouver line has been cleared following a 12-day struggle by a mighty force of men and machines against snowslides which have blocked the roadbed since the night of January 19. Railway cuts having been widened to allow for handling of the longer passenger cars, eastbound passenger service was resumed yesterday with a train leaving Vancouver over C.N.R. lines at 8 p.m. A westbound passenger train arrived in Vancouver over CNR lines this morning. Two freight trains, reported earlier as being detoured last night between New Westminster and Kamloops, one in each direction, will now be handled over the Canadian National's own line. The C.N.R. also commenced movement through to the Pacific Coast yesterday of a number of cars of coal which have been accumulating at Boston Bar, about 20 miles east of the area which has just been cleared.

RAILWAYMEN ARE CONGRATULATED

MONTREAL—The following message of commendation from Donald Gordon, C.M.G., chairman and president, Canadian National Railways, was yesterday sent to railway forces in Western Canada: "The courage, resourcefulness and devotion to duty of the Canadian National men in Western Canada and particularly on the Kamloops division in British Columbia in fighting the storm has been an inspiration to all of us in the service of the railway. I would like to convey to all officers and men who bore the brunt of the struggle my heartfelt congratulations on clearing the line for passenger and freight service."

High Grade Ore Sent to Trail

An estimated three thousand dollars worth of spectacularly high value ore from the Tide Lake property of Al Phillips in the Bear River area passed through Prince Rupert Tuesday aboard the steamer Coquitlam on the way to Trail smelter. Phillips and his associates are mining the property during the winter and are expected to get out about $10,000 worth of sacked ore for shipment. Pilot George Dalziel of Telegraph Creek is flying the ore out.

His Survival Is Miracle

Aged Casey McLeod still lives from amputation of two legs for frostbite. His two legs having been amputated near the knees because of freezing after having lain helpless for three days in his lonely waterfront cabin, Hugh (Casey) McLeod, aged 77, still lives at the Prince Rupert General Hospital. Even his surgeon, Dr. W. S. Kergin, calls it a miracle of stamina and resistance for one of such advanced years to have survived such an experience, undoubtedly the most harrowing of any during the recent cold snap in Prince Rupert.

McLeod fell out of bed following a seizure and, by the time he revived, he was too weak and helpless to move. For three days he lay there conscious. No signs of life around his dwelling, a neighbor became curious and it was then that his plight was discovered. The doctor waited long enough to observe how extensive the frostbite was and then the amputation of the two legs was proceeded with. McLeod weathered the exposure and the added shock of surgery and Dr. Kergin reports that he is "doing fine."

Premier Mine Is Back to Normal

STEWART—Silbak-Premier mine is now almost back to normal operations after the long shut-down and a force of upwards of two hundred men is on the payroll. Two trucks are engaged in transporting the concentrates down the sixteen-mile road from mine to dock here. The trucks carry supplies back in.

Herring Abundant But Prince Rupert Unable to Handle It

A great harvest of herring is being taken in waters immediately contiguous to Prince Rupert but, ironically enough, Prince Rupert plants, which earlier in the winter had been anxiously awaiting the appearance of the fish, are unable to use it now.

Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd. at Port Edward, where the reduction plant is otherwise ready to put up large quantities into edible meal and oil, is short of water with its supply from Wolf Creek almost dried as a result of the long cold, dry spell. Cold storage plant at Prince Rupert, requiring hundreds if not thousands of tons for storage as halibut bait, are unable to take the fish because they have no power for freezing, being allowed only enough for the maintenance of temperature which is vital to hold frozen stocks on hand. One of the three local plants would take 500 to 600 tons but only had 100 tons up to this morning. Meantime more than fifty seiners are operating in Eddy Pass, outside Prince Rupert, in Ogden Channel and at Racey Inlet in the south of Surf Inlet. No less than 14,000 tons have been taken from Eddy Pass since fishing resumed on Sunday after a ten-day lay-off owing to cold weather, 1440 tons in Ogden Channel and 700 tons from Racey Inlet. The herring is being taken to Butedale, Namu and as far south as Vancouver.

