Thirty-five years, ago it was Prince George that invaded this island and the only two remaining members of the last Prince Rupert hockey team that could be found today recalled that the Rupert and George squads met on a rink located where the Provincial Court House flag now stands. The entire population of the then-young city turned out to watch the game played on an ice-surface 18 inches thick and 200 feet by

Harry Love, pioneer city machine shop operator, who played forward, and Lionel Holtby, chief clerk at the CNR freight office, who played centre, are both hale and hearty survivors of that encounter and looking forward to tomorrow's game scheduled for 2 p.m. at the Lake Oliver rink.

The Prince Rupert Kinsmen Club, sponsors of tomorrow's puck game, assure fans that there will be no admission charge but that doesn't mean donations won't be appreciated. Al proceeds of the game will be forwarded to the polio fund.

Bill Bond, chairman of the ticket selling committee, said today motorists will be approached by Kinsmen tomorrow for aid in the fund-raising and one ticket per car will be sufficient to insure success of the project. Chifdren will not be expected to subscribe. The Kinsmen will also operate a concession stand at the lake for those wishing refreshments.

Mayor George E. Hills will face off the puck at 2 p.m. sharp, on the newly-scraped and flooded ice surface.

Coach for the Prince Rupert All-Stars is Stan Petrow of Winnipeg, former St. Boniface Juniors' star who at one time was on option to the New York Rangers of the NHL. Piloting the Smithers' squad is Bob Williams who is bringing the follow-

While nothing better than a medium run of sockeye is expected this year, the fisheries department believes that there are prospects of a substantial return from pinks in this area. A. J. Whitmore, chief super ? visor of fisheries, who was here on a routine inspection trip, LIONS said this year's run of sockeye is the last cycle of fish that wasn't disturbed by the Babine Admitted River slide in 1951.

The 1952 spawning of the pinks was exceptionally good, he said, and this run helped offset the impact of the Babine slide. MANY LOST

"If other factors behave normally there are prospects for a substantial re- cial Football Union. turn for this year."

The extension of the herring season asked by fishermen in this area was not justified, the chief supervisor of fisheries said. He said that a scientist from the Pacific biological station at Nanaimo, the department's own patrol vessels and himself on the Howay, fisheries department deep-sea vessel, could find little sign of herring.

WATCHED FISHERMEN

It was very ironical, Mr. Whi more said, he should come the way up here on the Howa seeing the whole coast frozen up and no fishing taking place and then 500 yards from destination "I enter Prince Ru pert harbor and find two sein ers fishing for herring and salmon troller with its pole down engaged in fishing." Some small catches of herring have been made in the harbor ove the past two weeks for bait purposes to fill the requirements of the local fishing companies.

The herring catch thus far for the Pacific coast is approximately 165,000 tons, Mr. Whitmore said. The quota of 40,000 tons still has not been reached in the Central Area where there are still about 15.000 tons catch. SEATTLE (CP)_Fire swept the length of the Standard Oil Company 1,000-foot dock at Point Wells "tank farm," 13 miles north of here, early today. Damage was estimated at more than $1,000,000, but no injuries or deaths were reported.

The fire started late Friday night after an oil-laden tanker the J. L. Hannah, smashed into a pier while attempting to dock

Sparks ignited oil flowing from ruptured fuel lines leading from the storage tanks to the dock. The fire, in turn, set off a number of explosions from 50-gallon drums of fuel oil piled on the pier. Flames roared 600 to 700 feet in the sky.

Burning fuel oil covered the waters of Puget Sound in the immediate vicinity of the dock keeping six fireboats from ef fective range.

The Hannah, being nosed to its berth by a tugboat, wa pulled safely away when the fir broke out.

Beat the Crippler

A HIGH SCORE must be credited to the Kinsmen \ Club for organizing the hockey game between Smithers and Prince Rupert at Lake Oliver tomorow. This is not only for the Kaien Island championship which, as the tickets say, is played once every 20 years. More important, it is also for the lub's polio fund, which goes into a contest that is n progress all the time.

