Commies Protest Raise In Prices

VIENNA (CP)—Communist demonstrators rioted in the heart of Vienna Tuesday, thousands of workers in the Russian controlled industrial plants are reported to have gone on strike in protest against government plans to raise prices along with wages.

The rioters failed to break through the police lines but demonstrators tied up the traffic centre of the city for more than an hour. Two policemen were injured in the melee.

Tudeh Secrecy Vague Threat To Iran Peace

TEHERAN, Iran, (AP)—The vague and formless threat of the pro-Communist Tudeh party hangs over this key Middle-East country bordering Russia.

The Tudeh is a secret organization. Its secrets are so well-guarded that little is known outside of the party regarding its leaders, membership or activities. The party went underground in February, 1949. It was banned then by the government after being blamed for an unsuccessful attempt to shoot and kill the Shah.

Since then, the party has continued to publish and secretly distribute weekly newspapers and pamphlets. Police efforts to find the printing plant have been without success.

Outside of this activity, the Tudeh has practically sunk out of sight, although officials believe it has had a hand in several strikes and jobless demonstrations. There are fears that the Tudeh silence is an ominous one, that the party may be lying low and gathering strength for a strategic blow.

The Tudeh strength can not be measured in terms of present membership—believed roughly to be between 10,000 and 20,000. Observers say it's the potential membership the party might have if its existence were legalized that worries both the government and western democracies anxious to thwart the spread of Communism.

Up to now Tudeh has been the only organized party in the country with a solid program of reform.

SOCIALIST?
A decade ago the Tudeh was a Socialist, self-styled progressive, Liberal organization. Many of its founders had been jailed for their ideas by the Dictator Reza Shah, father of the present Shah. During the war and Russian occupation of part of Iran, the Tudeh grew strong. More and more it reflected the Communist line as Moscow agents grabbed control.

At one time Tudeh (which means masses) claimed a membership of 5,000,000. Iran's population is about 15,000,000. Observers say this is exaggerated. They say membership might have been about 100,000 when the party reached its peak in 1946 just before the collapse of the Soviet-sponsored Peoples Republic in Azerbaijan province.

About half the present Tudeh membership is believed concentrated in Teheran—in government offices, army headquarters and other vital spots.

Other strong cells are believed to be in the British oil fields around Abadan, in Isfahan and other textile factory centres and among the peasants of Azerbaijan province.

Azerbaijan—with about one-fourth of the country's population—is potentially the most explosive spot in Iran. Qualified observers believe that only a good crop year this summer saved Azerbaijan from an open peasant revolution.

Needless to say, the Tudeh has capitalized on the discontent. Russian radio propaganda is concentrated on this sore spot. The government drive against the Tudeh following the attack on the Shah resulted in arrest and imprisonment of some party leaders. But a large number went into hiding.

HOME APPLICANTS WANTED— Low Rental Housing Project Here Likely

If upwards of fifty good firm applicants for low rental housing can be obtained, the provincial government, under a scheme of joint federal and provincial financing, will come into Prince Rupert and build them, the joint committee of the city council and Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce on housing was told at a meeting yesterday afternoon by Mayor G. W. Rutherford, Ald. G. B. Casey and Ald. Douglas Frizzell following conferences at Nelson recently with government housing officials who were at the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention. It was enthusiastically decided to start an energetic campaign to get that number of applicants or as many more as possible on the dotted line as quickly as possible.

The scheme is a very simple one. All that has to be done locally is get the applicants and establish the need for housing. Then an official will come to survey the situation and organize the project.

The basis of the scheme is a two-bedroom unit which would rent for $45. Rentals might scale upwards, of course, on the variation of local costs or if larger units are required. Apartments could also be available.

The scheme also provides for purchase on a rental payment by arrangement of down payment, which itself might be arranged by accumulating payments.

As one alderman said: "The scheme seems almost unbelievably good." The mayor and Ald. Casey and Frizzell were enthusiastic about its possibilities in meeting the local need.

