Hospital Ward Rates Boosted Here To Meet Operating Costs

Price Changes Take Effect Immediately

Increased wages and general costs have forced directors of Prince Rupert General Hospital to increase daily rates for private and semi-private beds.

The new rates—effective today—are: Private ward, $18 per day; semi-private, $16. There is no change in the public ward rate of $13 a day.

Previously a private room cost $16 per day and semi-private ward was $15.

Directors said that because the government has refused to increase its 1953 grant, the hospital finds it necessary to seek extra revenue from room rates in order to avoid cutting down on services.

The provincial minister of health, Eric Martin, announced last December that government grants to hospitals this year would be held at the 1952 level.

Following this a meeting of hospital administrators and officials was held at Vancouver where it was suggested private and semi-private rates be increased to partially offset increased costs.

Persons not belonging to the B.C. Hospital Insurance Scheme now will pay $13 a day for public wards, $16 for semi-private and $18 for a private room.

Those holding BCHIS cards pay $11.40, $14.40 and $16.40. Previously semi-private wards for those with insurance cards cost $13.40 a day and private wards were $14.40.

BCHIS pays $10.40 toward the cost, the patient paying the balance.

When the health minister announced that hospitals throughout the province must operate on the same daily rate as they did in 1952, Doug Stevenson, hospital administrator here, said it would not be possible without reducing service or increasing room costs.

Wages at the hospital here are $50,000 greater than they were last year. This represents about 60 per cent of the total operating costs of the hospital.

DEAD LIVESTOCK, which are a health menace in the flooded Netherlands, are collected by Canadian sappers of the 58th Independent Field Squadron, Royal Canadian Engineers. They have been working from dawn to dusk in the district around Middelarnis, Holland. They anchor dead cattle to posts where Dutch laborers later take them away.

Grain Workers Accept Offer to Mediate Week-Old Dispute

VANCOUVER (CP)—Striking grain workers in Vancouver and Vancouver Island have accepted a mediation plan to mediate their week-old dispute, union officials announced today.

The 150 workers who went on strike at four elevators in Vancouver and one in New Westminster a week ago are seeking wage boosts of 12½ cents an hour. Elevator operators want to retain the present scale of $1.50 per hour.

Secret Order Passed

OTTAWA (CP)—A secret order whose nature has not been disclosed because it involves the security of Canada has been passed by the government under the Emergency Powers Act.

This was disclosed in Commons during a day-long debate on proposed legislation to extend the act for another year until May 31, 1954.

The Progressive Conservative and other opposition parties have described the move as an abrogation of the rights of parliament.

The act, first established in 1951 and extended to 1952, gives the government wide powers to act without reference to parliament in almost all phases of Canada's economic life.

It also gives the power of arrest where regulations under the act are contravened.

Mrs. Munthe's Father Dies On Visit Here

Olav Thorsen, 70, of Terrace, died yesterday during a visit to his son-in-law and daughter here, Dr. and Mrs. Jens Munthe, 431 Fourth Avenue West.

Born in Norway, Mr. Thorsen came to Canada 25 years ago and farmed extensively for several years in Alberta. During the Second World War he was instructor in Toronto for Norwegian forces in the RCAF exchange plan.

He came to Terrace seven years ago and was well-known here. He is survived by his wife and five other children.

A memorial service will be held tonight at Grenville Chapel before remains are shipped to Terrace where the funeral will be held tomorrow from the United Church.

Soviet Attacks 'Enemy Agents'

MOSCOW (CP)—Russian military leaders marked the 5th anniversary of the Red army today with new calls for preparedness and vigilance against "all enemy agents" and a new attack on the United States.

Chief attack on the U.S. came from Marshal Vassily Sokolovskiy whose appointment as chief of staff of Soviet armed forces was disclosed Saturday. He wrote an article in Pravda, Communist party newspaper.

FOUR OF FIVE candidates named for the first award of the Alex Hunter Good Citizenship trophy were honored guests of a banquet at which representatives of all major city groups attended. Dr. J. P. Cade, pioneer physician here, (third from left) was named the 1952 "Good Citizen" and stands behind the trophy with which he was presented. Other candidates (from left) are Peter Linn, city hall accountant; F. E. Anfield, Indian Agent; Dr. Cade, and Mrs. T. J. Boulter. Dr. R. G. Large, fifth candidate, was out of town on his annual vacation.

Newspaper Publishers Waiting For Decision by Paper Makers

By FORBES RHUDE
 OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian newspaper publishers have something to fret about.

They are waiting for a decision on the 10 per cent sales tax which they had regarded as somewhat unfair, and ordinarily would save them something between $10 and $11 a ton on the approximately 380,000 tons of newsprint they use yearly.

But last fall at least two big Canadian producers said they were increasing prices by $10 a ton, effective January 1, although, so far as can be learned, they have not yet put the increase into effect.

So the big questions for Canadian newspapers are:

Do we save about $10 a ton, the amount of the sales tax decrease? Or will an increase in price offset the benefit?

Whatever the answer, the question is likely to be a live one in coming days or weeks.

Take-off for newsprint prices is New York, for nearly 90 per cent of Canadian newsprint is sold in the United States.

The present New York price is $126 a ton and, traditionally, the basic Canadian price would be $122 a ton, or four dollars lower.

