Attempt To Form New Union For Fishermen Underway Here

SIU Representative To Address Meet

By LARRY STANWOOD

A strong move by some B.C. fishermen which began last spring to send the Communist leaders of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union on the run has spread to Prince Rupert, the second-largest fishing centre on the west coast.

Today, the movement promoted by fishermen dissatisfied with the UFAWU and supported by one of North America's most forward labor organizations has blossomed into a new union—the Pacific Fishermen and Allied Trades Union. In the city to organize a branch of the PFATU is a group of fishermen—former members of the UFAWU—and representatives of the Seafarers International Union (Canadian District) (TLC-AFL)—the union which has been called in to "purge the west coast of Red leadership of the fishermen." The organizers are headed by fishermen Jack Jackson, Chuck Chapman and Jimmy Inrig, the first two being seiners of Quathlaski, and Ingrid, a veteran all-round fisherman well known in the north. The SIU group is headed by David Joyce, headquarters representative. While a major attempt to oust the leaders of the Communist-led UFAWU at election of officers was made last spring, the present movement did not gain momentum until the UFAWU was suspended by the Trades and Labor Congress in Vancouver in August. The group has called a public meeting for Sunday, 2:30 p.m., at the Canadian Legion auditorium.

Deep Sea Fishermen to Meet

Meanwhile, members of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union have been urged to attend a special meeting Friday night to discuss the PFATU. Asked to comment on the drive to break the UFAWU, union representative Tom Parkin here said he would issue a statement on Friday. "Right now, I can't comment," he said, when telephoned at his home in the morning. Speaking of the present move, Jackson said: "We were naive enough last spring to believe that the rank and file membership of the UFAWU would jump at the chance to clean house with the referendum vote adopted at the convention. But it couldn't work, not with the title officers, the trustees, executive officers and

Received Charter From SIU

The break-away group received a charter from the SIU under, which to operate and form their new union.

"We recognize this city has a powerful potential of strong members of the new union—the PFATU—but also as a major stronghold of the Communist organization," said Jackson.

Asked why the SIU decided to support the movement, Joyce said: "The SIU has a membership of some 93,000 on the North American continent of which well over half are fishermen and those working in allied trades.

"We became interested in west coast fishermen when we were told that a group which had broken away from the

Want No 'Hogwash' From Moscow

He said further that Chapman and Jackson are two members comprising the tentative executive of the PFATU. Bill Goddard, who ran in the spring election opposing the Communist slate, is another. "They are more than enthusiastic in taking up cudgels against Communist leaders of the UFAWU.

"They are veterans of the Second World War and want no hogwash from Moscow in our country."

Two of them were officers of the Quathlaski-Campbell River UFAWU local—Jackson, president; Chapman, secretary. Two weeks ago, they called a meeting of their local. They said that all but two of a large attendance signed up with the PFATU. The meeting then voted to take over the books and funds held by the UFAWU "in order to protect them from the Communists," said Chapman.

Since then, the organizers have been visiting points along the coast in their drive to round up more members for PFATU. "The movement is rolling now and nothing can stop it," rejoined Jackson.

A GROUP OF CHINESE PRISONERS of war who refuse to return to their Communist homeland pass the time away by playing their improvised musical instruments. Seems as though they're trying to get their pet chicken to dance. The prisoners will be turned over to the Indian troops currently supervising prisoners who refuse to be repatriated.

Russia Too Busy With Problems To Bother About World Affairs

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
MOSCOW (AP)—The government of Premier Georgi Malenkov, throwing its full power and might behind the gigantic task of raising significantly Russia's standard of living within a short time, apparently is so deeply wrapped up in its domestic program that foreign affairs seem distinctly relegated to second place. The impression is unescapable that, to the Kremlin, foreign affairs are a necessary but bothersome aspect of government at this moment.

Not only did the new Soviet reply to the West's bid for German-Austrian talks appear without fanfare of any kind, but publication also was delayed a full day. There was no editorial comment.

Diplomats here feel that the Russian leaders are not too interested, either, at this moment in the top-level meeting first

Kemano Worker Dies

VANCOUVER (CP)—A workman at Kemano, Roger Hardy, died in hospital here Tuesday night from injuries received in an underground accident at the aluminum project. Hardy, who suffered head and leg injuries in a tunnel accident Monday, was flown to Vancouver Tuesday in a B.C. Airlines plane which bucked heavy winds on the four-hour flight.

Italian Army Nabs Deserter After 40 Years

MILAN (CP)—Giovanni Bazzi, 58, was arrested Tuesday night as a deserter from the Italian army in the First World War, almost 40 years ago. Police said he had lived in Austria and France and only recently returned here. He was sent to military prison to await trial.

Women to Get Vote in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The chamber of deputies Tuesday received and sent to committee a constitutional amendment permitting women to vote. The amendment has already been approved by the states and by the Senate. After approval in the chamber, it goes to President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines for signature and publication. ## Cocktail Lounges Approved

VICTORIA — Under the new Liquor Act introduced in the British Columbia legislature Wednesday:

Cocktail lounge licences would be issued to hotels, non-profit clubs, holiday resorts and military messes.

Dining room licences would be given for sale of malt liquor and wine with meals in hotels, restaurants, non-profit clubs, railway dining cars, steamships and holiday resorts.

Dining lounge licences would be issued for sale of all types of liquor with meals to night clubs and supper clubs, whether or not connected with hotels.

Beer parlor licences would be replaced by public house licences allowing sale of malt liquors and light refreshments.

Present liquor control board stores would be retained for sale of liquor by the bottle and beer by the case.

Public houses would be allowed to sell beer by the case as beer parlors now do.

Breweries and distillers would not be allowed to hold a financial interest in liquor outlets.

Indians would be allowed to drink in public houses and cocktail lounges but would still be barred from making purchases in liquor stores.

Membership of the liquor control board would be increased from one man to three.

Strict law enforcement measures similar to those in effect in Ontario would be enacted.

Churchill, Eden Meet

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden arrived back yesterday from Mediterranean vacations, flying straight into a diplomatic puzzle set by Russia's new call for the Big Four to discuss world problems with Red China.

Churchill summoned Eden today for a chat that will decide who is to run Britain's foreign policies.

Aides reported physicians of both have reported they are fit and able to return to work. Churchill, who has called a meeting of the cabinet for Friday, is expected to announce some changes in the government within the next month or two.