The government would purchase lots from the city, preferably those with services. The houses would probably be distributed in various parts of the city where lots are available. Local contractors will have the opportunity of tendering on a strictly competitive basis.

Ald. Wilfrid McLean, chairman of the city council's housing committee, presided at yesterday afternoon's meeting and others present were Mayor G. W. Rutherford, Ald. G. B. Casey, Ald. T. B. Black, Ald. W. A. McLean, Ald. H. F. Glasse, Ald. G. D. Frizzell, W. F. Stone and L. M. Feisenthal.

Peter Wells Funeral—
PORT SIMPSON — All Port Simpson paid tribute last week to the memory of the late Peter Wells, one of the leading men of the village, whose funeral took place at Grace United Church. Mr. Wells had passed away in Prince Rupert after a month's illness. Before the remains were sent home here, a service was held in the chapel of the B.C. Undertakers in Prince Rupert.

Rev. A. W. Lawton conducted the funeral service and Ernest Dudoward presided at the organ to accompany the hymns, which were "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me" and "I Need Thee Every Hour." Representatives of various societies—Ivy Guild, Ladies of the Y.P.E.A., Port Simpson Athletic Club—expressed well spoken words of sympathy. The Port Simpson Concert Band played a number of selections.

Prior to the church service, there was a song service in the residence of deceased as the body lay in state, the choir of the church taking part. Members of the Port Simpson (Continued on page 4)

Lorne Anderson, charged with reckless driving, yesterday elected speedy trial before Judge W. O. Fulton in County Court. Trial is set for October 2.

Horace Bennett was apprehended yesterday by R.C.M.P. and is being held on a charge of breaking and entering. The charge is the result of an incident at King George rooms Monday night.

Would End War— Britain Leads Korean Peace

LAKE SUCCESS — Great Britain took the initiative yesterday in proposing peace terms for the settlement of the war in Korea, the time appearing opportune in view of the striking success of United Nations arms in recent days.

The United States approves of the British plan which provides for the restoration of democratic government. The question of whether the United Nations forces should stop at the 38th parallel is not specifically determined, the view being that this is a matter of military expediency.

Nevertheless, there are reports here that, should the 38th parallel be passed, Soviet Russia and Communist China would send large forces to help the North Koreans.

Labor Parley's Stormy Session

WINNIPEG — After a stormy session in which the left wing minority was very audible and during which President A. R. Mosher threatened to have some of them forcibly ejected, the Canadian Congress of Labor convention late yesterday adopted the executive's statement of policy, including anti-Communist measures, by a vote of 700 to 25.

INDONESIA IS IN U.N. NOW

LAKE SUCCESS—The republic of Indonesia will be the sixtieth member of the United Nations. Its admission was favorably voted upon yesterday by the Security Council. The vote was 19 to nothing. Nationalist China abstained.

Ambassador To Britain Quits

LONDON — Lewis Douglas, United States ambassador to Great Britain for the past few years, is relinquishing his duties owing to ill-health. A year ago Mr. Johnson sustained a serious eye injury while fishing. There is no hint yesterday as to who his successor will be.

DOUKS GO HOME

VANCOUVER—Sixty Doukhobors, first of 395 eligible for release from British Columbia prisons and penitentiaries, on Tuesday, in a secret operation, boarded two buses for Coquitlam, then got on two railway cars of the regular run of the C.P.R. to Nelson. The remainder at Oakalla prison farm are likely to leave in a few days, and those at penitentiary follow. The Doukhobors, members of the fanatic Sons of Freedom group, were convicted of nudism. The women are imprisoned at Grand Forks.

AGREE ON DEFENCE

NEW YORK—The North Atlantic Treaty council Tuesday agreed on creating a combined defence force for protecting Western Europe against Soviet aggression and tossed to defence ministers the problem of what to do about using German manpower in the set-up.

Both Confident— Louis-Charles Ready To Fight

NEW YORK (CP)—Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles yesterday completed serious training for their world heavyweight fight tonight, each banging their sparring partners in four rounds.

