Better Late Than Never

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—James Walker waited for his name to be called at the University of Portland commencement exercises Sunday.

He hadn't received his diploma when the ceremony ended, and thinking he had failed, he turned in his cap and gown and went home.

But university officials later discovered that Walker's name had been dropped from the list accidentally. To make up for it they staged another ceremony for Walker yesterday.

The entire faculty, in caps and gowns, turned out for the one-man commencement. Walker's mother, Mrs. Rose A. Ryberg, was the proud audience.

Gov't Telegraph-Telephone System In B.C. To Be Sold To Commercials

Mile-a-Day Progress On Skeena Highway

Work on the northern Trans-Provincial Highway between Terrace and Prince Rupert is proceeding at the rate of about a mile a day.

This was disclosed today by L. (Al) Smith, divisional engineer for the Public Works Department of the Provincial government, who has just returned from an inspection trip.

Already about 30 miles of surfacing has been completed on the side of Terrace and all work on projects enroute are well under way.

Generally speaking the highway is in good condition between Kitwanga and Terrace, he said, adding that three graders now are on continuous patrol.

"All projects are moving as quickly as possible because of the relatively short construction season."

So far the weather has been cool although a little cold, and there have been no delays.

The opening of the highway between Tyee and Skeena is progressing well, said the engineer and at Kwinitsa the department has a crusher is being set up to produce gravel for surfacing the section between Prince Rupert and Terrace.

At Exstew, a fleet of private trucks and departmental equipment are working together in hauling operations from various stock piles in the locality.

"The stock piles were placed in certain locations previously with such a program in mind."

Mr. Smith said funds have been allocated for repair of several of the bridges on the highway between Terrace and Tyee and "work will be started as soon as materials are available."

There also are "numerous improvement projects in operation between Terrace and Telkwa." They include elimination of grades by installing culverts, realignment of numerous bad curves and corners, and regrading of some of the worst sections.

"Projects are spaced all the way across the north-central highway system and if the weather keeps good we'll be able to complete our work by the end of September."

Thousands Flee Red Germany

Scare Campaign Waged

BERLIN (CP) — Thousands of frightened Germans are fleeing to the west from the Russian zone of Berlin.

A scare campaign by East German Communists backfired, and West Berlin's crowded refugee stations in the last three days took in more than 1,510 East Germans. The flight across the zonal frontier has increased.

In the last 24 hours, Coburg frontier station reported between 300 and 400 East Germans arrived from areas where Communists are creating "safety belts" to isolate their zone from the west.

Many refugees are youths who feared being drafted into the new East German army Reds have announced they are forming.

Again today, Russians barred American and British motor patrols from the Berlin-West German super-highway, ignoring repeated Allied protests.

In the heart of West Berlin, Russian tommy-gunners and German Communist propagandists still stubbornly held out against the British army's siege on Radio Berlin.

Western authorities are investigating reports that East German police kidnapped a 67-year-old German from the British sector of Berlin last night. Reports said that Richard Kleins was knocked down by six policemen and dragged into the Communist zone.

Whole families are dodging Communist bullets in the "zone of death" along the 600-mile border between West and East Germany. Many of them are farmers dispossessed by the Communists.

New Housing Proposal by Lumber Group

Government Considers

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian lumber trade has proposed to the government that it help lumbermen create a $1,000,000 company to finance new housing, Resources Minister Winters disclosed Thursday.

He said the proposal is under government consideration but there were certain objectionable features to it. One was the request that the government guarantee mortgages and the other was issuing of tax-free bonds.

The proposal was made by the National Retail Lumbermen's Council.

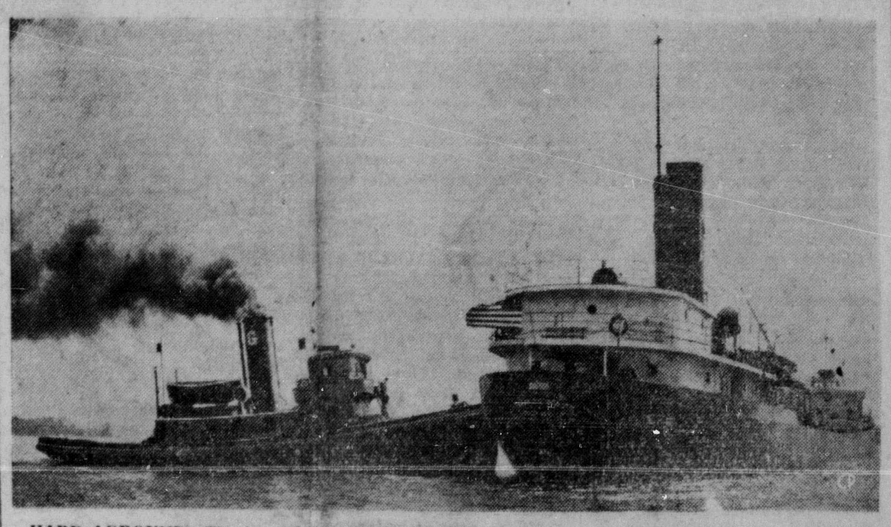
Mr. Winters told the Commons Banking Committee he has been in touch with the lumbermen but no final decision has been reached.

The lumbermen's proposal, he said, was to raise $100,000,000 by selling 25-year bonds carrying four per cent interest and floating, if allowed, 3½ per cent tax-free bonds to maintain operations.

A credit company would undertake to buy the house for a prospective home-owner on a 20 percent down payment, with the company financing the first mortgage for the remainder.

Most "offensive" feature, said Mr. Winters, was the tax-free bond proposal, enabling wealthy people to buy bonds and avoid taxation and violating the democratic principle of tax-burden distribution.

During hot weather food should be stored at or below 50°F., especially meat, poultry with dressing, cream-filled pies and sauces. All foods should be protected from flies and insects to prevent contamination.



HARD AGROUND—The tug Idaho struggles to free the ore carrier, James Watt, from a gravel shoal in the St. Mary's river channel, about a mile below the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. The 7,000-ton vessel went aground in a thick fog and five tugs and a United States coast guard tender were used before she was freed 24 hours later. The James Watt, owned by the Nicholson Transport Company of Detroit, was the second ship to go aground in the river this year. (CP PHOTO)

BC Telephone, CNT May be Purchasers

By The Canadian Press

OTTAWA—The federal government has decided to sell the telegraph and telephone system in British Columbia operated by the transport department, J. C. Lessard, Deputy Transport Minister, said yesterday.

He told the Senate committee that two commercial companies have shown interest in buying the system, valued at between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000.

They are the British Columbia Telephone Company and Canadian National Telegraphs.

The government will make a stipulation that any commercial firm buying the system must maintain the service to the public comparable with that now maintained, he said.

The Transport Department operates a telephone and telegraph network on Vancouver Island and to northern British Columbia in areas where commercial companies cannot operate at a profit.

One factor in the government's decision to sell the system was that the industrial development in British Columbia is opening up a new territory where commercial firms might operate at a profit.

He said in reply to Senator Gordon Isnor (L-Nova Scotia) that the development under way at Kitimat was one such factor.

The Aluminum Company is building a multi-million dollar aluminum plant at Kitimat.

All of First Canadian Troops in Korea Return

Rocky Greets Them

VANCOUVER (CP) — A contingent of 1,031 leathery Canadian veterans came home Thursday to complete the return of all the original Canadian brigade in Korea.

Thousands lined the streets and hundreds more leaned out of windows of stores and office buildings to watch the troops march by.

The crowd, for the most part silent, was smaller than the throng of 10,000 which welcomed home another shipload two Sundays ago. Most people were at work and the parade went by half an hour before lunch time.

Brig. John Rockingham, former commander of Canada's United Nations Brigade, was on the pier to greet the men as the U.S. Navy transport Gen. M. M. Patrick docked. A great roar went up as the men spotted him.

Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace, of British Columbia, made one of the shortest welcoming speeches on record. The speech comprised two sentences: "All Canada is proud of you. That is all I am going to say."

A thunderous cheer arose when Brig. Rockingham said, "Believe it or not, men, but I'm glad to see you back, too."

"I want you to know of the very high regard in which I hold you, and your families for supporting you," he said.

The first troop train rolled out by Canadian Pacific Railway for Toronto at 1 p.m. (PDT). Two others left by Canadian National Railways for Montreal at 1:30 and 2:30.

One Missing In Liner Collision

HALIFAX (CP)—The liner Scythia, outward bound for England with 800 passengers, collided with the collier Wabana in the foggy Gulf of St. Lawrence Thursday. One man is reported missing.

The Wabana's propellor was shorn in the brush with the 19,909-ton British liner off Fame Point, near the Gaspe coast.

Marine radio said there apparently were no other casualties.

The radio said the Wabana was taken in tow by the tug Rocky River and is heading to Quebec for repairs to her propellor and rudder. Scythia is sailing under her own power. Neither ship is taking water.

Lady Baden-Powell, world head of the Girl Guide movement, was reported to be among passengers aboard the Scythia. Cunard officials at Montreal and Quebec said many of the others are business folk.

Extending Limits May Not Help Salmon

OTTAWA (CP)—Stewart Bates, deputy minister of fisheries, told the Commons committee on Thursday the proposed North Pacific Fish Treaty is necessary for conservation of the west coast's salmon resources.