With the cost of arranging the game estimated o be $400, the Kinsmen are counting on a good ittendance for this major and unusual sports event. f the weatherman keeps his thumb on the mercury -and it looks as if he will-they should not be lisappointed. Last Sunday's turnout at the lake lemonstrated that Canada's national sport is just as national here as it is anywhere else, when conlitions permit.

The other contest in question is the bitter one against the great crippler. At present the opposition s ahead because no sure way has been found to turn back its offence. But the strategists are working on it and, with our support, are certain to learn the secret.

So even if you cannot go to the hockey match, buy a ticket anyway. It will help to beat the crippler.

A World Calendar

IOW would you like to have a pocket calendar I I that would last a lifetime? No yearly models (every year would be the same). No wondering whether Christmas would fall on Tuesday or week-end (it would always be Monday). No making adjustments (if you are a business statistician) for the fact that a month may have anywhere from 24 to 27 weekdays in it; they would all have 26.

These are some of the advantages that are put forward for the world calendar which will be proposed at the next session of the United Nations Economic and Social Council in a resolution by the delegate from India. The proposition is not a new and sudden one. It has been urged by the World Calendar Association for several years, and is backed notably now by Sir Harold Spencer Jones, astronomer royal of Britain.

In fact, Sir Harold notes that 1956 would be a particularly convenient year to make the change . say-the murder of prisoners of from the present Gregorian calendar, since in that year January 1 will fall on Sunday, a controlling feature of the new plan. Thereafter, if the revision were accepted, the first month of each quarter would have 31 days, all other months 30 days, and the 365th day be observed as a world holiday at the end of each year, with another holiday inserted at the middle of leap year.

By the way, what did we do with all those nice calendars for 1953?

THERE is only one possible explanation of the treatment of General Kurt Meyer, and that is that it is part of the price the German military caste is secretly exacting from the west for co-operation in lining up Germany on the side of the NATO al-

Meyer was convicted by a Canadian military court of responsibility for the criminal killing of captured, disarmed Canadian soldiers. There was no conclusive evidence that he himself had given the order for that mass murder; but the court did find that he was responsible for the action of his troops.

The death sentence was first commuted to life imprisonment; then Meyer's life term in Canada was reduced to imprisonment in Germany. Now the Canadian government announces it has agreed to Meyer's release within a few months.

Meanwhile Meyer himself has been writing technical military articles criticizing the way the Canadians fought the battle of Falaise. The Canadians were too timid, says Meyer. Had they been commanded by a "fanatic' they would have driven down the main road, regardless of cost, and the trap would have been closed on a German army which in large part escaped.

IN HIS latest book Sir Winston Churchill refers to the Nuremberg trials in words which 'muly, but do not state specifically, that he is now more than half ashamed of them.

There is no doubt that th Nuremberg trials were only in part based on justice. No doubt all those accused of and convicted of war crimes at Nuremberg were guilty. But the victors, who were applying the law, must have been aware that the impartial application of some of those same laws would also have resulted in convictions for Russians. CENTRAL AMERICA is the strip of land that links North and South America. It is divided into five small countries: Guatemala, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Honduras. The isthmus is an area of contrasts with centuries-old scenes blending in with modern constructions and improvements, as illustrated in the above photographs that show an old dirt road and a modern steel-concrete bridge in El Balvador. The five countries, small in size but rich in natural resources, are trying to bring about an economic integration of the five nations to pave the way for general improvement in living conditions in all these countries. United Nations technicians and experts are playing a key role in this task which has started to yield fruit such as the adoption of a uniform customs tariff.

In a sense the appointment ame too late. For shortly afterwards he sustained serious injuries in a motor car accident and from that time on his health was uncertain. Nevertheless, he managed between his physical ups and downs to make a record in Parliament for positive contribution. He was the father of the Federal Government's Travel Bureau. Founded in the pression, that agency set out to promote Canadian tourist attractions in the United States and in foreign countries. In one year of the depression it was credited with turning Canada's previously adverse tourist trade balance into a favorable one of $150,000,000.

