COUNTERFEIT SEIZED
TORONTO—Police said today $130,000 in counterfeit Canadian currency was seized in a raid here last night. No arrests were made. Another $20,000 in bogus money is believed still in circulation. It is believed the money was made by a counterfeit ring in Buffalo, N.Y., recently broken up by the F.B.I.

So far, 146 applications have been received at the City Hall from persons interested in purchasing or renting homes under the new federal-provincial housing scheme. Greeted in Pusan by Natives Waving Hand-Made Flags
PUSAN — Greeted by a few natives waving home-made Canadian flags and bands playing swing tunes, vanguard of Canada's special brigade landed in Korea yesterday.

The American transport James O'Hara brought the contingent—about 350 strong—to this South Korean supply port from Yokohama after a two-day trip. The advance party is led by Major R. M. Bourgeois and includes specialists such as cooks, clerks, drivers and tradesmen. They drove in convoy through dirty streets to billets in three old school buildings. Later they will stake out training areas for other members of the special brigade expected later this month.

The troops looked fit and stood the trip well.

Toronto Will Hear Kaufman Symphony

WINNIPEG — Walter Kaufmann, conductor of Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra, says composing music isn't like baking a cake—it has to be done when the idea is there and the mood is right.

Mr. Kaufmann's compositions have been played in Canada, the United States, Britain and Europe for more than 20 years. He has been writing music since he was a child in his native Czechoslovakia. His Fifth Symphony—he named it "Sinfonietta, because it is very short"—will be played by Toronto Symphony Orchestra November 7 and 8.

Art Exhibits Are Exchanged

Prince George artists will soon have their work on display in Port Alberni. Last year an exhibition of Port Alberni's artists' work was sent to Prince George, and this year an exchange show of about 30 pictures by members of the Prince George Art Society will be sent to the Vancouver Island centre.

Would Remove Tax on Meals

VANCOUVER — A movement has commenced here having as its objective removal of the three per cent tax on meals in cafes or other eating places, or increasing the exemption figure from 50c to $1. The Restaurant Owners' Association is seeking the change.

Mrs. D. C. Stevenson and child, who have been on a visit to Vancouver, returned to the city on the Prince George this morning.

Continuing To Resist

OTTAWA — Madame Germaine Poinso-Chapuis, the first woman cabinet minister in France, in a press conference here told of the continued resistance to the Nazis after the French armistice in 1940.

She was the first Frenchwoman to hold a cabinet post in Paris as minister of public health and population in the Schuman ministry in 1947.

Now she is vice-president of the French National Assembly, a post equivalent to that of deputy speaker of the Canadian House of Commons. She is one of 31 women members in the assembly.

An active member of the resistance movement during the Second World War, she is a lawyer by profession, having become a member of the bar at the age of 20. She is interested in all social welfare questions and has been instrumental in drafting legislation dealing particularly with child welfare.

Madame Poinso-Chapuis declared emphatically that she was never able to accept the armistice of 1940. It was after this point in France's history she organized the escape and camouflage of Jewish refugees and began participating in resistance activities.

As a result she was named representative of the National Liberation Movement to the majority of Marseilles after the liberation.

In addition to her work in welfare, Madame Poinso-Chapuis has taken part in all movements which championed the cause of women's right to vote and the improvement of conditions of women in industry.

Big Tourist Year Coming

Barring the possibility of war, tourist traffic to Alaska next year should reach a heavy volume, comparable with any previous year, says W. G. Connolly, passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, Winnipeg, who is a visitor in the city today.

Reports of advance bookings from all agencies in the United States are very encouraging and suggest no diminution of traffic.

The steamer Prince George is scheduled to make her first voyage of the season on the Alaska tourist route, arriving here June 18, with the possibility of pre-season special trips with the annual parties of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and Portland Journal.

Mr. Connolly arrived in the city on the Prince George this morning from Vancouver and leaves by the evening train for his headquarters in Winnipeg.

United States Election

UNITED STATES is still Democratic. The off-year elections yesterday confirmed the party in control of Senate and House of Representatives. The administration is, however, doubtful of strength sufficient to facilitate its orderly and planned functioning and the carrying on of the business in hand—something important at this critical time in the affairs of the world when there are grave problems that must be handled without being harassed by a political dilemma at home.

