New Budget Is Introduced By Mr. Abbott

Only Minor Tax Changes Are Made; Good Financial Picture Brought Up To Date

OTTAWA (CP)—The 1949-50 budget was reintroduced in the House of Commons last night by Finance Minister Douglas Abbott. The new budget proposed only three minor additional tax reductions. This will reduce the tax bills of Canadians by another $11,000,000 in a full year. Mr. Abbott said that these were

The minister of finance brought the members up-to-date on the country's economic and financial position along with prospects.

The 1949-50 final revenues had turned out to be $2,771,000,000. This was three million dollars more than was estimated in March.

However, expenditures were now estimated at $2,176,000,000 which is seventeen million less than originally estimated.

This leaves a surplus for the year of $595,000,000 or $20,000,000 greater than the earlier estimate.

Mr. Abbott said that the three additional tax changes proposed would reduce the government's revenue by $5,000,000 during the remainder of the current year and about $11,000,000 during the full year.

The total of the 1949 budget reductions would amount to about $340,000,000 for this year and about $387,000,000 in a full year.

URGES SUPPORT OF CIVIC CENTRE

Membership in Prince Rupert's Civic Centre is good citizen-ship, whether one makes use of the building's facilities or not. Don Forward told the Prince Rupert Rotary Club Thursday.

The Civic Centre managing secretary cast a reflective eye on six Rotarians, whom he said had the distinction of being the only members of the club present who did not also have Civic Centre membership, either last year or currently.

"It's plain good business, whether you use the building yourself or not," he lectured his audience. "If you are too busy to enjoy the things it has to offer, you are making it possible for others, particularly the young people to do so."

The Civic Centre's value as a curb to delinquency both juvenile and adult, had been well established, he said.

Mr. Forward spoke in support of the current annual membership drive, which has a minimum object of 2,000, the highest in its history.

Guests at the weekly club luncheon meeting, in addition to Mr. Forward, were Rev. W. H. MacPherson, Vancouver, R. M. Burnett, Vancouver, Allan Armstrong and Charles Roberts.

William McLeod, manager of Queen Charlotte Airlines, was welcomed as a new member.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
The weather situation is little changed from yesterday. Last night was clear and frosty in the valleys of the southern interior. Elsewhere cloudiness kept temperatures above the freezing point. A weak disturbance over Queen Charlotte Island continues to cause occasional light rain in that region. There will be a few cloudy intervals elsewhere in the province tomorrow as moist air from the north coast spreads southward.

Forecast
Cloudy today and tomorrow with occasional very light rain. Little change in temperature. Wind light. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy and Sandspit, 45 and 50; Prince Rupert, 45 and 52.

WARNING
All water used for drinking purposes should be boiled until the present pipeline emergency is over.

DEPENDS ON U. S.
OTTAWA—Finance Minister Douglas Abbott indicated in the House of Commons last night that Canada is banking heavily on United States prosperity. Mr. Abbott, reintroducing the government's budget declared that any change in economic conditions in the United States will directly affect the level of our exports to that country. The minister told the House of Commons that any sharp downturn in American economic activity and American ability to import cannot but have sharp and embarrassing economic repercussions all over the world.

IN EVENT OF WAR
OTTAWA—The right of Parliament to extend its life beyond the normal five years in event of war was advocated yesterday by Prime Minister St. Laurent. The proposal was placed before Parliament during discussion of a government resolution asking that the United Kingdom Parliament give Canada the right to amend her constitution on federal matters.

BUM PITCHER WANTED
BROOKLYN—Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, mentioned at a conference that he is ready to trade one outfielder for a front line pitcher. It was learned that Gene Hermanski the Brooks' left handed hitting outfielder, and George (Red) Mungler, St. Louis right-handed pitcher, were among names discussed in a possible trade. Fred Saigh, St. Louis Cardinals owner, was present at the conference.

FRENCH CRISIS IS DEEPENING

PARIS—Premier Rene Mayer today was almost hopelessly stalled, informed observers said, in his efforts to form a new French coalition cabinet. Hesitancy of Socialists to enter his government is reported to be the stumbling block for Mayer a radical Socialist (moderate) who the National Assembly last night approved for the Premiership by a vote of 341 to 183.

Possibility loomed today that the only way out of the French political crisis now fifteen days old, might be the dissolving of Parliament followed by a general election.

moved that Mr. Appiewhite be communicated with regarding his availability to continue to represent this city on the province-sponsored Tourist Advisory Council.