Trespassing ... With Sandy

Bill Stone, one of Rupert's best boosters and president of the Civic Centre Association, today recalled some of the events which led to purchase of the Civic Centre here eight years ago. Bill has been one of the leading promoters of sports for the youth of this city for many years. Here is his story:

I sit here reminiscing, thinking of how it all began, many years ago. We just wanted some place for our boys and girls to spend their leisure time, just a shell where they could play basketball, badminton and so on.

We formed the Civic Centre Association to get all those interested into one working group, to raise money so we could build some sort of shelter for our youth.

Everyone worked together, the service clubs, the women's clubs, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and many others. We received $5,000 from one service club, $3,000 from another, and our first city-wide fund raising drive netted over $6,000. We were on our way!

Those first Civic Centre carnivals, up in the old, drafty, leaky Exhibition Building, were something! Everyone worked hard. We brought our own hammers and saws, bankers and bakers, storekeepers and shoemakers, old and young. We built the booths, scenery and stagings. There was many a bruised thumb, sore muscles, frayed nerve and the tension mounted, but all was forgotten in the excitement of opening night.

We had a wonderful group and grand spirit in those early days.

What we owe to so many, especially the women's organizations who helped so much, will never forget. How they worked in so many ways, some groups looking after refreshment booths, some other jobs. They cared for family and home all day and then climbed the hill to stand on aching feet for hours. How many thousands of hotdogs did they serve? How many thousands of bottles of pop and candy bars? I can still see them standing there with eyes full of tears, after peeling a sack of onions. We'll never be able to repay their loyalty and faith.

Remember the year that someone had the bright idea that we stage a public wedding as an added attraction at the carnival? The criticism... the condemnation... everyone up in arms! "You're making a mockery of marriage... It's vulgar... It's indecent," they said. However, the marriage was performed and the lucky couple was showered with gifts. The merchants were very generous. It was a solemn and beautiful affair, carried off with dignity and perfect behaviour of the largest crowd ever in the old Exhibition Hall.

Now we had enough money to start building. Plans were drawn and we were about to start construction. Then came the war and no building for the duration... after all the heartaches, headaches and criticism. So we invested the money in war bonds and waited.

How we finally acquired the present Civic Centre building is another long and interesting story, which we'll tell another day. But never in our wildest dreams did we expect to have a civic centre as modern and well-equipped as this one. Catering to the needs of everyone in the community, it's the envy of cities ten times our size. There one can enjoy leisure time indulging in many types of activities, either social, physical or cultural.

It's a living monument to a grand group of people. Make use of it. Become an active member of our Civic Centre.

Housekeeping Duties at Hospital Here Suffering Because of Staff Reduction

Housekeeping duties at the Prince Rupert General Hospital are suffering because of the need to reduce staff, administrator Douglas Stevenson told a meeting of the hospital board last night.

Since the visit of BCHIS representative J. W. Mainguy, the composition of the housekeeping staff has been reduced from 22½ to 20. BCHIS establishment figures call for a staff of 17.

"We are doing our best to carry on with fewer employees by spacing out the duties but there is a danger that the interior appearance of the hospital will deteriorate under these conditions," Mr. Stevenson reported. "The staff, which is a good one, considers that it is already overtaxed."

Mr. Stevenson said Mr. Mainguy commented favorably on the cleanliness and appearance of the hospital, and that he admitted certain conditions in Prince Rupert might make it necessary to maintain a larger housekeeping staff than the present establishment list called for. He was particularly impressed with the work of Mrs. Margaret Wilson, executive housekeeper.

Mr. Mainguy promised to take up the matter further in Victoria, Mr. Stevenson said.

It was reported that the financial position of the hospital has been improved by a BCHIS allowance of $13,000 made to it on the basis of bad debts incurred last year. Of this amount, $10,000 has already been received. Provision for this allowance was made during the visit of Mr. Mainguy who was here at the request of the hospital board and Mr. Stevenson to examine the financial situation of the hospital and to determine what operational economies, if any, could be made.

Reporting on the recent regional hospital conference at Smithers, board chairman Robert Moore said concern was expressed there over the shortage of nurses. It was urged that doctors and hospital matrons make special efforts to interest students in taking up nursing as a career.

Interest was expressed there in the work of the Prince Rupert Hospital's radiology department and arrangements were made to have plates from outside handled here. Formation of a hospital district was discouraged until payment of hospital insurance premiums are put on a compulsory basis.

With Mr. Moore at Smithers were Arthur Evans, board member, and Mr. Stevenson.

The meeting agreed a study should be made of the possible use of vacant lots across Fifth Avenue from the hospital as parking space. The lots are hospital property. During visiting hours there is considerable congestion due to present limited parking space, it was reported.

Man Fined On Driving Charges Here

Dennis Adams was fined a total of $100 on two charges by Magistrate H. F. Glassey in police court yesterday after he pleaded guilty to driving a vehicle while his ability to do so was impaired and taking a car without the owner's consent.

Police evidence showed that Adams took a car belonging to Alec MacFarlane, Piggott Avenue, early yesterday morning and after driving it away was in collision with two other cars on the same street.

Magistrate Glassey fined the accused $50 and costs or in default 20 days in jail on the one charge and $50 and costs or 10 days on the other. The fines were paid.

This morning in court Oscar White was charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit theft after being found in a ground floor room of the St. Elmo Hotel. The case was remanded for eight days to allow White to obtain counsel.

THE DEEP, DEEP FLAVOR

Trillions of corn flakes ago, W. K. Kellogg explained the popularity of the original Corn Flakes in these words: "They won their favor through their flavor."

That's a quick way of saying this: Kellogg's Corn Flakes became first choice of the whole world because an exclusive recipe (it's still a secret) and radiant deep-toasting give them a fresh-baked goodness no other corn flake comes close to.

But the really quick way to get this fresh, flavorful story is to open a package of Kellogg's Corn Flakes for breakfast. Maybe tomorrow!

No wonder your Kellogg's Corn Flakes reach your table so often fresh and crisp. They're baked fresh daily in one plant in London, Ontario—right here in Canada.

The early days around here are not uncommon for certain of the more adventurous to make the boat trip to the Skeena as part of the vacation. This excellent sport should be revived, if by those anglers who want to get out for the spots where the fish are unknown. We are all aware of the huge numbers of fish which travel the Skeena every season, but because there are only a few from whence the car can be fished, the fisherman can work, and for the season that the fish are somewhat heavy for small cartop type boats, by the greatest percentage of the fish reach the tributary before they meet the man's lures. The obvious to this is a sturdy boat 16 feet, equipped with a motor, and outboard motor, and an oversize anchor. After is the implement that will permit holding solid edge of the cddy, or the of a fast run while lures are in places hitherto fished. No need here to enquire about the possibilities of such a trip, the anglers are very certain to take far more than they would realize which provides the fish only for trophy.

