$1,000,000 Royal City Blaze Being Probed By Fire Wardens

TWO OF CANADA'S oldest "choir boys," Dr. P. G. C. Campbell (left) of Kingston, Ont., and Norman Holland of Montreal (second from right) meet outside the Cathedral Church of St. George at Kingston. They attended a service conducted by Archbishop Walter F. Barfoot, (right) Primate of the Church of England in Canada. The cathedral choir has been invited to sing daily services in Westminster Abbey in August and the Kingston Whig-Standard is sponsoring a financial appeal for the trip. Dr. Campbell has sung at St. George's for 70 years; Mr. Holland in Montreal choirs for 64 years. Second from left is George N. Maybee, choir-master and organist at St. George's cathedral. (CP Photo)

Wage Talks At Kitimat Break Down

Conciliator To Hold Talks

VANCOUVER (CP) — Wage talks that will eventually affect more than 1,000 workers at the vast Alcan project at Kitimat and Kemano in northern B.C. have broken down, a union official said here Saturday.

Conciliation officer Bob Forgie is scheduled to leave for Kitimat today to meet with officials of the Aluminum Company of Canada and the Aluminum Workers of America, AFL.

Less than 300 workers are involved at present but both labor and management are handling negotiations as "top priority" as they will set the pay pattern for all workers in the production end of the big smelter now under construction.

The unions are asking a base hourly rate of $1.28 plus 40-hour week, full union shop and fringe benefits.

Alcan at present pays $1.53 plus an extra five cents classification rates on a 42-hour week. Allied Aluminum Workers Council secretary Herb Flesher said the company offered "a slight pay increase" but refused other requests.

Eisenhower "Threatened"

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower didn't know it, but secret service agents spent a busy week-end investigating a reported threat to assassinate him.

Secret service chief U. E. Baughman says of the report that he is "satisfied there was nothing to it."

The report Baughman got was that there would be an attempt on Eisenhower's life Sunday afternoon at Fredericksburg, Va., where the president drove to place a wreath at the grave of Mary Ball Washington, mother of the United States' first president.

The Mother's Day ceremony went off without incident.

It wasn't until after the president and Mrs. Eisenhower had started back to Washington that Fredericksburg police chief A. G. Kendall told of the "threat."

Kendall told reporters a man he termed "reliable" told police Saturday he had been approached with a plan to "knock the president off." Kendall declined to name the man.

Speed Curbs For Youths Asked by Terrace Board

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY NEWS
TERRACE—Last week's tragic car accident near Terrace, which took four lives, has brought a move for more rigid enforcement of traffic laws and suggested speed restrictions on licences of young drivers.

The accident, in which two cars crashed head on about a mile and one half west of Terrace May 2, was one of the main topics at the May meeting of the Terrace and District Board of Trade.

Board members discussed the possibility that swirling dust on the road had been partially to blame, and planned enquiries into availability of calcium chloride for road dust control.

Dick Lawrence won the support of the board in suggesting a request be sent to the attorney-general for assistance in conjunction with local police and lawyers, in formulating a scheme of speed restriction endorsements on the licences of young drivers. He said that young drivers were not criminals but needed help in "acquiring road sense."

The board also will write the attorney-general and local RCMP, with a copy to Prince Rupert RCMP, requesting more

Radio Crews Work As Station Burns

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Fire wardens sought the cause of Sunday's $1,000,000 blaze which wrecked a five-story business block in the heart of this Fraser river centre.

Stanley Wright, owner of the Swan-Wright building, said he believed the fire started in the premises occupied by Hobbs Glass. The glass company, radio station CKNW and seven other firms were burned out in the four-hour blaze.

Fire captain Gordon Hardman was the only casualty. He was reported in fair condition in hospital suffering from smoke poisoning.

A radio announced and his control engineer stood by in the burning building here Sunday, broadcasting a running account of the blaze until they were turned off the air.

"We kept broadcasting until the flames ate through our main wires and the fire chief ordered us out of the building," said Bill Duncan, chief control operator at the station. He and announcer Sid Lancaster were alone in the station when the blaze broke out. Lancaster turned in the alarm.

The station returned to the air, broadcasting from its transmitter, after an hour of silence.

