Five persons charged with being members of an unlawful assembly outside the Prince City hall, August 2, told O. Fulton in County yesterday afternoon that they merely watched the proceedings and when he saw they were getting out of hand he had started home.

Graham McKenzie, 20, charged with four others, had gathered outside the hall, early August 2, to go home at the request of Harold Whalen and had been dispersed by tear gas. On trial with McKenzie are Earl Batt, Flewin, Clayton Jarvis and Mervin Jonassen.

The trial, which has been continued for three days, adjourned yesterday afternoon at the request of the defence until Monday.

McKenzie told defence counsel that he saw him (McKenzie) on a truck at Frizzell's earlier in the evening waving his arms and saying "Let's go get them."

He said that he followed the truck to the corner of Third and Fulton Street with F. Graham and another man and went up Fulton working his way through the crowd until he reached the rear of Ormes.

People started to throw the said, "I thought the might get out of hand some time for me to leave."

He, he admitted feeling when he said "Con- siderable pulled me out of a (on Third Avenue) and this is one of them" and a violent shove along the street.

The six-foot 2½ McKenzie said that he did not want to resist or obstruct.

His evidence was supported by testimony given by the evening of August 2, McKenzie and two others had spent the evening driving around, drinking and talking up and down Third between Sixth and Streets.

He told the court that he was arrested several times after it was on a warrant for the arrest of the said. He said that he was arrested and charged with the name and the name of the said. He said that he was arrested and charged with the name and the name of the said.

CAPTAIN BODEN . . . retiring

Veteran Skipper John Boden
Completes 48 Years Service

By ERIC SANDERSON

A sea captain who started his career as a deckhand aboard sternwheelers on the Fraser river will pilot his ship into Prince Rupert harbor for the last time tomorrow afternoon.

He is veteran skipper John Boden who came to Prince Rupert before the city was started and later worked aboard freighters bringing supplies and food to surveyors.

Captain of the Union Steamships' SS Camosun, he is retiring after 48 years aboard ships plying the B.C. coast.

One of the best-liked and most capable skippers in coastal service, the 71-year-old captain was born at Kilmarnock, Scotland, in 1882 and moved with his parents to Glenora, Ontario, when only two years old.

DRIVE STAGES

Senior captain now for the USS, skipper Boden received his education in Glenora and Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, and in 1900 headed west. He started working on little boats out of Stevenson and at one time drove stage coaches from Stevenson

Death Toll Reported At 1,000
As Typhoon Strikes Indo-China

At Least 200,000

By The Associated Press

SAIGON, Indo-China.—Nearly 1,000 persons are known to have been killed by a typhoon which struck the coast of central Indo-China, Pham Van Cio, governor of central Viet Nam, announced today.

It was feared that the death toll may reach 2,000. The typhoon Friday pushed flood waters over the whole region around Hue. The governor's announcement was only a preliminary report on the casualties.

At least 200,000 were left homeless after the winds and floods swept away their straw huts.

The typhoon destroyed food supplies and rice in the fields, and famine was feared as a result in Annam, central Viet Nam state. Medical authorities also warned of the danger of a typhoid epidemic.

Relief operations were hampered by floods and continued rains. French warships and coastal vessels, assisted by helicopters, were taking medicine and other supplies to the stricken area, a 90-mile coastal stretch between Tourane and the village of Quang Tri.

Aerial reconnaissance disclosed that typhoon floods also caused serious damage in zones held by the Communist-led Vietminh. The pilots said Red-held areas north of Dong Hoi, 62 miles north of Hue, were covered by water and that Vinh, Vietminh administrative capital and a military base, had been heavily damaged.

Thirty Miners
Reach Safety
After Blast

TIMMINS, Ont. — Thirty gold miners, trapped from half a mile to a mile underground by a surface explosion, climbed to safety early today.

The men were trapped when two large compressed air tanks, used to operate hoist machinery of the Conlaure mine near here, exploded with terrific force Friday night.

The explosion will shut down Conlaure—six other mines in the area are closed by strikes—for an indefinite period until the hoist can be repaired and compressed air pumped underground.

Acting mine manager W. O. Lafontaine said he did not know the cause of the explosion.

At 2 a.m. today, with the hoist that ordinarily would take them to the surface knocked out of operation, the last of the men reached ground level following a long, hard climb up part of the mine shaft.

It was nearly six hours after the blast at 8:15 p.m. that the last of the miners reached safety. They were caught underground on various levels below 3,000 feet all the way down to the 5,250-foot level.

No injuries were reported and the men, although haggard and tired, were in good spirits. They were reluctant, however, to talk of their experience.

Workers' Body
Found in Canal

The body of a bridge worker, who apparently slipped off a floating dock and drowned, was found in the waters of Gardiner Canal at Kemano yesterday.

He was Jack Warkentin, 34-year-old man employed on construction of a floating dock at Kemano beach camp, who disappeared from the job Thursday afternoon. His body was found in about 15 feet of water about 10 a.m. Friday morning, after a lengthy search by fellow workers.

