WANTED TO GO THISAWAY—This is why coronation procession participants are rehearsing their roles as Queen Elizabeth's big day nears. Two horses, drawing a coach, swerved from their path and ran afoul of a tree in the Mall, not far from Marlborough House, during their first run through the procession route. As the Queen's men push forward to untangle the beast and put the procession back together again, they hope that horses and coachmen have learned how to avoid the same mistake come Coronation Day.

Emergency Embargoes Ordered as Seamen Set Strike Deadline

VANCOUVER (CP)—Emergency embargoes were ordered Tuesday night by Canadian Pacific and other shipping companies as crews manning ships along the British Columbia coast set Saturday as the strike deadline. The CPR announced immediate embargoes on shipments of livestock and perishable goods if shipments are destined for points served by coastal steamships. Canadian National Railways said it will implement similar embargoes. The CNR is not involved to the extent of the CPR which, with its steamship service, links the mainland and Vancouver Island.

DAILY WORKER TO PRINT CORONATION CARTOONS

LONDON (AP)—The Communist Daily Worker announced it has decided, like other British newspapers, to give the coronation a little special attention. Said a front-page notice: "The Daily Worker on Saturday is publishing a new type of Coronation cartoon. Every day until Coronation Day we tell, in strip cartoon form, the great story of the British people's struggle against the monarchy in the days of the Stuarts."

Siamese Twin Boys Born to Nova Scotia Woman

BRUNSWICK, N.S. — The birth of Siamese twin boys Tuesday to the 19-year-old wife of a garage mechanic is reported in excellent condition after doctors described him "not doing too well." The boys, whose total weight was 13 pounds, are resting in a hospital. A hastily-fashioned incubator following their delivery by cesarean section. The twins were born to Mrs. Dr. Frank MacLeod, chief surgeon of Inverness County Memorial Hospital, gave them an excellent chance of survival. "I can't see any reason why they won't live," he said. They are perfectly healthy. Hospital officials said it is too early to discuss a possible operation to separate them. The twins are joined face-to-face from close to the neck to the navel by bone. "Otherwise," said Dr. MacLeod, "they are perfectly healthy."

MUSIC MAKER?—Huff and puff though she might, this London tot just can't seem to get a tune out of a monster trumpet, which is part of a coronation decoration soon to be erected in the Mall. Trying her best as a music maker is Annette Collingridge, age four.

Woman To Battle Premier

229 Candidates File Papers
 By The Canadian Press
VANCOUVER—A surprise woman candidate to battle Premier Bennett in the British Columbia general election June 9 provided the highlight at the close of official nominations Tuesday.

Mrs. E. C. Weddell, Kelowna housewife and grandmother, filed papers for the Progressive Conservative Party in South Okanagan, making a four-way fight for the constituency of the Social Credit Premier. A total of 229 candidates will fight for 48 seats when voters go to polls June 9 for the second time in less than a year to elect a provincial government. Total of candidates for the last election was 212, then a record. Nominating day saw the Social Credit and Liberal parties file full slates of candidates for the 48 seats, which include two triple-seat ridings and three two-seat constituencies. The CCF, under school principal Arnold Webster, entered all ridings except Fernie, held for the last 33 years by Laborite Tom Uphill, who is running again. The Progressive Conservatives, led by 33-year-old Deane Finlayson, placed 38 candidates.

Arthur Turner, CCF Whip To Address Meeting Here

Arthur Turner, CCF whip, arrived here last night in the course of an election campaign tour. He speaks tomorrow night with George Hills, who is seeking re-election for Prince Rupert constituency. In an address at Smithers, Mr. Turner excused all opposition parties, particularly his own, for having finally defeated the government in the last session at Victoria. He said the Socreds "wanted to be beaten, while the opposition wanted legislation, not another election."

Second Polish Pilot Escapes With MiG-15

ROENNE, Denmark — Another Polish pilot crashed through the iron curtain today with a Soviet-built MiG-15 jet fighter. Braving hazardous landing conditions, he landed the plane successfully on a knotty military training ground just outside Roenne, capital of the Danish Baltic island of Bornholm. An unconfirmed report said the plane was of a newer type than the one landed on this Baltic island March 25 by Lieut. Franciszek Jarecki, first Polish air force escapee. Jarecki's plane later was returned to Poland after a thorough examination by western air experts. Jarecki was granted asylum and since has gone to the United States. Bornholm is only a few minutes flying time from Poland.