The outcome of the election in United States will be disturbing to Canada which had looked for continuance of existing relations without change.

It had been thought that the tenure of President Truman for the remainder of his term would be secured so that he would be re-elected as the chief executive when the presidential contest rolls around two years hence.

WAS COLORFUL PIONEER

TO THE pioneers whose ranks are diminishing, particularly in such a long vintage as deceased, Prince Rupert will not seem the same without Mrs. Jennie Ritchie who numbered 42 years as her term of residence. Her death yesterday afternoon under circumstances of such a tragic nature was a shock indeed.

Mrs. Ritchie was one of those wonderful old ladies on whose disposition and happy personality the years passed lightly. She had known the vicissitudes of life and the ups and downs of pioneering in the mining camps of southern British Columbia and then in Prince Rupert, having arrived here with her husband in the tent-town days.

She lived to be a part of Prince Rupert and, even as an elderly widow which she became many years ago, chose, unlike many of the pioneers, to continue residence in this city among her old friends whom she could greet every day.

She was one of the city's most colorful personalities over many years—a figure who would be recalled in any recounting of the community's history.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT STILL MORE ON BOB

A READER IN the Queen Charlotte Islands thanks me for the articles on Bob Edwards of the famous Calgary Eye Opener. He throws light on the question of Bob's family.

"I can positively state that Bob's real name was Robert Chambers Edwards. Edwards was a great grandson (or great-great, I forget which) of Robert Chambers of Chambers Journal, on his mother's side.

"One day when we were talking in his office Bob showed me a biography of Robert Chambers and there was a notation at the bottom of the page about the Edwards family of which he was the son."

Mr. J. P. Dover says he is not writing to get his name in print, but I figure he'll forgive me, as he quite rightly says it's only fair to correct the impression that Bob used an assumed name.

A READER PROTESTS (with the aid of a witty cartoon) at my frequent use of the term "Anglo-Saxon," and wants me to use "Anglo-Celtic" instead.

Well, I will if I remember, but personally can't see what difference it makes. The segment of the human family we call "Anglo-Saxon" is not much more truly Anglo-Celtic.

Come to think of it, how many Englishmen are descendants of the Angles?

Has anybody got a copy of Defoe's poem "God's Englishman"? Please send it along. It was written when Englishmen were strenuously opposed to the union with Scotland—on the ground that the Scots were an inferior lot. Ye gods! Defoe showed what a mixed-up lot the English were.

A MOST RESPECTED lady friend in Alberta writes: "I don't like two or three of the columns you have turned out lately."

"You appear to be in sympathy with the Americans, whom I believe to be the aggressors in Korea."

This good friend does not deny that the North Koreans attacked the south but reasons that MacArthur's men "baited the north into attacking to south, promising the north an easy victory."

I HAVE PREVIOUSLY heard the far-fetched theory that the war in Korea was an extremely clever U.S.-set booby trap for Communism. As I formerly hear it, this attack played right into the hands of the war-preparation group in the U.S. as otherwise they would never have been able to get the people to pour out the necessary billions for armies and armaments.

Frankly, I don't think Uncle Sam is either that cunning or that diabolical. Granted that there are extremely powerful warmongering groups in the U.S. who want war PREPARATIONS in order to rake in more millions in profits, I doubt that there is anyone, especially in Wall Street who is really conspiring to bring on World War 3.

If there are any such maniacs they might well ponder the words of wisdom recently uttered by dictator Franco of Spain. (Yes, Franco, of all people!) The New York Times reported him as saying that even if the western nations won such a war, there would probably be a world-wide (non-Russian-led) communist revolution "on the morrow of victory."

Franco is smart enough to see that even a military defeat of Russia would not dissolve, but magnify, the social crisis which produced the Russian revolution of 1917 and the even more tragic one now in progress in Asia.

HOSPITAL WORKERS SEEKING MORE PAY

VANCOUVER — Negotiations for increases for about 1500 workers will be opened soon between Hospital Employees' Federal Union and the Vancouver General Hospital for a 44-hour week and wage increases.