Companies burned out were Wright's Ltd., wholesale furniture; Chadwick, Beacon, chartered accountants; Food of the Month Club, deep-freeze firm; Hobbs Glass and four finance companies.

First estimates of damage were set at $750,000 but were later revised upwards.

All Gibraltar Greet Queen, First Royalty in 40 Years

GIBRALTAR (Reuters) — A royal salute of 21 guns and the pealing of cathedral bells greeted Queen Elizabeth as the royal yacht Britannia tied up in Gibraltar harbor today for the first royal visit to "the Rock" in more than 40 years.

All Gibraltar's 28,000 people seemed to be at the harbor to greet the Queen and her family.

The Queen stood on the bridge with the captain of the Britannia. Prince Charles, 5, and Princess Anne, 3, waved to the crowd as the yacht came in.

The Queen stepped ashore to start a day in which she will cross and recross the tiny colony for 10 events in 13 hours.

Gibraltar's narrow streets were alive with people, cheering and waving flags.

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will spend two days here on the last call of their six-month tour.

Beneath today's merriment there was a grim side. Unprecedented security precautions were in force to guard against a fanatic attempt on the Queen's life in the name of Spain, which long has sought control of Gibraltar.

The border between the Rock and the Spanish mainland is closed. Spanish authorities have ordered Spanish citizens to stay out of Gibraltar until after the Queen leaves Tuesday.

Clausen Rites Set Tomorrow

Funeral services for the late John Arnt Clausen will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Lutheran Church, with the Rev. H. O. Olson officiating.

Mr. Clausen, who was 67 years old, died when his fish packer Rap 1 foundered off Holiday Island March 10-12. Well known in Prince Rupert, he came here from Norway 40 years ago, and for many years was a buyer for Atlin Fisheries.

Surviving are his son, Elmer in Prince Rupert, three brothers and four sisters in Norway. His wife, Anna, predeceased him in 1952.

Rupert Fishing Fleet Poised To Start Season

By GEOFF AYRES
Activity along the waterfront is reaching fever pitch as fishing companies and fishermen alike make last minute preparations for the halibut season which opens at 12:01 Sunday morning.

Upwards of 600 large and small boats, connected with packing plants in Prince Rupert will be engaged in reaping the halibut harvest before the quota is taken. Quota for area two is 26,500,000 pounds and for area 3-A 28,000,000 pounds.

With 96 hours traveling time ahead of them, some larger boats will clear tonight for area 3-A.

On the waterfront, an ever changing number of smaller vessels is arriving and plants are hard pressed to estimate the exact number which will be operating. At every wharf freshly painted boats are bating up and taking on ice.

Atlin Fisheries expects to have 15 packers and seiners out and 30 trollers up in the Skidegate area. Along with boats in the north they should have between 200 and 300 boats operating between the islands and the mainland as well as 10 camps on the mainland.

Approximately 60 boats will be operating in area two for the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-op and up to 100 all told in Area 2 and 3-A.

Bacon Fisheries reports a steady stream of boats in for bait and they should be ready to clear when the 48-hour pre-season period rolls around.

J. Clausen and Son already have two camps out and expect to have four operating by the weekend. They will have about 150 boats fishing Area 2 waters.

Officials at the Fisheries Department forecast a season of about a month's duration. The second halibut season will start in Area 2 at 12:01 August 1 and end at 11:59 August 15. For Area 3-A the starting time is the same for Area 2 and ends at 11:59 August 10.

Reports indicate that most of the potential halibut catch has already been sold, but prices will not be known until the first boats are back in with their hauls.

Harass Convoys

Indo-Chinese French fighters today heavily blocked key roads northeastward from Phu. The roads were closed with thousands of Communist-led troops and trucks.

Heavy high explosives and heavy strafing planes centered their attacks on the road from Tuan Shan northeast of Dien Bien Phu, 117 miles west of Hanoi.

Some 200 miles of road may be intended to occupy the position from the battle which spearheaded the 57 days of assault on the French Union.

French troops and convoys were moving two ways out of the Thudong Valley.

Northwestern Indo-China convoys may be in positions in Thailand and Laos, 200 miles from Hanoi, which the French occupied after the war ended Dec. 11, 1953.