Good Weather

IN ANOTHER MONTH spring will be officially here even though it may not look or feel like spring. So far, since before Christmas, the season has been unlike anything previously experienced here. How often has Prince Rupert known five steady weeks of blue skies, almost unbroken sunshine, and temperatures ranging anywhere from twenty above to zero? This would be rated normal and fine winter weather in other parts of Canada but not here. What will be the city's lot, in February is anybody's guess. All that is positively known is what has taken place. What is coming can only be awaited with perhaps a few misgivings.

PENICILLIN—NOT NEW?

PEOPLE praising penicillin are prone to believe this remedy is new and in a certain sense they are right. This is, where modern times are concerned. But it was known of long, long ago, if Holy Writ is to be respected.

In Psalm 51 appears this passage—"Purge me with hyssop and I shall be clean. Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow."

Hyssop is a plant of the mint family and what is today called penicillin is believed to have been derived from it. Three thousand years ago, before the time of Christ, men were not unaware of its healing power.

"Purge me with hyssop and I shall be clean" cried the Psalmist in ancient days.

LIKE NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

THE CANADIAN INSTITUTE of Public Opinion has come up with some interesting information in regard to the popularity of newspaper advertising following a poll on the subject. Nearly two-thirds of the Canadian public thinks that advertising in the newspapers makes them all the more interesting. On the other hand, almost as preponderant a majority of the Canadian adult population believes just about the opposite in regard to radio advertising.

Sixty-four percent of the people thought that advertising added to the interest of newspapers, nine percent that it took away from the interest, 22 percent thought it made no difference and five percent had no opinion.

Twenty-eight percent of the people thought that advertising added in the interest of radio, 52 percent that it detracted, fifteen percent that it made no difference and five percent had no opinion.

The Canadian study showed that women were slightly more enthusiastic about newspaper advertising than men. In the case of radio, there was virtually no difference between the views of the two sexes. More than fifty percent of both men and women did not like radio advertising and thought it detracted from the interest of radio.

"A Spot of Comment"

... by WALLACE

IT IS NOT PERMISSIBLE

It is not permissible for the community to accept a continued make-shift in our power and water set-up. It is not permissible to continue endangering the livelihood, property and lives of our citizens with the fable of "Unusual Weather"

A correspondent signing himself "Disgusted" wrote a pointed letter to this paper about the power shortage. The paper printed the text of Clause 16 of the agreement with the power company. "Disgusted's" letter was a modulated expression of some of the opinions to be heard in the business sections of the city. "Disgusted" would be happy to know that some attempt was made, when the original power agreement was drawn, to put teeth in Clause 16.

Clause 28 (b) of the agreement provides a penalty of $1000 per day for default by the power company under Clause 16.

This clause demands the City what demands the City made under Clause 16. It is known that although the stipulated 100,000 H. P. may have been excessive, the present 8000 H. P. is sadly inadequate. If the city made no demands the Power Company cannot alone be subjected to the pointed finger—except for its failure to attract industry to the area, a city that it undertook under Clause 35 of the agreement.

Its failure in this last respect is made the more impressive by coy efforts to seek credit for the establishment of a vague "new industry adjacent to Prince Rupert."

But to return to the power deal. The winters of 1942-3; 1948-9 and this winter prove that it is not "unusual" to have severe winter weather. Indeed there have been many severe winters since the Power Corporation came into the area. They occur frequently enough that to hide behind an Act of God clause in a contract and refuse to recognize the necessity of corrective measures is not permissible. Nor is it cricket to set off a barrage of criticism of a non co-operative citizenry. We know that an Act of God prevented a serious shortage last winter. Rain rescued us at the last moment. Whether or not the Moose Hall could have been saved this winter had there been pressure in the mains is an open question. But in Vancouver, there is no question that fire on Third Avenue or in some residential sections, would completely destroy many a livelihood or burn many a home before being stopped by Providence or an empty lot—if water was not to be had with plenty of pressure.