However, the $126 at New York includes a $10 increase put into effect last year because of the fall in value of the American dollar. This is the $10 increase which may be applied to Canada for other reasons.

In both Canada and the United States prices go up in accord with distance from producing points.

Removing the sales tax on newsprint was part of a move which wiped out the sales tax on books. Finance Minister Abbott said that concurrently with removal of the sales tax on books, the tax would be withdrawn from materials used in the production of magazines, books and newspapers.

He added: "This will eliminate the difficult task we have had to wrestle with in recent years of drawing a clear and acceptable line between newspapers and magazines."

BUS DRIVER SETS RULES ON SMOKING IN VEHICLE

VICTORIA (CP)—Bus drivers now have the legal right to put people off their buses if they insist on smoking.

An order-in-council to this effect was passed by the Cabinet last week on recommendation of the Public Utilities Commission.

The order amends the Public Utilities Act by declaring: "The operator may remove from any vehicle or car any passenger who persists in smoking therein . . . after being requested by the operator or conductor to desist."

Lava, Smoke Still Pouring From Volcanoes in Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (CP)—A half-mile-wide flow of lava sizzled down the snowy sides of still erupting Mount Triden on Sunday.

The active volcano, which first belched a layer of orange-brown ash a week ago, is emitting sulphurous smoke and gas fumes from vents in the side of the mountain. Clouds billowing 18,000 feet into the air could be seen for 100 miles.

Mounts Megeik and Martin are active also but Novarupta is quiet.

Katmai, which blew its top spectacularly back in 1912, is obscured by smoke which hid whatever mischief might be brewing.

In Kodiak Saturday the crew of a U.S. navy patrol plane told how they flew through billowing black smoke and pelting ash spewed into the air in a mass eruption of volcanoes in the Katmai National Monument area.

The pilot, Lieut. James Ingram, was flying over the Shelikof Strait, between Kodiak Island and the mainland, when a huge black ball of smoke was seen rising 15,000 feet into the air some 20 miles from the aircraft.

Ingram said he circled the left of the eruption and two minutes later a second cloud of smoke boiled up eight miles northeast of the first plume and moved close to it.

"Streams of ash poured out of the smoke," Ingram said, "like rain falling from a thundercloud."

The co-pilot, Lieut. Robert Bolling, stuck his head from the window of the plane in an attempt to take a picture. He was struck by bits of volcanic ash.

Trolley Crash Kills 58 In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (CP)—Two suburban trolleys collided on Mexico City's outskirts Saturday night, killing at least 58 persons and injuring 82 others.

Officials blamed a brake failure and overloading for the head-on crash which occurred on a steep grade near a siding where cars usually wait while others pass on a single track.

One of the cars had 90 persons aboard—so many the motorman was unable to close the doors.

All passengers in the front of both cars were crushed. Both trolleys were smashed to splinters.

Padre Travels Many Miles Saying Farewell to Troops

The man almost every Canadian soldier in Korea knew as "Joe" is back in Canada enjoying some leave prior to taking over new duties.

"Joe" is Maj. J. D. Cardy, of Port Credit. For the past year he has served as senior Protestant padre of the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade.

In Korea, every Canadian soldier knew "Joe" Cardy. It is their boast that during his tour of duty in the Far East, Padre Cardy visited every dug-out and every foot of trench along the Canadian front.

He never forgot a face, a name or a hometown. A quiet-spoken yet dynamic man his forte was showing up when least expected at forward units when a "shootin' war" was going on.

His job—officially—was looking after the spiritual needs of the boys, but it didn't stop there. He made a business of making friends and continued to make them even while preparing for his return home.

For a solid week before his departure by plane for Canada, Maj. Cardy's jeep with its familiar white cross on the hood, jolted over hundreds of miles of frozen Korean roads while he revisited dugouts, bunkers and trenches, saying goodbye to Canadian fighting men. Then he toured the rear areas.

After his 60-days leave, Maj. Cardy will take over as Area Chaplain (Protestant) at London, Ontario.

His successor in Korea is Maj. G. S. Fraser of Saint John, N.B., formerly the United Church minister at Pictou, N.S.

The Water Won't Wait

ALTHOUGH the parliamentary session at Victoria is still at an early stage, it is disturbing nevertheless to note there has been no reference yet to timber clearance of the Tweedsmuir Park area which will be affected by flooding being carried out by the Aluminum Company of Canada.

Last fall Lands and Forests Minister Sommers was sufficiently interested in the threatened disfigurement of this beautiful property to come up and see for himself what it was all about.

Although the Speech from the Throne referred to committees that will study the questions of Buttle Lake power and development of the Columbia River basin, the urgent problem of Tweedsmuir Park went lamentably unnoticed.

In a brief to "Forest and Outdoors" magazine, which has shown an interest in the matter, the Burns Lake and District Board of Trade looks at the situation in this way:

"Tweedsmuir Park was set aside as a park because of the unsurpassed beauty of its many lakes, great and small, which are now directly involved. If nothing is done to level a fringe of standing trees 200 yards to two miles in depth in the area that will be inundated, and dispose of the debris, access to the waters and terrain beyond will be blocked for a century, for trees underwater do not rot.

"The aftermath will be a 145-mile-long, ghastly, gigantic graveyard of dead trees and snags protruding from the waters, and tangled masses of wind-driven debris along the outer edges. Tweedsmuir Park should and could be a continuing asset."