The French Union may be intended to occupy the position from the battle which spearheaded the 57 days of assault on the French Union.

On a road leading to the royal Laos of Luang Prabang, a base camp was established for a fresh attack on the little mountain.

Russian-made trucks were heavily used to transport troops and again to transport big explosives and many of the convoys.

Traffic Decline Prevents Payment Of Fringe Benefits Assert Railways

MONTREAL (AP)—Canada's two major railways today told the federal labor department they are unable to grant requests from unions representing 145,000 non-operating employees for fringe benefits and additional overtime pay.

Railway spokesmen blamed a continuing decline in traffic for their inability to meet the demands.

The railways outlined their position in a letter to the labor department signed by D. I. McNeill, vice-president of personnel for the CPR and W. H. Hobbs, who holds the same position for the CNR.

Railway officials estimated earlier that the fringe benefits would cost approximately $60,000,000 a year.

Two members of a conciliation board named to hear the dispute recommended April 29 that the railways grant only two of the four requests made by the workers. The company representative on the board said all the demands should be turned down outright.

MAY CALL VOTE
Frank Hall, head of the union's negotiating committee, said however that the board did not file a proper report with the labor department and intimated a strike vote might be called.

In today's letter the railways said operations showed a drop of more than $32,000,000 in their combined gross revenues for the first four months of the year. The trend of both carloadings and earnings was continuing to worsen.

"The comparable net position of the two railways for the first quarter of 1954 shows a deterioration of practically $5,000,000 as compared with the first quarter of 1953," the letter said.

As interpreted by the department the conciliation reports recommended:

- Rejection of the union proposal for 18 days a year sick leave with pay, which would be cumulative from year-to-year.
- Rejection of extra penalty overtime pay for Sunday work.
- Approval of three paid statutory holidays a year, compared with eight asked by the unions.
- Extension of paid vacations to three weeks yearly for workers with 25 years' service.

As I See It

Our Big Neighbor

NOT LONG ago I received a letter from a long-time lady reader who said she was grieved to see "anti-Americanism" corroding my writings.

I think I am pretty hard boiled. Having spent most of my life in the field of controversial writing; and having done my deliberate bit to get a rise out of a good many folks on various questions, I have never objected when anybody took a good crack at me.

But that particular criticism really cut me to the quick. For it was clear evidence that I had fallen down badly in making myself clear.

IF I HAD to name one world cause which I think more important than any other cause, whatsoever, I would surely place at the top of the list the free growth of unity between all the democratic countries of the world. That cause must begin with the U.S.A. and the British world commonwealth.

The only real grievance that I have against the U.S.A. is that she is not moving toward that type of world order as quickly as I think she might.

THERE IS no doubt that American foreign policy prestige reached an all time low point at about the time when John Foster Dulles left Geneva for Washington.

There is also no doubt that such a low point was reached because the general attitudes of the present American government are such that they make such disastrous losses of prestige highly probable.

The United States, under Dulles, has been flying right in the face of all the lessons learned over a long period of years by the British Commonwealth. The main lesson, ignored by Dulles, is that, if you wish free nations to agree to a common course of action in international affairs, you have to consult constantly with those free nations.

If you "shoot" drastic new proposals at your own allies—especially when those proposals call for participation in wars, then you can expect rebuffs and rejections. If Mr. Dulles feels chagrined because his proposal for a ten power intervention in Indo-China fell flat, he might well recall what happened to Lloyd George and Churchill back in 1922. They tried to get the free members of the British Commonwealth to give them a blank cheque to go to war with Turkey over Chanak. They were turned down flat as was Mr. Dulles 22 years later.

BUT NEVER let us confuse two different things. Many Canadians, like the people of many other countries, are impatient with some of the American techniques. We resent being high-pressured or hi-jacked.

We want exactly the same type of world as does the U.S.A.—a world where every people on earth will be free to live its own life in its own way, provided only that it is willing that others are allowed to do so too.

We will not go along with Uncle Sam in any new style colonial war, in Indo-China or any place else. But if it comes to the worst—war between the U.S.A. and Russia caused by Russian aggression, Canada and all the other free democracies of the west will be in there from the start.