It might have been permissible, before we became aware of its cost, to permit a financially struggling company to leave untraced expensive development steps to which it was committed. But now that the cost is known it is no longer permissible.

It might have been permissible twenty-one years ago, to permit a power corporation to draw from our source of City water supply with only the precautionary undertaking that "they will not reduce the level of the waters in such a manner as to prevent the flow of water to the water main of the City."

But in the light of what we know now it is no longer permissible. It might have been permissible twenty-one years ago to exploit the good nature of the Gods by gambling that no fires would occur during a low-pressure water period. But in the light of today's crowded schools, hospital and public buildings and the higher loss possibilities to life and property, it is no longer permissible.

It is true that we hoped to develop this city far more extensively than was actually accomplished. It is true that many measures were taken merely as makeshifts until the dawn of the Great Development. That was permissible. But the makeshifts became permanent fixtures by force of circumstances. It is not permissible to refuse to set aside the make-shift now.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Willan and two small sons left Tuesday on there been pressure in the the Coquitlam for a holiday visit mains is an open question. But in Vancouver.

LETTERBOX

PRICE OF BREAD
Editor, Daily News:
Did I hear rumblings? Oh, yes, I've been hearing them for some time but now they seem to have a different tone. The City Fathers used to take particular note of these rumblings. At one time they used to be their weather vane. And what are the latest rumblings about? Just one little commodity—bread, the little loaf, the old staff of life itself on which depends the health of the people and of the next generation. Even the fisherman uses bread for it is said that one cannot live on fish alone.

Why the rumblings of the working man? Well, it's because he only gets seven loaves for his dollar and his dollar is worth only 52c here today. That is why so many people only stay here about a month because they cannot make ends meet. This is the reason for the helpless look on the face of that housewife with those three or four children who can make so much bread disappear in such a short time. Or again, there is the old pensioner living out his sorry existence in his one room shack rather than be a burden to anyone else. The difference in the price here compared with what it is in other places might do him for a week or it could buy that baby more than one pair of shoes in a year.

Science today can work wonders with a bag of flour. The actual baking of bread is a mass production process in modern bakeries—mixed by machinery, a little time for baking—mix, bake and wrap, load and it is ready for the market. When the flour can be bought by the car and, with a warehouse, it is so many bags to the boxcar, so many loaves to the bag. And a baker always watches his market.

I think it is insulting to the intelligence of the people to blame the freight alone for our advanced price. No baker depends on bread alone. He has his pastry, his cakes, his biscuits, his wedding cakes, his birthday cakes, all of which bring him quite a revenue.

The restaurants have a reduced price—but what about the little working man, the best customer in any town. He is a good man until he asks for credit. Oh but no. It is the dollar only in which we trust.

Ray Reflects . . .
. . . and Reminisces

The drinking of water is not at all uncommon in Prince Rupert. That being the case, the advice of physicians that it be boiled, if not coming through uninterrupted mains, is worth heeding.

If a man has everything a woman could ask for, she usually does. — Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph.

To take a voyage around the world, as a local old timer is doing, means money well spent. Others in the course of a year or less, see, quite a number of different times, that part of the globe between Prince Rupert and Vancouver. And perhaps, there is little difference in cost.

It has long been the unhappy practice to call cigarettes "coffin nails." High time to abandon such a custom. There is no point to it. Nails do not cost two cents each.

Something was said last week about lamps being with us again

Perhaps it's reminding Thomas Richard and Henry of the days when they trudged home with a gallon of kerosene, with half a potato stuck in the spout to keep from spilling. Chances are they were also given chimneys to polish and wicks to trim. But don't think for a moment oil lamps have become extinct. There are thousands still shedding their soft light in out-of-the-way spots in Canada. And they don't give a tinker's hallelujah how cold it becomes or what the water does.