The main riddle involved is how can clearance of roughly 150,000 acres be done cheaply and effectively? Suggested solutions range from burning to pulling the shoreline trees down by tug after the flooding has been completed.

On this score, perhaps similar work now being carried out at Prince George offers a practical answer. There two bulldozers, dragging a caterpillar track between them, are levelling timber on potential agricultural land for as little as $4.00 an acre.

Whatever the answer may be, it is certainly not inaction. Although it was not obliged to get mixed up in this, Alcan has made its offer and the next step is up to the government.

As I See It

by Elmore Philpott

How To Hold B.C. Jobs

IN THE British House of Commons on February 1 the Rt. Hon. Harold Wilson said:

"We cannot hope to earn Canadian dollars by our direct trade, and in the first nine months of last year we were still paying for less than 40 per cent of our imports from Canada by our exports—is there not now a case for entering into negotiations with Ottawa to see whether that trade could not be at least partly put on a different basis?"

"There is widespread interest in Canada in the suggestion that some of our Canadian purchases should be paid for in sterling and any surplus which might develop should be held in the form of sterling balances on Canadian account in London.

"That suggestion has been put forward by many Canadians, and while I was there I read a very constructive and realistic article by Mr. Elmore Philpott, a noted Canadian columnist, in which he worked this out in some detail."

Mr. Eden, top Conservative, said of his Labour colleague "The Rt. Hon. Gentleman who has just spoken did, on the whole make the most constructive speech of the whole debate."

I HAVE done my bit to promote this plan to by-pass Britain's scarcity of dollars not so much to help Britain as to help Canada. In fact, it is primarily for the sake of B.C.

Already I see signs of a coming slump, quite as plain as those that were there for a whole year before the stock market crash of 1929. The time to avert it is now.

B.C. has the most vulnerable economy in all Canada. In the last few weeks many base metal mines have closed down. We have lost a good slice of the British lumber market. We have a huge surplus of unsold salmon, much of which used to go to Britain. We sold no apples to Britain this year.

Yet Britain is still desperately short of many of the very things in which we have a surplus. They have plenty of money—but not our kind.

NEXT MONTH Mr. Eden and Mr. Butler will visit Ottawa, on their way home from Washington.

I think our Prime Minister could make history (and help us hold our jobs) if on that visit he made the visiting British statesmen exactly the same proposition that Mackenzie King made to Franklin Roosevelt. That became known as the Hyde Park agreement. All four parties would back him on this.