Union chief William Black said yesterday that the employees do not "intend to be caught in any squeeze plan" between hospital administrators and the British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

The late George Bernard Shaw was looked on by himself—and possibly others—as the greatest dramatist since William Shakespeare. He also made a fortune of not less than a million dollars. Incidentally, he was a vegetarian. Mr. Shaw certainly knew his onions.

Ottawa opinion is there is nothing to indicate the posting of guards there, because of a recent event in Washington. It has never been reckoned necessary, and, despite the scope of unsettled world conditions today, it is, indeed, doubtful if such a course would be approved. In Canada a public figure may not be wholeheartedly admired by everybody, but somehow no one ever goes to the length of taking a shot. Chances are, such an act is never thought of.

An old-timer is also one who can recall when all of the hair cutting was done at home by father.

Health authorities in Toronto are checking 2,000 restaurants and hotel food handlers, to see that the premises and services remain above reproach. They may go a bit further and see if it's possible to make a few discoveries in private dwellings. For it must be admitted that in some cases there actually is no place like home.

A cornerstone in the cultural life of any community is a good art gallery. Humble though the beginnings of an art gallery may be, it should grow with the people. So comments a newspaper exchange. The point is well taken. Already, the exhibits seen in Prince Rupert may be said to mark the commencement.

The Calgary Albertan, which used to cost five cents, is now ten. Well, see what the makers of newsprint have been doing. And sometimes, following an example is about the only thing left to do.

Senator Hunt of Wyoming, who has been on an inspection trip to Alaska, says there is no immediate need for strengthening defences in the north. But he can't say that much for housing. He suggests that in some countries, the dwellings would not be used for "hog houses." It may not be that bad in northern B.C. but there must be a few who know something about being in "dog houses."

Letters to the Editor

AN INJUSTICE SENTENCED HERE

Editor, Daily News: By classifying all construction workers as "Reckless" and by inference "unworthy," the editorial in Saturday's issue of your paper does a great injustice to quite a large number of the men employed here at Watson Island.

While no one with any reason would condone the actions in public of those who have imbibed "not wisely but too well," the article commits the everyday error of generalizing, of condemning the whole camp for the deeds of one irresponsible section.

Smug condemnation from the depths of an easy office chair is no great mental feat but to literally live with the job in an isolated place with maybe 500 miles or more between oneself and home comforts requires a little more mental as well as physical effort. In addition the problem of how to occupy one's spare time during the long winter evenings and at weekends is a major one for most of us. And don't suggest reading as I would hazard a guess that the sale of books and papers has shown a marked increase since the building of this plant commenced.

But persistent reading of the lurid type of novel found in these parts and even the enlightening columns of the "Prince Rupert Daily News" gets tiresome. Hence, the "letting off steam."

The further inference that we do not belong to the "new type of worker" class you are hoping to welcome is amusing if not ridiculous.

Just how much more highly skilled are these supermen than the electricians, machinists, carpenters, millwrights, etc., who are making it possible for these heralded champions in virtue of their making a living.

I would suggest the writer takes a trip to see the amount of kill and effort that goes into the building of a modern pulp mill.

He might also find it enlightening to visit his local Chamber of Commerce and ascertain whether or not the shopkeepers of this bustling metropolis have benefited by increased sales since the town suffered the influx of these "reckless itinerants."

"ITINERANT" (E. Birchenall).

Yes, the boom is nearly over and I venture to say the hardest hit will be the beer parlor operators, taxi drivers, bootleggers and the semi-professional female cheats of which, for a village of this size, you have more than your quota per capita.

I would like to put your mind at rest as to one thing. I am not a communist or fellow traveler.

Knowing how much you, as a newspaperman, must champion free speech, I thought you would not mind being on the receiving end for once. Or do you?
G.F. GEORGE BUSH, Columbia Cellulose.

• SOUP FOR SUPPER—If Mother's wise she'll make soup part of the supper menu these auumn days. The youngsters will like it because its' warm. Incidentally it also is a good way to use up leftovers lingering in the refrigerator.

For instance the remains of last Sunday's chicken could be made into soup. The bones of the chicken along with any extra bits of skin must be crushed
down into a saucpan and covered with warm water.