Mr. Warkentin was last seen at 4 p.m. Thursday. About 15 minutes later, other workers noticed his absence, and when he failed to return, a search was started.

An inquest is being conducted by Coroner W. C. Proby at Kemano.

Warkentin is survived by his wife, at Kemano.

CLOTHED IN STERILE UNIFORM, a technician in the Zemun plant near Belgrade sifts penicillin powder. The plant produces over 200 billion units of the drug per year, and machinery for the penicillin production has been contributed by the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. Movie-Goers Miss Gunfight
In Lobby as Suspect Killed

BALTIMORE (AP)—A west coast desperado was killed and a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent fatally wounded Friday night in a blazing gun battle at a downtown movie house.

Most of the movie audience, absorbed with the crime picture on the screen, didn't realize a squad of FBI men was shooting it out with the trapped gunman. Another agent was seriously wounded in the battle on the mezzanine of the Town Theatre. Shot to death in a phone booth as he tried to place a call to Los Angeles was John Elgin Johnson, 34-year-old former bank robber wanted for parole violation and as a murder suspect.

Agent J. Brady Murphy, 36, of the local FBI office, was shot in the lower abdomen and died today at hospital. Agent Ray Fox, 39, was shot in the hip.

They were leading a squad of FBI men up the steps when Johnson—being stalled by a Los Angeles operator on his call until officers could get there—suddenly turned and opened fire through the glass door of the booth.

Murphy sagged to the floor. Fox fell backward towards the stairs. Other agents moved up, emptying their pistols into the booth.

The phone booth was riddled with bullet holes, the telephone book was punctured, and shattered glass lay around the floor.

Johnson was dead when he arrived at hospital.

THREE SETS OF TWINS
BORN HERE DURING MONTH

Prince Rupert's third set of twins in less than a month were born yesterday at the General hospital.

They are twin boys, born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Salonen, 309 Second Avenue West. One weighed seven pounds, 12 ounces, the other nine pounds.

Sent home from hospital today were the second set of twins, also boys, born September 18 to Mr. and Mrs. Werner Eckert, 155 Ninth Avenue East.

The first set were premature girls, born to Dr. and Mrs. Donald Oakley, 127 Hays Cove Circle, September 8. One baby, Donna, died yesterday at Vancouver. The babies were flown in an incubator to St. Paul's hospital in Vancouver, a few days after birth.

THE DIMINUTIVE Shetland pony social register in Omaha, Nebr., raised its collective eyebrows in shock recently, when Trixie announced that she had given birth to a youngster with long ears. Reason for all the astonishment was the knowledge that the little colt's daddy was a mule. Shown at his mommy's side, the long-legged, long-eared newcomer is still plenty cute.

Commings Rites Set for Monday

Susan Margaret Commings, eight-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Commings, 309 Second Avenue West, died at home early this morning. Born August 1, she is survived by her parents and one brother.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon from Grenville Court chapel with Rev. L. G. Sieber officiating. B.C. Undertakers are in charge of arrangements.

Value of Education

EVERY YEAR at this time, with hundreds of boys and girls just starting school or university, one encounters the age-old question:

"Why is education necessary to success in life?"

If success is to be gauged in financial return only, says the Windsor Star, it is quite possible that a young uneducated man may go into some business and reach the height of his earning power while still very young. But will he rise beyond that?

It is a proven fact that the less a man has in his head the more he must depend on physical energy—and after a man reaches 40 or 45 such energy is on the wane. If a man, say of 65, has to count on his physical energy to earn a livelihood, he may find himself in very poor circumstances. But the man of that age who has developed his intellect through education will live well and happily, as a rule, without depending upon his physical resources.

A noted philosopher puts it this way: Life grows more beautiful with every year to the man who is educated, while the life of the uneducated man grows less beautiful and less interesting.

So the answer to the question propounded by teenage students well might be:

The longer you go to school the more things you will know about this world and the people in it. The more points of interest and contact will be yours, and these you will need to fall back on as you grow older.

After all, education is nothing more than the passing on of the wisdom of the world to a younger and growing generation.

This is the function of our schools—to pass on the wisdom of all the ages of human beings in such a form that it will keep the young from drifting into the bad habits of erratic thinking and living. And to make the all-round efficient human being, it takes the home school plus the social school.

Children need all the education it is possible to give them. And possibly adults need all the children can pass back to them. It is a part of the evolution of the human race.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

Among animals, the elephant is rated as having the most acute sense of hearing. Wonder what the one that intended coming to Prince Rupert could have heard?

ASTAR AS HE COULD

Three years for quite a few Sons of Freedom, charged with having contributed to juvenile delinquency in British Columbia. The magistrate said he regretted he was unable to make the sentences heavier. He at least has not the slightest doubt concerning such matters.

The unhappy looking little old lean-to on 3rd Avenue across from 3rd Street may possibly see a change, but no one appears able to say when. Nevertheless, come indications. A truck load of rubbish has been swept from the floor and carted away. This included a worn out baby carriage. We'll bet the baby has whiskers—or a family of her own—by now.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS?