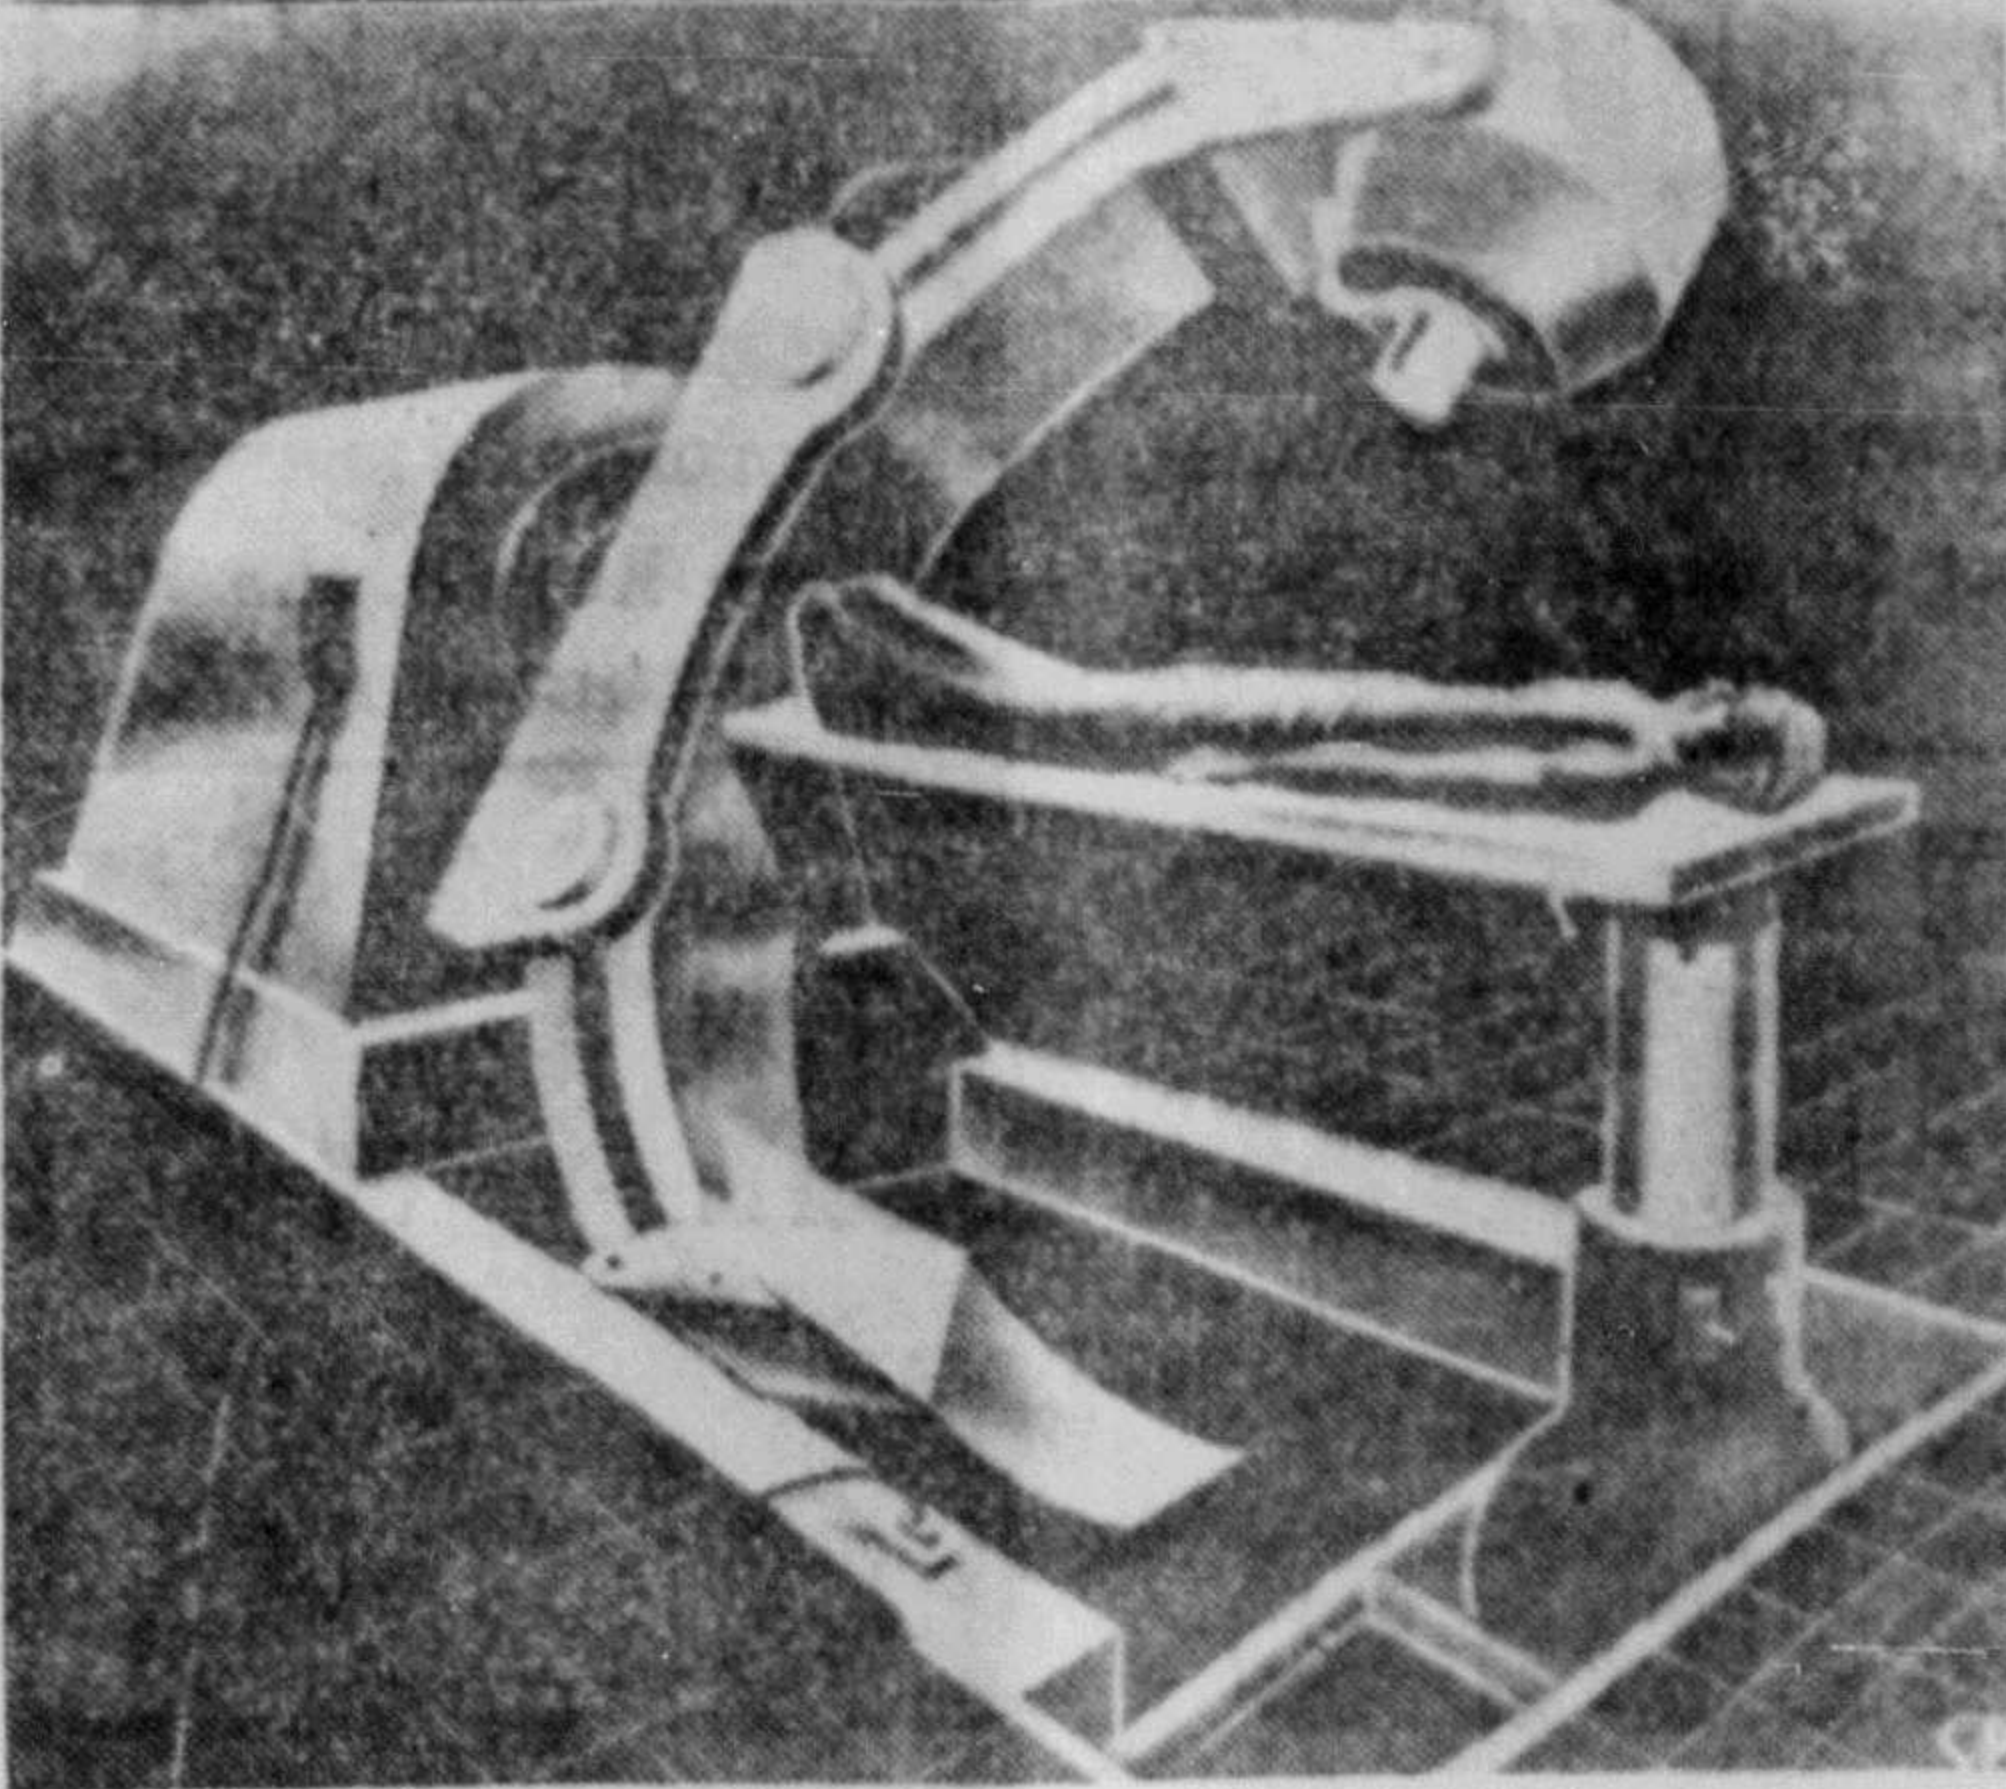

Under the Hyde Park agreement U.S. promised to buy as much from Canada as Canada bought from U.S.A. Under that simple sounding, but vastly important bargain, the two neighbor countries averted what would otherwise have become a critical situation. Incidentally, it enabled Canada to pay her way in the war without taking a single cent of lease lend or U.S. handouts.

CANADA WOULD say, we will accept sterling for all products you buy from us. In any year in which we earn a surplus on trading account we will invest that surplus in property, stocks, bonds or mortgages bought in the sterling area. No cash will change hands between governments. The individual sellers will get payment in their own money.

By this simple, but far reaching process, Canadian wheat growers, lumbermen, fishermen, fruit growers, and metal miners would be able to hold their markets and keep their jobs. It would require, each year for some time, the purchase by the Bank of Canada of a considerable amount of British held stocks and bonds. These could be resold in Canada or held as the Bank of Canada preferred.

Private TV Stations to Compete With Government in Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Australia is not likely to have regular television programs until 1955, if then. The federal government feels a full royal commission inquiry should be made before it establishes a policy.

The Menzies government introduced legislation February 18 to permit private television stations to compete with national, or government-owned, stations, when television is introduced in the country.

Soviet Shipping In Dire Straits Reports Indicate

By THOMAS HARRIS STOCKHOLM (Reuters)

Russia's shipping industry, plagued by delayed launchings, poor maintenance, time-consuming repairs and poor turnarounds, is in the midst of a slump and orders have gone out to shipping organizations to "liquidate shortcomings."

This is the consensus of reports reaching here in Russian technical publications. They point out that last year's shipbuilding quotas were not fulfilled while the 1951 quotas were exceeded by two per cent.

At the end of the second quarter of last year, launchings were six-per cent below planned tonnage. Complaints by ship operators against poor maintenance and slow shoddy repair work in the yards appear regularly in the Soviet shipping press.