In the year hunters up should have little difficulty in collecting bear, deer, and moose; all these are fairly easily and early morning and evening by a craft quietly downstream, and good can be done by using as a rest while heading towards one's target. ## Dressen's Bunt Strategy Questioned by Experts

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers, widely acclaimed as the greatest hitting outfit in modern National League annals, have taken to bunting against New York Yankees at the outset of the 1953 world series, and now you can expect almost anything to happen.

Actually, the main question after that three-hour-and-10-minute exhibition they struggled through Wednesday is whether the two clubs can last it out.

When the Dodgers started hitting home runs, the Yankees replied in kind. When the Dodgers belted Allie Reynolds from the hill and pulled abreast at 5-5, the world champions came alive again and knocked out their decisive 9-5 victory, going away. You don't know how or when Casey Stengel's star-struck athletes are going to do it. You only know that it will happen.

As the gathered baseball clan discussed the situation Wednesday night, three subjects were uppermost. The first concerned the mental gymnastics of manager Charlie Dressen of Brooklyn in ordering two straight bunts at the juncture when his team was threatening to break the opening contest wide open. The second had to do with the throwing hand of Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella, and the third with Allie Reynolds' bunting back.

GREATER PROBLEM

Taking them in order of importance, Campanella's hand probably bore the greater weight over the question whether Reynolds will be of any further use to the Yanks during the series.

The squat Brooklyn backstop was struck on the outside of his right hand by one of Reynolds' fast balls at the start of the second inning. For the remainder of the game Campanella could grip neither his bat nor the ball snugly. His late peg to second in the eighth inning enabled Billy Martin to effect the steal that set off the three-run Yankee rally that sealed Brooklyn's doom.

Wednesday night the hand was swollen, and Campanella refused to have an X-ray made. He said he intends to play today, whatever the cost. This is an admirable sentiment, but it is to be taken into serious consideration in evaluating Brooklyn's chances.

FOLLOWED CAMPANELLA

All year the Dodgers have been as Campanella went. When he was coming through with his long hits in the climactic stages of their big games, Dressen's men won. When Campanella was in a slump, the Dodgers were just another ball club. If he is seriously handicapped from here on, you may start measuring Stengel for his five-time halo.

The question of whether Dressen proved himself something less than a genius in ordering two straight batters to lay the ball down in the seventh inning still is wide open.

The situation was this: The Dodgers, trailing 4-5, got busy on old Johnny Sain at the outset of the seventh and, by shopping three straight singles just over or through the Yankee infield, pushed across the tying run. Thus they still had runners on first and second with nobody out.

It was a golden opportunity, but Dressen faced a problem. The bottom of his batting order was up—Billy Cox No. 8 and Clem Labine, his third pitcher. No. 9, The Brooklyn pilot had either to go for a big inning or try to move the leading runner around to third. He chose the latter, and it backfired.

DRESSEN PROTESTED

Sain fired to Cox, and both he and catcher Yogi Berra sprang into action. Yogi reached the dribbler first and threw to Gil McDonald at third as Gil Hodges went tearing in. It was close but umpire Art Gore ruled it a put-out. Some thought it could have been called the other way, and Dressen danced in pain in the coach's box.

Then Labine tried it, too, and this time Berra pegged Carl Furillo out at third with a stride to spare. Junior Gilliam then sent up a pop foul to end the Dodge threat.

World Series Notes

NEW YORK (AP)—Another sunny day was forecast for today's second game of the world series. The weather bureau said it was to be sunny and pleasant with the temperature in the upper 70s.

The weather man also said there will be pleasant weather for the third game at Ebbets Field Friday.

Baseball commissioner Ford Frick must have wanted to be a catcher in his younger days. Before Wednesday's first world series game he said he got a thrill of watching every move behind the plate of catchers Yogi Berra of the Yankees and Roy Campanella of the Dodgers. Both came through with fine performances.

Because of the increase in price of admission, the first game established a financial record. The gross receipts of $465,267 and the net of $387,574.74 bettered the previous highs set at Cleveland Oct. 10, 1948, by $6,288 fans. Wednesday's paid turnout numbered 69,374.

Phil Rizzuto was a bit more relaxed today. "Now that the first game is over with I feel a lot better," the Yankee shortstop said. "I'm always as nervous as a cat during the first one but I'll be okay from here on in."

Savoie Set For Title Bout With Carter

MONTREAL (C)—Armand Savoie, first Montreal-born fighter to get a crack at a world boxing championship, will meet lightweight champion Jimmy Carter of New York in the Montreal Forum Nov. 11.

Announcement of the title bout was made Wednesday by the Canadian Arena Company, operators of the Forum.

It will be the first world-title fight in Montreal since 1931 when Panama Al Brown defeated Eugene Fust of France for the bantam title.

Savoie holds a non-title decision over Carter, winning here in a 10-round bout last spring. But since then he has been shorn of his Canadian lightweight championship by Arthur King of Toronto and Philadelphia.

Power to Spare Lined Up For 1953-54 Boston Bruins

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—New strength through added depth has been provided the Boston Bruins for the 1953-54 National Hockey League campaign. Last season the Bruins had power enough to go through to the Stanley Cup finals against Montreal's championship Canadiens.

For the first time in the four seasons he has been coaching the Bruins, Lynn Patrick has more potential major leaguers on his hands than he can use.

The only member of last spring's Stanley Cup runner-up club missing here is Finnish-born Pentti Lund, veteran utility player now in the Western Western League.

Lund has been replaced by Cal Gardner, of Transcona, Man., forward acquired from the Chicago Black Hawks in a summer-time deal.

Added strength of front was gained from the Barrie Flyers, the Canadian junior championship club. That team previously provided the Bruins with such prospective stars as Real Chevrefils, Jerry Toppazzini and Leo Labine. Toppazzini is from Copper Cliff, Ont., and Labine from Haliburton, Ont.

The new Barrie products seeking Bruins' jobs are Doug Mohns, Don McKenney and Allan Skip Teal, a trio of high-scoring speedsters.