Prince Rupert is to have a pound keeper. Most people like dogs but there come moments when one's regard might possibly be reconsidered. A pound is a necessity in a town of this size. And every dog should have an owner who thinks enough of his property to take care of him. If he neglects this, then it's a case for the pound with all that this implies. It's kindness to end the days of a diseased, half starved ownerless pooch. And rampaging dogs can also become a nuisance even on Prince Rupert's main business street.

Try Libby's Winter-Style!
CANADA'S FAVOURITE TOMATO JUICE

Try it steaming hot. Serve it this way on cold blustering days when the children come home from school or back from play. It's delicious—garden-fresh and flavour-rich. To prepare it this way, heat through, but don't boil. Libby's is an excellent dietary source of the vitamins A and C which you want to protect because an insufficiency of these vitamins lessens resistance to colds and other winter infections. See that your family enjoys at least one big glassful of Libby's every day.

WORLD EVENTS IN PICTURES

HARDER TO SELL WITHOUT COUPONS — Last food item to be taken off the ration list in Paris was coffee. Now it is "free" again, which means that it may be purchased for cash but without ration coupon. One would imagine that Frenchmen, coffee lovers all, would be rushing to buy coffee now, but this salesman seems to be having a time of it attracting customers.

BUSY DAYS FOR STOCK TRADERS — A sudden drop in stock market prices has kept traders busy on Canadian and U.S. exchanges recently. Experts say it is a technical reaction to the steady bull trend since June. This scene in the Toronto stock exchange is being repeated all over the continent with millions of shares changing hands.

ROYAL LINES ARE JOINED — Archduke Charles of Hapsburg, fifth son of the late Emperor Charles of Austria, is seen fingering the fountain pen here signing the register, while his bride, Belgium's 24-year-old Princess Yolande de Ligne, looks demurely on. The wedding held in the tiny village of Boleil in Belgium, united two of Europe's greatest families; the Bourbons and the Hapsburgs. The young couple will make their home in New York.

SKATING STAR EVADES REDS TO INVADE CANADA — Inspired to flee Communist-dominated Hungary by world champion, Barbara Ann Scott, whom she met two years ago at Olympic games at St. Moritz, Switzerland, Andrea Kekezy, 22, world pairs figure skating champion and holder of two European pairs championships, is now in Ottawa with her husband and hoping to become a Canadian citizen. She finds Canada "ideal."

BOVINE STAR — If you are regretting the waste of all that affection on a cow, be informed that "MW Larry Domino 37th" is no ordinary bossy, but a grand champion Hereford worth $100,000. Larry is the property of Milky Way Ranch in Phoenix, Ariz. He will be a star at the Phoenix stock show next month.

REMOTE CONTROL FREIGHT YARD — Canada's most modern freight yard, pictured above, the Canadian Pacific's $9,500,000 "hump" retarder yard in Montreal, will be completed in 1950. The yard, with 76 miles of track and the only one of its type in the country, will be one of the first on the continent to make use of a new system of "push-button" switching, by which it will be possible to set all the switches necessary to move a car into a certain track merely by pushing one button in a control tower. Electrically operated retarders will control the speed of cars being "humped" in the classification section of the yard.

10 PERCENT OF TOWNSPEOPLE IS BOAST OF WINGHAM CURLING CLUB — The curling bug has bitten western town of Wingham so thoroughly its 2,600 townsfolk have curling as their winter sport. Main reason for the club membership is its new arena, built last summer by the new $20,000 artificial ice system and modern equipped club. Seen above are Mrs. R. S. Hetherington, vice-president, Mrs. Irwin and Mrs. W. W. Gurney, president of Wingham Curling club.

IN TRAINING FOR DEFENCE OF SKATING TITLE — Suzanne Morrow, figure skater at Lake Placid, N.Y., is Suzanne Morrow, figure skater who will defend her Canadian singles title at the Dominion championships to be staged at St. Catharines, Ont., Feb. 19-20. Morrow, 19-year-old Toronto girl, who will also compete in world championships set for Wembley, Eng., on March 6-7-8, is one of the few skaters to possess both the Canadian and American medals.