In the first quarter of last year, 58 per cent of all breakdowns occurred in ships' engine rooms. Shipyard managers blame engineers for mistreating the engines of their vessels. Engine room crews are often changed before they have become fully-acquainted with the engines, the managers say.

ray... Reflects and Reminisces

Though Weston Coyney might not have been first in running the coal weigh scales at Prince Rupert, he was handy to it. And when he did finally make the grade, it was to remain on the job for many a pioneer year.

Few indeed of the minor local establishments have been longer in the same neighborhood. Coyney came down, not so long after incorporation, from the gleam and glamor of the Klondike. He wore a trimly cut white beard, stylish clothing and affected a certain gaiety of manner. Life in Dawson had been to his liking—but only until the voice of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway sounded across Canada and the compelling charm of the Yukon faded.

Weston had spent much of his interesting life in newspaper offices. He had had wide experience on the staff of the New York Herald. He dabbled off and on in the offices of the Daily News and Evening Empire and nothing suited him better than to recall incidents of his professional adventures. Incidentally, there were attentive listeners.

The weigh scales, when Coyney was there, occupied more space and was in a different position. One had a good sized office with desk, table, stove and two windows, as well as a small bed. He had not the slightest objection to slipping stories to his friends of the dailies, remaining active and capable. There was always a mutual willingness to call.

Another old gentleman who served the weigh scales and who could also look back and glimpse history was A. S. Carter, who could remember Calgary when Crewfoot and Father Lacombe were largely instrumental in preventing the Blackfoot thousands from attacking the Alberta town in the spring of '85. Later he made his home as a rancher convenient to where highly valuable oil strikes, just south of Edmonton, have been made. Carter, however, did not live to survive all this.

Mr. McDonald, who resigned from the post of duty at the weigh scales some years ago, is still living in the city and is well known; while the present occupant, Mr. Sutherland, will be remembered by many of the district and municipal old timers.

Hospital Plan Subsidy Lower

VICTORIA (CP)—The hospital insurance scheme will need a smaller provincial subsidy in the next fiscal year than for the current year.

Finance Minister Einar Gundersen said the subsidy paid to the scheme in 1952-53 from consolidated revenue was $4,565,990. The subsidy in the next fiscal year will be $653,562 less, or $4,033,428.

Contributing factors to the saving, he said, were efforts to hold hospital costs at 1952 levels, expanded payroll deduction plan and streamlined administration.

U.S. Doesn't Want to Embarrass Allied Countries, Says Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Foster Dulles has assured Allied countries the United States is seeking to avoid "political embarrassments and troubles" with them in charting moves against Red China.

One of several actions under consideration, Dulles told a press conference, is establishment of a naval blockade of the China coast. Another is stricter "enforcement" of United Nations recommendations against trade with China, he said.

The whole range of "measures of varying kind which could be adopted," Dulles said, is under intensive study in the light of three considerations: "Their feasibility, their military consequences and the degree of political embarrassments and troubles that might be caused with our Allies."

Dulles was questioned about what the administration hopes to accomplish by repudiating "secret understandings" which permit enslavement of foreign peoples, as called for by President Eisenhower.

TWO PURPOSES

The proposed action, Dulles said, would serve two primary purposes:

"One is to register dramatically what we believe to be the many breaches by the Soviet Union of the wartime understandings; and, secondly, to register equally dramatically the desire and hope of the American people that the captive people shall be liberated."

This document or pronouncement is not intended to be a domestic political pronouncement. It is intended to be a pronouncement in relation to foreign policy, which I hope will receive and I think should receive a substantially unanimous backing in the congress.

His comments appeared to reflect some developments in change in administration. Previously there had been on repudiating understandings which "permit" enslavement. This was in the Republic criticism of the president Franklin D. Roosevelt and former president Hoover that in agreements made the Russians at Yalta and dam they had allowed them extend her domination over areas in the Far East and Europe.

BLAME RUSSIA The line which Dulles however, was that the "enactment of these captive people due to abuse and violation of the understandings." Attribution, therefore, would be blamed on Russia and not upon the understandings themselves had in the past. Hence the administration would be able to appeal for support as well as Republican.

Dulles said a primary purpose in the Far East end fighting in Indo-China Korea on acceptable terms one way to go about it replace Western forces with troops so Russia would longer have the advantage of Western forces in bat with Soviet satellites.

This policy of ruling and more on native forces apply to consideration of aid to Indo-China, he said. The most ancient nations on earth have been estimated as possibly 2500 years old.

Too long under a bushel

Here's a man who does a great deal to benefit fellow-citizens and his community. Yet for a long time he's been "hiding his light under a bushel."

Anyone looking up Main Street, for instance, may never guess that he had a hand in establishing some of its fine new stores, hotels, office or apartment buildings. But he has.

Nor would many people realize that they may thank him in part for their homes. Or for the water that flows from the faucets. Or the electricity that serves them so many ways at the flick of a switch.

Every week workers take home pay from industries that this man helped to develop. But they're unaware of his connection with their jobs.

He even has an influence on his fellow-citizens' lives and the length of their lives!

Who is he?

He's the typical life insurance policyholder — a man who might be any one of millions of Canadians. And through investments of his premium money that he creates public works, homes and industries in their communities. Life insurance money is also contributing to medical research projects seeking to banish disease.

So, if you own life insurance, get out from under that bushel — and take a bow!