Fijians Eye Sockeye Carryover

VANCOUVER — The Fijian Islands' delegation to the Coronation stopped over briefly in Vancouver—and regretfully eyed B.C.'s bulging sockeye carryover. "Before the war," said Hon. Maurice Scott, European member of the three-man group, "sockeye was almost a staple food in Fiji. Now we can't buy it because we are in a sterling area and can't get the dollars to buy it." "It is regrettable," agreed Hon. Ratu George Cakobau, whose grandfather was the last king of Fiji. "We can buy limited amounts of Russian salmon, but it is not as good and is a fabulous price."

Travelling Ballot Box Proposed

VICTORIA (CP) — Travelling ballot box system to allow bed-ridden hospital patients to vote in the June 9 election was proposed Tuesday by Premier Bennett. The Premier has sent telegrams to all party leaders asking their approval of his suggestion. LONDON (AP) — The foreign office disclosed today that it had failed in a new effort to win freedom for a British businessman jailed by Communist Hungary. Last March the Budapest government offered to free Edgar Sanders, sentenced on charges of espionage in 1949, in exchange for Lee Meng, a Chinese girl Communist guerrilla under death sentence in Malaya. Prime Minister Churchill turned down the proposal. Lee Meng's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. A foreign office spokesman told a press conference today that another recent approach to Hungary on Saunders' behalf "met with no success." He gave no other details. There have been several big-scale amnesties in Russia, Romania and Czechoslovakia since the death of Stalin March 6, but not in Hungary. Sanders was jailed in November, 1949 with an American colleague, Robert Vogeler. Both were convicted on espionage charges. Vogeler was released in exchange for some concessions to Hungary by the United States government. The family of Sanders is expected now to make an appeal for his release directly to the leaders of the Budapest government—just as the wife of AP correspondent William Oatis did to the president of the Czechoslovak republic.

Three-Day Search Ends at Cedarvale

A posse of RCMP from Prince Rupert late last night captured two young men who escaped from the city jail here sometime last Sunday at Cedarvale to end a widespread three-day search for the pair. The two—John Robertson, 21, and William Stevens, about 34,—are being brought back today under police escort. Robertson was being held on a forgery charge and Stevens was awaiting trial on a charge of robbery with violence. They escaped through a coal chute from the furnace room of the city hall after making a hole through the ceiling of their cell. RCMP from Rupert, under the senior non-commissioned officer of the sub-division, joined the hunt after a car, reported stolen here early Sunday, was discovered at Terrace. The posse arrived at Kitsalas, 10 miles east of Terrace, about 2 a.m. Monday after two strangers had been reported seen in the area. Police began a trek along the CNR railway tracks and the Skeena River banks. Their search continued all that day and night as they followed up tips from the few scattered citizens in the area. Travelling on foot and railway speeder the Rupert police, with the aid of the Terrace detachment, scoured the bush country through to Usk and Pacific and then proceeded to Cedarvale, where it is reported the two men were taken into custody at 10:30 p.m. last night while attempting to break into a store and sub-postoffice operated by a Mrs. Essex. It is believed the escapees eluded police earlier in their search by darting into the heavy bush country on hearing the railway speeder each time it passed along the railway tracks. The men made no attempt to evade capture and after being taken into custody the police and escapees waited in a CNR section man's house until the passenger train arrived at Cedarvale at 4 o'clock this morning. They took the two men to Terrace, arriving at 8 a.m., where the pair were lodged in jail while the police, tired after their three-day trudge, went to bed. They left Terrace by car at 1:30 this afternoon for this city.

Police Dig Up Woman Slain Four Years Ago

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard, tolling until dawn Monday, dug up the body of a pretty, 20-year-old housewife slain four years ago in London's infamous Notting Hill "murder mill." Home office pathologist Keith Simpson stood by as detectives raised the coffin of Mrs. Beryl Evans and her 14-month-old daughter from a grave in a fog-cloaked West London cemetery. Simpson was to examine the bodies later. The woman's husband, Timothy Evans, was convicted of strangling his wife and daughter and went to the gallows in 1950. At his trial, Evans repudiated an earlier confession and tried to pin the blame on John Christie, 55-year-old trucking clerk now charged with strangling four women whose bodies were found in the same house two months ago. Christie, a chief prosecution witness at Evans' trial, denied the accusations and was exonerated by the court. The exhumation was demanded by Christie's present defence lawyers. They gave no reason for reviving the earlier case. Police cordoned the cemetery to keep reporters away from the grave. Just after dawn an ambulance took the two bodies in their single coffin to a mortuary.