Both expect to win—Charles because of his age of 29 compared with Louis' 36 and Louis because he anticipates the end by a knockout.

Joe Louis, who retired two years ago, battles Charles in the effort to become the first heavyweight titleholder in history to regain the prized crown.

A fresh flood of Charles money has dropped the price of the title fight to 5 to 8 in favor of the Brown Bomber.

If odds hold up until 7 p.m. (Pacific Standard Time), which is fight time, Louis may enter the ring at the shortest odds since he first won the heavyweight crown from Jimmy Braddock in Chicago on June 22, 1937.

A crowd of around 30,000, paying from $3 to $30, is expected to visit the big ball park. Another 25,000,000 fans probably will watch the 15-round bout via television and millions more will hear it over the national radio networks. (CFPR said today it did not expect to carry the fight.)

Louis is understood to have told friends yesterday: "I'll knock him out in five rounds." Charles says: "I'm going to stop him no later than the twelfth round. Joe can be chopped up like any other old guy."

Alberta Smoke Hits Scotland

EDMONTON — After having been enveloped in thick smog for days as a result of the large forest fires in northern Alberta and British Columbia, Edmonton has clear skies again following rain which put many of the fires out. The smoke from the fires is said to have reached as far as Scotland.

Lake Winnipeg Water Is High

WINNIPEG—As a result of the spring floods and the generally wet season this year, waters of Lake Winnipeg continue to maintain an alarming height. When the October winds come, residents are anticipating that considerable damage may be expected from the beating of the waves. Already there has been considerable shore erosion.

Smoke From Alberta Throws Fear Into Hearts Of Old Country Folk

LONDON (CP)—A strange blue sun followed the freak blue moon in the skies over the North Sea area today. While baffled British star gazers traded notes on the phenomenon, first seen in the United Kingdom last night, colleagues in Denmark watched the sun come up as an azure ball.

MAYBE NO KOREA
OTTAWA—The triumphant march of American troops in Korea has raised the possibility that Canada's special force may never see action there and may go instead to Western Europe. Further developments will depend on any action taken by the United Nations beyond the 38th parallel.

New Housing Deal

It now looks like Prince Rupert will be able to avail itself of the federal-provincial housing scheme whereby a considerable quantity of low rental housing may be provided and the present distressing shortage of living accommodation materially relieved if not beaten altogether.

If a substantial list of bona-fide applicants for living quarters is all that is needed, there need be no fear that there will be immediate and substantial response for it is an obviously apparent fact that many people are today living inadequately if not uncomfortably while others are living elsewhere but would be here if they could obtain housing.

Relief of the existing situation would be greatly welcomed. It is encouraging to see that there is a move toward action in removing one of Prince Rupert's most perplexing problems and bad advertisements—lack of housing which for some time has been definitely hampering the city's progress.

INVESTMENT IN CITIZENSHIP

THE Civic Centre has long since become regarded as an institution which we simply could not get along without.

We pay for our water, we pay for our light, for our telephones and for our other services including our schools and we would not be without any of them. Something like them is the Civic Centre although there is no compulsion about paying for it.

The Civic Centre is now engaged in its annual campaign for sale of memberships which is being aptly described as "an investment in citizenship."

There is not a person in the city who is not by now convinced of the great value of the Civic Centre to the community. In fact, there are few people who, in some way or another do, not use the Civic Centre. To become accredited members by the payment of the membership fee, which we would say is small enough in view of all the benefits to be derived, appeals to us as being something of a community obligation. The Association should have no trouble in achieving spontaneous and effective response to its appeal.

BANKS RECOGNIZE FISHERIES

CANADIAN Bank of Commerce, in its Monthly Commercial Letter, features the fishing industry of Canada, the increase of which in national importance to the Dominion is emphasized and which today has potentialities for significant expansion.

"Fishing has been considered as Canada's oldest industry," says the Letter. "Yet, because of various technical and market changes, it may be regarded as a new field of activity." It points out how the products of the industry have become greatly diversified during the past half century.