KRUPP FORGE PRESS FOR YUGOSLAVIA — This Krupp forge press that has been forging Krupp steel at Essen, Germany, years is being hoisted from its foundations by great cranes engaged in dismantling of the steel plant. Workers who hoisted the press in 1929 hold a sign in front of it which reads "Christmas in the Forge-Press Works, 1949." The press is sent to go to Yugoslavia as part of that country's reparations.

House of Davids Rank Pros—Manager Tells About Outfit

When Prince Rupert's amateur basketball players met this week with those hairy House of Davids it was no mean amateur concern with which they jousted. The Davids are rank professionals. They get good pay for their services and Manager George Anderson makes no bones about the fact that the House of David religious sect maintains its famous barnstorming basketball and baseball teams for the one purpose of publicizing a religious colony which, he explains, believes in both the Old Testament and the New but holds especially that man could be an eternal being physically right in this Vale of tears. Further the House of Davids are also strict vegetarians for they interpret the sixth commandment—"Thou Shalt Not Kill"—literally and they eat neither meat nor fish.

But all seven House of David basketball stars are by no means members of the Sect. They are straight paid basketball players—all except Anderson himself, he of the luxurious beard. The others have just cultivated their beards to keep in the House of David style for members of the sect never shave.

Anderson took time out during his visit to Prince Rupert to call at the Daily News office where something was extracted from him about the House of David sect and his own career as a member thereof.

George and Colony
George, although he has acquired a typical Yankee lingo, is an Australian by birth. His parents became interested in the House of David cult and brought him as an infant to Benton Harbor to join the colony. He ever had a haircut or a shave until he was 32 years of age and, when drafted into the United States Army, took with him a shock of hair extending to his waist and a beard about the same length he now wears. This was to precipitate a crisis with the brass hats later on for George refused to part with his hirsute appendages and only allowed the Army to give him a close shave after his hair attracted the attention of the generals while he was on inspection parade and they ordered him to have it all off—or go to conscientious objector's camp. Inducted in 1942, George was an instructor with ordnance for the duration. Immediately after demobilization, he returned to the House of David colony re-grew his beard and resumed his normal life therein. The House of David colony, on the outskirts of Benton Harbor, consists of about 300 members—not a large organization to be so widely publicized as its basketball and baseball teams have been instrumental in doing. There are about three hundred families. Farming is the mainstay industry but the colony also caters to tourists and even had oil wells. It is an entirely communal colony—most of the members do not touch money. All moneys go into a common fund.

as a basketballer, Bob Pottens as a baseballer as well as possibly the outstanding member of the House of David team. This is his first year in basketball for baseball is really his forte and he is now under contract to the Boston Braves organization. Last summer he played with Blue Field in the Appalachian League but this year is booked for the Denver Bears in the Western League. He has yet to actually make the Braves but has high hopes.

"I'm not making you feel like a louse, am I?"

Massei Helps Marooned Man

MASSET — John Kresnevich, who was cast up on Graham Island after drifting across Dixon Entrance in his trolling boat and then hiked from the vicinity of North Island to be rescued from the other side of Masset Inlet after one of the most harrowing experiences that any man could have survived, was taken home to Ketchikan late last week by an Ellis Air Lines plane which came over to get him. Before he left for home, native people of Masset who rescued him and ministered kindly to him, even gave a party of admiration in his honor at which an address was given by Chief Councillor George Jones. Mr. Kresnevich, while heading south from Ketchikan, started to drift on January 14 when the clutch of the engine in his trolling boat broke down at the entrance of Portland Inlet. He was washed up at midnight January 15 close to North Island. From there he hiked to the west side of Masset Inlet, paddling across Naden Harbor on an improvised raft. This journey took him five days in extremely low temperature. After three days on the far shore of Masset Inlet, the smoke of his fire was seen by Indian Superintendent J. A. Findlay and his rescue by the crew of the Masset Maid was effected. Kresnevich hopes to return here from Ketchikan within a few days with aid to get his boat off the beach and towed home. In addition to giving the party as a gesture of admiration for Mr. Kresnevich's courage and endurance under such trying circumstances, people of Masset gave contributions of cash and clothing. These included underwear from Joseph Edgema, Douglas White, Athletic Club, Harris as well as local church, Women's-Teacher, 70 Club, Sons of Mas Athletic Club and Masset Concom