That Iran dignitary, Mossadegh, eats as a rule, three chickens every day, which should provide ample nourishment. Iran, whose politics have lately been suffering is said to have prospects of being sentenced to the scaffold. In other words, he risks getting it in the neck.

No one's opinions are entirely worthless. Even a stopped clock is right twice a day.—Niagara Review.

These fishermen comments the St. Thomas Times-Journal, who tell about catching them "this long" should be at the Atlantic coast, where halibut, seven to eight feet are being caught. This is all very well and we are quite prepared to believe it. Halibut is also caught off Prince Rupert, way out in the north Pacific. Willing to make an appointment any time.

Warehouses in Canada and the United States are reported to be filled with pork and butter and so huge is the wheat crop, the lack of storage facilities has become a problem. And this means world hunger exists, not because of selfishness, but through the dismal fact of inability to make effective distribution really work. We have the grub, but not the capacity.

Sometimes the overtaker makes work for the undertaker.

The hot dog is said to be becoming more and more popular in England. Nevertheless, we'll say the fish and chips appetite has a long way to go before it's overcome.

IT MUST COST

It seems every day, people you never heard of before, keep roving the earth, live at the costliest hotels, go where they fancy, peddle over the air or speak from some platform a lot of ballyhoo, no one understands or wants to. Where do they get the money?

Rhee Gets His Way

THE plain truth about the long impasse over the Korean peace conference is that one old man has vetoed the wishes of most of the world.

The United Nations voted as follows to have India sit in on the peace conference:

For India in 27
For India out 21

But the UN requires a two-thirds majority for such actions. Hence though the whole British Commonwealth, almost all Europe and Asia voted for India, the motion failed to become effective.

AN ANALYSIS of the vote shows the basis of Asia's grievance at the exclusion; and also why Russia and Red China have so gleefully grabbed this marvelous propaganda weapon which the clumsiness of American diplomacy has handed them.

Of the 21 votes to keep India out, no less than 17 were cast by Latin American states only one of which (Colombia) sent any military forces to fight in Korea.

There were 16 nations with forces in Korea on the UN side. Of these, a clear majority voted to include India at the peace table.

ON THE BASIS of the actual burden carried in Korea the United States should have the main say, for 95 per cent of the fighting, bleeding and dying—not to mention paying—was done by the U.S.A.

But any close student of Korean developments must admit that the war in Korea was at least partly the result of the impossible situation which had been created in that country, first by cutting the country clean in two, and then for years blocking the only kind of unification that was possible—that is, as in Austria contrasted with Germany. In Korea the blame for keeping the country divided was by no means all Russia's—U.S. was partly to blame.

Both Austria and Germany are occupied countries, each held in part by armies of east and west. But Austria has from the beginning had what Germany may yet start a world war to try to get—namely a single government for the whole country.

JOHN FOSTER DULLES candidly told the world that the U.S.A. voted to keep India out of the peace conference because of the "profound distrust" of India by Syngman Rhee.

The aged but militant president of South Korea has threatened over and over again to renew the war if the proposed peace conference breaks down, or fails to bring complete agreement within a three-month period after it starts.

Perhaps Dulles and Co. have recently come to the conclusion that it would be better not even to try to hold a peace conference than to hold it with that

by J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA—It is now just a little more than 55 years since the present legislative chamber was used for the first time.

MLA's first sat here, in this blue-carpeted, marble-pillared chamber of the province's highest law-makers in 1898. Feb. 10 of that year the present Legislative Buildings were opened. The day Lieutenant-governor T. R. McInnes turned a golden key in the great main doors, he opened the first session in the chamber where sessions have been held ever since.

What a day that was for Victoria! The opening of a session and the opening of those magnificent buildings! The Victoria Colonist reported: "Within the cream of provincial society, with the most representative men in British Columbia's public and professional life, crowded one another for breathing space, yet without complaint."

"In the lofty legislative hall, the scene was a not-to-be-forgotten one. The handsome costumes of the ladies, the bright uniforms of navy and army, the picturesque wigs of bench and bar, and the surplises of the clergy, each lending an individual charm—under the soft light—reflected in the polished marble so generously employed in this heart and centre of the pile."

D. W. Higgins was Mr. Speaker that memorable day of 1898, and being an old newspaperman, he needs must sit down and write of the past. He remembered the opening of the first legislative buildings in 1860, the famous bird cages. He wrote: "In a gallery were seated some 20 ladies in full dress, and when I tell you what 'full dress' meant in that day, you will understand that it required a fairly good-sized gallery to hold 20 ladies at one time. The gowns were cut extremely décolleté, and the petticoats were expanded to awful proportions by crinoline."

"The new woman had not then put in an appearance, and although we may not approve of her peculiar ideas, those of us who moved in the hoop-wearing era cannot but admire the graceful and sensible style of garments of today, as contrasted with the space-devouring costumes of 40 years ago. Had hoops been worn this time, the limited space in the new legislative hall would have been still further restricted."