The contribution of relatively high-priced species of fish accounts for the fact that, although Canada ordinarily ranks eighth in the volume of fish landings, she stands first in the terms of value of exports of fisheries products.

The article refers to the efficiency of the Pacific Coast industry in its catching equipment, ascribing this progressiveness in part to the competitive influence of the Americans and the returns from high-priced products which enable considerable outlay in new equipment and the concerted operations of the fishing fleets.

By ELMORE PHILPOTT
 Doukhobors Paroled

THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENTS at Ottawa and Victoria are to be congratulated for the release, on parole, of the large numbers of Doukhobors recently convicted. Ordinary jail terms do no good in the case of these more fanatical demonstrators.

But the policy of leniency will have no good result unless it is linked to a permanent policy designed to do a job of "social engineering" on the extreme minority.

If the fanatical Sons of Freedom are now willing to abide by the laws of Canada, well and good. But if they are not, the lawbreakers should be segregated (not jailed). They should be allowed to live in their own communal way, and with their own families—but under supervision of the parole officials.

In other words—segregation without imprisonment should be the remedy if any considerable number of trouble makers refuse to live up to the promises upon which they have been released.

IT SHOULD BE REMEMBERED that the overwhelming majority of Canadians of Doukhobor origin have already admirably fitted themselves into Canadian life. They average as high a standard of citizenship as any other group of Canadians. A small minority of extremists becomes involved in recurrent demonstrations. But these arise, in the vast majority of cases, from the simplicity and gullibility of those who take part in them.

The first necessity for the solution of what remains of the so-called Doukhobor problem is, therefore, the employment of trained social workers to live and work in close contact with the various Doukhobor groups. This would cost money. But the cost would be a small fraction of the cost of keeping hundreds of Doukhobor demonstrators in jail. As things now stand, the only people who know what is going on in the Doukhobor groups are the police, who come in contact with the groups AFTER the outbreaks occur.

A small but competent cadre of professional social workers should be employed by the government, to act as "social engineers" and advisers. Their job should be a two-way affair—on the one hand to inform and advise the groups; on the other hand to inform and advise the governments.

IN MY OPINION, the above single step would fairly soon end what remains of the so-called "Doukhobor problem." "If in the meantime, violent demonstrations recur—if there are any more burnings and strippings—then the groups involved should be moved "en masse" to some part of British Columbia where they are no menace to others than themselves. But families should never be separated and the groups as a whole should be allowed to work normally and freely.

Under that plan, the parole officers would have the power to send to ordinary jail any die-hard troublemakers, in the event of deliberate refusal to co-operate.

THERE IS ONE DANGER that should be frankly recognized now. In the event of war with Russia, the extreme Doukhobor communities would be dangerous—not for themselves BUT BECAUSE THEY WOULD PROVIDE IDEAL COVER-UP PLACES FROM WHICH ENEMY AGENTS COULD ORGANIZE SABOTAGE.

Now is the time to take steps to forestall such possibilities.

Negotiating With Union

U.F. and A.W. at Nelson Brothers Agree to Terms

Union members of the staff at the Port Edward reduction plant of Nelson Bros. last night voted in favor of company wage and hour offers for their 1950 agreement. Adoption or rejection of the offers depends on the coast-wide vote now being undertaken. The negotiating committee at Vancouver, which has been conducting negotiations over the past two months, recommended their adoption.

Tom Parkin, Northern representative of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (TLC), reported that early negotiations were unsuccessful and that an offer from the salmon cannery operating committee had been voted down by a large majority in a previous vote. The union applied for a conciliation officer and Jack Muirhead, of the Department of Labor, was appointed. Subsequent meetings of the parties concerned resulted in the present offer, whose acceptance the union committee recommended. If the coast-wide vote follows the trend of the local group, the agreement will be signed. Otherwise the dispute will go before a conciliation board.