The facts of life have tied us to the U.S.A. If we chafe at the bonds now and again—let us think back to those awful days when Britain stood alone; and let us thank our lucky stars that the U.S.A. has forever abandoned the idea of every-man-for-himself and devil take the hindmost.

Let us never forget what this world of 1954 would be like if, instead of trying to run too much of the world, the Americans were refusing to run any of it.

OTTAWA DIARY By NORMAN M. MacLEOD

The faces of the top brass around the air force—including Defence Minister Brooke Claxton—are a little bit red these days. It's the result of a high-class snafu which occurred over the week-end.

The RCAF had invited a group of Parliamentarians to take a quick flight up to Churchill to see first-hand just how the people's defence dollars are being spent up in the Arctic Circle. A good proportion of the money is going there for radar screen and other protective installations. Some 50 of the MPs accepted the invitation. The idea of a first-hand glimpse of the costly Defence Department in operation appealed to them. They thought it should be an impressive sight.

Come the scheduled morning, the MPs bolted an early breakfast in the Parliamentary restaurant and were whisked out to Rockliffe Airport in Defence Department buses. The first half of the party were air-borne on schedule. The remainder waited expectantly, but nothing happened at all for an hour or more. Then they were told that the plane which was to fly them had just arrived from Europe and would require "routine servicing." Would the MPs like to while away a half hour or so drinking morning coffee in the officers' mess?

The MPs took the hint. Their pleasure was to have the Defence Department buses come around to the door and whisk them back to the offices they had left so hopefully in the early a.m. There was no lack of conversation in the buses on the trip back to Parliament Hill. It centred mainly on the fact that, in spite of the scores of millions voted annually for the RCAF, it apparently had had to wait for the arrival of a plane from overseas to complete the modest movement planned for that day to Churchill. Many of the MPs wondered what the answer of the RCAF would be to the movement needs that actual warfare would raise.

Actually, RCAF has plenty of transport. But with Canadian troops in both Europe and Asia, the problem of maintaining the normal communications essential to those operations falls just short of being a world-girdling one. Nevertheless, the Air Force brass recognizes that the attempt to handle the movement of the MPs on a shoe-string basis was a major error in public relations. The higher-ups in the force aren't proud of what happened. And they're afraid as well it won't do the Air Force any good in Parliament.

VICTORIA REPORT

By J. K. NESBITT

VICTORIA — Matthew Bailey Begbie, British Columbia's first judge, is frequently called "the hanging judge."

Sydney G. Pettit, associate professor of history at Victoria College, who has dug into the life of Begbie, says the term is wrong, that Begbie was not a hanging judge.

At a recent meeting of B.C. Historical Association, Professor Pettit told how the term "hanging judge" came about.

He said that the Cariboo was populated by hordes of miners, many of them rough, carrying weapons and ready to shoot anyone who got in their way.

Governor Douglas was gravely concerned and asked London for a judge. Sir Edward Lytton picked on Begbie, and it's reported Lytton said that British Columbia needed a man who would take an American gunman and string him to the nearest tree.

That, according to Prof. Pettit was the start of "the hanging judge," business.

Begbie, himself, added to the legend. On one occasion he was trying a man accused of murder; the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter.

This enraged Begbie, and he's reported to have said: "Prisoner: It is far from a pleasant duty for me to have to sentence you only to imprisonment for life—your crime was unmitigated, diabolical murder. You deserve to be hanged! Had the jury performed their duty I might now have the painful satisfaction of condemning you to death and you, gentlemen of the jury, you are a pack of Dalles horse thieves, and permit me to say it would give me great pleasure to see you hanged, each and every one of you, for declaring a murderer guilty only of manslaughter."

After that, the lawless element called Begbie "the hanging judge," and the name has lived, and been played up by some historians.

However, Prof. Pettit insists Begbie did not rejoice in executions, that there were few in his day, and that he deplored them. Begbie, said Prof. Pettit, may have been a stern judge, and an unorthodox judge, but he was just, and not a hanging judge.