"The hon. members (13 in number) were seated around a semi-circular table, with a green baize cover. A 'bar' of unpainted pine extended clear across the room. It was divided in the centre by a small gate for the ingress and egress of the members."

Men of Canadian D-Day Division Plan Second "Invasion" of France

KITCHENER (CP)—About 300 former members of the 3rd Canadian Infantry Division will go to Europe next year to mark the 10th anniversary of D-day June 6.

In charge of getting the men over for this "second invasion" of the continent is Clare Millar of Kitchener, formerly a lieutenant. "Inquiries are coming in from across Canada, from top officers on down," says Millar. "The interest in this trip is very keen."

Thieves Rob Kitwanga HBC Post

Police throughout northwest B.C. have been alerted to be on the lookout for thieves who netted over $2,000 in cash and cheques in a raid on a Hudson's Bay post at Kitwanga.

Thieves entered the small Hudson's Bay post in the village, 24 miles west of Hazelton, early Thursday morning. RCMP said the burglars, who picked the lock on the front door of the building, apparently knew the combination of the safe.

The loot included approximately $1,300 in cheques and $700 in cash. The theft was discovered yesterday when the manager opened the store for business.

KETCHIKAN, Alaska.—A coroner's jury said Wednesday all five Ellis Hall plane victims met death from an airplane crash at 5:15 p.m. Aug. 17.

It blamed the crash on air turbulence. The time was established from a smashed watch on the wrist of Patrick Hibben, one of the victims, and the clock on the plane's instrument panel.

The intention of the tour is to provide a second trip to Europe for men who landed on the beaches of Normandy with the 3rd Division in 1944. It is hoped a cenotaph will be erected on the beach to be dedicated and unveiled by the Canadians.

BY SEA AND AIR

Three methods of making the ocean crossing are being arranged. One group will sail on a Cunard liner from Quebec May 26. Another will fly from Montreal by Trans-Canada Air Lines June 1, and the third follows the next day from Montreal by BOAC.

Hotel and meals are being arranged. Wives of servicemen have been invited, and side trips and sight-seeking tours of England and the Continent are also planned.

Plans call for the whole group to assemble in Normandy June 5. Dinner that night will be at Caen, scene of bitter fighting for days after the landing. The actual anniversary, June 6, will be spent touring the battlefields and war cemeteries.

The group will work their way down to Groningen June 7 and then disperse.

REGIMENTAL BLAZERS

Those making the trip will be asked to wear grey flannels, with regimental blazers, and a grey 3rd Divisional beret with regimental badge.

The 3rd Division for the invasion of Normandy included the western infantry brigade, two eastern Canada infantry brigades and three Canadian tank regiments, the whole division embracing men from the Maritimes to British Columbia.

All Aboard

By G. E. MORTIMORE

All through the harvest season I weep for the farmers. No matter what the weather is, some of the farmers are always threatened with bankruptcy. A wet year rots the carrots. A dry year shrivels the rhubarb.

Sometimes it rains long enough to put the carrot-growers in the hole, then dries up in time to rob the rhubarb-fanciers of their life-savings.

"Rutabaga Growers Face Ruin," says a headline. "Officials of the Rutabaga Growers' Association said that unless rain falls within 24 hours, the crop will be a total failure. 'Rutabaga need rain to develop hearts and leaves,' a spokesman said."

"Crabapple Harvest May Be Wiped Out," says another headline. "Crabapple ranchers had their fingers crossed to-day. If a forecast of rain within 24 hours comes true, it will mean the loss of the entire multi-million dollar crabapple harvest."

"Crabapples need at least another week of dry weather if they are to mature to marketable size," Phipps McGonigle, secretary of the Crabapple Ranchers' Co-operative, observed.

"This year's disastrous crop failure seems to have ended huckleberry growing in this district for good. The crop was destroyed by high winds that shook the berries off the trees. Huckleberry farmers everywhere are selling their lands and moving into the city for work."

The winds came too late to save the broad bean crop, however.

"There'll be no broad beans on the market this year," said Elmer Podd, eminent bean farmer. "I doubt if we'll ever see the broad bean industry back, at least on the scale we once knew it."

"You see, the broad bean needs a lot of wind early in the season to blow the aphids away. Instead, we had a flat calm for six weeks. Lots of wind now, but it's no use. The aphids have already eaten the broad beans. My opinion is that the climate is changing. As for me, I'm getting out of the broad bean business as quick as I can."

But the farmers seem to stay in business all the same. Next year they are back in print with another heart-rendering forecast, making the reader feel vaguely guilty, as if it were his fault that the sun was shining too hard and burning the pumpkins, or the frost shrivelling the vegetable marrows.

The trouble is that the crops are so fussy. Some of them need rain all week, fog on Saturday morning, and double-time for growing on Sundays. It would not surprise me to learn that we have a grower of Arctic moss here, praying for snow, a coconut planter gnawing his nails and hoping for a heat wave, and a grower of Armenian water-onions awaiting a cloudburst because his crop will not ripen properly until flood water reaches the second floor.