Bring to a boil, cover and boil
for one hour. Drain off liquid and discard bones.

To the strained liquid add:
one-half cup finely diced onion;
one-quarter cup fine noodles (three-quarters of an inch in length); salt and pepper to taste;
one cup tomato juice; one cup chopped chicken.

Simmer covered for another hour.

SOUP RECIPES

Here are three soup recipes the family is bound to appreciate.

Onion Soup—Ingredients: Six
medium-sized onions; two tablespoons mild-flavored fat; two tablespoons flour; one quart
brown soup stock; six slices
toast; one-half cup grated cheese.

Cook sliced onions in water and cover for one-half hour. Rub through a sieve. Melt fat blend in flour and gradually add one cup of the stock. Stir until the mixture thickens. Add onions and remaining stock blending
well. Simmer for 20 minutes.
Place one slice of toast in each soup-plate, add soup and sprinkle with grated cheese. Six servings.

CREAMY ONION SOUP—Ingredients: three tablespoons mild-flavored fat; 1½ cups finely minced onion; two tablespoons flour; 1½ teaspoons salt; three cups milk; one cup vegetable water, milk or water; paprika;
nutmeg; one-half cup grated
cheese; two tablespoons chopped
parsley

Melt fat and add minced onion.
Saute until golden brown. Stir in flour and salt. Add milk and vegetable water. Simmer soup, covered, until onions are tender.
Season with paprika, nutmeg.
Place a tablespoon of grated
cheese and a teaspoon chopped parsley in each soup-plate and pour the hot soup over them.
Serve immediately. Six servings.

Water Discussed With Engineer

Following a meeting Monday night with council in committee of the whole together with W. F.
Stone, representing the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, and Don Williamson and Jeff Hill, Junior Chamber of Commerce, W. R. Bonnycastle, Vancouver hydro engineer, who has been making a survey of the city's water system, left by yesterday's plane on his return south. Monday night's meeting took form largely of a question and answer session and there was a round the board discussion of the whole water situation.

Mr. Bonnycastle is recommending that the city have a 24-inch water main from Woodworth Lake to Shawatlans Passage instead of the present 18-inch main although the latter line physically is still good for ten years.
Mr. Bonnycastle suggests that, to cut consumption of water, the city water outlets all be metered.
This has proven effective in other cities and in Halifax, for instance, had cut consumption
in half.

Mr. Bonnycastle's survey findings will be embodied in a report to be made later to the city council.

Fish Exports Are Increased

OTTAWA.—Canadian fish exports have risen 14 per cent in the first eight months of 1950,
reports Fisheries Minister Robert Mayhew. The largest increase has been in fresh and frozen exports. Almost the entire trade expansion was due the U.S. dollar market demands.

BASKETBALL—

Co-ops Entrenched With Senior League Victory

But Gordon and Anderson Put Up Good Showing—Good Intermediate and Junior League Games

Co-ops are firmly entrenched in first place in the Senior Basketball League after their decisive 51-to-41 victory over Gordon and Anderson in last night's basketball wars. It was a dull game with the winner never in doubt after the first quarter, which was won by Gordon and Anderson by a one-point 12-to-11 margin. In the second period Co-ops got rolling to outscore 16 to 5 and repeated again in the third, 15 to 8. The fourth quarter was decidedly Gordon and Anderson's as they seemed to take on more confidence in themselves, winning the frame 16 to 9.

Don Scherk played sterling ball for Co-op, getting twelve points, some from seemingly impossible angles. Arney was more like the Arney of old as he swished the hoop for eight. Joe Davis was a tower of strength under the basket where he had control of the rebounds a good deal of the time. Young Mickey Webster showed up well for the winners. His shooting was good and his deceptive fake was a pleasure to see.

For Gordon and Anderson, Harold Marshall looked like the senior find of the season. This young player has a good ten years of basketball ahead of him and, if last night is a pattern, he will be a dandy. Bob Gill scored ten points and has more confidence than formerly. Continued good coaching will make him one of the best rebound men in the league. This team seemed to have more speed and showed better team play but they were over-anxious, miffing shot after shot. They should soon be winning regularly over either team in the league. Last night they showed that they were young, speedy, well-coached and they had flashes of determination. A few weeks of seasoning will provide a different story.