Those youngsters are in addition to such experienced forwards as captain Milt Schmidt, about to start his 15th season with the Bruins, Fleming Mackell, Dave Creighton, George Sullivan and Gardner, all centres, and wingers Johnny Pearson, Ed Sandford, Jack McIntyre, Woody Dumart, the circuit's oldest active player at 36, Joe Klukay, Chevrefils, Labine and Toppazzini.

During the training season here, Patrick had a chance to study three rookie goalies under fire. Since Sugar Jim Henry had to report late because of his summer hotel interests, Ray Picard of Cambridge, Mass., saw considerable action. That 26-year-old product of Boston's Northeastern University was an early training camp sensation while vying against Marcel Pelletier of Drummondville, Que., and Lorne Howes, another pair of netminders.

Deal With Broncs Renewed

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—The Baltimore Broncs, new American League baseball team, Wednesday renewed a 1953 working agreement with the Lewiston Broncs of the Class A Western International League.

President James McMonigle of Lewiston said at the same time the Broncs recalled speedy centre-fielder Al Heist, who led the league in triples with 17 this year, and Pitcher Russ Butler, who hurled a perfect no-hit, no-run game during the Broncs' final series.

The Broncs said both players will be sent to San Antonio of the Class AA Texas League.

Curling Starts October 15

Curling is expected to start at the Prince Rupert curling club about October 15. Club officials said that the brine was turned on in the pipes today as work went ahead to freeze the ground and base around the pipes preparatory to flooding early in October.

Completely Revamped Liquor Act Introduced

By STEPHEN SCOTT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

McGill Fence Fulfills Mission To Develop Early-Warning System

NEW YORK.—The radar defences of North America which will give Canada and the United States warning of an enemy bomber attack from the Arctic came into new prominence today with a series of announcements after a long period of secrecy.

At Montreal, it was announced that a project known as the McGill fence has fulfilled its mission to develop an early-warning system. And in New York, The Times says today in a Washington dispatch that the U.S. defence department has the Canadian proposal "under active consideration."

The Western Electric Company reported at the same time that its first experimental units designed to give at least six hours' warning of aircraft approaching over the North Pole are nearing completion in the polar region.

A completely revamped Liquor Act embodying these and other provisions was introduced by the Social Credit government in the legislature Wednesday. It will give the province drinking privileges the like of which it hasn't seen since 1917.

Designed to increase outlets but at the same time reduce consumption and backed by strict enforcement regulations, the new act divides licences and liquor outlets into four categories.

The act specifies that all outlets must be well lighted and thoroughly respectable.

THE FOUR CATEGORIES

● Cocktail lounge licence: liquor, beer and wines in clubs, hotels, resorts, steamships, railways and military messes.

● Diningroom licences: beers and wines with meals in restaurants, hotels, railway cars, steamships, clubs and resorts.

● Dining-lounge licences: liquor, beers and wines with meals in night clubs, cabarets and certain restaurants.

● Public house licence: beer and other malt beverages only. Bars, as such, would not be permitted in any of the four classifications.

Except for clubs, liquor by the glass was last served in B.C. before prohibition in 1917. Since 1921, when prohibition was repealed, the province has only been able to buy liquor by the glass in private clubs, beer by the glass in hotel beer parlors, and bottled spirits in government liquor stores.

The "pubs" would replace the beer parlors. No longer will it be necessary for them to have rooms attached for guests.

Government liquor stores will continue with their operation somewhat speeded by removal of the necessity of signing a receipt for a purchase.

BASED ON REPORT

The new act is based on the report of the Stevens committee which held public meetings throughout the province last year after the people voted 2 to 1 for the sale of liquor by the glass in a plebiscite held in the June, 1952, provincial election. Only four of the 48 electoral districts voted against it.

All present licences would be cancelled under the act at the end of the year, but the Liquor Control Board may renew them until December, 1954.

The new act must go through two more readings in the legislature and then be approved by the lieutenant-governor at the last day of the session before it becomes law.

A local option clause would give the electors final say on whether there will be any new outlets in their areas.

The bill carefully outlines that a club must be non-profit and devoted to purposes benefiting the membership.

Very Temporary

YORKTON, Sask. (CP)—Farmers on No. 9 Highway were pleased to see about a mile of new gravel on the road. They were more surprised a couple of days later when workmen removed it. They had merely been drying the gravel before using it for a different road.

Gill fence were not disclosed, but the project director, Professor G. A. Wootton of Montreal's McGill University, indicated announcement of the project could be made because "the Russians have as good a fundamental knowledge in this field as we have."

Professor Wootton, at a Montreal press conference Wednesday, said results of "satisfactory" tests of the McGill fence have been turned over to Canada's defence research board for further development and "large-scale trials."

Professor Wootton said the plan is not in competition with the Lincoln plan, a huge general air defence plan for the U.S. which also involves radar.

Pickets Quietly Patrol Gates Leading to Timmins Mines

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Strike pickets of the United Steelworkers of America quietly patrol gates leading to seven mines here and across the Quebec border at Noranda.

Only one of the companies is working, with a fractional force unimpeded by the pickets. Earlier, there were gunfire and dynamiting, kidnapping charges, and allegations of intimidation in this Porcupine gold camp.

MANY CHARGES LAID

Since the snowballing strikes started near here July 11, two union men have been charged with attempted murder; 17 have been jailed for assault, and a half-dozen charged with intimidation.

Virtually all the tough action in the spreading walkouts came as members of the big CIO-CCL union battled company attempts to keep the smallish Brouhan Reef mine in operation.

Brouhan Reef fought through to stay in production, and now is operating with about one-fourth its 240-man working force on the job daily. Other and bigger idle mines in Ontario and Quebec—the whole groups employ more than 5,000—have shut down for the strike duration. Their walkouts were generally peaceful.

Pickets are still posted at the entrances to all the strikebound mines in the district, scattered over about 35 miles. But production workers move freely into the woods-encircled Brouhan

Reef property, and office staffs go into the other outfits that are not trying to work.

Both in this district and at the strikebound gold-copper workings at Noranda, pickets are shaking down for the cold weather.

Carpenters are putting in wooden floors and sidings in tents. Stoves are installed. The union's commissary department patrols the lines with fuel and food.

Mountain passes between India and Tibet range from 14,000 to 18,000 feet altitude.

Ex-Premier Sentenced To Death

CAIRO (AP)—A special revolutionary court today sentenced former premier Ibrahim Abdel Hadi to death for "high treason" and conspiracy with a foreign power to undermine state security.