He appeared before the fisheries committee to reply to a brief presented last week opposing the ratification of the Canada-United States-Japan agreement.

The brief, from United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (TCL) of British Columbia, asked that Canada's territorial waters be extended.

Mr. Bates said under the treaty Japan waives its existing rights to fish for salmon, halibut and herring beyond the three-mile territorial limit. Without the treaty, Japanese fishermen could take any species on the high seas beyond its limits.

"The Japanese are excellent high seas fishermen," he told the committee, and there now were "revolutionary techniques" available for high seas fishing. British Columbia fishermen themselves were leaving their customary grounds at river mouths to push into open water in search of salmon.

Extension of territorial limits would help further consideration of some species, but no one knew where salmon went in the Pacific and it was hard to say if extending the limits would help protect them.

EDEN MOOTED

PARIS (AP)—Britain's foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, is being boomed for president of the organization for European economic co-operation in elections Friday. British members of the 18-nation organization said representatives of several other countries have expressed a preference for Eden to succeed the Duth foreign minister, Dirk U. Stikker, who is not a candidate this year.

Cheering Crowd Hails Visiting Gizeh Nobles

A colorful group of 106 Gizeh Temple Nobles and their ladies were welcomed by the cheers of hundreds lined on the docks at 2 p.m. today.

And as the Union Steamship Chilcotin flowed alongside the docks—right on scheduled time—a thrilling parade of marching Job's Daughters gave a magnificent display, stopping near the gangway.

The Prince Rupert Shrine band was out in full color, too.

Vanguard of the Nobles, who are visiting Prince Rupert on a two-day ceremonial convention, was the colorful Gizeh Temple Patrol and Pipe band, first on the gangplank.

Later it led an inaugural parade through the city.

Meanwhile, laughing, red fez-capped Shriners called out, "Hello, Sweetheart," and "hello, honey, we're back again," shouting to the crowd from the ship.

The ramp and dock were crowded with spectators and welcoming Prince Rupert citizens. Many had cars on the dock, featuring this sign:

"Jump in, Nobles."

Then the Nobles fell into the parade behind the pipe band and the patrol.

Tonight, an open air concert will be given at the Court House grounds, beginning at 7:30.

At 9:30, the Armories on Sixth Avenue West will begin to resound with the merrymaking of a ceremonial dance to which the general public has been invited. Some 600 people are expected to attend.

BULLETINS

FISHERMEN TO STRIKE

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia salmon fishermen go on strike June 22 if no agreement on prices is reached, a United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (TLC) spokesman said here today. Deadline was set after the union rejected the operators' proposal to cut salmon prices to fishermen this year. The deadline date also is the opening of the first big run on the Skeena and the Naas Rivers.

CANADA BUYS U.S. RIFLES

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has purchased 10,900 Garand rifles from the U.S., but has suspended all further orders, Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds said today. The Chief of General Staff told a press conference this means Canada will not take delivery of more than the 10,000 U.S. 30-calibre Garands which it originally ordered.

HUGE TELEPHONE BILL

BONN (CP)—Russia today demanded Britain pay 15,000,000 marks ($4,600,000) for U.S. telephone cables to Berlin, a British spokesman disclosed today.

Tot Smothers, Family Overcome By Gas Burner

VANCOUVER (CP)—A ten-year-old girl was asphyxiated and her mother and two brothers were overcome by gas Thursday in their suburban suite.

Dead is Grace Johnstone. Her mother, Mrs. Vivian Johnstone, and brothers, Arne 4, and Colin, 5, were revived by the fire department inhalator squad.

Fire department officials said one burner of the gas stove was turned on.

TRIPOLI, (AP)—The Libyan cabinet yesterday decided to forbid any Libyan citizen from travelling to Israel. Many Libyan Jews have already left for Israel but there are still many Jewish merchants and workers left in this predominantly Abar-Moslem country.

No Pin Money For Convicts

LONDON (CP)—Britain's prison population of some 24,000 men and women will have to struggle along in future without any ready cash.

Instead of receiving currency of the realm for their labors, they will have credits entered in a prison ledger and be permitted to purchase approved articles and necessities in the listed ledger balance.

The new policy was introduced to reduce the risk of trafficking with its consequent temptations to staff and to eliminate the possibility of bullying and blackmail among the prisoners.

Criminals, described in a recent report by prison commissioners as "prison barons" were said to be operating extensive tobacco and gambling rackets from which they realized big profits.

Commenting on this a member of the Prison Officers' Association said: "We know of places where these prisoners bet on horse races and football pools for quite large sums. Other prisoners get into debt to them and sometimes commit serious offences to avoid payment."

Why Japanese?

DID the school board do right in their action to accept an application from a Japanese teacher for our schools?

Naturally, they did, but we wonder why he was called a Japanese, when he must evidently be a Canadian. And should be known only as such, for what difference, indeed, does it make from where his parents came?

We also hope the young man will decide to teach here. It would be a much-needed step in teaching tolerance and human relations right in the schools, where, after all, our citizens learn their first lessons in their outlook on life.

Graduation Day

TONIGHT is a very important event for 37 pupils of Booth Memorial High School who are culminating a dozen school years with their Graduation Exercises.

To each and every pupil of this year's graduating class--and to their parents—we offer congratulations.

Even in this day, when education facilities are in comparitive easy grasp of all young people, there is also the never-ceasing tendency of young people to leave school before graduation.

The lure of "big money" from working in industry steals a percentage of students away from their desks every year.

But this is really a fallacy, for that "big money" is not big money. It is trifling, compared to the harvest that can be reaped with the proper application of a sound education.

Most students who left their classrooms early to take jobs before completing even their academic education, have learned to regret it.

They have found, in many instances, that the big money jobs were only temporary; that for a job which offered a career they were not fully prepared, because of lack of required educational standard. Most of the time, they found themselves just on the sidelines of a good position, with it going often to a junior, but better prepared person.

Therefore, the foresight of these students who are graduating today—and that of their parents, who played a big part in instilling appreciation of education—is to be recognized, and congratulated.

Bankers Buy Annuities For Widows

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Banker's Association announced today it has purchased life annuities for the widows of two Montreal policemen who lost their lives in a bank holdup here in September, 1948.

The policemen, Nelson Paquin and Paul Emile Duranleau, were shot and killed when a branch of La Banque Canadienne Nationale was held up by three armed robbers, Noel Cloutier, Donald Perrault and Douglas Perrault. All three since have been hanged for murder.

The annuities, purchased at a total cost of $12,444, will supplement pensions voted the widows by the city of Montreal and contributions they received from the Montreal Police Benevolent and Pension Fund.

Basic wages in the eleven years up to and including 1951 rose from $.56 per hour to $1.40 per hour in B.C.'s pulp and paper industry.

ONCE IN POSSESSION

A warehouse costing $800,000 will be built in London, Ontario, as soon as possible by the General Motors of Canada. Prince Rupert, up to a few months ago, had a pretty sizeable warehouse, but the owners in Ottawa preferred to see it torn down and sold. Yet the day may come when an oversize warehouse, built with military skill and thoroughness, could be a God-send, away up in distant Prince Rupert.

As I See It

by Elmore Philpott

Too Many Parties

THE MOST important thing which will be decided in the B.C. election is: Do we want to stand by the tried and tested British system of government?

Or do we want to set up a hodge-podge of nuisance parties, where our Legislature would degenerate into something as unstable as the French Assembly?

WHEN THE British beat the French in the crucial batttle of Plains of Abraham there were twice as many people in the world who spoke French as English — even counting the American colonists who had not yet seceded from Britain.

Now there is a vast difference the other way. There are several reasons for this. But here is a main one:

The British, who were the oldest great power to establish democracy, have stuck through thick and thin to the simple party system. They have not choked off new parties from coming up. Thus the Liberals replaced the Whigs and the Labor party has now all but eradicated the Liberals.

But the British had instinct enough—horse sense enough—to realize that democracy is a two way road. In the long run, there is only room for two way traffic. If you indefinitely try to work with three, four, five or more parties you inevitably get exactly what France did get—chronic crisis.

France is never out of a quicksand crisis for the simple reason that the French never keep their feet solidly grounded on the two-way road.

DUE TO a monumental political blunder, B.C. is now threatened with a "dog's breakfast" of new, extra, unnecessary or plain nuisance parties.

The old parties thought they were playing a clever trick on the CCF and set up the confusing numbered vote system. The situation was thus made to order for the influx of parties which would not have had the proverbial snowball's chance to get anywhere on the straight, British voting system.

THERE WOULD be a certain poetic justice in the way this trick boomeranged. The Tories especially outsmarted themselves, for all indications are that they will lose most votes to the new, ultra-conservative party from Alberta, which calls itself Social Credit.

But the influx of the new, unnecessary parties creates a grave problem for the ordinary people of B.C.. For once we get too many parties established we may have as impossible a job as France has had to get rid of the paralyzing extras.

IT SEEMS to me that the long established parties in B.C.—Liberal, Conservative and CCF—offer the voters a wide enough choice for all purposes of good government. We don't need the extras.