Full details of the settlement have not been released, but it is reported to contain a number of important changes in hours of work, particularly in respect to overtime conditions, medical and sick allowances and wage increases for all classifications ranging from $10 and $15 a month and upward. Mr. Parkin reported the change in the hourly conditions alone will mean substantially more for all classifications concerned.

The union representative advised The News that settlement of this agreement will complete negotiations of all shore worker agreements in the industry for this year. (Some agreements are negotiated each year between companies and shore workers alone.) In addition, agreements embracing almost every phase of the fishing industry, including blueback, sockeye, pinks, chums and coho salmon and herring and halibut, are made between fishermen and companies each year. Supplementary agreements dealing with gear charges, boat rentals, share bases for crew members on halibut vessels, herring and salmon seiners are also drawn up. The U.F.A.W. also has agreements with B.C. Packers for their whaling station at Coal Harbor, V.I., and for the crews of whaling vessels, all of whom are members of the union.

Mr. Parkin reported the only remaining agreement for the 1950-51 season still unsettled is the one affecting herring seiners and packers. Negotiations for that agreement are scheduled to open early in October. In past years the herring fleet has not sailed until an agreement had been reached and, although no decision has been made this year, it is not thought likely there will be any change from that practice. Crews are meeting next week to decide price demands.

Although the scarlet ibis has become rare in South America, a nesting area has been discovered with 500 young birds alone, plus an unestimated number of mature birds.

Don Saunders of the Daily News typographical staff returned to the city on the Prince George this morning from a holiday trip to Vancouver.

H. G. Perry and W. H. Crocker are arriving in the city by car tonight from Prince George. Mr. Perry on Daily News business and Mr. Crocker in connection with his duties as representative of the industrial development department of the provincial government.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thompson and little daughter, who have been in the city for the past several months, are leaving by car Friday for Vancouver Island where they plan on making their future home. Mr. Thompson has been with the mechanical department of the Daily News while here and Mrs. Thompson was on the nursing staff of the Prince Rupert General Hospital.

Objection To Game Machines

Letters from King Edward P.T.A., Prince Rupert Ministerial Association and the Indian superintendent opposing granting licences to operate pin ball machines in the city were referred by the council Monday night to the police and licensing committee for investigation and report.

The first two letters were to the effect that the presence of the machines in a public establishment would contribute to juvenile delinquency by encouraging the gambling spirit. The letter from the Indian superintendent said an establishment in which it was proposed to operate them was in the neighborhood most frequented by natives, nearly all of whom were transients. The letter said there were too many opportunities now for them to waste their money and that the addition of the machines would be just another means of assuring that they go home without funds and become public charges through the winter.

Fire Dep't Saves Day

Court house officials yesterday were saved the necessity of finding an important personage to kill by joint action of the fire department and telephone company employees. The flag at the Court House became snarled around a guy wire while being raised and was stuck at half mast. The first solution to the difficulty was to find some person whose death would warrant such an honor. It was quickly discarded. The second was to chop down the flag pole. That solution, too, was discarded. The solution finally adopted was to call out the fire department with its 50-foot ladder. The telephone boys gladly lent a hand.

Baptist Church Having Visitor

First Baptist Church has been enjoying a visit from Miss Mary Block for the past ten days. Miss Block is from Vancouver, and is the Director of Religious Education in the Baptist Convention of B.C. She has been conducting a course of teaching training for the teachers of the local Sunday School, in which twenty-one were enrolled, some from other churches also participating.

On Sunday at the annual Rally Day Services, Miss Block gave interesting and inspiring talks to both Primary and Junior Departments. The final class was held on Monday of this week. The writing of a successful test will secure a certificate for each student.

The securing and fitting up of the new church building known as "The Annex" gives a fully modern three-department Sunday School. Primary children, of the ages 6-8 years will meet in the new building, which has its own piano, blackboard, facilities for the use of slides, etc.

The Nursery and Beginners will meet in the former Primary auditorium, while the Junior-Intermediate Department will meet in the church auditorium where children of the ages of 9-17 years have their classes.