Halibut Landed

VANCOUVER (CP)—The fish-packer Eastview arrived here Tuesday with 12,000 pounds of halibut—first of the season to be unloaded in the city. The packer, operated by B.C. Packers, Limited, picked up the halibut at Ucluelet and Bamfield, on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

1,200-Acre Forest Fire Controlled

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — A tenacious forest fire, burning over 1,200 acres in the Red Rock district south of here for the last three days, was brought under control late Tuesday, forest service officials reported today. The blaze, originating in a sawdust pile, destroyed two sawmills and damaged another. Damage is estimated unofficially at $50,000. Some 125 firefighters, aided by seven bulldozers, succeeded in breaking up the stubborn fire into three smaller sections which were expected to burn themselves out today.

The Crown

WHEN the curtain rises on the coronation it will be a curtain rising on a deep vista of history. Not the least of the benefits of this ceremony is that life in the present takes on a profounder meaning in the larger context of time which its pageantry recalls.

The coronation is an act of the highest poetry in the Commonwealth's life, saddened on this occasion by the death in March of Queen Mary—widow of a King, mother of two Kings, and grandmother of the reigning Queen.

In relation to the Crown we are mystics. Our Queen is not a person exalted above us by Divine Right, nor a person of our own choosing. We have a part in her dignity, but she does not achieve that dignity at our will.

The Queen is the unimpeachable figure of all that is good in government; her crown is a symbol standing above creeds and parties. In a materialistic age, when the world is threatened by dangers never before known, the British Monarchy endures in noble strength. It is, in essence, the exaltation of dutiful example as opposed to the hazards of ruling by the mailed fist and the fleeting greatness of dictatorship.

One virtue in the coronation rites is that they are out of date. How could the stability and continuity of the national history be more impressively shown? Our Queen is crowned with the same ritual as that with which her predecessors have been crowned for more than a thousand years.

This is the oldest state ceremonial in Britain, and perhaps the oldest in the world. The first preserved ritual of an English coronation dates from the eighth century. There is one attributed to St. Dunstan, said to have been used by him at the coronation of King Ethelred in the year 978.

The forms are ancient, but the spirit embodied in them never grows old. That spirit is the solemn recognition of the sacred character alike of royalty and loyalty.

Outlook for Peace Brighter, Nehru Says in Policy Statement

NEW DELHI (CP)—Prime Minister Nehru of India said today "the outlook for peace is brighter than it has been for a long time."

The remark came in a major foreign policy statement made before both the upper and lower Houses of Parliament and received with great cheering.

Nehru welcomed Prime Minister Churchill's proposal for a conference of the leaders of world powers at an early date and added: "I would earnestly commend this suggestion."

He noted that President Eisenhower was not opposed to such a conference but had said that the time for it was not ripe. Nehru said he felt a solution of the Korean prisoner of war problem was more likely to be found on the basis of the United Nations resolution and the Chinese eight-point proposal than on the latest United Nations counter-proposals.

The UN resolution, adopted last December, provided that the UN take custody of any POWs refusing repatriation after a four-country repatriation commission had had them for 90 days and a political conference on Korea had discussed their future for another 30 days.

The Communists last week proposed that a five-country repatriation commission—including India—take over the prisoners for four months. The fate of any refusing repatriation after the period would be settled by a political conference.

As I See It

Election Picture Now

HERE is how the B.C. election picture as it looks to me three weeks before the poll.

The revitalized Liberal party, under the steady-going, moderate leadership of Art Laing, is clearly gaining. The fact that the Secord's have switched their heaviest attacks from the CCF to the Laing Liberals, speaks for itself.

LAST NOVEMBER Mr. Bennett boasted that Social Credit would win all 48 of the seats in the Legislature.

Two months ago he had lowered that claim to 40 seats.

Now the Social Credit party is buying newspaper space to advertise that they alone can win 25 or more seats. Some come down—with three weeks to go.