Capacity Crowd Praises '53 Rotary Club Concert

A capacity crowd last night saw and heard the Rotary Mixed Chorus and assisting artists present their finest concert on record.

Long before the program was to begin in the Capitol Theatre, citizens began arriving and when the curtain was drawn at 9:15 p.m., more than 700 were seated.

The choir, under the direction of C. P. Balagno, received well-deserved applause, and assisting artists, without exception, were praised for their performances. Henry Pluym accompanied.

There were only good comments for the show, staged to raise funds for the Prince Rupert Rotary Club in its efforts to provide things for children.

THANKED EVERYONE

Rotary president Harry Black, who was also master of ceremonies, thanked everyone for attending as well as those who took part in the entertainment.

He singled out children of grades one, two and three at Annunciation School, who, under the direction of Sister Mary Daniel, recited three pieces in unison. The school has won many prizes for its choral speaking and the audience gave the children a big hand.

Leading off the concert, the choral group sang Hymn of Youth, Madame Jeanette and Turn Ye To Me, an old Scotch melody.

ROUNDELY APPLAUDED

Violin solos by Jeanette Spark and later by Christo Furniotis were well chosen and roundly applauded, and vocal solos by Mrs. Rae Moir and Mrs. Patricia Wicks were beautifully rendered.

Both ladies sang without the aid of the microphone and their

Plans for a dance to be held early in March in aid of the European Flood Relief Fund were started at a meeting of the Civic Centre Association.

Harold Clifford and Len Mercer were appointed to a committee to work with the Kinsmen for this event. Advance tickets will be sold.

The meeting, presided over by O. A. Kaubeck, was the first for the 1953 directorate and was well attended by delegates from other organizations in town.

Mr. Kaubeck welcomed newcomers to the board, saying that they were all there to work together for the benefit of the Civic Centre. Committee heads were named and are: building and maintenance, J. H. MacKay; athletic, Mr. Abe Hart, Mr. Wellings, Mr. F. Stewart; entertain-ment, Mr. H. Clifford, Mr. L. Mercer; publicity, Mr. H. Windt.

An explanation of the new rental scale was given to the meeting and the Parent-Teacher Association was granted free use of the hall for their school display on the evening of March 5.

Arrangements are progressing for the purchase of more bowling alleys and a special meeting will be called to finalize plans.

Two nights a week will be given to the CNR employees to play football in the back room instead of on Sunday afternoons when the children want to roller skate there.

Mr. A. Hart said boxing was now well underway and he hoped some boys could be brought in from Prince Rupert for a boxing card. In this connection, a smoker will be held sometime early in April.

Yearly reports of St. Matthew's Womens Auxiliary were read and election of officers took place at the home of Mrs. L. Newhouse.

Mrs. W. Sparkes, a valued member for many years, was welcomed back after a two years' absence through illness.

Mrs. M. Morgan presided at the meeting at the close of which refreshments were served by the hostess.

SCREEN ★ Smithers Skier Takes Honors In Tourney

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Here we go on the awards circuit again. Statuettes and plaques are popping up all over the place.
 Within a few days, there were the TV academy awards, the movie academy nominations and the photography award dinners. Also in season are the award events of the Screen Directors Guild, Screen Writers Guild, Redbook, Look, Pic and Click.
 The TV academy's Emmy statuette may yet become a full sister to the austere Oscar. That will take a little time, but this year's TV academy event was a professional show. Solid hitch came when emcee Art Linkletter ran through three microphones before finding one that worked.
 The TV affair seemed to have even more excitement and electricity than the movie event. Maybe that's because it was held at a dinner, as the Oscar events were in pre-war days. By limiting attendance to a select audience, the sponsors provided an atmosphere that was tense and responsive.
 It's possible that the Oscar presentations can be held in more intimate surroundings, now that the event is being televised.

There has been some clamor for the TV academy to make more award categories and honor writers, singers, producers and directors.
 The movie academy has insisted on rewarding every creative branch of picture-making. That's nice for the creators, but it merely bores or confuses the public. Why not just cite the best pictures or TV shows and let all the creators take the bows?

Opens Hand Too Light, Then Doesn't Play It Right
 If Mr. New is going to open hands as light as he did in today's deal, he's going to have to learn to play them better.
 The king of clubs was opened and Mr. New went into a long huddle. He figured that if he cross-ruffed the hand instead of taking out trumps, he could win eight trump tricks, one diamond and two hearts—only 11 in all. He looked hard at a spot on the ceiling. This is called concentration. Usually, it is merely confusion.
 Mr. New was confused. He didn't know what to do with that first trick. Finally, he decided to let Mr. Meek win it and he discarded a diamond from dummy.
 Mr. Meek then shifted to the tref of hearts. To get a free finesse, Mr. New played small in dummy and won Mr. Dale's jack with the ace. Now he ruffed another club, played the ace of diamonds and got rid of his last club.
 Next he cashed the ace of spades, dummy's last trump, and at last saw his predicament. He was locked on the board. He needed to get to his hand twice, once to pick up the last outstanding trump and once more to cash the rest of his hearts.
 The only hope was to try and lead out the blocking king and queen of hearts and hope the opponent who had the last trump also had two more hearts. Mr. New tried this but Mr. Meek ruffed the third heart lead, putting the hand down one.
 The correct play was to win Mr. Meek's first heart lead on the board as Mr. Meek was hardly leading from four to the jack. And if Mr. Dale had four to the jack, that would show up later when the second high heart was played from dummy.