The game was clean and well controlled by Referees Comadina and Dominato. Players took the referees' decisions without question, and the villains of Saturday all acquitted themselves like perfect gentlemen, even to the satisfaction of Sony Beynon, who asked if he was a gentleman or villain after last night's game.

Intermediate

There were two intermediate games. High Gold took an easy one from Thunderbirds by 56 to 18 score and Fashion won over High Green in an exciting 25 to 20 game that had the fans screaming for the Greens to win. The Fashion team stalled the ball for 4 minutes in the final period when they had a slim two point lead and the crowd didn't like it a bit. The students had plenty of fans in the stands, complete with cheer leaders and, if yelling could have won the game, it would have been theirs. The

Sport Shots

Greens are a fighting team, inexperienced, but due to have plenty of supporters if they play ball the way they did last night. The Thunderbirds were without a coach against the more experienced High Golds. The Golds would have won anyway but coaching would have helped the Thunderbirds chance a great deal. The Golds played top-notch ball, with passing, checking, and shooting all of high calibre. Bud Ratenford was sensational, scoring 24 points, and only missing two shots all evening. Dick Nickerson also had a two miss record, which is just about the absolute tops in shooting. Jeffries for Thunderbirds was their high scorer with six points.

Junior

Hi Juniors outclassed Mansons in the opener to win by a lop-sided 37 to 17. The game was very clean with only twelve fouls recorded. McAfee and Matthews, with 7, Christenson with 9, and Blackaby with 8, led the High School scoring parade. Webber was a standout for Mansons, playing nice ball and scoring eight. These Juniors are good to watch. Better attendance would encourage the youngsters.

Here is another situation where you can save a lot of points by using that magic little word—Pass. I refer to the case where your right hand opponent has opened the bidding with one of a suit, you have a pretty fair hand, but a considerable part of your strength is in the opponent's suit.

Look at the West hand in this deal. It qualifies for a take-out double in high cards, but not in distribution and not in the element of safety. Remember you are forcing your partner to bid, possibly on a blank hand. And what do you think partner is going to bid? Hearts, of course. Seems like it's always that way—always your shortest suit. Well, anyway, you can protect yourself by passing in situations of this kind.

Mr. Muzzy held the West cards. He doubled for a take-out. Wouldn't you know it? When his partner's two heart bid came around to him he thought of bidding two no trump but finally decided that trump be worse, and passed. When the two heart bid was doubled he saw no reason to change his mind.

Mr. Masters opened the jack of clubs, Mr. Meek played the queen from dummy and Mr. Abel landed a fighter who seems to be going places in a hurry. If the newly-crowned champ hurdles the Villemain test, he will be groomed for a shot at Ray Robinson's world title next year.

won with the king. A club was returned and Mr. Masters ruffed with the deuce of hearts. He led the king of diamonds, dummy's ace won and the six of hearts which held the trick. He laid down the jack of diamonds which won and then played another club which Mr. Masters ruffed with the ace of hearts. On this trick Mr. Meek discarded his last diamond.

Mr. Masters now led the queen of diamonds, North discarded the eight of spades and declarer ruffed. He came out with the ten of hearts and Mr. Abel won the king. He returned a club on which Mr. Meek discarded a spade. Dummy's ace won and the good ten of diamonds was led. North dropped a club and East a spade.

Now dummy had nothing left but spades. The ace was led and Mr. Abel trumped it with the eight of hearts and played the king of hearts for his side's last trick. Down three doubled.

Mr. Meek was not as humble as usual. "Nice take-out double, Muzzy," he said with fine sarcasm. "I piled up two tricks out of your hand."

Not All Gravy—

Oil Boom
Is Hitting Edmonton

Alberta's oil boom isn't all gravy—at least not for the city of Edmonton, says Financial Post.

The oil discoveries have meant untold millions in revenue to the province, declare the city commissioners in their annual review. But to the city itself, it has meant tens of millions in extra expenditures of which a large part is not self-supporting (roadways, parks, bridges, sewers, etc.).