The superintendent of the Church School is Henry Vanderheide assisted by a staff of 14. There is a full program of mid-week activities to take care of each group—Explorers (girls and boys), Mission Band, C.G.I.T., and Trail Rangers and Young People.

Library Board Is In Session

At a recent meeting of the Library Board with Mrs. M. M. Roper in the chair, the library got off to a good start for the fall.

The board was thanked by the Hospital Auxiliary for a donation of books and magazines.

The librarian reported over sixteen hundred borrowers which is an increase.

Sixty-five new books have been recently added. Among the titles are "The Horse's Mouth" by Carey Joyce, "Eleanor of Aquitaine" by Amy Kelly, "Jottings from a Cruise" by Greene, and "Don't Call a Man a Dog."

More books are being immediately ordered for winter reading.

The members of the board present were: Alderman T. B. Black, Mrs. W. S. Kergin, Bruce Stevens, Don Ritchie, Mrs. B. Prockter, secretary, and the chairman.

Don't You Believe It!
Although the baseball season is over for another year in Prince Rupert, it is rumored that preparations are being made for another bang-up league in the spring.
Rumor has it that one of the more wealthy managers has bought an acre and one-eighth at Terrace and that the plot will be put into shape for a training ground this spring.

Sport Shots
A pampered blue-blood answering to the call of "Big Game" is lord of Britain's national stud at Gillingham, Dorset. In fact, the great stallion, valued at around $300,000, forms part of the country's only nationalized industry that consistently operates at a profit. Big Game has been earning on an average of nearly $30,000 annually for the last eight years to help swell the nation's income. Other stallions and stock, making up the stud, have combined to boost profits to well over $200,000 since it became a department of the Ministry of Agriculture.

It was Lord Waverley, a Tory member of Parliament before he was elevated to the peerage, who started the government on its experiment. He bequeathed the foundation stock to the nation in 1915. But it took years before it showed signs of prospering. Horses bred at the national stud are leased to the King, who foots the bill for training and racing them. His Majesty gets two-thirds of any purses or prize money they may win, with the Treasury receiving what is left.

Sired by the great Bahram, who in 1935 won the Two Thousand Guineas, the Derby and St Leger, Big Game was retired to the stud in 1942 after the brilliant Gordon Richards guided him to victory in the Guineas. Although it is estimated that only about four per cent of all racehorses born ever win a race, Big Game's progeny have been led into the winner's enclosure no less than 50 times. In 1948, he headed the list of successful sires, the year that the national stud's earnings rocketed to $150,000. Now 11 years old, the big fellow is possibly in greater demand than any other stallion of the current crop.

FORT SIMPSON FUNERAL

Athletic Club and Y.P.E.A. acted as pallbearers.
Mr. Wells was born in 1887 and obtained his education at Coqualeetza School at Sardis. He was a carpenter by trade and was identified with the erection of many local structures, having been architect and supervisor of the big Port Simpson Athletic Club building. He was chairman of the board of stewards of the United Church and leading bass in the church choir. For eleven years he was treasurer of the Port Simpson Band. He also served as a member of the village band. He took an active part in sports and was owner of the boat Norma W. which won the fish packer race at Prince Rupert's Port Day. For twenty years he was employed during summers at Cassiar cannery on the Skeena River.

Deceased leaves his widow, Mrs. Annie Wells; three sons Vincent Wells of Prince Rupert and Larry and Douglas Wells and two daughters, Mrs. Harry Sampson and Mrs. Vernon Dudoward.

There were many floral offerings at the funeral including those of Cassiar Packing Co. and staff, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Macmillan, Edgar, Myrtle and Mrs. Snidal (Port Essington), Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. James Bolton (Port Edward), Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. William Beynon, Mr. and Mrs. George Woods, Mr. and Mrs. William Leask (Metlakatla), Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Wells, Louise and Family, Dr. and Mrs. R. ### Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Sometimes blood is the gift of donors and is found of great usefulness in helping restore human life and in building up health and strength. And on other occasions, in different parts of the world enormous quantities of blood become spilled in order to bring about exactly the reverse.