 At trick three Mr. New should have ruffed a small diamond, entered dummy with a small spade to the nine, and ruffed another small diamond. Next, he should have overtaken his last trump with dummy's ace. Cashing the rest of dummy's trumps and the ace of diamonds would have enabled him to discard all of his clubs. Then he would have had the rest of the tricks in hearts.

Mansons Muff Chance To Cinch Cage Title

League Leaders Trounced 68-49 by Hardware Sextet

Don Hartwig's Manson Omegas muffed their chance Saturday night to cinch the senior city basketball league championship and instead took a 68-49 drubbing at the hands of second-place Gordon & Anderson.

Behind the sensational scoring of Joe Davis, Alex Bill's G-As gained a 20-point lead in the first half and dropped only one point of their lead in the second lap of the fixture.

G-As poured all their strength and hustle into the fight right from the start using fast breaks at every opportunity to bewilder and upset the jewellers.

The Flaten-Holkestad-Davis frontal attack on the hoop in the first half, however, resulted in the big victory as all three stand-out stars for the hardware squad found the basket with breath-taking accuracy.

Of Davis' 20 points, 16 were potted in the first half while Holkestad and Flaten each contributed 10 points.

For the Hartwig-led Mansons, Mickey Webster was the stand-out workman, scoring 15 points, organizing most of the floor play and providing the team's sharp thrust which came too late in this event.

A crowd of 400—biggest so far in the season—attended the G-A victory which gives them another chance to capture the league championship, but they must take both games left with CCC's. Omegas, however, don't play again—unless G-As lose a game which would mean a tie for first place.

In inter "A" basketball, North Stars outthudded Esquires 65-42 to eliminate the latter from the playoffs and assure themselves a berth. McKay with 23 points, Morrison and Letourneau were the big guns for the winners while Christoff with 22 points kept his team in the game.

Inter "B" General Motors won their 14th straight league game to drive through to the league championship with their seven-point victory over Mansons. Score was 44-37.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball men say that Hank Greenberg, Cleveland's general manager, has been gun shy of trades since he made the unhappy deal two seasons ago which let Orestes Minoso, the Cuban flash, get away to Chicago White Sox.

It was the acquisition of Minoso which, probably more than any other factor, set the Sox charging up the American League depths into a position of contention for the flag. Manager Paul Richards built his team around the speedy Negro.

"The beating Hank took on that one has left him permanently scarred," a rival league official told us the other day. "He's afraid to even talk trade nowadays."

Every so often we like to keep the horse set advised of the movements of Ben Jones, the trainer for Calumet Farm, and his intentions toward the Kentucky Derby, which he has won three times in five years. Ben, currently campaigning at Santa Anita, is quoted as follows by Oscar Otis in the Daily Telegraph here:

"I'm not absolutely convinced as yet that Calumet has truly solid Derby horses this year. We'll find out more as we go along. On at least three occasions I've been rather doubtful of our Kentucky Derby prospects, perhaps most of all with Ponder. I wasn't at all sure we had a chance until after the Derby Trial.

"I guess we'll be in the neighborhood of Churchill Downs about Derby time if one of our colts should really develop."

This is just in case the owners of Native Dancer and Straight Face were wondering if Ben intends to show up.

Boston Braves are hopeful that their $52,000 bonus pitcher, Johnny Antonelli, will finally fulfill his great promise when he returns to them this spring after a two-year hitch in the army at Fort Myers, Va. Johnny pitched in 44 service games and won 42.

5 More Rinks Topple in Cup Tourneys

Saturday results were as follows: Rowbotham beat Elyofson, Berg beat Turner, Sieber beat Greene, Miller beat Thom and McKenzie beat Bateman, all for the Cook trophy; Warren beat Robertson in Gordon's match.

Sunday night, six teams of Canadian Legion 27 members took over the ice with the following results:

Jimmy Andrew 10, Fred Reich 3; Gerry Lemire 11, (six-ender in last) Bob Bone 9; Jimmy Nicoll 10, Magnus Thorstensen 6.

Footballers Chose Colors, Name to Come

VANCOUVER (AP)—Vancouver's football club hasn't got a name yet—but directors have decided on team colors.

A general meeting of the club's board of strategy picked orange and black after investigating colors used by other Canadian football teams.

President Art Mercer said the directors also discussed financing plans for their 1954 Western Inter-provincial Football Union club and decided to throw open club membership. The club now has 216 members who paid a $20 entrance fee.

Mercer said the problem of what to call the team has been turned over to a committee which may or may not decide to hold a public contest to pick a name.

Treasurer Bill Ralston and Mercer said there was no dissension among the executive either on the choice of a coach or on club policy.

Mercer said that while the club has on hand "letters in the 20s" inquiring about the coaching position, the club has not asked for nor received applications for the job.

'LOST FISHBOAT' FOUND OFF VANCOUVER ISLAND

A B.C. Packers fishboat, the Sonny Boy, reported missing Saturday, was located yesterday off the west coast of Vancouver Island.

RCMP said the boat, skippered by Capt. Olaf Knudsen, was located by the patrol boat Co-operative I.

She was scheduled to fish at Chemainus and Uclulet and then sail to Seattle, company officials said. She left Vancouver January 27.