The Social Credit slump goes back to a Biblical principle: "A house divided against itself can not stand."

Half of the Social Credit leaders are career Tories who are secretly opposed to the monetary principles of their own new-joined party. They have sternly forbidden any discussion of "Just Price Fixing" whereby all goods would be sold in stores at less than cost.

No cabinet minister dares to take advantage of my invitation to explain in this space Social Credit "Just Price Fixing" etc.

The same thing applies in regard to the Social Credit two pronged attack on the B.C. schools—for the Rolston formula and against Effective Living Teaching. When Mr. Reid of Salmon Arm made his "sex and socialism" attack the ex-Tories in the cabinet repudiated that outburst from their own party supporters. Now Mr. Reid claims that Premier Bennett secretly supported him 100 percent in caucus. And Hon. Eric Martin publicly describes Mr. Reid as "the hero of Salmon Arm." It's double talk or double dealing.

THE CCF under the new leader Arnold Webster has done well. So has the real-old undisguised Tory party under the genial leadership of the smiling, pipe smoking giant, Deane Finlayson. Best wishes to both.

But the CCF leader himself is under no illusions. He has publicly declared that no single party can win a clear majority. I agree with Mr. Webster on many things, but not on that, yet.

My ex-naval intelligence officer friend Jim Dennison spent a year analyzing the 1952 election. He painstakingly proved that on the first count Secords gained from other parties as follows:

From Liberals	82,447
Conservatives	58,344
CCF	33,489

Yet Social Credit ran only two percent ahead of the Liberals and five per cent behind the CCF. Last time Social Credit was every other party's second choice. This time I doubt it will be any other party's second choice.

That is why it seems to me to come down to this: Either we might get a neck-and-neck deadlock with the CCF, Liberals and Secords getting about 15 seats each. Or if Laing continues to force ahead for the next three weeks, as he has done so far, the new Liberals could emerge with a clear working majority, with CCF running second.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

The most widely held theory in Capital circles is that the St. Laurent government was flying a kite in the recently circulated report about the impending appointment of J. W. Pickersgill to the cabinet in succession to Secretary of State Gordon Bradley.

That doesn't mean the Pickersgill isn't going to be named. It just means that there will be an interval of further decision while the Prime Minister digests the reaction to the reports, particularly in the ranks of the Liberal Party.

At the moment all signs indicate that the reaction amongst the federal Liberal MP's is unenthusiastic almost to the point of violent protest. The basic attitude of the rank-and-file in the Commons is that, if any vacancies exist or are in prospect in the cabinet, there are plenty of Liberal MP's to fill them. The Liberal MP's definitely don't like the policy of recruiting new cabinet members from the ranks of the so-called "brain-trusters" who haven't won their political spurs the hard way by having to get elected to parliament.

The Pickersgill proposal further fails to win the support of the Liberal MP's from the Maritime provinces on what are represented to be strictly practical grounds. The assertion is made that the Atlantic Coast provinces are traditionally inhospitable to the idea of importing cabinet ministers from other provinces. They contend that geography and the distinctive nature of their resources saddle them with problems that are exclusively theirs and which require native understanding if their economic and social interests are to be served.

For that reason the Maritime MP's argue that Pickersgill's appointment and assignment to a Newfoundland portfolio—Hon. Gordon Bradley is slated to go to the Senate—would be received unfavorably by Maritime electors. The estimate is even made that it would cost the Liberals the loss of 10 seats in the four provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island. If the coming election is as tight an affair as many political prophets

Another fight in prospect, after all? While thirty-nine is getting along, it must be admitted, it's not so aged. It looked a bit that way Monday. Maybe Jersey Joe couldn't hear right when counting time came. Maybe? But at any rate, what the public want is action. That's what they pay for!

WHALES AND FISH FOOD
There is, of course, a possibility of contact between whale and plane explaining last week's disaster at Prince Rupert. But beyond that, however, one could hardly go, although it can certainly be said whales were more frequently noted here in pursuit of herring. Townsite survey engineers found something to write home about.

Only in the movies do people smoke part of a cigarette, leave most of a drink, and get up and go away from a costly dinner before hardly touching it.