WHO'S IMPORTANT?

By REV. LAWRENCE G. SIEBER, First United Church

"Then said Jesus unto him, go and do thou likewise."—Luke 10:37.

Who are the ten important people in Prince Rupert? Or you like to name THE important person in Prince Rupert about the most important people in Canada, can you name on a sheet of paper? Will they be as important next year? Who has the know-all to name the important? What makes you use to weigh them on? What measuring rod would you use?

If we go back into history, we learn that no one can ever tell on any day who might be the most important person. At the dividing line in history marked by B.C. and A.D. Caesar Augustus ruled over the vast and mighty Empire of Rome and decreed that "all the world should be taxed." Surely he was the important one in the world. But at that time in the little town of Bethlehem a baby was born in a stable. Which now of these two is the more important? Caesar or Jesus, the Christ? Great events and great persons have a way of coming on quiet feet.

Each generation has its try at naming the important people of the day. I wonder who would be on the list if God made it up? We all might be very surprised by what we saw on the list.

One day a man came to Jesus asking about eternal life. He wanted it. Jesus reminded him of the law of love—love of God and love of neighbor. And the son because in her love devotion she gave her self.

If you want to know the important read the Gospel of the New Testament. You will find that most of them are not the ones you are used to. They are only described. We would pass by them without noticing them. We would like people we know, people like people we know, people like people we know. But they really loved God and their neighbors. I hear of a book called "Who's Who" sort of social register. The other side book contains list of names, it is called "New Testament." The Book of Life! Who's Who?

French Launch New Attacks In Indo-China

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—The French Viet Nam drive to unhinge a series of Communist bases in the Red river delta has grown into a bitter battle 30 miles southeast of Hanoi.

The attack was launched Wednesday morning at Hung Yen, the key to a network of defended villages and towns in the delta which the French command wants to break up in advance of the expected Communist drive this fall.

French and Vietminh losses in the operation have been considerable during the last 48 hours. An estimated 50,000 Vietminh are in the delta area, principal French stronghold in Indo-China.

Suitable, Sturdy Toys Aim of Consumer Group

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Association of Consumers is coming to the rescue of parents having a hard time finding suitable sturdy toys for their children. It has set up a toy-testing committee in co-operation with the Citizen's Committee on Children in Ottawa. At present, the committee is studying methods of testing toys available on the Canadian market from the standpoint of durability and suitability for the age group for which they are intended.

The committee's aims will be to help educate the consumer to buy well-made toys suited to the child for whom they are bought; to give national recognition to manufacturers already presenting well-made toys and to stimulate others to improve their products; and to find methods of working with retailers to improve their selling techniques so as to help consumers and prevent unsuitable toy purchases.

Word of the toy program was given by Mrs. H. B. Kemp in her national executive committee report prepared for delivery to the association's sixth national annual meeting.

What to do about rubber-soled shoes that make black marks on hardwood floors is under consideration by the association's consumer research department. Mrs. W. G. Weir said in a report from a special committee:

"There are two suggestions as to the cause of the marks—namely, the quality of the rubber heels and the possibility of certain floor cleaners or polishes causing the trouble. With the co-operation of the shoe manufacturers and the national research council, who are working on the problem, we are hopeful of finding a solution."

Mrs. Weir said other complaints on which the committee is trying to get action have to do with cellophane packaging of fruit and vegetables, requests for standard marking on all packaged and foods and for marking of weight on packages in even figures, and the fit of women's shoes where a narrow width is required.

Centre Teen Club Enjoys Gala Dance

The Civic Centre Teen Club last night launched its season's activities with a gala dance in the small gymnasium at the Civic Centre.

Over 100 teenagers attended the event, dancing to recorded music at one of the most successful dances they have had to date.

Supervising the young people were Fred Calderoni of the Civic Centre staff and Miss Martha Duggan.

The club plans more dances plus other activities in the 1953-54 season.

Mrs. J. W. Rogerson Heads Local Art Club For 1953-54

Election of officers, plans for attendance at a night school art course, and for presentation of several art shows here highlighted a meeting yesterday afternoon of the Prince Rupert Art Club.

The meeting, which took the form of a tea at the home of Mrs. E. T. Applewhite, Elizabeth Apartments, saw Mrs. J. W. Rogerson named president, replacing Mrs. Thomas H. Priest. Other officers named were Mrs. T. M. Christie, vice-president; Mrs. G. A. Hill, treasurer; Mrs. J. T. Harvey, secretary; Mrs. Sidney Elkins, social convener and Miss Isobel Magee, program convener.

Secretary Mrs. Harvey reported that a night school course in art would be offered this year at the high school, and some 25 members of the club planned to register for the course.

Instructor will be Mrs. Peter Hodge, an English painter who had three years study at the Euskin School of Art, Oxford. Mrs. Hodge came here with her family a few months ago.