Scottish Seaman Shot in Montreal

MONTREAL — A 25-year-old Scottish seaman was shot to death early Sunday in a downtown office building a few blocks from where his ship was docked. Police identified the victim as David Yeaman, a sailor aboard the freighter Cairnesk which arrived here Friday from Newcastle. Yeaman's home address was not immediately available.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINIS

Now and then, earthquakes occur along the Pacific coast. Not infrequently, they are of small consequence. But sometimes, a quake can scare one stiff. A few weeks ago there was a sizeable one not so far south of San Francisco. Tremors were enough to roll some folks out of bed. That's no way to start the day.

Back in April, 1906 we toiled in valorous fashion as a cub reporter on the Morning Telegraph, published in St. John, New Brunswick. One afternoon, a young man with lots of questions called at the office. What could we tell him about San Francisco, his home city? There had been a dreadful earthquake there. Hundreds believed dead. He had people there. He was a travelling man and a stranger down east. And he was anxious about his folks.

THE MORNING TELEGRAPH OF St. John would have been overjoyed to have given him the latest data, but couldn't. What did the Telegraph have? Hardly anything save the fact of a great city being on fire and rivers streets. Away down in the Maritimes, in 1906, the glamorous and storied coast of California seemed like the other side of the universe. We couldn't tell the worried stranger anything. "But perhaps you could slip

Harper Rites Held at Terrace

Special to The Daily News

TERRACE — Funeral service was held here Wednesday for Edwin Harper, 75, father of Vernon Harper of Terrace.

Born in England, Mr. Harper came to this continent in 1909, residing in Schenectady, N.Y. Later he moved to Cuba and after returning to the United States for some time, made his home in Vancouver in 1920. He came to Terrace three years ago. He is survived by a sister, Gladys in Pennsylvania, and a brother, Will in England, besides his son here.

Funeral service was held at Parkview Chapel and burial was at Kalum cemetery.

Gordon and Anderson Gain 9-5 Win To Lead Off 1954 Senior Ball Loop

With a combination of sharp hitting and successive opposition errors in the fifth inning, Gordon and Anderson took the first game of the 1954 Prince Rupert Senior Baseball League from Esquires by a 9-5 count at Roosevelt Park yesterday afternoon.

Before G & A unleashed their offensive, Esquires trailed by only two runs and a last-minute rally in the ninth by Benny Windle's boys could not overcome the seven run deficit.

Rusty Ford's crew led all the way, starting off in the scoring column in the first inning when Don Scherk walked, stole second and came in on an error to Esquire's shortstop Joe Giordano, which saw Dave Hill get safely around to second.

Esquires produced nothing in their half of the first as Freddy Christensen whiffed the first three men. G & A's half of the second was no more successful as Ralph Enridge fled out to second baseman Maddy Sedgewick.

Stan Petrow popped up to Barry Williamson at third and Ian Dunbar roled one into the mitt of Ken Hill in left field.

In the Esquire's second, Don Hawrylyuk got a pass but was thrown out going into second. Ken Hill fanned and Paul Poirrier fouled out to catcher Don Scherk.

SUNDEERG TRIPLES
Christensen in the third got on when Giordano bobbled his hit and came in to score on Bill Sundberg's three bagger. Hartwig popped up to Esquire pitcher Bill Donaldson who nipped Sundberg off base. Don Scherk fled out to first sacker Poirrier.

Young Rev McKay, who was a bulwark defensively and offensively for Esquires in his first senior game, started off the second half of the third with a bunt and made it down to second on Don Scherk's overthrow. The next two batters whiffed, Williamson walked, Giordano got to first on Dave Hill's error. The threat ended when Bill Donhanuk fled out to Syd Scherk on first.

Syd Scherk sacrificed in the fourth to advance Hill to second after the G & A second baseman had fanned a life when Williamson dropped his high pop-up. A second error by Williamson allowed Hill to reach third where he was stranded as Ralph Enridge struck out and Stan Petrow grounded out third to first.

Esquires picked up their first run in the fourth when Hill hit by a pitched ball, scored on Poirrier's double, after Hawrylyuk had struck out. McKay hit sharply through first, but was caught off base by Syd Scherk when Sedgewick fled out to Dave Hill.