I think the voters will virtually annihilate the Communist LPP, for obvious reasons. I think B.C. will also administer a stinging rebuke to those who are trying to set up the new Catholic party, for a division of this country on religious lines in pretty close to insanity.

Also, in spite of the fuss, I do not expect the Alberta party to get far in B.C. There are dozens of reasons for this. But the main one is that one Tory party is enough.

Rupert Men Take Part in Alcan Visit

Four members of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce left for Kitimat this morning to join close to 250 members of the Vancouver Board of Trade on a tour of the Aluminum Company of Canada project.

Heading the group, which left by Queen Charlotte Airlines at 9 a.m. was Dr. L. M. Greene, a member of the executive; Hugo Kraupner, C. G. Ham and Dave Radford. They are taking greetings from the club here.

The Vancouver group, on a special cruise in the Canadian Pacific's luxurious Princess Kathleen, left Vancouver on Wednesday.

The ship, in command of Captain Graham Hughes of Victoria, was scheduled to make stops at Ocean Falls, Kemano, Kitimat, various Vancouver Island centres before returning to Vancouver next Tuesday.

The party is headed by Rt. Hon. H. H. Stevens, P.C., president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, and included William Manson, Pacific region vice-president of the CPR, and S. M. Greene, general passenger agent of the CNR.

F. C. Radlye, project manager of Alcan, also with the party, will show the visitors over his company's vast site at Kitimat.

On Thursday the party cruises through Knight Inlet and is scheduled to arrive at Kitimat early this morning. They will remain there overnight.

Plans call for the ship to reach Ocean Falls Sunday morning where the group will attend church services and tour the giant paper mill.

You are STILL evading an answer, Mr. Premier.
Your last statement is a contradiction in itself.

Why do you now turn to Professional Advisors when you ignored professional advice at the start of the Hospital Service Program?
Why do you not honestly admit that Hospital Insurance is doomed under YOUR present plan?
Why do you not now admit that Co-Insurance can ONLY be abolished under a non-compulsory plan.

No Charge For Visits, Decides Museum Board

Prince Rupert's museum will be open free of charge to all its visitors when it opens its doors June 15—September 15.

The decision was made by the annual meeting of the museum board after "tacit approval" for such action had been received from the city, said Secretary-Treasurer Basil Prockter.

Support of the museum, however, will be sought more than ever from the general public. A contribution box will be placed in the office and a campaign carried out for membership subscription.

Past board members were returned to office, headed by J. Harry Black, chairman; Canon Prockter, secretary - treasurer; and Gordon Forbes, F. Earl Anfield, Jack Scott, Duncan Whitmore, Larry Stanwood, members at large, with representation from city council, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The exhibits were reported to be in good condition and there had been some notable contribution of native basketry by Mrs. Large, and her son, Dr. R. G. Large. The Museum had also purchased some excellent specimens of cedar and spruce root garments and hat work from Mrs. Eliza Abraham, well known native handicraft worker.

It was decided to send a copy of Dr. Large's book, "Soogwillis" to the Secretariat of the Inter-American Congress of Religious History and Art at Buenos Aires. This organization is engaged in establishing a library and museum representing the ancient cultures and traditions of all parts of the Americas.

BC Wealth Calls Orators From Alberta

Mrs. G. W. Kissick, president of the B.C. Women's Liberal Association, believes "it is the wealth of this province that has attracted these orators from Alberta."

Addressing a Liberal meeting in the Civic Centre last night she discussed various Acts in B.C. pertaining to women and in reference to hospital insurance said: "I don't see how we can have any scheme unless it is compulsory."

"I think Mr. Anscomb is a long way from what the people want in his views on our hospital insurance," said the former Prince Rupert resident who urged re-election of Jack McRae, Liberal candidate in this riding.

She said a recent statement from the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company showed a gross profit last year of $132 million "which is more than the total received by Alberta from their oil and this is only one of the big industries in B.C."

Mrs. Kissick believes more women are taking an interest in government and suggested they see that social welfare is not neglected in all this expansion in B.C.

Jack McRae, appearig at his second public meeting since he was injured last May 10, said he did not agree with "our present system in Canada" which prevents a man from working after he reaches the age of 65.

I believe people who wish to work after they reach that age should be given some opportunity to work at least four or six hours a day if they wish.

"Many of our people are forced to retire because of their age and I believe they would be much happier if they knew they could find part time work to occupy what now are idle hours."

"If elected, I intend to urge the appointment of a committee to inquire into the possibility of allowing these people to work if it is their wish."

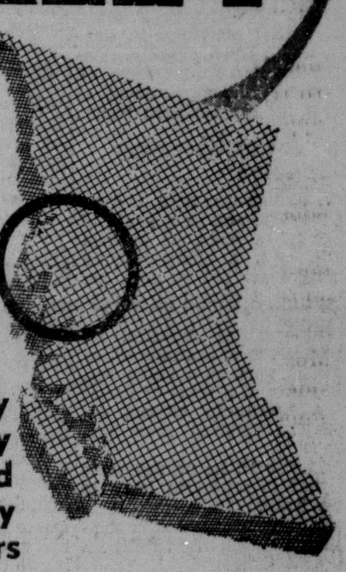
DESTINY TOUCHES THE SKEENA and BULKLEY VALLEYS



People who have pioneered and are today continuing to pioneer in the Skeena and Bulkley valleys of British Columbia don't need to be told their region has a great future. That's why they came. That's why they've stayed . . . when others doubted.

All eyes are turned to the country that huge investments in cellulose, aluminum, power, mining, railroad building are transforming.

At last the country that was "too far away" is drawn into the community of North America.

At last the miracle of men and money in contact with rich resources is happening in the land that only yesterday was "back of beyond" to those who couldn't see the picture.

Faith is a great thing . . . but faith without work and without money is frustrated. The risk capital at last, by the hundreds of millions, is moving into the Skeena-Bulkley region, changing the geography and changing lives, creating opportunities for young Canadians NOW AND IN THE FUTURE.

The money has come because, in years past, British Columbians have gone to the polls and voted for FREE ENTERPRISE.

It has come because it felt it was not faced by the hostility of Socialism but was welcomed and would be given a fair chance.

If we can keep that faith in B.C., industrial greatness cannot fail to come to rich West Central British Columbia.

Rags To Riches Story Of Pioneer Hanson

By ERIC SANDERSON

The blue and yellow flag of Sweden hangs at half mast today over the Consulate office on Third Avenue. It tells the world that Olaf Hanson—an immigrant boy who rose from poverty to prosperity—is dead.

The 70-year-old Swedish Consul for Prince Rupert and the Yukon, member of Parliament for Skeena constituency for 15 years, and successful businessman in the north country, died in Vancouver General Hospital Wednesday night.

Mr. Hanson is believed to have suffered a stroke while in Vancouver and was taken to hospital on May 25. He left here on May 22 for Washington, D.C., to attend a meeting of the International Fisheries Commission of which he was a director.

One of the best known men in northern and central British Columbia, he spent his last two days here greeting friends in his office at 315 Third Avenue West.

He said at that time that he was feeling much better after an illness that struck him about a year ago, but he planned to take things easy.

Mr. Hanson left his office in shipshape condition before departing. Everything was in order.

It was on May 21 that Mr. Hanson recalled in conversation on the steps of his office that he had been appointed Swedish Consul for B.C. exactly 32 years ago.

The diploma naming him Consul, dated May 21, 1920 and signed by the late King Gustaf VI of Sweden, is hanging in his office.

Another certififcate, signed by the late King George V, offers him special privileges in Canada, and a third diploma, signed by the late King George VI, announces his appointment as Consul for the northern region.

First Job as Chore-boy In Spokane

Mr. Hanson was born at Tannas, Sweden, and as a youth of 18, slight of build, of medium height, with a sharp-featured keen face set out to seek his fortune in a new and foreign land.

After reaching America, he found his way to Spokane where he found work as a chore boy, taking care of a team of horses for a well-to-do citizen, for which he received room and board.

That was all he needed while he went to school to learn to speak English. He devoted three years to this task and after completing his schooling turned his eyes to Canada.

In 1904, Olof Hanson was duly recorded as a homesteader on a quarter section of land near Manville, east of Edmonton.

For three years he worked hard and long to finance his homestead. In 1906 he found employment producing ties and other material for construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway (now the C.N.R.) and before long was taking on small contracts. The money helped him carry the burden of improving his farm.

He Walked 800 Miles To the West Coast

Then in 1907, the pioneer spirit led him across the Rockies.

At that time the railway surveys across B.C. were almost not started and so, with no other means of transportation, he proceeded on foot.

A young, healthy man, he followed the railway survey walking the 800 miles from Stony Plain, Alberta, to Hazelton.

His journey of many hardships proved itself a source of profit as he decided to enter the timber business. With his previous experience and record, he had no difficulty obtaining a contract to supply timber products for construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

About that time Prince Rupert had been selected as the Pacific terminus of the railway and Hanson who had been here before the townsite was surveyed decided to make his headquarters in Prince Rupert when railroad construction began here in 1909.

He had established the Hanson Lumber and Timber Company at Smithers, which he directed up to his death, and many other lumber companies.

Financing his operations was a great problem, but his patient and persisten effort and unfaltering courage and optimism led him to success.