The Tourist Advisory Council is made up of representatives of various regions in the province, who meet periodically at Victoria under the Department of Trade and Industry to aid in the formulation of plan for the B.C. Travel Bureau, which handles publicity for the province. Mr. Appiewhite was appointed a year ago and it is not yet known whether or not he will be able to continue the work.

Public Relations Council members felt that, if possible, Mr. Appiewhite should continue as Prince Rupert representative on the Tourist Advisory Council. So far in its fund-raising campaign, the Council has received $465, of which $250 came as a city grant. Treasurer R. G. Hopkins reported.

Present at the meeting were Miss Honora Silversides, Mrs. M. O. Kullander, P. H. Linzey, R. G. Hopkins, H. F. Glassey and Chairman J. K. McLeod.

Commies Sentenced

Five Year Prison Terms and $10,000 Fines Imposed
NEW YORK—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina today sentenced ten top-ranking American communist leaders to prison terms of five years each for criminal conspiracy to teach the overthrow of the United States government by force. An eleventh was sentenced to three years' imprisonment. In addition, each defendant was fined the $10,000 maximum.

The judge had delayed the sentencing of the eleven Communists until the defendants and lawyers could make statements in court. Medina denied all defence motions for an arrest of judgment, for a new trial and for acquittal. The judge said that, since the defendants had waived oral judgment and had asked to rule on their motions today, he would "take the matter up now."

Eugene Dennis, aged 44, general secretary of the Communist party, was among those sentenced.

Medina's sentencing followed a United States government recommendation that each of the convicted be sentenced to ten years' imprisonment with no fine.

KINGSTON—Two new members have been elected to the international hockey hall of fame, it was announced today. They are Art Ross, vice-president and general manager of the Boston Bruins, and Donald Bain, one of the greatest amateurs of his day.

Water Outlook Much Improved

The water situation, following the break in the Woodworth-Shawatlans main a week ago, was definitely brighter today.

With the pumping plant at Shawatlans Lake working full now and that emergency line now wide open, there was water in Acropolis Hill reservoir last night for the first time in a week. It was drained again, today, however.

Coal was delivered to the steam plant today following the capsizing of a barge on Wednesday with a load on board.

Next Tuesday is now tentatively set as the date for the restoration of the three lengths in the big line between Woodworth and Shawatlans. Between now and then it is still emphasized that water should be conserved and specially treated by pooling, from the health standpoint.

K.P. WELL, SO NOW HE'S OFF UNCLE SAM'S ARMY

THE M.P. "Sir" only officers. Gray caught on fast. He mastered intricacies of barracks life, recorded an outstanding I. Q. test at Fort Bragg, N. C., was chosen for officers training passed with flying colors and served as a staff intelligence officer with the 12th army group in Europe.

BEAR FOR WORK
Gray, now 40, inherited a fortune from his father and could be taking it easy. But he's always been a bear for work, whether at school or in business. He was an editor of the Yale Law Review and was for a time associated with a New York law firm.

He came to Washington after the war, first as Assistant Army Secretary. Shortly after he took over as secretary, a friend asked him how he got on with the career soldiers whose superior he had become, whom ranked whom, in other words?

"Well," said Gray, "I'm not sure myself. But when I came here they gave me this big desk with this panel of buttons. I push one button and Gen. Collins comes in. I push another and my staff appears. Then there's a third button—for Gen. Eisenhower. "I haven't had the nerve to push that one yet!"

PUBLICITY GROUP NEEDS PUBLICITY

Prince Rupert's Public Relations Council is doing an admirable job of selling Prince Rupert to other parts of the world, but is not selling itself to the community it is dedicated to publicize.

That was the opinion expressed at the monthly meeting of the organization in the city council chamber last night by members who felt that sponsoring groups and business should be made more aware of its accomplishments as a community publicity outlet.

As a result, the Council will organize a panel of speakers which will be available to address clubs and societies in the city to outline the background and aims of the Public Relations Council.

Founded in 1945 to act as a co-ordinated outlet for Prince Rupert's publicity, the Council derives membership from other organizations whose delegates send members. It is open to the public, who can take part in its work without cost.

Funds are derived by canvass from the city and business organizations, many of which directly benefit from the publicity. Currently, the Council is conducting its second fund-raising campaign on a three-year financing basis.