WILD THROW
G & A's big fifth saw Dunbar lead off with a safety through centre, steal second and come home when Christenson hit to left centre. Christenson crossed the plate when Donaldson threw wildly to home. Hartwig walked. Don Scherk grounded to the pitcher who threw to third. Williamson bobbled the catch and Hartwig advanced to second. Hill hit to second baseman Sedgewick who muffed it, and Hartwig scored and Scherk advanced to third on the play but was thrown out by Donaldson at home. Hill came home on Enridge's two bagger after Syd Scherk fanned. Petrow was thrown out by Williamson, third to first.

In the sixth, Benny Windle sent in right-hander Jackie Sharpe who retired Dunbar, gave up a pass to Christensen and made Sundberg fly out to Giordano and Hartwig to Douhanuk. Neither team scored again until the ninth when G & A picked up two runs on a double by Syd Scherk which scored Sundberg who had gained a life through an error to Giordano.

Dennis Reid replaced Christensen on the mound for G & A after Christensen had walked Danny Hill, in for Sedgewick, and Sharpe. Williamson walked to load the bases. Giordano grounded out third to first scoring Bill. Douhanuk reached first safely when Hartwig pulled Syd Scherk off the bag. Scherk was hurt on the play and Mouse Morrison went to right field and Dunbar took over first. McGregor who had taken over second base in the sixth received a walk. Ken Hill singled scoring Williamson. The game ended when Poirrier went down swinging.

STRUCK OUT 12
Christensen, who allowed only four hits gained the win, fanning 12 in the process. Donaldson, who also pitched four hit ball, struck out two. Sharp allowed two hits for two runs and Reid one hit for one run.

Rusty Ford's boys got their nine runs on a total of seven hits and eight errors and they left six men on base. Esquires made it five runs on five hits and four errors, leaving 11 men stranded on the base paths.

SOME PEOPLE collect stamps, some valuable coins, others prefer antiques, many others collect baseball mementos. The latter happens to be the hobby of the gentleman pictured here. Of course, since Andy Pakko happens to be a professional ballplayer he has quite a head start on diamond nuggets. The Milwaukee Braves outfielder, formerly with the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, is shown with baseball bats and balls that have played an important part in his long major-league career.

Polite Mayhem Demonstrated In City's First Judo Display

Combining the grace of the ballet, the ferocity of the rough and tumble, and the politeness that is traditionally Japanese, the Port Edward Judo Club demonstrated Saturday night at the Civic Centre that age, size and weight have no bearing in a judo contest.

The display was the club's first and was staged with three purposes in mind, Seiji Matsuo told the audience. First off, he said, the group wished to introduce judo to Prince Rupert. The club also needs funds for a new mat, and wishes to take a judo team to Vancouver next spring.

Leading off the display Harry Noda and Toshi Nishi demonstrated 12 of the 50 tricks comprising judo, which was formulated to do the maximum work with a minimum of effort. Contestants are dressed in traditional garb of trousers and a loose tunic which is kept in place by a wrap-around belt.

Unlike wrestling, emphasis is placed on holds which see the participants grasp the tumies to effect necessary leverage to bring about a fall. Surprise is the big feature of the sport, and opponents keep close watch on each others feet as they move back and forth across the floor. Flowery sounding names given to the tricks, such as Ukigoshi, or "floating lock" cover a fast moving manoeuvre which sees the unwary participant flying over his opponent's hip. A fall in judo, Mr. Noda explained, must be clear-cut and see the unsuccessful entrant flat on his back. He went on to explain that to be an instructor one must have

Tigers Take Half Game Lead Over White Sox With 3-2 Victory and 0-0 Dead End

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer
Rival American League clubs are beginning to take the amazing Detroit Tigers seriously.

Sunday the Tigers whipped Chicago White Sox 3-2 in the first game of a doubleheader and held them to a 10-inning 0-0 standoff in the second game.

The Tigers now are in first place—a half game in front of Chicago, a full game ahead of Cleveland and two ahead of the defending champion Yankees. They return home with a brilliant 5-1 record for their first road tour.

OTHER GAMES

In other American League games Baltimore defeated Cleveland 2-1 in 10 innings, and the Yankees whipped and tied Philadelphia in a double-header. Three home runs gave the Yanks a 7-4 opening game triumph and rookie Bill Skowron's run-scoring single in the eighth gave them a 1-1 tie in the second game halted after nine innings on account of darkness.