Pioneered Lumber Industry in the North

Always mindful of the hardships he had gone through, Mr. Hanson dealt extensively with settlers and sub-contractors, many of whom he helped to finance, and built a tremendous business supplying material to the railway.

He always kept in close touch with all his manifold undertakings and it wasn't long after he settled here that he went into partnership in a real estate, insurance and brokerage business with the late John Dyb-

Rains Help Prairie Farms

WINNIPEG—Good rains during the past week have improved crop prospects throughout the three prairie provinces.

Rains were particularly welcomed in southern sections of Manitoba and Saskatchewan where little or no precipitation had occurred since April, according to the weekly crop report of the department of agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Seeding is practically completed except for low spots in scattered areas. Isolated cutworm and wireworm damage is reported and odd reports of grasshopper activity are noted in southeastern Manitoba. However, in the overall picture, damage from these sources is insignificant.

Ideal growing conditions continue in the Okanagan Valley where weather has been hot with few showers. Tree fruits report very favorable crop prospects with peaches, apricots and cherries from 75 percent to 100 percent increase over last year.

Present apple crop prospects indicate between 6½ million and 7 million boxes.

MADE PUNCHES MISS

Ezzard fought cautiously, apparently biding his time for a fast finish, but never was he able to nail Walcott for the crusher. Walcott's ability to spin, to make Ezzy's punches miss, and counter with those damaging hooks, apparently won him the nod on two ballots. Judges McTiernan and Tomasco gave the 15th to Walcott to win a cinch close decision.

Oddly, the referee who gave only six rounds to Charles, voted him the 15th.

The verdict was given mixed reception by a crowd of 21,599 that paid $210,313 into the box office. Another $175,000 was added to receipts from television rights. Charles did not show too much disappointment after the fight although he thought he had won.

"I know Joe won't fight me again," said Charles. "It's impossible. I'm sorry for everybody else."

Reporters waited outside Walcott's dressing room for 15 minutes while the champion caught his breath. He looked tired.

"This proves I'm really champion," said Walcott who lost twice to Louis and twice to Charles before he upset Ezzard.

"This proves it wasn't any lucky punch in Pittsburgh. I had him all the way. This win meant more to me."

THE ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—A tough, self-made millionaire whose spectacular career as merchant, politician and organizer has made his name a byword in Australia has hurled himself into the vast job of ramrodding the 1956 Olympic Games at Melbourne.

His name is A. W. Coles and there is no indication that he knows a vaulting pole from a discus, but they say that when he flings himself at a project things happen hurriedly and nobody had better be caught leaning on his shovel. With Coles at the helm, the Aussies now are confident that their carnival will be as great as any ever held.

Coles made his wad with a string of nothing-over-a-shilling stores. He opened the first one in a Melbourne suburb shortly after the first world war, and he now operates more than 300 of them, scattered all over Australia.

Leads Party that Wrecked Menzie Government

Looking around for something to keep him occupied, he entered politics during the recent world war and was elected to parliament as an Independent. He led a revolt which wrecked the government of Robert Menzies, and Labor rewarded him with the post of director of rationing.

That was just a breeze for Coles. When the war ended they asked him to organize a government airline to cobweb the huge continent and started him off with four discarded U.S. Army planes running between Melbourne and Sydney.

Coles scarcely worked up a sweat with that one. He has built Trans-Australian Airlines into a smooth-running organization of 150 different flights, stocked with the finest equipment. In seven years the line has not had a crash.

Those who know the new Olympic boss best describe him as a "pleasant bloke," but add that he can be ruthless when the occasion requires. It seems safe, at least, to say that there never has been a previous game organizer like him.

LONDON (—Lady Kilbracken, 60, says it took 24 years to get her first play, "Immortal Minute" on the stage. While the dramatic comedy is running in London she has started on another play.

UBC Sports Director Resigns

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bob Robinett today resigned as athletic director of the University of British Columbia with half of his two-year contract still to run.

The resignation come only a few days after the U.B.C. senate reaffirmed its policy of no athletic scholarships.

Robinett was imported from St. Mary's College, San Francisco, a year ago to run U.B.C. sports. He may become football coach at San Francisco College.

Robinett said he wanted to coach football but there was no opportunity for it at U.B.C., whose Thunderbirds have made a dismal showing in the Pacific Northwest Evergreen Conference since they joined it four years ago.

No successor to Robinett has yet been named.

Wade Pitches Brooks to 3-Game Lead

By The Canadian Press

Brooklyn Dodgers steamed three games ahead in the National League pennant race on Thursday while Cleveland Indians regained the upper hand in the American.

Big Ben Wade turned in his first major leagueshut out as he pitched Dodgers to a 2-0 victory over tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates. Wade's fifth victory enabled the Brooks to move three up on New York Giants, who dropped a 3-1 decision to Chicago Cubs.

Early Wynn came up with his first shutout of the season to put Indians at the top. Wynn blanked Boston Red Sox, erstwhile pace-setters, 5-0.

Wade handcuffed the Pirates on five singles, walked five and fanned six.

Eddie Mikel first home run of the season ruined the Giants. The cub infielder connected with one on and two out in the seventh to break a 1-1 tie and give Lefty Paul Minner the first triumph of his career over the Giants.

Ike Blames Democrats For Loss of China

ABILENE, Kansas (AP)—General Eisenhower said today the Democratic administration must take the responsibility for the "tragic loss" of China to the Communists. He called it an "international disaster of the first magnitude," and said the "party in power has to take some responsibility for the losses we have suffered."

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Use of Rule 26 Helps Make Contract

Here is another sample of the Rule of 26—considering your partner's cards and your own as a single unit.

Holding a weak hand, containing only one ace and one king, Mr. Dale nevertheless bid the slam in diamonds after hearing his partner's second round bid of three no trump.

Mr. Muzzy would have missed this slam if he had held the North cards. He would not have realized the strength of his hand in relation to his partner's bidding. He is more likely to reach the six level in those cases where he himself holds a huge hand—and regardless of whether he gets much support in the bidding from his partner.

Mr. Dale, however, had the imagination to picture Mr. Masters' holding just about as it was. He realized his king of diamonds could probably be used to ruff clubs, his ace of hearts represented a fourth winner and his ten, nine of spades might have a direct bearing on a fifth winner. He was quite right and Mr. Masters brought home the slam by good timing of the play.

Mr. Meek opened the queen of hearts which was taken with the king. Mr. Masters cashed two diamonds, then led to the ace of hearts, returned a heart and ruffed it.

He played the ace of clubs and ruffed the ten of clubs on the board. Another heart was ruffed in the closed hand and the queen of clubs was ruffed in the dummy.

At this stage, both closed hand and dummy had left three spades and a trump. The ten of spades was led from the board and it made no difference where the king and queen of the suit were placed. The ten was ducked and Mr. Meek won with the queen. A spade return, would have gone into the ace, jack. On the actual club return, dummy ruffed while Mr. Masters discarded his jack of spades.

havn and in 1912 they formed the Royal Fish Company here.

He continued his interest in farming, both in Edmonton and on property he bought near Lake Kathlyn, B.C., and was also engaged in various mining enterprises throughout central B.C.

He erected a summer home on Lake Kathlyn and used to live there for several months each year with his wife, the former Martha Johnson of Edmonton, whom he married in 1910, and their two children.

During the other months of the year he lived in Prince Rupert, where his children attended school. His daughter, Linnea now lives in Victoria. His son Olof, died a year ago.

For many years, Mr. Hanson was engaged in general contracting all across central British Columbia and also in Vancouver. Among structures he built was the bridge across the Skeena River at Terrace and the provincial government Court House at Smithers.

During all his busy days, he never neglected his public duties and was an energetic member of the Board of Trade in Prince Rupert for many years. He was Board president in 1926 and was also active in the Smithers District Board of Trade.

Outstanding Community Worker

He was either a director or member of dozens of other organizations and hospital boards and among recognitions of his merit was his appointment as Swedish Consul for B.C. on May 21, 1920.

For years Olof Hanson was the outstanding figure in the commercial and industrial life of B.C. and by 1925 was recognized as the lumber king of this part of the province. He had risen from a penniless immigrant to a rich man.

Always active, he strove at all times to move ahead. Nothing was too hard for him and he undertook many contracts for timber that appeared impossible.

He was elected Liberal MP for Skeena in the general election in 1930 and re-elected in 1935 and 1940. He served his constituency faithfully.

Mr. Hanson was a charter member of the Omineca Masonic Lodge of Smithers and of Tyee Lodge and Valhalla Lodge in Prince Rupert. He was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Besides his wife and daughter, he leaves a brother, Jack, in Smithers, and three sisters in Sweden.

Judge W. O. Fulton of Prince Rupert, friend of Mr. Hanson's for the past 40 years, left at midnight for Vancouver to serve as one of the pallbearers at the funeral on Monday.

Out of respect of the death of the immigrant boy who rose to the top the hard way, the office of Dybhavn and Hanson will be closed on Monday.

Mr. Hanson's sustained effort and faith in building British Columbia will long be remembered.

Prince Rupert has lost a great citizen.

Last year the pulp and paper industry in B.C. used approximately 725,368,000 f.b.m., 21 per cent of the log cut on the coast.