In his trial, which ended Wednesday, key testimony concerning the alleged plot involving the foreign power was heard only in secret. The power, never officially identified in public, was accused of attempting to promote a counter-revolution to restore ex-king Farouk to the throne.

Abdel Hadi, 57-year-old Sandist party premier during the 1948 Palestine war, was the first of at least 24 persons ordered arrested on treason charges two weeks ago.

Prosecutor Lt.-Col. Mohamed Tabet charged that Hadi, Farouk, and the late premier Mahmoud Fakhry Nokrashy were responsible for sending the Egyptian Army unprepared into the Palestine war.

President Mohammed Naguib, who led the army revolt that ousted Farouk 14 months ago, was wounded during that war.

Martin Praises Drug Serum For Polio

TORONTO (CP)—Health Minister Martin today said gamma globulin, a serum used in the poliomyelitis epidemic this year, "is Canada's health story of the year."

He said preliminary figures of 214 deaths and 5,748 cases "would seem to indicate that this year's outbreak of polio—particularly in Manitoba and the earlier epidemic in the Yukon—may prove to be one of the most serious on record."

In an address prepared for the 41st annual meeting of the Canadian Public Health Association, Mr. Martin said production and distribution of gamma globulin during the epidemic "is an outstanding illustration of effective co-operation and a tribute to the nation's public health workers."

"To meet an emergency situation the federal government granted more than $150,000 to assist in the production of gamma globulin. Detailed plans have also been worked out to ensure considerably increased production in 1954."

Mr. Martin warned against "undue optimism" over reports of the serum's value in modifying the paralysis which may follow an attack of polio. It is the only known preventative agent.

"RETIR'D" VICTORIA KIDDED BY VANCOUVER MINISTER

VANCOUVER — Rev. S. C. Higgs is just begging for a shot of hemlock in his afternoon tea.

Speaking to the convention of Chief Constables of Canada Association here, he referred to Victoria.

"Citizens there, who are 95 per cent retired," he said, "wake up in the morning, scan the obituary column and if their names are not in it, go back to bed."

Canada May Increase Aid For Under-Developed Lands

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Canada may increase its financial contribution for the coming year to the UN program of technical assistance for under-developed countries.

A conference is expected to be held here shortly and the Canadian government is understood to be giving thought to a possible boost of several hundred thousand dollars over the $800,000 it gave this year.

The program—under which some 70 countries share a wide variety of technical skills with less-developed nations—had a budget of $25,300,000 this year, but David Owen, executive chairman of the technical assistance board, indicated this was not enough to permit expansion originally planned. In asking for more money next year, Owen told the UN Monday.

The program is no longer in a position to respond to more than a fraction of the requests for technical assistance which have been received from the economically less-developed countries.

Canada's interest in maintaining this program was voiced before the Economic and Social Council of the UN by Senator Stanley McKeen of Vancouver, a member of the Canadian delegation.

He said the basis of UN assistance programs of this kind is "the concept of mutual aid and enlightened self-help"

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
Fine Player Makes
Most of Good Breaks

One mark of a fine player is his ability to take advantage of good breaks when he gets them. To make today's aggressive four spade contract Mr. Masters had to find the diamonds divided 3-3 and the trumps divided 3-2. But that wasn't the whole story. He also had to play the hand exactly right.

Mr. Abel led the nine of hearts. Mr. Meek played the jack and Mr. Masters won with the ace. He saw that his possible losers were one heart, one diamond and two clubs. The only hope seemed to lie in bringing in the diamond suit.

trumps were out. Instead of ruffing, he discarded a club from dummy.

Mr. Meek now shifted to the king of clubs. Mr. Masters won with the ace, led his last diamond to the ace, returned a diamond and ruffed. When the suit broke evenly, it was all over. He cashed the ace and queen of trumps, led a third trump to dummy's king and parked his two losing clubs on dummy's good diamonds.

At trick two he led the jack of diamonds and avoided the first pitfall when he decided to duck in dummy. If he had played the ace and other diamond at this point he would have lost the contract because of lack of entries on the board.

Mr. Meek won the second trick with the queen of diamonds and cashed the king of hearts. In an effort to kill an entry to dummy he then led the queen of hearts.

Here Mr. Masters had to avoid another trap. It would have been fatal to ruff this trick in dummy because then he could never reach the board after

Abbott Going To Australia

OTTAWA — Finance Minister Abbott will attend a meeting of Commonwealth finance ministers in Australia early next year, Prime Minister St. Laurent announced yesterday.

The announcement gave no details of what will be discussed at the conference, to be held in Sydney Jan. 8-15. It is believed, however, that the dollar-sterling trading problem will be the major topic.

FRONT AND REAR VIEW show the climatic suit, developed by the Quartermaster Corps, and based upon a new principle regulating temperature control. The suit will be tested in the Arctic this winter. Unicellular polyvinyl chloride is used in layers—each one-eighth-inch thick—for insulating and each layer is perforated with numerous holes. Gel-like garments are worn beneath cotton wind-resistant repellent jacket and trousers. When inactive, the suit is kept warm by air seal surrounding his body. When forced pumping action results, providing ventilation through the holes and ridding the wearer's body of excessive moisture.

MARGATE, England.

— Britain's giant trade unions have crushed an attempt by leftwingers to stampede the Labor party's annual conference into sweeping new nationalization policies.

After an angry clash, delegates yesterday voted down a proposal that many more industries should come under state ownership.

Figures were 4,990,000 votes against the proposal and 1,797,000 in favor under the card vote system by which the great trade unions were able to use the strength of their membership, dominant factor in the party.

Debate before the vote was heated. Angry delegates drummed their feet on the floor and shouted and boomed in the middle of a fiery speech by trade union leader Arthur Deakin.

Flushed with anger, Deakin finally stumped off the speaker's rostrum with his speech unfinished. Before withdrawing, he roared that the trade union movement might be forced to break with the party.

CLASHES FORECAST

The quarrel bore out forecasts that the issue of nationalization would produce clashes between the two rival factions of the party, the powerful trade union chiefs and the leftwingers who

Coal, transport, civil aviation and steel were among the industries nationalized by the Labor government during its 1945-51 period of office. The Conservatives since 1951 have returned road haulage and steel to private ownership.

Today's convention turned to bedlam when Deakin, head of the big Transport and General Workers Union, came to the platform to condemn a proposal on nationalization by the Amalgamated Union of Foun- dry Workers, which has a strong left-wing element.

SWEPTING PROPOSALS

The resolution made sweeping proposals for state control of many sections of the engineering and shipbuilding industries.