From Second Avenue the naked interior of the huge warehouse on the waterfront is beginning to be visible, as dismantling extends. Had anyone in 1943 wondered that such a sight would be seen in 1950 he wouldn't have had a single solitary taker.

A good sized proportion of what the natives earn during the canning season finds its way into the stores and cafes of Prince Rupert. It's always been like that. The size of the annual outlay restricted to this city might come as a bit of a surprise. The Indians do more than go window shopping. They also buy, and restaurant patronage, as well as merchandise, comes within the scope of purchases. Whole families (and that could be anything from three to six) are waited on. They are prepared to do their part and are entitled to square dealing and good service.

Today, when you hear Edmonton being described, one would reckon its growth to be amazing. But it's about time Edmonton was showing some symptoms of life. A century ago, Fort Edmonton, a Hudson Bay post way out west, could make itself heard. And there was no particular boom noticed for many a year, even after the coming of the railways.

To a newcomer the west always looks the same — almost beyond description in natural magnificence, and brimming with opportunity. They were doing it fifty years ago. And delegates to the Banff convention this month have not yet recovered from the feeling of awe when they think of the Rockies.

Suppose, last June, when a Communist army invaded South Korea, the United Nations had done nothing more than lodge another pious protest. The campaign has been brief and bloody but the UN is standing on infinitely safer ground.

There are thousands of persons who would not cross the street to watch Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles fight. The title bout takes place today. Yet compared with what it was in the days of Jim Corbett, Fitzsimmons, John L. Sullivan, Jeff, Johnston and scores of other champs and near champions, interest in boxing is at a low ebb today.

Whatever the reason, it's a fact! Of course, there will be a crowd at today's show, a splash on the sporting pages and the usual line of shop talk, but it can't be denied that between the present and forty or fifty years ago, there is an impressive difference. It's equally true of other Newspapers as a whole are earning less each year despite an annual increasing volume of revenue, says the Wall Street Journal. The reason given is that costs rise faster than revenue. There seems to be no getting away from this statement, which has certainly been heard before.

Any of the bridge text-books will tell you that Mr. Masters did not have the two no trump bid he made on today's hand. Neither side vulnerable.

THE BIDDING:
South West North East
1 C Pass 1 D Pass
2 NT Pass 3 NT All Pass

Somehow the books always assume that your partner is an expert who will make the best bid in every situation. Long experience has taught Mr. Masters that he seldom has such partners. Sensible enough, he adjusts his bidding style to fit that of each particular partner.

Mr. friend Mr. Meek can play well enough but he always expects the worst to happen. To say he is cautious is putting it mildly. The only way to get him to bid his hand is to pry him loose. Mr. Masters was doing a little prying when he bid two no trump. Often it takes strong urging of this sort to get Mr. Meek to bid his full values.

As it was, Mr. Masters had to make a sterling play to fulfill his contract. A heart lead would have beaten three no trump but West had no way of knowing that. He opened the five of spades and Mr. Masters did not make the mistake of going up with the jack in dummy. He saw immediately that this card might be a vital entry for the long diamond suit later.

East played the eight of spades at the first trick and Mr. Masters went up with the king, deliberately passing up the opportunity of winning with the nine. He then started the diamond suit, East winning the second round and returning a small club. Mr. Masters won with the ace of clubs and led a low spade. West took his queen and fired back the jack of clubs. But it was too late. Mr. Masters won with the king, entered dummy with a low spade to the jack and ran off the rest of the diamonds. He never got back to his hand to cash the ace of spades but he made his contract, winning five diamonds, two spades and two clubs.

If Mr. Masters hadn't played the spade suit the way he did he would have made three spade tricks—but he wouldn't have made three no trump.

PERENNIAL BORDER
Perennial flower borders require careful attention at least once a year and experience at the Experimental Station, Prince George, has shown that the fall is the best time to make that annual clean-up and divide the larger clumps in the border. This is the season also to improve the appearance of the border, either by rearranging the planting plan or by removing certain old or undesirable plants.