Business Spotlight

By FORBES RHUDE
(Canadian Press Business Editor)

The Canadian International Trade Fair at Toronto is, for the most part, a cheery place—made so by the exhibits of many nations and the varied accents of many tongues.

The Japanese exhibit is no exception in this regard—but it does bring to mind one of the most puzzling mixups of war, post-war, international politics, people and economics.

In the words of Katsushiro Narita, minister plenipotentiary to Canada: "Japan is confronted with the problem of how to expand her exports; but it will be impossible for Japan to expand her foreign trade unless she is allowed to participate on an equal footing with other countries."

These words, in view of Japan's low production costs, may raise the brows of many a manufacturer in Canada and elsewhere.

There is Japan, a potential bastion against Communism in Asia, a country of 84,000,000 people which has lost 44 percent of her pre-war territory and with it, many of her important resources in food and raw materials; and which has lost most of her traditional markets in Asia.

She doesn't grow enough food to feed herself and has few raw materials. She must import to live, and to import she must export, either in the form of goods or services.

So it would seem that if she is to exist, and if she is to be a bastion against Communism, some one must buy more from her than now is being bought.

Perhaps the Japanese, astute traders, by picking up a market here and a market there, may find the solution without too much upset to anyone.

But, if the job is too big for solution in an ordinary business way, then it would seem to be a No. 1 problem for statesmanship.

The problem should not be unsoluble. There is enough need in the world to use all the productive capacity that exists, if a way can be found to enable underprivileged peoples to raise their standards of living.

Incidentally, the Japanese hope to remove one of the disabilities of their pre-war products. As Mr. Narita put it:

"The inferior quality of export goods used to be one of the criticisms of Japan's foreign trade. To prevent such an accusation, the law concerning control of export commodities has been enacted and adequate steps are being taken to maintain strict standards and grades.

Japanese exhibitors yesterday took nespaper men on a tour of their exhibits which include toys, china, novelties; foods such as canned oranges, mushrooms, seaweed in various forms; such things as rayon fishing nets; and sewing machines.

One of the conductors of the party was Sidney S. Oue, a second-generation Japanese, born and brought up in Vancouver, who went through the troubles which followed Pearl Harbor in 1941; and ultimately became a member of British Intelligence in Japan in 1946-47. He now is an importer in Toronto.

Cutworms Ravage BC Farming

VICTORIA (CP) — Farmers throughout British Columbia are battling one of the worst plagues of cutworms ever seen in the province, it was announced by the provincial department of agriculture.

The cutworms have taken a heavy toll of crops and plants on Vancouver Island and in farming areas on the mainland, it was reported.

Damage is expected to be heavy unless the plague is brought immediately under control.

A. T. Wilkinson, entomologist, Canada department of agriculture, confirmed that the cutworms were definitely a menace.

As high as 22 bugs have been found on one plant, he said. Normally not more than two cutworms are found around a single plant.

Ben Hoy, provincial horticulturist, reported that in farming areas at Lillooet and Chase, cutworm damage to field tomatoes has been particulaly heavy.

In the Okanagan Valley the cutworms have mowed down 50 percent of some crops. Asparagus fields have suffered heavily from the pests.

Mr. Hoy said local growers and home gardeners have also suffered heavily from the cutworms.

Bill Mattick, one of the large growers in this area, said he has never seen anything like it in his life time.

"We discovered last night 50 cutworms around one hill of beans," he said. "It is not uncommon to find 20 cutworms to a plant."

Entomologists urged growers and gardeners to take immediate action to control the pest if they wanted to save their crops.

Best method of control for small gardens is the application of 5 percent DDT dust, preferably on wet ground.

Jack McRae Says . . .

Three years ago this electorate selected me as a Liberal Coalitionist to represent you in Victoria. I have during this time endeavored to represent your views in the legislature.

I say without fear of criticism that during my term of office there has been more money spent under Mr. Johnson's administration in this district than during any other period in the history of this riding.

Particular reference may be made to our highways, new school buildings, housing project and rural electrification on Queen Charlotte Islands.

CANADIANS ABROAD—Bob Farnon and his wife, former Canadians, prominent in music circles in Canada and England, celebrate the birth of a daughter, Judith Helen in London. Bob, 34, was an original member of the Happy Gang radio program on a Canadian network before going to England as musical director of the Canadian army show. He also was named leader of the Canadian Band in the Allied Expeditionary Force. His wife, formerly Joanne Dallas of Winnipeg, was featured singer with the band. He now has his own program on the BBC.

Birds Nest Happily in Korea Camp Tent

WITH CANADIANS IN KOREA (CP)—Lieut. Hal Kreewin of winnipeg, a troop commander with the Lord Strathcona's Horse, and his tentmate Lieut. Lorne Glendinning of Vancouver have adopted two birds—Pauline and Pete. The fame of the birds has spread far and wide among Canada's 25th Infantry Brigade here.

It started when Pauline and Pete were house-hunting and flew into the tent. Although a tent offers few nesting places, the birds were not easily discouragd. They came back repeatedly.

After Lieut. Kreewin nailed his hat to the tent pole, Pauline and Pete took over. Oblivious to the noise of gunfire, tanks and trucks, they built their nest out of mud and straw from nearby rice paddies.

The big surprise for the officers however came when they found five eggs in the nest one morning, with an indignant mother bird standing guard.

The Strathconas are due to go home in a few weeks on rotation, but Lieut. Kreewin and Lieut. Glendinning figure the squadron will be in its present position long enough for Pauline to raise her family before the tent is pulled down.

There are about 6,340 people employed in the pulp and paper industry in British Columbia.

Timber Cut, Employment Increased

VICTORIA (CP)—Total timber scale in British Columbia for the first four months of 1952 is 25 percent higher than for the corresponding period last year, Trade and Industry Minister Douglas Turnbull said Wednesday in his monthly report.

Production at the end of April totalled 1,490,580,766 board feet compared to 1,186,483,139 board feet in same period of 1951.

Dollar value of retail sales by all types of outlets in B.C. during the first quarter of the year are 2.1 percent greater than for the same period last year.

This small increase is significant inasmuch as retail prices of commodities in Canada are more than nine percent higher, he said.

Average weekly wages and salaries throughout B.C. increased 14.5 percent.

The index of employment increased from 183.7 in February this year compared to 179.9 the previous month.

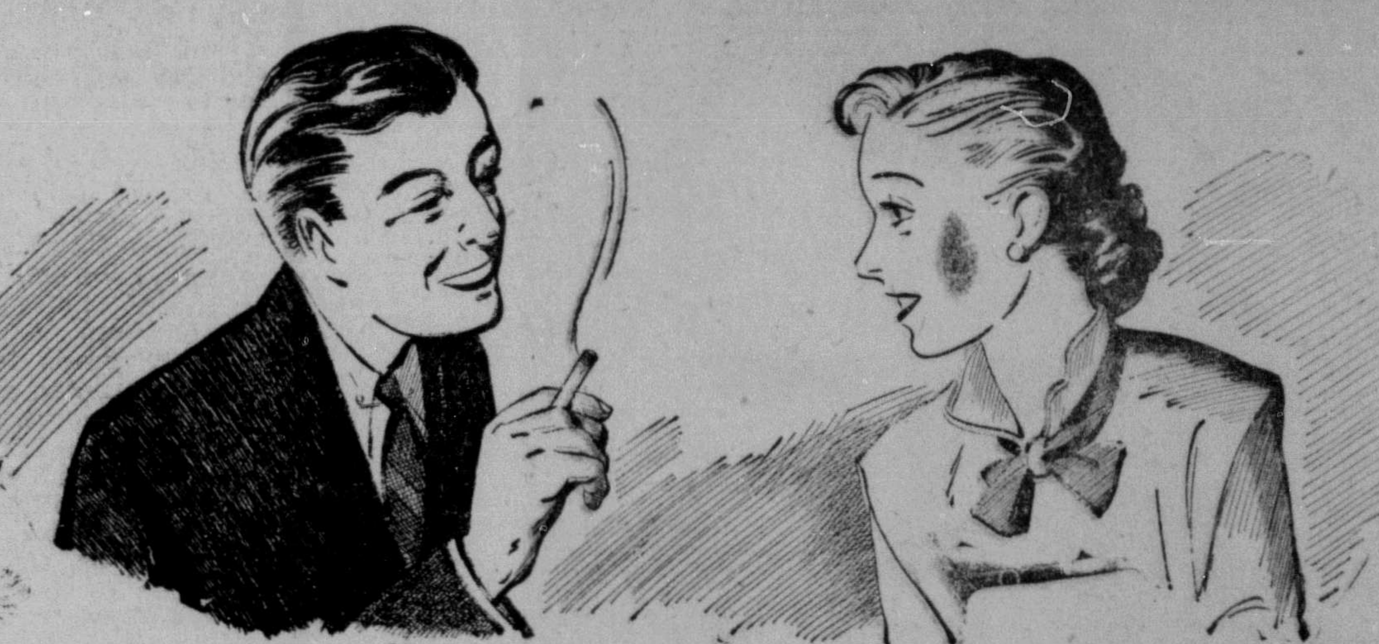
Answers to a few questions about ALTERNATIVE VOTING



Question: What is Alternative Voting?