"Having a wrestle with a bear before breakfast will keep a man in good physical shape" writes

That's interesting. When living in Bloemfontein fifty-three years ago; we were reading "The Friend"—not every day but whenever it came out which was every now and then. We can see the shiny black little newsmen racing toward the camps, yelling "Friend, Friend, Friend." (A darn good name, by the way). They ran four pages, six or eight pages, had no special headlines, sometimes printed both English and Dutch, carried poems as original, proclamations—Roberts, F.M.—odds and ends. Well, Well, Good Friend." Carry on.

Consumption of an average pound of fish each year would be of material assistance to industry announces the Minister of Fisheries, Hon. Mr. Sinclair. What he says is not exactly true but what is news is this—Pring of the world's finest, freshest halibut in Heaton's near Prince Rupert started today. With Mr. Sinclair's saying this, perhaps he can persuade his public to enjoy a few pounds.

Members of the federal net sailed yesterday for and at the same time it is known that the Canadian general election is expected the ter part of August. One squeeze enough out of to provide a holiday.

Elks Form Association For Fund-Raising Purposes

Delegates to the Elks district convention at Prince George today reported it was "a most successful session and all had a wonderful time."

About 150 delegates from the seven lodges of District 7 were in attendance. The district takes in lodges from McBride, Quesnel, Williams Lake to Prince Rupert.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the setting up of an organization within this district of a body called "District No. 7 B.C. Elks Association."

Its purpose is to combine the financial resources of all lodges into a pool whereby large and costly money-making ventures can be undertaken that would be too costly for any one lodge to handle.

"For instance," said one delegate, "a circus could be billed to show all along this northern route under the sponsorship of the Elks, a project not likely possible by any one lodge."

Many other such large ventures could be undertaken by this special combined business body which would operate entirely on its own.

The body consists of one member from each lodge—yet to be selected—a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and four directors.

Len Evans of Smithers was elected District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler, succeeding Malcolm Johnson of Williams Lake. Smithers was chosen for next year's district convention while Prince Rupert put in a bid for the B.C. Elks Association annual convention.

Those attending the meeting from Prince Rupert were: Verne Ciccone, Jerry Pettenuzzo, Gus Stromdahl, Hugo Kraupner, N. J. Gurvich, Robert Shrubbsall and Garnet Hull.

Phillies Grab One-Game Lead in National League

NEW YORK (CP)—Philadelphia Phillies took a one-game lead in the close National League race Tuesday night, whipping Cincinnati 6-3 while Milwaukee was bowing 4-1 to Brooklyn.

Feller Wants One More No-Hit Game

NEW YORK (AP)—There's one more thing Bob Feller is anxious to do before he calls it quits in baseball—pitch another no-hit game.

"That would give me four, more than any other man in history ever pitched," Cleveland's persevering righthander remarked. "I figure it's the one important all-time record that's still within my reach."

"Sure, I'd like to win a world series game, since I never have, and I wish I could have won 900 games but I'm afraid there's no hope of that."

The onetime fireball king from Van Meter, Iowa, a trim and youthful 34, posted victory No. 240 April 27 by whipping Detroit 2-1 with a five-hitter.

"I'm not winning too many games this year, but, gee, I don't know when I've felt better," Feller said. "I've lost some weight. My arm feels loose and seems to have a lot of whip in it."

"If things go well I ought to do as well as I did two years ago when I won 22. And that no-hitter—who can tell? It may pop up any time."

Feller pitched his first no-hitter April 16, 1940, against Chicago. He got another in 1946 against New York, and his third in 1951 against the Tigers.

The only other men ever to pitch three no-hit games in the majors were Larry Corcoran, the old Chicago Nationals ace, who did it in 1880-82-84, and the matchless Cy Young, who collected his in 1897, 1904-08.

Feller said he hoped to remain active at least until 1956, which would give him a 20-year span, excluding his four years in the armed services between 1942 and 1945.

Bob Fleming Golf Crown Wins Amateur

VICTORIA (CP)—Bob Fleming, 22-year-old Victoria shotmaker, won the British Columbia amateur golf championship Monday with a 4 to 2 victory over Vancouver's Jackie Reynolds in the 36-hole final.

Runner-up to Jim Squire in 1950 when he was defeated on the 37th hole and finalist against Bill Mawhinney in 1951, Fleming made no mistake this time. Mawhinney vacated his title when he returned professional last fall.

Fleming trailed through most of the morning round when Reynolds took a two-hole lead on the first two holes and held the margin until the ninth. Fleming then knocked off nine holes from the 17th to the 27th to clinch his win.