Northern Clubs Return Victorious

Portland Beavers and Seattle Rainiers, both boasting series victories over Southern opponents, headed north Monday to prepare for their first head-on collision of the 1954 Pacific Coast League baseball season.

They will play the first of seven games in Seattle Tuesday night.

Portland shellacked Los Angeles 4-2 and 8-4 Sunday to win the series in the Angels' home park 4-3. Seattle divided with Oakland winning 7-5 and losing 10-5 but won the series by the same 4-3 margin.

Seattle won the nightcap in the ninth when Jim Atkins took the mound with the bases loaded and promptly walked Nanny Fernandez to force in Pete Hernandez with the deciding run.

Eddie Basinski's two home runs powered Portland to the second game victory over Los Angeles and homers by Don Egert, Walt Juncich and Rocky Krasnich decided the opener.

Dick Richards hit his 10th homer of the season for the Angels, and like all the others it came with the bases empty. He also tied a 30-year-old record in the first game by making only one out at first base.

Hollywood won from San Diego 12-6 and 3-2 to knock the Padres out of first place. Sacramento took the second game in 11 innings 2-1 after losing to San Francisco 4-2.

Brooklyn opened up a half-game lead in the National League, nipping Philadelphia 2-1 while the second-place Cincinnati Redlegs split a doubleheader with St. Louis.

The Redlegs came back to win the second game 6-5 after the Cardinals had captured the opener 10-7. New York Giants wallpped Pittsburgh 5-1 and Chicago Cubs edged Milwaukee 5-3.

It took Detroit 11 innings to defeat the White Sox in the opener.

The Indians missed an opportunity to pass Chicago for the runner-up spot when Bob Turley held them to four hits. Gil Coan's single scored Neil Berry with the run that hung a tough defeat upon Art Houtteman.

Home runs by Andy Carey, Yogi Berra and Enos Slaughter accounted for all but one New York run as the Yankees defeated Bob Trice, A's rookie right hander.

Carl Erskine outpitched Robin Roberts as the Dodgers swept the three-game series from Philadelphia.

Sal Maglie hurled a six-hitter against the Pirates for his fifth triumph against one defeat.

Home runs by Hank Sauer and Ralph Kiner helped Chicago's

Victoria, Salem Lead WIL As Stampers Welcomed Back

By The Associated Press
With the Calgary Stampers once more in the fold, Western International League baseball teams picked up their regular schedule Monday and set their sights on Victoria and Salem, virtually deadlocked in first place entering the second week of the 1954 season.

The Stampers, left homeless when the league picked up the owner's franchise opening day, lost their "orphan" status Saturday when league directors accepted a new Calgary offer and restored the club to a full membership.

The directors acted after the Calgary management reported it was agreeing to WIL terms. The club also hired Gordon MacFarlane, hockey player and coach with a professional and semi-pro baseball background, as general manager.

Stampers celebrated their return Sunday with a 16-13 win over Lewiston in the opening game of a doubleheader, then were noised out 6-7 in the nightcap.

Victoria knocked Salem off the top perch by taking a pair of games by identical 6-5 margins Saturday but the Senators closed the gap to a few percentage points with a 4-3 win over Tri-City Sunday.

6-3 Saturday but lost a Sunday twin bill, 3-2 and 5-3. Yakima and Wenatchee divided a doubleheader, Yakima winning the opener 6-1 and Wenatchee the nightcap 8-3. Vancouver stepped out of the League Sunday to defeat Bellingham, Wash. 6-2 in an exhibition game. The Capilano took a pair from Tri-City Saturday 8-3 and 13-4.

The week-end left Spokane and Vancouver half a game back of Salem, Yakima one game back, and Wenatchee, Edmonton and Lewiston a game and a half out.

The schedule for Tuesday places Spokane at Tri-City, Lewiston at Salem, Victoria at Yakima, Vancouver at Wenatchee and Calgary at Edmonton.

Often You Have to Lose a Trick to Win a Game

Proper handling of the trump suit involves a willingness to lose a trick that might have been won—in order to leave a trump in dummy to stop the run of an adverse suit.