Members at last night's meeting welcomed H. F. Glassey as the new secretary, replacing E. T. Appiewhite, M.P., who resigned following his election to the House of Commons. Mrs. M. O. Kullander, representing the Business and Professional Women's Club and P. H. Linzey Chamber of Commerce representative, also were welcomed for the first time.

Need for the Council to publicize itself to the people of Prince Rupert was stressed by Miss Honora Silversides who felt that even better work could be accomplished if wider community interest were taken in its work.

City clubs and other organizations will be approached to provide speakers who will outline the background of the Public Relations Council.

The matter of a possible replacement for Mr. Appiewhite on the B. C. Tourist Advisory Council was discussed and it was

Just Another Phase

IN THE CONTINUING SERIES of "cold war" crises, the issue over the admission of Yugo Slavia to the United Nations security council becomes another phase laden with explosive possibilities—just as is the changing situation in another quarter of the globe where the Chinese Communists have almost completely conquered Nationalist China and are now approaching Hong Kong and other western-controlled strongholds.

It is to be supposed that all this is just an intensification of the same cold war in which the bulk of the victory, it can hardly be denied, has been so far with Russia.

Russia's latest threat is to withdraw altogether from the United Nations organization now that YugoSlavia has been admitted to the Security Council in a vote over Soviet-dominated Czechoslovakia. Such action, in itself, would constitute little further in the way of international deterioration since, as far as the Soviet and her Cominform satellites are concerned, the United Nations has long since become more of a fighting ground than a venue for peace making. Russia is little use in the United Nations as long as she continues her present attitude.

THE MAYOR RETIRES

WE WERE SORRY to record yesterday that our good friend Nora Arnold had decided to retire with the expiry of her term of office as mayor of Prince Rupert at the end of this year. We have known a lot of mayors in our time in Prince Rupert and can say that few, if any, have filled the office with more distinction in spite of the difficult problems with which she and her councils have had to labor.

One of the outstanding features of Mrs. Arnold's tenure, of course, was the uniqueness in itself of being a woman in the office of the mayoralty, something which, through the manner in which she filled the office, brought considerable favorable publicity to Prince Rupert.

We do not agree with Mayor Arnold's reasoning that she should retire in favor of some one younger. Surely she was not suggesting that age, in her case, should have so soon become an infirmity even if she has not enjoyed the best of health during the past year. However, it has been gratifying to note the improvement of her health during recent months following her treatment and, as we express regret at her retirement at this time, we can hope that she may later come back to public life. Meantime, she will find that there be plenty of useful things she can do in community service—services that will be limited only by her capacity and willingness to do them.

Her retirement, of course, brings up the question of a worthy successor—a matter which is of utmost importance in view of the growing crisis in municipal affairs, the various facets of which will, as we have said before, require ability, ingenuity and vision to meet and solve.

THE NIGHT SCHOOL

THE BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES is deserving of a word of commendation for the enterprise it has displayed in establishing the new night school classes which we note with pleasure opened this week with a gratifying response in the way of enrolment.

It speaks well, too, that there are so many ambitious people in the city who are interested in spending their spare time to improve their practical attainments and thus fit themselves for specialized pursuits which are becoming of increasing importance in the modern economy of service and employment.

Night schools such as this are becoming increasingly popular throughout the country and here in Prince Rupert, where winter nights are long and many complain of lack of diversion, they should become a valuable and permanent institution. In any case, it will be interesting to note the popularity and support of this winter's experiment which might well develop into an expanding program including a wide variety of courses, both practical and cultural.

Joseph Chell, inspector of a newly appointed inspector in schools, is sailing Sunday night for the southern interior, who has on the Camosun for Namu district, been here for a time familiarized on official duties. He will be in himself with inspectorial accompanied by I. H. R. Jeffery, work.

IN CIVVIES NOW—Here are the stamps in a new issue to go on sale Nov. 15 which shows King George out of the uniform he's worn on Canadian stamps since 1942. A similar series had to be replaced with these stamps when it was discovered the word "postage" had been omitted from the design. The stamps are the same size as those currently issued and the same color with the exception of the two-cent, a slightly darker brown.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Loneliness is said to be a scourge of old age. Twenty six percent of the new pensioners in British Columbia during the last three years were said to be living alone. A first rate way to have company, without being tied to it is to be reasonably prosperous and not mean.

knew what he was about to do, he reached for his gun, and down came a fellow worker instead of a porcupine. It was one of those times a fellow felt so certain—and discovered he had been mistaken.