Being a Senator was a fradition in the Dennis family, as his uncle had been one before him. He started in his Senator Uncle's Halifax Herald as an elevator operator and wound up years later as publisher and Senator himself. From his uncle he inherited the Herald's mast-head sloran: "Dedicated to the service of the people that no good cause shall lack a champion and that wrong shall not thrive unopposed." Hospital WA Plans Sales

Plans for rummage and home baking sales were made when members of the Prince Rupert Hospital Women's Auxiliary met last night in the Civic Centre.

President Mrs. L. M. Greene conducted the meeting at which it was decided to hold a bake sale February 13, instead of the usual Valentine tea, and to stage a rummage sale in April.

It was reported that the invalid walker purchased by the auxiliary at a cost of $109.60, has now arrived and is much appreciated by patients and doctors.

DICK AYRES

Prince Rupert Co-Op Challengers will have to really shoot the works tonight if they want to salvage one game out of the four-game home-and-home series with Ketchikan Rockets. Coached by Don Hartwig, the newly-chosen All-Stars are doing only slightly better on their home floor than the pickup squad that Bill McChesney took up north earlier this month. Up on the Kayhi gym floor the McChesney-piloted team dropped two decisions 65-45 and 65-42. Here at home last night on a floor most of the boys have been playing for half a dozen years, they were trailing 68-54 when the final buzzer sounded. Not quite as great a gap in the score but the result is the same.

With all due respect to Don's knowledge of basketball, we diffidently suggest that Art Olsen be dropped from the first string to be replaced by Jimmy Flaten, not necessarily in the same position. Olsen's hook shot, when on, is most effective when Art is in the clear. The Rockets don't often let men get in the clear Flaten on the other hand, though smaller, is a rugged individual to whom crowded areas mean nothing, and he has a good shot from fairly well out. Last night in the second quarter he robbed Ketchikan players of the ball on about five occasions and in the floor time he was allotted, collected 7 points, six from field goals. He was fourth highest man of the eight Challengers who managed to hit the basket and Olsen, Mickey Webster and Pop Pay only found it once.

Ray Spring of the Challengers and one of Manson's Omegas' top point-collectors is considered a pretty fast lad on the floor, but he was no match last night for Bill Martinsen of the Ketchikan squad. Martinsen, former Baylor University track and field star and United States Olympic sprinter, has covered the 100-yard dash in 9.4 seconds.

Pop Pay, whose stature impresses the most blase, earned the respect of the Rockets last night. "He isn't so fast," one Rocket player said, "but he's always there under that basket." Pop, who is still in the agonizing process of getting back into shape, got into the clear several times last night and made a couple of nice hook shots but his shooting eye still needs rejuvenation.

The Rockets had a small but enthusiastic cheering section present last night in the form of crew members from the U.S. Coast Guard vessel Hemlock. Among them were Chief Bosum Eugene F. Fox, Seaman Ben Nickerson, Stewart Matt Ylanan, Seaman Tom Exler, Fireman DC Don Duncan and Corpsman Jim Robbins. Three members of the Rockets are also Coast Guard lads. Harold Leibowitz and J. J. Mackey are at the Coast Guard station at Ketchikan and Paul Ellis is aboard the Ketchikanbased Kimball, U.S. Coast Guard vessel that went to England for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.

POST SCRIPTS-Congrats are due Don Scherk who played under quite a handicap last night and still racked up 10 points. The nose guard he wore seemed to affect his dribbling but didn't bother him when shooting . . . Aiding Rockets coach Ralph Peters is the team's official scorekeeper Bill Weiss . . . Rupe Holkestad sank a dream shot from "way back" last night but the buzzer had already sounded. Preliminary game set for tonight is between Inter B teams Sunrise and Nelson Brothers. It will be a league game and starts at 7:30.

For you folks who didn't get to the basketball game last night, we'll see you there tonight when the Challengers try to win the final game . . . and we also hope to see you at the hockey game Sunday afternoon when Smithers play the Prince Rupert All-Stars in aid of the Kinsmen Club polio fund.