The night school course will comprise 20 lessons, and will be held every Tuesday night in the

Western Band Here Monday

Lovers of western music are in for a treat here Monday.

That's when Evan Kemp, radio star, and his CKMO Trail Riders will present their Vancouver Radio Review at the Civic Centre.

The well-known group will present a stage show from 9 to 10 p.m. and provide music for dancing from 10:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.

Evan Kemp has been in the music business since he was eight years old, starting on radio station CJOR with Pat Morgan and Bill Rea. Since then he has performed on nearly all the stations on the west coast.

Other members of the Trail Riders aggregation include "Sammy" Max (Kushmir), who plays anything from "long hair" to boogie; "Speedy" Ray, who plays drums and xylophone; Johnnie Starr, who hits bass fiddle, piano, guitar, and sings; and "Dizzy" Leo, the accordion specialist who also plays both western and classic, specializing in novelty numbers.

Their performance here will wind-up a lengthy tour of the northern part of the province.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Many Factors in Deciding Which Suit to Establish

The big problem in the play of many hands is that of deciding which suit to work on to establish your tricks. There are many factors to consider in making your choice.

To which opponent are you willing to surrender the lead? Will you have entries to run your suit after it is established? How many tricks will you have to give up to establish your suit? Is it better to work first on a suit where you have first and second round control, or should you go after a suit in which the enemy holds the top cards?

In today's deal Mr. Dale's play was influenced principally by his desire to keep Mr. Abel out of the lead. Mr. Champion opened the four of hearts. Dummy's queen was put up and it held.

Now Mr. Dale forgot about the diamond suit temporarily. He did not relish either a heart or a club lead from his right. Instead, he led a small spade from dummy at trick two and put in the eight spot from his hand.

Mr. Champion won with the queen and could not lead another heart without losing a trick. He therefore returned the eight of diamonds. Mr. Dale was still not ready to take a chance on losing the lead to Mr. Abel. He went up with dummy's ace of diamonds and pulled the jack of spades through. It held when Mr. Abel refused to cover. Now another spade to the ace cleared that suit.

With nine tricks in sight, it was now time to take the diamond finesse. It lost to the queen but Mr. Dale won the heart return with the ace and had nine tricks, including three spades, two hearts, three diamonds and a club.

He would not have fared this well if he had ducked the first heart lead in dummy, won in his own hand with the jack and taken the diamond finesse before going after the spades.

Civic Centre To Sponsor Sharpshooters

A Teen Rifle Club is one of the many new activities planned at the Prince Rupert Civic Centre this year.

The plan was approved at a meeting of the executive board of directors, and already four 22 single shot rifles have been purchased for the proposed club.

The Civic Centre rifle range with its four alleys will be the scene of the club's activities and members of the Rod and Gun Club will be approached to act as supervisors.

There has been no organized use of the rifle range in the past by teenagers, although some have taken part in Rod and Gun Club activities on the range. The new club was planned mainly because of the interest shown by those youths.

The Centre is now open for registration of teen-agers interested, and as soon as enough are registered, a meeting will be called to form the club and elect an executive.

Regular sessions of the new club are expected to get underway shortly after the big Civic Centre membership drive, which takes place Monday, October 5.

On that night, teams of volunteers from some 15 local organizations, will canvass the entire city, giving present members the opportunity to renew their memberships, and seeking new members.

Lone British Non-Patriate Condemns West's Way of Life

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The lone Briton among more than 300 Allied prisoners of war whom the Reds say refused repatriation, was quoted Thursday as saying the "result of our western, capitalistic way of life is mud and blood."

"The statement attributed to the Briton, whom the Reds identified as a marine, was released as the Reds delivered to Indian guards the United Nations prisoners of the Korean war who they say don't want to go home."

The statement attributed to the Briton was handed to Allied news correspondents by Communist correspondent Wilfred Burckett of the Paris l'Humanite.

"I, like my American friends, am a very ordinary type of person," the statement said. "I like to listen to music, read good books, and I like my occasional pint of beer."

"I like to see children playing and enjoying themselves. I love my mother, father and family. In fact, I am the sort of person you find walking about the streets of Britain, America or anywhere else. Not only do I want to enjoy these things but I like to see everyone else enjoying them, too."

"Perhaps that makes me an idealist, a humanist, a Communist or whatever you will. The sort of world I have been living in in the past denies these simple pleasures to hundreds of millions of people. And the result of our western, capitalistic way of life is the mud and blood, the orphans and widows and tortured people of Korea, of Viet Nam, Malaya and other countries."

The Briton was quoted as saying he was sure certain persons would pity him as a misfit or victim of Red indoctrination. But, he said, when it is discovered he and the Americans cannot be bribed, cajoled or menaced into returning, they will be painted as "renegades, Communist agents and doubtless we will swell the ever-increasing ranks of traitors."

Some thinking persons would ask:

"Why did they stay?"

The statement said it was to them that he was replying.

"I am determined to play my small part in fighting for the better sort of world I believe in," the statement said.