As soon as the plants stop blooming and the tops die down, these should be cut off and removed, the soil dug lightly with a fork and all weeds removed from the roots of the plants. If possible the ground should be left level but fairly rough, and in a moist condition so that there will be plenty of moisture for the plants in the spring.

Most perennials should be divided and moved when the clumps get too big. Phlox, hardy chrysanthemums and Michaelmas daisies should be divided every three or four years and Iris when the clumps become empty in the centre. Some perennials like peonies, Dictamnus (gas plant) and Dicentra (bleeding heart) do not like being disturbed and should not be moved more than is necessary. When dividing or moving perennials, it is well to remember that this is an excellent time to remove all weeds that may be entwined among the roots.

All perennials growing as they do in the same location for a number of years require plenty of plant food for best results. A heavy mulch of well rotted manure will not only supply the plants with nutrients, it will also afford winter protection for the plants in the border. Peonies especially will benefit from this treatment as they are heavy feeders.

the ground is frozen in the fall will prevent the plants from starting to grow too soon in the spring, when most of the so-called winter killing takes place. Where this covering is not provided in the form of snow, added protection should be given by using fir or spruce branches for covering.

If spring flowering bulbs like the daffodil, crocus and tulip are desired, the bulbs should be planted as soon as possible so they will become well rooted before the ground freezes.

Terrace Wedding Of Much Interest

TERRACE—A wedding of great interest in the district was solemnized on Friday evening last in the Knox United Church when Frank, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pongraz of Terrace, took as his bride Doris Sarah May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mile, also of Terrace. Rev. P. M. Mallett of the United Church officiated and Miss Flora Melvin played the nuptial music.

Gowned in traditional white satin, the bride made a lovely picture as she walked slowly down the aisle on the arm of her father. Form-fitting and with a full skirt and long fitted sleeves, the gown featured a small round collar trimmed with bugle beads. Small covered buttons extended from the high collar to the low waist and, on the shoulder, were the tubular trimming beads. The bridal veil, which had been worn by the bride's two older sisters, reached to her fingertips and was worn with a frilled net coronet. Her exquisite bouquet was composed of the petals of red and white gladioli on a background of fern on wire with trailing ribbon and petal streamers.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. George Hamer, who wore a floor length gown of turquoise blue rayon taffeta with full skirt flaring from a pointed waistline and bolero jacket with bracelet length sleeves. Her headdress was of blue net and coronet of flowers. She carried a bouquet of pink and white glads.

Groomsman was Emil Froese and Donald Hull was the usher. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Credit Union Hall where about sixty-five guests gathered to facilitate the happy couple. Receiving the guests were the mother of the bride and groom.

Mrs. Mile chose for her costume a wine crepe gown and a small ostrich plumed black hat. Her corsage was of pink and white gladioli.

Mrs. Pongraz wore brown crepe with black accessories and a corsage of salmon pink gladioli.

A pretty picture was made by the three sisters of the bridegroom, Annie, Mary and Elizabeth, who were identically dressed in wine moire with small wine hats with white feathers and veils.

On a table at one end of the hall stood the wedding cake which was in the shape of a malted cross and which was cut with due ceremony by the young bride.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Robert Squires and was responded to briefly by the groom. All the lovely colors of fall were there in profusion in the flowers which decorated the hall and tables. Pictures were taken by Jim Brickley.

Later in the evening a dance was held in the hall and dancing to the music of the youths' orchestra continued to the early hours of the morning. Many lovely gifts were on display, a fine washing machine, the gift of the groom's fellow workers at Pohle's Mill being brought in late in the evening.

A honeymoon trip by car to Kennedy, Saskatchewan, was planned, providing the roads are at all passable and the newlyweds left early the next morning. On their return to Terrace they will take up residence on south Kalum Road where the groom had built a fine new modern home for his bride.