Deakin, attacking the section proposing nationalization for marine engineering, shipping, shipbuilding and she repairing, said:

"This so-called plan is just a mumble-jumble of meaningless words and phrases."

As he proceeded with his criticism of the foundrymen's proposal the hubbub increased, drowning out his words.

Red-faced Deakin gripped the rostrum with his hands, leaned forward and shouted this warning:

"The trade unions have done their utmost to create a measure of understanding with the political Labor party that will enable us to go forward as a united conference."

"If you want to maintain that, do not drive us into the position of falling out and breaking with the party."

Soviet Envoys Pessimistic

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Diplomatic observers in Moscow were gloomy yesterday about the prospect of an early settlement of the German problem and the reunification of the country.

They said they considered Tuesday's Soviet note, replying to the West's invitation to discuss Germany and Austria as indicating the Russians give priority to inclusion of Communist China in a conference to discuss major world problems.

They believed such a conference, to consider "questions for the relaxation of tension," was designed to open the door to wide discussion—which might be interminable.

Russian press commentaries indicate, however, that the Soviet government is still interested in the idea of a parley between heads of state, originally suggested by Sir Winston Churchill, on the basis that this would not impose "preliminary conditions."

Glass-Eater Changes Diet

OPELIKA, Ala. (AP)—A carnival entertainer swore off his diet of nails, razor blades and glass after doctors removed three pounds of junk from his stomach.

Robert E. Reed, 33, started eating metal and glass for the cash customers nine weeks ago. When he added a garnish of carpet tacks, acute indigestion struck him.