The temporary escape from its cage in Stanley Park zoo, of an eleven foot python gives some point to demands by Vancouver people to either kill or sell it. They have no wish to have such a creature in their city, or would Prince Rupert! After all, the only place for a serpent—huge or small, with or without venom—is the howling wilderness.

Two cases in which the law of supply and demand has never worked—the supply of talk always has exceeded the demand: the demand for money always has exceeded the supply.

He that marries for money earns it.—Proverb.

Unless utterly disinterested in Prince Rupert affairs, and indifferent about voting in December's civic election, call at the city clerk's office and register before it's too late. It makes a person feel cheap to be told he has no ballot, instead of being handed a paper, to reflect that he could have enjoyed what surely is a proud privilege. Don't think of yourself in a no-account light. It's dangerous.

APPRECIATIVE

Editor, Daily News:
I wish to thank both His Grace, Bishop Jordan, and your paper for the wonderful article "Prayer." It held such inspirational thoughts. Reading such material tends to open the window of the mind and leaves a feeling of peace with the reader especially during these critical times when one reads so much that is of a depressing nature.

MUNICIPAL FINANCES

Editor, Daily News:
This letter is prompted by your editorial of October 17 on the condition of our Municipal affairs.
There will never be a long range program of civic improvements here until the basis of municipal financing has been altered from the ground up.

The net result of the Goldenberg and Cameron reports is much the same as that of the doctor who prescribes a sedative for the patient without attempting to find a cure for the basic cause of the trouble.

The financing of our schools, social services, hospitals (municipal per diem) should be entirely out of income, (salaries, wages, fees, interest, dividends etc.) and not a charge on municipal property.

The present dilemma of Prince Rupert is caused partly by the fact that thousands (perhaps millions) of dollars that have been earned in Rupert during the past forty years have been taken to other places for investments and retirement funds leaving the present property holders with broken down streets, sewers and schools.

If the basis of our national income tax is correct then the basis of the sales tax, the hospital tax (partly at least) and the school and social service taxes is wrong.

How millions of dollars are ready at the drop of the hat for war services and not a nickel for schools, hospitals and streets has never been satisfactorily explained. The most prolific breeding ground for communist and socialist propaganda is the present condition of our municipal services and it is high time we had a "Marshall Plan" in Canada financed from Ottawa to repair the ravage of war and depression on the municipal structure.

As the editor of our only paper, you have a steady job ahead of you in arousing public attention to the seriousness of the whole situation.

NOTICE

Drivers are warned to exercise extreme caution at all points between Prince Rupert and Galloway Rapids, as construction work of various kinds is now in progress throughout the greater part of this distance. The road may be temporarily blocked at various points and blasting operations may render the surface very greasy. Consequently, great care is necessary, especially at some of the sharp turns.

STEWART WEDDING

Miss Martha Gobrowsky and William Behnsen United

STEWART—An event of great interest to the community took place on Monday last week when Miss Martha Gobrowsky was united in marriage to William Behnsen by Rev. C. L. Lomas of the Anglican Mission Boat Northern Cross. The ceremony was conducted in St. Marks Anglican Church here.

The bridesmaid was Miss Jeanann Crawford and the groomsmen were Robert Behnsen, brother of the groom, William J. Crawford gave the bride in marriage. Miss Gobrowsky is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gobrowsky of Gull Lake, Saskatchewan, and the groom is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Behnsen and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William James Crawford.

CHECK REPORTS—Having received information regarding positions and disposition of troops from both sides, the Canadian U.N. observers in Kashmir check the positions for accuracy. Here Lt.-Col Harry Angle and Lt. Warren Willkie check positions from an Indian outpost 13,000 feet above sea level. Magnificent scenery near the world's highest mountains compensates for the dangerous climb. (C. P. Photo)

The bride was beautiful in white satin with lace and revealed skirt, neck yoke and long sleeves. She had full length veil and a sea pearl coronet. She carried a bouquet of red roses with white carnations.

The bridesmaid was dressed in white taffeta with tulle overskirt and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations.

Sad, but true, is the plight of the Big-Four's Montreal Alouettes caught in a three-way tie between early football, late baseball and no public stadium the Alouettes were forced to postpone their schedule week-end football date with Hamilton Wildcats because of the little world series baseball program.

Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson says simply that "Montreal is pretty badly off. So long as the present overlapping of sports events exists, and it seems likely to become chronic, not much can be done about these tangles," he said. "Nothing at all, in fact," Elmer adds pessimistically. "When the two major stadia are privately-owned and dedicated to the sport events of most interest and profit to the owners."