Answer: A form of voting which allows the voter more than one choice in the marking of his ballot.

Question: What is the purpose of Alternative Voting?

Answer: To prevent the election of a candidate on a minority vote.

Question: How does a voter mark his ballot under Alternative Voting?

Answer: He marks his ballot in the order of his preference by using the figure 1 for his first choice, the figure 2 for his second choice and so on.

Question: May a voter vote for one candidate only, in other words, "plump"?

Answer: Yes.

Question: Is "plumping" or voting first choice only considered advantageous?

Answer: No. Suppose a voter marks only one choice: that voter has virtually said to the Returning Officer "I am only interested in my No. 1 choice". Upon distribution of the low candidate's ballots to the remaining candidates, the ballot of a voter who voted one choice only, cannot be further dealt with. It is, in other words, an "exhausted ballot". Such a voter simply deprives himself of full participation in the contest.

Heavy Tourist Season Forecast For Rupert

Arrival of the Shriners here today marks the advent of a gigantic tourist influx into Prince Rupert this summer.

Officials of the three steamship companies say heavy bookings have been made for all trips both north and southbound, although a few reservations are still available.

After the Union Steamships' Chilcotin returns to Vancouver, she will begin her regular summer cruise trips from Vancouver to Alaska, calling in at Prince Rupert for several hours on the northbound as well as the trip south.

Union Steamships also has two other vessels plying the coast—the Coquitlam and the Camosun, although the Coquitlam does not come as far north as Prince Rupert.

CANADIAN NATIONAL

Meanwhile the Canadian National Prince George, most modern and one of the sleekest luxury ships on this coast, arrived this morning with more than 230 members of Kiwanis International from Utah and Idaho.

It is the second trip north this season for the Prince George, although she does not begin her special 10-day Alaska cruises until Friday, June 13.

The Prince George made one other northern cruise although she did not call here. She carried a group of Presbyterian ministers from Vancouver to various Alaskan cities.

All trips on the George are heavily booked and travel on the ship from here will be limited.

However, CNS has the Prince Rupert to accommodate business men as well as tourists.

Reservations on all ships are at a premium, which, as one steamship official said, means "we are going to have a record tourist year here."

CANADIAN PACIFIC

The pride of the Canadian Pacific Steamships coastal vessels, the Princess Kathleen, begins her special Alaska cruises on June 11. She calls at Prince Rupert both going up and coming back.

The Princess Louise also takes the same route during the summer months and the Princess Norah makes weekly calls here, arriving every Sunday.

The Canadian National Railways line from here to Alberta is set for heavy travel. Many vacationists come to Prince Rupert from Vancouver and then go east by train. Extra cars are added to trains.

Kiwanis Visit Rupert on Northern Tour

A tall, graying man with a cheery smile stepped lively off the Prince George here this morning to see the city.

With him was his wife, his brother and his son.

Everyone on the boat knew him and all those that were up greeted him by his first name.

He was J. W. (Jack) Thomas, who heads the group of 235 members of Kiwanis International from Utah and Idaho enroute to Alaska and eventually to Seattle for a convention.

Mr. Thomas is general agent for the passenger department of Union Pacific Railway at Salt Lake City and a prominent Kiwanian.

He has been in charge of conducted tours for the Kiwanis clubs in the two northwestern states for the past four years.

Mr. Thomas is retiring from the railroad in December after 52 years' service and at the age of 70 says he's now going to start his own travel service in Salt Lake City.

"I've been arranging tours all my life," he said as he strolled along the Canadian National Steamships dock here wearing a snappy checkered sports coat. His brother, Elmer, is a retired Colonel in the U.S. Army, and his son, 27-year-old Robert, attends college.

On a 10-day pre-convention cruise, their ship docked neatly at 8:30 a.m. for a three-hour stay.

Among others caught eating breakfast as the stately luxury ship pulled into the wharf were: Ira A. Huggins of Ogden, Utah, governor of Idaho-Utah Kiwanis International, and his wife; Hugh Caldwell, prominent attorney from Caldwell, Idaho, past governor, and his wife, and Joe Behling, secretary of the Utah-Idaho district international, and his wife.

Other prominent persons, all accompanied by their wives, included: Jacob Kahn, retired general manager of the General Electric Company, Salt Lake City; Elmer E. Kelly, president of Kelly Stationery Company in Salt Lake City; Clyde C. Edmonds, president of the Utah Poultry Producers' Association.

Among doctors in the group are Frank Douglas of Ogden and Dr. Joseph Marshall, past governor of Utah-Idaho District, from Twin Falls Idaho.

A well-known farmer, George Shadd and his wife, were up early and among the first off the ship to see Prince Rupert.

The ship's master, Captain Caldwell, on the bridge as the Prince George came in, was ashore shortly afterward to greet friends. And, probably the busiest man aboard was A. H. Bert Robson, purser and veteran of 33 years' service on this run. The vessel sailed at noon for Ketchikan.

CNR Official Travels With Tourists

The passenger traffic manager for Canadian National Railways, F. N. McKenzie of Montreal, arrived here this morning to confer with local officials.

He was among the first up aboard the Prince George, which is on a charter cruise to Alaska, and was greeted on his arrival by William Cruickshank, general agent for the passenger department of the railway and steamship line here.

Mr. McKenzie is making a tour of Canadian and U.S. offices and said "everything points to a banner tourist year in Canada and the United States."

The railway official is making the cruise to Alaska and will debark here on the southbound trip, then go to Prince George and travel over the Pacific Great Eastern line to Squamish.

Mr. McKenzie has worked in almost every major city on the prairies and was appointed to his present position last December.

His last trip to Prince Rupert was in 1929 when he was on a conducted tour from Vancouver.

WELCOME SHRINERS

Greetings

To the Citizens of Prince Rupert:

Gizeh Temple was very pleased to accept the invitation to hold our Spring Ceremonial in your City this year, and we trust that we will leave with you fond memories of our visit.

We will initiate into the Shrine over 60 Citizens of Northern British Columbia which we will leave as Shriners to carry on the great philanthropic endeavor of the Shrine in your District.

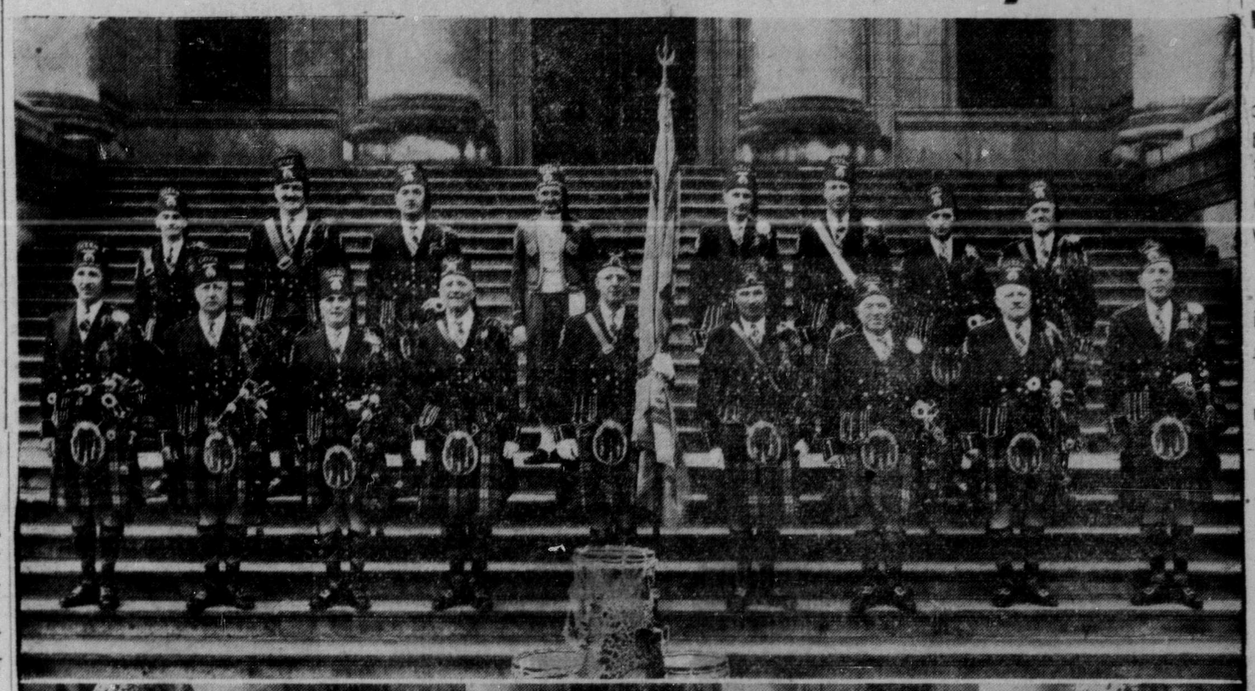
These gentlemen who are privileged to wear the Fez are God's disciples of the under-privileged child who cannot obtain help from any other ce, regardless of the color of its skin or the reli- beliefs of the parents. The only qualifications hat the parents cannot afford medical treatment hat the child can be cured or materially benefit-