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, Feb. 2nd — I do like this new trend to brassware in the home. It's the new trend to brassware in the home. It's the new trend to brassware in the home. It's the new trend to brassware in the home.

Here's a Special Special Offer for you that means you won't have to leave bitter juices or soups in the tin. The Bovril folks are offering this handy, handy Plastic Juice Container that's unbreakable, non-toxic, spill-proof and holds five cups of juice. It sells for 89c in the States, but you can get yours by simply writing to me — Barbara Brent, 1511 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. — enclosing a 35c Postal Note or postage stamps and one label from a Bovril Condensed or Concentrate bottle. (The label comes off easily when soaked in warm water for ten or fifteen minutes.) And here's how to serve BOVRIL as a delicious hot drink: Stir a teaspoonful in a cup of boiling water or milk. A cup just before bedtime always puts me right to sleep!

For That "On-top-of-the-world" Feeling — just follow this simple formula: Drink the juice of one fresh lemon in a glass of water first thing on arising! You see, unlike harsh laxatives that "tie you up in knots" this natural fruit juice gently helps your system regulate itself, helping you keep regular the healthful way! Lemons help get rid of colds, too. You just pour the juice of one lemon in a half glass of water. Then add slowly half teaspoon baking soda, and drink as foaming quills. A glass every 2 or 3 hours helps alkalize. Try hot lemonade, too, at bedtime! And always be sure to ask for SUNKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS — they're the finest, the juiciest of all!

Practice Makes Perfect... that's just one reason why HEINZ CONDENSED SOUPS are so delicious! Heinz are soup specialists—they combine long experience with great skill to bring you the very best of flavour-packed soup! There are eighteen scrumptious varieties of Heinz Condensed Soups and then there are the special soups for babies—the ready-to-serve soups for use with Heinz electric kitchens in restaurants—and soups in huge tins, also for restaurant use. But you can give yourself the taste treat of any one of the delicious Heinz Soups right at home! Tonight!

Shimmering And Clear As A Crystal Lake — and just as inviting-looking too! — JELL-O desserts are as exciting to eat as they are to see. The seven delicious "look-alike" flavours are a pick-up-to tired menus. And they allow such a variety of desserts. I'm particularly attracted to the very definite economy of Jell-O Dessert Powders. At a few cents a serving, I know of no more delicious and yet inexpensive dessert to serve to family and friends. Just about everyone in the family will have their own preference, and I'd advise you to keep a full stock of their special favourites always on hand!

ROBIN HOOD BUTTERMILK SCONES

2 cups sifted Robin Hood Flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

4 tablespoons shortening
1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons buttermilk or sour milk

Wonderful old-fashioned scones that'll melt in your mouth — brought up-to-date and made better with Robin Hood!

- Sift together flour, baking soda and salt into mixing bowl. Cut shortening into small pieces and add to dry ingredients. Blend together until mixture is mealy, using pastry blender (or two knives, cutting in with scissor-like motion).
- Make a well in the center of mixture and gradually add the buttermilk or sour milk, stirring lightly with fork. Mix only until soft dough is formed.
- Turn out onto lightly floured bakboard or pastry cloth and divide in two equal portions. Gently roll out each piece with floured rolling pin or pat out with hand into circles 1/2 inch thick. Place circles on ungreased cookie sheet and cut in quarters, but do not separate the pieces. Bake at 450°F. (very hot oven) for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 8 individual scones.

Here is the certificate containing our unique guarantee. There's one in every bag of Robin Hood.