The statement said the Briton enlisted in the Marines for 12 years and still has five more to serve.

If he came home, "with my present political views on the world situation, I would be spending most of those five years in and out of jail and detention quarters."

This two bedroom bungalow designed by Ottawa architect, M. G. Dixon, has many attractive features. The house presents a pleasing exterior appearance, highlighted by the large living room window, while the roomy interior is well-planned with a hallway separating the living and sleeping areas.

The fireplace, which faces the entrance to the living room, provides a focal point for the arrangement of furniture, while the wide front window ensures good lighting and a pleasant atmosphere.

The kitchen is well arranged and has easy access to the rear entrance which leads directly to the basement stairs. It is also convenient to the separate dining room, a feature not usually found in a house of these dimensions.

The house contains a floor area of 904 square feet and the cubic measurement is 17,395 cubic feet. The exterior dimensions are 37 feet eight inches by 27 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 102, may be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, at minimum cost.

High Standard Maintained

Plastering Walls Centuries-Old Art

No Johnny-come-lately in the history of building is the art of plastering.

Since the earliest recorded days of civilization, artisans have used plaster to provide smooth, unbroken interior wall finishes and pleasing, easy-to-maintain outside coverings.

Primitive plaster, made from clay, mud of earth, was roughly daubed over a base often made of marsh reeds tied together.

IN ANCIENT EGYPT

As the construction of buildings improved, so did the quality of plaster and workmanship. A high standard of plastering was attained by ancient Egyptians, Greeks and Romans, no with the use of gypsum and other types of plasters, laid the foundation of present-day plastering and raised it to a fine art.

While ancient peoples realized that plaster added beauty and comfort to their buildings, its high sanitary value was likewise recognized. History records that a law was passed providing that in buildings which housed infected patients, the interior surfaces of rooms be scraped clean and plastered to prevent the spread of disease.

It further provided that the plaster work be inspected by a priest, who was authorized to order the house torn down and "removed to an unclean place," if the work were not done to his satisfaction.

AFTER LONDON FIRE

Fire resistance of plaster has been recognized for centuries.

In the year 1212, following the fire which destroyed London Bridge and many buildings in the vicinity, King John ordered that all stores along the Thames and houses where brewing and baking were done must be "plastered and whitewashed without and within" that they might be safe from fire.

Many Uses Set For Fir Plywood

Among the wide range of Douglas fir plywood fixtures which modern designers have developed to meet small home requirements for economy and utility may be mentioned living room, den, dining room and bedroom units, kitchen service centres, clean-up centres, food storage and baking units, and convenient storage walls.

In some parts of Africa white men are not permitted to buy land. Not even on a black market.

Canadian Wallpaper Firms Blossoming With New Ideas

The wallpaper industry in Canada is blossoming with new patterns, new ideas, and easy methods of application.

They apparently haven't yet generally adopted one new idea in Britain, where a company puts wallpaper on a sort of "board panel" arrangement which is placed on the wall. This is easily attached or removed, and is said to be indistinguishable from regular wallpaper.

In Canada, however, there are plenty of modern ideas on wallpaper, and here are some of them.

For the room with the sloping ceiling a gay, small, non-directional design, such as a spatter dash, or diminutive that will cover the ceiling and all four walls. Then pick up a color in the pattern and use accents of solid color throughout the room and at the windows. The small pattern minimizes the slopes.

There are innumerable little "extras" for those few rooms in which a dash of fun and plenty of imagination are not out of place.

Particularly nice for nurseries are window blinds covered with wallpaper that matches the walls. It can be very attractive, easy to put on, and the extra body gives new snap to the blinds.

A pretty wallpaper is also nice under a glass vanity top. Kitchen canister sets covered with a plastic-coated paper are both gay and practical.

The room with a low ceiling looks best with light airy tints. However, with a higher ceiling you can use a new approach with patterns. Gay colors, subtle tints, bold designs, little patterns, florals, foliage and plaids have all been used attractively on ceilings of kitchens, bedrooms, diningrooms and bedrooms.

And the days when pasting wallpaper was a job for experts are gone forever. Now you just put an adhesive mixture on the wall and put up dry, easy-to-handle paper.

Separate Shower Room no Luxury For Home With Sports Enthusiasts

"Do-it-yourself" enthusiasts who want to try out the new technique of staining unfinished furniture with fabric dyes should note the rules for doing the job right.

A home-economics bureau reports that dye-stains dissolved in water will successfully stain unpainted furniture. This makes it possible to use the 50 or more colors offered in the fabric dyes put out by various companies.

However, there are some ifs, ands, and buts to note:

1. The color of the dye in water solution will look different on the wood. Be prepared to test and keep testing for the right color.

2. The dye solution must be used fresh. It loses potency if you let it stand around, so be prepared to stain the whole piece in one sitting.

3. Dye solutions from two identical boxes of dye won't always come out exactly the same. If you have a set of unpainted furniture to do, do it all at once to make sure the color matches.