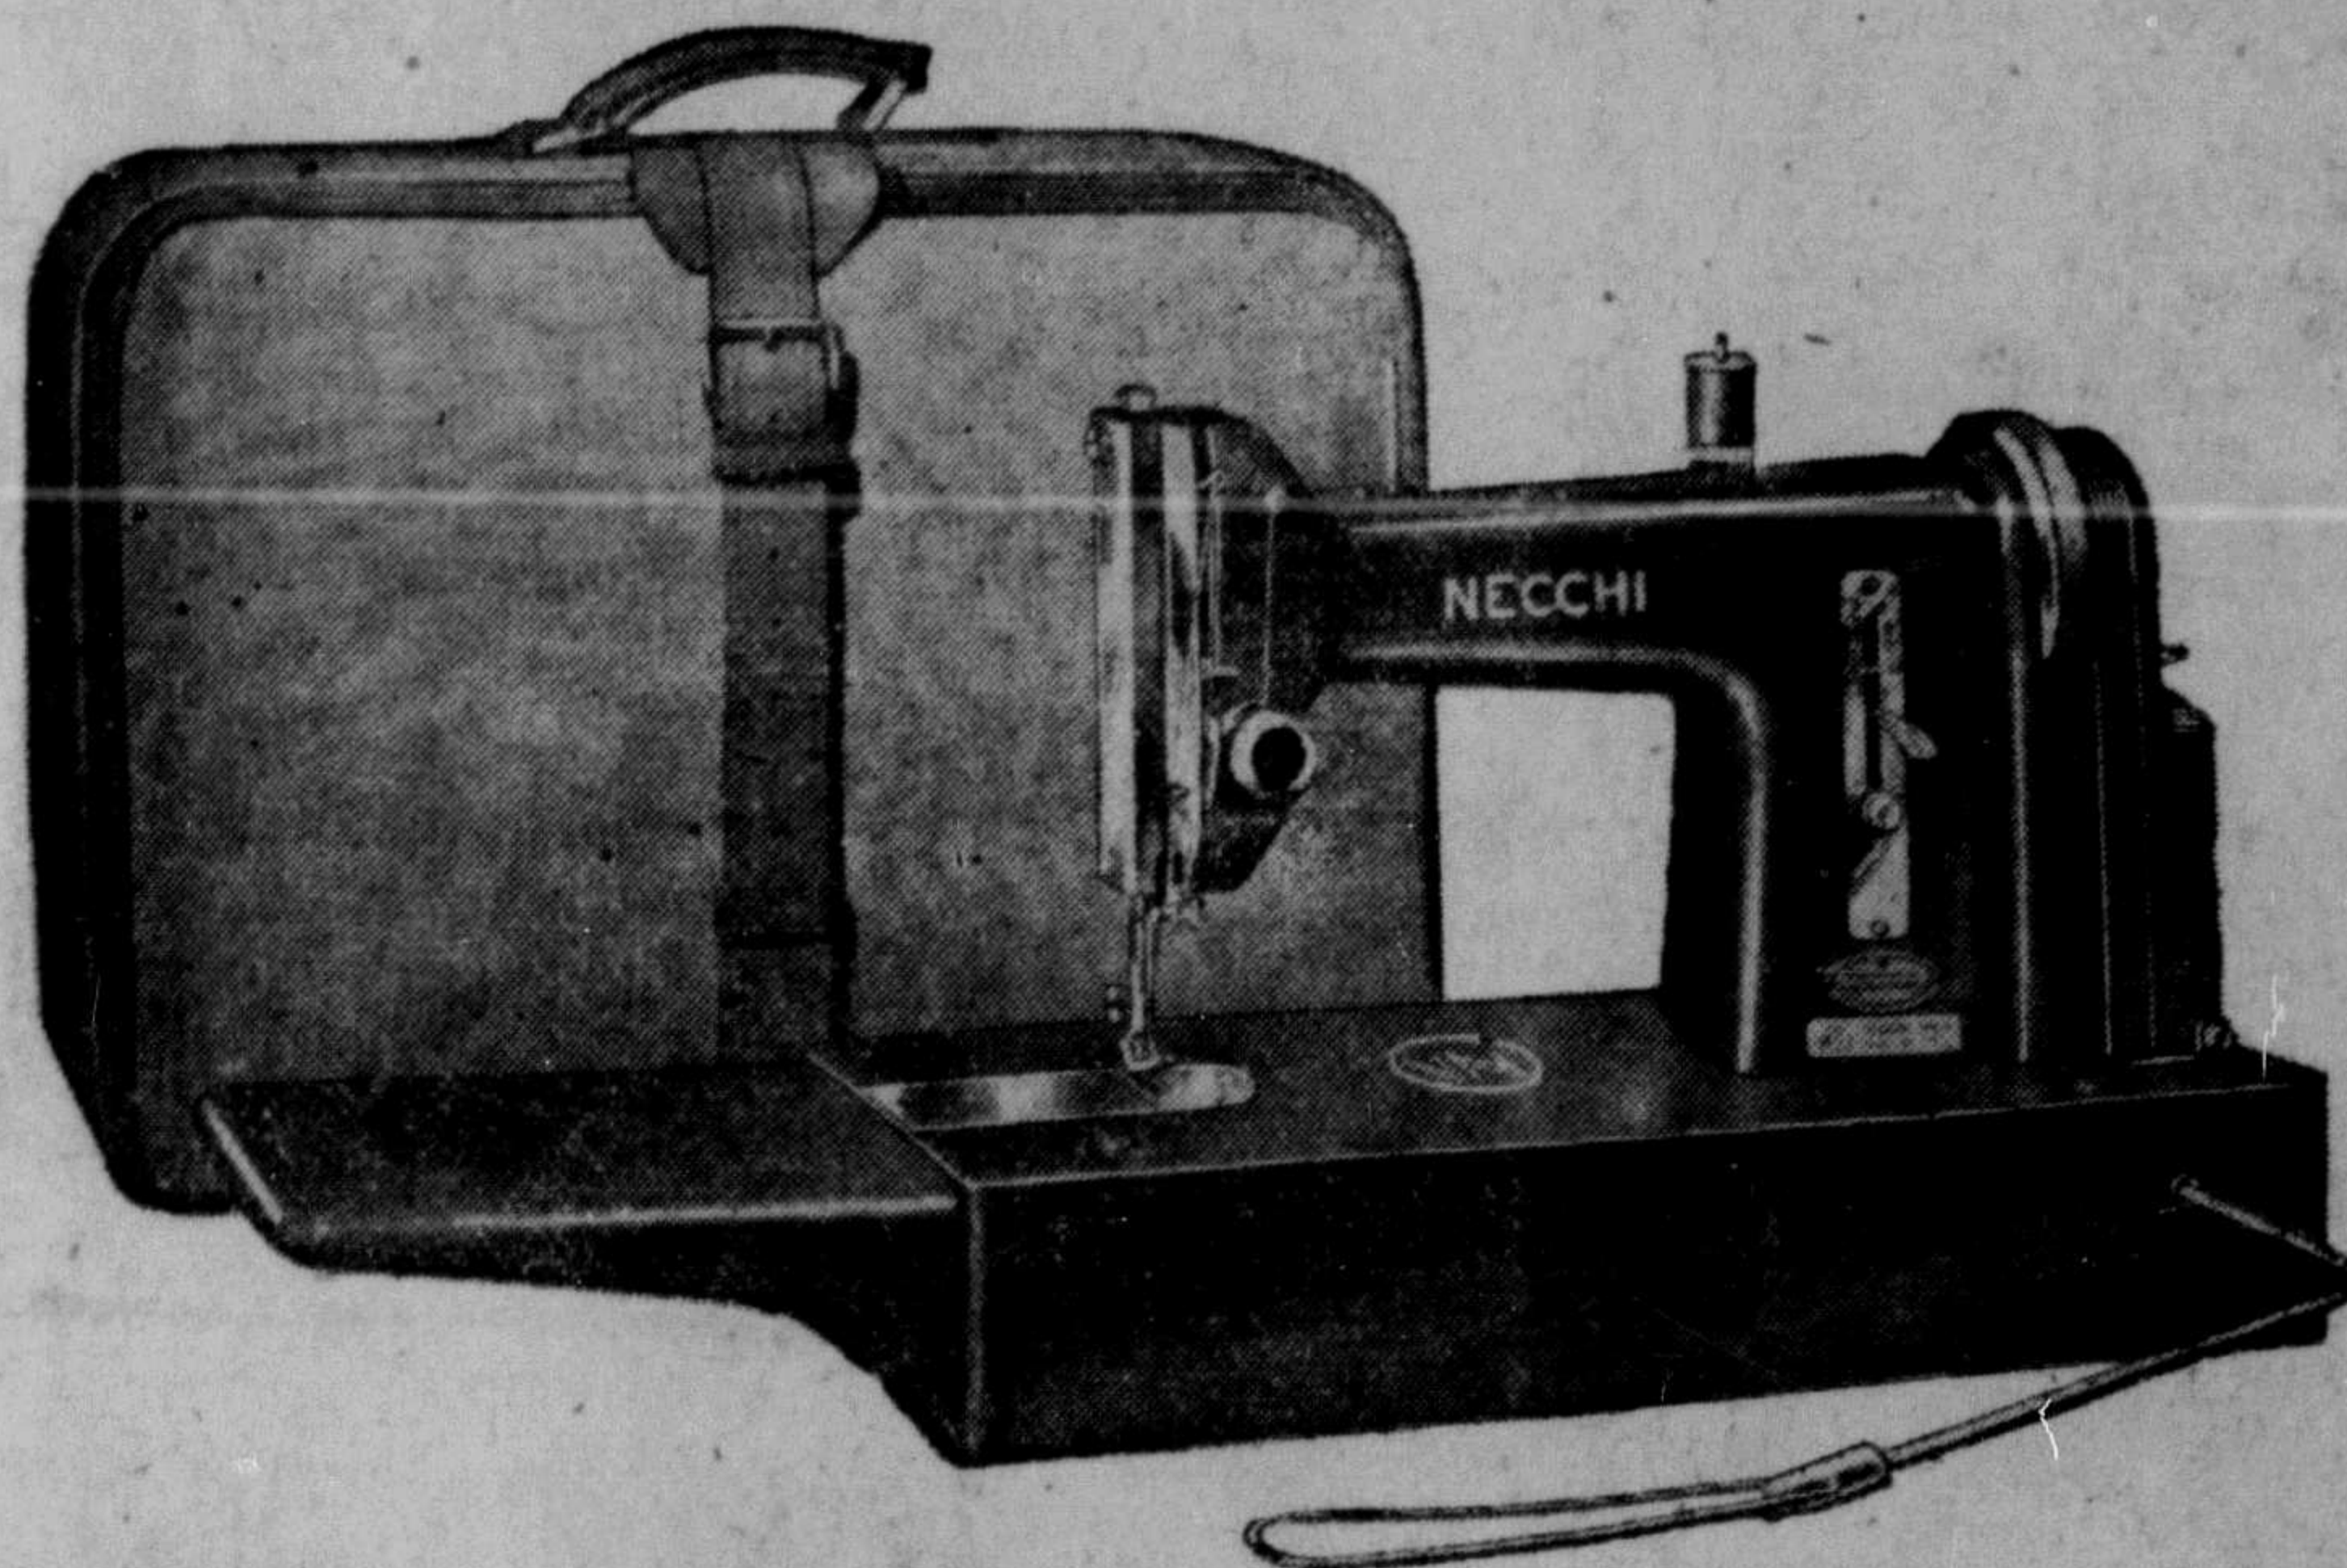

A surgeon opened his stomach and removed a pint of indigestible odds and ends. The surgeon said he ladled them out with a spoon.