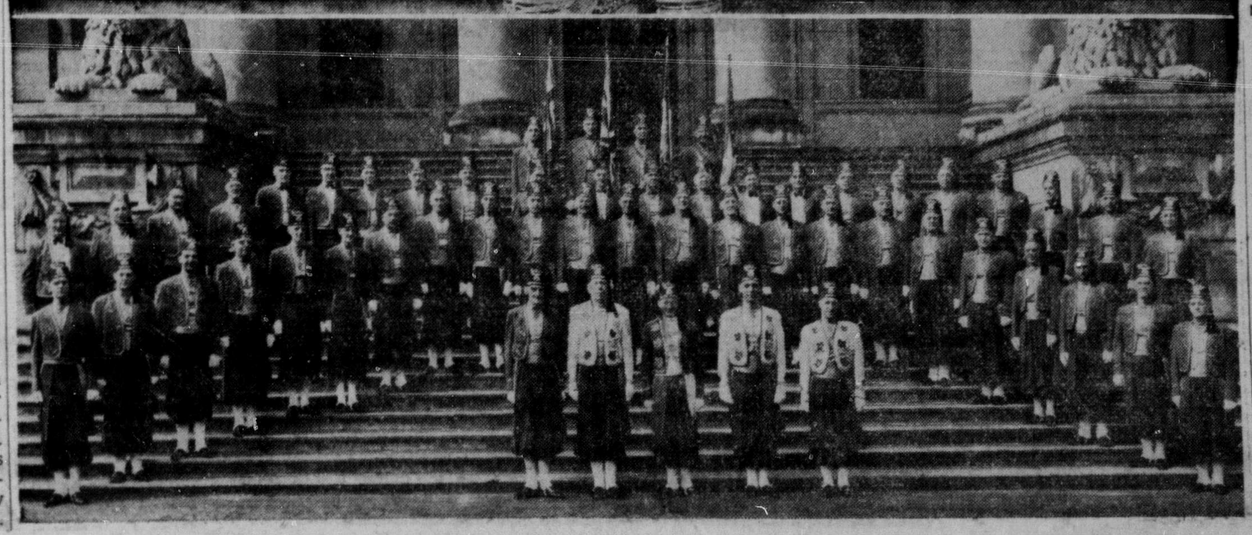
Our 17 Crippled Children's Hospitals throughout continent have been truly called the Greatest ritable Organization in the World.

On behalf of the fifteen hundred Nobles of the ic Shrine in British Columbia and the Yukon, I e you, the Citizens of Prince Rupert.

JOHN A. CLARK,
Potentate.

Colorful and Tuneful Array





The Mayor's Greetings

It's a Pleasure . . . .

On behalf of the citizens of Prince Rupert to extend to the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and their ladies, a very hearty and sincere welcome.

We have all been looking forward to this return visit and expect that once again we will enjoy every minute of it..

We all know the very worthy projects which you sponsor and in this regard, wish you every success for the future.

It is our sincere hope that your pilgrimage here will be of benefit to you, as we know it will be to us.

Make yourselves at home and enjoy every minute of your short stay with us.

HAROLD S. WHALEN,
Mayor.

Gizeh Temple Pipe Band

(TOP)

E TEMPLE Pipe Band .... e above is the famous Gizeh e Pipe Band which was ured last year for the big e Northwest Shrine Con- n. This first-class band, ts five former Regimental Majors, will be brought in ntirety to Prince Rupert as ature attraction of the e Parade.

e combination of the Ara- ezes on the heads of the Pipers in their Buchanan Tartan kilts is designed to make Gizeh Temple remembered throughout the world of Shrinedom.

The Pipe Major is Noble John T. McHardy of the Vancouver City Police who is also a member of the City Police Pipe Band.

Gizeh Temple Pipe Band has put on performances in Portland, Tacoma, and just a few weeks ago at Billings, Montana.

Gizeh Temple Patrol

(LOWER)

Gizeh Temple has a large Patrol for the size of its Temple. Over fifty business men from the Cities of Vancouver and New Westminster take an active part in the drill work and practice weekly.

Two weeks ago this Patrol was gretted with cheers from a packed Stadium in Billings, Montana when it paraded with the Canadian flag before the North West Shrine convention in that American city.

The Patrol, together with Gizeh Temple's Band from Victoria travelled to Billings with Potentate John A. Clark and his Nobility by special train to honor Past Potentate Richard Nelson (well know nin Prince Rupert as one of the brothers associated with Nelson Bros. Fisheries) who was President of the North West Shrine Association.

This Association embraces all the Temples in the Northwest, including Alberta, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Wyoming and North Dakota.

There will only be a portion of the Patrol visiting at Prince Rupert as ship accommodation was limited.

★ EDITORIAL ★

To one of the largest and one of most distinguished groups of ors this city is likely to see for e time, The Prince Rupert Daily s joins in hearty welcome.

This colorful and tuneful array— Gizeh Temple of Nobles—repre- s the spectacular branch of onry. Those who recall their last to Prince Rupert five years ago remember the joy and the pleasure derived from the visit of the jolly les.

Wherever the Shriners visit, a joy- tmosphere develops immediately, it lingers to be enjoyed by those whom it comes in contact.

The Shriners have come to Prince ert for these two days to conduct eremonial of initiation of novices this city as well as from the ict and other parts of British mbia.

We know that we will again derive pleasure and enjoyment from their visit and all Prince Rupert spreads the welcome mat before them.

While the Shriners are a happy lot, their motive is not only to stage a gay performance. Their work is practically their life — making possible medical care and treatment in hospitals for crippled children.

Shriners all over North America have contributed to a fund which now operates 17 hospitals for the treatment of crippled children. They give generously and lend a helping hand where they can.

We desire that the Gizeh Temple of Nobles shall find Prince Rupert's doors open to them and that they will derive the same measure of pleasure from their two-day visit that we are certain we shall derive from their stay.

Welcome, Nobles and your Ladies, to Prince Rupert.

For Him A Better Life

This is our little boy, Johnnie. He lives in the City of Vancouver, B.C. Johnnie came into this world with defective feet, a defective spine—and without any arms. His parents did all they could for their little son, within the limits of their resources, but were finally told there was nothing more which could be done for him.

On a New Year's Eve a few years ago, the Great Architect of the Universe intervened in His mysterious way and brought Johnnie to the attention of the Shriners. Today, he is out playing with the other little boys. His feet were corrected by our Hospital and without an operation. Nature, with the help of many different types of shoes, was allowed to rectify them. Johnny wears a body brace which will help straighten his spine. Our Hospital is confident that when Johnnie is old enough he will be fitted with artificial arms so that he will be able to write with his artificial fingers.

But for the Grace of God, Johnnie could have been the son of any one of us. We Nobles of the Mystic Shrine and wearers of the Red Fez are truly thankful of the privilege to help this little boy to his rightful place in life.

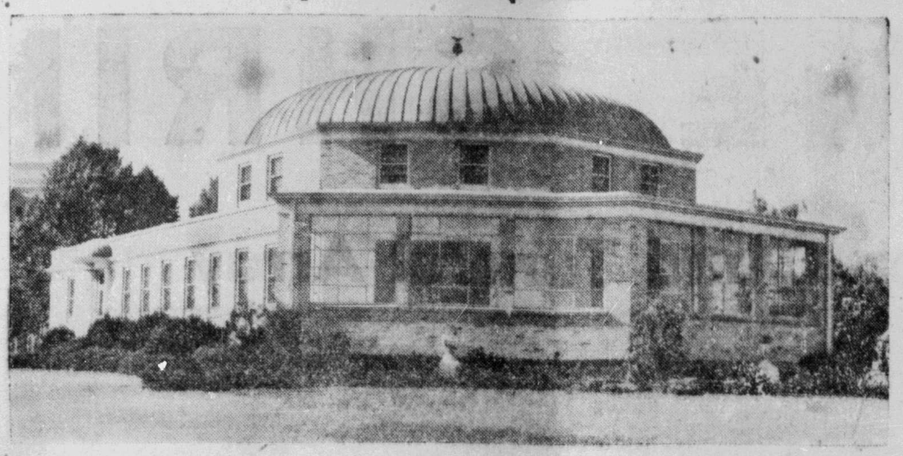
Shriners Main Work — Care of Crippled Children

Spokane Hospital



Operate 16 Children's Hospitals

To manage eve none hospital successfully is a highly technical and complex job. Yet, fun-loving Shriners of North America—for the care and treatment of indigent, crippled children—established 16, and at present have an exceptionally large one under construction in Los Angeles, California.

So successfully have they managed these hospitals, and with such whole-heated enthusiasm have they supported their program, that many non-Shrine members have been influenced to donate millions of dollars to help the Shriners in their noble work.

The Shriners' Hospital movement for crippled children is one of the finest living examples that members of the Masonic Order believe in God and His Teachings.

Due to the Shrine Hospital movement, over 200,000 children have been cured or helped, and attention of the nation became focussed on the problem of its handicapped children . . . . its citizens of tomorrow.

This, surely, is evidence that there was a Divine Spirit guiding Shriner W. Freeland Kendrick when, back in 1920, he proposed the Shriners' Hospital movement for crippled children. This, surely, confirms our belief that the Divine Spirit has watched our progress through the intervening years and has blessed what we are doing on behalf of the crippled children of our land.