Reynolds' 10-foot putt for a birdie two on the 33rd hole cut Fleming's lead to three holes but the end was in sight when Reynolds was short of the green with his second on the 34th.

Reynolds finally conceded when his 15-foot putt for a par four was wide of the hole. Fleming was even par for the holes played in the afternoon, being three over on the morning round.

In the American League New York Yankees had to go 11 innings before downing the cellar-dwelling Detroit Tigers 4-3 on Hank Bauer's home run.

The victory, combined with Chicago's two hit, 2-1 loss to Philadelphia increased Yankees' first place margin to two full games over the White Sox.

Wherever big things are going on there you'll find the engineer

Wherever you go in Canada today, you see the work of the professional engineer. A river's course is changed and its rushing power harnessed for man's needs... an oil pipeline scales a mighty mountain range... a highway is punched through the rocky wilderness... the skylines of cities are altered in a few short months... and behind each mighty accomplishment stands the engineer.

Behind our many new industries, unknown a decade ago, as well as the unprecedented development of our natural resources—stands the engineer. His is the vision and the orderly thinking that is contributing so much to Canada's phenomenal expansion.

WE OF CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC never forget that ours is essentially an engineering organization. We know that our progress depends on the constant recruitment of young engineers and are proud of the contribution we are making to their training.

Engineering graduates join this Company each year

Each year, since its earliest days, engineering graduates have joined this Company to continue their training in special courses—nearly twelve hundred have already gained invaluable experience on the Company's well-known "Test" Course.

The purpose of the Course is primarily to ensure a constant supply of trained talent for this Company. A high proportion of the executives of this organization got their start on the "Test" Course.

The Course over the years has also contributed a constant stream of highly-trained graduates to fill the ranks of Canadian industry. In fact, it is a source of pride that not a few of them are to be found today holding important positions in many widely diversified engineering fields.

Everybody benefits from the engineers' work

Canadian General Electric currently employs some eight hundred engineers—that's one out of every eighteen employees—and is continually adding to their number. These men—whether they work as development, design, production, application, sales or service engineers, in the electrical, mechanical or chemical fields—are in the final analysis working for you.

They develop, design and manufacture the complex electrical equipment that generates power, transmits it across great distances, controls it and then puts it to work for the common good. They are constantly improving and simplifying existing products to increase their efficiency and lower their cost. They develop brand-new products to meet brand-new needs. In cooperation with our customers' engineers they design and install equipment to meet specialized needs—to raise productivity and to lower costs.

The engineers' part in Canada's rising prosperity

It is an important part of their work to find new methods of manufacture, and to develop new equipment and products that do more, last longer and cost less to operate. It is by employing outstanding engineers—the key men in Canada's progress—that we are able to play a worthy part in our country's industrial growth, and in the developments that are raising the living standards of all of us.

Halifax Housing Problem Growing Worse, Not Better

By JACK BEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer
HALIFAX — There was little jubilation at recent ceremonies marking completion of the first 17 units of a 161-unit housing project here. Instead, the occasion brought sombre reflection on conditions that are steadily growing worse instead of better. Since 1939 about 7,000 families have moved into this city, but only 2,000 new homes have been built while 300 have been demolished. It's estimated that it would require 5,400 more dwellings to relieve the shortage entirely.

Alderman Byron Hatfield, chairman of the city's slum clearance and public housing committee, says there is immediate need for 1,500 new homes. Based on a bureau of statistics finding of 3.5 persons to the average Halifax family, that means more than 5,000 of the 85,000 population are living in sub-standard dwellings.

Rents are at high levels. Some persons are paying $85 a month for two rooms and rates of $100 or more for apartments are common. House rents are extremely high.

EXPANSION DIFFICULT
Unlike many other cities, Halifax, on a peninsula, cannot do much in the way of expansion. It has been suggested that the city branch out into adjacent county areas, but suburban communities oppose such a move.

One possibility will doubtless be exploited as the new harbor bridge nears completion. An abundance of good, cheap land is available on the Dartmouth side, and it's expected that with the elimination of the harbor bottleneck there will be a big exodus from the city.

City manager August Debard predicts that Dartmouth, already a bustling town of 20,000, will eventually become the "bedroom" of Halifax.