Reed said he turned to the heavy diet because his wife is going to have a baby and he needs money.

McRae Brothers Enter New Phase Adding Furniture to Present Long List of Items

One of Prince Rupert's first business establishments, McRae Brothers Limited, pioneers in musical instruments, stationery and office supplies, today moved into the furniture field. Making the announcement this morning, the two brothers, Jack and Dunc McRae, said the firm now has in stock complete furnishings for the home.

Located at 327 West Third Avenue, the brightly-lit store is one of Rupert's most modern premises.

The business, which was founded by the four McRae brothers, Duncan, John, Jim and Alex, in the spring of 1909, has an enviable reputation. Duncan McRae, who died at Duncan, Vancouver Island, three years ago, was the father of the two boys who now operate the business.

The four original brothers arrived here from Phoenix, B.C., on the advice of Jim McRae who came to Prince Rupert to see the "new city" after mining operations closed in Phoenix.

They opened a store on Sixth Street, between Second and Third avenues, specializing in books, stationery and office supplies. One year after they started business, the city was incorporated.

As the town grew, so did McRae Brothers and they and the Canadian Bank of Commerce were the first two to construct permanent buildings on Second Avenue.

In the Second Avenue location, they started a printing business and used the upper storey for warehousing.

Later they bought the premises between the present Canadian National Telegraphs office and the Bank of Montreal for their retail outlet, and enlarged still further by adding picture developing.

In 1922 they brought in gramophones and today McRae Brothers hold the distinction of being the oldest RCA-Victor dealer in Canada to continually sell that firm's products under the same company name.

Business progressed as the city grew, but in 1927 Jim died and a year later, after the brothers introduced radios, Alex left to take over management of the printing and bookbinding business on Second Avenue. He sold out to Regal Printers in 1948 and passed away in 1951.

John McRae died after retiring to his farm in Terrace in 1930 and in 1931 Duncan purchased control of the firm from the two estates.

In 1933 McRae Brothers introduced washing machines into their stock and later added refrigerators.

In 1937 they moved their location into the lower floor of the old Federal Building and a year later purchased the present property, which was the location of Benson Studio, Thomas McClymont insurance company, and A. E. Ireland, optometrist.

It was in 1931 that Jack, at the age of 17, while still attending school here, started to take an active part in the business. Illness of his father necessitated Jack's leaving school for a year in the 1932-33 season and he operated the business with G. G. Ham, who was manager of the stationery department for many years.

Jack returned to school in 1933 and continued on to University of British Columbia, returning to the store in 1936.

At the outbreak of the Second World War in 1939, he joined the Searchlight Battery here but transferred to the navy six weeks later as a sub-lieutenant in the executive branch.

On his return from overseas in 1945, Jack and Duncan purchased the business from the father, who retired to Duncan, Vancouver Island.

Since then, the two brothers have enlarged every department and completely modernized their store.

... Everything for the home

Two Canadian Navy Vets Head Firm Started in City Before Incorporation

Two well-known young businessmen who were born and educated in this city today head one of Rupert's largest and most up-to-date stores.

Both members of the Canadian Navy during the Second World War, Jack and Duncan McRae are ardent community workers.

Since purchasing control of McRae Brothers store from their father in 1945, they have added new lines and generally last October when he was succeeded by Commander T. A. Johnstone.

Jack McRae entered the executive branch of the navy here shortly after Canada declared war and served with distinction overseas.

He was sent to the east coast shortly after he joined the RCN and served aboard HMCS Restigouche before being posted to the Admirals Staff in Halifax. He later took a course at Washington, D.C., and then sailed overseas in HMS Puncher in 1943.

He was gunnery officer aboard the Royal Navy ship and saw varied action overseas. On his return aboard the same ship, he received his discharge in Halifax where he married the former Grayce Oxner on September 15, 1945.

CARRIED TORCH

When the government launched its first Victory Loan drive in 1941, Jack was selected to carry the "Victory Torch" across Canada as a promotional venture.

Since his return to Rupert, he has constructed a modern home for himself and his wife at 406 Fourth Avenue West.

Duncan McRae, vice-president, was born here on December 12, 1922, and received the bulk of his education in schools here.

After completing grade 11, he joined the navy in Vancouver and was posted to HMCS York, Toronto, but was discharged for medical reasons after only a short spell in service.

On his return, he worked in the store for two years before returning to complete his matriculation at Ocean Falls where he lived with his sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Qualley.

He completed grade 12 at Ocean Falls, and then went to the University of British Columbia for a year. After he was rejected for military service, he returned to work in the store until his brother's return from overseas when he took another year at UBC.

Married on September 27, 1947, to the former Lucille McCaig, whom he met while attending UBC, he has one daughter, Marilyn, three.

Like Jack, Dunc also has built a new modern home at 611 Fourth Avenue East, moving in only last November.

A member of the Gyro Club, Duncan was active in skiing and tennis circles until business cut down on his leisure time.

Mrs. Duncan C. McRae, mother of the two brothers, still lives at Duncan, B.C. Besides Mrs.

DUNCAN McRAE... vice-president

Qualley, they also have two other sisters, Mrs. John Bulger and Mrs. Maurice (Lois) Fitzgerald, both of Vancouver.

enlarged business. Their foremost object is to give service to the public.

Jack, president of the company, has been an active member of the Rotary Club here for many years. He celebrated his 38th birthday last May 28.

Liberal member of the provincial Legislature from 1949 to 1952, Jack was seriously injured on May 10, 1952, when a ramp on which he was standing collapsed at Kemano. He was en route to the ceremony dedicating the Kenney Dam on the Nechako River at the time of the mishap.

Besides being active in the Rotary Club, Jack is a member of the board of directors and chairman of the finance committee of the General Hospital here. Except for two years at the University of British Columbia, he has taken an active part in the business since 1931. On his return from the war he was honored by his appointment as officer commanding HMCS Chatham, naval reserve base here. He held that post until