In today's deal Mr. Masters won the first trick with the king of hearts. He then made a good shift to a club. He correctly reasoned that if his partner had a trick in that suit it had to be set up now—while he still had the trump suit stopped.

If Mr. Champion had as many as two clubs, he could get rid of his club loser only on dummy's diamond suit. But with a lone diamond, Mr. Masters could ruff the second lead of that suit and lead another club. Thus the defenders would win a club, two hearts and a trump trick.

NO CLUB LOSER

But Mr. Champion had no club loser. Hearts were what he was worried about. He won the second trick with the ace of clubs. Now if he had cashed his high spades, hoping the opponents' spades were divided three-two, he would have gone set. Mr. Masters could have got in in time to cash three more heart tricks.

In this particular situation, Mr. Champion ignored the fact that five outstanding cards of a suit will break three-two more than two-thirds of the time. He led the deuce of spades from dummy and finessed the nine spot.

MASTERS STYMIED
This set up the spades while leaving a trump on the board to stop the run of hearts. Mr. Masters was stymied. He cashed another heart, then led a club. But Mr. Champion ruffed, picked up the remaining trumps and got rid of his heart losers on dummy's diamond suit.

Mr. Muzzy wasn't quite satisfied. "Don't you make six," he asked, "if you don't make that say first round trump finesse?" "That silly trump finesse was the only play to make the hand," snapped Mr. Champion. "But the finesse lost," said Mr. Muzzy. "I still say—"

"Whose deal is it?" broke in Mr. Champion.

Hepburn Sets Weight Record

VANCOUVER (C)—Strongman Doug Hepburn smashed his world weightlifting record Saturday night when he snatched 351 pounds off the ground, fisted it shoulder high, and then thrust it to arms length over his head.

He boosted 270 pounds in the two-handed snatch lift, and easily handled 350 pounds in the two-handed clean and jerk for a total of 1,001 pounds in the three-lift total.

His world record lift of 331 pounds in the military press was 9½ pounds more than his championship effort in Stockholm last summer. His over-all total, however, fell short of the 1,030 pounds he picked up in Europe.

U.S. Canadian and four provincial marks were also bettered in the weight-lifting show, billed as the combined British Empire Games weightlifting trials and western Canada championships.

U.S. Supplies To Indo-China Will Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fall of Dien Bien Phu will leave unchanged the United States program of military assistance to the French Union and associated states in Indo-China, a military spokesman said today.

Sea and air shipment of equipment and supplies will continue as well as the assistance of aircraft technicians to keep flying the planes turned over to the free forces in Indo-China by the United States, the spokesman said.

There was no disposition to minimize the effect if the fall of the fortress should prove a forerunner to the loss of all Indo-China, Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, said recently that the fall could be "a prelude to the loss of all Southeast Asia."

The gap in the Free World's defence perimeter there would extend from the Chinese Nationalist refuge on Formosa far to the westward near Pakistan. Although some individual states in Southeast Asia might continue to lean toward the West, they would be surrounded by other states either nervously neutral or definitely under Red control.

Pittsburgh Residents Warned Of Lengthy Transit Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh area commuters feel the first real impact of a day-old transit strike today as city officials braced themselves for a long traffic headache.

Mayor David L. Lawrence, who worked vainly to keep 2,700 trolley and bus operators on the job beyond the strike deadline Sunday, warned the more than 2,000,000 residents of Pittsburgh's greater metropolitan area that "the transportation curtailment may last months."

The operators, members of division 85, AFL Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, walked off the job after Pittsburgh Railway Co. rejected demands for a 30-cent hourly pay increase. It was the first mass transit strike here since 1924.

The company, which runs about 3,000 trolleys and buses into the business district each day, estimated it transports 200,000 workers and thousands more shoppers daily.

All business places, factories and offices planned to operate as usual. The Pennsylvania Railroad said it was adding several coaches to regular commuter trains and will put an additional 30 commuter trains on to take care of persons stranded in the suburban districts. Union and company representatives met briefly in the mayor's office Sunday but said no progress was made. It was after that the mayor warned the strike may be a long one. The operators earn an average $1.92 an hour and receive an additional six cents an hour under a cost-of-living clause.