The review points out that it looks as if the gap between increasing population on one hand and increasing operating expenses and rapidly increasing debt charges on the other will widen each year, "and there is only one way to bridge it,
through greatly increased taxation."

Amount of debentures issued in 1950 was $9,475,000, and estimated for 1951 are debenture issue of $13 million. In 1944 debentures issued were $23,875.

Total bonded debt of the city administration and school boards at the end of this fiscal year will be $38,288,027. The per capita debenture debt this year is $197, compared with $157 last year.

POPULATION INCREASE

Population increased from 137,469 to 146,861 in the past year. In two years, the operating expenses of the city have increased by $2,434,003, or 25.52 per cent, against an increase of 17.58 per cent in population.

It was only possible to maintain the city's tax rate of 49.5
mills due to a revaluing of land
by the assessors, giving an increase in assessment of $8,379,- 015.

Under a five-year development plan, the amount originally estimated for capital expenditures in 1950 by the city was $6,556,920. Actual figures turned out to be $14,242,260.

The 1949 record of $40 millions worth of building permits has been surpassed in the first nine months of 1950. Besides continued rapid residential construction,
there have been built a large number of new factories.
This has been so much the case that a new industrial area for the city has had to be allotted.

In the Kingsway industrial area, the following firms have either erected buildings or are planning to do so between now and June 30 of next year:
Weston's Bakeries, large modern bakery; General Steel Wares
Ltd., fabricating plant; MacDonald Sheet Metal Roofing Co., fabricating plant; Alberta Bedding Co.; Western Cartage & Store Co., warehouse and distribution plant pool car; Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., warehouse; Crane Co. Ltd., warehouse; Kraft Foods Ltd., warehouse and cooler plant; Parkhill Bedding Co., warehouse; Western Grocers Ltd., warehouse; International Harvester Co., warehouse and distribution yard.

NEW GOLF COURSE

It is anticipated that all the land in this area will be disposed of very shortly and that portion of the Prince Rupert golf course (recently acquired by the city) which has been allo-

Cassino Shelling Was Tragic Error

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

AUCKLAND, N.Z. — New Zealand's chief war historian has replied strongly to the claim by Gen. Mark Clark, U.S., in his book "Calculated Risk" that the bombing of Monte Cassino monastery in Italy was a tragic mistake. The United States general said it was the responsibility of Lt.-Gen. Sir Bernard Freyberg, V.C., commander of the New Zealand troops in the action.

Sir Bernard Freyberg, who led the New Zealanders throughout the Second World War and has become a legend in his lifetime, now is governor-general of New Zealand and in view of his official position has not made any comment.

But Maj.-Gen. Sir Howard Kippenberger, the New Zealand divisional commander at Cassino and now chief New Zealand war historian, has strongly defended the bombing of the monastery. Sir Howard took over the New Zealand division when the corps specially formed for the assault on Cassino, comprising the New Zealand Division, the 7th British Division and the 4th Indian Division.

MILITARY "NECESSITY"
Sir Howard said the bombing of the monastery was a military necessity and the only right course in the circumstances. He quoted General Eisenhower's instruction issued less than two months previously: "If we have to choose between destroying a famous building and sacrificing our own men, then our men's lives count infinitely more and the building must go."

Sir Howard added: "It is immaterial whether the building was actually being occupied or not. There was a strong probability that it was being occupied and there was a certainty that when the storming troops reached the top of Monte Cassino they would find the abbey occupied and impregnable. The bombing reduced it to a condition where it had no military value. Buildings which are demolished are often more defensible as a result, but this was not the case as Cassino."

In January, 1944, the American 5th Army, under General Clark's command, attempted to cross the Rapido River without neutralizing Monte Cassino. They sustained a costly repulse. On February 6, 1944, the American 34th Division reported that its troops were pinned down by machine-guns on the abbey walls.

After General Freyberg took over, he received a request from the Indian Division for the bombing of the monastery. It was decided that it must be bombed for two reasons—it made an ideal observation post, and even if not manned by Germans before the attack the remnants of the German troops defending the hill would certainly use it for a final stand.