In doing the job, use this procedure: Dissolve the dye in water. (One box in a quart of water will do the average bookcase.) Brush it on or wipe it on with a cloth, but remember to wear gloves. When the dye has dried, apply sandpaper. Then apply clear a coat of white shellac with a brush. Let that dry, and rub down the wood lightly with fine sandpaper. Then apply clear a varnish with a brush, and you'll have color-stained furniture.

Opening day of the 1953-54 badminton season was set for Sunday, October 4 from 2 until 5 p.m. The meeting decided that badminton will be played on Thursday evenings and Sunday afternoons this year. Members also expressed the hope that the club will increase its inter-club play this season with additional tournament play within the club itself.

The meeting also heard a review of last year's activities given by retiring president Roy Paulson. He mentioned the visit paid by the Terrace badminton club, other enjoyable tournaments and the annual banquet. A vote of thanks was extended to last year's executive for their hard work during last season. The new slate stressed that new players will be most welcome and that beginners will be given all the help they need from the more experienced players.

No More Fights For Robinson

TORONTO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, former middleweight boxing champion, stopped briefly in Toronto Friday on his way to Cleveland to fill a nightclub dancing engagement.

Despite rumors to the contrary, Robinson says he is through with the ring for good. "There's nothing to them," he said. "I'm never coming back. They're trying to persuade me, but I'm 31 now and I know I'm through. Besides, I like dancing."

He said he had planned on a dancing career long before he ever considered boxing. He admitted it wasn't as tough as fighting.

Canada's first electric railway between Windsor and Walkerville, Ont., was completed in 1885.

Ice Rink Base To Be Frozen Next Week

With the help of as many volunteers as possible from club membership Prince Rupert Curling club hopes to start freezing the base of the ice surface at the rink Tuesday night.

There are several small jobs to be done yet including placing spacers between the brine pipes, installation of expansion belting around the headers and installing the electric fan to take care of condensation. President of the curling club, Jack Laurie, said this morning that all this must be done before the brine passes through the pipes. The sand and base has to be frozen for about a week before flooding can be undertaken.

Work parties are needed Sunday afternoon between 2 and 5 p.m. and on Monday from 7 to 10 p.m., Mr. Laurie said.

Over the past few months the rink has been painted and renovated inside.

Majors Set New Records In Season's Last Hours

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major leagues used their last big night of the 1953 season to write a hatful of records and best performances into the books.

In most instances it was a case of "the best since" or "the first since" instead of just plain "best" or "first," but it still is quite an impressive list. There was something in every game.

Lefty Mel Parnell of Boston Red Sox joined the great Walter Johnson as the only pitchers to shut out the New York Yankees four times in a season. Johnson did it in 1908. In beating the New Yorkers 5-0, Parnell also became the first pitcher to whip them five times in one year since Casey Stengel took over as manager five years ago.

Chicago White Sox scored their 87th triumph at the expense of the cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns, 7-2, and assured themselves of their best won-and-lost record in 33 years despite a third place finish.

The pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers won their 104th game, 4-3, over Philadelphia, equalling the all-time high in victories by a Dodger team. The second-place 1942 clubs also won 104.

Al Rosen continued his hitting rampage for Cleveland Indians. He smashed his 42nd and 43rd home runs as he broke the Cleveland homer record at the expense of Detroit Tigers who bowed 12-3. Rosen also got two other hits and moved within one point of Mickey Vernon of Washington, American League batting leader.

Harvey Haddix became the first rookie on the St. Louis Cardinals to win 20 games since Johnny Beasley in 1942. He breezed to his 20th, 11-2, over Chicago with the help of 19 hits, four of them by Red Schoendienst.

Bob Porterfield picked his ninth shutout and his 22nd victory as Washington edged Philadelphia 1-0 with a ninth-inning run. Porterfield is the first Washington pitcher since 1933 to win as many as 22 games.

Al Dark of the New York Giants set a National League record for home runs by shortstops when he hit his 23rd of the year in the Giants' 6-2 triumph at Pittsburgh. The old mark of 22 was set by Glenn Wright of the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1930.

Milwaukee and Cincinnati weren't scheduled.

Rangers Trim Canucks 7-1

PENTICTON, B.C. (AP)—New York Rangers made it two in a row over the Western Hockey League Vancouver Canucks Friday night, winning 7-1 in an exhibition game here.

The National Hockey League club drubbed the Canucks 6-1 at Trail Thursday night.

Remember When

By The Canadian Press
National Hockey League executives meeting 22 years ago today suspended the franchise of Ottawa Senators and Philadelphia Quakers. Players from the two teams were distributed among other teams in the circuit with the exception of Montreal Canadiens, who had won the Stanley Cup in the previous season of 1930-31.

VALUE OF NOBEL PRIZES UP $1,000 EACH IN '53

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Nobel prizes this year will be worth about $34,000 each, or $1,000 more than last year. The prizes awarded annually for those contributing most to the benefit of mankind in various fields, come from the interest on a $9,000,000 bequest left by Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.