Shriners' Hospitals are accepting crippled children under the age of 14 years who have no mental ailment and whose parents are unable to pay. This does not necessarily mean that the parents must be paupers. The father may have a modest, or even a substantial income, but he may also have a large number of dependents. The cost of treatment for his crippled child, as a private case, might run so high as to be prohibitive. Under such circumstances the child would be admitted.

There is no bar to color or creed for admittance. The Shriners know that every child is God's child and be he black, white or yellow, or whatever religious belief he may be, it is all the same. He is a child to heal.

Little League Baseball

The Shriners of Gizeh Temple do not confine their efforts entirely to the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospitals. They donate large sums of money and other gifts to the Preventorium, the Vancouver Children's Hospital, Queen Alexandria Solarium, and to other worth while causes. They have also sponsored a team in the Little League Baseball Team.

Little League baseball is played under the same rules that the major leagues play under and only boys who are under the age of 14 are allowed to participate.

Little League Baseball has been responsible for instilling in the younger boys the spirit of comradeship and fair play.

The boys of the Shrine team travelled to United States last year to play in an international play-off and it is hoped the Shrine team this year will be picked to play in the play-off at Williamsport, Penn.

Remarkable Feat

Rev. Neil Crawford, a Noble of Buffalo, accomplished the remarkable feat of reading through the New Testament at one sitting in a nine-hour period.

Alaskan Pilgrimages

Every year Shriners charter ships from Vancouver to Alaska, and they are made welcome at Prince Rupert by the Prince Rupert Shrine Club.

Nile Temple at Seattle has a membership of over 9,000 and makes an annual pilgrimage to Alaska and Japan. Nile Temple is noted for its famous horse patrol which is valued at $75,000. Islam Temple at San Francisco, Aahmes Temple at Oakland and Ben Ali Temple at Sacramento have made trips to Alaska via Prince Rupert.

Fire Engine Provides Transportation

Four ambitious Shriners, members of the Gizeh Temple Patrol who were weary, footsore and lazy, having marched in numerous parades in different cities including the U.S.A., and who had seen different modes of freak transportation thought it would be a good idea if we looked for something novel for our own Temple.

So now as you will see by this picture, we believe we have IT.

The Transportation Committee under the Chairmanship of Noble Jack Streight have been able to enable us to find accommodation on the boat for the above, what was once a Fire Truck and we four are very grateful.

Here's to more fun and noise in Prince Rupert.

Hospital Publicity

Shrine Hospitals were mentioned in nationwide publicity starting from a simple human-interest story emanating from Covington, Tennessee—a story of a crippled girl who was helped to regain her health.

How The Shrine Found Its Soul

This picture of the wandering Minstrel is that of Noble Eugene Reitz, of Isis Temple, who played on his horn the popular song "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles" at the entrance to the Multnomah Hotel in Portland, Oregon, at four o'clock on the June morning of 1920. This incident was used with great effect by Noble Adair in his stirring appeal for passage of the Resolution.

Noble Reitz was laid at rest on September 30, 1944, and to his memory we pay tribute. The part he played in the establishment of Shriners' Hospitals for Crippled Children was an unwitting but most important one; thus demonstrating that "God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform."

In his speech, Noble Adair dramatically appealed to the assembled representatives to pass the resolution and provide the Shrine with a reason for its existence, instead of "Forever Blowing Bubbles."

On that day, back in 1920, the clouds outside had been hanging low and rain had been falling throughout the afternoon. When the resolution was passed by unanimous vote, the sun suddenly broke through the clouds and shone down through the windows upon the Representatives there assembled and filled the house with glory . . . The Shrine Had Found Its Soul!

Many Patients

Patients in Shrine Hospitals have numbered as many as 30,000 a year and today the annual budget is $3,500,000 yearly.

Not Only Merrymaker With Bead-studded Fez

Who is a Shriner?

To some people he is a madcap merrymaker, wearing a bead-studded Fez, making a fool of himself as though his whole life is aimed at nothing but fun.

But there is much more to Shriners that that.

The first Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, a recret order, is said to have been organized by Kalif Alu, son-in-law of Mohammed, in Mecca in the year 646 A.D.

The modern Order was brought to United States from France in 1872 by an actor, William J. Florence, who had found the ritual of an Arabic society in Marseilles.

Only Knights Templar or 32nd Degree Masons are eligible for admission, even though the Shrine is not a Masonic Order.

Today there are 162 branches or temples, with 675,000 members in Canada, United States, Mexico and Honoluiu.

The main project of Canadian and American Shriners today is the operation of their 17 Crippled Children's Hospitals. This work was started in 1920 when the Imperial Council meeting in Portland decided to spend their money on curing crippled children. Since then health and happiness have been brought to the lives of 200,000 children who would otherwise have been helpless cripples.

Their annual hospital budget totals $3,500,000.

Sixty-seven British Columbia children received treatment in these hospitals during 1951 and twenty-nine so far this year.

Gizeh Temple of B.C. contributes about $500 each year to the Children's Hospital in Vancouver and to Queen Alexandria Solarium on Vancouver Island.

150 INITIATIONS

Last year Imperial Potentate Poteat from Wake Forest, North Carolina attended the Pacific Northwest Shrine Convention in Vancouver and took an active part in initiating 150 candidates.

Shire Circus Draws Many

One of the next big events in Shrinedom in British Columbia this year, will be the staging of the Annual Shrine—PNE Circus, by Polack Brothers, during the Pacific National Exhibition at Vancouver, B.C. -- Wednesday, August 20th through Labour Day, Monday, September 1st, afternoon and evening performances for 11 continuous days and nights.

125,000 people saw the Shrine—PNE Circus in 1951. This year's Circus is acclaimed the greatest show in the history of Polack Brothers. There are clowns galore, featuring the inimitable Bobo Barnett and his miniature automobile; highly trained performing animals including dogs, chimpanzees, elephants, horses, camels, seals and penguins; a galaxy of unexcelled, intrepid, daring performers — jugglers, balancing aerialists, high-flying trapeze artists, aerial ballets, trick skating. These acts result in a show full of clean, clever comedy, perfected skill and precision.

Visit the Shrine—PNE Circus! See the engaging new acts—2½ hours of unsurpassed mirth and wonderous enjoyment. Hear the Shrine Bands. See the colourful Shrine Uniformed Units. Take the kiddies!

History of Gizeh Temple

Gizeh Temple, Vancouver, B.C., has for its desert the whole of British Columbia and the Yukon.

It was founded in Victoria, capital of the Province, August 16, 1902, but with Vancouver becoming a large commercial centre with a population approaching the half million mark, it was considered in 1943 to be in the best interests of Shrinedom to transfer it to the mainland city.

Since then Gizeh has increased its membership manyfold and as of January 1, 1952 had 1529 Nobles.

The Temple has Band, Patrol, Greeters, Chanters, Camel Corps, Drum and Bugle Band, Temple Guard and Bagpipe Band in Highland uniforms (Buchanan tartan—which comprise Shrine colors—red, green and yellow.

Live Shrine Clubs are scattered throughout the province at such places as Victoria, Upper Vancouver Island, Nanaimo, Nelson, Trail, Prince Rupert, Okanagan, Kamloops, New Westminster, Chilliwack and East Kootenay.

Toleration Main Principle of Shriners

IMPERIAL POTENTATE Robert Gardiner Wilson, Jr., Margaret Truman and High Priest and Prophet, Noble Jack Straight, taken at Vancouver during his Imperial Sir's official visit to Gizeh Temple on April 4. He represents 675,000 Shriners in North America who operate and maintain seventeen (17) Crippled Children's Hospitals dedicated to all humankind regardless of race, creed or color. Over 200,000 crippled children, which is 28 times the population of Prince Rupert, have been admitted into these houses of mercy since their inception and have been either completely cured or materially benefitted to become useful citizens of this continent. Miss Margaret Truman's father, President Harry Truman of the United States, is a Noble of the Mystic Shrine. Robert Gardiner Wilson, Jr., is a Judge of the Supreme Court in Boston and the year he is Imeprial Potentate he obtains a leave of absence in order to visit over 100 Temples in Mexico, Hawaii, United States and Canada.

Of all the great duties and principles taught in the Shrine, none is more important than toleration of the sincere religious opinions of others. In the days when Mankind worshipped many Gods, intolerance was virtually unknown.

The blackest pages of history are those which record the Holy wars—wars waged for opinion's sake — wherein millions have perished because of theological disputes and differences. Unnumbered others have been done to death by friends — Catholics and Protestant—parading in the livery of the God of Love. We do not wage Holy Wars today nor burn heretics at the stake, but intolerance is still with us, noisy and vicious and destructive. Shriners are bidden to fight it. There are too many battles to be fought against rampant wickedness and organized vice, too many tears to be wiped from the cheeks of the sorrowful, too many crippled children to be healed, for us to waste our time arguing and wrangling and consigning each other to Hell.

Every year the Shriners and Knights of Columbus get together in a friendly Bowling and Golf Match, competing for coveted cups. The Knights help us during our Circus—we help them in their charitable work.

In Ontario the Shrine and the Knights of Columbus sponsor an Annual Baseball Finals and net around $15,000.00. They split the "take"—the Knights of Columbus send their share to the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital in Montreal.