Ferguson recalls that in 1924 when Montreal Canadians were forced to play a world series in hockey on Ottawa ice, the embarrassing situation started a movement which resulted in the erection of the Montreal Forum. "There isn't much chance that the plight in which Alouettes find themselves will be so promptly righted," he said.

Weeping tears bigger than light bulbs, Vern (Montreal-Gazette) Degeer just can't understand why Montreal has no Civic Stadium. "It simply doesn't add up," he says, "that Canada's leading city has to rely on the patronage of a professional baseball organization before booking a football game."

Tossing a bouquet to Toronto Degeer looks enviously at the big sports field at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds—a Civic Project. "Its construction has been fraught with difficulties and conditions for presentation of football are far from good. "But Toronto is on the right track," he said.

Talks Of Murderers

A man who was in spiritual attendance to police-killer Harry Medos when he paid the death penalty for murder last year told Prince Rupert Rotarians Thursday that the moral climate of a community is dependent on the religious instruction given to its young people.

He was Rev. W. H. Ross MacPherson, evangelist and for three years chaplain at Oakalla prison where this province's condemned murderers are hanged.

Addressing the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club, Mr. MacPherson declared that statements made by such convicted killers as Medos, Bill Henderson, Jacob Weed, Gordon Burk and Ed Johnson in Vancouver had convinced him of that fact.

"I contend from my experience that, if we promote Bible Sunday School enterprises, it will not be long before we empty our courts and jails and fill our churches," he declared. "I feel it is the only way we can develop citizens we can be proud of."

Portrayal of these killers as "brutes, at enmity with society" was not entirely accurate, according to his experiences, Mr. MacPherson declared.

"Largely speaking, they were products of our society, a society that is at enmity with God," he countered.

A 17-page statement, written for Mr. MacPherson by Harry Medos five days before his execution for the killing of a policeman on the False Creek flats following a hold-up attempt, was displayed by the speaker, who read excerpts from it.

"At the age of 17, Medos left the Los Angeles with $12,000 which he had gained from crime, Mr.

MRS. MAXTED IS MOURNED

TERRACE — St. Matthew's Church was filled with friends and relatives for the funeral of the late Mrs. Edna Maxted whose sudden passing has caused a great sadness in the district.

Born in Terrace on September 6, 1915, deceased was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dover.

Funeral services were conducted by Rt. Rev. J. B. Gibson, Bishop of Caledonia assisted by Rev. P. M. Mallett. Beautiful floral tributes banked the aisle, chancel, pulpit and casket and the Bishop in a moving address spoke of the sterling character of one who had always been ready with a helping hand whether it was in community work or with a friend or neighbour.

The funeral hymn, "Lead Kindly Light" was sung by the congregation with Miss Elliott Head as organist. Interment took place at the Kalum Cemetery with Mr. H. King, Dudley Little, Lloyd Johnstone, Claire Giggey, J. H. Smith and Mel Peeke Vout acting as pallbearers.

MacPherson said. "Like many other youths, he was looking for excitement and easy money."

Wife-killer Jacob Weed and Ed Johnson, convicted of killing a woman in Stanley Park, said that they both had been under the influence of liquor at the time. Weed could remember nothing of the circumstances of his wife's death.

A. Bruce Brown, who acted as club chairman in the absence of President R. G. Van der Sluys, thanked Mr. MacPherson for his address. Mr. MacPherson is currently conducting a series of evangelistic meetings at the Regular Baptist Church here. He was guest of G. R. S. Blackaby.

A picture of the original s.s. Prince George, battered, fire-blasted, torn and shattered, as she appeared at Seattle, soon after being towed there from Ketchikan has been appearing in the southern press. The hulk had been lying near Ketchikan ever since the fire that destroyed her four years ago. The wreckage has been bought and will be made use of.

Almost four thousand tourist passengers were handled by Canadian National vessels during the season that concluded last month. The new flagship, Prince George, carried 2,600 to Alaska. This number, augmented by tourists making the shorter voyage to Ketchikan on the s.s. Prince Rupert brings the total of Alaska fares to almost 4,000.

LINDA IS TODAY'S POPULAR NAME

OTTAWA — At a baptismal service in Stewart United Church here, Dr. F. S. Milliken baptized six girls—everyone of them named Linda. There seems to be a craze for the name, in the capital city. By the time the fifth Linda appeared, the congregation had begun to laugh heartily, and the clergyman was visibly shaken.