Halifax had its housing troubles during the war, when the population of 60,000 nearly doubled overnight.

Representative the Yukon Girl Guides at the Coronation, Lena Lizza, native of the town of Old Crow, 70 miles north of the Arctic Circle, arrives in Montreal en route to London. She said she hopes to visit the Tower of London while in England.

Girls Pick up Guests Forcibly If Necessary

TOKYO (AP)— Unless you're an expert at Judo or a millionaire itching for a spending spree, you'd better shy away from Shibuya, the stronghold of Tokyo's strong-arm girls.

About 200 cabarets cluster within a few narrow blocks in the Shibuya district. These establishments hire about 1,000 girls to go out to the streets and pick up guests—forcibly if they must.

Each of the girls has a manual of field tactics giving instructions on how to get customers. It's not a gentle art. A sample text from the field manual: "When you pick him up, crowd him from the right, seize his right arm, then yell and pull the stunned man up without allowing him to make the least resistance."

The captive "guests" usually are released after being squeezed of all their money. Sometimes watches, coats, hats and other valuables are held—supposedly to pay for their bills.

The bills are fantastic and are quickly swollen by the hungry and thirsty girls. It's not unusual for a "guest's" bill to reach $100 after an hour or so of this sort of thing.

Sloan Hands Down Reasons Why Play Considered Obscene

VICTORIA — Reasons why British Columbia Court of Appeal held that the recent "Tobacco Road" performance in Vancouver was obscene were handed down Saturday by Chief Justice Gordon Sloan.

The judgment said in part: "Upon consideration of the admitted or undisputed facts adduced in evidence, concerning the subject matters of the charge, it is my view that the learned police magistrate reached the right conclusion thereon and I am in general agreement with the reasons he gave impelling him to such conclusion."

"With deference, it is my opinion that the learned County Court judge erred in not applying the test of obscenity laid down by Chief Justice Cockburn in Regina vs. Hicklin:

"I think the test of obscenity in this, whether the tendency of the matter charged as obscenity is to deprave and corrupt those whose minds are open to such immoral influences. . . . This statement of the law has been accepted and followed in many instances by Canadian courts. It is manifest that the learned magistrate, in convicting the present respondent based, properly, his findings upon this test."

Gainsborough Picture Sells For $76,000

LONDON (CP)— Two paintings of the 18th century English artist, Thomas Gainsborough, were sold for 26,000 guineas ($76,000) each at Christie's auction sale here.

An official for Christie's said it was the highest price ever paid for a Gainsborough in Britain.

Highest price paid anywhere for one of the artist's paintings was $360,000 for "Harvest Wagon," sold in the United States in 1923. This work now is believed to be in Canada.

Gainsborough's "The Cottage Door" and "Crossing the Ford," from the Tollemache collection, were bought Friday by a London art dealer. He declined to identify his client although he said both pictures will remain in Britain.

Bishop Fleming Buried Tuesday At Toronto

TORONTO (AP)— Rt. Rev. Archibald Lang Fleming, 69, known as the Flying Bishop for his flights over the northland and sub-Arctic, was buried on Tuesday.

Bishop Fleming, who died of a heart attack Sunday, was the first Anglican bishop of the Arctic and he ministered to a diocese covering 1,250,000 square miles inhabited by 10,000 Eskimos. He was known by them as In-Nook-Tah-Kaub, meaning one of the family of the Eskimos.

Bishop Fleming was born in Greenock, Scotland, and became interested in missionary work among the Eskimos when he was 11.

Educated at Greenock academy, he came to Canada in 1902 and entered Wycliffe College. He spent two years in Baffin Land before graduating. He was made a deacon in 1912 and a priest in 1913.

A few weeks later he sailed alone for the Arctic and was stationed for two years in Baffin Land.

He suffered a disappointment in 1916 while on a furlough when told his health was unsatisfactory and that he could not return to the Arctic.

He became rector of the church of St. John the Evangelist in Saint John, N.B. In 1927 he was appointed archdeacon of the Arctic under five bishops, but five years later the whole area was made into one diocese and he was consecrated bishop Dec. 21, 1933, at St. John's Cathedral, Winnipeg.

Bishop Fleming visited the Arctic annually. His diocese stretched from Akavik to Labrador and south to Fort George on James Bay.

Bishop Fleming was the author of several books and a member of the Royal Geographical Society.