"I agreed with those views and

Succumbed To Fall In Hatch

VANCOUVER — Frank M. Smith, 35-year-old ship's navigator, succumbed yesterday to injuries sustained when he fell 45 feet into the hold of a Greek ship berthed at Lapointe Pier. Firemen said that Smith was using methyl bromide gas to fumigate an upper portion of the ship—ss Plonios—when he was overcome and fell down the hatch. It took firemen several hours to extricate him.

Death occurred in hospital a few hours later.

I am certain that every soldier in the corps would have done the same thing," Sir Howard added. "It was suggested to General Clark that a light warning bomb should be dropped, giving a hint of what was in store and an opportunity for any civilians to leave. General Clark ridiculed the idea.

"I would like to say that it is very uncommon for a commander who has to admit that he acquiesced in a course of action of which he did not approve to attempt afterward to throw the responsibility on a subordinate."

Export of B.C. Packers

British Columbia Packers Ltd., Vancouver, is engaged in the production and canning of salmon, pilchard, herring, clams and oysters and the manufacturing of fish oils and meals, says Financial Post in a food industries review. Additional new products have been developed since 1947 including packaged frozen fish, varieties of fish paste, a canned smoked fillet of herring and numerous other products still in the development stage.

With an extensive export market, the company's products are marketed in 25 countries, chiefly Great Britain, New Zealand, Australia, and British South Africa.

Operations in the 11 months ended March 31, 1950 resulted in net sales of $29,198,295, up sharply from $27,333,390 in 1949. Net profit, after deducting minority interest, amounted to $1,078,781 (996.541). Operations for the month of April usually result in a small net loss which should be borne in mind in comparing results, President J. M. Buchanan states.

As at March 31, 1950, current assets totaled $10,052,637 while current liabilities amounted to $5,847,927.

During the year, certain of the subsidiaries were wound up and their activities consolidated with the parent company's for efficiency and economy. An arrangement has been entered into with Nova Scotia producer of fillets to custom pack Atlantic halibut

Hope's Funniest Picture Is Here

Funniest picture of his many comedies is said to be Bob Hope's "Fancy Pants," coming to the Capitol Theatre here for a four-day stand commencing tonight. Co-starred with Hope is Lucille Ball. The hilarious laugh-fest is filmed in technicolor.

Portraying a gentleman's gentleman in monocle and dress clothes, Hope finds himself very much out of place in a rough and tumble cattle town. Swagging but loveable coward whenever danger threatens as it does often, he is called upon at one time to impersonate a British earl and meet President Theodore Roosevelt. The resulting confusion creates as much fun as any one could wish for.

Miss Hope is the daughter of the family which Hope serves as butler. First disliked, he bravely stands up to two-gun Bruce Cabot and wins the girl's love.

"Home Cooking" and "Fancy Pants" are the song hits of the piece. Eric Blore, John Alexander, Jack Kirkwood and Hugh French are included in the supporting cast.

House Upholds British Gov't

LONDON — The Labor government, by fifteen votes, defeated a motion blaming it for taking no adequate steps to hold down the cost of living. The division was 299 against 284. Another crucial division is due tonight on a Conservative vote of censure on the matter of continued government controls.

The government last night weathered another challenge defeating by 12 votes an Opposition motion censuring the housing program. The resolution, calling the program "too little and too slow," was defeated 300 to 288. It was the 61st vote in Commons since the general election which left Prime Minister Attlee's Labor party with such a slight majority and it was the government's first victory in the new session of Parliament which started last week.

Stewart News

The children's Halloween party held under the auspices of the Stewart Parent-Teachers' Association was an unqualified success. The youngsters had a wonderful time dressed, as they were, in variegated costumes—cow boys, dorkies, tramps—they thoroughly enjoyed themselves and the adults had just as good a time watching the show.

The secretary of the Stewart Branch of the Canadian Legion reports that everything is in line for Poppy Day on Saturday and that it is anticipated that the response will be better than ever. The usual service will be held at the Cenotaph and in the evening there will be a dance.

J. G. Steenbergen of the provincial assessor's office at Prince Rupert, arrived last week and, after transacting department business, left on the Q.C.A. plane on Friday. He was accompanied by the inspector.
